Subject: Re: a fast track notion

First, thank you. But I think you may have configured this view slightly wrong. It looks like you made it for all documents that are "not ready for agenda". Will you make two others in the same vein for "consent agenda" and "consent release"? You da man!

In my never ending quest to make the fast track easier to use, could we tag each new document that Janice enters with the date entered? That would make it easier to count the documents and assign the documents to the upcoming meeting.
