Subject: Re: Notary Public
Most likely your bank will do it for free. When a customer of the bank needs notarized copies, they usually provide the service for free. Nations does. I do know that when I tried to use the Justice notary, they told me they could only notarize documents for official business. I am assuming yours is not job related, but if it is, let me know, and I will give you the notaries' address in the building.
