Subject: RE: Lunch

Joseph-Paleo is fine. I walk past it everyday on the way from my office to the FBI and have always wanted to try it. I have been there for happy hour before, but have never tried the food. I will meet you there at 12:15. If you were not able to make a reservation for that time, please call me at my office (724-0088) before 10:15 or at the FBI (324-0688) after 10:30am.  Thanks for the message. (I'm glad you're looking forward to lunch, asam I.) I am sorry I didn't get back to you sooner, but I had to go to court most of the day on Friday and it left me swamped the rest of the day. I hope you enjoyed the holiday weekend. (For my part, I had to come into work on Monday to participate in a conference call with a Canadian client (a bank), who for obvious reasons considered it a normal workday.) You're right, we should pick a better meeting place. Let's meet at the restaurant. If your going to be at the FBI building, how about going to Jaleo? (Do you like tapas?) It's on 7th and E. If I don't hear back from you, I'll make a reservation for 12:15. Let me know if you would like to suggest another restaurant or time.>----->From: Marie Fagnant[SMTP:Marie_Fagnant@jfk-arrrb.gov]>Sent: Friday, January 16, 1998 10:14 AM>To: vitale, Joseph>Subject: Re: I kept your card.>>>When we spoke yesterday, I must admit I was not sure if I did in fact keep>your business card.
