Subject: Re: Welcome me to the 1990s.

Welcome! I'm only newly-arrived myself: we got WebTV for Oscar/me, so we don't have to use Carolyn's work computer for e-mail, surfing the net, etc. So my current address is: jpfreeman@webtv.net As for your friend's son, by all means give me his address so I can send him a suitably Arizona-themed postcard! Thirteen Days!! RFK wrote a book on the Missile Crisis with that title! You'd be crazy if you weren't nervous, but everything is going to be great. It's no fun going through life alone, and now you won't be, ever again. That's the Big Picture. Everything else is just details -- important detail you have to worry about sometimes -- but details nonetheless. Unless something breaks down (I have yet to hear from Tracy, re: my plane ticket), I will be at the ARRB next week doing some more work for the FBI team, Mon-Thurs, so I'll get to see you before you go. You'll have to let me buy you a soft drink or two...
