Subject: Re: Press Releases

The FBI release looks good. I would put it out as a regular "News Release." It would be nice if there was one or two documents of interest and you could reference that selected documents are available from the Review Board. I would just avoid pumping up the story and the documents beyond what it is. I'd be interested in hearing what you and Laura have in mind.

I have run the Appeal press release past Laura and Kevin (and you earlier) and the Nagell newser past Joan. The next step is Jeremy, FBI/David for the Appeal release and Jeremy/David for Nagell. I should have the Rankin release ready (with documents) next week. I can pull documents from the Nagell file when the USSS sends it to Archives. The FBI files pose a bit of a problem (nothing much in them), but Laura and I have talked about the possibilities and I can tell you my ideas in a more secured environment. I think I'll just wait for media to ask for the Appeals material and put the release out as an advisory. Warm regards,Thom
