Subject: Re: Search for JFK Autopsy Records at AFIP

The ballistics stuff was all done and kept at Edgewood arsenal, not at AFIP. Edgewood turned all of that into INSCOM at Fort Huachuca, Arizona in 1993, and INSCOM turned all of it into the Archives some time ago. For this reason, I will not call her back and try to get her goat. To: Douglas Horne/ARRBcc: Tim Wray/ARRB, David Marwell/ARRB From: Jeremy Gunn/ARRB Date: 09/06/96 06:08:53 AM Subject: Re: Search for JFK Autopsy Records at AFIP What about ballistics test info? Wouldn't AFIP have had that? What additional specific searches could you suggest to her? For example: Mr. Horne: Did you look under the file labeled "goats"? Ms. Anderson: As a matter of fact, I didn't. Mr. Horne: Would you check it? Ms. Anderson: Oh my! There is some information under "goats." What a great idea you had, Mr. Horne. To: Tim Wray/ARRBcc: Jeremy Gunn/ARRB, David Marwell/ARRB From: Douglas Horne/ARRB Date: 09/05/96 01:47:14 PM Subject: Search for JFK Autopsy Records at AFIP CALL REPORT Document's Author: Douglas Horne/ARRB Date Created: 09/05/96 The Players Description of the Call Date: 09/05/96 Subject: Search for JFK Autopsy Records at AFIP Summary of the Call: Ms. Anderson returned my call. She says the only JFK autopsy-related record held by her office is the trip report filed by Pierre Finck after his trip to New Orleans in 1969 to testify in the Shaw trial. I asked her if any other records (if there had been any) might have been transferred to Suitland or to the National Archives, and she was of the firm opinion that they would not have--that they would have been retained by her office, instead, because of the importance of the subject. She said she has received numerous FOIA requests over the years, and also an internal request from within the Army in 1993, and based on these searches in the past, is quite confident that her office at AFIP does not hold anything other than the Pierre Finck trip report for his 1969 New Orleans trip.
