

NR_key_name: 7D48B4D2D4C4B74D852561CF0069296C
SendTo: CN=Christopher Barger/O=ARRB @ ARRB
CopyTo: A&R
DisplayBlindCopyTo:
BlindCopyTo: CN=R ecord/O=ARRB
From: CN=Laura Denk/O=ARRB
DisplayFromDomain:
DisplayDate: 06/02/1995
DisplayDate_Time: 3:08:28 PM
ComposedDate: 06/02/1995
ComposedDate_Time: 3:03:50 PM
Subject: Re: About the 9th again
Pizza sounds good. Would anyone object to future correspondence about the party occurring on the musings database? That way, we could check on social activity once or twice during the day rather than receiving the "MAIL" icon while we are working on WordPerfect. (Please do not respond to my e-mail....)To: A&Rcc: From: Christopher Barger/ARRBDate: 06/02/95 03:02:14 PMSubject: About the 9th againAfter consulting with Jeremy and taking input from some of the attendees of the JFK party, I think it might be better and logistically more convenient to order food once we're at Jeremy's rather than have people bring stuff. Jeremy says that there is a particularly good pizza place (not Domino's or Pizza Hut) near his home, and he thinks that would be a good idea. If we did this, all we'd need would be paper plates, cups and plastic utensils, and of course money for the Za. I know that a couple of people weren't hot on the idea of Chinese food; does pizza sound better? Shall we have a pizza party?
Body:
recstat: Record
DeliveryPriority: N
DeliveryReport: B
ReturnReceipt:
Categories: