Subject: Re: getting older.

If you are old, then I am ancient! But don't worry -- somewhere along the way you will pass into a second childhood (the delightful stage I'm presently in...) and, if Oscar is any indication, we can also look forward to a third! Sam Donaldson, on last Sunday's Cokie and Sam show, referenced some new study/actuarial table which says that a person presently reaching the age of 65 in good health can expect to live to be 90! And the figure must be (I figure) at least 120 for runners (or 130 if you wear cool shoes and togs...). In short, we're really only in our extended adolescence (unfortunately, in my case, it no doubt shows...)!Enjoy Kansas City! By the time we talk/write again, maybe I'll be able to give you a review of The Horse Whisperer!P.S. Finn wants to know when you're coming to Phoenix??
