Anna: Thank you for your e-mail. I appreciate your support. I am very much interested in playing a role with the Board that includes the responsibility of being in Washington for a significant part of every week. Jack, David, Jeremy and I have been discussing the situation. I would characterize the outlook as positive at this point in time with regard to my future role. We are now "crunching numbers" to determine how my proposed expanded DC role can be accomplished in a manner that makes it financially possible for me. I think we will know more by the end of the week. Again, thank you for dropping me an e-mail message. I feel fortunate that after leaving the Board late last year I am getting a second chance. I will see you on September 17th.

 Tom, I trust you know that all of the Board members want you to come back to DCon a regular basis. It is really important that someone pick up David's tasks. Jeremy can't do everything. I assume you have talked to Jack and also to Jeremy. I feel a little at a loss since there was no conference call either this week or last and I have been unable to reach Jack. Can you fill me in as to what is happening or has happened? (Maybe nothing, but that would be good to know too). A piece in THE ECONOMIST on US uncovering its past notes that after Stone's movie, "the CIA's Mr. Gates was furious. The government set up a special review board and declassified about 3m pages." It will come as a surprise to many people that Gates was responsible for the ARRB. I have a clipping from the weekly paper circulated on the Delaware shore that I will bring to the next meeting for everyone's amusement. Harry Livingstone wrote a letter to that paper on a totally different subject. However, to prove his credentials he goes on at length about his work on the Assassination, the books he has published, his responsibility for the presence of the ARRB and his working with the federal judge who chairs the commission. Vintage stuff, almost everything he says is wrong.
