Subject: Re: Interview with Autopsy Pathologists

The purpose of the Archives review of the tapes is for the purpose of RELEASE. If there are redactions on any tapes recommended, then the Review Board reviews them and makes a decision as to immediate release or postponement, as with all assassination records. As I suggested earlier, you should contact the National Archives regarding what is available to the public now. The >National Archives could tell you that. I do remember several months ago that >there were Archives staffers devoting a lot of time to HSCA tapes.OK, but are the tapes going to be RELEASED, so that others can studythem? That's the key question. Releasing them would surelyenable us to settle a lot of issues relating to the transcripts.I thank you for your time. I do appreciate it.Mike Griffith -----
