Subject: Re: ARRB Staff Interviewed Ben Hunter (Grammatical Edits Made on June 19, 1997)
 Michelle is going to ask Barry Harrelson to identify Captain Santos. I am going to set up, as soon as possible, an in-person interview (which we want to tape-record) with Homer McMahon at Archives II so that he can review the briefing board and original notes; Ben Hunter will be invited to the tail-end of that session so that he and McMahon can share recollections of the event and examine the documents together. Joan may be able to assist in questioning the Secret Service about its involvement in requesting the analysis in the first place--specifically, by asking about agent "Bill Smith," and in again asking whether there are any Secret Service documents related to the analysis done for them by NPIC; however, she will pursue that, I believe, after our formal interview of McMahon. I then intend to write a wrap-up memo on the NPIC event(s) and documents, if there are no more leads to pursue. However, if there really were two NPIC events, vice one, then the memo will have to wait until we can clarify what happened at the second event. It is too early to say whether or not we will need to contact the 3 names about which Mr. Hunter speculated (the mensuration experts). I will not be convinced there was a "second event" at NPIC unless Mr. McMahon also says he did not produce the working notes at NARA, either.  ARRB staff interviewed Ben Hunter on June 17, 1997. The interview was arranged by HRG at ARRB's request. Mr. Hunter had remarked to his wife (an HRG employee), during C-Span coverage of the Review Board's Zapruder film public hearing, that he had worked on an analysis of the film at NPIC in 1963 shortly after the assassination. His wife relayed that fact, and the name of his supervisor at NPIC (who also worked on the Z-film analysis), Mr. Homer A. McMahon, to the ARRB via Barry Harrelson at HRG. Previous to this interview, ARRB staff had conducted a brief initial assessment interview of Mr. McMahon on the telephone. Mr. Hunter was on active duty in the USAF prior to working for NPIC (National Photo Interpretation Center). While in the Air Force as an enlisted man (at Offutt Air Force Base in Nebraska, at SAC Headquarters), he received
