Maybe I have my priorities wrong, but it doesn't sound at all far fetched to me! You know, we should just all go at 8:00 a.m. and take off a couple of annual leave hours. (Just kidding - can you imagine our leave slips? "Reason: 'Talbots Summer Sale.'") The "private sale" (the sale is not announced to the public until next Monday) starts tomorrow morning at 8:00 at all their stores (the closest to us is in the 1100 block of Connecticut Ave.) I plan to go over tonight after work to look over the stock, that way when I go back in the morning I know exactly what I want to buy. If anyone wants to go with me you are most welcome to join me.
