Subject: Re: Nightline on Cuba Document Release Last Night, Monday, December 29

Anna:I did not see Nightline last night because my wife was sick and the lights went out pretty early in our house. However, Doug told me, regrettably, that they did not use your interview. I really am unhappy about that. I know what the producer will say: the story is the documents, not the Board. But, I'm still unhappy. Apparently, we got credit at the end of the show, but it is little consolation to me. At least, as you say, they finally did the show.As for Hersh, probably some of what he refers to as newly released is as a result of the JFK Act, but we won't hear anything about that from him.Have a great New Year.TomTo:Tom_Samoluk @ JFK-ARRB.GOVcc:Tom_Samoluk/ARRB)From:ANELSON @ american.edu @ INTERNET @ INTERLIANT

I always nervously await the clips of what I say in interviews, so I'll be interested in these. Of course, they did not have to quote a board member to have a good show. Thanks for the Hersh. He's dead wrong on Viet Nam, I think, and uses a lot of material that is old hat. Nevertheless, I continued to read it and is more persuasive than his critics would like to think. Am I right in assuming that the material he claims was released "for this book," is really the product of the JFK Act?
