Tammi, check with Betty Ball if you think it makes sense.

Description of the Call Date: 03/05/96Subject: Meeting with the General Counsel's office
Summary of the Call: Yes, but not until next week. She is under some kind of deadline for an unrelated project. She said that the General Counsel's office has undergone a reorganization. She needs to identify the person in the General Counsel's office who has the responsibility for records and agency compliance with our Act. She has agreed to call me on Tuesday with the information and a possible meeting date. I stated that we would be willing to travel to the Postal Service Headquarters, however, I extended an invitation for them to visit our office so they could see our security procedures if they prefer. I got the impression that we are still on hold, subject to her deadline on the unrelated project. I could check that General Counsel reorganization explanation surreptitiously, through Betty Ball. She and I have a fairly good rapport and she works in the GC office.
