SITUATION INFORMATION REPORT

The Black Student Union, San Jose City College in California, held a meeting at the College on 21 March. The BSU leader stated that College authorities were giving members of the Union a run-around regarding their demand for a separate black studies department. He proposed that a group be formed within the BSU of individuals having experience in chemistry, electronics, and explosives so that by "June 1 next, there won't be a building left standing." While the forty individuals attending the meeting seemed agreeable to this proposal, no plans were formed to implement it.

YIPPIE leader Jerry RUBIN, disciple of New Left comic relief was recently indicted under a provision of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, barring interstate travel to incite to riot, in connection with his activities during the Democratic National Convention. Always quick with nitwitty wisdom, RUBIN, who isn't taken too seriously either by himself or by conscientious, dedicated radicals and is apparently more interested in the pot than in the plot issued the following statement: "I wish to thank all those who made it possible. I realize the competition was fierce, and I congratulate the thousands who came to Chicago. I hope that I am worthy of this great indictment, the Academy Award of protest.

"With my indictment I join the list of outstanding world figures who have crossed state lines with intent to create civil disturbance: the Beatles, Elvis Presley, the late Marilyn Monroe, the President, and Joe Namath."

SOUL ON ICE

by

Eldridge Cleaver

(A Review)

CLEAVER's key philosophical chapters, which distinguish his book from any book on the cruel isolation of confinement, coupled with a classic, contemporary, stereotyped Negro persecution complex, fall into the abyss of overcomplicating psychological motivation.

His error reflects an emotional runaway that is often found in the psychic evaluation of human impulse seen through the eyes of a lay-practitioner of the admittedly inexact science of human behavior. CLEAVER's two basic hang-ups, namely variant race-hate manifestations and sex seem throughout to intermingle and superimpose on each other and provide the stimuli present in all significant social, economic, and political institutions of Twentieth Century America. He characterizes the white man as the "omnipotent Administrator," the white woman as the "ultra feminine," the black man as the "Supermasculine menial," and the black woman as the "Amazon." The "omnipotent Administrator," the head, subjugates the "supermasculine menial," the body. The "ultra feminine" is sexually attracted to the "Supermasculine menial" because in the sexual presence of the effeminate head (the omnipotent Administrator) she approaches frigidity. CLEAVER continues in this vein pointing out that it takes a black woman to bring to sexual fulfillment the head and so on.

The trouble comes because in the modern American experience the four roles are played by racial actors instead of in a uniraracial economic caste milieu.

Soul on Ice does indeed give the white reader (for whom I believe the book was written) considerable insight into the persecuted black mentality. As an example, the white prison inmate believes he is paying a debt to society while his black counterpart feels he is being unjustly punished as slavery has punished his ancestors for centuries. The black prisoner thinks that society should pay a debt to him because it was a faulty society that put him in prison in the first place.

CLEAVER, convicted as a rapist, also tries to justify his crimes within the purely racial context. His assault on white women was to get even with the race that subjugates him. CLEAVER won't admit that rape per se is contrary to the laws of society. By omission he denies the possibility that man, be he white, black or striped, would resent the defilement of his woman without regard to the racial origin of the perpetrator. CLEAVER seems unwilling to accept that generic man will seek to protect the chastity of his woman from the ravisher as well as his chattel from the burglar regardless of the possible but irrelevant variables (i. e. age, sex, race, etc.).

Soul on Ice is lyricly well-written with a precise but imaginative vocabulary. It reflects an analytical evaluation of the plight of the American Negro as seen by a most vocal but irrational spokesman. The text is very lightly sprinkled with four-letter Anglo-Saxonisms that fit the theme. A highly readable style indicates that the author could make a significant contribution to the literature of the language if his emotions could stop lying to him.

CALENDAR OF TENTATIVELY SCHEDULED ACTIVITIES

Asterisked items are either reported for the first time or contain additions or changes to previously reported activities.

March 28-30 *Austin, Texas - The SDS National Council meeting which had been scheduled for Albuquerque, New Mexico, will be held instead in Austin because SDS could not obtain meeting facilities in Albuquerque. Alice's Restaurant, a Hippie hang out, is being reconverted to hold the 600 delegates expected in Austin for the meeting. Permission to use the Doris Miller Auditorium on 28 March has been obtained by the University of Texas SDS Chapter. Chen

SDS is currently engaged in a major internal debate on what policy it should adopt toward the Israeli-Arab conflict in the Middle East. A resolution spelling out the SDS position is expected at this meeting; however, like most SDS national resolutions it will be honored or discarded at the discretion of individual chapters and members.

March 29 *Chicago, Illinois - A GI-Day Rally sponsored by the WSP, Veterans for Peace in Vietnam and the Student Mobilization Committee is to be held near the Great Lakes Training Station. Chen

March 29 *Monterey, California - The GI-Civilian Peace Committee plans a car caravan through the Presidio of Monterey and intends to proceed even if a permit is denied. Chen

March 30 *Omaha, Nebraska - Another anti-war protest march, from Old Market to the Douglas County Courthouse, has been scheduled. No further details are known at this time. Chen

March 30 *Washington, D. C. - A mass march to the National Cathedral to commemorate Martin Luther KING, Jr.'s assassination is being planned by Washington civil rights leaders. SCLC, which is coordinating memorial activities throughout the country Easter weekend, is also planning the mass march on Palm Sunday. A commemorative service, complete with three choirs, will be held in the Cathedral after the marchers arrive at 4 p. m. The memorial service is intended to be ecumenical and it is expected that support from all faiths and all colors will be evidenced.

March 30

Denver, Colorado - There is to be a memorial service for Martin Luther KING, Jr., in downtown Denver, reportedly at the municipal auditorium. Dr. KING's father, Martin Luther KING, Sr., is reportedly scheduled to participate in the service which was organized by the Metropolitan Religious Council on Human Relations, a group of Denver clergymen.

March 31-April 3

*Minneapolis, Minnesota - This period has been designated as "Liberation Week" at the University of Minnesota. A leader of the University of Minnesota student association is attempting to arrange for speakers who will include members of the BPP. It is reported that Eldridge CLEAVER, BPP leader and fugitive from the law, may appear on the campus to speak. (This seems highly improbable and may be a rumor planted to stir up interest in the activities.) On 3 April a mass march will be held to the city-county building to protest the trial of three students arrested during a January sit-in at the University.

April 4-6

Toronto, Canada - The Communist Party of Canada will hold its 20th Convention Easter weekend. Communist and Workers Parties from socialist countries, among others, have been invited to send fraternal delegates to the Convention.

Many metropolitan areas of the USA have been marked for activities other than traditional Easter services and festivities this year. Many organizations and individuals, principally civil rights or anti-war in character but supported by students and assorted dissident groups, have selected the period from Holy Thursday, April 3 through April 8 for an outburst of activity designed to get the utmost in public attention and to further their causes. Most of the civil rights and racial demonstrations and services are keyed to commemoration of Martin Luther KING, Jr., who was assassinated last April 4. The anti-war demonstrations are emphasizing, along with their usual anti-Vietnam War orientation, anti-ABM system deployment and influencing the active-duty GI.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headed by Rev. Ralph D. ABERNATHY since the assassination of Martin Luther KING, Jr., is the prime mover and coordinator nationally for the civil rights-group activities. SCLC announced some time ago that a nation-wide drive to organize poor whites and Negroes into unions through an alliance of unions, civil rights, and religious organizations would start April 4. This day has been designated by SCLC as National and International Day of Protest against racism and poverty in commemoration of the first anniversary of the assassination of Martin Luther KING, Jr. Commemoration will be continued by staging some nine days of civil rights confrontations in major cities during the Easter period. Besides focusing on racism and poverty, it was decided to add the issue of "war." This serves to merge the civil rights activities with those of the anti-war activists to form a broader base and more impressive participation.

Observances have been planned and announced for many cities and the list continues to grow. Special symbolic programs will be conducted in cities that had particular significance in the career of Rev. Martin Luther KING: Memphis, Montgomery, Selma, and Atlanta. Many of the protests and demonstrations will take place in areas in which the SCLC has operational agencies and will, according to ABERNATHY, take the form of "acceptable, non-violent, direct action." It would seem to be a fair prediction that some sort of service or demonstration will take place in almost every city or area where there is a sizeable Negro population. ABERNATHY indicated that he preferred to center the first day of the confrontations in Alabama, "where George WALLACE is and where so many forces of evil are present." The form of the observances will be varied and will turn on local issues. That may mean school walkouts, welfare protests, boycotts, peace vigils, marches, etc.

At an SCLC meeting on 25 February, the following schedule was agreed upon:

4 April - School boycotts by children (it should be noted that in many cities Good Friday is a school holiday); closing of chain food stores; a commemorative vigil at the United Nations in New York City (through 7 April).

5 April - "National Tag Day" to raise funds for the SCLC; lapel tags bearing Dr. KING's picture and the words "I Gave" will be sold.

6 April - "Black Easter" including a pageant at Chicago, Illinois, during which KING will be symbolically raised from the dead; there and in other cities, a program of wearing old clothes, giving to the poor, refraining from purchase of luxuries, and boycotting department stores.

7-12 April - "Days of Confrontation" in thirty or more cities.

SCLC also plans to continue its efforts to have KING's birth date, January 15, declared a legal holiday.

Rev. ABERNATHY has announced that he and Mrs. Martin Luther KING, Jr., will lead a march in Memphis and in Selma on 4 April and one in Montgomery, Alabama, on 5 April in what he called the beginning of the "second phase" of the poor people's campaign. The drive will eventually focus on Washington. On Sunday, 6 April, ABERNATHY will lead a march in Atlanta.

The demonstrations will launch the second chapter of the Poor People's Campaign. Later this spring, the "Committee of 100" will, according to ABERNATHY, reassemble in Washington to restate its demands and deliver a report entitled "The Poor Peoples Campaign - One Year Later."

In addition to the civil rights, poverty, and commemoration of Martin Luther KING, Jr., activities primarily being sponsored by SCLC, the anti-war groups have stepped up their plans for Easter week activity in conjunction with the aforementioned actions but also separately for the most part.

The initial planning started at the sparsely attended "National GI-Civilian Anti-War Action Conference" held in Chicago last December 27-29. Among those taking part were Fred HALSTEAD of the Trotskyite Socialist Workers Party, Leroy WOLINSOF of the Communist Party, and Sidney LENS of the National Mobilization Committee. Primarily an effort of the SWP, YSA, and Student Mobilization Committee, they have been working and propagandizing the idea until now coalitions have evolved or are being developed to share the organization of the actions.

On 13 January, the national office of the Student Mobilization Committee issued a call for international actions against the war, 6 April. In the message to anti-war groups throughout the world, SMC included the request that, "In those countries where American servicemen are stationed, we call on the anti-war movement to make a special effort for GI participation in the peace demonstrations." Sympathetic demonstrations are expected in London and Paris.

To build 6 April on the campuses, the New York SMC has suggested holding "preinduction orientation sessions - anti-war basic training." These sessions would be meant to prepare students subject to the draft to carry on legal anti-war activity while in the Army.

The major arenas for the anti-war demonstrations and protests Easter weekend will take place in six regional centers across the USA: Seattle, Atlanta, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, and New York. Austin, Texas will be the scene of the southwest regional activity on 13 April. In addition to these major cities, supporting or separate activity will take place in a number of other locations.

According to the March 15 issue of the Guardian, radical newsweekly, plans for an April 5-6 GI-Civilian march to bring the troops home now have escalated this week amid growing controversy from groups involved in GI work. The YSA, the SMC, and in New York, the 5th Avenue Peace Parade Committee, are moving ahead with plans to hold the Easter weekend marches. Strongest opposition came from Vietnam GI, the free-wheeling GI underground paper headquartered in Chicago. Editors of Vietnam GI and other organizers criticize SMC on charges of manipulation and opportunism.

SMC hopes the marches will be peaceful and legal defense for soldiers is being planned by the GI Civil Liberties Defense Committee. The emphasis on legal defense and visible demonstrations is an approach the SMC feels essential. Some GI's feel that emphasis on legal defense is irrelevant and say "it's not the legal ways the Army can get at a GI but the thousands of illegal ways which plague organizing inside the military."

WASHINGTON, D. C.

April 4

Washington, D. C. - A newly formed District of Columbia Statehood Committee announced a drive to make the District the 51st state by 1971, and also declared that April 4, Good Friday, should be a holiday marking the first anniversary of Martin Luther KING, Jr.'s, assassination.

April 4

*Washington, D. C. - Washington civil rights leaders are planning at least four outdoor rallies on April 4 in addition to the March 30 mass march to the National Cathedral. Permit applications for the daytime rallies in Meridian Hill Park, DuPont Circle, Lincoln Park, and a small park at 48th and Deane Avenue, N. E., are still under consideration. Easter vacation for the D. C. public school system begins April 4 and thousands of children will be free to attend should they desire to

The Metropolitan Community Aid Council, Inc., has reportedly mailed letters to about 200 community leaders in the area setting forth the organization's plans to commemorate Martin Luther KING, Jr.'s, death. The Council is requesting business establishments to close on April 4 and all churches to remain open in order that people can worship in memory of KING.

The predominantly Negro Chamber of Commerce voted to accept the "spirit of the close-down request" but leaving the decision to close or not to the individual merchants.

The Metropolitan Building of Trade has not announced its position yet re the request.

April 6

*Washington, D. C. - The National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE) is sponsoring a "Speak-Out on Vietnam." Six buses have been chartered to carry demonstrators from Philadelphia. SANE has applied for a permit to demonstrate in front of the White House. Some 500 individuals are expected to participate. Additionally SANE has called for a gathering at the Pentagon.

NEW YORK CITY

April 4-6

*The New York 5th Avenue Vietnam Peace Parade Committee is playing a leading part in preparations for the New York area GI-Civilian peace demonstrations.

On 4 April a demonstration sponsored by seven organizations is to take place at the Headquarters of the New York City Selective Service.

The main demonstration is scheduled for 5 April with anti-war groups in Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, and New Jersey expected for a march. GI's from bases all over the east coast are to be highlighted. The march will assemble at 2 p.m. at Bryant Park and proceed to a rally in Central Park. Strong support is being sought from high school students.

April 5

*New York City - The New York State Communist Party has called on all clubs and leadership bodies to mobilize for the Peace demonstration. A memorandum addressed to party members declared, "The demonstration on April 5 must see a minimum of 100,000 people in the streets of New York calling for end to the Vietnam War, for withdrawal of U.S. troops, an end to the ABM program, cutting the military budget, and using the funds for the people's social needs." The memorandum calls for leafletting, organizing, and preparation of banners, etc.

Leaflets have been distributed in the Boston area advertising charter buses for use in traveling to N. Y. C. for the anti-war demonstration known as "Spring Action."

A Pearl CHERTOVIS of the GI-Civilian Coalition, has made a request for 40 buses, total capacity 2040 persons, to

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Chicago, Illinois - The Chicago Peace Council is hosting the Chicago GI-Civilian Peace March on 5 April. The marchers aim to exploit the poor press Chicago received during the Democratic National Convention. The Cleveland Area Peace Action Council (CAPAC) and the Student Mobilization Committee (SMC) will participate and also decided to co-sponsor a combination send-off rally and memorial for Martin Luther KING, Jr., on the evening of 4 April. Minneapolis anti-war groups have already been active in building support for the midwest regional demonstration in Chicago. In Detroit an ad hoc committee of more than 100 prominent individuals and organizations is organizing participation in the Chicago action.

The Chicago Peace Council plans anticipate participation from the entire midwestern region.

The rally at the Chicago Coliseum tentatively calls for speakers Coretta KING, Stuart MEACHAM of the American Friends Service Committee, a GI and a high school student. There will be an open microphone for GI's to speak their pieces.

Militant

High School Students Against the War (HSSAW), with representatives in over 120 area high schools has been actively building for the demonstration. A high school strike is being pushed in Detroit on 3 April to protest the War in Vietnam and to commemorate Martin Luther KING's assassination. It will also support the 5 April anti-war demonstration in Chicago.

At a "Third World meeting in Chicago last week with representatives from black and Latin-American groups, a Third World Committee for Solidarity with Vietnam was formed and has issued a leaflet to build up April 5.

Anti-war leaders plan at the march and mass rally at Chicago on April 5 to protest the recent indictments of eight movement leaders filed as a result of disturbances during the Democratic National Convention.

Rennie DAVIS, a leader of the MOBE and one of the group indicted announced that he would address the rally at Chicago's International Amphitheater on the 5th. Dr. Maxwell PRIMACK, chairman of the Chicago Peace Council predicts that thousands of persons from midwestern states will take part in this "largest protest demonstration in the history of Chicago."

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

April 4, 5 & 6

*In support of the national call for anti-war actions over the Easter weekend, the Seattle anti-war movement spearheaded by the GI-Civilian Alliance on Peace, is planning another mass protest and plans have been laid for a GI-Civilian Anti-War Basic Training Weekend. It will be initiated by a "Pain in the Brass" action on 4 April, featuring massive leafletting of nearby Ft. Lewis by civilians from the Northwest that night.

Militant 3-21-69

Saturday, April 5, will be devoted to a mock trial of the brass, speeches by GI's and civilians on the causes of the war, methods of opposing it, and the connection of the anti-war movement with the black struggle and student movement.

April 6, Easter Sunday, will be devoted to workshops to discuss future plans for activities and organizing campaigns, as well as other topics of interest to the movement.

Members of the Peace and Freedom Party and other organizations, led by Socialist Workers Party organizers Bill MASSEY will enter Ft. Lewis in an attempt to distribute the leaflets. The demonstrators will use all entrances to the post and will attempt to give the military police a "hard time."

Air

Later reports indicate that operation "Pain in the Brass" has been modified and that demonstrators will assemble at the American Friends Service Committee Office in Seattle at 1800 hours and travel to Ft. Lewis where, instead of large scale activities, they will go to General BEVERLEY's residence to demonstrate and urge him to come outside and talk.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

April 6

*San Francisco - One of the biggest gatherings is expected at the GI march and rally in San Francisco. GI-Civilian groups have been formed at both San Francisco State and the University of California at Berkeley. The march will start at the Civic Center and the rally will be in an open field near the main gate of the Presidio. GI's on the West Coast have been leafletting local bases heavily. Because of the Richmond Oil Refinery strike, the anti-war movement hopes to get active labor support, not just leadership endorsement.

Guardian

The twin themes will be "Bring the GI's Home Now" and "Free the Presidio 27."

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

Although Los Angeles has been cited as the location for regional demonstrations, no details or publicity has been noted to date.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Atlanta, Georgia - The Southwide Mobilization (NFI) has planned the following activities in commemoration of Dr. KING during the Easter Weekend. On 4 April a forty-hour vigil will begin on the steps of the state capitol; on 5 April, workshops on racism, poverty, imperialism, non-violence, and GI organizing; and on 6 April, a two-mile march ending with a rally at Hurt Park, and a "Parade of Rags" by approximately 100 welfare recipients. A march permit has been requested but has not been granted.

Air

More than 30 protest organizations have announced they will participate in the Easter demonstration in Atlanta. Included in their plans are a forty-hour vigil on the steps of the State Capitol - which Gov. Lester MADDOX says will not be permitted. He said he might allow a limited number on the sidewalk but protestors will not be allowed on the Capitol steps or grounds. A spokesman for the demonstration planners said the vigil will be held "with or without approval."

April 6 was selected for the climax to the anti-war demonstration for the southeast region in Atlanta with a mass march. The GI-Civilian Committee will front the demonstration here. Disaffected servicemen from Ft. Benning are expected to lead the march.

*Mississippi - Commemorative services and marches in honor of Martin Luther KING, Jr., will be sponsored in at least a dozen Mississippi cities on the 4th. A memorial service will also be held on the 7th at Tougaloo College.

- April 5 Akron, Ohio - The Akron War Resisters League (AWRL) is sponsoring an anti-war demonstration in downtown Akron, which is presently being publicized in various Akron Stores. Air 9085
- April 4-6 Denver, Colorado - The Resistance, an anti-draft organization, is planning a peaceful protest march and "death watch" at the Afees on the morning of 4 April, a peaceful protest march at Rocky Mountain Arsenal on 5 April, and a sunrise rally at Red Rocks theater on 6 April. The sunrise rally may include other militant groups from Denver. Red Rocks Theater is the site of annual Easter sunrise services. Air 9084
- April 5 San Diego, California - The San Diego State College Chapter of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) plans to hold an anti-war rally in San Diego geared to servicemen in the area. The YSA plans to distribute anti-war leaflets and will try to recruit local servicemen to participate in the rally. Air 9084
- April 13 Austin, Texas - An intensive campaign to build the anti-war demonstration is underway. It was decided to hold the action on 13 April instead of Easter weekend when other groups across the country will demonstrate, because many University of Texas students will be home for the holiday. The Texas Committee to End the War in Vietnam will lead the demonstration.
- April 13 A protest of alleged institutional segregation at the University of Virginia may be staged at the Charlottesville campus on Thomas Jefferson's birthday. A founder and spokesman for the University's Student Coalition, Robert ROSEN stated his intentions for an April 13 protest demonstration in a speech from the capitol steps in Richmond after he and other student leaders found Virginia Governor Mills GODWIN not in sympathy with the Student Coalition's demands for university reform.
- April 24-27 Peoria, Illinois - A black cultural week is scheduled to be held at Bradley University.
- April 24-27 Washington, D. C. - A National Conference on the "Human Rights of the Man in Uniform" is apparently being planned for the Sheraton Park Hotel by the American Veterans Committee, 1333 Connecticut Avenue, N. W.
