Eileen, we were also given access to the PFIAB minutes for 1962-64 (not stored at the Archives). Most of the identified records came from these.

Yes. We can say that PFIAB granted us access to their holdings with the Archives, and that we identified some assassination-related material. Although PFIAB has been reluctant to process assassination records in the past, the Review Board hopes that its recent meeting with Senator Rudman was productive and may lead to the release of assassination-related material. We will continue to work to process and release those PFIAB records that are most relevant to the assassination.

Ford Library was completed at the last Board meeting. Laura, do you want to include our PFIAB problem children? The CIA Requests for Additional Information and Records are almost complete.
