SUBJECT: CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA) REQUEST FOR TOUR of RECORDS BRANCH, FILES AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

6/28/62
Handled oym
D.J. Brennan
Papich

On June 20, 1962, [redacted] CIA, inquired if certain employees under his supervision could be afforded a tour of our Records Branch on June 28, 1962. He explained that as a result of changes being instituted by the CIA Director, John McCone, these employees are in the process of revising some of CIA's records handling procedures. [redacted] feels that a tour of our Records Branch would be most beneficial in orienting the CIA personnel. The CIA employees involved are: [redacted]

b3

ACTION:

This has been coordinated with the Records Branch. If you approve, [redacted] will be informed that the tour will be afforded to the CIA employees at 2:30 p.m., June 28, 1962.

Dear [redacted]

Your memorandum of June 26th regarding the recent appearance of Special Agent Sam Papich before the class of DDI Junior Officer Trainees has been received.

It was kind of you to comment as you did concerning his presentation, and we are pleased to know that it was so well received. Mr. Papich shares my appreciation for your generous comments, and he is looking forward to participating in your future courses consistent with his commitments. You may be sure every effort will be made to accede to your request.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA)
 SPECIAL TOUR OF THE BUREAU
 JUNE 29, 1962

CQ-1

Reference is made to memorandum D. J. Brennan to W. C. Sullivan 6-13-62 indicating CIA employees desired to tour the Bureau on 6-29-62.

Captioned group was met at the tour room at approximately 2 p.m. on 6-29-62 and conducted on a special tour of the Bureau's facilities by SA [redacted]. There was no request to meet the Director. The tour included a tour of the Records Branch of the Files and Communications Division, which was conducted by [redacted].

This group, consisting of ten male and four female employees of CIA, was extremely interested in all of the Bureau's operations and asked a great many questions. They appeared to be extremely interested and thoroughly impressed with the FBI's contribution and investigative ability, particularly in the intelligence field. Without exception throughout the tour and at the conclusion all of the individuals openly expressed their appreciation for being given the opportunity to receive firsthand briefing and tour of the Bureau's facilities.

an

The group was not only impressed with the Bureau's ability and accomplishments, but the group also seemed eager to have an opportunity to work closely in exchanging information with the Bureau in the future.

Anti-Castro raids continue

Cuban Exiles Have Learned to Hate CIA

By ROBERT K. BROWN

ANTI-CASTRO military activity in the Caribbean and Miami area has reached an all-time low. Even an occasional mention of large training camps and/or impending anti-Castro operations are now hard to find in once rumor-ridden Miami.

Present counter-revolutionary operations are limited to a few surreptitious runs conducted by small groups operating independently of the Central Intelligence Agency, which provides food, medicine, agents and a handful of weapons for their contacts in Cuba. Three or four organizations give classes on demolition and other military subjects in their offices or maintain scraggly training camps where their men exist on rice, beans, hope and the pleasure of cursing the CIA. Since the abortive invasion of Cuba which CIA sponsored in April, 1961, that agency has become almost as unpopular as Fidel Castro with large numbers of Cubans.

CIA-sponsored operations against Castro started slackening off in January of this year before the foreign ministers' meeting at Punta del Este. Failure to initiate operations after Punta del Este was explained by pointing out that nothing should be done which might substantiate Castro's charge of renewed United States aggression before the United Nations.

After that "crisis" passed, the Cubans were pacified with the story that it would take time for new CIA boss John McCone to orient himself.

Then it was said that the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) was taking over the operational missions of the Central Intelligence Agency.

If the Cubans have been unimpressed by these explanations, they have been even more unimpressed with the CIA itself—its operating techniques, personnel, accomplishments, reliability and its relations with the Cuban exile movement in general.

THE exiles say CIA maintains tight control over the majority of anti-Castro organizations by its dispensation of funds, guns and its system of informants which do not spy on Castro but on the counter-revolutionaries.

Money, the lifeblood of any revolutionary movement, has been in short supply. During the successful 1959 revolt against dictator Fulgencio Batista, Cuban revolutionaries obtained most of their funds from inside Cuba—from the middle and upper classes. This has not been possible for the last year and a half. Furthermore, funds that were brought out of Cuba and made available for revolutionary activity have been expended and cannot be replaced. Thus, if no personal funds are available to buy supplies, the exiles look to the CIA for weapons, medicine, foods, ships and all the other materials necessary to keep a revolution going. Cuban exiles who are not corrupt, who are daily risking their lives for freedom, say they have been unable to raise any sizable amounts of money from American citizens or industry.

These exiles say that the CIA pays a monthly lump sum—some estimate it at between $100,000 and $200,000—to the "Consejo" which is lead by Dr. Miro Cardona, former Premier of Cuba under Castro. Cardona then parcels the money out to the various organizations that make up the "Consejo," they report.

One group which recently broke with the Consejo reportedly received a monthly lump sum of $2,070. This was supposed to pay the rent, salaries of the department heads of the organization and office supplies.

Several Americans, who helped set up a training camp in the Everglades, reported that as soon as it became known that a training camp was in operation and young Cubans were clamoring to sign up, the CIA contacted the exile organization sponsoring the camp through Cardona and promised to contribute a sizable sum of money to the organization if it would take its men out of the field for just a couple of weeks. The men returned to Miami, the organization got the CIA money and the training camp wasn't reopened, these Americans say.

AND one doesn't have to look far in Cuban exile circles to hear numerous complaints of CIA ineptness in regards to operations.

Here is an account of one such complaint:

Sometime ago, a Cuban millionaire bought a small World War II surplus warship (which we'll call the "Florida") and installed the most advanced navigational equipment and engines available. After the boat was equipped to the tune of better than $50,000, the CIA moved in and offered to take care of operational expenses—salary for the 20-man crew, repairs, ammunition, fuel, etc., as long as they were allowed to control the ship.

The millionaire, who by this time was no longer a millionaire had no alternative but to agree.

Friction developed between the ship's Cuban crew which was captained by an American and the CIA representatives in Key West after several missions failed due to faulty or incomplete CIA intelligence reports. The CIA then attempted to force replacement of the critical, outspoken but extremely able American captain who didn't hesitate to tell the "spooks" (nickname for CIA agents) what he thought of their operations.

Eventually, the CIA was able to take over the "Florida" due to its control of the purse strings and the original crew and captain were replaced by a crew commanded by Roberto Bombino who had recently defected from the command of the Cuban frigate "Marti." This same frigate and its commander, Bombino, had chased and attempted to sink the "Florida" three months earlier according to one of the former crew members.

The American captain, who we'll call "Johnny," told me he was offered a year's pay and a trip around the world, or a job as port engineer of Key West if he would withdraw from the "Florida" quietly. With the rest of his crew listening, "Johnny" told me how the new, more pliable crew had promptly run the "Florida" aground while testing her.

"Since we were the only ones that could run her," Johnny laughed, "the CIA reluctantly gave the "Florida" back to us. After making extensive repairs, we left on a mission to Cuba. A few miles out of Key West, the automatic pilot broke and we had to return to base. On our way back, we decided to test the small outboard motors that we use to power the small boats that ferry men and guns from the ship to shore. They didn't work. After stripping all 4 motors, we discovered water had seeped into the cylinders."

"Johnny" went on to charge that these motors which were supposed to be new had been used by CIA agents for water skiing.

THIS incident and the resentment it engendered caused the CIA to take over the "Florida" once again. And once again the new crew rendered the ship inoperative by burning out both engines and a generator. One member of the "Florida's" original crew has been negotiating with the CIA to repair the "Florida." With the money earned from such a repair job, the "Florida's" crew hope to buy a smaller ship with which they can conduct their own operations — without CIA "guidance."

CIA personnel, according to the "Florida's" original crew, are "stupid, inexperienced and have not guts." They charge that the head man of the CIA in Key West—code name of "Max"—is an ex-Agriculture Department official who knows nothing about marine operations, and that "Gordon," who is head of marine operations in the Miami area never commanded anything larger than a 30-ft. yacht.

Another Cuban from a different organization told of a CIA "safe house" which was located on a vegetable farm outside of Miami. It soon became obvious, he said, to the surrounding neighbors that growing vegetables was not the primary purpose of the farm's new owners when these "vegetable farmers" raised a big fuss about crop dusting planes flying over their acreage.

When one of the trainees asked his instructor why his M-3 submachine gun only fired single shots, the instructor replied, "Federal law prohibits firing automatic weapons in the U.S." Nonetheless, The Cuban said, the CIA expected these same Cubans to risk their lives with weapons with which they were not completely familiar.

Members of yet another organization bitterly claim they were given cases of Thompson submachine guns for shipment to underground forces in Cuba. When at sea they attempted to test-fire the weapons only to find that the ammunition provided was of a different caliber and therefore completely useless. On another occasion they were given .57 mm. recoilless rifles and .75 mm ammunition.

"Jose," a well-known Cuban athlete who worked for an American company in Cuba, told how he stole a boat with several friends and escaped to the U.S. in August, 1961.

After arriving in the U.S., he said, he was promised by the CIA that he would be sent to a camp for specialized training in the near future. He commented sarcastically, "I'd like to know what they mean by near future, as I'm still waiting."

"Jose" related how he and several of his co-workers had placed large amounts of C-4—a high explosive—in vital points throughout the plant in which he worked. When, he said, they gleefully informed their American manager the plant was ready to blow up the manager frantically objected, "Don't do that. We'll be back and we don't want that plant destroyed."

THERE are confirmed reports that Cuban lackeys of the CIA also have dealt poorly with their more courageous countrymen. In December, 1960, Miro Cardone, nominal head of the CIA—financed "Consejo," invited young Cubans to join the American armed forces. Several Cubans I talked with claimed they had been promised faithfully that they would be sent directly to special training camps at which they would be taught the special skills they would need to fight the Cuban Communists.

One young chap told me that Miro himself promised that if I enlisted I would get the training I wanted and needed. So I enlisted in the Air Force. I was sent to Lackland Air Force Base where for six weeks I did little more than polish boots, pick up cigarette butts and clean latrines. I went to my commanding officer and asked when I could expect the special training I was promised. He said he knew nothing of any such "special training." I wrote to the chief of the Air Force and was discharged shortly thereafter."

When I asked him why he thought such promises were made, he answered, "I think they want to keep us from getting in the company's hair. Cubans call the CIA the "company" as the Spanish abbreviation for company is Cia."

Last month, it is known that the heads of three anti-Castro organizations (no longer supported by the CIA) flew to Washington to confer with several congressmen. They reported they were told, "to wait, wait, it's the best way to save lives." "Meanwhile, Castro gets more and more arms and kills more of our friends," one leader commented.

IN SPITE of the CIA, Cuban freedom fighters continue to peck away at Fidel's police state. They say they feel that such efforts are not in vain. They point out that they now bribe fishermen and Castro's militia with ice, food and medicine so they can carry out their missions.

American volunteers, in no way connected with the CIA or any other governmental agency, who advise and train the Cubans maintain that a multitude of small scale raids carried out by killer-raider teams could possibly increase the strain on Castro's now straining economy to the breaking point.

According to these volunteers short hit and run missions would keep the Communists off balance, destroy morale and force them to tighten up their control even further. The number of personnel involved in such activities would be small and consequently the likelihood of the security of such missions being compromised would be slight.

One American adviser related how he and several Cubans had stayed on a key near Cuba for several days while awaiting to make a contact on the mainland. They didn't make their contacts nor did they get involved in any firefights with Castro militia. However, he said, word got out of their presence and Castro had 5,000 militia combing the area for two weeks—after the counter-revolutionaries had left. By his account it cost the American and his counter-revolutionary friends $50 for their trip. He estimated it cost Castro's already strained budget tens of thousands of pesos as well as consumption of precious gasoline and wear on vehicles used to transport the militia to and fro.

"You don't have to spend millions of dollars to hurt Castro," the American adviser continued. "Multiply what we did a hundred times over and he would really be hurting."

Guerrillas operating in the Escambray and resistance leaders from the cities continue to trickle into Miami with reports that men are available to fight but they can't do it with their bare hands. After assessing the do-nothing situation in Miami, they compare the Kennedy Administration's policy of hoping that Fidel will wither on the vine to the little boy that was thrown from a horse the first time he tried to ride him and decided not to try again till the horse died.

The result of such bungling, other than giving the CIA a worse name than it had after the Bay of Pigs failure, may produce some side effects that were not counted on. Several persons said it is likely that if and when Castro falls, the leadership replacing him will not be those individuals sponsored by the CIA; such leadership may come from elements which have had to work against the CIA as well as Fidel, in which case they may not turn Cuba into as pro-American a bastion as we would desire.

[redacted] has advised that they are considering employing as a permanent instructor at the Academy one [redacted]. The latter is [redacted]

[redacted] When I left [redacted] in April, 1960 he was [redacted]

2. Instruction By Treasury Dept. As was indicated in mylet of 5/26/62, there was an interest in having some instruction given by the Treasury Dept. in Narcotics and Counterfeiting. While Laughlin was in Washington, D.C. in the early part of June he contacted Treasury concerning such instruction and they were very adamant that they wanted at least two weeks instruction time on the curriculum. Laughlin said that this was impossible and offered them a limited number of hours. They wouldn't have anything to do with it. Laughlin advises that he has now received a letter from them telling him that they will be happy to handle the subjects requested and agree to taking whatever time he can give them.

3. Airconditioners For Homes.- This matter is still in the process of being worked out and it now appears that a two-ton aircon ditioner will be furnished each Instructor's home. Arrangements for the purchase and installation of these is presently underway and it is hoped that within the next two weeks they should be installed.

4. Visitors To The Academy.- [redacted]

[redacted] arrived Monday, July 17, 1962. He will be here for a few days conferring with the Director on courses being offered. He is interested in having a course on guerilla warfare presented but the Director has pointed out that the Academy is not equipped to do this at present. He also wants a course on Bomb Demolition presented but was advised that same can't be doe for the same reason.

5. Student Interest. - The students continue to evince keen, active, enthusiastic interest in the courses being offered. The curriculum is moving along on schedule. This week instruction is being given in Firearms (Outdoors), Interviews and Interrogations, Instructor Training, Police Organization and Administration, Jurisdiction and Cooperative Functions of the F.B.I., and the Use of the Night-stick. Instruction is very well received and student participation in the classroom is very good. I am instructing in Firearms (one section of the class) and on the F.B.I. There is every indication at this time, that this course will be a successful and well-received one.

6. Preliminary Report on Academy. - Director Laughlin has prepared a preliminary report on the operation and cost of the Academy during Fiscal Year 1963. The overall estimated cost is $370,000. This figure does not include the $3.00 a day PD paid to the students or the travel expenses of the students to and from the Academy. In the report, Laughlin states that the cost of food alone is $85,000.00 which is higher than was anticipated. Food costs $4.10 per day per student. Of the overall figure of $370,000.00, about $30,000.00 will be non-recurring costs. Using the over-all figure and based on 300 students per year trained, the average cost per student will be $1,233.00. With the $3.00 a day per student added, the average cost will be $1300.00 per student.

As ~~the~~ to the future location of the Academy, Laughlin feels that the present site is not the appropriate one for such an Academy due to the weather, distance from everything, and the dependence on the Army. He suggests that consideration be given to the capital city of a progressive Latin American country; and further, that the PD of each student be increased from $3.00 to $10.00 per day and that they be responsible for obtaining their own living quarters, food, and take care of their own laundry. This would increase the costs about 10% but would make it possible for the members of the staff at the Academy to concentrate on the curriculum and not have to concern themselves with non-academic details. He also states that there are actually at present only four permanent instructors on the staff and that this should be increased to six.

7. Requests For Materials From Other Agencies. - By letters dated as shown, the Academy has requested certain materials from the following Agencies:

(a) - [redacted] - Letter of 7-11-62 requests that the following films used by [redacted] while attached to the SO be forwarded to the Academy: Public Relations; Arrest & Search of Persons; Foot Patrol; Fundamentals of Revolver Shooting; Firing Line (in color); Four Against One; Hot Car; Police Baton; The Prowler; Police Physical Control Techniques; Shakedown and Handcuffing Procedures. With the exception of the Firing Line, all films are black and white. The Bureau also has Foot Patrol, which film was developed by the LA PD in 1958.

~~SECRET~~

(b)-National Broadcasting Co., NYC.- By letter dated 7-11-62, request made for a 16mm. copy of film entitled "Emergency Squad." This film depicts the on-the-scene operations of the NYC PD Emergency Service Division and is narrated by Walter Matthan.

By letter dated 7-10-62, reference was made to his book entitled, Public Supervisory Control and inquiry was made as to whether he had any other such books that would be applicable to the Courses at the Academy. Request was made for him to furnish titles and prices of such books.

9. Sports.- Many of the students are availing themselves of the facilities at the Base for recreational activities. The Academy purchased some sports equipment and the students play soft ball, football(Latin American style), tennis, badminton, use the gymnasium and swimming pool almost daily.

10. Interest In F.B.I..- During my lectures on the Investigative Jurisdiction and Cooperative Functions of the F.B.I., I also mentioned our public relations programs and such things as the issuance of Wanted Flyers, I.O.'s, Check Circulars, Top Ten publicity, Uniform Crime reports, FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, issuance of booklets such as " How Service Stations Can Be Of Assistance To Law Enforcement," The Story of the FBI, etc. I had copies of all these and displayed them to the class. They were very much interested and all asked that I have prepared for each of them a little ~~sample~~ kit containing a copy of each of the various releases made by the Bureau for public consumption and for distribution to law enforcement agencies. They aver that these would be of valuable assistance to them in giving them ideas in developing media of this type in their own countries.

I feel that this has merit and recommend that the Bureau forward to me via AIR MAIL 65 copies of each of the following: a current IO; a current Check Circular; a current Wanted Flyer; a current A.O.; last Annual issue of Uniform Crime Reports; last quarterly letter on Uniform Crime Reports; the Story of the FBI; various booklets, leaflets, and pamphlets issued by the Bureau and distributed to Banks and other types of institutions on how they can be assistance to law enforcement; Laboratory Facilities of the F.B.I.

~~SECRET~~

In a separate communication, I contemplate making a suggestion as to placing the names of some or all of the departments represented in the Academy on the mailing List for the receipt of Wanted Flyers, I.O.'s and Law Enforcement Bulletins.

~~SECRET~~

11. FBI HANDOUTS. - During my lectures on F.B.I. Jurisdiction, I gave to each student a copy in Spanish of the Bureau booklet, Cooperation, the Backbone of Law Enforcement. All were very pleased with this and are adding same to their notebooks. In addition, I handed out copies to each student of the Spanish version of the Child Molester Poster. They were also pleased with this and a number of them are already talking about making use of such posters in their countries. One of the delegates from [redacted] told me that [redacted] had a situation occur to [redacted] very similar to that depicted in the poaster. He sent [redacted] a copy of the poster that very evening in the mail.

SUBJECT: INTELLIGENCE METHODS CONFERENCE
OCTOBER 15-19, 1962

Moo
Bren
AWB

By letter dated September 5, 1962, [redacted] CIA, invited Assistant to the Director Belmont or his designated representative to attend and participate in discussions at the Intelligence Methods Conference.

[redacted]

[redacted] also invited "senior people" from the Bureau to attend sessions as observers.

The proposed agenda of the Conference shows very little subject matter of direct interest to the Bureau. The Conference covers such general subjects as the role of intelligence in

[redacted]

It would appear that if any of the foregoing items as developed in the conference turned out to have a direct bearing on the Bureau's work, arrangements might be made to be advised of such by [redacted] and copies of the pertinent Conference paper be obtained from him for Bureau's perusal. It does not appear that the subject matters are of such pertinence as to require tying up a Bureau official for 5 days.

ACTION: If approval is given, Liaison will orally advise [redacted] that we appreciate his invitation and his thoughtfulness but that under the circumstances you will be unable to attend. ~~we are not suggesting any Bureau personnel as observers.~~

Memorandum Brennan to Sullivan
Re: INTERDEPARTMENTAL SURVEY GROUP

b3

ACTION:

There is enclosed herewith a letter to the Attorney General summarizing pertinent items reported by Special Agent Papich. The Attorney General is being informed that this is strictly a report of the Agent and is not to be construed as the team's report.

Other items of possible interest to the Bureau coming to the attention of the Bureau Agent are being reported by separate memoranda.

PPB

SA

I think we should send letter to [redacted]

b7C

DETAILS:

Captioned group completed its survey and arrived in Washington, D.C., on 9-28-62. [redacted] advised the members of the group that they would meet at the State Department at 9:00 a.m., 10-1-62, for the purpose of expediting the report covering the survey [redacted]. He is of the opinion that the report can be completed by 10-10-62. The Bureau's representative, SA Sam J. Papich, will take every possible step to separate himself from the group at an earlier date.

It is suggested that the Bureau give consideration to directing a letter to the CIA expressing appreciation for this cooperation, particularly mentioning [redacted]

The Office of Training, Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), has inquired if the Liaison Agent would lecture to a group of approximately twenty junior officer trainees at 8:30 a.m., December 10, 1962. This would be a lecture in line with the one given by Agent Papich on June 15, 1962. At that time the lecture was restricted to approximately 30 minutes on Bureau organization, jurisdiction, and functions particularly as they pertain to the internal security field. The information used essentially was of a public source nature.

The trainees are college graduates who are completing a basic orientation course as new employees of the agency.

ACTION:

The last lecture was worthwhile and beneficial to the Bureau. If approved, Agent Papich will handle this lecture and will confine the substantive information as was done in June, 1962.

Dear Mr. Hoover;

I believe that the Cuban agents working for our CIA are in reality pro-Castro spies and that consequently the information our CIA is giving our president on Cuba is exactly what Castro wants him to get. Following are the reasons I think so-

CIA

1. Last summer, I read in the paper that the anti-Castro Cubans here had information from friends in Cuba that many Russian soldiers and great quantities of offensive weapons and missiles were pouring into Cuba, and our administration kept denying it and stating that they were only defensive weapons and Russian technical advisers and civilians. Then, three months later our president announced, as if it were something that just happened overnight, that Russian offensive weapons and soldiers are in Cuba.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 3-24-06 BY 60322AUC/LP/CPB/OG

2. About ten days ago, I read in the Chicago Tribune an article, which I believe was in papers thruout the country, that anti-Castro Cubans and students received information from friends in Cuba that missiles and missile-launching platforms were merely shifted from where they were at to caverns and mountains where they could be effectively concealed from aerial observation. Though 40 missiles were supposed to have been removed from Cuba, there were several times that amount hidden in the caverns and mountains. Also, there was an article in the newest or next to newest issue of U.S. News & World Report that the anti-Castro Cubans still have information that 13,000 Russian troops are in Cuba.

3. In this last Wednesday's edition of the Chicago American there was an article stating that anti-Castro Cubans would inform our CIA of information they had, and the next thing you know the person who had originally obtained this information would be seized by Castro's police and then executed. After this experience, they would no longer inform our CIA, realizing that there must be one or more pro-Castro spies

The very existence of this great country is at stake. In 1963 or 1964, Russia will attack U.S. from Cuba and Siberia to start World War ~~III~~. The only way to prevent this from happening is for this country to attack and invade Cuba immediately before it is too late. The president must get the correct picture of what is going on in Cuba and not the picture that Castro wants him to get. That is why I am writing to you in hopes that you can investigate every agent working for the CIA in Cuba. Also, there may be some top official in the CIA that may be a Communist agent. God bless and protect this great land of ours.

Respectfully Yours,

SUBJECT: JOHN MC CONE
DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA)

You may be interested in the following observations and impressions of the Liaison Agent concerning the status of McCone after completing approximately one year as Director of CIA. This is being submitted for possible assistance in following future developments. The Liaison Agent recognizes that some of these observations may not be completely accurate. They are based on numerous day-to-day dealings with officials at all levels within the Agency.

McCone appears to be firmly in control of CIA [redacted] he is held in high regard by the Administration.

[redacted]

b3
b7c

Within CIA he is very definitely the dominating figure. He is running CIA and no other personality, including [redacted] is acquiring any unusual power or influence. In the beginning, McCone was to have placed himself in a position where he could follow, observe and evaluate U. S. intelligence activities in a neutral and objective manner. [redacted]

In the early months of 1962, this appeared to be the pattern but within recent weeks there has been evidence to the contrary. [redacted]

[redacted] McCone is very much involved in many operations and McCone very definitely is making the important decisions. [redacted]

[redacted]

The old hands in CIA who were skeptical of McCone's capability to understand the peculiarities and complexities of intelligence operations have been deeply impressed with McCone's ability to readily grasp and understand problems which arise. He has made decisions with a minimum of discussion and he has expected fast action. He adheres to a formula of meeting with officials only when the subject of discussion is official or meaningful business. There is no "small talk." He does not appear to have any pets or favorites.

With regard to his future, McCone very likely will continue as Director of CIA as long as he retains the power and prestige which he believes he is holding at the present time.

b7c

With regard to the Bureau, McCone continues to look at us with very definite respect. He is a man who is impressed with efficiency and results. His attitude toward us is largely influenced by his regard for the Director's leadership.

SUBJECT: CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA)
CUBAN ACTIVITIES

Wannall

Prior to December 19, 1962, CIA had occasion to transmit teletypes concerning activities pertaining to the Cuban situation on which communications the agency indicated that the information was for "background use only." Under this restriction we technically will not be able to use the information in our reports.

This matter was discussed with [redacted] CIA, on December 19, 1962. Within the last week we have been receiving teletypes which no longer contain the above described restrictions. On January 2, 1963, [redacted] advised the Liaison Agent that appropriate instructions were issued to CIA officers to make certain that the phraseology "background use only" not apply to the Bureau.

On Tuesday evening, January 8, 1963, the Buildings Management Association, of which I am a member, had their monthly dinner and meeting at the new Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) Building in Langley, Virginia. It is customary for the Buildings Management Association to have its monthly meeting in one of the various Government buildings in Washington in order to give the members a tour of the building and a chance to see what other Governmental agencies are doing for their employees. There were between 125 and 150 members present at the meeting at the CIA Building.

Memorandum Mr. Mohr to Mr. Tolson
Re: CIA BUILDING, LANGLEY, VIRGINIA

b3

All in all, the tour was quite interesting and there were a number of innovations observed that might well be utilized in our new building. It was observed that a number of individuals who were present at this meeting were from General Services Administration and will have a vital hand in the preparation and building of our new building.

I thought you might be interested in the foregoing.

SUBJECT: ~~X~~ CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA)
OPERATIONS IN MIAMI

[Handwritten initials]
Wannall

Central Intelligence Agency

We previously have been informed that CIA had given consideration to establishing coverage in Miami of mail moving between Cuba and the U. S. A few weeks ago CIA told us that it had discontinued its interest in this project.

b3

On February 5, 1963, [redacted] CIA, informed the Liaison Agent that his agency had renewed its interest in this project. CIA therefore will re-examine this matter for the purpose of determining if it will be feasible to establish such coverage. This will mean that CIA very likely will be in contact with authorities of the Post Office Department.

ACTION:

Liaison will discreetly follow this matter and will report progress being made by CIA. This is particularly directed to the attention of the Nationalities Intelligence Section, bearing in mind that CIA interest in the described project could introduce conflicts with coverage already being handled by the Bureau in Miami.

Memorandum

TO : The Director

DATE: 2-28-63

FROM : N. P. Callahan

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages 2025-2026. Congressman Rogers, (D - Florida) speaks concerning the need for a Congressional Joint Committee on Intelligence Agencies. He pointed out that he had previously introduced such legislation, H. J. Res 211. Mr. Rogers stated, "It may be argued that the secretiveness of the CIA precludes the possibility of its successes coming to light; that its nature does not allow its ~~ratio of success versus failure~~ to be known. However, responsible Americans have begun to view the CIA differently. - - - Mr. Speaker, in these days when the Nation is engaged in a struggle for its very survival, Americans and particularly the Congress, would do well to ask some searching questions about this supersecret organization."
