Subject: Re: Reminder

Body: Does this include draft letters sent to you by e-mail (which obviously don't have to be found, since they've been sent to you)? I've included the file information on my latest such draft (revised draft of letter to CIA, re: HSCA referred docs) and will continue to do so unless I hear differently.

All draft documents should have their file name on them so that they can easily be found. This has been office policy for more than one year.
