Subject: Re: 1) Vacation Accrual and, 2) TSP

You will eventually be credited for your previous government service and they will at that time credit hours owed to you back to your start date. However, this could take a while! On the TSP, I believe the first deduction will begin on July 9 which shows up on the paycheck dated August 2 (direct deposited on July 28). To: Tracy Shycoff/ARRBcc: From: Joseph Freeman/ARRB Date: 07/03/95 05:13:45 PM Subject: 1) Vacation Accrual and, 2) TSP Neither of these items are crises, but: 1) David and Eric inform me that my four years of previous service on the Hill should entitle me to 6 hours of earned vacation time each pay period, rather than 4. If this is so, is there anything I need to do to put that in motion (and, if it is the case, will it be retroactive to my start date)? 2) My TSP deduction has not yet appeared on my pay stub... which is OK as long as it doesn't indicate that it won't be appearing at some point. Do you have any rough idea when I can expect to see my TSP contribution reflected in my pay stub and (alas) take-home pay? Thank you!
