Subject: Re: CIA Additional Request Binders
Sure. The McCone dilemma has been solved. I spent a large chunk of the holiday weekend at IP and re-marked the McCone files. Barry and I also went over the list of additional records (generated by the requests) to be processed and checked them against the stack Barry had ready for the reviewers. The McCone files will be added to the stack this morning. The other new records are with the reviewers today and should be reaching Bob by the end of the week.
