Subject: Re: questions for the Board
1. Is the Board willing to consider postponement of some documents or portions of documents within the collection on grounds of irrelevancy to Oswald or the assassination, and if so, what are the standards/requirements such a postponement would have to meet? 2. What constitutes the "public interest"? How much does the public need to know, especially in areas that have limited or totally unobvious connections to Oswald or the assassination story?3. If a window can be established with CIA on stations, then how should staff treat station issues outside of that window? What should staff's criteria be for withholding or release?4. Is there a legitimate area of privacy in the context of this collection, and what standards/requirements does a postponement on grounds of privacy have to meet?
