Subject: Re: Water

Christina had already called and they told her that it would be here today. She also increased the number of bottles from 10 to 13.

Some considerate person used the last drop of water we had and didn't bother to notify anyone that there were no replacement bottles left. I had Janice call to place an order-- it will be delivered either Friday or Monday. Our next delivery date was not until the 23rd. The Board is here on that day so we would definitely need the water before that date. Maybe we are simply using more now and need to increase the number to be shipped in our regular order?
