Subject: NSC data
The data for the NSC open in full documents is available on a disk that can be found with the documents in the SCIF. I talked with Chet about the data. He can load it into the system so that we can prepare the records as consent releases, but when I mentioned to him that you would likely have more consent releases to add, he suggested that we might wait until those are available. I think that it makes sense to do this after we create the RIFs for the next group of open in full records. Janice did the first group of 40; I can think of no reason why she can't do the rest. Let me know if you think this is a good idea or if there is some reason to get moving on the first group of records.
