Office of FOIA Services

May 15, 2017

Mr. John Greenewald

Re: Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. § 552

Request No. 17-00038-OIG

Dear Mr. Greenewald:

This is the final response to your February 1, 2017 request for SEC Office of Inspector General (OIG) investigative report, 14-ENF-0726-I (Improper Disclosure of Nonpublic Information).

Access is granted in part to OIG report, 14-ENF-0726-I. Information within the report is being withheld under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6), (7)(A) and (7)(C), 17 CFR § 200.80(b)(6), (7)(i) and (7)(iii).

Under Exemption 6 the release of the redacted information would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Under Exemption 7(C) release of the information could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. Further, public identification of Commission staff could conceivably subject them to harassment and annoyance in the conduct of their official duties and in their private lives.

Exemption 7(A) protects from disclosure records compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which could reasonably be expected to interfere with enforcement activities. It is the general policy of the SEC to conduct its investigations on a non-public basis. Thus, subject to the provisions of the FOIA, the SEC does not disclose the existence or non-existence of an investigation or information gathered unless made a matter of public record in proceedings brought before the SEC or in the courts. Accordingly, the assertion of this exemption should not be construed as an indication by the SEC or its staff that any violations of law have occurred with respect to any person, entity, or security.

I am the deciding official with regard to this adverse determination. You have the right to appeal my decision to the SEC's General Counsel under 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(6), 17 CFR § 200.80(d)(5)(iv). The appeal must be received within ninety (90) calendar days of the date of this adverse decision. Your appeal must be in writing, clearly marked "Freedom of Information Act Appeal," and should identify the requested records. The appeal may include facts and authorities you consider appropriate.

You may file your appeal by completing the online Appeal form located at https://www.sec.gov/forms/request_appeal, or mail your appeal to the Office of FOIA Services of the Securities and Exchange Commission located at Station Place, 100 F Street NE, Mail Stop 2465, Washington, D.C. 20549, or deliver it to Room 1120 at that address. Also, send a copy to the SEC Office of the General Counsel, Mail Stop 9612, or deliver it to Room 1120 at the Station Place address.

You also have the right to seek assistance from an SEC FOIA Public Liaison, whose contact information can be located at https://www.sec.gov/oso/contact/foia-contact.html. for their HF7	practices. The article publi	ished mirrored an email sent by ((b)(6),(b)(7)(C)	on March
24, 2014, to	b)(6),(b)(7)(C)	(EXHIBIT 1)

The July 17, 2014, article did not mention specific details related to ENF's on-going investigation; however, it highlighted an on-line interview by Reuters reporter Sarah Lynch of SEC's Director of Enforcement, Andrew Ceresney at the Reuters Financial Summit recorded at the SEC during May 2014. Lynch began the interview by mentioning that high frequency trading in unlit markets were recent topics of discussion in the media and noted that SEC Chair Mary Jo White previously acknowledged that SEC's ENF was reviewing matters in this area. Lynch followed up her opening remarks by asking Ceresney to comment on issues surrounding HFT that the SEC was reviewing without speaking about specific investigations. Ceresney provided a brief overview of the areas that ENF was focusing on including but not limited to HFT, alternative trading systems and the market access rule which governs policies and procedures designed to address regulatory risks. When asked whether there would be a case brought against a high-speed firm this year, Ceresney said he was unable to comment. (EXHIBIT 2)

Results of the Investigation

A. Reuters Article Published on July 17, 2014, titled "Exclusive: SEC Targets 10 Firms in High Frequency Trading Probe - SEC document" Reported by John McCrank; additional reporting by Herb Lash, editing by John Pickering

Reuters, an international news agency published an article reported by McCrank citing that the SEC had an on-going investigation into HFT strategies and requested information from 10 registered broker dealers concerning this matter. The article specifically linked the information it was reporting to an internal SEC document and indicated Reuters' reporters reviewed the SEC document. The article went on to state the following verbatim:

B. The OIG Did Not Identify the Source of the Unauthorized Disclosure of Nonpublic Information

The OIG interviewed Ceresney, (b)(6),(b)(7)(C)
(b)(6),(b)(7)(C)
regarding the unauthorized disclosure outside the agency of nonpublic information concerning the March 24, 2014, email. Specifically, the OIG asked whether any of the employees had communications, such as telephone calls, texts, emails, or inperson conversations, regarding the March 24, 2014, email with anyone inside or outside of the SEC, including any members of the media, generally, and Reuters specifically. The OIG asked all SEC employees interviewed whether they shared any nonpublic information about the email or were aware of anyone who may have shared nonpublic information. All employees advised they were not the source of the alleged leak and were unaware of who may have shared the nonpublic information. (EXHIBITS 6-26)
An OIG review of office telephone and work cellphone records for SEC employees' that received the HFT email, did not reveal any incoming or outgoing numbers known to be associated with Reuters or its reporters. However, it was determined that one employee attempted to contact a Reuters' reporter during March 2014. (EXHIBITS 27-32)
[Agent's Note: [b)(6),(b)(7)(C) authorized contact with Reuters is addressed in Section C.]
An OIG review of ENF fax machine records did not reveal any outgoing numbers known to be associated with Reuters. (EXHIBIT 33)
An OIG review of email records for SEC employees' that received the HFT email did not reveal that any employees attempted to contact Reuters regarding the March 24, 2014 email. Additionally, there was no evidence to show the email was sent to any unintended recipients. (EXHIBITS 34-54)
During the course of this investigation, (b)(6)(b)(7)(C) OIG attempted to contact on several occasions to arrange an interview. (b)(6),(b)(7)(C) notified the OIG that (b)(6),(b)(7)(C) was informed that the OIG was reviewing allegations of SEC nonpublic information that may have been leaked to the media. (6)(6),(6)(7)(C) informed the OIG that his client declined to be interviewed. (EXHIBIT 55) information regarding the March 24, 2014, SEC internal email to McCrank or any other reporter.

C. Other Authorized Contact with Reuters
An OIG review of office telephone and work cellphone records for revealed that he attempted to contact Reuters' reporter Jed Horrowitz on March 27, 2014, and that call lasted approximately 46 seconds. (EXHIBIT 30)
In an interview with OIG (C) was questioned regarding a call he made to Horrowitz on March 27, 2014 at 8:09 a.m. (C) was provided a copy of his office telephone records that confirmed the call was made on the above date and time for review. At the time of the interview, was unable to recall why he would have called Horrowitz. However, he said that he would review his records when he returned to his office. Shortly after the interview (D)(6),(D)(7)(C) emailed the OIG the following:
I came back and searched some of my email files for other cases and found what should be the answer to the question you asked. The call that you identified concerned a reporter's question about a complaint in an unrelated insider trading case that we had filed the prior week in March (and obviously was public information at that point) and that received a lot of attention. The attached emails show that our trial attorney asked me if I would call the reporter back, and I said that I would. Below is a link to the press release concerning the case that it involved. I also am including an email that shows that the reporter issued a story on March 28.
Please let me know if you have additional questions (EXHIBITS 9 & 56)
An OIG review of the attachments (C) provided indicated that Horrowitz was inquiring about an insider trading scheme that the SEC charged on March 19, 2014. (C) provided a copy of the press release on the SEC website titled "SEC Charges Stockbroker and Law Firm Managing Clerk in $5.6 Million Insider Trading Scheme." On March 26, 2014, (D)(6),(D)(7)(C) ENF, emailed (D)(6),(D)(7)(C) the following:
I got a voice-mail this morning from Jed Horowitz at Reuters. [b)(6),(b)(7)(C)  He says he has some "factual questions" about the complaint [b)(6),(b) do you want to call him back? (EXHIBIT 55)
Findings

The investigation determined that nonpublic information was included in the July 17, 2014, Reuters article. However, OIG was unable to determine which specific individual(s) improperly
