Refuses to Reduce Bail For 2 Held in Spy Case

Queens chemical engineer Abraham Brothman and Miriam Moskowitz, his business associate, pleaded not guilty yesterday to charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the FBI investigation of the Soviet spy ring in which British atomic scientist Klaus Fuchs was a key figure.

William L. Messing, defense counsel, staged a futile half-hour battle to prevail on Federal Judge Davis to reduce the $25,000 bail for each prisoner to $1,000, insisting the charges against them have been "grossly exaggerated."

This brought a sharp reply from U. S. Attorney Saypol, who criticized Messing for seeking to minimize the "gravity" of the charges. Judge Davis finally fixed Sept. 11 as the day when he will set a trial date.

Brothman, 36, of 41-08 42d St., Sunnyside, also pleaded not guilty to a second count which accused him of attempting to influence the testimony of Harry Gold, confessed atom spy for Russia, when Gold appeared to testify before a Federal grand jury here in July, 1947.

Brothman appeared cheerful when he entered the courtroom, smiling and waving to his wife Naomi.

Messing immediately attacked the government charges, claiming his clients were innocent and would be vindicated. He said his information was that the charges against Brothman were first made by Gold and Elizabeth Bentley, former courier for a Red spy ring. Messing called Gold and Miss Bentley "scoundrels of the most despicable type."

Judge Davis reminded Messing the charges against Brothman and Miss Moskowitz were made by the grand jury. Messing pleaded for $1,000 bail, stating Brothman was the sole support of his wife and two children and unless he could be released in low ball his business enterprises would be endangered. The judge, however, turned down the plea, upheld the $25,000 bail and remanded both prisoners to custody of the U. S. marshal.

U. S. Commissioner McDonald adjourned until Aug. 28 the hearing of David Greenglass, who is under indictment in New Mexico as an alleged Soviet spy.

The investigation of BONEMANN has reflected a very close parallel in his personal history with the personal history of KLAUS EMIL JULIUS FUCHS. In view of this close parallel and since both were British Scientists sent to the United States to perform research on Atomic Energy matters, the Bureau is requested to evaluate the advisability of interviewing FUCHS concerning BONEMANN. The San Francisco Office does not possess such details concerning results of interviews with FUCHS to date to determine whether such an interview could profitably be conducted.

On February 17, 1951, the Gettysburg Times carried an article referred to above, to the effect that the subject came to this country in 1941, on an emergency visa, available at that time for persons in danger, after he had spent seven years in concentration camps in Germany and France as a consequence of his anti-Nazi activities. He became involved, he claims, in Communism in the post war Germany in the early 1920s. As a member of the party he took an anti-Moscovite stand in 1925, and in 1926 was expelled from the party because of his anti-Bolshevik activities. He engaged subsequently in anti-Communist activities which he says he has continued for the past 20 years. He applied for an Immigration Visa in the fall of 1946 before his visitor's visa expired, but was notified by the American Consulate in Montreal, that he was not eligible for immigration. He then filed an appeal through counsel, JAMES R. SHARP, Washington, D.C., to Attorney General TOM CLARK for a waiver, requesting a hearing. Documentary proof of his anti-Communist activities was supplied with this appeal. A copy of the appeal was sent to the Secretary of State (Federal) and a preliminary hearing was held on August 3, 1949, at Philadelphia. The subject stated in the article "It seems ironical to me that I should be deported as a former Communist from this country which long since became my second home, the more so since I could not return to my place of birth, which is situated in the now Russian Zone of Germany. Under the present law the only way to adjust my status in the United States is by a personal bill."

At York, Pa.

The Honorable JAMES F. LIND, Congress of the United States, House of Representatives, York District of Pennsylvania, advised that he has introduced a bill H.R. #1578 in Congress which in effect states that for the purposes of the Immigration and Naturalization Laws; insofar as membership in the German Communist Party prior to his expulsion from that party in 1926 is concerned, HEINZ LANGERHANS shall be held and considered to have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence as of the date of enactment of this act. Mr. LIND advised that the Sub-Committee on Immigration would first hear his bill, and that he intended to request the Committee on the Judiciary to grant an open hearing so that all of the pertinent facts might be made a part of the record, since on the basis of this record the Committee would pass on the merits of the bill.

At Philadelphia, Pa.

Confidential Informant T-2, an employee of another Government Agency, advised on February 6, 1950, that HEINZ LANGERHANS was in charge of the Communist Student Movement at the University of Berlin at roughly the same period as EMIL FUCHS, Jr., had handled comparable activities at a different college in Germany.

REPORT MADE AT BOSTON	DATE WHEN MADE 7/21/51	PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE 7/13/51	REPORT MADE BY STUART W. CONNER
TITLE HELENE MARIANNE VELTFORT, nee Helene Marianne Rank, aka Mrs. Theodore Ernst Veltfort			CHARACTER OF CASE SECURITY MATTER - C

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Subject identified as friend of ROBERT BLOCK HEINEMAN. HEINEMAN is brother-in-law of KLAUS FUCHS, confessed Soviet espionage agent. HEINEMAN admits former Communist Party and Young Communist League membership and admits recruiting for ABRAHAM LINCOLN Brigade.

-RUC-

DETAILS:

On February 3, 1950, ROBERT BLOCK HEINEMAN advised Special Agents BRENTON S. GORDON and THOMAS F. MC LAUGHLIN, JR., HELEN and THEODORE VELTFORT were good friends of HEINEMAN.

HEINEMAN indicated his wife, whose maiden name was KRISTEL FUCHS, is the sister of KLAUS FUCHS and is not a citizen of the United States but remains a German alien. HEINEMAN said he first met KLAUS FUCHS when the latter first came to the United States as a research employee of the British Government for the purpose of working on the Los Alamos project. According to HEINEMAN, KLAUS FUCHS and his wife were very friendly and close although his wife had not seen her brother KLAUS since 1933. FUCHS visited the HEINEMAN residence in Cambridge, Mass., occasionally while in the United States.

It was noticed that KLAUS FUCHS was arrested on February 4, 1950, in England by the Scotland Yard on charges of violating the British Official Secrets Act and is a confessed member of a World War II Soviet Atomic Espionage Ring in the United States.

A review of the magazine "Amerasia" at the New York Public Library, 42nd Street and 5th Avenue, New York City in 1951 reflected that ARTHUR W. HUMMEL was the author of an article entitled "Chinese, Japanese and Other East Asiatic Books in the Library of Congress", which appeared in the November, 1937 issue of "Amerasia". (u)

The California Committee on Un-American Activities in its 1948 report, Page 224, cited "Amerasia" as among publications which "the Committee has found to be Communist initiated and controlled or so strongly influenced as to be in the Stalin Solar System". (u)

On 5/26/50 EMIL JULIUS KLAUS FUCHS, self-confessed Russian espionage agent, advised that he was closely acquainted with RONALD GURNEY and his wife, NATALIE, at Bristol, England during the period 1933-37. FUCHS stated that the GURNEYS belonged to the Society for Cultural Relations with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics during the 1930's, and that he considers the organization to be a Communist front. FUCHS stated that he regarded Dr. GURNEY as a security risk and that he believes that Mrs. GURNEY might serve as a contact of the Soviet espionage apparatus. (u)

In 1951 during the course of a previous investigation conducted by the FBI, DAVID GREENGLASS was interviewed and he advised that in the case of JULIUS ROSENBERG he compiled lists of individuals working at the Los Alamos Atom Bomb Project in 1944 and 1945 whom he believed to be ideologically suited for recruitment into the Soviet Espionage system. Included within these lists was the name of WILLIAM SPINDEL.

In the Report of SA W. GEORGE GOULD, dated 5/14/48, at El Paso, Texas, re LEO GROSS, SF - 211, AEEA, is contained the following information, (NY file 100-114246-8):

During the course of interviews in May and June of 1950 by Assistant Director HUGH H. CIEGG and Special Agent ROBERT J. LAMPHERE of EMIL JULIUS KLAUD FUCHS, who was convicted in London, England, for furnishing the Soviet Union with atomic energy information, FUCHS stated that during the period he was in England from September, 1933, until sometime in 1941, he was aware that an underground section of the German Communist Party was operating in England. FUCHS stated that he was considered a member of this section of the German Communist Party, and that he was aware that JURGEN KUCZYNSKI was regarded as the head thereof during this period. In May of 1941 when he accepted employment as a scientist on atomic energy research, he decided to furnish information regarding this research to the Soviet Union. FUCHS advised KUCZYNSKI, in the latter part of 1941, of his desire to furnish information to the Soviet Union, and KUCZYNSKI subsequently arranged a clandestine contact with an individual who FUCHS has identified as SIMON DAVIDOVITICH KREMER, who, in 1942, was the Secretary of the Military Attache's Staff at the Soviet Embassy in London.

seriousness with which politics are handled in Germany, as an extremely good idea. That the meeting really should be considered seriously was made obvious by the fact that on the platform besides Werner Finck were to be seen the Burgomaster Friedensburg and Rudolf Pechel, a most respected journalist and editor of the Deutsche Rundschau. This was the most courageous periodical appearing during the Nazi regime, but it was finally banned and Pechel was sent to prison for two years.

Under Hitler, Werner Finck twice had to pay for his inclination to political bono mots by lengthy stays in concentration camps. So, as a matter of precaution, the membership cards of the new party bear the words: "I join the Radical Center with the proviso that my membership shall not be held against me in case of future questionnaires." The membership card will most likely be worn under the lapel!

Finck is really serious, for all his fun. His leaflets demand the resignation of politicians who suffer from gastric complaints. They protest against uniforms, against standing at attention in public offices and places, and they propagate the view that things will be managed much better with humaneness, humor and elasticity than with systems, dogmas and party discipline. He appeals against bureaucracy, against sanctity of office and the pathetic dead-seriousness of the dogmatists. Apart from all that his party has no program, and he is proud of it. He calls it briefly "counter movement". Regarding Winston Churchill, Carlo Schmid and Theodor Heuss he says that without being aware of it they are already members of the Radical Center. The human cheerfulness with which they engage in politics renders their policy more fertile than that of others.

Certainly there had never been so much fun in the large hall, which after the Russian manner had been festooned with large banners bearing slogans such as "We are in favor of the Saar question". Here many people again began to take a happy interest in politics, and this alone makes the constitution of the new party a worth-while effort, even if Werner Finck does keep his promise to carry humor and fresh air into the public offices, parliaments and schools.

ARGENTINE NAZIS: What is the use of responsible and reasonable people in Germany trying to calm their nationalistic countrymen when a publisher in the Argentine makes it his business to rake up the old Nazi tales and to circulate them once more?

I have before me a book from the Dürer Publishing Company in Buenos Aires, the title of which runs, With Dr. Goebbels Till the End. It was written by the personal press director of the former Minister of Propaganda in order -- as the wrapper says -- to straighten out the picture of this leading, political personality, distorted in the course of years by political passion and hasty judgment. The book is a very misplaced apothecosis of Dr. Goebbels, whom the author adores.

In the introduction the author justifies his book by writing: "Up to the last day of the war I did everything in my power to bring about victory, or at least to try and prevent the defeat and all the terrible results which it was bound to bring to the German people." It is certainly a curious justification of the Nazis to assert that all they wanted was to prevent the results of the catastrophe which they themselves had brought about. In present-day Germany, with its unemployed, its refugees, its bombed-out people, nothing is more effective from the point of view of propaganda than an appeal to the memory of those times when they still had work, homes and a future.

One cannot tell a foreign publisher what he should publish and what he must not publish. But it is a sad sign of the times when an Argentinian publisher presents his customers with such dangerous nonsense. Fortunately, the book is at present not available in Germany. But evidently the publisher has his customers, for on the wrapper a whole lot of pro-Nazi literature is presented.

By Marion Doehhoff

HAMBURG -- April, 1950

SCHIZOPHRENIA: For us Germans the Fuchs case has been of special interest, not so much because Klaus Fuchs was originally a German, but because as a result of our geographic position and our history we know very well the two worlds in which he lived. They are the natural world of the West and the ideological, artificial one of the East; artificial because there on a pseudo-scientific basis of historic materialism a theory of life has been evolved to which everything natural and everything human has been sacrificed. This goes so far that in the end even history, for the true Marxist, is nothing more than a physical process.

Klaus Fuchs himself has called his behavior "controlled schizophrenia", meaning an intentionally accomplished split of his mind. He was able to live in two completely independent spheres: publicly in the world of highly qualified scientific research with all its tangible paraphernalia, and secretly in the ideological world of Marxist make-believe, its slogans and dream pictures.

The disposition towards such a divided consciousness is closely related to the crisis of Western thinking and the loss of common unifying values. The entity of Fuchs' personality was broken, because it had no unified spiritual consciousness on which to fall back. In this respect, Fuchs is no isolated case. On the contrary, as a result of the upheaval of two world wars and the spiritual unsettlement which they brought, schizophrenia has become a sickness of our era.

Today it is the fate of whole peoples to live in a self-willed split of the ego: on the one hand the official plane of governmental rulings which control their public actions; on the other, the hidden plane of natural behavior and thinking reserved for the closest private circle. The original undivided consciousness of man has been shattered to its foundations by Marxist teaching, and has come into conflict with its social surroundings. In place of natural consciousness, which communism condemns as capitalistic and therefore immoral, has arisen a theoretically created attitude called "social consciousness". This psychological conflict will split the ego of any man who has lost his inner freedom.

In the surroundings in which Fuchs lived the "socialistic conscience" created by his intellect could not in the long run hold its ground. Admittedly, he met too many people with a "deep-rooted strength which enables them to live a decent life". Under their influence Fuchs finally found his way back to natural mental conditions.

For millions of people, who live within the Soviet orbit, schizophrenia is the only possible way of life. If they do not successfully contain their natural mind in a special compartment they will one day be liquidated for sabotage or deviation.

VON FALKENHAUSEN: Recently I met a young man with whom I often had very lively discussions during the war. He was, then, ADC to a rather objectionable Nazi general whom, partly because of stupidity, partly because of loyalty, he used to defend whenever I attacked the attitude of his chief and of the German military leadership as a whole. I remember quite well that during our last discussion, in the autumn of 1943, he indignantly exclaimed: "I do not know what you mean; is there then no general whose attitude meets with your approval?" "Yes", I replied, "there is one who should be an example to all German officers: General von Falkenhausen."

Obviously he, too, remembered that talk because his first question the other day was: "What has happened to your Falkenhausen?" Rather shamefacedly I had to tell him that Falkenhausen during the last few years has been in no way the

It is noted that EMIL JULIUS KLAUS RUCHS, self-confessed and convicted Soviet agent, in London, England, advised that in 1948, from an unrecalled espionage contact, it was suggested to him that he contact an individual by the name of SUKHONLIN at 2 Rue Adolphe Bartholdi, Paris, France.

The enclosed report reflects that (a) VASSILI VASILIEVICH SOUKHOMLINE resided at 2 Rue Auguste Bartholdi, Paris, France, (b) that in 1947 the subject made a trip to Europe leaving the United States on 5/31/47 on the SS MAURETANIA and returning to the United States on 9/8/47, furnishing his address while out of the United States as c/o Mme. MALINOVSKY (subject's daughter), 2 Rue Auguste (Bartholdi), Paris XV, France, and (c) that in May, 1951, subject was reported to go to France and Italy for literary studies under a faculty fellowship granted by the Sarah Lawrence College, with address while in Europe as Hotel Lenox, Rue de L'universite, Paris, France. He reportedly will return to the United States in September or October, 1951.

In view of the aforementioned, two photographs of the subject are being forwarded with the enclosed report to the Bureau in the event the Bureau desires to check on subject's activities while in France, and specifically any connection he has with 2 Rue Auguste Bartholdi, Paris, France, the residences of the following relatives in close associate of subject:

1. VASSILI VASILIEVICH SOUKHOMLINE (friend),
2. Madame SUZANNE MARIE FRANCAISE CAMPAUX (subject's ex-wife and mistress of SOUKHOMLINE),
3. HELEN SLOMIM PRICE MALINOVSKY (subject's daughter).

It is kindly requested that the Bureau, [REDACTED]

Concerning BORIS SERGIEVSKY, it is to be noted that early in World War II he was reported as being a pro-Fascist and as a consequence, considerable investigation was conducted concerning his activities at that time. From investigation conducted, it was determined that SERGIEVSKY was born in Russia and served with the Russian Imperial British and White Russian Air Service from 1911 to 1921. From 1918 to 1921 he was Squadron Leader and Chief of the Air Force of the Third White Army fighting against the Bolsheviks. He entered the United States in 1923 and became a United States citizen at Bridgeport, Connecticut on May 1, 1934.

It is to be further noted that SERGIEVSKY is known to have repeatedly broken numerous altitude and speed records in various types of airplanes and has been decorated on numerous occasions by the American Legion for excellence in aviation and is also prominent for experimental work on the helicopter.

Immigration and Naturalization Service records reflect that VASSILY SOUKHOMLINE, in an application dated March 10, 1942 to extend the time of his temporary stay in the United States, listed one Mrs. EMILIE SLUTZKY, friend, as residing at 306 West 100th Street, New York City.

With regard to the above-mentioned VASSILI SOUKHOMLINE, it is to be noted that EMIL JULIUS KLAUS FUCHS, self-confessed and convicted Soviet Agent in England, furnished information to the effect that for purposes of an alternate espionage contact he had been supplied with the name of Mr. SUKHONLIN of 2 Rue Adolphe Bartholdi, Paris, France. This occurred after FUCHS had returned to the United Kingdom from the United States.
