Subject: Re: Are you back yet?

I had almost finished a reply to your e-mail when I got interrupted and now I'm not sure whether the earlier one went through or not! (I meant to save it as I got up from the computer, but I think I mailed it without saving it, since now I can't find it...) Let me know if it didn't, and I'll reconstruct it as best I can. I think I was just about to tell you that your description of Taltos was sufficiently enticing to get me to consider it, even though I have pretty much ignored Anne Rice up to now. Lastly (assuming you got my other e-mail), I am thinking (just thinking) of trying a marathon in Sierra Vista (on the other side of Tucson, SE corner of AZ) on April 5th. After two bad weeks while I was on the road in DC and PA (only 20 and 25 miles, respectively), I was back up to 42 miles this past week, and if I manage two more 40 mile weeks between now and April 5th, I may try it. Sorry this e-mail got bi-furcated this way. Hope all is well!
