Lamar, Thanks for your message. My travel plans are now set. I will be arriving at the Emory area around 7:00 p.m. on the 28th. Unless you would like to meet very early a.m. on the 29th, it would be best to meet in the early evening on the 28th. Is that possible for you? I don't yet know where I'll be staying, but it is most likely the Emory Conference Center, where I've always stayed before for the related conferences I have attended. Let me know. Best, Jeremy

Jeremy: I am free on January 29th and I think it would be very helpful to talk in person, in an off-the-record setting. Your timing is excellent, since I'm very busy at the moment working with an agent, getting the book ready to submit to various publishers. But I'll be finished with all that well before the 29th. I'm familiar with Emory--I took a law class there, back when I was running a Counseling Center for Juvenile Offenders for the state of Georgia. I've continued to use the Emory library for research, since it's only 40 minutes away from me. Keep me posted as to your schedule and if you will be staying at the Emory Conference Center. I'll plan on seeing you then. Best, Lamar
