RE: nctr

Thank you ATF. And I sincerely apologize for all of the drama. I should not have "hotlined" that message forward to you. Truth is, I should not have hotlined your message to him either. The Grassley issue is just consuming my life at the moment. But that is no excuse. One of the things I get paid for is to insulate (take the heat) for you guys on stuff like this and to also identify issues that may draw the ire of our Congressional Overlords. You and your team do an excellent job and deserve better. I promise to try to do a better job. Thanks again for your help and have a great day.

What did you send this Congressional professional? May I see the outgoing?

Oh if he wants to discuss body parts Iâ€™m in room 4S-134.

Looking at this now. they gave me some chart that has construction in the $40 million range. Yet heâ€™s saying that the $35 million is too high.

All I wanted was someone to help me fill in the short sentences I gave and maybe add a something brief. I appreciate the info but this makes me want to chop all of yalls balls off as it didnâ€™t answer anything. I asked for the time and someone gave me a watch factory with all the surrounding property and towns.

The attached contains the answers to the Goodloe questions on NCETR. The $35 M estimate is very high so I included history on NCETR to show we were never near that level. With payroll and a small construction piece we are at $10.7 M across the Bureau for 2011 and 14 NCETR employees on board.

Building occupancy was November 2010 but we have been operating at Huntsville since 2008.

Can you fill in the blanks for me on this for NCETR? I want to say $35 million but I could be wrong.

XXXX dollars were appropriated NCETR which opened on XXX date. Then two very brief sentences on what it does and who it trains.
