Subject: Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn.

Your attention is respectfully called to the communistic activities of The Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tenn. In a letter of March 6, 1936, you instructed the writer that since there is no Federal statute in regard to such activities that the Bureau was unable to investigate. This is very unfortunate indeed. This school is a hot-bed of communism and anarchy. This is proven by the part taken by its members in the strikes at Harriman, Tai-ny Tenn., and at the present at Rockwood, Tenn. It is the opinion of the writer that this school should be investigated. If it were possible an agent of the Dept. should be sent there as a student. He would find that a statute was being violated—possibly TREASON.

The writer has no axe to grind, and is asking for nothing. He does not know a single member of the faculty nor the name of a student in this Highlander Folk School. But he knows enough about this institution to know that there is something radically wrong. Also he is a great admirer of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is proud of the record of the Dept. of Justice since J. Edgar Hoover became its head. He approves of the action of the President in not permitting politicians to remove Mr. Hoover as the Director. While Mr. McKellar is an admired friend, the writer is opposed to his attitude in regard to cutting the appropriations for this Dept. Therefore this letter is written in the spirit of a loyal citizen and an ex-soldier. The natives here are a loyal people. But this beloved East Tenn. is being "Honey-combed" with communism and anarchy. And the Highlander Folk School is the hot-bed.
Dear Sirs,

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter dated April 25, 1936, furnishing additional information relative to the alleged communist activities being carried on in the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, indicating that an investigation by this Bureau may disclose that same is a violation of a Federal law.

As you were previously advised, this Bureau is authorized by statute to conduct investigations in cases where there is a violation of a specific Federal law. In the absence of any such indication, I regret that no action can be taken by this Bureau relative thereto.

I appreciate, however, your interest in furnishing this information to me, as well as your friendly comments as to the accomplishments of this Bureau.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover,
Director.

The Philosophy and Program of the Highlander Folk School. A summary of a discussion by James Dombrowski, Chairman, "Highlander Folk School, at the Hillsboro Presbyterian Church, November 19th, and in the hepel, Doctor's Building, Nashville, Tennessee, November 21st, 1939.

1. One important motivation of the majority of those who have been responsible for the Highlander Folk School has been the attempt to relate religious idealism to the social problems of to-day, particularly to relate the social aspirations of religion and of the labor movement.

2. This concern for social justice stands at the heart of the prophetic Hebrew Christian religion as set forth by such men as Bishop Grundwig, the spiritual father of the Danish Folk Schools, Walter Reuschensbusch, Harry F. Ward, Reinhold Niebuhr, and Bishop Francis J. McDonnell.

3. The Social Gospel is the term used to designate the type of religious thought expounded by these thinkers. They emphasize the importance of the social factor in the development of character. The salvation of the individual, according to this school of theology, is impossible apart from the salvation of the whole of society.

4. A definition of religion universally acceptable would be most difficult to formulate, said Dr. John Benton in his recent inaugural address as Dean of the School of Religion of Vanderbilt University. But it is agreed generally that religion is present whenever we confront the brute facts of reality with an ideal, or as he put it, whenever we are aware of the tension between what is and what ought to be.

5. The "as is"-Southern workers (that includes most of us) number thirteen million, 42% on farms, 19% in factories, with an income averaging a half of that of the rest of the nation. With a fourth of the population, the south has two-thirds of the tenants. A tenant earns $73 a year per person, a sharecropper from $3 to $73 per person. In 1935 50% of all the women in industry in Tennessee made less than $12 a week. A survey of the families removed to make way for the Norris dam area showed an average annual cash income per family of $50. There are five million forgotten people in the southern mountains, living standards are commensurate with that income. The average annual expenditure per family for meat and vegetables is $231, in the south it is less than $150, and in Mississippi it is $73. One out of five houses in the rural south has no toilet of any kind. The average annual expenditure for the education of a southern child is only one-half of the average for the nation; for a Negro child it is only one-ninth. Because of the poll tax political democracy is denied to two-thirds of the population. Economic democracy (collective bargaining) is restricted even more stringently.

6. The world that "ought to be"—These conditions must be examined in the light of government research as to potential living standards if all the idle capital, plants and man-power were put to work. Conservative estimates place the potential income at $4,500 for every family in the United States. We may now be sure of one disturbing fact—poverty is now entirely voluntary. This fact should haunt every Christian concerned with establishing a just society, every citizen interested in a rational society, and all of us seeking to safeguard democracy. Democracy means freedom, and we are not free until we liberate all of the potential material and spiritual resources of our nation.

7. The labor movement, with its labor press, nine million members of unions, and co-operatives, and affiliated bodies is the backbone of the progressive movement seeking to change the present order and to establish a more just and ethical society. Organized labor brings immediate practical gain to those who need it most. These benefits may be summarized:

a. By raising wages and living standards.
b. Initiating and enforcing social legislation.
c. Giving dignity to workers; no longer regarded as mere "hands".
d. Makes democracy work in the economic field through collective bargaining.
e. Bringing educational and cultural services to workers.
f. Giving concrete expression to the religious ideals of service and brotherhood which otherwise find but little practical outlet in the hurly-burly competitive world.

Thus for rational as well as ethical reasons religion needs labor. And a vital concern by religion for the interests of labor would be the best safeguard against a complacent, comfortable middle class dissipating its ethical interests in mere generalities. We need to apply the Social Creed to the Churches.
A. Resident Program

(a) Purpose: To provide a cultural and educational center for the training of native leadership for the southern labor movement.

(b) Program: Two resident terms a year, each lasting six weeks. In the past these have been in the summer and winter. In 1940 the resident terms will be held in the Spring and Fall. This will leave the summer free for week-end institutes for local and international unions.

The students are carefully selected by the educational committees of their unions or co-operatives. There are no formal educational requirements other than the ability to read and write and a desire to serve the labor movement. One or two college students are accepted each term but such students must plan to work full time in the labor movement or in social work. In the Winter Term of 1939 27 students came from ten southern states, from San Antonio to Richmond and represented 9 international unions.

The courses are grouped in two categories: first, the practical "tool" courses in the work of the union, e.g., public speaking, and parliamentary law, trade union problems, journalism, mimeographing, poster making; and secondly, the background and cultural courses such as dramatics, economics, folk dancing and group singing, history and recreational programs.

The methods are a combination of lectures, discussion and work-shop. The material as far as possible is based on the experience of the students. Classes are informal. In the work-shop class students experiment with visual materials, reducing materials from their classes and experience to graphic form in charts, posters, etc. Samples of this material will be seen in the various publications of the class in English and Journalism. (see the publication list of HFS). There is an attempt to relate the material from the various classes, for example, the dramatics group wrote, published and produced five plays this summer. The dramatic material was drawn from the students' experience and from their discussions in union problems, economics and work-shop classes.

Special lecturers augment the regular teaching staff during a resident term. About twenty-five or thirty prominent progressive leaders of the south drawn from labor, governmental and civic groups discuss various aspects of community and labor problems. These discussions with many of the south's leading progressive figures is in itself a liberal education. A complete list of the visiting lecturers during the Summer Term of 1939 was published in the Fall number of the Highlander Fling.

P. Community Program

(a) Purpose- To preserve and enrich the indigenous cultural traditions of the southern mountains; through democratic and co-operative procedure to seek actively the solution of basic community problems.

(b) The program is of an informal nature following the procedures of settlement houses and of the Danish Folk Schools. The activities are suggested by the community, limited only by the interests of the group and the skills of the staff. These activities for the most part consist of cultural and recreational groups, e.g., piano lessons, voice culture, group singing, dramatics, marionette and puppet making, library service, hikes and athletics, community newspaper, folk dancing, discussion groups, co-operative projects, nursery school. Not all of these interest groups are maintained simultaneously, but vary according to the resources of the staff.

The co-operative ideal is stressed as the best instrument through which to develop community consciousness, self-reliance, training in democratic methods, and through which the resources of the community may be made to yield the best returns. The nursery school, for example, is a co-operative community project. Eighteen children are enrolled. Parents have contributed through their own initiative and solicitation small sums for the fuel supplies, although all are on relief; young men made the benches and equipment; young girls helped with supervision until WPA aid was secured.

A community discussion group has been meeting continuously for over a year. The problems grow out of the experience of the group. In discussing their own situation they gradually get some understanding and insights into the larger problems of the nation. After an extended study of the philosophy and methods of the co-operative movement, the group is now attempting to raise some working capital for a co-operative.sumgo sales of old clothes are held once a month. The last sale was attended by 50 families from the valley, the surrounding coves and the mountain. In this way clothes are distributed to the needy at slight cost, and gradually the basis for a co-operative is being established.
This discussion group is experimenting with book-making. Simple pamphlets have been made from materials furnished by the group, newspaper clippings, cartoons, etc., which are mounted in pamphlet form and circulated among the membership. The subjects cover Surplus Commodities, Social Security Laws, Wage and Hour Act, the Poll Tax, etc.

C. Extension Program-

(a) Purpose-To assist labor groups within the area served by the school to develop cultural and educational programs.

(b) Program-The services to unions are of a varied nature, consisting of occasional lectures, to a six weeks' institute. Library services are extended to neighboring individuals and groups. Help is given with recreational programs; materials are furnished for dramatic programs and discussion groups.

The School plant is used by local and international unions for week-end institutes, especially during the summer months.

An effort is made to maintain a permanent relationship with our alumni and to assist them to develop within their groups educational and cultural programs. At the Homecoming at Highlander at Thanksgiving week-end reports were made of the activities of the alumni present. (These reports are in the process of being mimeographed and may be had from the officers of the Alumni Association, Mr. Matthew Lynch, 417 Church Street, Nashville, and Mrs. Christine Benson, Gilbertsville, Ky., c/o T. V. A.)

Part V.
Organization and Personnel

Location-Highlander is located in the community of Summertfield, two miles from Montague on the Trace City Highway. It is 5 miles from Chattanooga, 90 from Nashville, in Grundy County on the Cumberland Plateau.

Property-The original grant of property on which Highlander was located was made by Dr. Lillian S. Johnson, of Memphis, Tenn. Dr. Johnson built the large house in 1919 and carried on a program of community education until 1932 when she made it available to Highlander.

Staff-The staff consists of seven full time residents:
William Buttrick, Duke University, teacher of economics, Secretary;
James Dombrowski, B.Ph., Emory University, B.D., Union Theological Seminary, Ph.D., Columbia University, teacher of history, Chairman;
Myles Horton, B.A., Cumberland University, University of Chicago, International Peoples College, teacher of union problems, Educational Director.
Zilphia Horton, B.A., M.A., College of the Ozarks, teacher of music and dramatics;
Claudia Lewis, B.A., Reid College, Director of Nursery School;
Mary Lawrence, B.A., Duke University, Community Worker;
Jane Lawson,  B.A., Vassar College, Office Secretary.

Advisory Committee: The Chairman is Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of Union Theological Seminary; other members are Dr. Arthur Swift, Miss Mary Van Kleeck, Director of Industrial Studies, Russell Sage Foundation; Dr. George S. Counts, of Teachers College and President of the American Federation of Teachers, Roger Baldwin, Director American Civil Liberties Union; Dr. Sherwood Eddy; Mr. Franz Daniel, American Clothing Workers of America; the Reverend William Spofford, Director Church League of Industrial Democracy.

Finance: The school is financed by contributions from individuals, unions, church groups, student groups. The budget in 1939 was $10,000. A few of the stronger unions provide scholarships but for the most part the school must provide scholarships of $100 each for the six weeks' term. Students making $10 and $15 a week are not in a position to pay their own way.

Some support has come from the William G. Whitney Foundation and the Christian Social Justice Fund, but most of the money comes from voluntary contributions from individuals. There are 550 individual contributors, most of whom make annual contributions. They include teachers, ministers, business men and workers.

Obviously the school could not manage on such a small budget if the staff received remuneration commensurate with the services rendered. Staff members serve on a maintenance basis.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Recently I sent you some clippings about the Highlander Folk School and I am herewith sending you another.

It seems to me that this Goethe should be investigated—I suggest that he might be "asked" to return to Germany—

Could you not cooperate with Mr. Dies in having some trusted young people attend these camps?

We need to clean out our country from within more than we need battle ships.

Best wishes to you and for your work.

Most sincerely,

GOTHE TO DIRECT NEW TYPE CAMP AT MONTEAGLE

Youth Congress Leader Attends Workers' Education Meet Here

Richard Gothe, one of the leaders of the American Youth Congress, which created such a stir in Washington, D.C., some months ago in denouncing certain phases of Roosevelt's Administration, is in Chattanooga attending the Conference of Workers' Education to be held here Saturday and Sunday.

Gothe said his attendance at this conference is more or less a coincidence, as his real purpose is to promote establishment of a 'work camp' in Highlander Folk School at Monteagle.

This camp, he said, will be set up in the month of August, last two weeks, and will be attended by 25 young workers and others who will work, study and play in the period. He is expected to direct the school.

He said the idea of 'work camp' was conceived last year with establishment of first camp at West N.Y. on the Hudson. Here are now five such camps in this country, one near Ohio; one in New York; one in New York; one in New York and the one to go here in Tennessee.

EXPLAINED

Students, how students are selected for these summer camps, he asserted that the sponsors make talks at different schools and libraries and invite students to participate in these camps, which, he said, are operated somewhat on the line of similar camps in Scandinavian. The idea is also that, he pointed out, 10 camps have been established by the American Friends' Service Committee, Quaker outfit.

This is a native of Germany. He has been in United States on his first trip for two years. He said he knew Hitler, "but they got along so well together." To comment on the European situation, Gothe stated it is too late to tell what is the end and it will probably take us before we can get a handle of the situation. He visited here Saturday, Myles Borton, editor of the Highlander and other representatives of school, here in attendance.

Workers' Education
Leaders of Workers' Conference

Here are some of leaders who are here to participate in the Workers' Education Conference which opened a two-day session in Chattanooga Saturday morning. They are, left to right, John Martin, Southern director, International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union; Paterson, N. J., dyeing plant from Miss Edna Brown, chairman, Workers' Education Committee of Chattanooga; and, presiding over Committee, Lawrence Rogen, educational director, American Federation of Textile Workers, Philadelphia, Mrs. Louise Leonard McLaren, director, South Carolina, School, Asheville, N. C., and Frederick F. Callaghan, vice-president, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, and Tennessee director, T. W. U. A., Chattanooga.

The conference expected to divide into discussion groups following Martin's talk at the Saturday morning session. Reports of committees will be made at the busiion commencing at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Other union leaders who are here to participate in the conference are Lawrence Rogen, educational director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, Philadelphia, Mrs. Carolyn Dollard, of Atlanta, Georgia, director, Workers' Service Program; Ruth Martin, chairman, Knoxville Workers' Education Council; Harold Gibbons, Louisville, Ky., T. W. U. A., Myles Horton, educational director, Highlander Folk School; Mrs. William F. Callaghan, executive director, Southern Summer School for Workers, North Carolina; Harold Wolf, dramas and music director, Summer School for Workers; Mrs. Louise Leonard McLaren, director of Southern Summer School, Asheville, N. C.; Nathan Elliott, dramatics director, L. L. G. W., Chattanooga.

JOURNER'S OPEN 2-DAY SESSION IN EDUCATION

Southern Group Takes Up Use of Teaching to Help Build Unions

A group of labor leaders from several Southern states assembled in Chattanooga Saturday for a two-day conference to consider the problem, "How Workers' Education Can Help Build the Union." Although both the CIO and AFL participate in this meeting, with some independent unions attending delegates are presumably affiliated with the CIO. The meeting is executive vice-president of the Textile Workers' Union, headquarters in New York, is one of the outstanding workers. He was on his way to Chattanooga.

The conference opened at 8 a.m. at the Park Hotel. His address will be broadcast over WJIO.

The two-day conference has been sponsored by the Chattanooga Workers' Education Committee, of which Miss Edna Brown is chairman, and presiding officer at the conference. Highlander Folk School and Southern Summer School for Workers. It is open to students of education at the International Ladies Garment Workers' Hall on East Eighth Street at 10 a.m. Saturday and will continue through

Union Training Classes Part of Year-Round Program, Horton Says

The school, founded in 1932 to aid in the fight to organize workers, will also be part of the labor union training program. Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking at a gathering of Highlander Folk School students and friends attending the Southern Conference for Human Welfare in Chattanooga, said:

"I am very pleased that you are doing, for it is a needed work." The chairman, Dr. Frank Graham, and other conference leaders, said.

The Highland Folk School, a national and regional center of labor union training, was among the earliest labor union training centers in the country. The school is located in the mountains of Tennessee, and it serves as a center for workers' education and training. The school is named for its founder, Frank Graham, who believed in the importance of labor unions and workers' rights. The school's mission is to provide a place for workers to come together to learn about their rights and how to organize for better wages and working conditions.

The school is run by a board of directors, which includes representatives from a variety of labor unions and workers' organizations. The school offers a wide range of courses, including courses on history, politics, economics, and labor law. The school also offers workshops and seminars on topics such as organizing, collective bargaining, and workplace safety.

The school is a key player in the labor movement, and it has played a significant role in the development of the labor movement in the United States. The school has been instrumental in the development of new forms of organizing, and it has helped to develop new strategies for organizing workers.

The school is open to everyone, and it is open to workers from all industries. The school is a place where workers can come together to learn about their rights and how to organize for better wages and working conditions.

Re: MR. DOLBROTSKI

Dear Sir:

For your information, I am transmitting herewith copies of an anonymous communication dated May 24, 1940 received at the Bureau in an envelope postmarked May 24, 1940 at Cowan, Tennessee.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director
Department of Justice
Washington D.C.

Gentlemen:

Noting in the paper where you are desirous of registration of Aliens to prevent Sabotage, I am addressing your attention to the "Highlander Folk School" located here, which has been reported to the F.B.I. for investigation already; and was informed of this investigation through an item in our local County Paper just a short time back, and to forestall suspicion, the manager, a Mr. Milford Horton, collected up a few children of his local patron and went to Chattanooga the evening of Mrs. Roosevelt's visit there, making it appear that the school was devoted to the education of children.

The actual head of this school is a Mr. "DOMBRONSKI", which name in itself sounds suspicious; Believing any one having something to hide from the public, is not worthy of public consideration, and a menace to the public and community, I wish to state that I have been in the school on several occasions and I never saw a child there as a student, and I have seen and know of adult being there for what they claim to educate them for holding better positions but the general consensus of opinion is that they are taught how to better control their unions and how to cause and carry on strikes.

Believing this to be a starting nest of Communists, and believing it to be due for a thorough investigation, and knowing that this Mr. Dombronski is now traveling throughout the States especially where there is hopes of causes of strife or strikes, thought it to be worthy of note to you.

Should you wish any further information or if I can be of any service in this or any other capacity, serve you, address me as a Member of General Kirby-Smith Post, 1893, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of the U.S. Cowan Tenn.

Respectfully

Dear Mr. Hoover;

I have just learned of the existence in Tennessee of a school called "Highlander's Falls School", has been in operation for about 18 years, and is reported to teach Communistic doctrine while endeavoring to influence the local elections; in fact they have made themselves quite obnoxious. This information is passed on to you only because of the report that certain well known people in Government circles are helping to support the school and are sending Boys to the school.

I am sorry not to be able to give you the exact location of the school but I know your organization will spot the place in a hurry.

May I as just an ordinary American offer to you and your grand organization a hearty word of real appreciation.

Respectfully submitted

I wish to acknowledge your letter received at this Bureau October 24, 1940, and to thank you for your courtesy and interest in writing as you did.

I have noted with interest the information contained in your letter, and if you care to reveal the identity of the informant to whom you make reference, I should be pleased to have him interviewed concerning the subject matter of your letter.

For your information Mr. C. K. Fierstone is Special Agent in Charge of our Knoxville Field Office located at 607 Hamilton National Bank Building, Knoxville, Tennessee, and your cooperation in furnishing any additional data pertaining to the internal security of this country to Mr. Fierstone would indeed be of real assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

With further reference to my letter of November 5, 1940 transmitting a copy of Bureau letter of the preceding day (61-7511) addressed to Nashville, I am herewith forwarding the original of the Bureau's letter on which had added a number of comments. A copy of notations are not being retained by this office nor is her letter being acknowledged because it would appear that there is nothing specific in her complaint and it seems that possibly she is a bit on the erratic side and with very little encouragement might engage in extensive pointless correspondence. The letter is being forwarded for the completion of your files.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to Bureau letter of November 4, 1940 (61-7511) addressed to Nashville, Tennessee.

As will be noted from my letter of November 8, 1940 to the Memphis Office, added a number of extensive comments on the original of the Bureau's letter to her and transmitted it to me. Because of the rambling nature of her communication, it was not acknowledged and no copy of it was retained at this office.

Today I am in receipt of a long two-page communication from . The communication is on two sheets of paper and is fully covered on both sides. The first sheet is on the letter head of Nashville, while the second is on the letter head of Nashville.

While parts of her communication are undecipherable, it appears that is dissatisfied with almost everything in the world, and besides expressing her views on the present world situation, she gives an extensive genealogical outline of her own ancestry. Enclosed with the letter was a newspaper clipping pertaining to the Highlander Folk School and the first couple pages of the September issue of the Reader's Digest, all of which appear to be much ado about nothing in particular.

It appears from the rambling context of letter that she is carrying the burdens of the world on her shoulders because she touches generally on communism, nationalities, religious proclivities, her own genealogy, the recent election, etcetera, etcetera.

No acknowledgment is being made to communication by this office and it is suggested that in the event further...

By carbon copy of this letter, letter is being transmitted to the Memphis Office for inclusion in its files and no copy of it is being retained in this office.

With reference to the attached, I called Congressman Jones and informed him that I was unable to find any record of anyone in the FBI who talked to the Congressman yesterday with reference to the investigation of the Highlander Folk School. The Congressman stated he called yesterday and talked with a Mr. Holtzer (phonetic). The Congressman advised that this Mr. Holtzer (he stated he was not sure of the name but that it sounded like Holtzer) called him back this morning and informed him that the files on this investigation were confidential. I told the Congressman there is no one in the Bureau by that name. He then said he called the Department of Justice and was connected with someone; that he thought he was talking with the FBI but that he was probably talking with the Department of Justice.

It is possible he was talking with Judge Holtzoff.

I told the Congressman the FBI was not conducting an investigation of the Highlander Folk School of Tennessee.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

To Congressman Jones of Ohio, called in personally this morning advising that the Congressman had talked with someone in the Bureau yesterday afternoon concerning the investigation of the Highlander Folk School in Tennessee; that the Congressman desired that she, personally review this file to ascertain what investigation had been made.

I informed [redacted] that all files in the Bureau are confidential and that any request for files would of necessity have to be made of the Attorney General's Office; however, I informed her further that an inquiry had been made recently with reference to the Highlander Folk School and that a check of the files of this Bureau had failed to reveal that such an investigation had been made.

[Redacted] asked many questions concerning the Bureau's jurisdiction in matters concerning schools allegedly communistic and from the questions asked and from her personal appearance, I would judge that [redacted] might be unduly interested in radical activities, probably from a sympathetic standpoint.

I have been unable to find any record of anyone talking with Congressman Jones and there is no record of such a call having been received in the Director's Office.

I will call the Congressman and inform him that this Bureau has not made an investigation of the Highlander Folk School at Fort Eagle, Tennessee.

Respectfully,

S. J. Tracy

It will be recalled [redacted] telephoned the other day with reference to the Highland School of either Nashville or Knoxville. I informed [redacted] at that time that the information furnished was insufficient to make a thorough check.
Check from White House Helps Fifth Column in South

This charge supported by a photographic reproduction of Mr. Eleanor Roosevelt's check, is printed on the inside front cover of a booklet, "The FIFTH COLUMN in the South," released here today from the Southern headquarters of the Constitutional Educational League. The author, Joseph P. Kemp, Vice-Chairman of the League, also wrote the widely circulated expose, "The Fifth Column in Washington."

Photographs in the booklet show Mrs. Roosevelt's check for $100 drawn April 29, 1949, on the Bank of New York payable to the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., the letter of transmittal on White House stationery addressed to the Dombrowski at the School.

Dombrowski, according to the booklet, was arrested in Elizabethtown, Kentucky, during the Communist-led textile strikes in 1932, and in 1933 brought Soviet posters from Russia were held up by the U. S. Court as "seditions."

"The Tennesseean, Democratic newspaper supporting President Roosevelt for a third term, is one of the many sources quoted to support Mr. Kemp's "indictment."

This newspaper investigated Highlander Folk School last year and, according to the Kemp booklet, stated it to be "a center, if not THE center for the spreading of Communist ideas in nineteen Southern states, and for displaying the Communist hammer and sickle in place of the American flag, is linked by Mr. Kemp directly with Highlander Folk School. He quotes from a joint advertisement published by the two schools in which they appealed for money, and says Kemp:

"Illustrated with the usual 'Baby' pictures, the advertisement features a statement by Vice-Presidential Candidate Henry Wallace who once wrote praise of Lenin, Mussolini and Hitler. The quotation reads:"

"I have never seen anyone at the annual parades of Europe please so erect as that which exists at Armentières, Switzerland."

Kathryn Lewis, daughter of John L. Lewis, who recently sided openly with the Communist faction in the New York CIO convention."

A photograph in the booklet shows Mrs. Roosevelt in conference with Dr. Frank Graham and Alben Barkley, a University of Chicago graduate and one of the founders of Highlander. Mr. Kemp quotes Barkley as saying that the school affords an opportunity to direct the American revolution."

Further accusing from the author states:"

"I am greatly interested in what you are doing, for it is a much needed work," said Mrs. Roosevelt when she met with the students and staff members of Highlander at a dinner that she attended at Chattanooga's Mason Hotel last April. She was accompanied by Dr. Frank Graham, a student member of the Soviet Harvard University for studying American education and training American students. The author expressed as being an important factor in a Communist organization; and

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

There appeared in The CIO News for December 2, 1940, on Page 8, the following item: "Support Highlander Folk School"

"The program and aims of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., were endorsed by the CIO convention, and efforts to discredit and defame the school were condemned as 'an attack on the progressive labor movement of the South.'

"Highlander conducts a year around program of education, recreation and organization. In addition to six weeks' resident terms, it holds institutes, conferences and co-operates with unions in field work. These activities the convention declared, 'have made the school a target for attacks of anti-labor forces.'"

INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

During the investigation presently being made of the Highlander Folk School it was necessary to photograph a large number of documents, part of which had to be used immediately in the investigation. Consequently, the photographs were developed and those few needed for immediate investigation were enlarged.

The forty-two negatives which were not needed immediately are being enclosed and the Bureau is requested to furnish this office with two enlarged copies of each. It is not necessary that these be enlarged to their natural size but only need to be enlarged to a size which will permit them to be easily read. When these enlargements are received, the Knoxville office will submit a supplementary report concerning the information on them.

Very truly yours,

C. K. Fierstone,

Dear Sir:

Please refer to the letter from Knoxville to the Bureau dated October 6, 1939; letter from the Bureau to Memphis, dated October 13, 1939, and October 30, 1939, Bureau file No. 61-7558, which concerned a report made by [redacted] on this school. It will be noted that the Knoxville Office could not locate a copy of this report at that time and advised that the report appeared to have been made for the American Federation of Labor and to have been forwarded to [redacted], its President. The Bureau in its letter dated October 30, referred to above, advised that no further effort should be made to obtain copies of this report through the American Federation of Labor.

A copy of this report was located by Special Agent [redacted] in the possession of [redacted] Assistant Postmaster at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and another copy was also found by Special Agent [redacted], in the possession of [redacted]. One of these copies is being attached hereto for the Bureau. It will be noted that this report is dated May 8, 1935, and was made by [redacted]. Copies of five affidavits, which were attached to the original of this report, are also being enclosed.

[redacted] was located in Knoxville, Tennessee, where he is employed by the City, and the report was gone over with him to determine if he had any additional information in his possession.
He advised that the investigation had been made so long ago that he had no recollection of the details of the report, but after reading it advised that he had been very careful to report only facts in this investigation. When questioned regarding the reason for this investigation having been made, advised that a grant of about $15,000 had been made by the United States Government to the Highlander Folk School for the installation of printing equipment, but that a report had reached the Governor of the State of Tennessee from some source regarding the communist teaching of the school, and that the Governor had personally requested that this investigation be made before the check was sent to the school. advised that he personally discussed this matter with the Governor of the State of Tennessee at the date his report was made and that as a result of his belief that the school was definitely communistic, the Governor had refused to grant the money to the school and had blocked the payment of the $15,000 which had been authorized.

advised that he knew of no connection of the American Federation of Labor with this investigation and that so far as he knew no copy had been forwarded to the President of the American Federation of Labor, WILLIAM GREEN, at Washington, D. C. This matter is being further reported on in the case entitled above in a report which is now in the process of dictation.

NOTES DESTROYED

The following information on the organization of the Highlander Folk School was obtained from and was verified by

The Highlander Folk School was organized during 1932 on land donated by Dr. LILLIAN W. JOHNSON, whose present mail address is 121 East Michigan Avenue, The Palms, DeLand, Florida. MILES HORTON and JAMES DOMBRUWSKI were believed to be the active organizers of the school. The land was donated by Dr. JOHNSON because she believed that it would benefit the local inhabitants and would educate them and improve their working conditions.

A charter was issued to the Highlander Folk School on January 31, 1934 by the State of Tennessee and this charter is recorded with the Tennessee Department of State in Volume 0-12, page 116, in the office of the Secretary of State at Nashville, Tennessee. The school was charted by MILES HORTON, ELIZABETH HAYES, JAMES DOMBRUWSKI, RUPERT HAMPTON, and ALFRED CHISHOLM.

The Highlander Folk School is located in Grundy County, Tennessee, about two miles north of Monteagle, Tennessee, on State Road 56 going toward Tracy City, Tennessee. This section is mountainous and heavily wooded.

Three persons are reported to have been associated with it in a directing capacity almost from the start of the school up to the present time.

MILES HORTON, Director of Education, is the one whose name is most often mentioned as being the leader of the school, and lives on the school grounds with his wife and his father and mother.

Various affidavits mentioned later in this report as exhibits show that MILES HORTON teaches Communism and has solicited membership in the Young Communists' League from various persons, locally. HORTON is also reported to have been one of the founders of the Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas. HORTON is reported to have spent two years in Russia, but it has not been possible to determine even an approximate date.
JAMES DOMBROWSKI, Secretary of the Highlander Folk School, is the person who signs all of the mail sent out by the school requesting contributions and designates himself on these letters as chairman, without saying what he is chairman of. In a letter addressed by Athen, Tennessee, to Sweetwater, Tennessee, dated November 16, 1940, DOMBROWSKI is reported to have signed a bulletin issued by the Revolutionary Policy Committee of the Socialist Party in 1934 stating they would "make every effort to promote the world revolution and to secure Governmental power for the victorious revolution by arming the workers and by preparing the working class to turn imperialist war into class war." He is also reported to have solicited persons to join the Young Communists' League at the school.

ELIZABETH DAY/HAVES, better known as ZILLA/HAVES, has been active as a teacher in the school from its beginning and is reported to have been especially strong in her teaching of Communist principles and how they can be used in labor agitation. She is married to FRANZ/DANIEL and both are listed as being signers with DOMBROWSKI of the bulletin of the Socialist Party's Revolutionary Policy Committee mentioned above under JAMES DOMBROWSKI'S name.

A photograph of the above mentioned letter dated November 16, 1940 written by is being enclosed as Exhibit No. 1. is in Florida at the present time, too ill to be interviewed, and is not expected to live. A lead is being set out to contact the State Americanization Committee of the American Legion at Nashville to locate the Socialist Party bulletin referred to. The original of letter is in possession of Tracy City, Tennessee.

Several other persons are presently living at the school and appear to have some official connection with the school of a more permanent nature than those listed later as teachers.
advises that LOUISE CONKLING, whose home address is 21 Mississippi Avenue, Signal Mountain, Tennessee, and whose mother, Mrs. FRANK G. CONKLING, runs an antique shop in Red Bank, Tennessee, is employed at the Highlander Folk School and lives there at the present time. Postmaster at Monteagle, Tennessee, says LOUISE CONKLING is secretary of the school and recently replaced Miss LOUISE GRANTHAM DICHMAN, who is presently residing at 233 West Menomonee Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Miss JANE ALLEN was reported by [redacted] to have arrived at the school on about March 15, 1941 and seems to be helping carry on the business of the school, but her exact duties and position are not known. She is believed to be from Flint, Michigan as letters from the school are being addressed to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. ALLEN, 1701 East Hamilton Avenue, Flint, Michigan. Letters addressed to Flint, Michigan did not make their appearance until after Miss ALLEN arrived at the school.

Mr. C. H. KILBY, an employee of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company, whose office is at Tracy City, Tennessee, has been extremely interested in getting the Highlander Folk School out of Grundy County because of the trouble they have stirred up there among the WPA employees and the bugwood cutters and this matter has almost reached the point of being an obsession with him. He has organized a committee of local residents of the better class which call themselves the Grundy County Crusaders, whose sole purpose is to combat the Highlander Folk School and its teachings. The antagonism that each of these groups feels for the other has reached such a point that there was danger of open conflict between them during November of 1940 and it was feared for a time that local citizens would burn the Highlander Folk School building. In all contacts in this investigation, the persons interviewed were questioned regarding Mr. KILBY and they were uniformly of the opinion that he is a reputable citizen and that his feeling toward the school is a patriotic desire to rid the county of a subversive influence. Those interviewed were also questioned regarding the possibility of Mr. KILBY's position with the coal company and the labor troubles which coal companies occasionally have being responsible for his feeling in the matter, but everyone advised they had never heard Mr. KILBY make any remarks against organized labor and in fact believed that he was entirely in favor with it. There was no evidence that the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company was furnishing any financial aid to Mr. KILBY or requesting that he carry on his activities against the school.
Mr. KILBY has amassed quite a large quantity of correspondence, leaflets, printed matter and such which the school has distributed and has obtained numerous affidavits from persons who have been in the school as students and from natives who have had some connection with the school. These signed affidavits are being set out as Exhibits Nos. 3 through 20. It will be noted that in almost every instance these affidavits mention the Communist flag being displayed on the platform of the school, teachings of a definite Communist nature, and attempts on the part of several of those connected with the school to get others to join the Young Communist League. Where the Young Communist League is mentioned in these affidavits, the persons identifying the card were shown a Young Communist League Membership Card which has been photographed and is being included with this report to the Bureau as Exhibit No. 24. It was not possible to determine the origin of this card and the names on it are not known in Grundy County. This card is presently in Mr. KILBY'S possession.

Exhibits No. 21 and 22 are included with the affidavits in Mr. KILBY'S file but have not been signed as yet. Mr. KILBY reports that he is entirely cooperative so copies of these two exhibits are being sent to the Birmingham office so that they can get a complete statement from him regarding the teachings and the teachers at the school at the time he attended.

Exhibit No. 23 is a proposed affidavit which covers the details of the article written by JOHN MCDUGAL BURNS, reporter for the Nashville, Tennessean, during his attendance in the school in 1939. Copies of these newspaper articles have previously been furnished to the Bureau and are not being set out again.

Exhibit No. 2 is a report of made while he was interviewed in the Knoxville Field Office concerning this report and he advises that it was made at the request of the Governor of Tennessee because a grant of money about to be made to the Highlander School by the United States Government to finance a printing plant was objected to by American Legion officials. said he was definitely of the opinion that the school was Communist and that as a result of his recommendations, the grant of money to the school was not made.
TEACHERS

In order to indicate the type of persons who have instructed students at the Highlander Folk School, this section of the report will set out the names of those known to have acted as teachers at the school in the past. A descriptive folder put out by the Highlander Folk School for its school year 1936, lists the following teachers:

MILES HORTON,
JAMES DOSTROWSKI,
ELIZABETH DAY HAYES,
RUPERT HAMPTON.

The photostatic copy of the report of dated May 8, 1935, which is Exhibit No. 2, shows HILDA HUBERT to have been one of the teachers at that time.

JOHN McDUGAL BURNS in his articles in the Nashville, Tennessee in 1932, reported the instructors as WILLIAM BUTTRICK, Dr. ARTHUR RAPER, STEPHEN MECKEL, NLRB, and FRANK COFFEE, of Social Security.

In the unsigned statement of Exhibit No. 21, the following are listed as teachers at the school:

FRANZ DANIEL (husband of ZILLA HAYES),
WALTER PEARSON,
J. WITHERSPOON DODGE (APF and Southern Conference for Human Welfare), DON MEIKE,
HERBERT WILLIAMS,
R. H. BRAZEL,
CLYDE WILLIAMS.

A copy of the Highlander Fling, published by the Highlander Folk School, dated February, 1941, is listed as Exhibit No. 25 and shows the following as instructors or workers in the school in addition to those listed above:
This issue of the Highlander Fling also lists an Executive Council which had just been formed to work with directors of the school, formulating programs and policies. This council met at the school December 14th and 15th and arranged a program for 1941. It should be noted that all of these listed have at some time in the past conducted panel discussions during resident terms of the Highlander Folk School:

BERNARD BORAH, Southern Director, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America,
ROY REYNOLDS, President, Printing Pressmen’s Union,
LUCY RANDOLPH MASON, Public Relations Representative for the C.I.O.,
EDWARD S. CALLAGHAN, Vice-President and Southern Director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, PAUL R. CHRISTOPHER, Executive Secretary, Tennessee Industrial Union Council,
GEORGE TITLER, United Mine Workers of America, District 50,
Dr. ALBERT BARNETT, Professor of Theology, Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee,
MATT LYNCH, American Federation of Hosiery Workers and Chairman of the Highlander Folk School Alumni Association, ALTON L. TRENCHE, Southern Representative, Labor’s Non-Partisan League,
Dr. GEORGE HAYHOU, Professor of Religion, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, JOE ROCHE, Plumbers’ Union, A.F. of L., Chattanooga, Tennessee.

LEON WILSON is presently connected with the Highlander Folk School in some capacity as a teacher and lives at the school. The Highlander Fling, Exhibit No. 25, lists an article written by LEON WILSON entitled, “Highlander Folk School, An Informal History.” It does not say where this article was published.
Reverend JOHN B. THOMSON (A.P.M. and Southern Conference for Human Welfare), is listed as a former instructor at the Highlander Folk School in a letter written by MILES HORTON dated November 5, 1940, which is quoted on page 150 of the report of Special Agent [redacted] Washington, D. C., February 17, 1941, entitled AMERICAN PEACE MOBILIZATION. On page 151 of the same report a press release of the Highlander Folk School dated October 29, 1940 lists the following instructors:

YELVERTON BOWHERD, Regional C.I.O. Director,
ALBERT HARTWELL, National Representative, Labor Non-Partisan League,
BERNARD BOOTH, Southern Director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, PAUL CHRISTOPHER, Secretary-Treasurer of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council,

Additional persons listed only as speakers are as follows:

LUCY RANDOLPH MASON, Public Relations Representative for the C.I.O., GEORGE BASS, of the United Rubber Workers,
ELLER BROWN, President of the New York Local of the Typographical Union, VIRGIL CONNER, Editor of the Southern News Almanac (Southern Communist newspaper), ORVILLE MASTIN, Cooperative Expert,
Dr. LILLIAN JOHNSON, Donor of the Highlander Folk School property,
JOHN SCHULTE, Southern Representative of the United Postal and Telegraph Employees of America,
ROY RAUSCHER, President of the Chattanooga Printing Pressmen's Union, JOE GRAETERS, Secretary of the Civil Rights Committee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, DENNIS NELSON, and
PRESTON W. VLIEN, both of Fisk University,
LARGO GAYLE, of the Women's Committee on Abolition of Poll Tax.
The Highlander Folk School has been successful in obtaining the permission of many important persons to use their names as sponsors of the school, itself, or some of its activities. The most important name from the standpoint of publicity which they have secured is that of ELEANOR ROOSEVELT. Exhibit No. 26 is correspondence in the files of Mr. C. H. KILBY. In this exhibit it will be noted there is a report from some unknown person three paragraphs in length on an investigation conducted concerning MILES HORTON. Exhibit No. 25 also contains on the front page a printed copy of a letter directed by ELEANOR ROOSEVELT to the Highlander Folk School. Exhibit No. 27 is a photograph of a mimeographed sheet put out by the Highlander Folk School publicizing Mrs. ROOSEVELT'S support.

Exhibit No. 26 is a photograph taken from a newspaper article which published a photostat of the check and letter which she sent to the Highlander Folk School in 1940. Exhibit No. 27 is being forwarded with all letters sent out by the Highlander Folk School asking for contributions from other persons.

Exhibit No. 29 is a photograph of an announcement sent out by the Washington Committee of the Highlander Folk School about a benefit to be given in Washington, D. C. on December 6, 1940. It will be noted that W. L. ROSS has signed the letter of January 27, 1941 which is attached to this same exhibit and his wife's name appears on the committee. The list of sponsors on this exhibit contains many notable names, indicative of the inactive nature of at least a part of this sponsorship. Exhibit No. 29, which is an exchange of correspondence between [redacted] and Secretary CORDELL/HULL, is enclosed.

Exhibit No. 25, previously mentioned, which is the photostat copy of a Highlander Fling, under the headline "Highlander Benefit," reports on the Washington Benefit held December 6, 1940 and in addition says that a New York Committee gave a theater benefit on January 30, 1941. A list of the sponsors in each place is given.

University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee, when questioned regarding students who had shown an interest in the Highlander Folk School, advised that a who received his B.A. and Masters Degree from the University of the South had been curious regarding the courses of instruction at the Highlander Folk School and was believed to have taken the summer course there in 1940. says he does not believe that is a Communist and would in all probability give full details of his attendance at the Highlander Folk School. A lead is being set out to interview him.
Because MYLES HORTON was known to register at the Finch Inn, a check of registrations was made with the assistance of one of the well-known Folk School people. In checking through registrations he pointed out of his own volition the following persons whom he stated were connected with the Highlander Folk School and who had registered at the hotel at various times:

BERNARD BORAH, Registered 9-1-40,
JAMES DZUBROWSKI " 1-2-41 and 3-1-41,
PHIL CHRISTMAN " 12-30-40,
MYLES HORTON " 5-19-40,
ZELPHIA HORTON " 5-19-40,
WILLIAM BUTTRICK " 5-19-40,
MARY LAWRENCE " 5-30-40.
It will be noted that three registrations are shown for May 19, 1940 in the names of MYLES HORTON, ZELPHIA HORTON and WILLIAM BUTTRICK. This is the day preceding the meeting of Communists mentioned above and is probably the group from the school which remembers as being registered at the hotel at about that time. In connection with these registrations it was noted that DOMBROWSKI called telephone number on January 2, 1940. This is the telephone number of requested CHRISTOPHER to pick up a box left at the Park Hotel, Knoxville, by HORTON with the name of the Highlander Folk School on it. This box was examined at the Park Hotel by Special Agent and Knoxville Police Department, and was found to contain a number of books, most of which were children's stories and fiction books of an innocuous nature. Included in the box were a few books of interest because of their radical labor or political character. These are set out as follows:

- 17 -
"The Economy of Abundance," by STEWART CHASE. McMillan Company,
"Makers of Freedom," by SHERWOOD EDDY and KIRBY PAGE. George H. Dorne Co.,
"The Social Principals of Jesus," by WALTER RAUSCHENDUSCH,
"There is Confusion," by JESSE REDMONT FAUCET,
"The Road Ahead, (a primer of Capitalism)," by HARRY W. LAIDLER, Crowell Company,
"The Causes of War," by ARTHUR PIRROTT. McMillan Company,
"History and Problems of Organized Labor," by FRANK TRICEY CARLTON, Ph.D., C. Heath Company, New York,
"Trade Unionism and Labor Problems," by Wm. Z. RIPLEY, Ph.D. Ginn & Company,
"Christianity and Labor Problems," KIRBY PAGE, etc. Associated Press.

While checking registrations in Chattanooga, it was noticed that a large group of persons registered in from New York and that the cards were marked Uphaus. It was explained that this group came to Chattanooga about once a year and seemed to be some sort of a traveling school. He produced a letter received from this group making reservation at the hotel and it was noted that the name was the Religion and Labor Foundation, 106 Carmel Street, New Haven, Connecticut, WILLARD UPHAUS, Executive Secretary, ION ROSSER/LAND, Chairman, CHARLES F. MCLENNAN, Mid West Secretary. The person who registered in for the group was CHARLES C. WEBBER, Group Leader, 531 West 122nd Street, New York, New York. On July 17, 1940 while this group was registered at called long distance to Monteagle, Tennessee. The person called at Monteagle could not be determined but stated he had heard some of the group mention going to the Highlander Folk School when they left Chattanooga. Since Mr. WEBBER, who listed himself as Group Leader, gave a New York address, a lead is being set out for New York to check him and the activities of the Foundation.
For the benefit of the New Orleans Office, the following excerpt from a form letter requesting funds dated March 8, 1941, which was sent out by the Highlander Folk School, is quoted:

"Added to our community program is the activity of the staff in the labor field. Our extension worker, MARY LAWRENCE, is expecting to leave soon for educational work with unions in New Orleans, where a large organizational drive is in progress. A special two weeks' session for union members will open here on May 12."

As an example of the type of literature distributed by the Highlander Folk School, Exhibit No. 32 is being enclosed. It will be noted that mention is made of 8,000 miners in Grundy County who will be affected by an increase in salary of one dollar per day and that the local merchants will benefit in a total amount of $8,000 per day as a result. The entire population of Grundy County is only 9,717, according to the 1930 census.

J. H. KILBY of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company at Tracy City, Tennessee, which is in Grundy County, advises that there are less than 1,000 miners in the entire county.

In Exhibits numbered 3 through 20, numerous references are made to strike activities on the part of MILES HORTON, WILLIAM BUTTRICK, JAMES DOMBROWSKI and ZILLA HAWES, among the residents of Grundy County. There are two specific instances mentioned in which the activities of these persons from the Highlander Folk School caused strikes which definitely lowered the income of the persons striking.

One of the few industries of Grundy County is the cutting of wood for pulp purposes, which is known as bugwood cutting. Before these bugwood cutters were organized by persons from the Highlander Folk School, they were getting a price of $1.50 per cord for the wood they cut. After the strike the price was dropped to one dollar per cord and the quantities purchased were dropped to such an extent that only about half of those previously employed cutting this wood were again employed for the same purpose.

The other local strike organized by persons from the Highlander Folk School was that of the W.P.A. workers. Approximately eight hundred persons were employed by W.P.A. in Grundy County, working on farm-to-market roads but a definite slowdown of work and a subsequent strike in which sitdown tactics were used so much delayed the work that the W.P.A. was forced to curtail the program and after the strike only 400 persons were re-employed on the road project.
In Exhibit No. 2 a strike at the Richmond Hosiery Mills at Daisy, Tennessee in 1935 is mentioned in which persons from the school took a leading part in a riot which resulted in one of them being shot. A lead is being set out to obtain more definite information regarding this activity.

In about 1934 or 1935 an attempt was made to organize textile mills in Knoxville, Tennessee, during which several raids were conducted by vigilante committees and a great deal of Communist literature reported to have been destroyed. In discussing this matter with a member of the Knoxville Police Department and now with Draft Board No. 2 but who was at that time in Knoxville, Tennessee, it was determined that no official action was taken at that time but that a strong vigilante committee composed of Legionnaires and other local citizens had raided several different houses and had run the so-called Communists out of town. No arrests were made and no record was maintained of any of the literature found nor of the persons concerned in the agitation. However, both and remember that FRANZ DANIEL and ZILLA HAWES were the leaders in the agitation and that they were known to be connected with the Highlander Folk School at that time.

has made some mention of a strike at a hosiery mill at Rockwood in about 1936 and this is believed to be the same strike mentioned in Exhibit No. 1. From report is is believed that FRANZ DANIEL, ZILLA HAWES and MYLES HORTON were the instigators of this strike and that the person picked up with the Communist literature in his possession while on the road to join the Highlander Folk School was named HILBURN. A lead is being set out to check this information at Rockwood.

Due to the number of local contacts made by Mr. C. H. KILBY around Monteagle and Tracy City and the number of affidavits obtained by him from local persons, no additional investigation is being conducted at the present time to further verify the information contained in these affidavits. In the event that it later proves to be necessary, all of these persons mentioned in the affidavits can be located as they are local residents who are classed as natives of this mountainous section and seldom leave their homes.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:
WILLIAM T. PUTRICK, JR. entered University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida, February 1, 1941 and is presently taking course in Social Science. He is residing in dormitory. No indication of subversive activities there.

REFERENCE:

AT GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA

Agent contacted [REDACTED] Superintendent of Mail of University Station, and she advised that PUTRICK was known to her and that his mail had not attracted her attention. She advised that he resided in Section "E", Room 225, Fletcher on the University Campus and that he rented Box 2331 on January 29, 1940, which is a very small mail box.

Agent contacted University of Florida, who furnished the school record on WILLIAM PUTRICK, JR. which disclosed that he was born at Asheville, Carolina on August 30, 1910 and that his parents reside at 3 Washington Road, Asheville. He gave his home address as Monteagle, Tennessee when he filed his application on January 15, 1941 and stated he attended Asheville, North Carolina High School from 1924 to 1928, City College of Asheville from 1928 to 1930 and Duke University from 1930 to 1931. He entered the University on February 1, 1941 and is majoring in Social Science apparently with a view of getting a degree to work as a teacher. He is single and a Methodist.

J. T. Trickett stated in his application that he had been previously employed selling magazines, radios, and real estate; that he had done some writing for the WPA Writers' Project in North Carolina; that he had taught in the NYA Camps in Pennsylvania and had taught at the Highland Folk School.

The Agent advised that he believes his college is free of any organized radical element; that he tries to keep a close watch on this situation and occasionally when a disturbing element shows up he is eliminated. He stated that Trickett is unknown to him and he has never had any reports on him, and that no confirmation was made by the school of his teaching activities at the Highland Folk School.

Agent interviewed [Redacted] Director of Residence, [Redacted] He stated that he had never received any unfavorable reports on Trickett; that he had conversed with Trickett on two occasions, once when he first entered the University and applied for the monitorship job for Section "E" where he resides but was not successful in obtaining the position. No reason was given by Trickett in applying for this position, but it carries a $24 fee per semester, which he believes was the motive. More recently Trickett had contacted him and reserved a room until next February. He stated that he would make a discreet inquiry and advise Agent further on the matter.

Subsequently [Redacted] advised Agent by telephone that he had contacted Section "E" monitor and also Trickett's roommate and they reported that he is not inclined to be very sociable; that he has but little to say and is very studious; that he claims to be suffering from a heart ailment and he has not by words or acts indicated any subversive tendencies.

announced a "summer workshop for student writers" July 26 to August 9, 1941. Sponsors of the workshop were listed as:

- PAUL GREEN
- WILLIAM S. KNICKERBOCKER
- JULIA COLLIER HARRIS
- MILLLEN BRAND, and
- BABITTE DEUTSCH.

Teachers were listed as:

- CHARLES W. FERGUSON, Associate Editor of the Readers' Digest;
- MARY JAFFLEY, Former teacher of writing at Hood College, Maryland;
- PHILIP WILLIAMS, Student at the University of North Carolina.
Guest speakers were listed as JAMES STILL and HARRY HARRISON.

The cost of the session is given as thirty dollars and there are no scholastic requirements. An invitation was given to trade union workers, college students, "Y" members, church groups and farm organizations. Also included in each of the 1,630 envelopes mentioned above was a press release dated May 1, 1941, announcing a two weeks' session commencing May 12, 1941. The courses are listed as: "Singing, dramatics, discussion of labor problems and history, speeches, reading and recreation." Speakers and special teachers for this session are listed as:

- JOHN T. JONES, Director of Labor Non Partisan League;
- HOLLIS V. REID, Chairman of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation;
- WILLIAM M. EAVES, Regional Wage and Hour Division;
- FRANCES COFFEE, Social Security Board;
- Reverend ELSOR SMITH, Southern Cooperative Conference;
- ROBERT L. CRUDEN, Publicity Director, United Rubber Workers;
- PAUL R. CHRISTOPHER, Secretary-Treasurer, Tennessee Industrial Union Council.

Also announced was a "Labor's Non Partisan League Institute," May 17 to 18, under ALTON LAWRENCE, Southern Representative; the Annual Tri State Hosiery Institute, June 7 and 8, announced by EDWARD F. CALLIATHAN, Southern Director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers.

An issue of the Highlander Fling, published by the Highlander Folk School, dated April, 1941, contains the following articles of particular interest:

"FORER STUDENTS ORGANIZING"

Here are the current organizing and negotiating activities of Highlander students:
Cecil Pegues, member of the Line, Mill and Smelter Workers, recently organized the Dixie Metal Products Company of Bessemer, Alabama, a tough job to judge by previous attempts at unionization there. Currently he is negotiating a contract for the new union. Cecil is also business agent for the Wholesale Local of the Birmingham Retail Clerks.

An election was recently held and won by the TWUA at the Louisville Sanitary Wipers Company. Lil Yadon, Highlander 1940, joined Hall Gibbons in the two week organizing that brought on the victory. Lil Yadon is a board member of the TWUA, Local 2.

Ed Blair, who attended Highlander on the Eleanor Roosevelt Scholarship, is organizing for the Amalgamated. At the successful Cluett strike in Atlanta he was in charge of the entertainment on the picket line and in the strike tent.

J. D. Bradford is organizing for the International Cement, Lime, and Gypsum Workers (A. F. of L.) in Knoxville.

Hosiery organizer and President of the Highlander Alumni Association, Matt Lynch is back in Tennessee after several months of activity in Mississippi.

John Pate, TWUA, was one of the contract negotiators at the Mansfield Mills, Lumberton, N. C., which brought wage increases ranging from 5 per cent to 15½ per cent. John's Union has acquired a new hall.

Other Alumni Activity

Billye Bailey's local ILGWU, in Atlanta, now has a hall. Billye is director of the union's educational program, and sends the following details. There are classes for white members and for negro members in union procedure, parliamentary law and public speaking, history of trade unions and the ILGWU, and study of garment manufacture. In the recreation line there are bingo games, bowling teams, and Mr. I. Q.'s, again for white members and colored members. Plans are being made to extend the classes to Griffin, Georgia, where there are other Highlander alumni.

Virginia Swann was elected recording secretary of her Nashville Hosiery Local, lost her job, and is now working at Gastonia.
TENNESSEE COMMONWEALTH FEDERATION ORGANIZED

Accepting the challenge of John B. Thompson, chairman of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, that "all men are to be judged in their devotion to real democracy by their willingness to defend and extend it in times of emergency," the Tennessee Conference on Democracy meeting in Nashville on Washington's birthday organized the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation.

The purpose of this organization is "to join in common cause all men and women, including those who labor on the farm, in office, mine, mill, or elsewhere, for concerted independent political action."

H. V. Reid, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhoods, was made chairman and an executive board was elected from the C.I.O., A.F. of L., the four Railroad Brotherhoods, and liberal groups who had jointly sponsored the conference. Mrs. Ruth Cutler, 1018 Cotton States Bldg., Nashville, is the Federation's Secretary.

By resolution the Federation condemned the "Grundy County Crusaders," pointing out that the Crusaders' attacks on labor people and labor institutions constitute a threat to democracy and national unity.

RECENT ENDORSEMENTS

The United Mine Workers, local 7708 in Grundy County, and the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union are among the organizations which have recently endorsed Highlander.

Gager Lime Manufacturing Company, Cleveland, Tennessee, who resides at Sowmano, Tennessee, stated that although his company has had considerable labor trouble during the past few years he has not been able to definitely trace any of the trouble as originating at the Highlander Folk School.

An alumnus of the Highlander Folk School, has been a constant trouble-maker at the Gager Lime Manufacturing Company.

It is related that several years ago some persons from the Highlander Folk School came to the lime company with a motion picture camera and explained that they were taking pictures concerning workers in East Tennessee. Photographs were taken of employees of the lime company, using the lime company's trash heap as a background. It felt that this was done in order to give an untrue picture of working conditions at the lime company.

Tennessee, stated that Dr. KNIGHTER and Dr. FLEMMING JAMES, members of the faculty at the University of the South previously mentioned in this report, have both agreed to give courses of instruction at the Highlander Folk School this summer. Dr. JAMES has recently held at least three peace meetings attended by five or six students of the University of the South. Recently a committee of Theology students waited on Dr. JAMES and requested that he discontinue his connection with the Highlander Folk School and his peace activities. Dr. JAMES made a very anti-British address at a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the University of the South during the Lenten Season. The University of the South is an Episcopal school and the majority of the persons connected with it are decidedly pro-British, and therefore the members of the Women's Auxiliary were very upset at the tenor of Dr. JAMES' speech.

stated that Professor THOMAS GOVAN, previously mentioned in this report as being sympathetic toward the Highlander Folk School, is a former classmate of JAMES DOLBROWSKI, Secretary of the Highlander Folk School.

stated that he has upon several occasions treated JAMES DOLBROWSKI and other persons residing permanently or temporarily at the Highlander Folk School. Although Grundy County is the source of many charity patients at the DOLBROWSKI or other persons at the Folk School have never brought any local people to the hospital for treatment. Payment for treatment given to persons at the Highlander Folk School is always made by JAMES DOLBROWSKI.

The November 21, 1940 issue of the Sewanee Purple, official organ of the students of the University of the South, reported a speech given by Dr. JAMES DOLBROWSKI before the Pi Gamma Mu Social Science Fraternity. A portion of this article is set out as follows:

"At its meeting on Thursday, November 11, Pi Gamma Mu, Social Science Fraternity, had as its speaker Dr. JAMES DOLBROWSKI, Director of the Highlander Folk School near Monteagle. Dr. DOLBROWSKI holds a Doctorate from Columbia University, is a graduate of the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and is an author of some note. He has been prominent in labor education for a number of years.

The speaker discussed the religious background of the school. He pointed out that most of the early faculty members were graduates of Union Theological Seminary and that some of the most generous supporters of the school are church organizations and clergymen. He said that he, himself, and warned the labor cause through the religious channel."
AT TRACY CITY, TENNESSEE:

Company, Tracy City, stated that he made a delivery of lumber to the Highlander Folk School in 1939. He went into the main building of the school in search of someone to take delivery of the lumber. He noticed charts on the wall of one of the downstairs rooms depicting how to organize a meeting by parliamentary procedure and how to get control of a meeting. He saw no evidence of mountain craft work.

related that JALES DOLEROSKI took motion pictures of the strikers during the W.P.A. strike in Tracy City in January and February of 1939. For these motion pictures, the strikers wore their oldest and most tattered clothing. Girls from the Highlander Folk School made speeches to the W.P.A. strikers as to their rights.

gave the following information concerning the W.P.A. strike in Grundy County in January and February of 1939:

CHARLES RADALS, County Road Superintendent, was a former student and sympathizer of the Highlander Folk School. He demanded to be allowed to appoint all W.P.A. foremen on road projects. This the W.P.A. authorities refused to allow him to do. Immediately thereafter, agitation commenced for a strike of the W.P.A. workers. often saw JALES DOLEROSKI and LYLES HORTON out on W.P.A. projects talking to the workers. DOLEROSKI and HORTON would leave when came within hearing distance. When the strike was called, the W.P.A. workers took over the W.P.A. office at Tracy City and staged a sit-down strike. HORTON and DOLEROSKI brought girls from the Highlander Folk School to the W.P.A. office where the strike was in progress. These persons from the Highlander Folk School made speeches to the strikers, advising them as to the proper method of conducting the strike and the girls from the Highlander Folk School danced with the strikers in the W.P.A. office. A great deal of liquor was in evidence at the W.P.A. office during the sit-down strike. stated that it is his understanding that some of the girls from the Highlander Folk School had sexual relations with some of the strikers. He has no proof of this allegation.

Further stated that although at the time of the strike about seventy-five percent of the W.P.A. workers in Grundy County were associated with or sympathizers of the Highlander Folk School, only two or three W.P.A. workers now have anything to do with the Highlander Folk School.
stated that about three years ago he was in an old cemetery across the road from the Highlander Folk School, searching for the date on a tombstone. A group of students at the Highlander Folk School were having some sort of a drill in the Folk School ground. A whistle would blow and they would shout and shove each other around, then when the whistle blew again, they would cease their activity. It was opinion that they were practicing picket-line activity. When the students had finished this drill, they sat down and sang songs. One of the songs was to the tune of "The Old Gray Mare She Ain't What She Used to Be," and some of the words which I overheard were: "Old man ROOSEVELT ain't what he used to be." Another song which was sung at that time was "Those afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," sung to the tune of "Those Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf."

stated that upon two occasions several years ago he was shot at from ambush. He can think of no reason for this other than his active opposition to the Highlander Folk School.

stated that the Chattanooga Times, a daily newspaper, has been partial to the Highlander Folk School, and that Mrs.
W. W. JONES, local correspondent of the Chattanooga Times, has complained to that local circulation has fallen off because of this.

stated that when the bakery workers were out on strike in the summer of 1937, RALPH TEFFERTELLER came down from the Folk School and agitated among the strikers and had meetings with them. TEFFERTELLER contacted and purported to be a representative of the strikers. Then pointed out that the strikers had violated their existing contract with by walking out without giving him notice, TEFFERTELLER said that "The contract was just a scrap of paper."

related that several years ago a small cyclone blew the roofs off of several houses at Laager, Tennessee, in Grundy County. who is the local representative of the Red Cross, appealed to the Red Cross for aid for the victims of the cyclone. A repesentative of the National Red Cross came to Tracy City and, in company with went to Laager, where the cost of repairing the damaged houses was estimated. All the victims, numbering about twelve, seemed very pleased that they were to receive assistance from the Red Cross, but on the following day when the Red Cross representative and returned to Laager in order to have the victims sign certain forms, and two others refused to sign, whereupon the Red Cross representative became angry and tore up the papers. That night, Insert here, came to and stated that he had reconsidered and wished to accept the amount allotted to him. Insert here, stated that the reason he had refused to sign was that James Dolenowski and Kyle Horton had come to Laager and had advised him to refuse to accept the amount proffered by the Red Cross inasmuch as it was insufficient. Insert here, advised that the Red Cross later paid [BLANK] and the two others the original amount.

Inserted here is a friend of Dolenowski and Horton and a supporter of the Highlander Folk School. At a recent county American Legion convention, Insert here, opposed a motion condemning subversive activities. These facts should be borne in mind in connection with any investigation at the Tracy City Post Office.

Mr. C. H. Kiley, an employee of the Tennessee Consolidated

Coal Company, gave the following additional information concerning past activities of the Highlander Folk School:

In 1938, Dolfh Vaughn, then business agent of Highlander

Folk School, made a trip around the county and told all persons on relief to come to relief headquarters at Tracy City on the following day. The relief headquarters had worked out a system whereby those on relief were assigned a particular day of the week on which to come to the office, thus simplifying distribution of supplies. The arrival of all persons on relief on the same day created a jam at the relief headquarters. Dolfh Vaughn was there in the crowd and when questioned by the relief agent as to why he had told all the persons on relief to come to the office on the same day, he stated loudly, "The supplies are here, give them to them."

Kiley stated that W. H. Barlowe, a local man who has been associated closely with the Highlander Folk School, ran as an elector for Earl Browder, Communist candidate for President, in the 1936 elections.

Kiley stated that the United Mine Workers' Union at Tracy

City, Local 5801, went on record sometime ago as condemning the Highlander Folk School for its activities. Latt Bunch, International Representative of the U M, demanded upon several occasions that Local 5801 rescind their condemnation of the Highlander Folk School. This the union refused to do.

On January 31, 1941 Latt Bunch appeared before Local 5801 and stated that he was instructed by the International to inform Local 5801 that they must endorse the Highlander Folk School or Bunch would be forced to take up their charter. On that date Local 5801 endorsed the Highlander Folk School.

KILBY stated that KYLIE HORTON returned from a trip to New York City on May 10, 1941 and at that time was driving a 1941 black Chevrolet Sedan, 1941 New York license #7-W-7463. KILBY stated that several months ago he met a man in a tavern at Monticello who was somewhat under the influence of liquor. This man stated that he was the son of Dr. FIELDING JAMES, Dean of the Theology School at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee. According to this man, Dr. JAMES was a regular contributor to the Highlander Folk School before coming to Sewanee. This man stated that he is a teacher in a school in Arkansas. He defended both Commonwealth College in Arkansas and the Highlander Folk School, stating that they were labor schools and not Communist.

Mr. KILBY, as head of the Grundy County Crusaders, is continuing his efforts against the Highlander Folk School. He recently made a talk before the State Convention of the Junior Order of American Mechanics, denounced the Highlander Folk School as a Communist school, and presented the affidavits and evidence which he has in his possession to substantiate his claim. KILBY is conferring with state officials with a view to initiating proceedings to cancel the charter of the Highlander Folk School.

AT DAISY, TENNESSEE:

It was learned at Daisy, Tennessee that the Richmond Hosiery Mills closed their plant there about 1936. Of the Richmond Hosiery Mills, whom a lead was set out to interview, is now located at the main plant of the Richmond Hosiery Mills at Rossville, Georgia. A lead is being set out to interview [redacted] at Rossville.

AT ROCKWOOD, TENNESSEE:

Assistant Chief ED TAYLOR of the Tennessee Highway Patrol was interviewed at Rockwood, Tennessee and stated that [redacted] a lead was set out to interview, has been transferred from Rockwood to the western part of Tennessee. Chief TAYLOR stated, however, that [redacted] at Rockwood, had complete information concerning the activities of persons from Highlander Folk School in connection with the strike at Rockwood.

Rockwood, Tennessee, stated that during the strike at the Rockwood Hosiery Mills in May, 1936, KYLIE HORTON, HILLBURN BROWNFIELD, LATT LYNCH, ZILLA HANES and FRANZ DANIEL came to Rockwood to lead the strike. These persons set up a headquarters separate from the union headquarters and endeavored to take over the strike. In this strike they were not successful because of the action of the local authorities, who run them out of town. [redacted] related that one day during the strike, he sighted driving an automobile in Rockwood and took out after him in an attempt to arrest him. He was driving a car with Virginia license plates on it and had been seen frequently with LYLE'S NIGHTS for several days preceding this incident. He followed him out of the town where he succeeded in stopping him and arresting him. The back seat of the car was completely filled with literature. remembers that some of this literature contained the following statement: "Down with the American flag, up with the Red flag." Other parts of this literature advocated equal rights for negroes, marriage between whites and negroes, the adoption of Communism in this country, and free love. stated that he kept some of this literature for a long time but believes that it has all been destroyed. However, he still keeps records in an effort to find some of this. stated at the time of his arrest that he was on his way to the Highlander Folk School to deliver a series of lectures. later learned that upon his release, went to the Highlander Folk School and remained there for about two weeks.

stated that persons from the Highlander Folk School had been present at a large number of strikes in the west Tennessee area. He listed these places as: the strike at the Rayon Plant at Elizabethton, Tennessee, a strike at Kingsport, Tennessee, a strike at the Richmond Hosiery Mills at Roosville, Georgia, a strike at the Richmond Hosiery Mills at Soddy, Tennessee, a strike at the Richmond Hosiery Mills at Alcoa, Tennessee, the above-mentioned strike at the Kerns Hosiery Mills at Richwood, Tennessee, and a strike at the Harriman Hosiery Mills at Harriman, Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE:

stated that he has been unsuccessful in an effort to obtain additional information concerning LOUISE B. CONKLING, presently secretary of the Highlander Folk School. stated that although he is well acquainted with and that she has no radical tendencies, he cannot vouch for LOUISE CONKLING because she has been away from home attending schools throughout the country for a number of years. stated that he would contact the resident agents' office in Chattanooga if he learns anything additional on the subject. No undevoloped lead is set out to re-interview.
It was learned from__________ that the records of the Highlander Folk School which were kept at the home of L.
ROSENTHAL at 621½ Central Avenue, Chattanooga, have been removed from that address, presumably back to the Highlander Folk School.

AT NORRIS, TENNESSEE:

stated that he was sent to the Highlander Folk School in connection with his work with the Forestry Department to plant trees on the Highlander
________. In that time JAMES DOLEBOWSKI showed __________ around the school.
noted that the library in DOLEBOWSKI'S room contained copies of the works of KARL MARX, a biography of LENIN, and other Communist books. One of the books was entitled "Workers of the World Arise." DOLEBOWSKI stated that these Communist books in the library were used as background for labor education. __________ stated that he saw nothing else at the school which aroused his suspicion but that there was no session of the school going on at the time __________ was there.

- 29 -
stated that DOLBROWSKI came to Norris in the spring of 1940 and stayed at the home of E. B. SHULTZ. DOLBROWSKI showed motion pictures to the Young People's Meeting at the Norris Religious Fellowship (community church at Norris). Reverend COWAN, the pastor of the Norris Religious Fellowship, and E. P. SHULTZ worked hard to get the Norris Religious Fellowship to give fifty dollars to the Highlander Folk School. This was done in 1940 but because of the opposition of American Legion members and others, no donation will be made to the Folk School by the Fellowship this year. had no other firsthand information concerning the Highlander Folk School.

Editors’ Note:—This year the Highlander Folk School was made a beneficiary of the Vassar Drive. The interest of Vassar in Highlander dates from 1893, when Dr. William Wyckoff Johnson, Instructor of History at the college, encouraged the school’s founders and gave them the original building. Many Vassar graduates have been connected with Highlander, including among others Elizabeth Day Hawes, ’29 (Mrs. F. Daniel), Mrs. Ruby T. Norris, ’29, and Rosanne G. Walker, ’38. Jane Lawson, ’39, author of the article, is at present a secretary at the school.

—here is a platform for an educational institution. Highlander Folk School, situated in the Cumberland Mountains in a rural community that has the dubious distinction of being the poorest in the South, does all three in its complex, varied, and exciting work. During two resident sessions of six weeks each, workers and farmers from southern unions and cooperatives gain new insight into the world in which they make their living. Through an extension program, thousands of rural and industrial workers within a radius of two hundred miles receive the educational services of classes, meetings, and recreational activities. Highlander’s own homework is its service to the community, the circulation of its library, its nursery school and its friendship for the neighbor folk. Informing, inspiring, and demonstrating are continuous and ever-growing processes in one or another of these fields of usefulness.

Highlander isn’t much to look at. We call ourselves a school, but there are no school buildings: only a simple frame farm building with a vine-covered stone porch, a gate that closes with a rock weight looped on a chain, oaks and dogwoods and one hazelnut tree in the yard, and a cornfield at our back, beyond the well-house and the blacksmith shed. There are Hoboken, the cow, whose bell keeps track of no time at all, and chickens, and two sturdy dogs. The surrounding country is beautiful. The Tennessee mountains are all the campus there is, and the curriculum is likely to include picnics at Eagle's cliff, swimming at Deerlick Falls, and bonfires and sunsets on the bluff. One might wonder what sort of a school there could be in this quiet spot.

Highlander's work is exciting, in the same way that the idea of our own country and our people, still growing into democratic ways, is exciting. Highlander is a part of that growth. The labor movement is no place for "movie" emotions; its excitement doesn't mean mountain moonshiners holding shotguns over quaint little vine-covered stills, with corn cobs about, and other literary accessories. There is an excitement that comes from seeing hope in the very strongest part of our country, its great mass of working people. It is their strength that may yet see us safely through a period of such crises as face us in today's headlines. If their strength is not to be warped to work for an hysterical Coughlin or any other Führer, they must be equipped with knowledge of their world.

There is hope in the people who pass through Highlander—not that they would put it in such general terms. They come to learn specific, immediate things concerned with building their organizations. Men and women here find out about the world they have been working too hard to investigate, working too long hours for too low pay. Some of the students have not gone past the second grade; the average have had seven years of schooling. Their unions have made them want to ask a lot of questions, and they want to find out how to build those unions, as their contribution to democratic living. They come to help solve that number one problem, the South, for themselves and for the rest of us.

Students are the most important part of any school, from Vassar's "community of scholars" to a southern labor school. The program here is built around the resident students. Last term there were unusually few, only seventeen (usually about twenty-eight attend), representing seven international unions, an independent artists' union, two colleges, and the Young Women's Christian Association. Only those endorsed by their union or cooperative or other organization are accepted as regular students. This assures that they will have a sphere of action to put their education to work in. Highlander students go back to the labor movement as responsible, informed people, active union members, officers and organizers, members of educational and cultural committees, teachers in labor schools, leaders of cooperatives, farm organizations and community life.

In many ways the classes themselves are unique. They are composed of adults who have learned a good deal from first hand experience of what they are studying. Union Problems class, for instance, is one to which the students bring as textbooks themselves and their everyday difficulties. Economics class, usually called "how we make our living," takes up day to day problems and gives them a broader interpretation. The school offers no pat solutions, no ready-made doctrines to answer the difficult questions discussed, since they are not such as admit of an easy, complete solution even in theory. Rather, the students, by pooling their experiences, learn techniques of dealing with situations as they come up; when their jobs or their rights of organization are threatened they will know how to deal with the problem in a way that may make a future solution possible.

The staff is active in the field of labor, as members of the American Federation of Teachers and as writers, speakers and organizers. They bring this activity to their work together with their college background of Union Theological Seminary, Duke University, Vanderbilt, Emory, Chicago College of the Ozarks, and Reed.

Informality characterizes the work, though there is a definite plan of work to be covered. The school community is much more closely knit than a college because the students and staff share in the work of maintaining the farm and running the household. The give and take of cooperative living gives rise to plenty of discussion that supplements class work. In other ways, classes are carried over into practical life. Public Speaking takes over a meeting in Tracey City; Dramatics class goes on a tour to a striking Georgia union; Union Problems class often takes the form of advice on a situation in the local, back home; during class hour, it deals with running a union, taking up grievances, the payment of dues, and what are terms of a contract mean in opera Labor History is the story of working people’s efforts to better themselves and the country through organization. It links the past to the present, giving the students a perspective on their present-day problems. The class in Economics is the most theoretical, and one of the most enthusiastically attended. Here the student who had buried himself in practical details of organization is made aware of the whole economic structure of society.
A Good School Under Fire

One of our favorite educational institutions in the whole United States is the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. Highlander is a labor school; its chief purpose is to take promising trade-union members and equip them better to help their organizations fight for improved conditions for the working man. No student is taken unless he is endorsed by a local union. No distinction is made between AFL and CIO, both of which cooperate with the school.

In addition to this primary purpose, the school has two others. It attempts to aid the people of the little community where it is located; it conducts a nursery school for people nearby and has sponsored several cooperative undertakings for them. It also has an extension division which does field work of several kinds in cities near and far.

The direct support of labor is indicated by representation on its executive council. This body includes a vice-president and another representative of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers; the Southern director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers; the president of the Chattanooga Printing Pressmen, and a local secretary from the United Mine Workers. Among many labor groups supporting the school is the Nashville Trades and Labor Council, AFL.

The schools has friends in other quarters than the organized labor movement. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is keenly interested and maintains a scholarship there. The benefit this month in the national capital is sponsored by a Justice of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet and of Congress, a former governor, administrators of leading federal agencies, two members of the National Defense Advisory Commission and other prominent persons. Mr. J. W. Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education, wrote the committee on arrangements: "Although I am asked every week to lend my name for the sponsorship of many undertakings and naturally find it necessary to decline, I am willing to be one of the sponsors of your benefit."

Why do we go into such detail about the support the Highlander Folk School receives? Because there has been a long continued, vicious campaign in Tennessee to destroy this institution. Most of the newspapers of the entire surrounding territory have repeatedly lied about the school, on such a scale that the falsification cannot be attributed to an innocent misunderstanding. The charges have been that the school was "communist," that it was misleading the young people, and so on. Dr. James Dombrowski, director of the school, has denied all these charges and has indicated his willingness, if it could be proved that the school is un-American or is detrimental to the community and to the people it serves, to put an end to its work. Nobody has ever brought forward even a fragment of evidence that the charges are true.

Who is behind the attempt to destroy the Highlander Folk School? First of all, it is reactionary employers throughout the entire South, men who object to the school because it trains people to become successful leaders of strong trade unions. Locally, there is reason to believe that the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company has had a good deal to do with the attack. This company has for years dominated Grundy County. In 1938, for the first time, a group of county officials were elected who were not subservient to the coal company, and the school faculty was active during the campaign in support of these candidates.

A few weeks ago, feeling was stirred up to such a pitch that a vigilante group calling themselves the Grundy County Crusaders planned to march against the school. If this had been done, blood would certainly have been shed. At the last minute, the vigilante leaders were persuaded instead to confer with the school officials. As a result of this five-hour conference, the tension was relieved somewhat. But there is danger that it will rise again; there are plenty of people in Tennessee who don't want a school that prepares efficient spokesmen for labor, and will stoop to almost anything to destroy it.
Equipped With An Oak Tree

Instead of considering her environment in a mountain community as a handicap, this teacher investigates its possibilities and makes use of them in developing further that ingenuity which probably always will be important to the existence of these people. Miss Lewis teaches in the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, and is the author of "Deep As a Giant" published in the March 1938 issue of Childhood Education.

I saw Joedy, a little boy of five in ragged overalls and bare feet, stoop down and pick up from the ground a forked leafy twig that had fallen from the oak tree above us. In a twinkling he placed the twig on his neck so that the luxuriant leaves clustered over his head and down his back. Was he Joedy or a horse standing before me? Without a word the transformation had taken place. As soon as the boy was encased in his glorious mane he began to stamp his feet, even his face took on a horsey expression, and he was off, galloping across the field.

All of the children were playing horse in some fashion. Earlier that morning we had been over to pick carrots in our school garden. On the way back we had to go through a field of old brittle cornstalks. So, naturally, when we reached the end of the field, every child was astride a cornstalk horse. These broke very easily, but were substantial enough for a morning of fun, and the supply was endless.

More permanent was the tree horse in the grove at the corner of the school yard. This was just a low branch with a fine resilient bounce. A piece of burlap thrown over it for a saddle and presto! this was a horse, too.

It is a lucky thing, I have often thought, that here in the southern mountains it is warm enough to have our school outdoors six or seven months out of the year. It is lucky, too, that we are in a rural community where we have plenty of cornstalks and trees and spacious fields. For there is practically no money for this little community nursery school operated with the help of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. And even if there were money, I question whether or not it should be spent on expensive, ideal nursery school equipment. Should Billy be given a little wooden Kraft cheese box to break up when his own father painstakingly makes novel cigarette cases out of these very boxes, in the hope of earning a little money to support his family of six? Should I even give the children those bright net bags that oranges come in, when some families are glad to have them to tack over their windows as screens? I did furnish small scraps of good cloth for doll dresses until some of the mothers, visiting one day, saw the nice broadcloth pieces and remarked that they would make such pretty collars and cuffs for children's dresses.

We Look for Things to Use

The story of this Summerfield Nursery School, situated in one of the most poverty-stricken areas in our country, has been the story of the search for adequate play equipment in what grew around us, or in what could be secured at no cost.
It has not been too difficult to search, because to a child a cornstalk is seldom just a cornstalk. More often than not it has been a child rather than myself, the teacher, who has discovered the uses of grass and acorns and odds and ends. It was Carl who picked up some old pieces of tin and asked me to tie them around his neck so that they would jingle like a cow bell. It was Grant who, after building a barn of blocks indoors one day, skipped out into the yard for a moment, returning with small bundles of dried grass for hay. It was Willie Mae who first went gathering weeds for "greens" to cook in her playhouse, and who made "tea" with oak leaves. Nor should I omit to mention that it was a father who brought us a doll made of the tops of coca cola bottles strung together on wires. Some of these mountain people are very ingenious—are forced to become so. I wonder if the experience these nursery school children are having in using what is in their environment, in making something out of nothing, may help to foster this ingenuity.

What are some of the other "nothings" that can be used? The grocery stores in the town two miles away have given us a generous supply of orange crates for playing house and barn and train. Before we had these, we found that an old bench turned upside down made a fine train. And for a house the little girls were quite satisfied to outline a little area with sticks, then fill it with tables and stools that were really little stumps, and dishes that were old mason jar lids, too bent for real use. Tin cans (with the tops cut out carefully) have always been fine for pails and pitchers. A coffee can with a stick placed through a hole punched in the lid is, of course, a churn.

There are plenty of things to "cook" besides leaves. What about pretty little white pebbles? What about toadstools and berries, and those fruits called "mock oranges" in our part of the country, which look very appetizing but are not actually edible. And acorns—

Acorns need a chapter by themselves. We have used them as children in many city schools use boxes of colored cubes, as coal to haul around in small trucks, or if you have an apple truck, acorns can be the apples. They can be potatoes, ice, or meat—anything you need for your truck. We keep great boxes full of them on our shelves. Shiny brown, smooth to touch, the children love them. Outdoors in the early spring we "plant" hundreds of baby oaks, and all year long set our tables with acorn cups.

I even made toy chickens out of acorns for the children, by driving two small sticks in for legs and one for a tail (which lends support and enables the "chicken" to stand.) Then, too, acorns can be used for all kinds of counting games. Why, anyone could start a school under an oak tree!

We made potato toys, too; the potato hogs were especially effective. The little sixteen-year-old mountain girl, Dorothy, who was my volunteer assistant for months, brought in one day a whole family of cornstalk dolls she had made, including a cornstalk horse. These proved to be not durable enough for children of preschool age, but I should think they would have great possibilities for children a little older.

We Paint and Make Music

Dorothy also brought us some "orange paint" one day to supplement our small supply of watercolors. "Did you really make this, Dorothy?" I asked.

"Yes'm, I made it from a root that grows on the side of the mountain. I don't know the name of it. People use it to stain wood, and it makes a right pretty stain."

This became the children's favorite paint—until the pokeberry season. Then their social and economic problems.

Josephine Roche, in the Alumnae Magazine for October, says that "Only as the men and women of labor acquire a secure status as citizens of industry can they effectively meet their responsibilities and exercise their rights as citizens of a self-governing democracy." As a labor school, and as an adjunct to the progressive movement in the south, Highlander is training leaders who will bring about that industrial democracy so fundamental to the health of the whole nation. The school believes that the object of education is action; it advocates that decisions reached by serious study and discussion be acted upon. We are interested in working people primarily, because they are the largest, neediest vital group in our population. They are the majority. Labor unions have become their most effective means of cooperative action. Highlander Folk School undertakes to serve the labor movement with education, that will inform, inspire, and demonstrate, in democratic action.

* Study made by a local public welfare official in 1938.
† In the 1930 census, most of the population of 9,719 are classified as rural non-farming. The WPA wages last year were $25 a month; this meant less than a nickel a meal for each member of a family of six, provided every cent went for food. The average family saw less than $150 in cash in a year.

DETAILS:

The reference report requested that a check be made to determine the character and reputation of the SCHULTZ family, who resided at 99 Claremont Street. This address is known as McGuffers Hall, a dormitory that accommodates married couples and single girls who are in attendance at Union Theological Seminary, which is located within one block of the dormitory, namely, Broadway at 120th Street. It was learned through the superintendent and janitor of the dormitory that no one by the name of SCHULTZ was residing at the above address at the present time, and to the best of their knowledge there had been no one by the name of SCHULTZ during the past three years, which is the time that each have been employed in their respective positions.
The writer made inquiry at the registrar's office at Union Theological Seminary, Broadway at 120th Street, where a record of all students is maintained. The records reflected that EDWIN B. SCHULTZ left the college in 1931, partially graduating therefrom, and he and his wife, ANNA L. SCHULTZ, resided at 99 Claremont Street while he was in attendance at the university. The forwarding address given on the record is 19 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois, and all mail such as school literature had been forwarded to this address, which apparently reached him as none had been returned.

Undeveloped leads were set out in reference report to check the character and reputation of various individuals who maintained bank accounts at various banks in New York City, who had made contributions to the Highlander Folk School. The file indices of the New York Field Division did not reveal that there had ever been any extensive investigation of any of the individuals mentioned in the reference report, but all the information in the New York files will be referred to in this report.

A memorandum dated April 23, 1937, New York file number 61-506, reflected that Mrs. CLYDE participated in the student strike against war which was staged throughout the United States April 22, 1937. The name of Mrs. ETHEL CLYDE is listed as one of the nineteen members of the Advisory Board of the American Student Union.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

June 6, 1941

In connection with the Director's address at Sewanee on June 9, I believe it might be well for him to be acquainted with the nature of the Highlander Folk School and a memorandum concerning same is attached.

This school is very well known in that Section of Tennessee and is heartily condemned because of its Communist affiliations by all of the good citizens. It is probable that someone may mention this school to the Director and expect him to have some knowledge of it.

Respectfully,

MEMORANDUM
June 6, 1941

RE: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

In view of numerous complaints received in the Knoxville Office of the Bureau concerning Communist activities at the Highlander Folk School, an investigation is now being made by that Office concerning the School and its personnel.

It has been learned that the School was organized during 1932 on ground donated by Dr. Lillian Johnson, who presently lives in DeLand, Florida. Miles Horton and James Dombrowski are believed to have been the active organizers of the School. Dr. Johnson donated the land because she believed the School would benefit the local inhabitants.

The Highlander Folk School is a labor institution and received its charter from the State of Tennessee on January 31, 1934. The School was chartered by Miles Horton, Elizabeth Hawes, James Dombrowski, Rupert Hampton and Malcolm Chisholm.

The School is located in Grundy County, Tennessee, about two miles north of Monteagle, Tennessee, on State Road 56 going toward Tracy City, Tennessee. This section of the State of Tennessee is mountainous and heavily wooded. Monteagle, Tennessee, is from three to five miles northeast of Sewanee, which means that the Highlander Folk School is approximately seven miles from Sewanee.

Miles Horton, Director of Education at the Highlander Folk School, is the one whose name is most often mentioned as being the leader of the School.

During the course of the Bureau’s investigation, various affidavits were obtained showing that Miles Horton teaches Communism and has solicited membership in the Young Communists’ League from various local persons.

James Dombrowski, Secretary to the Highlander Folk School, signs all the mail emanating from the Institution. In a letter addressed by Athens, Tennessee, to Sweetwater, Tennessee, dated November 16, 1940, it is stated that Dombrowski reportedly signed a bulletin issued by the Revolutionary Policy Committee of the Socialist Party in 1934 stating they would "make every effort to promote the world revolution and to secure Governmental power for the victorious revolution by arming the workers and by preparing the working class to turn imperialist war into class war."

Elizabeth Day Hawes, better known as Zilla Hawes, has been active as a teacher at the School from its beginning and is reported to have been especially strong in her teaching of Communistic principles and how they can be used in labor agitation. The reports in the Bureau's files indicate that the residents of Grundy County are on the whole very much opposed to the School. It appears that the officials of the School have caused considerable agitation among the WPA workers and other laborers in the County.

The Highlander Folk School has been successful in obtaining the permission of many important persons to use their names as sponsors of the School, itself, or some of its activities. The most important name from the standpoint of publicity is that of Eleanor Roosevelt. Sponsorship of John L. Lewis and others have also been obtained.

In a letter dated January 4, 1941, to the Editor of the Reader's Digest, James Dombrowski mentioned the opposition to his School by "the Grundy County Crusaders." He pointed out that the battle with the Crusaders was absorbing much of the time and resources of the School and it was necessary to secure the support of new friends if they were to carry on. He pointed out that their danger reflected the mounting danger to organized labor.

It is reported that when a Citizens' Committee of Grundy County threatened to burn the School in November, 1940, the School put all of its Communist literature and other matter which it did not wish to be found on the property in a large paper box and one admitted Communist, hauled the box from the School and hid it in the home of one Rosenthal in Chattanooga. Rosenthal is a known Communist and is reported to be the individual maintaining the records of the Communist Party for Chattanooga.

It is known to the Indianapolis Field Division to have been CIO leader of the International Harvester Company strike at Richmond, Indiana, during March, 1941.

Details:

At Indianapolis, Indiana.

In Indianapolis file entitled "International Harvester Company, Richmond, Indiana, Employees Strike (2/18/41)". It will be recalled that the plant employed about 1800 persons and that the strike was more or less an echo of the strike at larger International Harvester Plants in Chicago and elsewhere. The strike was called by the...

The American Guardian, a newspaper published by the Leader Press which is owned by OSCAR AMERINGER, is located at 17 West 3rd Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Information in this file is to the effect that OSCAR AMERINGER is the President of the Leader Press, his wife, FRIEDA, is Vice President, and his son, SEIGFRIED, is also active in the company.
AMERINGER is known to be active in Communist affairs in this city and an old-time Socialist.

OSCAR AMERINGER was on the Sponsor Committee for the following organizations: Mobilization for Peace, Student Conference for Constitutional Rights and Southwest Writers' Conference. In December, 1940, he spoke before the Oklahoma Youth Legislatura Unincorporated on Peace. On January 7, 1941, a publication put out by the Oklahoma Committee to Defend Political Prisoners carried an article by OSCAR AMERINGER against book burning. This was a satiric article and mentioned prominently the trials of several Communists in Oklahoma County on charges of Criminal Syndicalism. The editor of this publication is the wife of one of those who has been sentenced to ten years on Criminal Syndicalism charges and she, herself, has recently been sentenced to ten years on the same charge. AMERINGER's Leader Press has printed a number of Communist articles, pamphlets and booklets. He once wrote a book with a forward by Carl Sandberg and in December, 1940, charged that the New Deal was leading us into war.

advised that AMERINGER was one of the leading Communists in Oklahoma City and had been connected with the Communist Party for many years.

Synopsis of Facts:

Northwest Organizer former official organ of General Drivers Union 544 and Teamsters Joint Council 32 of International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehousemen of America. ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED.

Reference:

Report of Special Agent, Knoxville, Tennessee, dated 6-1-41.

Details:

The Northwest Organizer is a newspaper published weekly by the A. F. of L., Local #544, General Drivers Union, an affiliate of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehousemen of America. The Northwest Organizer was the official organ of that local and also of the Teamsters Joint Council Local #32, which is also an affiliate of said International and which is composed of various members of the teaming craft.

Since about June 15, 1941, the Northwest Organizer has changed its name to the Industrial Organizer, which is now the official organ of the Local #544, C.I.O., United Construction Workers Organization Committee, Allied Motor and Transport Workers of...
America. The leaders of Local #544 A. F. of L. bolted to Local #544 C.I.O. and when they did so they took their official organ, the Northwest Organizer. The A. F. of L., through court action, restrained the Local #544 C.I.O. officials from seizing the paper, and the Northwest Organizer is now out of existence and a new paper of Local #544 A. F. of L. has been established. The name of this paper is the Minnesota Teamster. When the Northwest Organizer was functioning as already stated, it was the official organ of the Local #544 A. F. of L., which union was at that time — that is, prior to July 15th, very radical because of its leadership. Its Executive Board were all members of the Socialist Workers Party, all of whom are presently under Federal indictment for seditious conspiracy.

RE: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
Internal Security - C

Dear Sir:

[Redacted] that the last regular school session for this year for the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee ended September 26, 1941.

[Redacted] another course will be opened at Memphis, Tennessee in the near future, possibly on October 12 or 13. This course at Memphis, Tennessee will be the regular six-weeks course usually given at Monteagle, Tennessee by the Highlander Folk School.

For the information of the Memphis Office, four of the students who attended the last six-weeks course that ended on September 26 were from Memphis, Tennessee. One of these four will be secretary of the school at Memphis, Tennessee. The identity of these four students from Memphis, Tennessee is not presently known, but efforts will be made to ascertain their identity, particularly the one who will be secretary of the school.

Plans are also being laid to hold courses at Bessemer, Alabama and Detroit, Michigan. [Redacted] the main reason for YELVERTON COHERD's coming to Highlander Folk School on September 24, 1941 was to help start a session of the Highlander Folk School at Bessemer, Alabama. The Birmingham Office advised this office by telephone of YELVERTON COHERD's coming to Highlander Folk School, but due to lack of transportation and weather condition at Highlander Folk School at which COHERD spoke. The dates for the courses to be had at Bessemer, Alabama and Detroit, Michigan are not known as yet, and it is believed that plans for holding sessions at these places have not been fully developed.

Apparently, MARY LAWRENCE of the faculty of the Highlander Folk School is at New Orleans at present conducting an educational program similar to that held at the Highlander Folk School. Five students from New Orleans attended the last session at Highlander Folk School.

affiliated with the school voted for the Communist candidates in the 1936 election. This office is, therefore, extremely desirous that the activities of MYLES HORTON and the other members of the Highlander Folk School in conducting the school at Memphis be carefully checked at Memphis.

For the assistance of the Memphis Office, MYLES HORTON drives a 1941 Chevrolet 4-door sedan, 1941 New York license number 7W7463. His description is as follows:

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

Special Agent of this office has been conducting investigation in the above entitled matter at Monteagle, Tennessee, during the past month. He has been making intensive inquiry in the immediate vicinity of this school, from October 5, 1941, to October 11, 1941. His principal endeavor has been to interview those persons who have either attended the Highlander Folk School, in an effort to secure information from them concerning the doctrines and principles advanced at this institution, or persons in the locality who have either visited the premises or been informed by enrollees concerning any Communist or subversive activities thereat.

No direct interviews were conducted by Agent with any officials or faculty members of the institution. It is contemplated that such interviews will be conducted upon the completion of the preliminary inquiries in this matter.

On Friday, October 10, 1941, Agent was conducting investigation to ascertain the validity of a Young Communist League membership book, Number R 305, now in the possession of this office. identified the card as being one of three which she had previously seen in her house, the other two being issued to her sons and when interviewed by Agent denied affiliation with the YCL and spoke favorably concerning the personnel of the Highlander Folk School. persisted that her son had been affiliated with the YCL and so stated in his presence. The latter then left the home as Agent conducted his interview with the mother.
subsequently returned to the house and informed Agent M that a note had been left for him by a member of the faculty of the Highlander Folk School.

Agent M upon entering his car, observed the note on the seat of his car stating, "We have been hearing quite a bit of your interest in the Highlander Folk School. Why don't you pay us a visit and get your dope first hand. Come about 6:00 and you'll get a good supper. Resp. yours, for Highlander, Leon Wilson."

The original of this note is being retained in the Knoxville file.

Agent M did not acknowledge receipt of this note, nor did he communicate in any way with the Highlander Folk School.

Upon returning to his hotel room, at 10:30 p.m., the same evening, Agent M had delivered to him in his room at the Monteagle Hotel, by a hotel employee, a letter on Highlander Folk School stationery, stating as follows:

"Knowing how much time you have spent talking us over with our neighbors, we are, frankly, disappointed that you haven't been to look at us first hand.

"Some very good friends of the school are members of your organization, and to date our relations with the F.B.I. have been of the pleasantest.

"Our cook was disappointed you were unable to accept my hasty invitation to supper and she insists that I deliver the accompanying slice of home-baked applesauce cake. Cordially yours, for HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, Leon Wilson."

This communication was not acknowledged by Agent M.

On October 11, 1941, at about 1:00 p.m., Agent M, upon returning to the Hotel Monteagle, found MILES HORTON, Director, and LEON WILSON, Librarian of the Highlander Folk School, waiting for him. Mr. HORTON made inquiry concerning the purpose and the result of the Bureau's investigation, but was informed that Agent M "had no comment to make". Mr. HORTON then alleged that he had been informed by Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, "The FBI had investigated the Highlander Folk School, and had given it a clean slate."

Mr. HORTON alleged that the records of the school had been made available two years ago to a Government representative whom he believed to be a Bureau agent named [redacted]. The file of this office fails to reflect that any such examination of the records of that institution has ever been made by a Bureau representative.

MILES HORTON indicated to Agent [redacted] he contemplated discussing the situation with the writer at Knoxville. Mr. HORTON has not communicated with the writer. In the event he does communicate with this office, he will be advised that the writer has no comment whatever to make with respect to any matter under investigation.
If, however, he should desire, in writing, to make the records of this school available to this office, such an offer would be accepted, if an occasion arose where such an examination would be considered desirable.

Special Agent [redacted] is preparing an extensive report revealing the result of investigation conducted in this matter, which will be submitted in the immediate future.

Very truly yours,

W. A. MURPHY

RE: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

The Knoxville Field Division during July, 1941, had occasion to consider the question of those individuals to whom copies of the "HIGHLANDER FOLK," the official publication of the above school, were being sent. This list, dated July 11, 1941, was composed of about 2,485 names covering 49 field offices. At the present time the Knoxville Field Division does not deem it practicable to set forth in an investigative report. The names on this list have been marked and are being retained as an exhibit in the Knoxville file. Should the Bureau deem it desirable to furnish the respective field divisions with the names of those persons therein who appear on this list, the Knoxville Field Division will make such information available by personal and confidential letter. In the absence of any definite instructions in this regard, no further action will be taken with respect to this list.

Very truly yours,

W. A. MURPHY

Nashville, Tennessee and after it had served its purpose and he had read it through, he had returned it to the headquarters. He stated that at a later date, one of the American Legion had written him and stated that he had checked it out again and he would like it returned; however, advised that he had had that report only on one occasion and that it had been returned to Nashville; that he had wanted the report to show a DR. LILLIAN JOHNSON, who is one of the sponsors of the Highlander Folk School.

advised that DR. JOHNSON had formerly owned the land on which the Highlander Folk School is now situated; that she had her home on that property and that she had become interested in the idea through association with MILES HORTON; that she had formerly been a professor at Oberlin College in Ohio and had a reputation of being very socialistically minded. did not know how HORTON had met her but stated he had impressed DR. JOHNSON very favorably; that DR. JOHNSON is in no way associated with the Communist party as far as he knows; that her ideas do not lean directly toward Communism but more toward Socialism but she is very interested in educating the ignorant. He stated that she has been completely deceived by HORTON.

advised that he had done everything possible to discourage DR. JOHNSON in the Highlander Folk School and that was the reason for his obtaining the American Legion report. He stated that he had shown her that report and had read her pertinent parts of it, but she was still very much interested in the school and had complete confidence in HORTON.

also stated that the reports which the American Legion had contained the same information that had been set out in seven articles written for a Nashville, Tennessee paper.

A review of the file in this case reflects that interested offices have copies of those articles. A review also reflected that reference letter dated July 23, 1940 contains a result of an interview with, in Athens, Tennessee which had returned over the data he had to and that is presently located in Memphis, Tennessee.

was then contacted at his office located, Memphis. He advised that report containing information collected by [redacted] had never been turned over to him. [redacted] stated that there had been a lapse of one year between the time when [redacted] left that office and he undertook its obligations. He stated he believed the information was turned over to the Governor of Tennessee; that if that information were not in the files of the American Legion of Nashville, his only guess was it had been turned over to the Governor and that the Governor had never returned it.

He suggested contacting [redacted] as he would probably remember the information. A lead is being set out for the Knoxville Office to consider recontacting [redacted].

[redacted] also advised that he understood [redacted] Lillian Johnson, a sponsor of the Highlander Folk School of Monticello, had returned to that institution after having severed her connections for a short time approximately two years ago. He advised that he did not believe she was Communistically inclined, but was a woman who had been completely deceived by Miles Horton and other directors of that school.

On October 10, 1941 the Memphis Field Division was advised by letter from the Knoxville Field Division as follows:

"On September 24, 1941 the Knoxville Field Division was advised by telephone by the Birmingham office that Joseph Kelly Stockton, of Allardt, Tennessee, had been reported as one of the founders of the Highlander Folk School and that his wife was an avowed Communist. It was further alleged that the Stockton's daughter, first name unknown, was recently graduated from the National Law School at Washington, D. C., was admitted to the District Bar, and is now working for some Government agency in Washington.

Since Allardt is within the territory covered by the Memphis office and there is a possibility that the daughter may be involved in a violation of the Hatch Act, it is suggested that inquiry be conducted at Allardt in this regard. Consideration will be given to Mr. Stockton's affiliation with the Highlander Folk School during the course of investigation in connection with the latter institution."
In reference to the above letter it should be noted that in report of Special Agent(A) at Memphis, Tennessee, dated August 17, 1941, a copy of the original chart of the Highlander Folk School issued by the Secretary of the State of Tennessee was obtained, and the original applicants for this chart were: MYLES HORTON, ELIZABETH HAWES, JAMES DOMBROWSKI, RUPERT HAMPTON and MALCOLM CHISHOLM. The list of applicants does not include the name of JOSEPH KELLY STOCKTON reported in the foregoing letter as one of the founders of the school.

DETAILS:
A number of leads were set out in the reports of reference in the New York Field Division to determine the background of individuals and organizations which contributed funds to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL.

Reference was made to the League of American Writers and inquiry made as to whether this organisation could be considered Communist. Files of the New York Field Division contain a considerable amount of information relative to the League of American Writers and information indicating that certain individual members of the League have Communist tendencies. The League of American Writers is classified as a Communist front organization. It is not deemed advisable at this point to set out a lengthy statement of the membership and activities of this League. It is felt that was a contributor to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. Records of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York, Incorporated, disclosed that is a member of the family who are identified with the is a woman of means and is listed in the New York Social Register. She maintains her residence at and at the New York City. Information contained in the report of reference indicates that has participated in student strike movements and in student union activities, indicating her radical tendencies.

No information was developed concerning the ROBERT MARSHALL FOUNDATION. According to the report of reference of this Foundation, is presided over by GEORGE MARSHALL at 10 East 37th Street, New York City. Records of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York, Incorporated, 393 Seventh Avenue, failed to develop any information concerning this Foundation or its background and further disclosed no information concerning GEORGE MARSHALL. Also had no information concerning either this Foundation or GEORGE MARSHALL.

According to the report of reference of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL maintained an account at the Amalgamated Bank of New York, which account was opened by JAMES SOMERKOWSKI, who gave his address as 600 West 122nd Street, New York City. Observation at this address disclosed that it is the address of the Union Theological Seminary of New York.

address is given as New York City. An examination of the directories failed to disclose any such street in Queens, Bronx, Manhattan or Brooklyn. In the Brighton Beach section of Brooklyn, it was found that there were ten or more Brighton Streets but the address would have been Brighton First Street, Brighton Second Street, or some such similar address. There is no such street as Brighton Street. The writer checked Brighton First Street, Brighton Second Street, and several others but no such number as was found. No further efforts are being made to develop present residence.

The records of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York, Incorporated, contain the name of only one. He is listed as being . It is, therefore, apparent that this is not the who is connected with the Religion and Labor Foundation which is allegedly located at 351 West 122nd Street, New York City. Observation at 351 West 122nd Street developed that it is a 2-story dwelling located in the heart of the colored section of New York City. No name appears on the door and it was not deemed advisable to make inquiries in that neighborhood concerning the Religion and Labor Foundation. It is apparent that if this is the correct address of the Foundation, that it is not a very large organization. The New York files and the records of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York, Incorporated, 373 Seventh Avenue, were examined but no information as to any relative to the Religion and Labor Foundation. also had no information concerning the Religion and Labor Foundation.

The Cooperative Distributors, Incorporated, located at 30 Irving Place, New York City, is an organization with the aim and purpose of furnishing consumers with information about goods they buy. EMIL J. LEVER is President, CLINTON S. GÜPPNER is Vice President and HERBERT COLE is Secretary and Treasurer. LEVER is considered the guiding hand of the organization and has been mentioned as the Superintendent of Brockwood College at Katonah, New York; Director of the Philadelphia College of Labor; and Vice President and Assistant Treasurer of Consumers Research, Incorporated, Washington, New Jersey. The Directors of this organization include JUSTUS EMBERT, HARRY A. LEBER, JOSEPH A. KUCHER, COLSTON E. WARNER, PETERS HAPGOOD and JEROME COUNT. EMBERT is editor of "Lithographers Journal". LEBER is a C.P.A., KUCHER is Sales Manager of Kelvinator Sales Company, and HAPGOOD is a well-known educator. The Advisory Board of this organization consists of JEROME NAVIS; Yale Divinity School; ROGER BALDWIN, American Civil Liberty Union; WINTERTED L. CHAPPEL, Methodist Federation of Social Service; JOHN DEWEY, Columbia University;
MARY FOX, League for Industrial Democracy; WILLIAM KORN, Dana College; FRANK OLMISTEAD, T.A.M.C.A., University of New York; WALTER E. WEEK, John Marshall College of Law; VIDA E. SCHUduplicate, Wellesley College; P. A. and BERNARD WARDING, Solebury Farmers Club of Solebury, Pa. This organization maintains no financial statements and is allegedly a non-profit organization. Its purpose is to test products on the market for the protection of consumers and to bring to the consumers materials of quality regardless of their advertising. The organization publishes a periodical called "Consumer Defender". OLGA L. BOURWICH, who, according to the report of reference, was General Manager of this concern, was formerly a buyer for R. H. Macy Company, located at Broadway and 34th Street. She is presently located in New Orleans, Louisiana.

The 241 East 22nd Street Corporation, with offices at 31 Union Square West, is a real estate company serving as agents for several large apartment and office buildings in New York City. Its officers are WILLIAM KORN, CHARLES WATER and ALBERT WATER. They are all men of considerable means and the 241 East 22nd Street Corporation is considered to be a reputable organization.

It is apparent from the information above set out that among the contributors to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL are many large and reputable New York organizations and several reputable people residing in the New York vicinity. No information of Communist activities on the part of these individuals has been determined except as hereinbefore set out. It is not deemed practical to institute extensive investigations relative to each of these people and relative to each organization at the present time merely because of their contributions to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. It is felt that if any further investigation relative to these individuals and organizations is desired by the office of origin, the New York Field Division will be so advised.

In the absence of such instructions from the Knoxville Field Division, this case is being

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter to the Bureau dated October 1, 1941, with which you transmitted three film packs made in connection with the above captioned case.

Upon development, it was found that these films were underexposed which was possibly due to the fact that these exposures were made on Process films and given the same exposure time that should be given Super XX film.

It is suggested that these photographs be re-taken if possible.

continued by stating that the name JAMES DOMROW was one familiar to her as being a school official. She also stated that she knew the school to have been criticized severely by newspapers and the general public, but that it was her own personal conviction that there was nothing subversive or Communist about the teachings or activities of the institution— that is, the Folk School.

She concluded by stating that she was positive she would be only to happy to cooperate in any way possible with agents.

Alabama, was contacted toward the end of obtaining additional information pertaining to the names set out in the report of Special Agent dated at Knoxville, Tenn., April 10, 1941. expressed the opinion that he did not believe that he had anything really up to date to offer in the way of information. However, he offered to run over the list and make such comments as might as might be apropos with respect to those individuals with whom he had any personal recollection. The persons commented on, with remarks, are listed below. (In those instances where the Birmingham Field Division indices reflect additional information the writer is adding certain supplementary and identifying remarks:

1. FRANZ DANIEL—Instructor at Highlander Folk School, and possibly living in a cottage located on the school grounds.

2. WALTER PEARMON—Resides at Gadsden, Ala., and is an agent for the Communist Party, and organizer for the C.I.O. He may also be an official in the Workers Alliance. He had worked with CLYN WILLIAMS, but never distributed Communist literature.
J. J. WITHERSPOON DODGE, Residence Atlanta, Ga. He is an organizer for the C.I.O. and publicly professes belief in Communism. He was reportedly residing in Huntsville, Ala. as of July 2, 1940, his removal having been subsequent to that date.

HERBERT WILLIAMS resides at Huntsville, Ala., Lincoln Village. He is an organizer for the C.I.O. and has led in radical activities in the past.

DON NICKES resides somewhere in North Carolina. He is a C.I.O. Director for the State of North Carolina, so should be easily located.

R. H. BROZELL, Nashville, Tenn. He is a C.I.O. organizer and is Attorney for the same. It was through him that an attempt to violate the law occurred at the Harrisen Mills. He is very outspoken against the Capitalist Order.

JAMES DOMEROSKI, Manager of the Highlander Folk School.

MILES BROWN - located at the school and is one of the Directors.

CLYDE WILLIAMS, residence Huntsville, Alabama, Dallas Village. Is a self-professed Communist, and has been active in distributing Communist literature. He attended school at Mena, Arkansas, in 1938. This school was closed by the Courts and allowed to pay court costs.
PAUL CHRISTOPHER resides in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He is a patron and donor, and his name appears as an official Director at the school.

BOY LAWRENCE resides in Atlanta, Ga. He is a lecturer at the school.

JOHN DOUG resides in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He has made speeches and in general is one of the school enthusiasts.

YEL CONNER, resides either in Birmingham or in South Carolina. He is a C.I.O. organizer and holds some important job in it. (Note: The individual referred to, whose full name is YELVERTON CONNER, is a practicing attorney in Birmingham, Ala., with offices in the Comer Building. He is prominently identified with the C.I.O. organizations in Alabama, and is at least sympathetic with the numerous so-called front organizations for the Communist Party. It has been noticed that he has been afforded considerable prominence and publicity by the Southern News Almanac, radical weekly publication which suspended operations due to financial causes some weeks previous to date of report).)

PAUL SANDERS resides Huntsville, at 100 Dixie Street. Is very outspoken in leanings toward Communism, but has never attained any degree of prominence or influence.
Advised Agent oess^ms stated once to accumulate considerabLa information pertaining to Highander folk School and to the Communist situation but that notes on the mm were presently in the custody of a resident of Tracy City, Tennessee. According to DuBose's notes, the school had been making an intensive study of the problems of the American Negro, and the Bureau was interested in the information that would be helpful to the Bureau in its plans to have a resident at Highander Folk School.

The following investigation was conducted by the Agent oess*^ms advised that he had

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter dated January 5, 1942, in the above-entitled matter, wherein you call the Bureau's attention to certain information contained on pages 28, 29 and 117 in the report of Special Agent dated December 20, 1941, at Knoxville, Tennessee.

The Bureau has no objection to purely factual material pertinent to the investigation being set forth in investigative reports when the source has been definitely established and properly evaluated by you prior to its inclusion in a report to the Bureau and other field offices. I feel that you, as an Agent in Charge, should be cognizant of this procedure.

EXPLANATION OF FACTS:

The Highlander Folk School was founded about 1932 in the Summerfield Community of Monteagle, Tennessee. The property was donated by Dr. Lillian W. Johnson. Myra Horton was the first member of the staff and is presently the head of the school.

The school started out as socialistic. Socialism was advocated and encouraged by the school and an attempt was made to put it into practice. Horton still claims to be a socialist, however, communism appeared early among its supporters and students. Don West, who came after Horton as a member of the Highlander Folk School was a communist. Malcolm Chisholm, charter member of the Highlander Folk School was killed fighting for the Spanish loyalists.

Units of the Communist Party and Young Communist League were organized and existed among its local supporters. Ted Wellman, the Communist Party and Young Communist League organizer stayed at the Highlander Folk School while doing his organizing. Several people claim to have seen Young Communist League membership cards in possession of various members of the Highlander Folk School staff.

Information from confidential source indicates that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL staff and local supporters voted for EARL BROWDER in 1936. Publications by the school indicate radical and communistic tendencies on part of students attending the spring and fall term 1941. School still subscribes to Daily Worker and publications concerning Russia. HORTON and members of Executive Committee of HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL are supporters of Southern Conference of Human Welfare. Six out of eleven members of Executive Committee are listed as communist or having communistic contacts by files in Knoxville Office.

JOE G. DOBBS, member Executive Committee is considered one of most dangerous communist in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and is on custodial detention list of this office. School first started out as community center but gradually changed to labor education. Unsuccessfully attempted to establish a similar school at Allardt, Tennessee, about 1934. Succeeded in organizing the Worker's Alliance which flourished for a while in Grundy County but broke up after an unsuccessful "sit-down strike" at W.P.A. Headquarters, Tracy City, Tennessee, in February 1939. School unpopular in local community and has reputation of being communistic. Unpopularity based partly on report of drinking and suspected loose morals that occur at dances sponsored by the school, and local prejudice against labor activities of school. Public feeling culminated in a protest march on the school by Grundy County Crusaders on November 12, 1940. Investigation reveals that school program of worker's education and recreational activities has gained support of some nationally prominent labor and public figures.

DETAILS: Inasmuch as the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL has students, contributors or friends in all part of the country, copies of this report are being designated for all field offices in the Continental United States, however, it is not deemed advisable at this time to check on all the people with whom the school has contact. In case of contributors who have donated unusually large sums of money, or where outside circumstances indicate possible communistic connections, investigation will be made of these contributors.

mimeographed sheet prepared by the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL entitled, "Statement of Purpose Unanimously approved by the Staff of HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL". This mimeographed sheet, which will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Office, is set out as follows:

"STATEMENT OF PURPOSE
Unanimously Approved by the Staff of HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL"

PURPOSE:

The purpose of a labor school should be to assist in bringing about economic and political democracy. Since unions are basic to the achievement of democracy, the strengthening of unions must be the primary purpose of a labor school. It should be an educational arm of organized labor, or the more progressive unions making up the labor movement at a given time.

AFFILIATIONS:

A labor school should not become connected in any way with political or other organizations, the policies of which are in conflict with the policies of the unions.

The direction, teaching and control should be in the hands of labor representatives committed to the idea that democracy can best be achieved through a strong, intelligent labor movement.

PROGRAM:

The program of a labor school should be determined by the needs and policies of the unions from which the students are drawn and with which the school works. This would necessitate a specialized educational program. Classes would be conducted in subjects of a practical nature, directly related to the problems faced by the students. No effort would be made to carry on a general program of education suitable for students with a variety of interests and divergent points of view. The emphasis given and points of view expressed would be that of organized labor.

ADMINISTRATION:

Since the immediate purpose of a labor school is to assist in strengthening organized labor, it cannot be an independent policy making organization. Therefore, direction and supervision must come from labor representatives of organizations operating with the school. A Board of Directors, consisting of labor officials and representatives of the school, should have full authority in the making of policy and the running of the school.

printed and illustrated booklet, printed by the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, giving its history. This booklet is described as "The Story of an Educational Center for Working People". The pertinent parts of this booklet, which will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division, are set out as follows:

"FOUNDING OF THE SCHOOL. In 1932, Myles Horton, a native Tennessean educated at Cumberland University and the University of Chicago, returned to Tennessee to help provide Southern workers with an opportunity for an education fitted to their practical needs.

Highlander Folk School was therefore founded to provide an educational center in the South for the training of rural and industrial leaders, and for the conservation and enrichment of the indigencus cultural values of the mountain."

Throughout the eight years of the school's existence, it has functioned along those broad lines: it is a local rural settlement house serving the community and county; and it is a center for the education and development of intelligent labor leadership throughout the entire South. Through this program, the school hopes to assist in bringing about the economic and political democracy that is the heritage of the finest American tradition.

EARLY YEARS. When Doctor Lillian Johnson, pioneer southern educator, gave her frame house and farm land to the new School, the founders resolved not to create another formal institution, but to develop an educational and cultural center to meet the needs of the students themselves, and of the community. Hence, during the first few weeks, the house served chiefly as a community center, where neighbors dropped in for a social evening of songs and friendly discussion with the teachers.

Later, a few of the neighbors asked for a discussion class, and during the first winter, evening classes dealing with psychology, economics, and current events, grew naturally out of the interest of the community folk.

A few resident students began to live at the school and to be given individual instruction in writing and speaking. In addition, each selected a community activity ranging from music classes and a dramatics club to educational meetings among the miners and relief workers in neighboring communities. Thus, the three aspects of interrelated activity which the school now carries on, grew out of the demands of the first year:

I - the residence program of short courses and weekend conferences for workers.
II - the work in the community.
III - the extension program, in which students and staff carry the educational work to other rural and industrial areas.

PRESENT PROGRAM

1. RESIDENT COURSES. Resident Terms for Workers are the backbone of the year-round program. In the summer and in the spring, the six weeks term of intensive resident courses is conducted for trade-union students. Students are drawn from Southern labor unions, with an occasional student from outside of the South. The qualifications for admission are: the ability to read and write and devotion to the labor movement. No student is accepted without the recommendation of his or her union.

The purpose of all the courses is to provide factual information bearing on the practical problems faced by the students in their unions. Sharing the experiences and discussions enables students to meet their local situations more constructively.

Classes are always informal, and draw from and relate back to, the students’ experiences. In addition to discussions led by the regular staff members, leading experts from the field of organized labor and from Federal and State agencies frequently contribute to the classes as visiting lecturers. The School’s library of six thousand books and pamphlets, built up by the gifts of friends, is eagerly drawn on by the students to supplement their class work.

The course includes the following subjects:

UNION PROBLEMS: discussion of definite problems of the students as labor unionists. Methods of organizing, dues collecting, and making the meetings interesting; fundamentals of collective bargaining, negotiating contracts, and Labor Board procedure.

AMERICAN HISTORY: the story of the growth of the labor movement in America from Colonial days to the present, with an examination of labor’s rights under New Deal legislation.

ECONOMICS: an introductory course dealing with the way people make a living; the development of the industrial era and its effect upon the welfare of working people; and the economic background of the union movement.

UNION PUBLICITY: practice in the basic elements of a news story, related to reporting for labor papers. The mechanics of editing a paper or pamphlet; mimeographing methods; and the creating of charts and posters for publicity uses. Students write their own life stories and publish them in mimeographed form.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW AND PUBLIC SPEAKING: designed to show students how to run business-like meetings, and how to get across ideas in an effective manner. Class is conducted as a regular union meeting, giving students practice in speaking and in parliamentary law.

DRAMATICS: training in the improvisation of plays based on actual situations suggested, acted out and produced by the students. Finished product is often taken on tour to union locals.

MUSIC AND RECREATION: learning labor and folk songs; practice in leading group singing, and methods of setting up a recreational program in a union.
EQUALLY as important as the course of studies is the experience of cooperative living. The students contribute two hours a day to the running of the household, and have the opportunity of sharing work and play with other students and the staff.

INSTITUTES AND EXTRA SESSIONS. In addition to its regular resident terms, Highlander holds frequent weekend institutes throughout the year, for unions, teachers, and social workers. For example, during 1940, institutes were held at the school for the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, for the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, and for Labor's Non-Partisan League. Informal week-end gatherings were held for leaders of cooperatives, and for southern business and professional, and industrial Y. W. C. A. secretaries.

Other special sessions have included such varied projects as: a week's Summer Camp for the children of union members; a writers' workshop at which prominent writers and young students from all parts of the country discussed together the problems of writing; and two work camps for college students.

2. THE COMMUNITY PROGRAM. The problem of earning a living in Grundy County is acute. Since the soil is not suitable for productive farming, the natural resources of the land—coal mining and lumbering—have been exploited until the timber is gone and only a few mines are in operation.

The American Public Welfare Association has made a study of the county; it is one of the poorest in the South, with over eighty percent of the residents certified for relief.

An important part of Highlanders' all-year-around activities is the School's work with community organizations in joint efforts to solve community and country problems. Leadership has been furnished for Cooperatives in gardening, canning, pottery and quilt-making, and in such organizations as a Community Council, local unions, and a Parent-Teacher Association.

In the community work, the School also assists in developing local leadership by providing for Young Peoples Clubs and Study Groups for Adults. The cultural and recreational life of the community has been stimulated by the School's free music lessons, and by the encouragement of the traditional songs and fine old square dances of the region.

Perhaps the most outstanding recent example of the School's community projects is a progressive nursery school, taught by a member of the Highlander staff, who is a graduate of the Bank Street Cooperative School for Teachers, and who acts as director, janitor, parent-worker, and school-bus driver. The parents of the fifteen children make their contribution by helping supply hot lunches and fuel for the nursery building.

3. EXTENSION WORK. The third aspect of Highlander's program is its field work. Staff members serve as a resource which unions and cooperatives all over the South can call upon for guidance or assistance in worker's education. At the request of the local unions for example, members of the staff go out between resident sessions to conduct educational programs. Instruction is given in setting up mimeographed newspapers, and in the organization of dramatics clubs, singing and study groups.

Finally, the staff is always available by correspondence or visit, to assist graduates of the School in their educational and cultural activities. There are 180 alumni from 24 states and from 30 different unions. Some of the typical progressive positions held by former students are: union educational director, manager of cooperative store, organizers for the C. I. O. and for the A. F. of L., recreational director for union, Y. M. C. A. administrator, labor news service editor, member of county school board, publicity director for union, editor of labor song book, teachers and directors for workers' service projects, W. P. A.; and officers of local unions.

ADMINISTRATION, MAINTENANCE AND SUPPORT

ADMINISTRATION: The Executive Council of the Highlander Folk School consists of leading representatives of both the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., and the teaching staff. The teaching, direction, and control of the school are in the hands of the staff and of labor representatives committed to the idea that democracy can best be achieved through a strong, intelligent labor movement. The School is not, and never has been, affiliated with any political organization or party.

Members of the Executive Council are:

Albert Barmett, Professor of Old Testament Literature, Scrivitt College.

Miss Lucy Randolph Jason, Southern Publicity Representative for the C.I.O.

Edward Callaghan, Vice-President of the American Federation Hosiery Workers.

George Titler, Secretary, District 19, United Mine Workers of America.
Matt Lynch, Representative of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers.
Roy Reynolds, President Chattanooga Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union.
Alton Lawrence, Southern Representative of Labor's Non-Partisan League.
Paul Re Christopherson, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council.
Bernard Borah, Southern Representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

STAFF: The staff bring to their teaching, in addition to college and professional training, their experience in the field of Southern labor as members of the American Federation of Teachers, and as organizers, writers and speakers. They receive no salaries, other than maintenance. The staff is cooperatively organized and shares equally in the control of the school.

The staff includes: Teachers;
William Cuttrick, College of the City of Nashville, Duke University.
James Lombrowski, Emory University, Columbia University, Union Theological Seminary.
Myles Horton, Cumberland University, University of Chicago.
Zilphia Horton, College of the Ozarks.
Leon Wilson, Librarian.
Claudia Lewis, Reed College, Bank Street Cooperative School for Teachers. Nursery School Director.
Mary Lawrence, Duke University. Community Worker.
Louise Dichman, Vassar College. Office Secretary.
Louise Donkling, Oberlin College. Office Secretary.

SUPPORT: The School is run on a cooperative basis. Students and staff share in the household work; hence, every penny of the yearly contributions is devoted to the actual maintenance of the School and its year-round program of residence terms, and community and extension work.
Contributors are unions, religious groups, student bodies, educational foundations, and over nine hundred liberal men and women throughout the country. Scholarships are maintained by several international unions; and by individual contributors, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The school work would be impossible without the moral and financial support of progressive citizens. They believe with the School that if democracy is to survive the onslaughts of the anti-democratic forces spreading in the world today, the great majority of our people must learn how to exercise their rights most capably and wisely through the democratic process.

ENDORSEMENTS. The School is proud of the roster of illustrious leaders, both National and Southern, who endorse its work. Amongst the prominent representatives of organized labor —

Dr. George S. Counts; President, American Federation of Teachers, A. F. of L:

"I have every confidence in the Highlander Folk School as an institution thoroughly devoted to the interests of working people and the cause of American Democracy."

John L. Lewis; President, United Mine Workers of America, C.I.O.:

"I think that the School is performing a noteworthy task in the field of liberal and useful education, and that real recognition is due for the generous and effective support which it gives to the struggle of labor in the South."

Amongst the well-known educators —

Dr. John Dewey:

"When the Highlander Folk School was founded, I wrote that I regarded it as one of the most important social-educational projects in America. The achievements of the School in the past eight years confirm my original judgment."

Dr. William S. Knickerbocker, Professor at the University of the South, and editor of the SEWANEE REVIEW:

"... the Highlander Folk School is rendering an important and indispensable service in its nursery school, its relief assistance, its intelligent scrutiny of political and social conditions, and in most of its proposals for the elimination of removable abuses and the introduction of more tolerable conditions of living."

In the Church —

Reverend Reinhold Niebuhr:

"One of the most interesting experiments in labor education in America."

Reverend Marshall Wingfield, Memphis Pastor, Moderator of the Tennessee Conference of Congregational Churches and Historian in Chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans:

"... I know the School is doing an excellent and much needed work in this area."

Amongst our Neighbors —

Miss May Justus, public school teacher, author, and holder of a Rosenwald Fellowship:

"I am glad to say that I know of much good the Highlander Folk School has done in our community, both in an educational and altruistic way. They have proved their friendship, especially to the poor and needy, rendering material assistance in many cases when none else was available."

Mrs. C. P. Starr, President of the P. T. A.:

"... they are an asset to this community."

In Workers Education —

Mark Starr, Educational Director, International Ladies Garment Workers Union:

"The trade unions of the South need workers' education to increase their power and use it wisely. Highlander Folk School deserves support because it provides that workers' education."

Hilda Smith, Director Workers Service Program, Works Progress Administration:

"The Highlander Folk School is making an unusual contribution to worker's education. It has set a pattern in community relations through a workers' school and is doing much to give courage to industrial and rural workers who are concerned with raising standards of living and developing educational programs among workers' groups."
In Labor Organizations —

1940 Annual Convention of the C. I. O.;

"... resolved that this organization endorse the ideas and program of the Highlander Folk School."

RESOLUTION, NASHVILLE TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL, (A. F. of L.)

"... The Council expresses confidence in the fundamental soundness of the objectives of this labor school."

Reference report of Knoxville, Tennessee, dated April 10, 1941 reveals that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was chartered under the laws of the State of Tennessee on January 31, 1934. The school was chartered by LYLES HORTON, ELIZABETH HAYES, JAMES DOLBEROWSKI, RUPERT HAMPTON and MALCOLM GISHOLM. In this report the members of the Executive Committee of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL are also set out. The information in report was obtained from the February 1941 issue of the Highlander Fling, the official publication of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. In addition to the members of the Executive Committee, the February 1941 issue of the Highlander Fling listed two more members, namely, Dr. GEORGE MAYHEW, Professor of Religion, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, and JOE DOBBS, Plumbers Union, A. F. of L., Chattanooga, Tennessee. The names of all the members of the Executive Committee of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL were checked against the indices of the Knoxville Field Office. Nothing of interest was found concerning ALBERT BARNETT, GEORGE TITLER or Dr. GEORGE MAYHEW. In a letter to the Director dated October 13, 1941 from the Memphis Field Office, entitled Public Relations Representative for the C. I. O. (Knoxville File No. 44-2) it is mentioned that has the reputation of being a communist and agitator. In report of Special Agent Knoxville, Tennessee, dated July 28, 1940, in case entitled "Communist Party of United States, Treason" (Knoxville File No. 61-22-8)
In the report of Special Agent, dated August 19, 1941, it is indicated that the former husband of Mrs. E. H. C. HAWES has been reported as a communist by the Atlanta Field Office. Both are listed in the files of the Moline field office as communist and are now living at 354 Colsen Street, Gainesville, Florida. Mr. CARL HULL, Secretary of the Secretary to the Vice-President and General Manager, Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company, Tracy City, Tennessee, furnished this office with an article from the January 17, 1936, issue of the Memphis News-Scimitar concerning the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. This article describes the Social and Economic condition of the South. It will be placed in the file in the Knoxville Field Division on the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.

This pamphlet is entitled "The Social and Economic condition of the South." It is printed by the U.S. Printing Office and the information was prepared by the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. November 1938. The pamphlet is on file in the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. It is to be noted that Mrs. HAWES has been reported as a communist by the Atlanta Field Office. Both are listed in the files of the Moline field office as communist and are now living at 354 Colsen Street, Gainesville, Florida. Mr. CARL HULL, Secretary of the Secretary to the Vice-President and General Manager, Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company, Tracy City, Tennessee, furnished this office with an article from the January 17, 1936, issue of the Memphis News-Scimitar concerning the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL as a seat of cooperative teaching and says that Memphis had its formal introduction to this new social-economic form when Toyohiko Kagawa came from Japan to lecture at Memphis. KAGAWA was quoted as saying that cooperation is the solution through Christianity to the world's ills and the article indicated that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was teaching this doctrine. The article related that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was established on a thirty-five acre plot of ground in Grundy County, Tennessee, which was donated by Dr. LILLIAN JOHNSON of Memphis, Tennessee. Dr. JOHNSON was said to be a Director of the School. The article continued that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was growing tomatoes and canning them cooperatively; that the women have a cooperative sewing society and that forty families were taking part in the program. The article indicated that plans were being made to establish a furniture factory under the guidance of an expert furniture maker who has lived in the community for years. The article further stated that the personnel of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is Socialist, at least in outlook and purpose if not in letter and that all members of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL staff were trained Christian workers. Leading the little group at HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is MYLES HAMPTON who is the seventh generation of Hightons in Tennessee and who graduated from Cumberland University in 1928, has been Y. M. C. A. secretary, studied at the School of Religion of the University of Chicago and Union Theological Seminary in New York and spent a year in one of the highly developed folk schools in Denmark. Two outstanding musicians are included in the personnel of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, namely, MRS. MYLES HAMPTON, former Paris, Arkansas girl and RUPERT HAMPTON, General Director of work. RUPERT HAMPTON is described as a native of Nebraska, his father was from Georgia. HAMPTON spent three years at Nebraska Wesleyan and three years at the School of Sacred Music of the Union Theological Seminary. HAMPTON earned his living as a church organist while he was in New York. Another member of the staff is DR. JAMES ANDERSON DOMROWSKI.

DR. DOMROWSKI was born in Florida with a Polish father and English mother, he served in the Royal Flying Corps during the World War, and was once a student pastor at the University of California. Directing the cooperative work of the school is MISS BERTHE DANIEL, former Osceola, Missouri girl, who has taught English for seven years and who was a graduate of the University of Missouri. Extension work of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is under the direction of Mrs. ZILLA HAWES DANIEL, graduate of Vassar and of Brockwood Labor College.

Mrs. DANIEL is an organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. The article indicated that Mr. and Mrs. DANIEL had built their home on the campus of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. They were joined in this by Mr. and Mrs. JOSEPH BARTON who came to Sumnerfield, Tennessee from Elsinore in Denmark and who also built a new home on the campus. Mr. and Mrs. BARTON spent seven years in the cooperative movement in the Scandinavian countries. The article indicated that all but one of the workers at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL are southerners and all of them have come from the ranks of those who must labor to live; every one of them earned his or her way through college. The article indicated that FRANCIS GALVIN, labor leader and first vice president of the United Textile Workers, as well as The Southern Tenant Farmers Union, had endorsed the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. The article continued that the demand for labor leaders in the South had made it possible to offer $100.00 scholarships to twelve men during the months of January and February 1936. Those interested in such scholarships were advised to telephone Dr. LILLIAN JOHNSON, 7-0679, Memphis, Tennessee, or write to her at No. 11, 25 South McClenan Street, Memphis, Tennessee.

mimeographed sheet dated June 1, 1941 which is a copy of the resolution adopted by the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council at their second annual convention in Chattanooga, Tennessee, May 31 to June 1, 1941, reiterating its endorsement of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL as a center for workers education. The resolution went further and stated that any attack on the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL by an individual or organization will be regarded as an attack on the organized labor movement and such individual or organization would brand themselves as enemies of organized labor in Tennessee and the South. This mimeographed sheet will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Office.

mimeographed sheet on certain courses taught at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. Three of these courses were Public Speaking, Table of Rules and Note-taking for Minutes of a Meeting. Table of Rules about Motions set out rules of parliamentary procedure as applied to a union meeting. The above mimeographed course were concerned entirely with their subject matter two mimeographed booklets prepared by HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL that are numbers one and two of a series of six called "THE UNION PRIMER". These will be photographed. Booklet No. 1 is entitled "Why We Need A Union", is four pages long on eight and one-half by fourteen inch paper. This booklet gives a definition of a trade union and the benefits of the union. It contends that the industrial barons speak through the political newspapers, through magazine writers, radio commentators and even preachers. Bulletin No. 2 concerns "How the Union Works". It is also four pages long and is on the same size paper as Bulletin No. 1. This booklet describes the organization and benefits of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of American. SINNER HILLMAN is President of this Union and "THE ADVANCE" is the publication of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and points out how the ACTW obtains unemployment insurance and cooperative housing. The ACTW operates two banks, namely the Amalgamated Trust and Saving Bank founded in Chicago in 1922 and the Amalgamated Bank of New York founded in 1923. It is to be noted that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL maintains an account in the Amalgamated Bank of New York.

Under "The Marks of a Good Union Man or Woman" the bulletin has the following to say: "The union wants members who seek nothing for themselves and everything for their fellowmen. It has always been true that those who seek to help the common people have been badly treated by the big and selfish interest of the world. It was true when Moses led his fellow sufferers out in the first strike in Egypt. It was true when a lowly carpenter of Nazareth was threatened and was nailed to a tree because he went about 'stirring up the people' ".

Both booklets No. 1 and 2 are written in a factual, scientific, effective manner concerning the subject matter and there is nothing in either booklet that isn't within the realm of labor literature. Booklet No. 1 indicates that the remaining booklets in the Union Primer series are as follows: No. 3, The Union; No. 4, Industrial Unions; The C. I. O.; No. 5, Religion and the Labor Movement; No. 6, Democracy or Fascism. This booklet indicated that single copies of any listed in the Primer series could be obtained for 10¢ a copy from the Secretary of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL at Monteagle, Tennessee; any three listed would be 25¢ and the whole series would cost 50¢.

This mimeographed sheet concerning "Materials and Methods in Workers Education" which was obtained will be retained in the file of the Knoxville Office, and is set out as follows:

Application blank for admission to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, which will be photographed. This application requires that a health certificate signed by a Doctor be submitted with it and the applicant must agree to do two hours maintenance work daily. The application then asks if the applicant can afford to pay $50.00 toward the cost of board and tuition or whether it would be necessary for the applicant to have a full scholarship covering expenses. Personal data such as age, size, race, marital status, number of dependents, parents trade, applicants trade, political affiliations and preference and what papers, magazines and books applicant has read recently will be required to be set out. The application asks the name of the organizations to which applicant belongs, length of membership, offices held and activities connected connected with labor in which applicant has engaged. The applicant is also asked if he can get his organization's endorsement. The applicant is then asked the amount of schooling he has had, whether he is willing to place the welfare of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and its students above his personal interest, how he heard about the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and what his plans are after leaving the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. The applicant must write a letter about his background and labor activities telling where he has worked and why he wishes to attend the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, and must give the names and addresses of two references, one of which must be a union member.

A pamphlet entitled "How can a Union Plan its Program" published by the William Roy Smith Memorial Fund, 1422 R. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. This pamphlet describes itself as the story of a union workshop program developed by Local 1874, Textile Workers Organizing Committee, Cumberland, Md. In its preface, this pamphlet explains that the William Roy Smith Memorial Fund was given by Mrs. William Roy Smith in memory of her husband. Mrs. Smith donated $8,000.00 to this fund to be used by experimental in the field of workers education. The William Roy Smith Memorial Committee was organized in 1938. It lists seven workshops conducted in workers organizations or in resident workers school which it has initiated or given financial support. These workshops are listed as follows:

Steel Workers Organizing Committee,
Baltimore, Md.

Textile Workers Organizing Committee, Cumberland, Md.

Federal Worker's School,
Washington, D. C.

Southern School for Workers,
Ashville, N. C.
School for Office Workers,
Chicago, Illinois.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL,
Monteagle, Tennessee.

Sponsoring Committee for Labor Education Services
New York City, N. Y.

This pamphlet concerns the setting up of educational and recreational committees in labor unions.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent
Knoxville, Tennessee, dated June 1, 1941, wherein it is reported that LINES HORTON had gone to the Monteagle, Tennessee postoffice and had given the following list of students for the Spring term, May 12, to May 24:

BILLY CAVINESS
SINNAY PITTERBURG
JOSL LATHENS
PAUL KINNI
FELIX GAILENET
GATHA LEE LEE
HAZEL DEMENT
ALVIN SCHRAZ
JEANNIE SPENCER
WILLIAM DAVIS

Subsequently this office obtained a mimeographed booklet from
C. H. KILLY, containing twenty-six pages, entitled "The South Tomorrow" published by the students of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL who attended the spring term in May 1941. This booklet is in the same order as "We Know the Score" which will be set out in a subsequent part of this report. This booklet is being retained in the files of the Knoxville Office. "The South Tomorrow" contains articles written by thirteen different students, which are written in the style of autobiographies in which the student tells about himself and his experiences in working and in organizing workers into unions. No attempt is being made to set out this entire booklet and only so much of the article is given as to identify the student writing the article, however, in cases where the student writing the article is indicated to be radical or uses language usually associated with communists, these parts of the articles are quoted.
In case any Field Office has files on any of the student appearing in this booklet, this office, upon request, will supply any additional information concerning any student that is not already set out. Those articles and the students writing them are set out as follows:
The J. R. Watkins Company versus the CIO

Billie Caviness

Billie Caviness is Financial Secretary, Local # 4, UCAPTA, (CIO), Memphis, Tennessee. This article concerns the organizing of the employees of the J. R. Watkins Medical Company, Memphis, Tennessee.

The Metal Miners Move Forward

J. R. (Joe) Watters

J. R. (Joe) Watters – International Mine, Mill and Smelter Worker's Local # 123, Bessemer, Alabama. This article concerns the organizing of the employees of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, Bessemer, Alabama.

My Story

Felix (Bee Bee) Caillouet

Felix Caillouet, Recording Secretary, United Construction Workers Organizing Committee, local # 198, New Orleans, Louisiana. This article concerns the organizing of employees in a plant making interior insulation board and roofing material in New Orleans, La.

That We have Gained Under our CIO Contract

Alvin Schulz

Alvin Schulz, Recording Secretary United Sugar Workers, Local # 1095, New Orleans, La. This article concerns organizing workers in Louisiana.

Each Side as I See Them

William (Red) Davis

William Davis, Inland Boatman Division, National Maritime Union, Memphis, Tennessee. In this article Davis mentioned that in December 1940 he slipped on the steamer "Minnesota" and that in April 1941 the employees of the "Minnesota" elected him to attend the American Peace Mobilization in New York City on April 5 and 6 and paid all of his expenses. Davis stated that he had obtained his education through organized labor and that he felt that he had had the members of his union something. Davis related that since he had obtained his education and had tried to teach his fellow union members what he had learned he has been called a "Red" and one time when he was out of his room someone slipped in and put a picture of J. Stalin over by bunk and "started calling me Comrade".

How I am Getting Started in the Labor Movement

Hazel Behonna

Hazel Behonna, Recording Secretary, United Sugar Workers, New Orleans, Louisiana. This article mentioned that Lawrence came from the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL to New Orleans to educate union members and was instrumental in getting Hazel Behonna to attend the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL.
Experiences of a Union Man

Paul Berthiaume, President, United Furniture Workers, CIO, New Orleans, Louisiana. Pertinent parts of this article are set out as follows:

"I experienced my first strike activity in the strike against the New Orleans Public Service by the AF of L in the latter part of 1929. I was twelve years old and was an active sympathizer, as nearly everyone else in the city was. Quite a few times I was in the midst of riots, throwing bricks at streetcars and policemen, also helping pile bricks along Canal Street and by the Canal Car Barn on which signs were put saying "Strikers' Ammunition". The bricks were thrown about quite often and had to be gathered all over again, and so on. In spite of the fact that people turned out as if to the Mardi Gras parade the strike was lost....

Living with workmen who were as a whole sworn against crooked politics is the reason, I think, of my being at Highlander Folk School learning to do all I can to help the working classes.

The next experience that helped my hatred of crooked politicians was in 1932 when the Veterans were staging the Bonus March to Washington. The New Orleans group got aboard some empty box cars, and an outbound freight picked them up. A very large crowd saw them off. Well, the police must have been afraid, because they didn't show up there but waited outside the city where they stopped the train, had the men get off, and sent the train away. It looked like half the New Orleans police force was there with submachine guns. The Veterans were marched to the highway and halted toward town, but soon the citizens began to get there and fell in line with the rats, singing and telling them to turn around which they did, and the police could not stop them any more....

If the men and women of the labor movement knew more about the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and its practices there would be more students applying for enrollment than the school could accommodate. This would lead to the possibility of other schools such as this. Here at Highlander a person is taken in and if he has any ability it is found for him and he is shown how to use it. We need this knowledge in order to fight the stuffed shirt bosses instead of remaining just a worker to be kicked around or fired according to the way the boss feels ... or to be led by some big mining interest into biting your own nose to spite your face, as are the company-incited people here who call themselves the Grundy County Crusaders who, on being told that the school is this and that, are bent on destroying it without stopping to think that it may be helping their own kind get better living wages for their work."
I'm Fighting, Too

Gatha Mae Lee

Gatha Mae Lee, Screen Office Employees Guild, Hollywood, California. In this article, Miss Lee went to considerable length in describing the effect that Claude Williams had on her when he came to Paris, Arkansas, as minister in the Presbyterian Church there in the latter part of the "20's". This is what Gatha Mae Lee had to say about Claude Williams and herself:

"I doubt that in very few instances has a single man, directly or indirectly, influenced as many people as he did while there and other places. Their ideals, opinions and plans for actions were shifted to a new channel of thought - and have traveled in that general direction ever since. I could not begin to estimate the number of those people, even in my own home town, but I can certainly say that each of them has contributed, in varying degrees, something very definite to the cause of working people on this earth.

What set Claude Williams apart from most others in his walk of life can be explained very simply: He realized that young people are and have been for a long time, more concerned with economic security, peace and social justice than they are with religion. They have faith in it, only as it can be applied to their practical problems. For the most part, they either don't feel or don't realize that they have to face religion; those things must be freed if they are to survive and enjoy any happiness. Claude Williams not only applied religion to their lives, but he worked with them as a brother. Any minister can glibly preach brotherhood, but the ones who practice it are a little more difficult to find - just a little!

I was not old enough at the time Claude was in Paris to understand what he was trying to do, or to directly profit from his inspiration, but there was plenty lit in the other people, especially my brother, Howard Lee, to share with me a year or so later when I became socially conscious, started reading, and doing things out for myself. . . .

I have no assurance that if Claude Williams had not come to Paris, I would have been anything more than the depressed wife of a coal miner. I am therefore particularly grateful to Claude Williams, for in this case I know of no other person who could or would have 'lit a fire under us.' Cedric Sefrara has written a book entitled 'South of God,' which tells more about this man and his work throughout the South.
I am dwelling on this at length because it was a big thing in my life — indeed the most important thing. For everything I have done since that time, or will do in the future, will be an indirect result of the teaching of this man. Of course, since that time, when I was eleven or twelve years old, I have read a great deal of proletarian literature, have been in the labor movement, and have come in contact with hundreds of other people from whom I have learned things which contributed to my education. But I think that I am not distinguished from any other person in the youth or the labor movement who does not vividly remember how he first became interested in those things, and never forgets the person or persons who started him thinking.

After graduation from high school in Paris, I went to Los Angeles, California, where I got a job as an usherette in a Fox-West Coast Theatre, and started to college.

I went to California instead of staying in the South for a number of reasons. My father and I did not see exactly eye to eye politically and on a few other points, and conditions at home were none too pleasant. I wanted to go to a liberal but inexpensive college, and had to be some place where I could work part time and make enough to live on while in school. This was not to be done in the South, or if it was I didn't find where. California presented vastly greater opportunities than Arkansas in this respect. Too, I had been there before and already knew a lot of swell people on the Coast, and thought that California would serve as a good 'training ground' in the youth movement and in labor unions.

How I first became interested among the millions of people who sell their labor for a living in this country; the problem of living became real to me. I was in the midst of what workers all over are fighting for. I knew all those things that a man must face from reading countless books on the matter. I had been sympathetic but at the same time a little confused as to what to do about it, and quite cynical . . .

I was benefited greatly by watching and taking part in the struggles of the militant unions on the West Coast, and in working with a few of the more progressive organizations there . . .

After running the Highlander Folk School, I knew better than ever before that working people all over must unite and fight to maintain the gains in economic security and civil rights that we have won; to stay out of this imperialist war; to prevent the growth of fascism in this country.
Those who oppose us are fighting just as hard—they use different methods, however; they call themselves patriotic; they are the ones trying to keep Democracy alive, they say. But the working class realizes that under the guise of these flowery phrases, democracy is being destroyed.

I am indeed grateful to Claude Williams, to my brother, to my union, to the Highlander Folk School, and the countless number of people who have contributed to my education and experience."

CLAUDE WILLIAMS, through the Institute of Applied Religion, is active in Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

My Transition

Jennie Spencer

Jennie Spencer, Recording Secretary, Textile Workers Union,
Local #11, Roanoke, Virginia. This article concerns Miss Spencer's work with the Y.W.C.A. and her experience with the American Viscose Corporation, Roanoke, Virginia. Miss Spencer mentioned meeting RUSSELL BABCOCK in 1936 in connection with her work at the Y.W.C.A. and the following is quoted from her article concerning RUSSELL BABCOCK:

"Now the war mongers of this country are having their way and have called Russell Babcock to the army. Where will they send him? What will he have to do? . . . I don't think he would think the thing to do is to go across the waters and kill human beings. How do our churches reason with sending men into a battle field to be butchered, killed; or to ask themselves the question, "Is God on my side"? Russell had taught English in Russia three years. He said that my home was equivalent to the best home in Russia. They called on him quite frequently to teach Sunday School in Russia and he did provide they would allow him to teach his style."

The Farmer is the Man

Joel Matthews

Joel Matthews, Cannery Worker and Printer, Meansville, Georgia. This article concerns a publication of a monthly entitled "The Country Parson" by a Congregational minister and Joel Matthews which was dedicated to the principle of freedom and justice, with the following platform:

"1 - Government of the people, by the people and for the people.
2 - Complete separation of church and state. 3 - Freedom of conscience, press, speech and assemblage. 4 - Economic, political, and racial justice for all.  5 - The right of every group or class to its own collective bargaining agency.  6 - Equality of all men before the state and before God.  7 - Cooperation and brotherhood in everyday life.  8 - Not a drop of American blood shed on foreign battlefields.

My Labor Experiences

Paul Winn

Paul Winn, Vice President, Goodwill Furnace Workers IUMW & SW, Wrigley, Tennessee. This article concerns the organizing of the employees of the Tennessee Products Corporation at Wrigley, Tennessee. Winn mentioned the dynamiting of a pipeline of the Tennessee Products Corporation during the strike there the latter part of 1937 and the early part of 1938 and suggested that the company had planned this dynamiting in order to blame it on the union. Winn's union paid his expenses at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL.

What HIGHLANDER means to Me

William Eldridge

William Eldridge, Carpenters Local #74, Monteagle, Tennessee. This article is short and is being quoted in its entirety, as follows:

"Being a close neighbor of Highlander Folk School and already having some ideas of what they are doing I have learned what other unions are doing through the students and teachers and their ways of attacking the bosses and grafters. I am sure I can put some of this to my use. I think all here will help put a prop under the labor movement.

I have attended the social functions for quite a time and have really enjoyed the square dances with the real old mountaineer string music and the ball games. Occasionally I hear a speaker, which are so abundant, some being very distinguished men.

May the Folk School still reap it's share and have more of these speakers, especially during school terms, to show students what kind of people endorse the school so they can talk about it back home. In this manner more people will become interested in the school and unions will send more and more students. Finally, greater steps will be taken by Labor and we will have some of the pie now instead of it all in the sky when we die."

It is to be noted that WILLIAM ELDRIIGE is the son of Mr. and Mrs. ELDRIIGE at whose home it will be subsequently reported that the Young Communist League met. C. H. KILBY also secured an affidavit from which will be subsequently set out.

On and Off the Mountain

J. D. Marlowe

J. D. Marlowe, Brotherhood of Carpenters & Joiners of America, Monteagle, Tennessee. According to J. D. MARLOWE's article, he was born on the Cumberland Mountain near Sewance, Tennessee, 1917. The pertinent part of J. D. Marlowe's article is set out as follows:

"My father worked with the N. C. & St. L. Railway. We moved around quite a bit. At the time I finished grade school, we were living at Summerfield near Monteagle, Tennessee on the Cumberland Mountain.

In 1931, Myles Horton started the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle; a school for promoting the philosophy of unionism and educating union leaders for the South. Our community was small and quite a degree of excitement was created when he came. He explained the idea of the school around the community and mountain and soon had many friends. The people gathered there to hear speakings and to discuss their own problems. Teffie, one of the staff members, called a square dance and everyone had a good time. The school soon became the intellectual and social center of the community. I was a frequent visitor to the school and became well acquainted with all the staff members. Through them I learned the philosophy of unionism.

In 1933 I went to the six weeks session at the school and attended classes as a day student. The students were from local unions in the south. After the term was over, Denham Howard, one of the students, and I went to help build a labor school like Highlander at Allardt, Tennessee. We hitch-hiked and had very good luck. We stopped at Denham's home in Wilder, Tennessee and stayed over night. Things were in a bad way there; the miners had been on strike for some time and people were starving. In fact, there was only one cow left in that district. The next day we went on to Allardt which is near Jamestown, the birthplace of Alyia Cork.

We had a fine group of people in our work camp. They were mountaineers, college students and professors; a varied group, but we all had the same interest at heart, and things ran very smoothly. We ran things on a democratic basis, and everyone worked equally. Our cook took good care of us, and kept plenty of K. P. duty on hand to be done. The school was never finished for the lack of funds.

The next two years I spent in going to public school. During vacation, I was around Highlander quite a bit. They had a good library and I read a lot — mostly about labor history, economics, and trade unions. . . .

During the winter of 1936, my brother and I went to Knoxville. On our way we stopped in Cleveland, Tennessee, where the woolen mills were on strike. The next morning with the organiza,
FRANZ DANIEL, we went on the picket line, my first experience. I was expecting a fight or two but nothing happened and I was disappointed. In Knoxville, we lived with a group of organizers and TVA office workers. We rented an apartment and did our own cooking, washing, etc.

There, we carried on an educational program for the Workers Alliance, and an organizing campaign for the steel workers. We passed out labor papers and CIO pamphlets, etc. to the workers. Some took them gladly; others tore them up and threw them on the ground. The CIO in the latter part of '37 organized and got better wages and conditions for factory workers in and around Knoxville.

In 1940, I began work in the carpenter trade in Chattanooga. I worked there until October and then went to work in Tullahoma where the Government was building an Army camp. I worked there until the camp was finished; returning to Chattanooga for a while. After this I came back home in Monteagle and started to school here at Highlander. After the school session is over I guess I will go back to Chattanooga to work. I hate to leave the mountain for this is the only place I feel like is home...

But people must eat and there aren't many jobs here. The timber has been cut out; the coal mines, all but a few, are robbed out. The living standard for the most part is very low. If all the people here are to make a decent living what are they going to do? The WPA pays $30.00 a month. There must be something better."

C. H. KILBY furnished this office with a mimeographed press release dated May 26, 1941 at Monteagle, Tennessee, the pertinent parts of which are set out as follows:

"John T. Jones, CIO legislative representative and Labor's Non-Partisan League Director, played the Vinson Bill and other anti-labor legislation in an address to Highlander Folk School students attending the spring session. Twenty-eight full and part time students from rural Georgia to the textile area of Virginia received assurance of support in the fight against the poll tax."
Among the representatives of the 15 AF of L, CIO, and unaffiliated national organizations were sugar and construction workers from New Orleans, boatmen and packing house workers from Memphis, and teachers, office workers and miners from eight states. With few exceptions, the students were officials of newly formed organizations.

The regular staff was assisted by William Eaves, regional Wage and Hour director; Hellis V. Reid, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhood and the chairman of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Paul R. Christopher, state CIO secretary; Lewis Jones, American Federation of Teachers, Fisk University; William Denton, chairman Atlanta Industrial Union Council and member of the United Automobile Workers; Margaret Lament, writer; Dr. Walter Hantenstrach, Industrial Engineering Department, Columbia University; and Alton Lawrence, Southern LMPL representative. People from the local community joined the students in evening classes, square dances, picnics and ball games. A farewell banquet and program of labor songs, puppets and plays ended the session.

The two weeks session provided an opportunity for various southern groups to get together. Eighty-one representatives of twenty-three national unions from all branches of labor met for a weekend conference on "Labor and Politics." The officials and a number of executive board members of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation were present. Among the officials of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare at the school were vice-president Virginia Durr; the farm representative, Gerald Harris of the Alabama Farmers Union; Joseph Golders, secretary of the Civil Rights Committee; and Alton Lawrence, acting secretary for the Conference. More than a score of southern organizers were also present.

The summer term of industrial, farm and office workers will begin August 16 and run for six weeks. Mrs. Roosevelt and other friends of the school have provided a limited number of scholarships. Student applications are being accepted.

As a part of Highlander's year-round program, Mary Lawrence of the staff is conducting an officers' training school for the New Orleans Industrial Council. The opening session was attended by 120 local officials. She will be assisted by four students who were selected by the Council to attend the spring session.

This press release was signed by MYLES HORTON and will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division.
The report of Paul Christopher, executive secretary and treasurer, showed remarkable progress in expanding the organization. William Turnblazer of the ULWA, was reelected president.

"PLANS LAID FOR WRITERS SCHOOL"

Highlander will hold its third annual workshop for student writers July 28 through August 9. The session will be under the direction of the school and is being sponsored by Paul Green, William S. Knickerbocker, Julia Collier Harris, Miller Brand, Babette Deutsch and Genevieve Taggard.

THE TEACHERS

Teachers will be specially assembled for this session. In charge of short story and poetry will be Lyra Lapsley, novelist, magazine writer, and former teacher of writing at Hood College.
Charles W. Ferguson, as associate editor of "The Reader's Digest" and author of "Fifty Million Brothers" and "The Confusion of Tongues" will teach non-fiction writing, including the special subjects of radio journalism and the picture story.

Lealon M. Jones, formerly of the Carolina Playmakers and a playwriting student of Paul Green and Frederick Koch, now a faculty member of Missouri State Teachers College where he directs the annual Midwestern Folk Drama Festival, will teach playwriting.

GUEST SPEAKERS

A number of well-known Southern writers, Harry Harrisc-Kroll, James Still, Ida L. Monroe, H. C. Nixon among others, have written that they will visit the school during the Workshop, their plans permitting at that time.

Those interested in enrolling should apply at once to the Workshop Director, Leon Wilson. Total cost of the session, tuition and board included, is $30.00; one week, $15.00.

"JUNIORS CAMP AT HIGHLANDER"

Twenty-three boys and girls between the ages of eight and fifteen have completed the second annual Junior Union Camp for Workers' children at Highlander, which was held during the two weeks following June 9. Zilphia Horton and Margaret Bryan were in charge of the camp. Zilphia taught folk dancing and singing; Maria Stenzel held classes in arts and crafts. The boys and girls made their own puppets under the supervision of Leon Wilson and put on Saturday night shows for all to enjoy. Harry Flesker "taught" the campers by telling them a serial story every night around a camp fire.

The Junior Camp, like everything else at the school, was run on a cooperative basis. The children had the responsibility of keeping their cabins clean, washing dishes, setting tables, keeping their clothes in good order and so on. Large amounts of sleep and good food allowed them to carry a full program and at the same time build good health and gain weight.

Tabulation of the union affiliations of the campers parents showed the following: 13 with the AFL; seven with the CIO; three unclassified.
These workers' children, who came from communities in Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia and Arkansas, returned to their homes with a rich experience in cooperative living. They understand some of the fundamentals of unionism, know how to produce short, simple skits, and have learned to sing the labor songs familiar to union people.

"WORK CAMP IS IN SESSION"

Works Camps for America, now a division of the International Student Service, is sponsoring a work camp at Highlander again this summer. The general purpose of Work Camps for America is:

"To provide young men and women with an opportunity to do useful work and to study social issues from personal experience, to encourage a deeper individual concern for the general welfare to the nation, to enlist their wholehearted support for a democracy responsive to the needs of its citizens, to promote mutual understanding among diverse economic, religious, and social groups, and to aid youth in the discovery of a personal philosophy and a social idealism which will help to carry them through the stormy period ahead."

The campers, aged 18 to 24, are drawn from all religious, economic and social groups, the majority coming from the ranks of college students.

"NEWS NOTES"

Zilphis Horton is teaching music again this year at the YWCA industrial girls' summer session, held at Camp Morrie Wood, Sapphire, N. C.

Jim Dombrowski made a speaking trip through New England during April. He appeared before the Greenfield, Mass., Central Labor Union at its annual banquet, and spoke to students at Mount Holyoke, Smith, and Amherst College.

Myles Horton was one of the speakers at the conference of Southern Mountain Workers which met in Knoxville this spring.

A 70-acre farm adjoining Highlander has been added to the school's property. It was purchased for the use of the school by Dr. Lillian W. Johnson, donor of the original site.

The Highlander personnel has been expanded by the addition of two people. Jean Oyne, who trained in nursery school work at Sarah Lawrence College, has taken charge of the Summerfield Nursery School. Harry Lasker came to Highlander after his recent graduation from the University of North Carolina.
"Democracy's Drama in the Hills," by Bevilacqua, is the story which appeared in the February issue of Social Work Today, describing recent reactionary attacks upon Highlander.

THE NEW ORLEANS PROGRAM

Mary Lawrence, Highlander extension director, is back in New Orleans where she is in the midst of conducting an educational program under the sponsorship of the Industrial Union Council. Lawrie has been in New Orleans since about April 1, except for the two weeks she returned to Highlander to teach at the two weeks term. Four officials of local unions were selected by the Council to attend the term, and already they are making use of their Highlander training by assisting with the educational program back home. Lawrie recently wrote "Tonight I met a general educational committee with the four HFS kids (apologies to Hazel, Boo Boo, Blackie, and Alvin - Lawrie didn't know this letter was for publication) as the backbone. They have already given good account of themselves, and I think they are going to be a tremendous help to us."

The New Orleans extension program began with an Officers' Training School, with 120 attending the opening meeting. Classes in public speaking and parliamentary law, union publicity, labor history, and union problems were set up, and were scheduled several times a week so as to give all who desired a chance to attend. The popularity of public speaking and parliamentary law has made it advisable in the future to separate the two, and run them both as full length classes.

The first term of the Officers' Training School ended May 9 with a speaker on the National Labor Relations Act; a panel discussion on "Taking up Grievances" with five CIO representatives participating; and a "Labor's Information, Please" contest.

At present, the New Orleans program is concentrating on an effort to help newly organized locals understand and overcome their problems. Classes in parliamentary law, public speaking, and general union education have been started for all union members on both sides of the River. A special course for shop stewards and shop committeemen on "Taking up Grievances" opened June 4. In addition, Lawrie is conducting educational programs for individual unions. The Inland Boatmen Division of the ILWU selected a small group who desire to learn how to give the membership as a whole a better understanding of their organization. The class started with an analysis of their contract. Classes in public speaking and parliamentary law are being held for the Transport Workers Union. Other unions have requested special classes.
Lawrie will return to Highlander for the six weeks term, and we hope she will bring another New Orleans delegation with her.

In an article entitled "A Day at the Nursery School" by Joan Payne, Director, it is indicated that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL reopened its nursery school for the Summerfield Community on May 12, 1941 for its third year. Joan Payne, the Director, is being assisted by Dorothy Thomas of Summerfield and twelve children ranging in age from 2½ to 6 are enrolled with five more planning to start within the next few weeks.

A mimeographed summary of the activities and a financial statement of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL for the first six months of 1941. This is signed by JAMES DOLBROSKI as Chairman. This summary will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division and is being set forth as follows:

"HIGHLANDER AT HOME"

Residence Term: Fourteen students attended the session from May 12-24. They represented six states and ten labor unions.

Fourteen more attended portions of the session as part time students.

Junior Union Camp: The camp term for workers' children was longer than last year's, and the enrollment was larger. Twenty three children of union members, ranging in age from 8-15, worked and played at Highlander from June 9-22. Among the parents of the young campers the A. F. of L. predominated by about two to one.

Labor Conferences: Labor's Non-Partisan League held its second Southern conference at the school May 16-17. Students at the spring term had the advantage of meeting eighty-one representatives of twenty-three organizations who attended, and of hearing the discussions. On June 7-8, the school became headquarters for the annual tri-state institute of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers.

In the Summerfield Community: A community garden was started under the leadership of the school, as part of the Summerfield Cooperative which is carrying on its quilt-making and developing the manufacture of clay pottery making, wood carving, drawing, and dress-making, while children took lessons in clay-modeling and puppet making.

A square dance group and a string-band of young people get together weekly up until the opening of the spring term, and the Summerfield Sacred Harp Class held sixteen meetings, under the leadership of Zilphia Horton. The traveling library in Summerfield distributed fifty-one books to adults and seventy juvenile books to children. Nineteen children from fifteen Summerville families attended the Nursery School which began its new term on May 12. Five of the neighborhood families sent their children there for the first time.

Miss Joan Payne of Sarah Lawrence College, who directs the nursery school work this year, started a series of weekly meetings for young girls in the neighborhood, for the purpose of education and recreation.

In Grundy County; The School's new traveling library distributed a total of 728 books, of which 343 were juvenile. Weekly distribution of news sheets and cartoons on unionism had to be dropped after three months because of the pressure of other work. However, the school organized a class in clay modeling in the neighboring community of Laager.

HIGHLANDER ABROAD.

Extension Work: Mary Lawrence, a member of the Highlander teaching staff, launched an educational program for the CIO Industrial Union Council in New Orleans. One hundred and twenty union members attended the opening of the officers' training School, which includes classes in labor history, parliamentary law, public speaking, publicity, and union problems. Special classes have been added as they were requested by individual unions, and the school is still carrying on this work.

Staff members helped Paul Christopher, State CIO secretary, and other labor leaders in the organizing work, both in the county and State.

MILES HORTON was elected chairman of the Education Committee of the State Convention of the CIO held in Chattanooga May 31 - June 1, and several other staff members attended the Convention. The school was also represented at the state conference on Democracy held on Lincoln's Birthday in Nashville; at the Berea College Student-Labor Conference in March; the spring conference of the Southern Mountain Workers at Knoxville; the meetings of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare Council, and the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation Council. A class in music was given at the YWCA industrial girls' summer school at Camp Merriwood, Sapphire, N. C. by Zilphia Horton, music director at Highlander Folk School.

Highlander's function as a center for progressive thought and action is attested by the large number of teachers, writers, journalists, labor leaders, government officials, social workers, and many other groups who visited the school during the past six months.

In connection with the Work Camp sponsored by the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL from June 30 to July 27, 1941, C. H. KILBY advised that Mr. STANLEY HAMPTON, official of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company, Tracy City, Tennessee, was requested by HARRY M. LASKER, a member of the staff of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL by letter dated June 26, 1941 to speak at the work camp, however, Mr. HAMPTON declined to do so. Mr. HAMPTON turned over to KILBY a printed and illustrated booklet printed by Work Camps for America, International Student Service, 8 West 40th Street, New York City. It is to be noted that the International Students Service has contributed largely to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. The above mentioned booklet and the accompanying letter from HARRY M. LASKER to STANLEY HAMPTON will be photographed and returned to C. H. KILBY.

This booklet indicates that the work camps have a program calling for a combination of work and a discussion of local economic conditions. This booklet lists five work camps, namely:

Cotton Region Work Camp
Mauldin, South Carolina

Middle Western Work Camp
Hudson, Ohio

Rural New England Work Camp
Grafton, N. H.

Wyoming Valley Work Camp
Wilkes-Barre, Penna.

Highlander Folk School
Monteagle, Tennessee

A typical work day is as follows:

Reveille 6:30 A. M.
Breakfast 7:00 A. M.
Work 8-12 Noon
Lunch 12:30 P. M.
Study and recreation (also trips to community) 2-4 P. M.
Lectures and Discussion 4-6 P. M.
Dinner 6:30 P. M.
Recreation: reading aloud, singing, folk dancing 7:30-10 P. M.

Mimeographed press release dated July 28, 1941 at Monteagle, Tennessee and drawn up by WILLIAM BUTTRICK, HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. This press release, which will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division, is set out as follows:

Monteagle, July 28 -- The Highlander Work Camp, a four-weeks term of work and study for young people, came to a close at Highlander Folk School near here yesterday. Eighteen campers completed 1,114 man-hours of work clearing land for reforestation, building a pottery wheel for a local cooperative and repairing the community nursery school building.

In addition to the daily work schedule, the members of the camp engaged in a study of the problems of this region. The educational program included a number of field trips to points in Grundy County, Copperhill, the Cherokee National Forest, and Huntsville, Ala.

Directed by Dr. James A. Dombrowski, the session was sponsored by Work Camps for America, a division of the International Student Service.
General purpose of Work Camps of America is "To provide young men and women with an opportunity to do useful work and to study social issues from personal experience, to encourage a deeper individual concern for the general welfare of the nation, to enlist their wholehearted support for a democracy responsive to the needs of its citizens, to promote mutual understanding among diverse economic, religious, and social groups, and to aid youth in the discovery of a personal philosophy and a social idealism which will help to carry them through the stormy period ahead".

Nearly 800 American Youths are attending work camps this summer according to the NEW YORK TIMES of July 20, participating in a movement which has been growing in this country since the first camp was held in 1933 by the American Friends Service Committee.

This year's is the third work camp at Highlander Folk School. The Friends conducted one here in 1938 and Work Camps for America had another in 1940.

A prospectus prepared by the Highlander Folk School announcing a six weeks summer term from August 18 to September 27, 1941, which was open to Southern men and women recommended by rural or industrial organizations. This summer term was to include the following courses:

Union Problems
Labor History Economics Journalism
Public Speaking
Parliamentary Law
Mimeographing and Posters
Dramatics
Music and Recreation

This prospectus will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division.

A mimeographed booklet containing 29 pages, entitled "We Know the Score", prepared by the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. This booklet is described as the story of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL students of August 17 to September 27, 1941 (Fall term 1941) This booklet will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division.
"We Know the Score" is on the same order as "The South Tomorrow" prepared by the students of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL for the spring term 1941. This booklet will be handled in the same way as "The South Tomorrow". There are articles written by fourteen different students in "We Know the Score". These articles and their authors are as follows:

Farm Boy

Stephen King

Stephen King, Business Agent and Secretary-Treasurer, United Construction Workers Organizing Committee, Local 198, New Orleans, La. This article mentioned that MARY LAWRENCE helped organize the workers at the Celotex Corporation, New Orleans, La.

How I Became Interested in the Labor Movement

Barney Morel

Barney Morel, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, Branch 65, New Orleans, La. This article concerns the organizing of the employees of the Alden Hosiery Mills, New Orleans, La. It also mentions MARY LAWRENCE.

Three or Four Things About Martin Butz

Martin Butz

Martin Butz, Recording Secretary, United Construction Workers Organizing Committee, Local 260, New Orleans, Louisiana. This article concerns the organizing of the Johns Manville Plants, New Orleans, La. Martin Butz was born September 25, 1914 at McDonoughville, La. His mother died when he was seven years of age; on February 3, 1924, he was placed in the St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, which is a Catholic institution. On October 12, 1925, he was sent to the Hope Haven Home for Boys where he stayed until June 3, 1934. From his article it is apparent that he has had a hard time making a living and is strong for the CIO, however, his article tends to indicate that although he is strong for labor unions, he does not believe in any radical change in our form of Government.

My Life

Helen Delaneuville

Helen Delaneuville, United Sugar Workers, Local 1124, New Orleans, La. This article concerns the organizing of the employees of the Sugar Refinery at Reserve, La. Miss Delaneuville states that the sugar workers were making 30¢ per hour and suggested that the sugar workers strike just before grinding time in mid October when the sugar has to be ground right away or spoil. She made the following statement: "I think while the Defense Program is on the workers should get all they can get because when the war is over the worker's wages will be cut. They aren't getting anything now — what is 30¢ an hour? If you cut thirty cents you wouldn't have anything."
I Changed My Mind

Alvin Green, American Federation of Hosiery Workers, Branch 65, New Orleans, Louisiana. This article concerns organizing Hosiery Workers. Green mentions that he was once prejudiced against unions connected with the CIO because he thought that it was communisticly controlled but that he has changed his mind now.

My Viewpoint as a Worker

T. G. Vanlandingham, United Auto Workers, Local 903, Memphis, Tennessee. This article concerns the signing of a contract with the union by the Ford Plant at Memphis, Tennessee. Vanlandingham's article was very temperate and it sounded as though he is conservative and American in his views. An article that appeared in the Chattanooga Times dated at Monteagle, Tennessee, August 28, 1941, is in the files of the Knoxville Office. This article indicated that the scholarship offered by Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was awarded to T. G. VANLANDINGHAM and that VANLANDINGHAM and his wife were at the time of the article, attending a six weeks summer session. The article further indicated that last year the Eleanor Roosevelt scholarship was awarded to EXPLAIR who is now on a southern organizing staff concerning Southern Mill Workers.

A Bit of My Life

Margaret Vanlandingham, Memphis, Tennessee, is the wife of THEO VANLANDINGHAM. She devoted her article to her experience working for a ten-cents store.

Ups and Downs on the River

Arthur Lynch, National Maritime Union, Memphis, Tennessee. This article concerns organizing workers on the Mississippi River.

They Really Count

Durward McDaniel, Norman, Oklahoma. This article concerns conditions in the oil field of Oklahoma and the organizing of oil workers. Apparently McDaniel lost his eye-sight in an explosion in the oil fields.

A Little About Colombia and Myself

Juan Silva Garcia, Secretario General Del Sindicato De Correspondencias y Telegrafes, Bogota, Colombia. This article concerns the progress of Colombia with social legislation, the progress of labor unions in Colombia and Garcia's experience as General Secretary of the postal and telegraphic workers. Garcia said that he was going to inform the Minister of Labor in Colombia in great detail concerning the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and the important job it is doing in the education of the American workers. Garcia received a scholarship for the Highlander Folk School in the name of the Pan American Union.

Morton Davis, Memphis, Tennessee, wrote two articles, namely, "One Captain Only" and "The 'Lake Scottom' ". The following excerpt is from Morton Davis' article entitled "One Captain Only"

"The progressive labor organizations of this country have done a great job in throwing the yoke off the laboring class. But it is only the beginning. The greater work is yet to be done.

We all realize that this present prosperity is caused by the war; that the unemployment situation is in reality still critical. And we know that the longer the war goes on the more labor will be expected to sacrifice.

Although the competitive capitalistic system of the United States works untold hardships upon the working man, I do not propose a change of government. This country is still being run by the people. They seem to be running it into the ground, but they are still running it. It is up to the people to unite and try to run it in a way more suitable to all the people, not just the few.

We should have a nation-wide educational program for the working people. They should be taught that by rights the people own the coal mines, the railroads, and the industries; that the capitalists acquired them by bribery, fake land grants, and many other corrupt ways. How they acquired them is now water over the dam. It is up to the people to collect what is theirs in wages.

Lincoln said 'Revolutionize through the ballot box', and in another speech: 'Every working man should unite'. The freedom to work at will and to obtain power and wealth has been afforded every man, and ambitious men have made this the greatest producing country in the world. Of course there is a considerable amount of exploitation, but that is what unions are for; to counteract the exploitation of the industrialists and capitalists."

Davis then talked about working on boats and the coming of the National Maritime Union (CIO) and the resulting improvement of conditions. Davis then continues:

"The C. I. O. has fought its way to power against tough opposition. The capitalists, with the aid of the newspapers, fought the unions with all the fury imaginable. Yet the unions moved forward rapidly."
"The C. I. O. has grown strong — too strong for anyone who doesn't have the welfare of the working man at heart. The C. I. O. will stay powerful as long as it has to keep fighting. In the days to come it is going to have a long, hard fight. I'll string along with the C. I. O. as long as it is condemned and persecuted by the rich."

My Ideas About Today

Philip Fallick

Phillip Fallick, New York, New York. In this article Philip Fallick says that he was born poor and for the greater part of his life has lived poorly. He was born in the slums of Manhattan but when he was three years old, his family moved to another section of New York that was an improvement over the place where he was born but was still a poor section. The pertinent part of Fallick's article is set out as follows:

"Until I was fourteen the biggest weekly income my family ever had at any time was twenty-five dollars.

My school career was average. I passed and failed subjects just as most of the others did. I did not take a real interest in school till my second year in high school. At this time I got a job selling the NEW YORK TIMES to the students. Handling this paper every day of the week made me pay some attention to the news of the world, nation, and city.

At this time I also began to get a crop of the better, more liberal teachers. I became interested in labor. One day I saw two old men fighting in the street. I rushed over to see what it was all about. One of the men told me the other was a scab and had taken his job. It was here that I did a very stupid thing, one that I have since regretted. I tried to stop that fight.

I'm glad though that there were others there who pushed me away and let the scab get what he deserved. For making me do this stupid thing I can thank the newspapers, the radio, the schools of New York.

In time I became fairly well acquainted with the true picture of the struggle labor is going through. I became the liberal member of my family. It was (and still is) quite common to hear in my house something like this: 'That dirty union leader -- he should only drop dead'. These things are said especially loud whenever I am home. But I don't give a darn. I hope that someday they will learn the truth."
I see in this world today a struggle between the forces of evil and the millions of people opposed to those forces. I consider as the evil forces all of those who continually try to beat down the other group and who try in many ways to make those people subject to the rule of themselves. In this class I include the Nazis, Fascists, gangsters, crooked politicians, 'Lords of the Press' and last but not least the rich employers who are always attempt to destroy democratic labor unions.

I remember but a short time back the Yugoslav people overthrowing the government that was about to make them subject to the rule of Hitler, and I remember too the strike which the employees of millionaire Ritchie's bus company called in order to get a decent standard of living. Both these acts were part of the fight of the peoples of this world against Fascism. In the case of Yugoslavia we see the part of Fascism called tyranny. In the bus strike we see the part called inequality.

The strikers and the Yugoslavs were fighting for democracy, for the right to better one's living standards. Both groups refused to be pushed around, both were standing up for their rights. Both fights were equally important.

Many more examples can be given of people refusing to be bullied. The battle now being fought by the British, the Russian, the Chinese, the victories won by the Ford, Bethlehem, and Republic Steel employees, the underground battle the conquered but not beaten peoples of occupied countries are fighting -- all these are the great illustrations of the determination of the masses throughout the world to revolt against tyranny.

I believe that no matter how long the struggle lasts, victory for the masses is certain. As soon as it becomes the power behind the government then we will have government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The Way I Look at It

Jim Riggle

Jim Riggle, American Newspaper Guild, Corpus Christi, Texas.

This article concerns Riggle's experience in writing for various newspapers in the country and with Mr. M. KING, Secretary-Treasurer of the Industrial Union Council of Corpus Christi. The following pertinent part of Riggle's article are quoted:

"When I finished high school I started traveling for different newspapers. I shifted to different parts of the country: Nebraska, Chicago, then back to Kansas, then Missouri. I began to realize that the cards are stacked against the masses. I began to realize that no matter how hard a person tried, it seemed that he could only go so far in improving his standard of living. It seemed that if you did accumulate anything or had obligations the boss knew about it and you were kept down. No matter how hard you tried to forge ahead you were stopped one way or another. After a time I got my bellyful of the phony setup people have to live under and I came to the conclusion that the only way to better living conditions is to work in a group and be so organized that you can demand your wants from the so-called big-shots that we are forced to work for. . . .

I believe in the labor movement. Everybody has to work. No one's ever going to give you anything. You have to fight for what you get. As long as you're on this ball of mud you might as well get all you honestly can. You don't know where you're going when you get out of here. I believe your heaven and hell are right here on earth; you might as well have as much heaven as you can."

Learning the Score

Bettye Goldstein

Bettye Goldstein, Peoria, Illinois, was born in Peoria in 1921. She is Jewish; her father was a business man. Miss Goldstein commented extensively on the fact that 99% of the people in Peoria lived in the lower end of Peoria and 1% lived on the Bluff. Miss Goldstein lived on the Bluff. She stated that she had never met any of the 99% and stated that in the Junior High School they were separated. Most of the lower end children went on to Manual Training School and on the bluff you went to Peoria High School. The following pertinent parts of Miss Goldstein's article is set out as follows:

"When I was sixteen I wrote a composition called "Education for the Masses". I pointed with scorn to the sterility, the inadequacy, the pompous pretensions of American public school education. I described with cynicism the influence of the movies, radio, advertising. These things were respected by most people. They were considered right and beneficial. I questioned them, doubted their value. I looked around at the people who are products of the radio, motion picture, and advertising culture.

You run into trouble if you question things that are accepted as right and proper. When I asked too many questions the last year I went to Sunday school the rabbi took me aside and told me that I would understand better when I was older. When we wanted to carry an article on social diseases in our school magazine, or an article on the defects of our educational system, or questioning the value of high school fraternities, the authorities clamped a board of censors on us.

I got into the habit of not believing things. I began to understand that the things you were told were devices to keep you from thinking. I got into arguments with my family, got a reputation of being a radical. If I didn't know the score, at least I was beginning to realize I needed to know it.

Until a year ago labor was no more than a word to me. Considering my background and the nature of education in this country this was not unusual. My father's friends own the distilleries and banks and office buildings of Peoria. To them the profit of the employer is a sacred right, the just reward of the risks of management. The employer looks out for the welfare of his employees -- they should be grateful. It they try to organize they are being greedy, they are trying to steal what does not belong to them. If they were any good to begin with they wouldn't be workers. This is a free country: any man can be a Henry Ford. (I've heard my father's friends say things like this often) At the time of the Michigan sit-down strikes they thought Roosevelt should send in troops. Private property was being destroyed. Revolution and anarchy were rearing their heads. My mother and father think Roosevelt is a great man but they never dared say they were going to vote for him in the last election. Their community was rabidly for Wilkie. Roosevelt, they said, was leading the nation into socialism.

I went to Smith College at Northampton, Massachusetts. I learned all the arguments against things. I studied political theories and criticisms of political theories. I read Marx and Weber, Steinbeck and Dos Passos. I read accounts of the Spanish Civil war and analyses of capital and its by-products. Theories and facts and figures are interesting things to think and talk about, but thinking and talking do not lead to much action.

While I felt I was ready to accept the case against capitalism and its culture, I still knew nothing of the labor movement in the United States. I knew that something called C. I. O. existed, but I didn't even know what the initials stood for. I studied the history of these last ten years in France, Germany, Spain, Japan, China, Russia. I learned how Fascism came and what it meant. So, without knowing much about it, I knew I was for the labor movement in America. I knew I was counting on it to prevent Fascism.
mimographed press release dated Monteagle, Tennessee, September 29, 1941 and signed by Dalice Probert, HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. Both of these mimographed press released will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division, and the pertinent part of this press release is set out as follows:

"Sixteen union members returned to locals throughout the South as the six-weeks residence term at the Highlander Folk School ended Sept. 26th. Among the students was John Garcia from Columbia, South America, second student sent by the Pan-American Union to help develop good will in the Americas. The students received practical training in union leadership. Five week-end conferences were attended by a total of 156 representatives of the AF of L and CIO Unions. Conference leaders were: Richard Overall, educational director, International United Automobile Workers; Telvorten Cowherd, regional CIO director, Birmingham; H. N. Wilson, Tennessee Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers representative; and Alton Lawrence Southern Labor's Non-Partisan League representative.

A daily schedule of classes and discussions were led by the staff, visiting officials, and the students themselves...

Discussion groups were led by: Dr. Fleming, Dean, Theological Seminary, University of the South, Sewanee; George Stoney, Farm Security Administration; William Swes, regional Wage and Hour director; Paul Christopher, Sec-Treas. Tennessee Industrial Union Council; and Frank Coffin, Social Security Board. Among the students were hosiery workers, boatmen, a secretary, a sugar refinery worker, construction workers, a newspaper employee, and auto worker, and a postal employee. Living at the school for a week was Kong Xi, rural YWCA secretary from China. . .

Frank Dore, regional CIO director, New Orleans, and Allen McNeil, southern representative of IUOB, conducted a week-end conference on workers' education. For the five New Orleans students the term was an extension of the educational program started there four months earlier by Highlander. Mary Lawrence, of the Highlander Staff, has returned to New Orleans to continue the program with the assistance of the students selected to study at Highlander. Similar workers' education programs are being mapped out for Memphis and Bessemer, Ala.
Other speakers were: Mike Smith, Tennessee director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; M. G. Anderson, IUUM&SW representative; Joe Dobbs, Chairman Organizing Committee Chattanooga Central Labor Union; Hugh Rankin, United Mine Workers of American district representative; Bethel Codd, UAW representative, Memphis; O. A. Baxter, sub-regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, Chattanooga; Matty Lynch, American Federation of Hosiery Workers representative; Fred Schmidt, Textile Workers Union representative; Rosanne Walker, Retail and Wholesale Clerks representative, Philadelphia; John Douche, CIO representative, New Orleans; Frank Allen, IUUM&SW representative; and Edward Wood, International American Newspaper Guild representative, Birmingham.

It is to be noted that the HOMER WILSON mentioned in the above Press Release was one of the CIO organizers who was flogged at Harriman, Tennessee. (Knoxville File # 44-9).

Mimeographed letter addressed to the Alumnus of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL dated July 22, 1941 at Monteagle, Tennessee. WILLIAM TRELICK signed the letter, which was sent out for the purpose of obtaining information concerning the activities of all former students of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL in anticipation of the celebration of the Tenth Anniversary of the School. This letter will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division. All the Alumnus of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL were requested to fill out and return an enclosed blank, which requested that the Alumnus furnish information concerning labor activities, community organizations, government work, and any other kind of work, studies, or significant activities conducted by the Alumnus of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is presently in the process of mimeographing a directory of the students of that school, in which a short biography will be given of each student. This directory has not been completed as yet will endeavor to obtain one of these directories for this office when it is finished.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL sent out a letter dated September 25, 1941 to all its Alumnus concerning the third yearly reunion to be held at that school from November 28, through November 30, 1941. All former students were to be guests of the School. More details were to be announced in three weeks. This letter was signed by MIHÁL TRENZEL, Alumni Secretary.
to be noted that WILLIAM EAVES spoke at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL on September 16, 1941 on "Check up" in Saw Mill and other industries. Reporting Agent was in Tracy City, Tennessee on September 16, 1941 and through C. H. KILBY, obtained a circular put out by the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL concerning the talk by WILLIAM EAVES. Accompanying this circular was another circular announcing that the regular six week's term would come to an end but a special two weeks term, September 14, to September 27 would be held so that those unable to attend the full six weeks course could attend the last two weeks. The courses were: Public Speaking, Dramatics, Parliamentary Law, Union Problems, Union Publicity and Labor Legislation. Total cost for the full two weeks was $14.00, however, a limited number of scholarships were available. The latter circular also announced a national institute to be held at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL on September 21 and 22. J. F. CMUITE, Southern Director, Louisiana and A. D. MCNVIL, International Representative here, Bill and Smoiler Workers were to appear for this week-end institute. All local unions in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Kentucky were urged to send delegations to spend the week-end. Both of the above circulars will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Office.

not any of the students who have attended HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL in the past have come from Grundy County, Tennessee. The graduates of HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL obtain jobs as labor organizers and that every student whom he knows who went to HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL has a job. MYLES HORTON is in a position to get a man with ability as a labor organizer a job. In fact HORTON can place more men that are graduates of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and when all of the graduates of the summer term at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL had been taken up, HORTON still had an order for eight labor organizers for District 50 of the CIO. GEORGE TITLER, a member of the Executive Committee of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is President of District 50 of the CIO. At the end of the summer term, HORTON was looking around for men with ability for labor organizers to take these jobs and was considering people who had never even attended the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. The fall school term that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL will hold at the school building at Monticello, Tennessee, this year ended September 27, 1942. The next term will be held sometime after the first of next year, maybe in March, however, it might be May or June of next year before another session will be held at Monticello, Tennessee.

On September 24, 1941, the Birmingham Field Office telephoned this office and advised that in connection with the strike then being held against the Birmingham Post at Birmingham, Alabama, he had obtained from a confidential source of information that YELVERTON COWHERD, an attorney at Birmingham, Alabama, and a union organizer, T. C. McVEA, an attorney and union organizer, JEAN ROYER, EDSELFER and HAROLD SELFER, the latter being a writer for the Birmingham Post and a leader of the strike, would depart from Birmingham on September 24, 1941 enroute to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL in order to present the strike to the students of that school, at a meeting to be held on the evening of September 24, 1941. It was the understanding of the Birmingham Office that COWHERD and MOYER would probably make an address relative to the Labor Laws of the United States. The Birmingham Office advised that ED HELPER and HAROLD HELPER are suspected of being communist. Confidential Informant was contacted.
Surveillance of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] and the writer on October 5, 1941 from 1:15 P. M. to 4:05 P. M., and during this time a 1941 Buick sedan bearing New York license plates number 7W-7463, which is MYLES HORTON's car, was parked in front of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. At approximately 3:00 P. M., a blue Plymouth sedan bearing 1941 Tennessee license plates 4-24615, arrived and was parked in front of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL. A man dressed in khaki shirt and pants went into HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL where he remained for the rest of this time. No other cars appeared up to 4:05 P. M. and inasmuch as it appeared that no meeting was being held the surveillance was discontinued at 4:05 P. M., however, at 6:00 P. M., and again at 8:00 P. M., the writer was in the vicinity of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and observed that although the two cars previously mentioned were still there, no other cars had arrived, nor were there any further indications that a meeting was to be had at the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL.

KILBY, as Councillor of the Junior Order of the United American Mechanics, Tracy City Council No. 277, Tracy City, Tennessee, was instrumental in organizing a group consisting of representatives of the Junior Order of American Mechanics and other organizations for the purpose of paying an "en masse visitation" by the citizens of Grundy County to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL on November 12, 1940. According to KILBY no violence was intended by this visitation, however, the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL learned of the intended visitation and warned the National Headquarters of the Junior Order of American Mechanics that they would be held responsible for any damage incurred either to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL or any of the members of its staff by this visitation. The National Headquarters of the Junior Order of American Mechanics advised KILBY that he could not act in the name of their organization. KILBY then formed the Grundy County Crusaders. The visitation was finally called off and instead seven representatives of the Grundy County Crusaders and seven representatives of the Highlander Folk School had a conference at St. Luke's at the University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee. A representative in relating what took place at this conference said that the "mentors not the intelligentsia of the Highlander Folk School" and were out talked.

A pamphlet prepared by the Highlander Folk School and entitled "An attack of the Grundy County Crusaders on the Highlander Folk School" which is a summary completed December 18, 1940, was examined. This pamphlet described the proposed march by the Grundy County Crusaders as follows:

On November 7, 1940, Alvin L. Henderson sent a letter addressed to James Debruckau to the Highlander Folk School saying that he would like to visit the school to find out what it was doing and attempting to do. He suggested Tuesday, November 12, 1940 at 7:30 P.M. as a time for him and several of his friends to drop in at the school. On November 6, 1940 James Debruckau answered saying that the Highlander Folk School would be glad to have Henderson and one or two friends for dinner on November 12, 1940 at 6:00 P.M. The night of November 6, 1940, John Mc Dougall Burns of the Nashville Tennessean, Nashville, Tennessee, telephoned the Highlander Folk School and asked, "Is it true you have been notified of the mass march that is to be staged against you on Tuesday night?" At this time the school did not know anything about the proposed march. Burns then read a letter that he had received on the second, from C.H. Kilby as Secretary to the Vice-President of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company and Councillor Chairman of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, Tracy City Council No. 277. This letter was a description of the proposed "mass march of Grundy County Citizens" and a solicitation for the Tennessean to send a man to cover it. The school later learned that copies of these letters were also sent to the Nashville Banner and the Chattanooga Times. On November 9, 1940, a member of the staff of the Highlander Folk School interviewed C.H. Kilby and Kilby admitted that Henderson really was notified of the intended march. Kilby at that time denied having communicated with the Tennessean. This pamphlet goes on and in a factual way manages to put the Grundy County Crusaders and Kilby in a bad light concerning the proposed march and presented a rather convincing fact that the Grundy County Crusaders is backed by the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company. This pamphlet ties up W. J. Cox, President of the Palmer Workmen of the United Mine Workers of America with the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company. It also refers to what are described as Sweers of Highlander Folk School, which are Sweers of the Nashville Tennessean in which John Mc Dougall Burns, a reporter of the Nashville Tennessean, describes himself as an able Texas school teacher attending some of the courses of the at HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and wrote a series of articles in October 1939 describing the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL as a center for spreading Communist Doctrine throughout the southeast. This pamphlet denied that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL has ever been affiliated with the Communist Party or any other political group. It stated that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL does not draw financial support from the Communist Party or any other political group. The smear of the Nashville Banner, in which Richard Bate, Banner reporter, in September 1940 came to Monteagle, Tennessee, and declared that Eleanor Roosevelt had earned the contempt of Grundy County by contributing to the school is also referred to in this pamphlet. Eleanor Roosevelt gave a scholarship of $100.00 to the school. The HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL is a labor school with the chief purpose of teaching trade union members and equipping them better to help their organizations fight for improved conditions for the working man. In addition to this primary purpose, the school attempts to aid the people of the little community where it is located and conducts a nursery school for people nearby and has sponsored several cooperative undertakings for them. It also has an extension division which does field work of several kinds in cities near and far. This article states that there has been a long and vicious campaign in Tennessee to destroy the SCHOOL and that most of the newspapers of the entire surrounding territory have repeatedly lied about the school. On such a scale that the falsifications cannot be attributed to an innocent misunderstanding. The charges have been that the school is "communistic" and that it was misleading the young people. According to this article Dr. JADS DOLBERGOWSKI, director of the school, has denied all these charges and has indicated his willingness, if it could be proved that the school is un-American or is detrimental to the community and to the people it serves, to put an end to its work, but nobody has ever brought forward even a fragment of evidence that the charges are true. This article states that behind the attempt to destroy the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL were the reactionary employers throughout the entire south; the men who object to the school because it trains people to become successful leaders of strong trade unions. Locally, there is reason to believe that the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company has had a great deal to do with the attack. According to this article, the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company has for years dominated Grundy County, but in 1958, for the first time, a group of county officials were elected who were not subservient to the coal company, and the school faculty was active during the campaign in support of these candidates.

The article continues "A few weeks ago, feeling was stirred up to such a pitch that a vigilante group calling themselves the Grundy County Crusaders planned to march against the school. If this had been done, blood would certainly have been shed. At the last minute, the vigilante leaders were persuaded instead to confer with the school officials. As a result of this five-hour conference, the tension was relieved somewhat. But there is danger that it will rise again; there are plenty of people in Tennessee who don’t want a school that prepares efficient spokesmen for labor, and will stoop to almost anything to destroy it."
KILBY advised that he has heard that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL has purchased a new plot of land and that they intend to build another building and stated that if the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL does this, the Grundy County Crusaders will not wait for the Federal Bureau of Investigation or any one else to do anything about the matter. KILBY says that the foundations of these new buildings will never be laid and that he will not restrain the Grundy County Crusaders but indicated that he would probably be with them. It is not believed that KILBY meant what he said concerning the new buildings of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL but the incident is reported to indicate the type of mind that KILBY has.

KILBY was contacted at Tracy City, Tennessee and he advised that KILBY MCGOWAN drives a 1941 black Chevrolet, four-door sedan with 1941 New York license plates. It was later ascertained that the number of those plates is 7W-7463. KILBY further advised that the Young Communist League membership book that he had obtained in the course of investigation came from the home of Priest Weeks, Hanceville, Tennessee. KILBY had not contacted Priest Weeks because Weeks is very old and lives in the vicinity of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and KILBY felt that he would be afraid to talk. This Young Communist League membership book was obtained for KILBY from the home of Priest Weeks by a man by the name of Schriver, who formerly lived at Monteagle, Tennessee, but has since moved. This Young Communist League membership book is presently in the possession of the Knoxville Field Office and will be retained in the Knoxville File entitled, Young Communist League, Voorhis Act, (Knoxville File No. 102-5). This membership book is No. R-305 and was issued on August 1, 1935 to [redacted] Monteagle, Tennessee, whose occupation is listed as a farmer. There is a notation on the membership book that the person to whom this book was issued joined the YCL in 1935. The membership book was signed by Frank Berry as District Organizer for the Young Communist League, and there was an admission stamp for 5¢ attached to the membership book however, there were no stamps indicating memberships were paid.

KILBY has taken thirty-two affidavits from various people concerning the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, thirty of which have been signed and sworn to before a notary public. KILBY had three copies of each affidavit made and has promised to furnish this office with one copy of each affidavit. If this is done, they will be retained in the files of the Knoxville Office. The pertinent parts of these affidavits, applicable to the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, are set out as follows:

Allard, born and raised in the vicinity of Allard in Tennessee and is a farmer, joining Socialist Party in 1934, and although not a founder gave some of his land to the Highlander Folk School to erect building about six months later becoming disgusted with their behavior, asking them to leave, whereupon the school established itself at Monteagle, Tennessee. Stockton's wife ran for Governor of Tennessee in 1936 on the Socialist ticket. Since Stockton asked the school to leave, his mail has decreased to only personal mail, but he used to receive American Guardian. Stockton has, upon many occasions stated he is friendly toward Russia, but is not disseminating literature or propaganda, is not forceful enough to antagonize people in that vicinity and is not believed to be engaged in unAmerican activities. No criminal record Fentress County, Tennessee.

TITLE: Highlander Folk School

CHARACTER OF CASE: INTERNAL SECURITY - C
DETAILS: AT ALLARDT, TENNESSEE

In regard to JOSEPH MILTON STOCKTON, he advised that STOCKTON was born and raised in Allardt, Tennessee, and further that he had lived in that vicinity all of his life.

Informant advised that STOCKTON'S wife was, to the best of his understanding, born in California but she, too, had lived practically all of her life in the vicinity of Allardt, Tennessee. The writer was further advised that STOCKTON has always been a farmer in that vicinity and in 1934 he joined the Socialist Party. Informant advised that at this time STOCKTON received considerable mail in connection with the Socialist Party.

Further stated that Allardt is an extremely small town, taking in a postal radius of approximately eight miles and serving some eight hundred farmers. STOCKTON, during the year 1934 contacted quite a number of these farmers with the intention of forming a cooperative store in that vicinity but was unsuccessful in getting such a store organized.

Informant advised the writer that it was along about the same time that STOCKTON agreed to give the Highlander Folk School some of his farm land for the purpose of erecting school buildings thereon. Informant stated that the founders of this school, to the best of his knowledge, consisted of ITLES HORTON, ELIZABETH HAMES, JAMES DOMROWSKI, HUBERT HARTON and MALCOLM CRISHOLY. Further stated that he knew definitely that STOCKTON was not a founder of the above school and that in all probability STOCKTON was contacted by PETER HORTON or DOMROWSKI who is connected with the Socialist Party.

Informant stated that the above mentioned persons came to Allardt and there started erecting a building on STOCKTON'S farm, which they intended to use as a school.

He said that these individuals, while they were in Allardt, were doing the actual labor on this building themselves, and were living on the premises.

Besides the above mentioned persons, there were two or possibly three other women, whose names he did not know, whose names he did not know, who were also living on the STOCKTON'S farm and also that ELIZABETH HAYES had married an organizer for the CIO Hosiery Workers.

He did not know the name of this CIO organizer.

Further advised the writer that after the above mentioned people had been on STOCKTON'S farm for approximately six months, he asked them to leave because they were living with each other's wives and one of them, just which one he did not know, was living with the wife of one of STOCKTON'S hired hands.

He advised it was after this that the above mentioned persons proceeded to Monteagle, Tennessee and erected a school there, adding it was his understanding that they were presently engaged in the operation of this school.

Further stated that in his opinion this school was composed entirely of Communists and he was surprised to read in one of the newspapers that MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT had given money toward the support of this institution. He said it was his understanding that it was the purpose of this school to teach labor organizers and added that during the time they were at Allardt they did very little of anything and spent most of their time on the outside of the building with few clothes on.

He said it was his opinion that STOCKTON was not a founder or organizer of this school, but being a very generous individual was only trying to help them and started by giving them a place to erect the necessary school building. The writer was further advised that STOCKTON'S wife ran for the Governor of the State of Tennessee in 1936 on the Socialist ticket and that both STOCKTON and his wife had contacted various individuals around Allardt requesting that they attend an address being given by EARL BRODNER.

further stated it was only last week that STOCKTON told him he was "friendly toward Russia" and advised the writer that although he could not remember any direct quotation made by STOCKTON, with the above exception, that STOCKTON gave him the impression that he thought the Russian system of Government was good.

said that STOCKTON had on numerous occasions tried to get him to read books on Russia and advised that the only one he could remember was a book written by a former Lieutenant-Commander of the United States Navy by the name of SHALEY.

advised the writer that at the present and for the past two years or so, STOCKTON has received only personal mail, whereas he used to get a lot of literature of a Socialistic nature, the only one of which could remember was a paper by the name of "American Guardian" which is published at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

The writer was further advised that STOCKTON does not have any meetings at his house and has never been heard to make, to the best of knowledge, any un-American statements.

advised the writer that in his opinion STOCKTON is a member of the American Legion, whose father had lived in that town all of his life and whose loyalty to his country was unquestioned, be contacted for additional information concerning STOCKTON.

American Legion member, upon contact at the Post Office advised that while the above mentioned school was carrying on in Allardt, Tennessee a number of the persons connected therewith would ask him to attend Norman Thomas's lectures which he was giving at Allardt, but added that they did not pass out any literature of any description.

advised that it is his opinion that STOCKTON is in favor of the type of Government in use in Russia, but none of the statements made by Stockton concerning this matter could be recalled. advised that STOCKTON is not forceful enough to antagonize the people in that vicinity and further that he gives no evidence of being engaged in unAmerican activities.

AT JAILSTON, TENNESSEE

Fentress County, Tennessee, upon contact advised that STOCKTON has no criminal record in that county, and further that he enjoys a good reputation except for the fact that he is reported to be a Socialist. further stated that in his opinion STOCKTON was born and raised in Fentress County and added that approximately twenty years ago, STOCKTON served as County Trustee, but since that time has been engaged solely as a farmer. He further stated that STOCKTON does not distribute any literature at the present time, and the last literature which he did distribute approximately five years ago was a paper called the "American Guardian".

He further advised the writer that he had never heard of STOCKTON or heard of STOCKTON making any unAmerican statements and in his opinion STOCKTON is a harmless individual.

RE: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

MYLES BORTON, Director of the Highlander Folk School at Monticello, Tennessee, at request of this office, sent a report of the Executive Council meeting held January 12, 1942 and the 1941 annual report of the Highlander Folk School consisting of 25 pages to this office. The contents of these reports are being submitted in summary form. The originals are being retained in the files of the Knoxville Field Division.

The Highlander Folk School Executive Council met January 11, 1942, the following members being present: CHAIRMAN, PAUL R. CHRISTOPHER, Executive Secretary, Tennessee IUC; RICHARD DOREE, Southern Director, District 50, UMWA; HARRISON, American Federation of Hosiery Workers organizer and Highlander public relations representative; JOSEPH BURRIS, chairman organizing committee, Chattanooga Central Trades and Labor Council. Seven members of the Highlander staff were also present, and visitors included Reverend and Mrs. FLEETWOOD JONES, St. Luke's Seminary, Sewanee, Tennessee; BERNARD JUDD and MARTY WATKINS of District 50, UMWA; HARD COX, president, UMWA local, former, Tennessee. At this meeting the Executive Council proposed to the Office of Civilian Defense that the school be used as a southern training center. The suggestion came from the Highlander staff and has the endorsement of the state CIO. The Council also outlined a tentative program for 1942 which will make the school available for civilian defense training at any time. Approval was given for a summer school for the Southern Automobile Workers, sponsored December of 1941 by RICHARD EVERTALL, educational director, International UAW - CIO; and a special District 50 UMWA school March 30 to April 12. The extension program in New Orleans and Memphis are to be continued. An extension of the teaching and secretarial staff was authorized, and plans were made for a tenth... anniversary celebration to be held at the school at the end of the summer term. It was reported that in response to a recent communication in support of the Murray Industry Plan, the president of the CIO wrote: "It is of considerable significance to have the support of your school, in view of the widespread influence which it exercises among the working people of the South."
At this meeting the annual report of the Highlander Folk School prepared by James Dombrowski was presented. This report is summarized as follows:

TO THE FRIENDS OF HIGHLANDER

The energies of Highlander will be directed to the defeat of the Axis and the destruction of Fascism. A proposal that the resources of the Highlander Folk School be used as a defense training center for Union leaders received the endo-rance of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council's executive board on January 4, 1942. It is expected to be approved by A.F. of L and Railroad Brotherhood Unions. If approved by Washington, this program will receive the major emphasis in 1942.
Total enrollment for the year 1941 was 252 students, including 156 who attended week-end conferences. A notable accomplishment was the extension work done by Miss Mary Lawrance in New Orleans and by Daisy Lasner in Memphis. Other extension work was done in many other parts of the South. Craft work in the community was expanded under direction of Maria Stenzel. The Summerfield Cooperative continued to thrive. Joan Payne, director of the Nursery School, had a successful year. Our alumni now occupy places of leadership and responsibility in unions throughout the South.

SPRING TERM

The Spring Term for Workers, May 12 - 24, 1941, was attended by 14 full-time students and 14 part-time students, from five southern states, representing eight international unions.
Week-end conferences on southern problems brought 81 additional persons to the school representing 23 national unions from all branches of labor. The regular staff was composed of Mary Lawrance, Zelpha Norton, and James Dombrowski. This staff was supplemented by lecturers that included John T. Jones, director of Labor's Non-Partisan League; William J.aves, Regional Director, Wages and Hours Administration; Hollis V. Reid, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhoods and Chairman of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Paul D. Christopher, executive secretary of the CIO in Tennessee; Lewis Jones, A. F. of T., Fisk University; William Clifton, chairman Atlantic Industrial Union Council and member of UAW; MARGARET LAMOTT, writer; WALTER RAUTENSTRAUCH, Professor of Industrial Engineering, Columbia University; and ALTON LAWRENCE, southern representative of Labor's Non-Partisan League.

SUMMER TERM

The six-weeks summer session, August 18 to September 22, 1941, was attended by 16 students from seven states and one foreign country. Louisiana had 5 students, Tennessee 4, District of Columbia 2, 1 each from Oklahoma, Texas, Illinois, and New York. Five week-end conferences were attended by a total of 156 representatives. Conference leaders were RICHARD DEVERALL, educational director, UAW; ALLEN HENNE, southern director, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union; FRAN PATER, regional director of the CIO, New Orleans; JOE DODSON, chairman of the organizing committee, Chattanooga Central Labor Union; YELWARTON COMERED, regional CIO director, Birmingham; ALTON LAWRENCE, southern representative, Labor's Non-Partisan League; and BETHEE JUDE, of the United Automobile Workers. Special conferences were conducted for the recently organized Ford local at Memphis, textile workers, and an Axe Handle Workers Industrial Union in the neighboring county. Discussion groups were led by Dr. FLINNINGALES, Dean of Theological Seminary, University of the South, Sewanne, Tennessee; GEORGE STONEY, Farm Security Administration; WILLIAM LAVES, Wage and Hour director; PAUL CHRISTOPHER, Tennessee Industrial Union Council; and FRANK COFFEE, Social Security Board. Other speakers were MACK SMITH, Tennessee director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; M. C. HILLMAN, TUM and SW representative; HUGH RANKIN, UMWA district representative; O. S. BAXTER, sub-regional director of SWOC; MATT LYNCH, American Federation of Hosiery Workers; TED SCHMIDT, United Textile Workers of America; ROSANNA WALKER, Retail and Wholesale Clerks, Philadelphia; JOHN DECKER, CIO representative, New Orleans; FRANK MILLER, TUM & SW, Bessemer; EDWARD WOODS, International Newspaper Guild representative, Birmingham; VIRGINIA FOSTER DUGR, vice-chairman of the National Committee to abolish the Poll Tax, Alexandria, Virginia.

WRITERS' WORKSHOP

The third annual workshop for writers was held July 28 to August 9, 1941 and brought together 12 students from six southern states and from Illinois, New York, and the District of Columbia. This workshop was under the direction of the Highlander Folk School staff with LEON WILSON as director. Fiction was taught by MARY LABELLY, former teacher of creative writing at Hood College, Maryland. The majority of the students wrote and finished at least two stories each. CHARLES FERGUSON, associate editor of the Readers' Digest, LEAHE JONES, faculty member of Missouri State Teachers College, HENRY ZON, Washington Bureau manager of the Federated Press, H. C. NIXON, of Vanderbilt University, WILLIAM R. MCDANIEL, regional technical consultant on the WPA writers program were guest speakers during the session. The following served as sponsors: WILLIAM S. KNICKERBOCKER, editor of the Sewanee Review; JULIA COLLIER HARRIS, of Chattanooga; PAUL GREEN, HILLION BRAND, BABBETTE DEUTSCH, and GENEVIEVE TAGGARD.

WORK CAMP

The fourth summer work camp that took over the Highlander plant during the month of July was sponsored jointly by the International Student Service and the Highlander Folk School. The staff consisted of Mr. and Mrs. ASA STARKWEATHER, of the Fieldstone School; HARRY LASKER, DILLARD KING, AND WILLIAMS and JAMES DOMEROW. Part-time staff members were ZILPHIA MORTON, MARIA STEEN, and LEON JENSON. Seventeen college students spent the month of July in hard manual labor and intensive study in the social and economic problems. The morning was devoted to manual labor, the afternoon to a study program of the mountain community which provided the material for a careful study for the major problems of the South. Field trips were made to a TVA dam, a national forest, a textile center in Alabama, a Federal homestead project, and a blast furnace. Evenings were spent in folk dancing and singing. FRAN SEARS, Swarthmore College, LEONE REIBER, Vassar College, and HOMARD SAMUEL, Cornell University, particularly praised the work of this work camp.

JUNIOR UNION CAMP

Twenty-three boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 15 attended Highlander's second camp for children of union members during the two weeks from June 9 to June 23, 1941. ZILPHIA MORTON and MAGARET BRYAN were the directors. Folk dancing and singing, arts and crafts, hiking and games featured the program. HARRY LASKER "taught" the campers by telling them a serial story about a union boy every night around the campfire.

NURSERY SCHOOL

The Nursery School was opened May 12, 1940 and was conducted through Christmas of 1941 under the direction of JOAN PAYNE, of Pleasantville, New York, a senior at Sarah Lawrence College. Miss PAYNE was permitted to spend the last two months of the college year at Highlander to direct the Nursery School, receiving credit for such work on her degree at Sarah Lawrence College, conferred in absentia. This school was attended by 20 children representing 17 families in the community and was conducted in the nature of a kindergarten.

GIRLS CLUB

Fourteen girls of the community met once a week at the Nursery School cabin under the leadership of Miss PAYNE. The purpose of this group was to bring together the young girls of the community, helping them to learn to work and play together and bringing them into a closer relationship to the community and the Folk School.

SUMMERFIELD COOPERATIVE

The Summerfield Cooperative held meetings every week throughout the year in the homes of the seven members. Educational programs were a part of all meetings. Rummage sales were held and sewing was done.

CRAFTS

Under the direction of Miss MARIA STENZEL the program of crafts has been expanded. Classes were held in wood carving, pottery, drawing, dressmaking, children's classes, clay modeling, and shadowgraph. At a Christmas party 62 children attended and received gifts from MILES HORTON.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

A traveling library in the county was started in the beginning of the year by MARY LAWNACE. A mimeographed news bulletin containing an original cartoon and labor serial, "Johnnie Workman", and discussions of issues of special interest to miners were on this program. A total of 728 books were circulated, of which 343 were for children, 148 for adolescents, 212 for adults, and 25 of which were labor books. The school also conducted classes in instruction in Sacred Harp songs, square dancing, and fiddling.

During the summer HARRY LASKER organized a study group at Larger, Tennessee, which met on Thursday nights for two months at the homes of DOLPH VAUGH and GEORGE DUNEL. Discussions were conducted on social and legislative problems which included poll tax, Wagner Act, social security, Wage and Hour Law, and the proposed tax bill.

EXTENSION PROGRAM

At New Orleans

One of the most successful organizing drives in the South is that in New Orleans where 10,000 workers have been brought into the Union. Early in the year Mr. FRED PEIPER, regional director of the CIO, called on Highlander to assist him in setting up an educational program to instruct these new union members in the techniques of collective bargaining and in sound union principles and practices. MARY LAWRENCE, who had done extensive work in Louisville, Kentucky and Alcoa, Tennessee, was assigned to New Orleans. Miss LAWRENCE taught several groups composed of union officers and union men with an average attendance of between 75 and 100 between April 10 and May 9, 1940. Four local officials were selected by the Industrial Union Council to attend the Highlander Folk School spring term, May 12 to 24, 1941. Seven New Orleans students who were sent to Highlander Folk School for intensive training were of considerable assistance to Miss LAWRENCE.

At Memphis, Tennessee

A strong labor movement has brought thousands of new men into the union at Memphis, almost all of them with no previous experience in the labor movement. Plans were made with the assistance of PAUL CHRISTOPHER, executive secretary of the Tennessee IUC, and members of the Highlander Executive Council for the provision of an educational program. Enthusiastic support was received from RICHARD DEVERALL, educational director of the United Auto Workers Union, and the program was launched in the south-wide UAW-CIO educational conference in Memphis in October. RAY LASKEE, of the Highlander staff, was placed in charge. Seven classes were organized with an average attendance for the week of 60, and in this way hundreds of workers were reached. A mimeographed paper for the Industrial Union Council was started and a mimeographed ten-page pamphlet entitled "This Union Business" and a fourteen-page pamphlet entitled "The CIO--Yours and Mine" were published and a lending library started.

OTHER UNION VISITATION AND EXTENSION WORK

Highlander Folk School was represented at the state conference on democracy, Nashville, Tennessee, February 22, 1941; the Berea Student Labor Conference in March; Conference of Southern Mountain Workers, Knoxville in the spring; Nashville board meetings of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare and the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Molders and Mounters national convention, Chattanooga, July; United Textile Workers of America national convention, New York; CIC national convention, Detroit, November.

Visits were made to a great many local unions and services of too varied and extended a nature to be itemized were rendered. From July through September one staff member spoke at 23 union meetings, conferred with 24 organizers, contacted 27 international unions in 14 centers.

PUBLICATIONS

"The South Tomorrow", "We Know the Score", and "Cumberland Capers" were published by students. Four numbers of the "Highlander Fling" were printed. An illustrated pamphlet on the school was published. Articles about Highlander appeared in the February issue of Social Work Today. The Bulletin of the World Association for Adult Education, London, England, contained an article on Highlander in the August number. The Litterateur, magazine of the Chi Delta Phi honorary literary sorority, published "A Bit About Highlander"; by RUTH BURKE, in November. JOAN PAYNE wrote a story about Highlander for the Sarah Lawrence alumnae magazine. ZILPHIA HORTON contributed some material on dramatics for workers to the book on Workers Education, published by the John Dewey Society, published by Harper. This is the most comprehensive work on the subject that has been done. Professor THEODORE BRESFIELD, of the University of Minnesota, was the editor. BARRY LASKER wrote two pamphlets for local unions in Memphis. GILLY LANCILL wrote a basic work for new unionists, "How to Build Your Union", published by the New Orleans Industrial Union Council.

PLANT IMPROVEMENTS

The Highlander Folk School has improved its grounds and buildings in expectation of expansion.

PERSONNEL

Staff members who continued their services through the year are STELLA and ZILPHIA HORTON, MARY LAWRENCE, MARIA STERNZEL, LEO WILLSON, JAMES A. DONOVAN. Those who left were Miss CLAUDIA LAVISH, Miss LOUISA KERRING; WILBUR BUTTRICK spent the year at the University of Florida completing his undergraduate work begun at Duke. Additions are HARRY LASKER, JOAN PAYNE. DUWARD MCDANIEL will be added next year.

ALUMNI NOTES

There follows a list of alumni which are reported in this annual report by their names and the union which they represent. The following alumni are listed: EDWARD J. D. BARTON, NAYLON HAMPTON, WILLIAM CHILDS, ROBERT GOLDSMITH, ALVIN GREEN, CHADWICK HADDY, BILLY LYNCH, PAT LYNCH, DUWARD MCDANIEL, DONALD McKENZIE, MARTY KORNBLIT, FRANCIS KORZ, BARNEY MOORE, BENNETT SCHMIDT.
FINANCIAL REPORT

The financial report of the Highlander Folk School shows income for 1941 of $12,661.52, of which about a third was received from 346 individuals, a third received from funds and foundation, and the balance received from tuition, unions, churches, schools, sale of literature, miscellaneous appeals, etc.

Expenses for 1941 were $13,948.76, of which approximately a third was spent for house maintenance, a third for staff personnel and travel, and the balance for administrative and miscellaneous and capital improvement.

BROADCAST FROM H.F.S. TO ENGLAND-MARCH 13TH

The British Broadcasting Company is arranging a broadcast to England direct from Highlander Folk School (HFS) March 13th from 4:30 to 4:50 PM Eastern Standard Time. (5:30 Montage time and 9:30 London).

The program will consist of mountain ballads, many of which were sung by Frank B. Jefferson in an oral tradition from colonial days; Sacred Harp singing, another form of folk music; folk songs of sharecroppers; tall stories; square dances; and contemporary ballads showing the effect of industrialization on folk music.

Ralph E. Taft, director of recreation at HFS, and a specialist in folk music, will have charge of the program. A feature of the program will be the "tall tales" of "Hey Oakley," of Gatlinburg, known far and wide as the "Barking Man of the Smokies." Oakley is an official guide in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park and probably knows the mountains as well as any person.

Two agencies of the Federal Government will have recording equipment at HFS at the time of the broadcast to make permanent records of these folk songs. Watch your local papers for further announcements. The British Broadcasting Company is negotiating with a national chain to carry the program.

SUMMER TERM MAY 10 - JULY 3

The fifth annual summer term at HFS will open May 10th and run for four weeks. The courses are designed to give practical training in cooperative problems and in the use of the cooperative movement. Scholarships covering all expenses are available for students unable to pay tuition.

"JUMBO" ON TOUR OF UNIONS

"Jumbo," a play written and produced by students at HFS, was presented before union locals in this section in the week of March 1st. The title of the play refers to the heavy black mud of the Delta country, and the play itself is based on the struggle of the sharecroppers to organize a union. Two members of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, students at HFS, supplied the historical material. The play was directed by Zilah Horton.

RAFTERS' BALL IN KNOXVILLE

An old mountain custom of floating logs down the rivers in the spring of the year will be commemorated on March 20th at a "rafters' ball." R. E. Taft of HFS will call the sets for square dancing. Some of the old dances in use in the early days of Tennessee will be used.

SHERWOOD TERRY VISITS HFS

Sherwood Terry and Sam Franklin of the Delta Co-operative Farm visited HFS during the winter term and spoke to the students. Other visiting lecturers were Joe Dobbs, president of the Chattanooga Central Trades and Labor Council; Dr. Moultrie Guerry...
VICTORY AT LA PELLETTE

Charlie Handy, a member of the class of 1936 at MPS, has done a brilliant job at La Pellette, Tenn, in organizing a local of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America among the shirt workers of a run-away shop. A thousand workers from two shops were on strike. One of the shops has settled granting a wage increase and a closed shop. Of conditions before the strike, Charlie writes, "I have pay-envelopes for $100 for two weeks' work, work from dark to dark. The store had agreements with the shops to check off accounts. As a result of the check-off I saw a check yesterday for $15. The girl earned $15.00 but all but $5 went to the store. The strikers had the complete support of the United Mine Workers. Zilphia Horton, of the MPS staff, will be at La Pellette until the opening of summer school helping with the office work and setting up a program of workers' education.

PRUDAL CONDITIONS IN CLEVELAND

Since the Civil War Cleveland, Ohio, has been controlled by the Hardwick family. The Hardwicks own a half dozen industrial plants, two hotels, the banks and local newspapers. The city judge, William E. Armstrong, and the Commissioner of Public Safety are Hardwicks. Four members of the family had declared incomes last year of $20,000 or over. Clothes made by Hardwick employees are sold to them at the Hardwick Brothers Store, and charged off their wages, thus as at La Pellette workers often receive pay-envelopes of no savings. Some workers after eight months are still classified as "beginners" and draw 74 and 75 cents a week. When industry assails the country in raising wages, Hardwicks cut wages. The workers came out on strike in the company's plant. Jesse Darnell was called in at the plant and told the strikers to come in and work. The strike was called off when the union failed to get a majority support. It was not failure. Hundreds of workers learned for the first time what a union in, better or better conditions. Workers can learn that it is only through unions that workers can get the treatment they deserve. The Hardwick family and the company have been indicted by the American Federation of Labor for interfering with the election of union officers and for the treatment of union members. They have been fined and have been ordered to appear before the Labor Board and to take the necessary steps to secure a fair system of wages and working conditions. The company has been fined and has been ordered to appear before the Labor Board and to take the necessary steps to secure a fair system of wages and working conditions.

The secretary of HPS attended the national convention of the Progressive Education Association in St. Louis and was a member of the panel in the discussion of rural schools. With Leo Huberman and several members of the American Federation of Teachers he walked the picket line of the LUMI at the National Underwear Company. One of the strikers made $2 a week and paid $2.50 for a room. She could afford only two meals a day, spent 10 cents for lunch and 15 cents for supper. She had had no good hot dinner for months. Naturally the strikers were weak and undernourished and many were sick, but in spite of that fact they were putting up a courageous fight for decent conditions and a union.

The secretary also talked to the auto workers at the Chevrolet plant and visited the offices of the ACWA.

ORGANIZED LABOR DEFENDS HPS

On February 6 the Chattanooga News published an article that has aroused widespread indignation. The article, based on a report furnished by Lyle Stovall of the American Federation of Labor, states that "some workers" about two years ago. The report was used by certain labor leaders in the state to attempt to prevent the local community from securing a Federal grant for a self-help cooperative. A resolution passed unanimously by the Chattanooga Central Labor Council placing organized labor squarely behind the school and denounced the article, saying that "such attacks on the Highland or Folk School (are) indirect attacks on the Chattanooga labor movement and the organized labor movement in general...the school is using a commendable piece of work in the community...the school is conducting the conduct of the school and in the quality of its work."

A strong letter of protest was sent from our community signed by over 500 people. Unions of Grundy County entered politics for the first time this year and endorsed candidates for county offices in the Democratic primary held June 4. The ballots were cast all over but one of the endorsed men had won. The victorious labor candidates were: Roy Thomas, for sheriff; Charles Adams, for road commissioner; J. L. Rollings, superintendent of schools; and Lawson Johnson, for register.

The second of these men was Labor's Political Conference of Grundy County. This group had its beginning in a mass meeting of labor delegates from Carter and Grundy counties at Chattanooga April 25. Myles Horton, Highlander's educational director, took part in the promotion of this and other meetings, which resulted in the formation of political conferences in both counties. These bodies were modeled after the Cumberland County Conference, whose members helped to launch the new groups.

First State Conference of Labor And Progressive Forces Is Held

The first state legislative conference of labor and progressive delegates was held at Nashville, May 14 & 15. A fifteen-point program was adopted, and a permanent legislative committee set up.

Myles Horton was among the speakers of the call and was present at the conference. He took with him delegates from nearby locals of UDA and Red Carrier Union.

HIGHLANDER'S NEW MOVIE IS RELEASED

Benefit Parties Are Held Along With First Showings Of New Film

"People of the Cumberland", a two-reel sound moving picture produced by Frontier Films, was shown to the public for the first time on May 2 at the New School for Social Research, New York. The film, made this season for a gala party for the benefit of Highlander Folk School, in a meeting presided over by Leo Huberman, followed by speeches from Jim Dombrowski, secretary of Highlander, and Jack Lerner, editor of the Nation, was shown to the audience then heard music, and all stories from native of the Smoky Mountain area taken to New York for the occasion. The evening was concluded with square dance called "Taffy" by Tefferteller, of the Highlander staff.

A similar party was held in Washington on May 4.

A private showing of "People of the Cumberland" was held at the White House.

STAFF MEMBERS KEEP BUSY AT HIGHLANDER

Friends of the School are probably interested in knowing of the things that staff members do while resident terms are not in session. We present here brief sketches of staff activities in recent weeks, not as a complete bohème, but as a sample of some of the work which keeps the staff busy the year around.

James Dombrowski

Jim left Monticello late in April, traveling to Atlanta and then to Greensboro, N. C. There he spoke to a group being organized by Elizabeth Newsam, sub-regional director of TWOC.

Proceeding to Raleigh, N. C., Jim attended a conference of the Fellowship of Southern Churches, then on to New York. He visited friends of the School, sold tickets to the Highlander benefit program, and spoke at the party May 2. Moving to Washington, Jim spoke on the benefit program there May 4. He was back at School May 6 and into his usual occupations of office work and gardening.

A strike developed at Chattanooga, and Jim was on hand May 25 to speak at a meeting of TWOC members.

He is now busy writing a study of the southern sound on a fellowship from the Rosenwald Fund.

Myles Horton

Myles has been active in political organization among unions of Grundy and Marion counties. As a result of the effective cooperation of local unions, successful political action has been taken for the first time in this area. Myles represents the Highlander local, as a CWA in the Central Committee.
STAFF KEEPS BUSY (cont. from page 1)

Before returning to School, May 11, Myles spoke to textile locals at Durham, Lumberton and Fayetteville, N. C. and McColl, S. C.

After two weeks he left on another trip, having spoken to tenant farmers and labor groups in Arkansas and Tennessee, he arrived at Johnson City for the state convention of the A.P. of L.

He is now attending classes at YWCA conference at Blue Ridge, N. C.

While other staff members were away, Bill was left to hold the fort and do in office work, early in May. At that time he was also making a number of trips.

He spoke to local 930, Hod Carriers Union, at Louder, Tenn., on April 29. The next two days he attended conference meetings in Coolmont and Chattanooga. On May 3 he took members of the Hod Carriers Union on an organizing trip to Tray City, to contact WPA workers. Next day saw Bill and the Hod Carriers making a trip to Beersheba Springs to revolve a WPA workers local, and distributing leaflets for Bakery Workers Union, local 25, which had been locked out at Tray City.

Driving to Huntsville, Alabama, May 6, he attended a Constitutional Convention of unemployed which set up the Alabama State Federation of WPA Workers. Next day Bill spoke to the Convention; then drove to Coolmont, Tenn., that night for the Central Committee or the Grundy County Political Conference. He is a member of the Committee in Grundy County.

After a trip to New York in May, Bill set to work at School doing office and community work, and writing an economics course in spare moments.

Alfred E. Fettig

Toff parted northward late in April with a car load of mountain musicians to fill a number of speaking and entertainment engagements.

First stop was at a girls finishing school, Chatson Hall, Chatson, Va., for a speaking and speech. There were two women in Baltimore, for the Friends' house and the YWCA girls. A speech and dance for Philadelphia Normal School came next on the program. Then there was a visit to New Jersey State College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J.

In the afternoon of May 1, Toffy and his group performed in the New York World's Fair Preview, and that night they had charge of a program for the National Festival Council. The next day they provided entertainment for the Highlanders benefit party, and two

NEWS FROM THE ALUMNI

Since his kidnapping in Raleigh, Jimmie Cox has been working for the cause of civil liberty. His and Joseph Giddens talked with the Loffillette Committee and were received at the White House by Mr. Roosevelt, who invited them to spend May 29 at Hyde Park. He hopes to promote a southern civil liberties convention.

Ruth Culberston has a WPA job in Durham. In spare time she is helping with an educational program for the workers and a reorganization of the Workers Alliance local.

Fred Ramsey directs a chapter of his union in a production of the Highland play, "Labor Spy". He writes: "We have got 125 new members in our local. Kathleen Denning writes that she is taking part in the dramatics program of the ILGWU local.

Hattie Jo Riles has made a speech about Highlander before the PEA director since her return to Hattiesburg. Jack J. Lash has been organizing for the Red Hat Club, and helping to publish a shop paper for the Brotherhood of Teamsters.

SPEAKERS FEATURED AT RESIDENT TERM

Built around the 17 full time resident students, the summer term at Highlander brought more than 50 workers and union officials to the school during the six weeks period.

Opening with a Fourth of July celebration featuring S. H. Deal, septuple, international president of the United Rubber Workers, as the principal speaker, the summer sessions crowned with the speeches of visiting officials and conferences with southern leaders Cardials of rubber workers from Galion, Ohio, workers from Nashville, textile workers from Dalton, and other groups with a growing interest in cooperative and educational programs. They conducted two of the residual school weeks.

The resulting and immediate by

SCHOOL FOR WRITERS
HELD AT HIGHLANDER

Fourteen young writers from all over the East gathered at Highlan-der this summer for the first special writers’ session to be held here.

This was a new and promising move in workers’ ed-cation and a significant unit between labor and progressive forces.

The Summer Workshop for Student

Writers, sponsored jointly by Highlander and the League of American

Writers, operated for two weeks period on August 21.

Volunteer teachers were brought to Monteagle by the League. Lillian

BOOKS

In July for $0.25 (Alfred A. Knopf, $2.00) a new book titled "The People's Library" was published. The book is a collection of essays, articles, and speeches by prominent figures in American history and politics. It is intended to provide a comprehensive look at the history of the United States and its people.

ZILPHIA HORTON EDITS
SONG BOOK FOR UNION

A book of songs, collected and arranged by Zilphia Horton, was published recently. The book is intended to provide a collection of traditional folk songs that are important to the history of the United States. The book is intended to be used in schools and communities to educate people about the rich history of American music.

STUDENT SPEAKER

Bill Gilks, High Point, N C., talks with students about the importance of communication in the workplace.

WITH THE ALUMNI

Cecil Homer, president of the United Robbers Workers local in Gadsden, Alabama, was in session in the Fourth of July. He said that the company union movement, by circulating a monograph, had led to the creation of a local union. He also learned about the spread of the Communist party in the United States.

Matt Lynch, American Federation of Labor Organizer in Alabama, is in charge of the union office at Nashville, where the workers have won great victories at the Scull sexy boo.

Dillard King and Louis Vaughn were delegates to the constitution convention which set up the Grand Union of Labor's Non-Partisan League.

Horace Rundell, a union organizer, followed up the work in the South by organizing the Alabama trade union. He reported widespread violations of the Wages and Hours Law in Jack Garner's territory. The only enforcement in the state is what the union enforces.

Christine Evangeline Balam has been active in organizing the workers in California, where she has worked for the ACWA and ICGWU. She was in charge of the campaign which succeeded in stopping the sale of garments made by open shop manufacturers.

A group of workers from the Highlander school in Tennessee were reported to have presented a program of songs and speeches at the convention.

Highlander alumni around the country have been organizing local unions and have organized a group of workers in Alabama and Georgia.

Edgar Ware, a worker, has been presenting a program of songs and speeches at various local union meetings.

The summer program has reached 2,000 people, representing 21 international unions, with representatives from various phases of Highlanders' program and organized by Myles Horton, educational director. The program is designed to reach a general public in all sections of the country.

The program is expected to reach 5,000 people in total. The organizers represent a part of the CIO, which is in opposition to the AFL, and the organizers are not affiliated.

This estimate does not include staff activities in June, during which Zilphia and Zilphia Horton were on the staff at the Blue Ridge, N C., Student Christian Conference, attended by 500 young people in the same month Zilphia taught music to 100 WYWCA girls at their Southern Industrial Conference.

The list of labor leaders who spoke at Highlander continues with R. G. Lawrence, southern director of the TWUA, and M. E. B. Callaghan, CIO of the TWUA. The Highlander Film School overflowed into two buildings, and the union's summer conference concluded July 1.

Lawrence Rabin, national educational director, came from Philadelphia for the event. Second vice president Edward F. Callaghan and organizers Bill Frazier, Matt Lynch, and John Johnson and Frank Bradshaw were also present. Workers were drawn from the union's branches in Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia.

In addition to the presentation of songs and speeches, the program included a display of handmade clothing and other arts and crafts produced by the workers.

The program also featured speeches by various union leaders and activists, including Amos P. Lawrence, a former editor of the Highlander, and Matt Lynch, who spoke about the importance of education and communication in the workplace.

The program concluded with an address by Zilphia Horton, who emphasized the importance of unity and solidarity among workers and the need for continued education and organizing efforts.

The Highlander program is expected to reach 2,000 people in total, with the goal of reaching 5,000 people in the future.

NEXT TERM OPENS MARCH 25; SPECIAL COURSES OFFERED

Southern workers—men and women in the labor movement—are being accepted as students for another resident term to open March 25 at Highlander Folk School.

A six-weeks' program of education and recreation is offered to the students, who will have an opportunity to take part in informal class work and to meet and hear many outstanding leaders of the South.

As usual, the school is arranging to have leaders in the fields of labor, education, and government assist with the program. Under the general rule, "The Awakening South," these will be weekly addresses by various prominent workers. Labor leaders will conduct panel discussions to be held on Saturday afternoons during the term.

This year's program is to feature the following classes, which cover such subjects as: Union Problems, Racial Relations, Public Speaking, the Constitution, and the CIO.

In addition, a variety of speakers will be invited to address the students on their particular topics. The staff will spend a week at the school to offer special training in union work, April 14.

"Democracy in South," Theme of Conference

With "Democracy in the South" as its program theme, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare will open a three-day meeting at Chattanooga, April 14.

The conference was established in the fall of 1938 with a meeting in Birmingham attended by 190 delegates. Mrs. Roosevelt and Justice Hugo Black were among the speakers at the Birmingham sessions.

Each year the conference opens with a three-day meeting at the University of North Carolina, followed by a month-long study tour of the South.

The program committee for this year's meeting is headed by Leon Burdick, Tennessee Commissioner of Railways and Utilities. The program includes sessions on such topics as: Religion, Democracy, Rural Life in the South, Constitutional Rights, and Social happily in the South.

Each Southern state has a member or state council to carry on the business of the organization. Miles Martin, Highlander Folk School director, is a member of the Tennessee committee.

The Highlander Folk School's program is a joint effort of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and the Workers' Education in Tennessee.

Welfare Group Is Making Study of Grundy County

Of great interest to all those who live in Grundy County or are concerned in any way with the plight of its jobless people is the study of the county just begun by the American Association of Public Welfare, under the direction of Mrs. Gay Sheldon of Washington.

A committee of Grundy County citizens has been set up to work closely with Paul Savage, Tennessee Commissioner of Public Welfare, who has been promoting the survey. Labor is represented on the committee by a member of the United Mine Workers.

A complete survey will be made of the county's economic and social assets, liabilities and possibilities. This project is the kind of thing Highlander has been advocating as a step toward long range planning to relieve the unhappy condition of Grundy County.

SOME EVENTS OF THE FALL AND WINTER

Led by Southern Director John Martin, a group of ILCGWU members from Atlanta and Chattanooga met for a week-end institute at Highlander in September.

William Rutledge was one of the speakers at the conference on Democracy in Tennessee, held in Nashville. As a member of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, he discussed "Workers Education in Tennessee."
Labor Organizes Political Body on Statewide Basis

A further step toward statewide political organization for labor was taken in December when the Tennessee League for Progressive Democracy was set up at a Chattanooga convention of workers and union leaders.

The organization was formed as a unit of Labor's Non-Partisan League, whose Executive Vice President L. Olive came to the city to address the delegates. Officers elected are William Tirmbli, president; Edward E. Callaham, vice president, Paul D. Riker, secretary.

The Mountain local of American Federation of Teachers sent delegates, who are active in the convention. William Burtick serving as temporary secretary and Myles Horton as chairman of the nominations committee.

SOME EVENTS

Myles Horton attended the CIO national convention in San Francisco and spent two months in California telling people about Highlander.

Zilphia Horton has spent the winter organizing for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers in Nashville.

The school has been helping line workers at Plymouth, Tennessee, make plans for a union medical cooperative. E. D. Bradley, a Highlander alumnus, is president of the A. F. of L. in that city.

James Dombrowski was a delegate to the United Christian Conference on Democracy, at Cleveland, Ohio January 25.

Mary Lawrence has been holding educational classes for teamsters and other union workers in Louisville, Kentucky.

We are fortunate to have on hand a beautiful collection of colored slides (to be projected on a screen), taken at the children's activities at Highlander. Groups interested in having these pictures shown at their meetings should write to Jim Dombrowski. It might be possible for a staff member to show the film, if the distance to be traveled is not too far.

POLLS TAX FIGHT GAINS NATIONAL ATTENTION; CASE AROSE IN GRUNDA

Initiated in Grundy County, with the help of Highlander staff members, the court battle over poll requirements (as voting is moving into the spotlight of national interest).

Henry Comer of Tracy City, county near near north of Highlandia, Poll Tax School, did not pay his poll tax last year. For this reason he is denied the right to vote by Tennessee laws but for a special election to choose a representative to Congress last fall.

Pirrie asked the Federal court in Nashville to intervene against election officials who withheld the ballot.

Legal Argument

The case is now before the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and is expected to continue on through the Supreme Court before the final ends. The legal argument of Pirrie's appeal is based on the contention that a state does not have power to tax federal citizens and by doing so the state infringes upon the sovereignty of the United States.

Pirrie is backed by the Civil Rights Committee of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which has retarded Crampton Harris of Birmingham as legal counsel.

Double Attack

The Committee, whose Chairman is Mayor Maury Machine of San Antonio, is making a double-barreled attack on the poll tax evil.

A bill designed by the Committee has been introduced in Congress by Rep. recastive Lee Overton (Dem., Cal.), if passed into law, it would prevent any state from making payment of poll taxes a requirement for voting for federal officials.

Millions of workers in the South will find themselves able to secure their own free choice without if this campaign succeeds—millions favorably denied the ballot or "voted" non-criminal bosses who paid for their tax receipts.

Joseph Gelders of Birmingham, secretary of the Civil Rights Committee, has been given funds to help support this fight by the sale at one cent each of stamps for use on the back of letters. Each stamp bears the slogan: "Abolish Poll Tax Evil. Free America First!"

MATTERS FINANCIAL

Last summer Highlander's Plymouth coach was limping so badly we decided it had to have a thorough overhaul. After being hauled off the Tennessee River ferry by a tractor because the worn out clutch wouldn't pull, Bill Burtick arrived with the car at a Chattanooga garage — to be informed that the total repair bill would amount to $140. And that was the end of the car's service to Highlander.

It was left with the dealer in exchange for a credit of $25. Now unless we buy a new car before May first we shall lose the credit. Who will supply $150 to pay the auto dealer?

Highlander has a motion picture film—PEOPLE OF THE CUMBRIA—known as one of the outstanding documentary films in the country. It has been preserved for posterity by the deposit of a copy in the United States Archives at Washington. But we have no means of showing it to anyone ourselves. A used 16 mm. sound projector would be welcome. A new one costs $50.

Yes, things do wear out. There is the mimeograph machine. After years of hard service it still grinds out copy—but for sure we think it is on its last legs. A new, modern duplicating machine is one of our important needs.

People wear out too. An auto wreck and several illnesses have taken a heavy toll of time and energy from the staff this winter. Hospital and doctor bills still remain to be settled.

Then there is the plumbing. What a frigid winter did to our giant pipes ... but we won't go into the horrible details.

Highlander must have funds immediately to meet the costs of the Spring Term. We can continue our work only if everyone who is interested in what we do will contribute every dollar possible to the support.

FOR THE ALUMNI

Christian Evensone Benson reports news that is real news. The Am bassador in Pudahar is giving a series of six broadcasts over RAD station. These free broadcasts are in the form of a weekly broadcast on the meaning of the Union.

Maxton Chapman has been appointed regional supervisor for Georgia for the WPA Works Service Program.

Cecil Holmes reports a great victory for the rubber workers in Gal den. The NLRB handed down a favorable decision in the case I had been pending for a year.

Hilda Harris writes that she is printing a "practical union song book which will contain its own proof".

Johnny Sullenger and Dorothy M. Broocks report that they recently put on "Lolly Pop Poppa," a musical comedy by Zilphia Horton for the ACWA in Paducah, Kentucky.

Bernice Schidem, of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, is helping in a new unionization effort in Covington, Kentucky.

Telephoto Onda, after leading a strike of the Pecan Workers which he was assaulted in and jacked, writes that he is now at work and expects to go back to Mexico.

Billie Bailey, ILGWU organizer, finds time to write a play called "Dance the Way to the End," which has been reprinted in panel discussions arranged by the Teachers Union.

The song book put out for the ACWA local by Katherine and Elizabeth Gems, who learned mimeographing here in the summer of 1939, is an achievement. It would be hard to find a mimeograph booklet that could surpass this one in the attractiveness of its set up and the neatness and skill of execution.

Odion Enimede, member of the State Committee of the Minnesota Farmer Labor Party, brought his bride to Highlander for the reunion last November, and the newwedds have been spending time together.
Students' Reunion

Highlander is looking forward to seeing old friends again at the annual alumni reunion scheduled for Nov. 22-24. Homecoming week-end will be a special occasion and we are planning a program of general entertainment. More serious business will be under way Saturday morning with reports of the activities of Highlander and of alumni in the field of workers' education.

Following lunch, William Buttack, economics teacher, will lead a discussion on "The need for a national program" and its relation to labor. A routine game of volleyball ball will follow. The evening will round off the afternoon and work up healthy appetites for the banquet Saturday night. Impromptu entertainment and singing, followed by folk dancing, will be on the evening program.

Sunday morning a report will be made of the C.I.O. convention, after which there will be a discussion on labor and politics.

The fall week-end program will be accompanied by a meeting of the Alumni Association convening Highlander and what alumni can do to help each other.

A breathing after Sunday will be effectively the end of the program.

Fascist Leader Attacks School

The latest attempt to discredit Highlander by painting "red" and "Fascist" labels is a forty-two page pamphlet "The Fifth Column in the South," written by Frank F. Knop of the Constitutional Educational League. A large part of the pamphlet is devoted to Homelea's foreign check in Highlander for $600 by prominent leaders, including the author of a pamphlet "The Fifth Column in Washington," which according to the convention, November 2, attempts to prove that every New Dealer is a Communist and a fifth columnist by choice.

Columnist John Temple Graves wrote in the Asheville Citizen:

"If I were a Communist, I would be the most anti-fascist person in the world. The idea of a Communist organizing a school in the South is laughable."

Busy Fall Term Trains 27 Students In Better Unionism

The fall term for workers, which closed Oct. 26, brought 22 regular and five special students to Highlander for six weeks of resident study. These students, together with the 205 visitors, who came during the session, represented 22 national labor unions.

The students came from ten states and Mexico. Federico Salinas, Mexican electrical worker, was sent to Highlander by the Pan-American Union as part of a program of exchanging students between the two countries. He is a member of and officer of the labor union for his industry, Sindicato Mexicano de Electricistas.

The Eleanor Roosevelt scholarship announced recently for the C.I.O. was awarded to Ed Blair, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Local 680, Atlanta, Georgia.

In addition to the regular classes in history, economics, union problems, dramatic, parliametary law, union publicity, there were weekly panel discussions on problems of interest to labor. The discussion on organizing was chaired by Edward F. Callahan, vice-president of the American Federation of Hat and Millinery Workers. Rev. Elsworth Smith, pastor of the Chattanooga Third Presbyterian Church, led a panel on cooperation. The panel on national defense was led by Yorke Conover, Birmingham, Alabama C.I.O. director and postmaster of the American Legion in Alabama.

Wilson Evans, regional director for the U.S. Wage and Hour Division, gave an important discussion of the enforcement procedures for the wage and hour law. Copies of his speech were distributed to the press and public from Mr. Evans' office.

Other speakers during the term included Larry Randolph Mason, cultural officer of the Central Labor Union; Dr. W. E. Burghard, editor of the Southern News Almanac; Orville Maas, cooperative expert; Grover Harris, president of the Alabama Farmers Union; Dr. William Johnson, dean of the Highlander Folk School property; Dr. John Schools, Southern representative of the United Health and Welfare Employees of America; Roy Reynolds, president of the Chattanooga Printing Pressmen's Union; Joe Gehr, organizer of the Cincinnati Committee of the Southern Conference of Human Welfare; and Dr. R. L. Jentz, president of the American Federation of Teachers.

We have every confidence in the Highlander Folk School as an educational institution.

NASHVILLE BANNER SLANDERS WORKERS

This Nashville Banner does not like organized labor. It does not like labor school. In September the Banner sent its reporter, Mr. Richard Battle, to Grundy County to get a story about the Folk School. The article raises the old "red" issue again and also announces the amazing discovery that bankers, manufacturers, and some labor employers do not like the Highlander. Mr. Battle does not quote his neighbors. In fact he does not seem to think highly of mountain people in gener-

Crusaders' Seek To Close HFS

The Highlander Folk School is a hotbed of communism—the Russian flag is saluted at the end of every class, and the students sing “Keep the Red Flag Waving”—the school is against the U. S. government, publishes the poverty of Grundy County, and has a demonstrating and militant effect on the county generally.

There are other charges of the same kind made up by C. H. Kilby, a petty official of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Co., and made the excuse for a night-time mass march on the school last November 12th. “Just another peaceful business obligation,” an assured Mr. Kilby. But the story is mainly taken from the other side of his mouth, this swinging little man declared. “It is the duty of every community affected with un-American groups to act.”

Friends of labor, of democracy, of peace and order sent a message to Kilby and his fanatical mob in a letter, signed by Alton L. Cooper, governor of the state.

Kilby’s friends have occasioned not a speck of Grundy County but only listened to Mr. Kilby who, if he lived in Detroit, would probably be a man.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

February 3, 1914

My Dear Mr. Dombrowski,

I am sending you the same amount as I sent you last year as my contribution toward a scholarship at the Highlander Folk School.

I have had the school checked by people in whom I have absolute confidence and am convinced that the newspaper attack upon you is to your advantage because of the Communist activities by which they are opposed to you and therefore by labor organization and, therefore, by labor education. Thus seems to me to be the right attitude and, therefore, I am continuing my support. I hope this spring to come down to see the school myself.

Very sincerely yours,

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

In return, he contributed a hundred dollars, Miss Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote to this letter with a memorandum attached to each payment.

National C. I. O. Endorsement

The C. I. O. convention meeting in Atlantic City unanimously approved a resolution, November 22nd, endorsing the aims and program of the Highlander Folk School. The endorsement was introduced by William Turner, President of the Tennessee Industrial Union Council and District 22 of the United Mine Workers of America, and bore the personal signatures of five international union presidents, four vice presidents of the C. I. O., and practically every southern director present.

The convention expressed a desire to “discuss and define” the program of the school as an attack on the reactionary labor movement of the South.

Lucy Randolph Mason, Public Relations Representative of the C. I. O., said the delegates were confident of the school’s success.

HFS Executive Council Formed

To increase Highlander’s contribution in the field of voters’ education, an executive council of southern educators and labor representatives has been formed to work with directors of the school formulating the programs and to take.

The council met at the school, December 14th and 15th, to discuss the achievements of the year, and continue on the present setup in setting up the program for 1941. Members of the council are:

Edward S. Callaghan, Vice-President and Southern Director, American Federation of Labor Workers.

Paul R. Creagan, Executive Secretary, Tennessee Industrial Union Council.

George Tibbals, United Mine Workers of America, District 22.

Dr. Harry E. Hoxie, Professor of Education, Berea College, Nashville.

Matt Lynch, American Federation of Labor Workers, and the Southern Labor Union.

Cordell Hull, Southern Representative, Non-Partisan League.

George Mayhew, Professor of Religion, Vanderbilt University, Nashville.

Joe Dolve, Plumbers Union, A. F. of L. Chattanooga.

The program for the Highlander benefit on December 6th consisted of the reading of “Amerika Was Promise” by Archibald MacLeish; a ball poem “And They Lynched Him on a Tree,” by Katherine Germain; songs by the American Choral Society and the Provisional University Band; and workers’ ball. The songs were sung by Rose Roland, and North’s folk songs sung by Hoots Leadbetter (Leadbelly).

The sponsors were Miss Maria Anderson, Hon. and Mrs. Benya Baldwin, Justice and Mrs. Hila Black, Mr. and Mrs. John Cauley, Hon. and Mrs. John Collier, Hon. and Mrs. John Collier, Hon. and Mrs. Leo Ceylon, and Mrs. Leon Henderson, Mr. Sidney Hillman, Mr. Cardwell B. Secretary, and Mrs. Harold Zakes, Mr. Mordecai Johnson, Miss Kathryn Lewis, Mrs. Howell Moorehead, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Miss Hilda Smith, Miss, and Mrs. L. Corrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Voorhis.

HIGHLANDER Benefit

The administration committee is composed of Rev. Ernest A. DeFerrari, Mrs. Charles Collier, Mr. Mrs. Dallas Day, Rev. A. T. Moore, Miss Mary Price, Mrs. Malcolm Ross, Mrs. Michael Strath, Miss Elizabeth Webb.

The New York Committee gave a theater benefit on January 15th. The program consists of “No For An Answer,” the title was disposed of, and the benefit was highly successful. A 15-page illustrated pamphlet on High-lander was prepared by the committee and advance copies were distributed at the theater.

Sponsors of the benefit were: Mrs. and Mrs. Eliza Askew, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Askew, Mrs. Ethel Clyde, Mrs. Henry Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. Field, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pillman, Miss Margaret Prostheti, Mr. and Mrs. William Olson, Mrs. Walter Geithorn, Mrs. Danie A. Gilmour, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harlow, Jr., Miss Gloria Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, Mrs. William Lescas, Mrs. D. Ellis Litt, Mr. Marshall McIvor, Jr., Mrs. Samuel Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. I. Florence [unreadable].

Somebody is going down in his pocket for Kirby's traveling and agitating expenses (a lot of which are occurring on the company's time), and it is not, we venture, Mr. Kirby who is about the biggest destruction of the mountain has ever known.

The coal company has some interesting connections with Joseph P. Kump, the out and out Fascist propagandist whose scurrilous publication "The Fifth Column in The South" we described in the November Fling. Alvin Henderson, a leading Crusader and member of the company controlled First National Bank of Tracy City, which appears in Kump's "Fifth Column," hundreds of the pamphlets were distributed in the county just before the projected vigilante march, and the pamphlets took one pile after the other.

In the case of this "crusade" Highlander has more friends than ever. "Your fight is our fight," writes the Goodwill Furniture Workers Union of Wragby, Tennessee, sending a ten dollar contribution. It is one of many. A county local of the United Mine Workers of America has passed a resolution endorsing the school Summerfield residents have driven Kirby out of their houses when he has come to peddle his "absolute facts.

The fight is by no means finished. The NEW REPUBLIC which carried an excellent account of the affair in its December 26th issue, says: There are crowds of people in Tennessee who don't want a school that prepares efficient spokesmen for labor, and who will stop at almost anything to destroy it.

Conference On Democracy

The second State Conference On Democracy in Tennessee will be held in Nashville, February 22-23, with W. O. Lowe as chairman and Huber Ford, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhoods, as executive vice-chairman. The main topics for discussion will be the maintenance of freedom, the prevention of civil liberties, and the rights of the laborer.

Highlander urges everyone interested in the preservation of Former Students Organizing

Here are the current organizing and negotiating activities of Highlander students.

Cecil Pegues, member of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, recently organized the Dixie Metal Products Company of Bessemer, Alabama, a tough job to judge by previous attempts at unionization there. Currently he is negotiating a contract for the new union. Cecil is also business agent for the Westside Local of the Birmingham Retail Clerks.

An election was recently held and won by the TWUA at the Louisville Southern Wipers Company. Ed Y. Horton, Highlander 1940, was president of the two-week organizing that brought the victory. Elie Y. Young is a board member of the TWUA, Local 22.

Ed Blair, who attended Highlander on the Eleanor Roosevelt Scholarship, is organizing for the American Federation of Teachers in Ohio.

The TWUA, one of the negotiators of the Alabama Mine Labor Agreement, held a meeting in Tennessee last month to discuss the present status of the agreement.

Tennessee Commonwealth Federation Organized

Accepting the challenge of John R. Thompson, chairman of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, that "all men are to be judged in their devotion to real democracy by their willingness to defend and extend it in times of necessity," the Tennessee Conference on Democracy meeting in Nashville on Washington's birthday organized the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation.

The purpose of this organization is "to join in common cause all men and women, including those who labor on the farms, in cities, in mills, in mines, or elsewhere, for concerted independent political action."

H. V. Reid, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhoods, was made chairman, and an executive board was elected from the C. I. O., A. F. of L., the four Railroad Brotherhoods, and liberal groups who had jointly sponsored the conference. Mrs. Ruth Cutler 1918 Cotton States Bldg., Nashville, is the Federation's secretary.

By resolution the Federation condemned the Crusaders' actions on labor people and labor institutions constitute a threat to democracy and national unity.

Bernie Schmidt (summer '39) is the new secretary of the Highlander Alumni Association, and editor-publisher of the "Alumni News," official organ of the Alumni Association. Mary Lawrence has replaced Bill Gustick as alumni Corresponding Secretary.

Pirtle Case Goes to Supreme Court

The Henry Pirtle poll tax case will be taken to the U. S. Supreme Court this spring by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and the United Mine Workers of America. The case has been in the courts since September 1939. Pirtle, a resident of Grundy County, Tennessee, objected to paying for the right to vote and sued three election judges and the Attorney General of Tennessee. On March 27, 1941, the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals gave a decision in favor of the poll tax.

With the poll tax fight taking on national interest, there have come many requests for copies of "South of the Ballot," the anti-poll tax play written by Highlander students.

BEREA CONFERENCE

Staff members and alumni took part in an Labor-Student Conference, held last month at Berea, Kentucky, and sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Myles Horton of Highlander and Dr. Arthur Raper of the Farm Shareholders Co-operative Association, spoke before the Faculty. Speaking was done by Zelma H. Roberts, Berea alumni, and the Faculty.

The Conference, held at the Berea College, has been an annual gathering of Berea students, alumni, and faculty in the past few years.

RECENT ENDORSEMENTS

The United Mine Workers, local 16, in Grundy County, and the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union are among the organizations which have recently endorsed Highlander.
SPRING TERM FOR SOUTHERN WORKERS

2 Weeks' Short Course
May 12 to May 24

WHAT FORMER STUDENTS SAY:

"My term at Highlander helped by teaching me the principles underlying unionism and by giving me contact with the labor leaders throughout the entire southern region."—C. M., University of Virginia.

"Studying at Highlander aided me in my work as grievance committeeman and precinct worker in politics."—J. P., a North Carolina Textile Worker.

"I learned to conduct union meetings, lay out posters and pamphlets, and got a clearer view of how and why unions are formed."—N. H., a Hosiery Worker, North Carolina.

RECREATION

Students should bring old clothes and shoes, for the sessions are not all studywork. There will be hiking through the Spring woods and along the bluffs, night campfires for a supper in some far gorge, volleyball, baseball, and horseshoe pitching are favorite after-class sports. Singing and square dancing are indoor activities. Highlander has its own mountain band; students who can play anything portable are urged to bring it with them.

THE COURSES

• Among the courses are public speaking, parliamentary law, union publicity, mimeographing and poster making, labor economics and history, union problems, dramatics, and singing. The men and women who teach these subjects have had organizational and educational experience with unions. In addition to the regular classes, there are always timely discussions led by prominent labor officials and representatives of the Federal Government.

STUDENTS

• Training at Highlander is given to industrial, professional and rural workers, both men and women. A recommendation from the student's local organization is required.

COST

• Full cost of the two week course is $15. A few scholarships, covering all or part of the expense while at the school, are available.

Enrollment for the Spring term is now going on—those interested should write at once for application blanks.
PLANS LAID FOR WRITERS SCHOOL

Highlander will hold its third annual workshop for student writers July 24 through August 8. The session will be under the direction of the school and is being sponsored by Paul Green, William B. Kinkead, John Collier, Harry, Kelley, Brandeis, Deutsch and Genevieve Taggard.

The Teachers

Teachers will be specially assembled for this session. In charge of short story and poetry will be Mary Lapp, well-known magazine writer, and former teacher of literature at Middle College.

Charles V. Ferguson, an associate editor of "The Reader's Digest" and author of "Fifty Million Brothers" and "The Confusion of Tongues," will teach non-fiction writing, including the special subjects of radio journalism and the picture story.

Laurence V. Amer, formerly of the Carolina Playmakers and a playwright student of Paul Green and F. W. W. Koch, was a faculty member of Missouri State Teachers College where he directed the annual Midwestern Folk Drama Festival, will teach playwriting.

Guest Speakers

A number of well-known Southern writers, Harry Harrison Kroll, Edna L. Moore, H. C. Stearns, among others, have written that they will visit the school during the Workshop, their plans permitting at that time.

Those interested in enrolling should apply at once to the Workshop Director, Leon Wilson, Highland, who has been instructed to the reason tuition and board included, is $10; one week, $15.

JUNIORS CAMP AT HIGHLANDER

Twenty-five boys and girls between the ages of eight and sixteen have completed the second annual Junior Union Camp for Workmen's Children at Highlander, which was held during the two weeks following June 8.

Zilphia Horton and Margaret Winn were in charge of the camp. Zilphia taught folk dancing and singing, while Margaret Winn taught classes in arts and crafts. The boys and girls had an enjoyable time learning their own songs and dances.

Twenty-Eight Workers Attend Spring Term

Twenty-eight organized workers, equally divided between full and part-time students, attended the short Spring course at Highlander, May 12 to 24.

Among the representatives of AFL, CIO and unaffiliated national organizations were sugar and construction workers from New Orleans, boatmen and packers from Memphis, and teachers, office workers and miners from eight states. With few exceptions the students were officials of newly-formed organizations.

The regular staff was assisted by John J. Jones, CIO legislative representative; Leo Reavis, director, William Eaves, regional wage and hour director; Hollis W. Brent, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhood; and chairman of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Paul R. Christopher, state CIO secretary; Lewis Jones, chairman of the Federation; and Zilphia Horton, UMW union council and member of the United Automobile Workers.

June 26, Margaret T. Mitchell, writer, Columbia University, and Allen Lawrence, Southern NLNP representative.

The two-week session provided an opportunity for various groups to get together. Eighty-one representatives of 25 national unions, from all branches of organized labor met for a week-end conference on Southern problems. Officials of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and NLNP discussed a concerted attack on the state tax and anti-social legislation.

People from the community joined the students in evening classes at dance, singing, ball games and picnics.

The regular six-week summer term will be held from Aug. 18 to Sept. 25 for men and women of office, factory, field and mine. A limited number of scholarships covering all expenses are available. The second scholarship would be Mrs. Roosevelt will

ALUMNI ARE CIO DELEGATES

Miss Billie Caviness, a member of UCAHCA from Memphis, and a student in Highlander's Spring term 1941, was elected a vice-president of the state CIO body at its second annual convention held in Chattanooga May 31 to June 1. Other former students of Highlander attending the convention as delegates were Ed Blair, Amalgamated Clothing Workers organizer and holder of the Eleanor Roosevelt scholarship in 1940, Paul W. Warr, Miss W. B. Kinkead, and June Wrigley, Terr., Zilphia Horton and Dillard King were visitors.

HPS Endowment

A resolution restating the endowment of Highlander was passed. The resolution took note of the fact that Highlander had been attacked recently by organizations not identified with the labor movement and said that any attack on the organized labor movement and such individuals and organizations would brand themselves as enemies of organized labor in Tennessee and the South.

The report of Paul Christopher, executive secretary and treasurer, showed remarkable progress in expanding the organization of William Tourbiller, director of the UMW, was re-elected president.

Sacred Singers Have Meet Here

An all day singing with "dinner on the ground" was held at the school in April. The songs were those of the "Original Sacred Harp," a choral collection continuing in use in the rural South for 175 years.

Thirty members of the Summerfield Sacred Harp Class participated and were joined by seven veterans Sacred Harps. Members of the Tennessee songful stronghold of this kind of music, Mr. L. P. Oden, speaking for the visiting Sacred Harp Class to attend one of the Lawrence County conventions, and the Summerfield group asked the visitors to return.

By JOAN PAYNE, Director

Highlander Folk School reopened on May 12 its nursery school for the Summerfield community, a program which now enters its third year. The director is being assisted by Dorothy Thomas of Sumter Field. Twelve children, ranging in age from 2 1/2 to 6 years, are enrolled in the school with five more planning to start within the next few weeks.

By 8:45 each weekday morning there are seven or eight children playing around the school building. One of the children is a spirited horse pulling a red wagon. Another child is the serious driver. The porch is a house with the preparation of food for the dollhouse an important task for the week, and all the children are making use of the swings in the yard. The child already on the swing is performing acrobatic tricks to the delight of the waiting observers.

The children, racing around the yard and other red wagon, to the trailer is attached, have a collision with the "horse and wagon." The difficulties which arise are settled. A 10-year-old girl reads for milk and crackers. After this there is a quiet time of reading and a group activity such as a "hide and seek." A week later, the children with the group come together for a game to listen to the verses, or for a story. At noon the children are on the way home for lunch, which is not without its variations, has the activity patterns of the children in the group.

Plans are being considered, with the hope that they may soon be carried out, for the extension of the school day until two o'clock with a hot lunch being served at noon.

The New Orleans Program

BY WILBERT CONKLING

Mary Lawrence, Highlander extension director, is back in New Orleans and returning to the city to participate in the education and sponsorship of the International Union Council. She has been in New Orleans since about April 18, when she returned to Highlander to teach the second and third week of the AFWA program, and already the group are visiting their local unions.

Lawrence recently wrote: "Since the last trip, which was to Wisconsin, much work has been done by members of the AFWA group, with the educational program and the local unions, making the trip this time.

"I've been working with the four HFS girls and Alvin-Lawrie didn't know this let- ter was going to be published. They have been a great help to me in the Highlands Educational Extension program and I am not using "the Highlands" as a backbone. They have already given them a lot of help, and I think they are going to be even more helpful to me.

"The AFWA program, which began with an Officers' Training School, with 120 attending the opening meeting, classes in public speaking and parliamentary law, union publicity, labor history and other problems were set up, and we have scheduled several topics in a week's time to give all who desired a chance to attend. The classes in parliamentary law and public speaking and parliamentary law have made considerable headway in the course to separate the two, and run them both simultaneously.

In connection with the Officers' Training School, the Highlander Education Extension was set up, and the second week, the National Labor Relations Act; a panel on "Grievances" [sic] with four CIO representatives, the "Labor's Information, Please" contest.

The first of the four local unions is on an effort to help newly organized locals locate and overcome any problems. Classes in parliamentary law, public speaking, and other problems were set up, and the second week, the National Labor Relations Act; a panel on "Grievances" [sic] with four CIO representatives, the "Labor's Information, Please" contest.

The amount of money and good food allowed them to carry a full program and at the same time build a good health and gain weight. The unionization of the campers' parents showed the following: 10 with the AFL, 10 with the CIO, 5 with the CIO.

These workers' children, who came from communities in Tennessee, Missouri, and Arkansas, returned to their homes with a richer experience in cooperation, understanding and appreciation of their organization. They are wholehearted support for a democratic, responsive to the needs of their citizens, to promote democratic understanding among diverse economic, political, and social groups, and the majority prefer the ranks of college students.

Zetlha Horton is teaching music again this year at the YWCA Industrial girls' summer session, held at Camp Merre Wood, Sapp.

Jim Dombrowski made a speaking trip through New England during April. He appeared before the Greenfield, Mass., Central Labor Union's at its annual banquet, and spoke to students at Mount Holyoke, Smith, and Amherst College.

Myrtle Horton was one of the speakers at the conference of Southern Mountain Workers which met in Knoxville this spring.

A 70-acre farm adjoining Highlander, has been added to the school's property. It was purchased for the use of the school by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Johnson, donors of the original site.

The Highlander personnel has been expanded by the addition of two people Joan Payne, who was trained in nursery school work at Sarah Lawrence College, has taken charge of the Fullmer Nursery School. Harold Lasker came to Highlander after his recent graduation from the University of North Carolina.

"Democracy's Dawn in the Hills" by Bee Rich, is the story which appeared in the February issue of Social Work Today, describing recent reactionary attacks upon Highlander.
FIELD PROGRAM BROADENS

With the exception of the eight weeks the agent teaching at Highlander, Mary Lawrence has been in New Orleans since April 1st. Her program of workers education sponsored by the New Orleans Industrial Union Council will continue until the end of the year.

Special classes have been held for three unions: the Furniture Workers, the Inland Boilermakers, and the Transport Workers. In addition there have been classes for women workers and committee workers of the type outlined in the Spring. The particular part of the program has involved in the charting of departmental meetings in the unions, an increased attendance at general meetings, increased in membership, and data collection, publication of a monograph, and, in one of the unions, the admission of free meals to a hundred members attending class each week.

The program also includes a book on the history of the union and an orientation of the workers to the program and the work of the union. The program is supported by the union and is available from the C.I.O. office.

This program is supported by the United C.I.O. and the State C.I.O. funds, and is a part of the program of the C.I.O. in New Orleans.

The summer nursery program is also being continued, with the program being conducted on a nationwide level.

AUTO WORKERS CONFER ON EDUCATION

Carrying out plans formulated at Highlander by Richard Deverall, U.A.W. Industrial Director Bethel Judd, International Representative, the members of Memphis Ford Local 903, The United Auto Workers, C.I.O., held a three day educational conference at the Hotel Chisca, Memphis, the 24th, 25th and 26th of October.

A large number of delegates were present from Detroit, Baltimore, Louisville, Atlanta, Dallas, Memphis, and several other cities.

The union, said Deverall, "is simply a slot machine for wages and hours. We are making the cultural, democratic, and cultural means of the American worker."

Special study was given the Ford grievance procedure setting up of local union educational and recreational programs, publicity and journalism, and housing, rent, and prices.

Principal speakers were T. J. Sharpe, U.A.W. south branch member; Richard Deverall, Pearl Marquart, educational director of Ford Local 600, Detroit; John Edelman, Office of Public Administration, Washington.

Right To Strike

"When management wants the right to strike," Brother Marquart spoke forcefully for adoption of the Murray Industrial CouncilPlan as the one means to right for putting the National Defense Program on a sound basis.

HFS Staff Members

Myers Horton, Harry Laker, Maria Stenzel, Leon Wilson were delegates from Highlanders and took active parts in the program. The Highlander film "PEOPLE OF THE CUMBERLAND" was shown with U.A.W. movies and drew a fine response. Plans were announced for a week's school at Highlander for southern Auto Workers, to be held early in 1942.

A number of Highlander Alumni attended the conference, including T. O. Yarnaladington, financial secretary of Ford Local 903, who was awarded the second scholarship provided by Eleanor Roosevelt.

The conference concluded with a mass meeting for Memphis C.I.O. workers held in Edgewood.
COMMUNITY AND COUNTY NEWS

With the summer season of recreation and relaxation in full swing, the Highlander planning committee is busy laying plans for the Summer Term Conference.

The much-anticipated work camp, to be held in the area, will provide employment for young men who are unable to find work in the community. The project will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. A. Seabolt, who have been instrumental in the development of the County Planning Committee.

In other news, the annual chili feed will be held on the campus next Saturday evening. The proceeds will go towards the purchase of new equipment for the school's band.

Student Activities

During the fifth and sixth weeks of the conference, a number of activities will be held. These include a dance at the school, a picnic at the county park, and a trip to the nearby city. The activities are open to all students and are sure to be a hit.

PAMPHLET ON ROANE COUNTY

On September 21st, two C. I. O. organizers and the local chapter of the United Mine Workers will hold a rally in Roane County to promote unionization. The rally will be held at the county fairgrounds, and will feature speeches by local union leaders and representatives of the C. I. O. The purpose of the rally is to raise awareness of the benefits of unionization and to encourage workers to join the union.

A Thanksgiving banquet will also be held on the same day, with proceeds going to support the local chapter of the United Mine Workers.

HFS ALUMNI TO CONVENE

A group of alumni from High School for the Fine Arts will convene in Roane County on September 22nd to discuss the future of the school and its programs. The meeting will be held at the local chapter of the United Mine Workers, and is open to all alumni.

In other news, the local chapter of the United Mine Workers has received a large donation from a local business, which will be used to support the union's efforts to organize workers in the area.

CHARLES W. FERGUSON, an associate editor of the Reader's Digest, discusses the 'think-piece' with Kate Bradford Stockton, author of the book. Other guests included H. C. D. H. readers and members of the local community, who shared their thoughts on the event.

In other news, the school's band will be performing at the county fair, and the local chapter of the United Mine Workers will be holding a rally to support unionization.

Rudolf Workers of Sequatchie.

"WE'VE GOT WORK TO DO," a play written by the students to show labor's role in the defense emergency, was performed twice for enthusiastic audiences.

Among the full-time students were history workers, labor history, construction workers, a newspaper employee, an auto worker, a postal worker, a federal worker, a student of labor law, and a student from Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Washington, D. C. For the second time, the Pan-American Union sent a Latin American worker who came this year from Colombia, South America.

ever to have graduated from Emory University.

DOMBROWSKI, according to ____, while attending Emory University, organized a choir and took it on a tour of Europe. ____ stated that DOMBROWSKI was outstanding at Emory University and after graduation from Emory he was placed in charge of the alumni association, and placed it on a sound organizational basis. ____ recalled that DOMBROWSKI then went to New York City to continue his ministerial studies at the Union Theological Seminary. While attending EMORY University DOMBROWSKI belonged to the Sigma Chi fraternity.

____ stated that DOMBROWSKI was the only son of a Tampa, Florida jeweler and apparently came from wealthy parents.

____ stated that DOMBROWSKI wrote a doctors thesis in his senior year at the Union Theological Seminary on the industrial conditions in the South. The story, as related to ____ by DOMBROWSKI, was that DOMBROWSKI decided that in order to write such a thesis it would be necessary for him to travel in the south and study industrial conditions. Accordingly DOMBROWSKI started on a tour in the South and stopped at the city of Gastonia, North Carolina. At this particular time there was a strike of the laborers at some mill in Gastonia. ____ was unable to recall the date when this happened but stated that it was several years ago.

Continuing with DOMBROWSKI'S story as told to ____ on arriving in Gastonia, North Carolina, DOMBROWSKI decided to study the cause of the strike. Approximately two days after arriving in Gastonia a meeting of the town citizens was held, DOMBROWSKI attending this meeting. The people at this meeting were condemning the strikers and DOMBROWSKI arose and made a speech in which he stated that before condemning these strikers and their demands it should be ascertained whether or not their demands were legitimate. The people immediately hurled everything in the building at DOMBROWSKI, according to the story, as told by DOMBROWSKI to ____. DOMBROWSKI was placed under arrest and indicted for the filling of a police chief of Gastonia. DOMBROWSKI contacted ____ by telephone and ____ went to Gastonia to defend DOMBROWSKI.

____ stated that the police chief in Gastonia had been murdered sometime prior to the time of the above related incident and DOMBROWSKI was charged for the murder only as a means to hold him in jail. ____ stated he he was successful in obtaining DOMBROWSKI's release.
Atlanta, 100-804

was of the opinion that the above incident made DOMEROWSKI very bitter against anti-union forces.

on one occasion he asked DOMEROWSKI if he believed in socialism and the theory of sharing the wealth and that DOMEROWSKI'S reply was "from what I have seen and experienced, I doubt if ever the millennium can be reached under the socialist system".

stated that in his own opinion he believes DOMEROWSKI is a preacher at heart who has gone "nuts" on the brotherhood of man. He advised that he has met several of DOMEROWSKI'S associates at the Highlander Folk School but is unable to recall their names. He stated that in his opinion these associates of DOMEROWSKI are a conglomerate group of eccentric individuals.

advised that he believed DOMEROWSKI was a thoroughly loyal American who believed in the social welfare of human mankind. was reluctant to express his opinion as to whether or not he believed DOMEROWSKI was a Communist.

stated he knew little about the Highlander Folk School but advised that DOMEROWSKI claimed that it was a labor school. He stated that those who lived at the Chautauqua Camp generally despised the Highlander Folk School. indicated that he did not have a high opinion of the Highlander Folk School and its principals which were being taught.

On page 8 of the January 26, 1942, issue of "The CIO News" there appeared an article announcing that the Highlander Folk School had offered its facilities to the Office of Civilian Defense to be used as a southern training center for civilian defense. The school stated that its program could be adjusted at any time for defense needs.

The 1941 annual report for the school shows that 475 students had attended classes, half at the Monteagle and half at extension classes in Memphis and New Orleans.

RE: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

The Bureau's attention is directed to the attached newspaper clipping appearing in the Chattanooga News-Free Press, Chattanooga, Tennessee, February 22, 1942, reflecting that a check in the amount of $100 was received by the Highlander Folk School from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the first contribution to the school's tenth anniversary scholastic fund. It should be noted further that the publicity indicates a proposal that the school be considered as a southern training center for civilian defense is under consideration by the director, Office of Civilian Defense.

Very truly yours,

MRS. ROOSEVELT PRESENTS $100 TO FOLK SCHOOL

Tenth Anniversary Observed; Plant, Program Expanded

MONTAEGLE, Feb. 1—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's check for $100, received this week, was the first contribution to Highlander Folk School's tenth anniversary scholarship fund. Ed Blair, who received the Roosevelt scholarship in 1940, is representing the Amalgamated Clothing Workers at Kingston, N. C., and The Vanlandingham, awarded the 1941 scholarship, is chairman of the Memphis CIO Council and financial secretary of the United Automobile Workers' Union.

Highlander enters its tenth year with an expanded plant and program. The 1941 report shows the best record of achievement in the history of the school, with a total enrollment for the residence, community and extension classes of 475.

A proposal that the school be used as a Southern training center for civilian defense is being considered, according to a letter from James M. Landis, executive director, Office of Civilian Defense.

TO THE FRIENDS OF HIGHLANDER

Highlander enters its tenth anniversary year with the nation at war. In 1942 all of the resources of labor and of the country will be directed to the defeat of the Axis and the destruction of Fascism. The energies of Highlander will be geared into that great effort.

A proposal that the resources of Highlander be used as a defense training center for union leaders received the endorsement of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council's executive board on January 4, 1942. It is expected to be approved by AFL and Railroad Brotherhood unions. If approved by Washington, this program will receive a major emphasis in 1942.

Highlander stands ready to be of service with an expanded plant and program. The report for 1941 which we present herewith is the best record of achievement in our history. It shows that from April to October there was a continuous succession of resident terms and conferences, with an enrollment as follows: Spring Term, 2 weeks, 28; Summer Term, 6 weeks, 16; Weekend Conferences, 100; Writers' Workshop, 2 weeks, 12; Work Camp, 4 weeks, 17; Junior Union Camp, 2 weeks, 23; total 252.

A notable accomplishment was the extension work done by Miss Mary Lawrance in New Orleans, and by Mr. Harry Lasker in Memphis. Less intensive work was done in many other parts of the south and enabled us to carry the message of unionism to many thousands of workers.

Under the capable direction of Miss Maria Stemel the craft work in the community was expanded in many new fields. The Summerfield Cooperative continues to thrive. Miss Joan Payne, director of the Nursery School, had a most successful year.

Our alumni now occupy places of leadership and responsibility in unions throughout the south. It is their record of service to the cause of labor which is the ultimate test of Highlander's value. We include a few alumni highlights of the year 1941.

Our expanded program resulted in an increase of about $2,500 in our budget. Your help in building a Tenth Anniversary Year Fund to help us meet the responsibilities that face us in this critical year of 1942 is warmly solicited.
1. SPRING TERM

The Spring term for workers, May 12-24, was attended by fourteen full time and an equal number of part time students, from five southern states, representing eight international unions. Weekend conferences on southern problems brought eighty-one additional persons to the school representing twenty-three national unions from all branches of labor.

States represented by the fourteen full time students were Tennessee, five; Louisiana, four; Alabama, three; Georgia and Virginia, one each. The United Sugar Workers, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, and Brotherhood of Carpenters sent two students, and the following organizations sent one student: United Furniture Workers, United Construction Workers, Inland Boatmen's Division of the National Maritime Union, Agricultural and Packing House Workers (UCAPAWA), Screen Office Workers Guild, Textile Workers Union of America, American Student Union, and the League of Young Southerners.

The number of union officials among the full time students was unusually high, including one president, one vice-president, one trustee, one financial secretary, four recording secretaries, and two committeemen.

Courses included Workers Problems taught by Myles Horton; Public Speaking by Mary Lawrence; Parliamentary Law by Harry Lasker; Dramatics by Zilphia May Horton; Union Publicity by Mary Lawrence; and Labor History by James Dombrowski.

As in previous years the regular staff was supplemented by special lecturers that included John T. Jones, CIO legislative representative and director of Labor's Non-Partisan League; William Eaves, regional director, Wage and Hour Administration; Hollis V. Reid, legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhoods and Chairman of the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Paul R. Christopher, executive secretary of the CIO in Tennessee; Lewis Jones, American Federation of Teachers, Fisk University; William Denton, chairman Atlanta Industrial Union Council and member of the United Automobile Workers; Margaret Leont, writer; Dr. Walter Rautenstrauch, Professor of Industrial Engineering, Columbia University; and Alton Lawrence, southern representative of Labor's Non-Partisan League.
The six weeks' summer session, August 18th-September 26th, was attended by sixteen students from seven states and one foreign country. Louisiana led the list with five students, Tennessee four, District of Columbia two, and one each from Oklahoma, Texas, Illinois and New York.

Two students were members of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, the National Maritime Union, United Automobile Workers, and the United Construction Workers; one student represented the following: United Sugar Workers, American Newspaper Guild, United Federal Workers, Workers Alliance, Telephone Workers, American Student Union. Three students were unattached. Seven students held the following offices: president, vice president, corresponding secretary, recording secretary, treasurer, secretary-treasurer, business agent. Another student was a committeeman. Since leaving school one student has been elected financial secretary of his local union and president of the Industrial Union Council, and another student has become a full time organizer.

Five weekend conferences were attended by a total of one-hundred-fifty-six representatives, with six AF of L, three independent, and seventeen CIO unions represented. Conference leaders were Richard Deverall, educational director, United Automobile Workers; Allen McNeil, southern director, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union; Fred Peiper, regional director of the CIO, New Orleans; Joe Dobbs, chairman of the organizing committee, Chattanooga Central Labor Union; Yelverton Cowhord, regional CIO director, Birmingham; Alton Lawrence, southern representative, Labor's Non-Partisan League; and Bethel Judd, of the United Automobile Workers.

Special conferences were conducted for the recently organized Ford local at Memphis, textile workers, and an Axe Handle Workers Industrial Union in the neighboring county.

Fred Peiper, regional CIO director, New Orleans, and Allen McNeil, southern representative of IUEAW, conducted a weekend conference on workers' education. For the five New Orleans students the term was an extension of the educational program started there four months earlier by Highlander.
A daily schedule of classes and discussions was led by the staff, visiting officials, and the students. Labor history, union problems, parliamentary law, and public speaking groups were enthusiastically attended. Dramatics, union publicity, and the singing of labor and folk songs, offered an opportunity for students to express themselves creatively. Under the direction of Zilphia Horton the dramatics class wrote and produced a play, "We Got Work to Do," based on the Murray Defense Plan. The students wrote and published their life stories under the title, "We Know the Score."

Democratic living and cooperation were stressed and practical experience was given through student committees for house management, recreation, and class work. Each student had an opportunity to serve on all committees.

Discussion groups were led by: Dr. Fleming James, Dean of Theological Seminary, University of the South, Sewanee; George Stone, Farm Security Administration; William Eaves, regional Wage and Hour Director; Paul Christopher, Secretary-Treasurer, Tennessee Industrial Union Council; and Frank Coffee, Social Security Board.

Students and staff made two field trips: one to Whitwell, Tennessee, where they were guests of the Retail Clerks at their regular local meeting. Rosanne Walker, former Highlander staff member, now organizing for that union in Philadelphia, addressed the meeting. At Sneedville, Tennessee, students were guests of the Axe Handle Workers' Industrial Union in their regular meeting.

One of the students, John Garcia, was sent to Highlander by the Minister of Labor of Columbia, South America, on a scholarship furnished by the Pan-American Union. The purpose of the scholarship is to foster friendly relations between labor in the Americas. Brother Garcia, president of his union of postal clerks and telegraphers, was a most successful ambassador of good will and helped us to understand some South American problems. This is the second scholarship of this character. Last year we had Mr. Fred Salazer, of the Electrical Utilities Workers, of Mexico City.

There was an international atmosphere to the session this summer, for in addition to Mr. Garcia, we had visitors from Canada and Thailand. Hong Li, rural Y.C.C. worker from China, was at the school for one week taking part in classes and discussions. Students were greatly interested in her story of the Chinese industrial co-operatives and their work to build a new China.
Other speakers were: Mike Smith, Tennessee director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; L. G. Anderson, IUWF representative; Hugh Runking, United Mine Workers of America, district representative; O. S. Baxter, sub-regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, Chattanooga; Matt Lynch, American Federation of Hosier Workers representative; Fred Schmidt, United Textile Workers of America; Rosanne Walker, Retail and Wholesale Clerks, Philadelphia; John Loucho, CIO representative, New Orleans; Frank Allen, IUWF, John Boucho, CIO representative, Bessemer; Edward Woods, International American Newspaper Guild representative, Birmingham; and Virginia Foster Durr, executive vice-chairman of the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax, Alexandria, Virginia.

3. WRITERS' WORKSHOP

The third annual summer workshop for writers, July 28-August 9, brought together twelve students from six southern states and from Illinois, New York, and the District of Columbia.

This year the Workshop was entirely in the hands of the Highlander staff. Leon Wilson was the director. Fiction was taught by Mary Lowery, writer and former teacher of creative writing at Hood College, Maryland. The majority of the students wrote and finished at least two stories each.

Charles Ferguson, an associate editor of the Reader's Digest, encouraged the use of Highlander for source material in the preparation of different kinds of articles and news stories. For practical experiences, Mr. Ferguson took his class (by imagination) into editor's offices, into homes of 'personalities' for interviews, and into cross country buses for the 'casual acquaintance' story. One of his sessions was conducted in the manner of 'Information Please', another in the manner of a country church revival. Text in the latter case was 'Everybody talks about Heaven ain't goin' there', and the students were impressively cautioned that all who talk about writing are not going to be writers if they simply talk about it.

Lealan Jones, faculty member of Missouri State Teachers College, instructed the students in the art and craft of playmaking. Individual work was turned in and criticized by the group. The second week of the mission the entire class worked out and performed a play on Highlander.
Guest speakers during the session were Henry Zorn, Washington bureau manager of the Federated Press, speaking on labor journalism; E. C. Nix of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, discussing the south as a new ground for writers to plow; and William R. McDaniel, regional technical consultant of the WPA Writers Program. Mr. McDaniel described the work being done by the Writers Program and pointed out the wealth of material that has been collected for writers' use, and the importance of the Program in making a record of our national culture.

Henry Thompson, a Grundy Countian, gave the group a memorable evening of "Tall Tales". Other evenings there was as much volley ball, singing, and square dancing as the students would permit—most of the students complained that it was needed and begrudged any time away from their typewriters.

The following people kindly served as sponsors: William S. Knickerbocker, editor of the Science Review; Julia Collier Harris, of Chattanooga; Paul Green, Allen Brand, Ethette Deutsch, and Genevieve Taggard.

WORK CAMP

The fourth summer Work Camp that took over the Highlander plant during the month of July was sponsored jointly by the International Student Service and Highlander. The staff consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Starkweather, of the Foothills School, Harry Laser, Dillard King, Emil Hillman, and James Donbrowski. Part-time staff members were Zilphia Horton, Marla Stenzel, and Leon Wilson.

Seventeen college students spent the month of July in hard manual labor and intensive study of the social and economic problems of the south. The major work was a reforestation project, with secondary projects the repairing of the nursery school cabin, making a pottery wheel, and completing a water system. Four hours in the morning was spent in manual work.

Afternoons were devoted to the study program. Our own mountain community provided the material for a careful study of the major problems of the south. Additional factual information was obtained from extensive field trips including a visit to a TVA dam, a National Forest, a textile center in Alabama, a Federal Homestead project and a blast furnace in middle Tennessee. Evenings were given over to folk dancing and singing.

A number of speakers representing labor and government agencies contributed to an understanding of the southern region.

The administration of the camp was almost entirely in the hands of the campers as an experiment in the techniques of democratic and cooperative living.

An illustrated book describing the camp, "Cumberland Campers," was written and published by the campers. A movie scenario was written and the colored movies made with new equipment presented to the school by Margaret Lamont. Records of favorite folk songs and dances were recorded.

What the Campers Thought About It All

"I'll try to summarize what I feel have been the main values of this camp:

"1. The experience of doing manual labor for four hours or more every day. It got pretty hot and tiresome at times, but it was lots of fun, and we got an idea of what it might be like to earn a living clearing land for $2 or $3 per acre.

"2. I've had a lot of fun- folk dancing is one of my favorite things, and the rest of the recreational program has been equally good.

"3. Our methods of studying Grundy County, Tennessee, and the South can be applied to many situations. Aside from what we learned about this region, we have a better idea of how to evaluate a community and what facts are essential to have if its problems are to be solved. This brings up the whole educational system. Until this is an established thing, work camps will probably be a very important agency in supplementing theoretical studies with practical experience.

"4. Seeing conditions here for ourselves, and hearing from the labor leaders and community people, was a vivid experience. Even for those of us who had read and known about these facts, it was pretty impressive; and for at least one of us, who never realized such conditions existed, it was down right world-shaking. This sounds as if I'm sanctioning emotional appeals; it's only with the assumption that this emotional reaction will stimulate more and better mental activity which will help solve these problems."

FRANK SEARS, Swarthmore College.

"This cooperative served to show me that the Work Camp method of cooperative living as practiced at Highlander has great possibilities for the world. It is difficult to be specific about my impression of the experience. In general, it has greatly changed my opinion about certain economic problems—has made me realize that whatever they are, my first impressions of people are not to be trusted, and even more generally, has confirmed my faith in real democracy. I am aware of the tremendous problems we face, but think that with considerable change democracy can be acquired.

"The entire work camp movement is a vital and important one. I think it definitely ought to be perpetuated and made known to more people."

LEONE REIBER, Vassar College.

"I have, in my thinking, risen to a new understanding of the great mass of America, I have gained an immense satisfaction from manual work which formerly has been alien, I have had an unequal joy in breaking away from a stiff routine of everyday living, I have made good comradeships with the finest people I have met in the group, I have gained what quite suddenly has become an insatiable urge to learn, brought about by contact with older and far more mature people than myself, and I have lived in a small society which has been the finest in decent living. This is a most noble attempt to describe a gigantic experience by someone whose throat is too choked up to talk about it."

HOWARD SAULLEY, Cornell University

5. JUNIOR UNION CAMP

Twenty-three boys and girls between the ages of eight and fifteen attended Highlander's second camp for the children of union members. The two weeks from June 9 to June 23 was the first vacation away from home for the majority of the children, many of whom had never been in the country or seen a mountain.
Zilphia Horton and Margaret Bryan were the directors. Zilphia taught folk dancing and singing, Maria Stenzel held classes in arts and crafts. The campers made their own puppets under the supervision of Leon Wilson and entertained the entire camp on Saturday nights with puppet shows. Harry Issers "taught" the campers by telling them a serial story about a union boy every night around the camp fire.

The junior union camp, like the other sessions at Highlander, was run on a cooperative basis. The children had the responsibility of keeping their cabins clean, washing dishes, setting tables, keeping their clothes in good order. Large amounts of sleep and good food allowed them to carry a full program and at the same time to build good health and gain weight.

Thirteen of the campers came from AF of L homes, seven had parents who were members of the CIO, and three came from unemployed homes. These children, who came from communities in Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia, and Arkansas, returned to their homes with a real experience of cooperative living which should help them in their home life, with an understanding of some of the fundamentals of unionism, with the knowledge of how to produce simple skits and sing the labor songs familiar to their parents.

Most of the children earned part of the CIO fee for the two weeks by selling candy and cookies and by doing odd jobs. Scholarships were provided for the children whose parents were unable to pay.

II. COMMUNITY AND COUNTY PROGRAM

9. NURSERY SCHOOL

The nursery school opened on May 12th under the direction of Miss Joan Payne, of Pleasantville, New York, a senior at Sarah Lawrence College, where she received training in nursery school work under Miss Evelyn Beyer.

When the school closed for the winter in Christmas, 1940, the enrollment was eleven. It opened in May with nineteen, representing fifteen families in Summerfield community. In the second quarter this was increased to twenty-one, raising the total number of families represented to seventeen, the largest in the history of the school. Six of these families had never been represented before.

The daily attendance ran from eight to fifteen, with an average of twelve. Absences were due to illness, going away, sleeping too late, no clean or warm clothes, and inter-family difficulties.

The school is open only in the morning. Milk and crackers are served in mid-morning. Families that have cows, furnish milk. Additional milk and the crackers are furnished by the school. From time to time parents send apples, raisins and plums. Parents made a house-to-house canvas to raise money for fuel.

Collection of the children begins at eight, and school actually starts at eight-thirty-five. At eleven-fifty the car starts on the home trip, and the children are all delivered by twelve-twenty.

Dorothy Thomas, a resident of the community, is the assistant and receives $2.50 a week. Miss Payne served without remuneration, and in addition provided her own car for the collection and delivery of the children. For ten days in July, Miss Alice Ledin of Philadelphia assisted in the school. She supervised painting and pasting work and helped with the routine jobs.

The nursery school was closed from July 28 to August 4, while the director checked with the county health officer concerning the infantile paralysis in surrounding counties. On his advice the school reopened. As the situation became worse, the school was closed on the seventh and remained closed until the 22nd of September when the elementary schools of the county were permitted to reopen.

Miss Payne was permitted to spend the last two months of her college year at Highlander to direct the nursery school, receiving credit for such work on her degree at Sarah Lawrence College, conferred in absentia. Too much cannot be said for Miss Payne for the excellent job she did in the community. It was difficult to follow in the steps of such a brilliant teacher as Miss Claudia Lewis, but Miss Payne did so in the most acceptably, fashion and endeared herself in the hearts of all the community. She not only directed the nursery school and started a new group of the young girls of the community, but during the summer term, she assisted materially in the work of the school, especially in the matter of the editing and pub-
Memphis, she had charge of the traveling library for two months.

The nursery school closed for the year with a Christmas party. Sweaters for the children were sent by Mrs. K. W. Payne of Pleasantville, N.Y., mittens and fruit by May Justus, and candy by Claudia Lewis.

10. GIRLS CLUB

The nursery school cabin was used once a week as a meeting place for the young girls in the community. Miss Payne polled the community and found seventeen girls who expressed a desire to attend a class. Nine girls came to the first meeting on July first, and five more came later; only three of the seventeen who first indicated an interest failed to come. Nine families were represented, four of them not represented by nursery school children. This brings the total number of families served by the nursery school staff to twenty-one.

The purpose of the girls' group is to bring together the young girls of the community, helping them to learn to work and play together, and bringing them into a closer relationship to the community and the Folk School.

11. SUMMERFIELD COOPERATIVE

With the exception of a few weeks when bad weather made it too difficult, the Summerfield Cooperative held meetings every week throughout the year, in the homes of the seven members.

Educational programs were a part of all meetings. Rummage sales continued to be held in Summerfield, Lauer, and the valley. Old clothes sent by friends of the co-op and of Highlander-ers were sold for a few cents a garment, enabling many hundreds of families to get good clothing that they otherwise could not afford, and at the same time accumulating capital for the cooperative.
Tomato plants were planted in the spring and all of the crop given to the public school of Summerfield for the hot lunch-WPA program. A cooperative berry project did only moderately well due to the bad drought. A number of patchwork quilts, pot-holders, rag dolls, etc., were sold. The pottery class continued to meet and to gain experience. A craft cabin was projected and all arrangements made to build, but the increase in lumber prices has disrupted the plan.

12. CRAFTS

Under the direction of Miss Maria Stenzol, the program of crafts has been expanded. The first six months were especially full; then Miss Stenzol's responsibilities during the summer sessions, and her field work in Clinton forced a curtailment.

a. Wood-Carving: Mountainoers take naturally to a knife. The class in whittling had an average attendance the first six months of nine, and an enrollment of twenty, created the greatest enthusiasm. Three-fourths of the group were either drafted or have jobs in defense industries away from home. However, the class has continued throughout the year and still has an enrollment of eight. Some unusual talent is included in the group. Dillard King, one of our neighbors, has been an associate teacher of the class. Two dogs recently completed were greatly admired by several organizers. One of them left instructions for the class to produce a hundred dogs and elephants to sell for about a dollar, and he would buy all that could not be sold elsewhere. There is some discussion of ways and means of acquiring a motor driven jig saw to rough out the animals, which would greatly increase the productive capacity.

b. Pottery: This class, sponsored by the Summerfield Cooperative, had an enrollment of thirteen and an average attendance of six. It remained in the beginners' stage. After several months of work producing small bowls, cups, and vases, the kiln was fired. Unfortunately many cracked due to insufficient heat control in the new kiln. With the assistance of the ceramic department of the TVA, it is hoped that the difficulties of baking and glazing can be overcome. The kiln was built by our 1940 work camp, and the work camp of 1941 built a potter's wheel under the direction of Asa Starkweather.

c. Drawing: Designed especially for the whittling class, the group held eight meetings during March and April with an enrollment of sixteen and an average attendance of six.

d. Dressmaking: Three members attended the few meetings of this class making patterns and remodelling old clothes.

e. Children's Classes: About ten children were enrolled in each of three classes in Puppetmaking, Claymodelling, and Whittling, with an average attendance from five to eight. The puppeteers produced the puppets and placed the drops for use in a play which they wrote and presented for the Parent Teachers Association of Summerfield in a program to save the hot lunch program.

f. Claymodelling Class in Laager: Laager is an isolated mountain community in the north end of the county about fifteen miles from Highlander. A class in Claymodelling met in the home of Dolph Vaughn with an enrollment of twenty-five and an average attendance of twelve. The class was started the beginning of November. Clay figures for the nativity scene were made and were a feature of the Christmas party given for the children of Laager. A rough wooden shelter was made by Miss Stonzel and Mr. Vaughn. The miner's lamp furnished the spotlight for the finished production. Gifts were distributed to all the children.

g. Shadowgraph: Christmas Party: Five young girls met with Miss Stonzel for seven weeks before Christmas. They made a miniature stage and small cardboard figures to illustrate the carols sung by the children at the Christmas party at Highlander for the Summerfield children. A short Christmas skit was written and heavy paper head-dresses simulating animal characters were made. Colorful wrapping paper for the children's Christmas gifts were made with potato blocks. Sixty-two children attended the party and received an appropriate gift from Santa Claus impersonated by Kyle Horton.

13. TRAVELLING LIBRARY

A travelling library in the county was started in the beginning of the year by Mary Lawrence. She started with a handful of books. Once a week she made a trip into the north end of the county stopping at homes along the road in Laager, Palmer, Altamont, Coalmont and Greutli. Later Tracy City was included. Two trips a month were devoted to the distribution of a mimeographed news bulletin containing an original cartoon and labor serial "Johnnie Workman", and discussing issues of special interest to the minors. The other two trips were spent in the circulation of books. Total circulation for the year was 1,113 representing seventy-four families.

Since almost everyone loaned their books to friends and "kinfolks", the actual circulation was at least a third larger than the actual record shows. About three hundred books were in circulation, a third of which were children's books. Very few fiction or labor books were in demand. Following is an analysis of the type of book in circulation in each community visited during the first six months of the year. Tracy City is not included because it was added to the library route later in the year.

In April the travelling library was taken over by Miss Louise Conkling, by Harry Lasker from July to October, and the last two months it was in charge of Miss Joan Payne.
14. SACRED HARP CLASS

The Sacred Harp songs, sometimes called white Spirituals, a neglected field of American folk music of the southern hill region, have been enthusiastically revived at Highlander. A "class" of forty under the direction of Zilphia Horton, held a session once a week for sixteen weeks from December 29 to April 5 with an average attendance of twenty. The final session was an all day sing "with dinner on the grounds." The songs were those of the "Original Sacred Harp," a choral collection continuously in use in the rural south for ninety-seven years. Thirty members of the Summerfield Sacred Harp Class participated and were joined by seven veteran Sacred Harpers from Lawrence County, the Tennessee stronghold for this kind of music.

Dr. George Pullen Jackson, of Peabody College for Teachers, authority on Sacred Harp Songs, has invited Zilphia Horton, Maria Stenzel, and Leon Wilson to be charter members of the Tennessee State Harp Association.

15. SQUARE DANCING AND STRING BAND

A Saturday night square dance group composed of the young people of Summerfield had an average attendance of sixteen the beginning of the year until the start of the summer sessions. A string band class was started to play for the dancing and had an average of four or five, with about eight listeners who came in the hope of dancing.

16. DISCUSSION GROUP IN COUNTY

During the summer Harry Lasker organized a study group at Laager which met on Thursday nights for two months at the homes of Loipn Vaughn and George Bone. Attendance grew steadily with a peak of twenty. Discussion subjects on current social and legislative problems suggested by the class included the poll tax, Wagner Act, Social Security, Wage and Hour Law, and the proposed tax bill.
17. CHRISTMAS PARTY

All of the children of the community, young and old, were invited to a Christmas party at the school. Sixty-two received gifts from Santa Claus, in the person of Tyles Horton. An original play was presented, with shadowgraphs made by the children illustrating the choral singing. Friends of the school contributed toys, dolls, and gifts.

III. EXTENSION PROGRAM

18. NEW ORLEANS

One of the most successful organizing drives in the south is that in New Orleans, where ten thousand workers have been brought into the union. Early in the year Mr. Fred Felper, regional director of the CIO, called on Highlander to assist him in setting up an educational program to instruct these new union members in the techniques of collective bargaining and in sound union principles and practices. Mary Lawrance, who had done extension work in Louisville, Ky., and Alcoa, Tenn., was assigned to New Orleans. She arrived there April 10.

The program began with a class for union officials with one hundred and twenty attending the first session. The Officers' Training School ended May 9 with a pencil discussion participated in by five CIO representatives on the handling of grievances, a speaker from the NLRB, and a "Labor's Information: Please" contest.

Classes were then started for the rank and file in parliamentary law, taking up grievances with the employers, and a study of the union contracts. Commenting on this latter subject, Miss Lawrance wrote, "The discussion of contracts seems to lead to a study of every union problem under the sun."

Special departmental classes for the officers and committeemen of five local unions were established. Miss Lawrance has taught sixteen different groups; the average attendance each week has been between seventy-five and one hundred.
Four local officials were selected by the Industrial Union Council to attend the Highlander Folk School Spring Term, May 12-24. Miss Lawrance was released to teach in the spring session, and again in the late summer to participate in the Summer Term.

Of considerable assistance to Miss Lawrance are the seven New Orleans students who were sent to Highlander for intensive training. Two of the students have been employed for full time union work in New Orleans and one is the assistant educational director.

The actual classes taught are only one part of the educational program which includes a variety of other activities equally, if not more, important. These include speaking to union meetings, preparing special publicity, writing educational articles each week for the press, helping to organize a labor day parade, starting a labor library, preparing model report blanks for shop committeemen to use in dues collection, conducting forums, assisting each local union to set up legislative committees, writing and publishing a pamphlet on "How to Build Your Union," etc.

The program has been in continuous operation from April to the present time. The experiment resulted in increased attendance at union meetings, increased dues collections, better record keeping, publication of a shop bulletin, better understanding of the union, and increased loyalty to the cause of labor. It has been so successful that Mr. Peiper wishes to make it a permanent part of the Industrial Union Council program.

Memphis, Tennessee, long a black page in labor's book, is another southern city where the workers are flocking into unions, after years of courageous struggle against a corrupt city administration dominated by boss Ed Crump. For years it was almost a certainty that any CIO organizer entering the city would be beaten unmercifully if not killed. The right to organize has not been completely established as yet, but labor has made great strides, and there is the beginning of a vigorous and strong movement. With thousands of new workers coming into the unions, almost all of them with no previous experience in the labor movement, the need for an educational program was obvious. The organizers had talked with Highlander for sometime about an extension program; plans were made with the assistance of Paul Christopher, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee Industrial Union Council and member of Highlander executive council. With the enthusiastic support of Richard Deverell, educational director of the United Auto Workers Union, the program was launched at the southwide UAW-CIO educational conference in Memphis in October. Harry Lasker, of the Highlander staff, was placed in charge.

The Industrial Union Council, reorganized with a former Highlander student as chairman, was given responsibility for the program. By the middle of November seven classes had been organized with an average attendance for the week of sixty. The director attended the meetings of local unions where the most effective work was done. In this way hundreds of workers were reached. For the class-shy workers, "educational clubs" were organized along informal lines, meeting in the homes of members. Considerable time was spent with the newly organized Ford local, where classes were conducted for the officials and committeemen on the handling of grievances and other pressing problems that confront a new local.

With the assistance of Highlander alumni, the educational director started a mimeographed paper for the Industrial Union Council; wrote and mimeographed a ten page pamphlet, "This Union Business," for the construction workers, and a fourteen page pamphlet, "The CIO- Yours and Mine" for the Woodworkers local; and compiled a bulletin on unemployment compensation for mass distribution; and started a lending library. Services of a varied and educational nature were rendered eight international unions.

In the January first issue of the "Timber Worker," official organ of the United Woodworkers of America, there is an extended story of the Memphis educational program and an appreciative account of the educational clubs among its locals there, with a prophecy that the success of the clubs in Memphis will probably stimulate the starting of other clubs in other cities.
Maria Stenzel started a recreational and educational program at Clinton, Tennessee, at the request of the representative of the American Federation of Hosier Workers. For a week committee meetings and classes were held primarily with the women members of the union. Demonstrations were given of the possibilities of group singing, square dancing, and dramatics. Posters were made and the hall decorated for a party. The work was done by committees of union members. As a result of the work done, the group that participated recommended that the work of the union be enlarged to include educational and recreational committees.

21. Southern UAW-CIO Educational Conference

Carrying out plans made at Highlander by Richard Doverall, UAW-CIO educational director, and members of Memphis Ford Local 903, the union workers held a three day educational conference at the Hotel Chisholm, Memphis, October 24-26. A large number of delegates were present from Detroit, Baltimore, Louisville, Atlanta, Dallas, Memphis.

Nyles Horton, Harry Lasher, Maria Stenzel, Leon Wilson were the delegates from Highlander and took active parts in the program. The Highlander film, "The People of the Cumberland", was shown with UAW movies and drew a fine response. Plans were announced for a week's school at Highlander for southern auto workers in 1942.

Principal speakers at the conference were T. J. Starling, UAW southern board member; Richard Doverall; Frank Larquart, educational director of Ford Local 600, Detroit; John Edlund, Washington. "The union, said Mr. Doverall, "is more than simply a slot machine for wages and hours. We can make it the means to achieve a cultural, democratic way of life for the American worker."

Special attention and study was given to the Ford grievance machinery, setting up of local union educational and recreational programs, publicity and journalism, and housing rent and prices.

A number of Highlander alumni attended the conference, including T. G. VanLindingen, financial secretary of the Ford local 903, who was awarded the Eleanor Roosevelt scholarship in 1941. The conference concluded with a mass meeting for Memphis CIO workers held in Edgewood Park.
22. OTHER UNION VISITATION AND EXTENSION WORK.

A. Several staff members attended the state CIO convention in Chattanooga, May 31-June 1; Ayles Horton was chairman of the educational committee.

B. Highlander was represented at the state conference on democracy, Nashville, February 22; the Bera Student Labor Conference in March; Conference of Southern Mountain Workers, Knoxville in the Spring; Nashville board meetings of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare and the Tennessee Commonwealth Federation; Moulders and Painters national convention, Chattanooga, July; United Textile Workers of America national convention, New York; CIO national convention, Detroit, November; Zilphia Horton led the singing for ten days at the YWCA industrial girls' camp in North Carolina in June, and has been invited to join the national music committee of the YWCA.

C. Visits were made to a great many local unions and services of too varied and extended a nature to be itemized within the confines of this report were made for international and local unions. We can do no more than indicate the kind of services rendered: 1. In the absence of the regular organizer, a staff member substituted for him in a conference with the employer concerning a seniority grievance; 2. Assistance was given Paul Christopher in the Roane County case involving the beatings to CIO organizers, and background material on the Roane county violations of civil liberties was supplied for a pamphlet; 3. Many trips were taken with organizers; 4. Several international unions held conferences at the school; 5. Assistance was rendered in the fight against the poll tax, and the test case before the Supreme Court was taken from Grundy County; 6. Many letters written for minors and other union officials in the region; 7. Some help was rendered in finding new organizers for the southern drive; 8. From July through September one staff member spoke at twenty-three union meetings, conferred with twenty-four organizers, and conducted twenty-seven international unions in fourteen centers.

Two collections of life-stories were published by the students, "The South Tomorrow", twenty-six pages, mimeographed by the students of the Spring Term; "We Know the Score", twenty-nine pages, mimeographed by the students of the Summer Term; work campers mimeographed a twenty-seven page illustrated book, "Cumberland Campers". Four numbers of the "Highlander Fling" were printed. Our New York Committee, through the chairman, Mr. Lionel C. Perora, published a sixteen page, profusely illustrated pamphlet on the school, which is the most attractive and best piece of publicity received by the school in all the years of its history. Mrs. George Wolf, who prepared the material for this pamphlet, also published an article about Highlander in the February issue of Social Work Today, "Democracy's Drama in the Hills". The Bulletin of the World Association for Adult Education, London, England, contained an article on Highlander in the August number. The Litteratour, magazine of the Chi Delta Phi honorary literary sorority, published "A Bit About Highlander", by Ruth Burke, in November.

Miss Claudia Lewis had an article, "Cocoa Beans at Five", in the December issue of Progressive Education, and Joan Payne wrote a story about Highlander for the Sarah Lawrence alumnae magazine. Zilphia Horton contributed some material on dramatics for workers to the book on Workers Education, published by the John Dewey Society. Published by Harpers, this is the most comprehensive work on the subject that has been done. Professor Theodore Brameld, of the University of Minnesota, was the editor.

Harry Lasker wrote two pamphlets for local unions in Memphis, "The CIO-Yours and Mine", a ten page mimeographed book for the Timber workers; and "This Union Business", a fourteen page mimeographed bulletin for the construction workers. Larry Lawrence wrote a basic work for new unionists, "How to Build Your Union", published by the New Orleans Industrial Union Council.

24. PLANT IMPROVEMENTS.

An outside shower was built by Alf Kilgore in time to be used by the summer sessions. A new ninety foot well was dug, only to find that the water was too filled with iron rust to be useful. Thereafter a concrete reservoir with fifteen hundred gallon capacity was begun to catch the overflow from the excellent spring below the big house. The work was done by Dillard King and Eldridge Kilgore. Finishing and waterproofing the reservoir and installing the pump, hot water heater, etc., was accomplished through the mechanical ingenuity and unflagging energy of Asa Starkweather.
Doubtful property lines were surveyed and staked. The work camp-ors cleared a tract of about four acres which is being set out in yellow poplars and loblolly pines under the supervision of the state forest service. Two thousand trees were planted in the Fall of 1940.

25. PERSONNEL

Miss Claudia Lewis, director and founder of the nursery school at Highlander, left in December of 1940 to assume the direction of the nursery WPA schools in New Haven. Her place was taken by Miss Joan Payne, of Sarah Lawrence College. Miss Payne arrived in May and remained until Christmas. Her successor has not been named. Mr. Harry Lasker, of Duke University, joined the staff in May. Miss Louise Dickman, of Vassar after a year as office secretary left in April. Miss Louise Conkling, also left after a year's service in the office, in October.
She married Durward McDaniel, student of the writers workshop and summer term, 1941, and law student at the University of Oklahoma. Mr. McDaniel has been named as executive secretary at Highlander and will assume his duties in February. Miss Jane Allen and Miss Delice Probert of Flint, Michigan, helped in the office for part of the year. Staff members who continued their service through the year are Lyles and Zipheira Horton, Mary Lawrence, Marie Stonerl, Leon Wilson, James A. Dombrowski.
William Buttrick spent the year at the University of Florida, completing his undergraduate work begun at Duke.

26. EXHIBITION OF WESTON PHOTOGRAPHS.

Among the many visitors to the school from many states and foreign countries were Edward and Charis Weston. Mr. Weston, the first American photographer to hold a Guggenheim fellowship, was on a tour of the United States making series of photographs for an edition of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass". He delighted our students in the summer term with an exhibition of his photographs which were shown again on his return visit during the Christmas holidays.
27. ALUMNI NOTES.

The ultimate test of the value of any school, and especially a labor school, is the record of its alumni. Highlander is proud of the record of its former students now scattered throughout the southern labor movement. Their most effective work for the cause of labor is to be found in the unspectacular day to day work of the union in commit to work, and serving as organizers and officers. Space permits us to mention only a few of the news items that have come to us from our alumni in 1941.

Ed Blair is now representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America in North Carolina.

J. D. Bradford was elected International Vice-president of the Lime, Gypsum and Cement Workers of the A. F. of L.

Bexton Champion was put in charge of work with Trade Unions in Atlanta for the WPA Workers' Service Program.

William Gillis helped negotiate a contract for textile mill workers where he is employed at High Point, N.C.

Bettye Goldstein helped in organizational campaign of maintenance workers at Smith College.

Alvin Green taught workers' education classes during a strike of hosiery workers, New Orleans, and is now a CIO organizer.

Charles Handy is active in the Washington committee of Highlander, and has completed his law studies.

Dillard King was work supervisor for the summer work camp.

Matt Lynch is in charge of organization for the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, Tri-State Area.

Darward McDaniel was elected to the Highlander staff and will serve as Executive Secretary for the school.

Don Meade represented the Industrial Leader at the national CIO convention.

Martin Knowlton received the Croix de Guerre for bravery under fire, as an ambulance driver in Syria and Africa.
Frances Jones was elected chairman of her hosiery workers local, Charlotte, N.C.

Barney Coriel is a member of the CIO staff and gives half his time to the educational program in New Orleans, part of Highlander's extension service.

Bernie Schidt has been active in educational work among the steel workers of Cincinnati. He is secretary of his S.C.C. local and edits a lively little shop paper. Bernie originated the idea of the Friends of Highlander membership cards to be sold by the alumni for $1.00 as means of raising scholarship funds.

Theo W. Lundin was elected secretary of his Ford local in Memphis, and Chairman of the Industrial Union Council.

J. A. Walters has been elected recording secretary of his local of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Bessemer, Alabama.

Paul Winn is now president of his Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers local, Lyles, Tennessee.

Emil Willimetz is on the CIO staff under Paul Christopher, of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council, and editor of the Tennessee CIO paper.

AMERICA

My country! 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty.
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died, land of the pilgrims' pride;
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring!

My native country thee, land of the noble, free;
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills, thy woods and temple hills,
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze and ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake, let all that breathe partake,
Let rocks their silence break;
The sound prolongs.

Our fathers' God, To Thee, Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light,
Protect us by Thy might;
Great God, our King!

SOLIDARITY FOREVER

When the Unions inspiration through the workers' blood shall run,
There can be no power greater anywhere beneath the sun.
Yet what force on earth is weaker than the feeble strength of one?
But the union makes us strong.

CHORUS
Solidarity forever!
Solidarity forever!
Solidarity forever!
For the Union makes us strong.

In our hands is placed a power greater than their hoarded gold,
Greater than the might of armies magnified a thousand fold.
We can bring to birth a new world from the ashes of the old.
For the Union makes us strong.

(Chorus)

It is we who ploughed the prairies, built the cities where they trade,
Wine and built the workshops, endless mile of railroad laid,
Now we stand outcast and starving, 'mid the wonders we have made;
But the Union makes us strong.

(Chorus)
ABE LINCOLN

Now old Abo Lincoln a great big giant of a man was he (Yes, sir!) He was born in an old log cabin and he worked for a living (Splittin' rails) Now Abo he knew right from wrong For he was honest as the day is long And these was the words he said.

CHORUS

This country with its institutions belongs to the people who inhabit it. This country with its constitution belongs to those who live in it. Whenevher they shall grow weary of the existing government They can exercise their constitutional rights of amending it Or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it!

Now Abo once ran a little country store in Saloln town (Illinois) And a woman she paid him six spencoo more than she ought to've done (a mistake) So off thru' the storm old Abo went He paid that woman back evry cent For Abo was an honest man.

CHORUS

Now Abo was close to the ground 'tho' he towers up six feet four; (Bare feet) And his heart was big as the whole country with room for more; (Black folks got) He never forgot from whom he came The' he landed in the White House and get great fame For Abo was a workin' man.

CHORUS

Now old Abo's eyes was set way back deep in his hood (A thinkin' man!) But you didn't need learnin' to understand what old Abo said; (Listen to this!) This Republic will never be free 'Till the blackman's out of slavery And that made the Civil War.

CHORUS

Now sometimes Abo he wavered and shook like a great tall tree. (That's true) He wanted peace between the States in this country. (Like the Bible said!) Abo never crawled when the showdown came Like some people now who take his name No boat them slave men down.

CHORUS

Old Abo, Lincoln's dead and gone those eighty years. (A great man!) And ev'ry year the party he made says Lincoln's theirs. (No, sir!) For if old Abo were livin' right now To the man at the bouch and the man at the plough These are the words he'd say.

CHORUS
ARISE YOU WORKERS

Music: Italian Workers Song, "Bandiera Rossa"

Ariso you workers, flying to the breeze;
The union banner, the union banner;
Ariso you workers, flying to the breeze;
The union banner triumphantly.

CHORUS

Wave union banner triumphantly;
Wave union banner triumphantly;
Wave union banner triumphantly;
For unionism and liberty.

Ariso you workers, your chains of slavery
Will vanish under the Union banner;
Come rally round it, come show your bravery;
The union banner triumphantly.

CHORUS

CHISELER S SORROW

Words: Horace Holjhillip
Tune: "Ninety-Nine Years"

The boss said, Stand up boys, and dry up your tears;
You know you're my children, so have no more fears;
But we know who caused it, we know it's not right;
These years of starvation are almost for life.

Well I hate a chiselor, a chiselor hates me;
If I had the power, here's where they would be;
They'd all be in prison, and I'd be the judge;
In ninety-nine years, I'd still hold a grudge.

We've counted our money, and counted our time;
We've counted a million that ain't got a dime;
Come all you good people, stand up for your right;
Or we'll all have starvation for the rest of our life.

WORKERS LULLABY

Rock-a-bye, baby, on the tree top;
When you grow up, you'll work in a shop;
When you get married, your wife will work too
So that the rich will have nothing to do.

Hush-a-bye baby, on the tree top,
When you grow old, your wages will stop;
When you have spent the little you've saved,
Hush-a-bye baby, off to the grave.
ALL OF US TOGETHER

Words: Jane Lawson
Music: Zilphia Horton

You on a farm in Arkansas,
You, your child, your wife,
Our brother in a Pennsylvania mine,
Sold down hell for life,
Tom in a jail, looking for work,
Roofer, millhand, carpenter, clerk
Sold to strife.
You're part of the invisible army,
All of us together, we fill the world,
All of us together, we fill the world,

We wore the slaves in Pharaoh's land
You and he and I,
And we wore serfs to feudal hands
Now that times gone by,
Prentices in cities, prisoners for debt,
Bounced vagrants, parish poor,
Our life a lie.
We move an invisible army,
All of us together, we filled the world,
All of us together filled the world,

Factories in Europe, Asia too,
Bred us into war,
Fleeing to freedom, found instead
Slaves upon the shore,
Fought for them, brothers, helped them see
Dignity and pleasure, the fruits of the free,
For evermore.
We move an invisible army,
All of us together, we build a world,
All of us together, we build a world,

Workless or poor slave or serf
Here, today, and now,
Name your necessity, call you right,
Let it show you how
We whose labor builds, claim the world we made,
Clothe ourselves in struggle, go forward and unafraid,
Shout aloud.
We move an invisible army,
All of us together, we fill the world,
All of us together, we fill the world,
JUSt BECAUSE H E'S H U M A N

Words: Bert Brecht
Music: Hans Eisler

And just because he's human,
A man would like a little bite to eat,
He won't fill up on a lot of talk,
That won't bring him bread and meat.

CHORUS
So, left, two, three, so, left, two, three
To the work that we must do,
March on in the workers' united front
For you are a worker too.

And just because he's human,
He doesn't like a pistol to his head,
He wants no servants under him
And no boss overhead.

(Chorus)
And just because he's a worker,
The job is all his own,
The liberation of the working class
Is the job of the worker alone.

(Chorus)

J O E H I L L

Words: Alfred Hayes
Music: Earl Robinson

I dreamed I saw Joe Hill last night,
Alive as you and me,
Says I, "But Joe, you're ten years dead,"
"I never died," says he. (Repeat)

"In Salt Lake, Joe," says I to him,
His standing by my bed,
"They framed you on a murder charge,"
Says Joe, "But I ain't dead." (Repeat)

"The copper bosses killed you, Joe,
They shot you, Joe," says I,
"Takes more than guns to kill a man,"
Says Joe, "I didn't die." (Repeat)

And standing there as big as life,
And smiling with his eyes,
Joe says, "What they forgot to kill Went on to organize." (Repeat)

Joe Hill ain't dead," he says to me,
Joe Hill ain't never died.
Where workingmen are out on strike,
Joe Hill is at their side. (Repeat)

From San Diego up to Maine,
In every mine and mill;
Where workers strike and organize,
Says he, "You'll find Joe Hill." (Repeat)

"I dreamed I saw Joe Hill last night,
Alive as you and me,
Says I, "But Joe, you're ten years dead,"
"I never died," says he. (Repeat Slowly)
CASEY JONES

Words: Joe Hill

The workers on the S.P. line to strike sent out a call.
But Casey Jones, the enginer, he wouldn't strike at all;
The boilers they were leakin', and his drivers on the bum;
And Casey and his engino, they were slick out of plumb.

CHORUS: Casey Jones, kept his junkpile running,
Casey Jones, was working double-time,
Casey Jones, he got a wooden medal,
For being good and faithful on the S.P. Line.

The workers said to Casey, "Won't you help us win this strike?"
But Casey said, "Let me alone - you'd better take a hike!"
The someone put a bunch of railroad ties across the track,
And Casey hit the river with an awful crank.

CHORUS: Casey Jones, hit the river bottom,
Casey Jones, broke his bloomin' spine,
Casey Jones, became an angelo,
And took a trip to heaven on the S.P. Line.

When Casey Jones got up to heaven to the pearly gate,
He said, "I'm Casey Jones, the guy who pulled the S.P. freight,"
"You're just the man," said Peter, "Our musicians are on strike.
You can get a job a scabbing any time you like."

CHORUS: Casey Jones, got a job in heaven,
Casey Jones, was doing mighty fine,
Casey Jones, went scabbing on the angels,
Just like he did to workers on the S.P. Line.

The angels got together and they said it wasn't fair
For Casey Jones to go around a scabbing everywhere;
The Angel's Union Number Twenty-three, they sure were there,
And they promptly fired Casey down the golden stair.

CHORUS: Casey Jones, want to Holl a-flying?
Casey Jones, the Devil said, "Oh, fini!"
"Casey Jones, got busy shovelling sulphur--
"That's what you got for scabbing on the S.P. Line!"
THE PEAT BOG SOLDIERS

Far and wide as the eye can wander
Moat and bog are everywhere,
Not a bird sings out to greet us,
Oaks are standing gaunt and bare.

CHORUS

We are the peat-bog soldiers,
We're marching with our spades
To the moor.

Up and down the guards are pacing,
No one, no one can go through.
Guns and barbed wire guard our view.

But for us there is no complaining,
Winter will in time be past;
One day we shall cry rejoicing,
Homeland dear, you're mine at last!

Then will the peat-bog soldiers
March no more with their spades
To the bog!

THE PREACHER AND SLAVE*

Long-haired preachers come out every night;
Try to tell you what's wrong and what's right;
But when asked about something to eat,
They will answer in voices so sweet.

CHORUS

You will eat by and by,
In that glorious land above the sky,
Work and pray, live on hay;
You'll get pie in the sky when you die.

If you fight hard for children and wife,
Try to get something good in this life
You're a sinner and a bad man, they tell;
When you die you'll sure go to hell.

Workingmen of all countries unite!
Side by side we for freedom will fight,
When the world and its wealth we have gained,
To the grafters we'll sing this refrain:

CHORUS

You will eat by and by
When you've learned how to cook and to fry,
Chop some wood, twill do you good,
And you'll eat in the sweet by and by.

*This song is about so-called preachers who sell out to bosses and is not meant as any reflection on religion or honest ministers of the gospel.
THE WORKERS' FUNERAL HYMN

Words: J.E. Sinclair
Tune: "Abide With Me"

Heart that was brave in Freedom's Holy Train,
Striving to break the master's cruel chain;
Here by your grave, we pledge ourselves now,
Never to rest until your dreams come true!

Sleep, worker, sleep, strong hearts the watch will keep;
Till through the darkness Earth's new dawn shall creep;
Flowers we lay in silence where you dreamed,
Soft as the snow that feeds the mountain stream.

Under the red carnation and the rose,
Sleep sweetly on, the sleep no waking knows;
Soldier of toil, a tribute here we bring-Love's last farewell in broken song we sing.

THERE IS POWER IN A UNION

Words: Joe Hill
Tune: "Rivier In The Blood"

Would you have freedom from wage slavery,
Then join in the grand industrial band,
Would you from hunger and misery be free,
Then come do your share, like a man.

CHORUS

There is power, power,
In a band of working men,
When they stand hand in hand,
There is power, power,
It will rule in every land,
When the workers join their hands.

Would you have mansions of gold in the sky,
And live in a shack, way in the back?
Would you have wings up to heaven to fly,
And starve here with rags on your back?

CHORUS

Come all you workers from every land,
Come join the grand industrial band,
Your rightful share of this earth demand,
Come on! Do you share like a man!

CHORUS
PARLEZ-VOUS

The union is calling us out on strike,
Parlez-vous?
To get the conditions that we like,
Parlez-vous?
We'll put the chisels on the run and carry on until we've won,
Hinky, dinky, parlez-vous.

We're standing ready for the fight,
Parlez-vous?
To make the bosses treat us right,
Parlez-vous?
Unfurl our banner! With all our might
When our voices, we are right,
Hinky, dinky, parlez-vous.

On the picket lines we'll show our grit,
Parlez-vous.
We'll scare the foremen out of their wits,
Parlez-vous.
We longer will we be their slaves,
Hinky, dinky, parlez-vous.

Tune: "Mademoiselle From Arcturus"

And when conditions we have won,
Parlez-vous,
We'll find that life is full of fun,
Parlez-vous;
Our weekly wage will go up high,
So food and clothing we can buy,
Hinky, dinky, parlez-vous.

COMPANY UNION NATIONAL ANTHEM

I'm a worker with a foggy brain, I don't mind being robbed;
I am satisfied to get the smallest share;
I will never join a union for I fear I'd lose my job.
And that's something I don't think I could bear.

CHORUS

When the hole is dug out yonder,
When the hole is dug out yonder,
When the hole is dug out yonder,
When the hole is dug out yonder, I'll be there.

I vote for the company union for the boss tells me it's good.
I don't know if it's good for he will not clearly say.
Still, it must be good for something for my boss man loves it so.
Though I know it fritters all my rights away.

Let us labor for our master from the dawn to setting sun,
Let us tend their every poxish want and care,
Then when all our life is o'er and our work on earth is done,
And the hole is dug out yonder, I'll be there.
THE MORE WE STICK TOGETHER

The more we stick together, together, together,
The more we stick together, the closer we'll be.
For your friends are my friends,
And my friends are your friends.
Oh, the more we stick together, the closer we'll be.

The more we fight together... the stronger we'll be.
For your fight is my fight,
And my fight is your fight.

The more we sing together... the happier we'll be.
For your song is my song,
And my song is your song.

FARther ALONG

Day after day we're oft made to wonder
Why we are hungry all the day long.
The rich our bosses tell us they love us,
And they will never do us a wrong.

CHORUS

Farther along we'll get our fair wages,
Farther along we'll get our fair share;
Join up my brother, build a strong union,
It will grow stronger year after year.

Down in the mill we see women working,
Working so hard, although they're almost dead;
Then at their homes we see children crying,
Simply because there's not enough bread.

CHORUS

All of you workers, unite together,
Help us raise wages so we can live;
We cannot do without a strong union,
So to your union time you must give.

CHORUS

When we see unions growing much bigger,
How we do feel we cannot express;
But we know, brother, we'll stick together
And by go and by, we'll meet with success.

CHORUS
Forwards, we've not forgotten
Our strength in the fight we have won.
No matter what may threaten,
Forward, not forgotten.
How strong we are as one.
Only these our hands, now aching.
Built the roads, the walls, the towers.
All the world is of our making -
What if it can we sell ours?

Refrain
Forwards, march on to power.
Through the city, the land, the world.
Forwards, advance the hour.
Just whose city is the city?
Just whose world is the world?

Forwards, we've not forgotten.
Our union in hunger and pain.
No matter what may threaten,
Forwards, not forgotten.
We have a world to gain.
We shall free the world of shadow,
Ev'ry shop and ev'ry room.
Ev'ry road and ev'ry meadow.
All the world will be our own.

Refrain

The Union's Call

Working people must all stand together.
For the fight that is coming our way.
We must strike and picket together.
That's the way we will get all our pay.

In this struggle, we'll all stand together.
For the day that is dawning now.
We will build on a solid foundation.
A union for me and for you.

They won't pay us a thing for our labor.
Yet it costs us to live and to eat.
They may starve us and jail us and shoot us,
But our Union will take no defeat.
JOHN L. LEWIS HAD A PLAN
Music: "Old MacDonald Had a Farm"

John L. Lewis had a plan, C-I, C-I-O;
That's how the C.I.O. began, C-I, C-I-O;
With mine workers here and steel workers there;
Textile workers, garment workers,
Auto workers—all the workers;
John L. Lewis had a plan, C-I, C-I-O.

Collective bargaining in our shops, C-I, C-I-O;
There'll be no need for strikes or cops, C-I, C-I-O;
Industrial unions here, industrial unions there,
Here a union, there a union,
Everywhere, an industrial union.
Collective bargaining in our shops, C-I, C-I-O.

HARD TIMES IN THE MILL

Ev'ry mornin' at half-past four,
You hear the books hop on the floor,
It's hard times in the mill, my love,
Hard times in the mill.

Ev'ry mornin' just at five,
You gotta get up, dead or alive,
It's hard times in the mill, my love,
Hard times in the mill.

Ev'ry mornin' right at six,
Don't that old bell make you sick?....

My rope's all out and my end all down,
The doffer's in my alley and I can't get around, Hard times...

My boss thinks he's a bon.
So puts me in mind of a doodle in the sun...

They steal his ring and they steal his knife,
They steal ov'rything but his big fat wife....

The section hand thinks he's a man,
But he ain't got sense to pay off his hands....

The section hand's standing at the door,
Ordering the sweepers to sweep up the floor....

Ev'ry night when I go home,
A piece of corn bread and an old jaw bone....

Ain't it enough to break your heart,
Hafta work all day and at night it's dark....
FOLD THE FORT

We meet today in freedom's cause,
And raise our voices high;
We'll join our hands in union strong,
To battle or to die.

CHORUS
Hold the fort, for we are coming,
Union men, be strong!
Side by side we'll battle onward,
Victory will come.

See our numbers still increasing,
Hear the bugle blow.
By our union we shall triumph,
Over every foe.

CHORUS
Fierce is long the battle rage,
But we will not fear;
Help will come whenever needed,
Choir, my comrades, cheer.

CHORUS

WHIRLWINDS OF DANGER

Whirlwinds of danger are raging around us,
Overwhelming forces of darkness assail.
Still in the fight see advancing before us,
Our flag of liberty that yet shall prevail.

CHORUS
Then forward, you workers, freedom awaits you
O'er all the world on the land and the sea.
On with the fight for the cause of humanity;
March, march, you toilers, and the world shall be free.

Women and children in hunger are calling,
Shall we be silent to their sorrow and woe?
While in the fight see our brothers are falling;
Up, then, united, and conquer the foe.

CHORUS
Off with the crown of the tyrants of favor!
Down in the dust with the prince and the poor!
Strike off your chains, all you brave sons of toil,
Make all humanity, for victory is near.

CHORUS
I'M LABOR

I dig your ditches, I'm labor;
I man your switches, I'm labor,
I teach your kids and make your shoes,
I saw your pants and write your news,
With brain and brawn, with nerve and thems,
I'm labor. (He's labor.)

I'm common folk, I'm labor;
I'm always broke, I'm labor,
I run your mills in rain and snow,
I clear the track so that trains can go,
But someone else gets all the dough,
I'm labor. (He's labor.)

I don't get tired, I'm labor;
Or else I'm fired, I'm labor,
From birth to death my life is spent,
In hovel, shack, or tenement,
But still some landlord gets the rest,
I'm labor. (He's labor.)

I fight your fires, I'm labor;
I cleanse your fires, I'm labor,
Your towers that top the mountain crest
Your teeming east, your bounteous west,
I wrought them, I, the dispossessed,
I'm labor. (He's labor.)

THE MARCH OF THE HUNGRY MEN

In the dream of your downy couches,
Through the shades of your pampered sleep,
Give ear, you can hear it coming,
The tide that is steady and deep,
Give ear for the sound is growing
From the desert and dungeon and den.
The tramp of the marching millions,
The march of the hungry men.

It is coming another army
Your wit cannot compute,
The man-at-arms self-fashioned,
The man you made the brute.
From the farm and sweatshop gathered,
From factory, mine and mill,
With lyre and shears and augur,
Dribble and drift and drill.

CHORUS

Give ear for the sound is growing
From the desert and dungeon and den;
The tramp of the marching millions,
The march of the hungry men.

Through the depths of the Devil's darkness
With the distant stars for light,
They are coming the while you slumber,
And they come with the might of right.
On the morrow, perhaps to-morrow,
You will waken and soo and then
You will hand the keys of the cities
To the ranks of the Hungry Men.

CHORUS
WAGE AND HOUR BILL SONG
(Tune: "The Merry Go Round Broke Down")

Oh, the CIO goes round
Building a union town
And the bosses there
Must learn to be fair
Cause the CIO's in town.

Oh, the Wage and Hour Bill's here
To the Company's despair
All we want is a union shop
So the bussing will stop.

Oh, what fun, a wonderful time
When the company toss the line!

We met the other night
At a hearing in our fight.
The bosses balked
But the workers talked.
And things turned out all right.

LOOK AHEAD, WORKING MAN
(Tune: "Dixie")

Away down South where we weave the cotton,
Union men are not forgotten;
Look ahead, look ahead, look ahead, union man.
In the days gone by when they had their way,
We used to hear the bosses say;
Look away, look away, look away, union man.

CHORUS
But the CIO's in Dixie!
Hurray, Hurray!
The CIO is going to grow
Away down South in Dixie;
Oh bo, Oh bo, the CIO's in Dixie.
Oh bo, Oh bo, the CIO's in Dixie.

Now we're all together in the CIO
They cannot keep our wages low;
Look ahead, look ahead, look ahead, Union man.
For the time has come when we take our stand.
With union men throughout the land,
Look ahead, look ahead, look ahead, union man.

(CHORUS)
SALUTE THE DAWN

The trumpets of freedom are blowing;
"Justice at last shall prevail."
The ranks of the people are growing
Though storms of reaction prevail.

CHORUS
Than courage, face the wind,
Salute the rising sun.
Our country's turning towards the dawn;
New life's begun.

The old and the young are uniting;
The workers and farmers agree.
For life and for liberty fighting
That no more starvation shall be.

America, awake to your duty;
America, awake to your powers;
Take back from the bandits their booty;
Unshackle the wealth that is ours.

O land of great riches abounding
Your workshops and farms shall not fail;
The drums of your people are sounding;
The will of us all shall prevail.
WE ARE BUILDING A STRONG UNION

We are building a strong union,
We are building a strong union,
We are building a strong union,
Workers in the mill.

Every new man makes us stronger,
Every new kid makes us stronger,
Every new girl makes us stronger,
Workers in the mill.

They have fired the men who joined us,
They have fired the girls who joined us,
They have fired the kids who joined us,
Workers in the mill.

We won't budge until we conquer,
We will stand until we conquer,
We will fight until we conquer,
Workers in the mill.

We have toiled in dark and danger,
We have toiled in dark and danger,
We have toiled in dark and danger,
Workers in the mill.

NO MORE MOURNING

No more mourning, no more mourning,
No more mourning after while,
And before I'll be a slave
I'll be buried in my grave,
Take my place with those who loved and fought before.

2. No more misery, (as above)

74. I know you're gonna miss me.

4. Oh freedom, Oh freedom.
Shall you complain who feed the world,
Who clothe the world, who house the world,
Shall you complain who are the world,
Of what the world, the world may do?

As from this hour you use your power,
The world must follow, follow you;
As from this hour you use your power,
The world must follow, follow you.

Stand still as one, see justice done,
Believe and dare, and dare and do
Stand still as one, see justice done,
Believe and dare, and dare and do.

ON THE PICKET LINE

To win our strike and our demands
Come and picket on the picket line.
In one strong union we'll join hands,
Come and picket on the picket line.

(REFRAIN)

On the line, on the line,
Come and picket on the picket line.
We will shout and yell and fight as well,
Come and picket on the picket line.

If you've never spent a night in jail
Come and picket on the picket line;
You'll be invited without fail,
Come and picket on the picket line.
(REFRAIN)

TO LABOR

Or dark or light, or wrong or right,
The world is made, is made by you,
Or dark or light, or wrong or right,
The world is made, is made by you.

Then rise as you no're rose before,
Nor hoped before, nor dared before;
And show as no're was shown before.
The power that lies, that lies in you.

ON THE PICKET LINE

The Union is the place for me,
The place for working men,
Who want some time to sing and play,
And money they can spend.
(REFRAIN)

I am a Union man because
I want a living wage,
We'll stick together, we'll fight together,
We'll get that living wage.
(REFRAIN)

The man who scabs is the man who's — yellow,
And is a sight to see;
We'll kick him out, we'll keep him out;
With the picket, picket line.
(REFRAIN)
The Rich Man and the Poor Man

There was a rich man, and he lived in Jerusalem.
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
He wore a silk hat, and his coat was very spruc-i-um.
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus:
Hei-ro-gee-um, hei-ro-gee-um,
Skin-n-a-ink-a-dood-li-um
Skin-n-a-ink-a-dood-li-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

And at his gate there sat a human wreck-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
He wore a bowler hat, and the rim was round his neck-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus

The poor man asked for a piece of bread and cheese-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
The rich man answered, "I'll call for a police-i-um."
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus

The poor man died and his soul went to heav-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
He danced with the saints till quarter past clev-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus

The rich man died, but he didn't fare so well-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
He couldn't go to heaven, so he had to go to hell-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus

The rich man asked for to have a con-o-sol-i-um.
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
The devil only answered, "Come shovel on the coal-i-um."
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

Chorus

Now the moral of this story is that riches are no jok-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.
We'll all go to heaven, 'cause we're all stoney brok-i-um,
Glory hallelujah, hei-ro-gee-um.

STAND UP! YE WORKERS

Words: Ethel Comor

Stand up! Stand up! Ye workers,
Stand up in all your might,
Unite beneath our banner,
For liberty and right.
From victory unto victory,
The workers all will go,
To win the world for labor,
And vanquish every foe.

Stand up! Stand up! Ye workers,
Stand up in every land,
Unite and fight for freedom
In ONE BIG UNION grand.
Put on the workers' armor,
There's freedom on ahead,
When all the groodty tyrants
Will have to earn their bread.

Arise! Arise! Ye toilers,
The strife will not be long.
This day the noise of battle
The next the victor's song.
All ye that slave for wages
Stand up and break your chains!
Unite in ONE BIG UNION
You've got a world to gain.

SLAVING IN A FACTORY

Dallas, Texas, Strikers' Song

I've been slaving in a factory
All the live long day,
I've been slaving in a factory
Just to pass the time away
I could not get away
And all he'd do was holler, "Hurry!"
So here is what I say:

I've been a victim of the sweatshop
For days and days and days;
I've been a victim of the sweatshop
For eighties cents a day.
But now that I've joined the union,
The big, bad wolf has sneaked away,
I'm glad that I have joined the union
I'm happy, free and gay.
STRANGE THINGS HAPPENING IN THIS LAND

There are strange things happening in this land (repeat)
Oh, the rich man boasts and brags, while the worker goes in rags.
There are strange things happening in this land.

There are strange things happening in this land. (repeat)
Oh, the farmer cannot eat, 'cause he's raised too much wheat.
There are strange things happening in this land.

There are strange things.....etc.
Too much cotton in our socks, so we have none on our backs.
There are strange things.....etc.

There are strange things.....etc.
Lots of groceries on the shelves.
But we have none for ourselves.
There are strange things.....etc.

There are strange things.....etc.
Oh, they'll give us lots to eat when the drums begin to beat.
There are strange things.....etc.

There are strange things.....etc.
But when workingmen refuse to put on their old war shoes.
There'll be GOOD THINGS happening in this land.

There'll be GOOD THINGS happening in this land (repeat)
When the workers take a stand in a solid band.
There'll be GOOD THINGS.....etc.
AINT OWING STUDY WAR NO MORE

Owing lay down by waters,
Down by the riverside,
Down by the riverside,
Owing lay down by waters,
Down by the riverside,
To study war no more.

CHORUS
I aint owing study war no more,
I aint owing study war no more,
I aint owing study war no more,
I aint owing study war no more,
I aint owing study war no more.

Owing lay down my sword an' shield,
Down by the riverside, etc.

Owing talk with the Prince of Peace,
Down by the riverside, etc.

SOMEBODY KNOCKING AT YOUR DOOR

Somebody knocking at your door, somebody knocking at your door;
Oh, farmers (teachers, miners, etc.) why don't you answer?
Somebody knocking at your door.

CHORUS
Knocks like a union,
Somebody knocking at your door;
Knocks like a union.
Somebody knocking at your door.
Oh, workers, why don't you answer?
Somebody knocking at your door.

WE SHALL NOT BE MOVED

We shall not be, we shall not be moved,
We shall not be, we shall not be moved,
Just like a tree that's planted by the rivers,
We shall not be moved.

Other Verses
We're backed up by the union;
We shall not be moved;
We're backed up by the union;
We shall not be moved;

(CHORUS)
We're striking for our freedom.

THE HUNTING ROUND

The trumpet loud in forest sounds
The eager phase is on.
And joyous hunters, grooves and bound:
Loose forward to the horn.

Now loud the echo rolls around,
Resounds against the woods.
Halled, the stag, the stig sinks down
To earth, to earth, they roll him.

Ah, it is royal, royal to follow the chase,
Ah, it is royal, royal to follow the chase.

FOLLOW ME

Follow, follow, follow, follow,
Whether shall I follow, follow,
To the greenwood, to the greenwood,
To the greenwood, greenwood tree.

ARE YOU SLEEPING?

(4 - Part Round)

Are you sleeping, Are you sleeping?
John? Brother John?
Up and join a union! Up, and join a union!

HOL DI RI DIA

Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia,
Care and labor how are gone?
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia.

CHORUS.
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia,
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia,

"For the mountain trails we go"
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia,
So the deep ravines below
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia.

CHORUS.

Moglia lies on the highest hill
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia
Give a cheer boys with a will
Hol di ri dia, Hol di ri dia.

CHORUS.

That sings a-lyke man. Love! (hamb.) That there is like

Done best this post p.o. (hamb.) Tree by tree
All the way to the rail, bar (hamb.), for, back to the rail.

You back o' Diamonds (hamb.), You back o' Diamonds (hamb.),
I know you of old, boys (hamb.) you know you,

You robbin pocket (hamb.) You robbin pocket (hamb.),
You robbin my pocket o' silver and gold (lit verses).

CANNON BALL

From the great Atlantic Ocean to the Wide Pacific shore,
From the queen of flowing mountain
South Bill Baltimore,
She's mighty tall and handsome and
She's known quite well by all,
She is the combination of the Wabash
Cannon Ball.
(Listen to the jingle of the rumble and roar, as she glides along the woodland through the hills and by the shore,
As the mighty rush of the engine,
And the lonesome hobo squalls,
Coming through the jungle on the
Wabash Cannon Ball,

She came down from Birmingham on cold
December day.
As she pulled into the station you could hear the people say,
There's a gal from Tennessee and she's Tall and she's tall,

That's a gal from Tennessee on the
Wabash Cannon Ball.
NobodY KNOWS ME TROUBLE REE

Nobody know de trouble I feel Some times I'm up, Some times I'm down

Both, yes, Lord, Ah have my little workee on

Sometimes I'm in, Sometimes I'm out

Nobody know de trouble I am

Oh, yes, Lord, Ah have my little workee on

Sometimes I'm in, Sometimes I'm out

Nobody know de trouble I am

Oh, yes, Lord, Ah have my little workee on

CARELESS LOVE

Love, oh love, on careless love

When Israel was in Egypt land

Let my people go

Oh, yes, Lord, Ah have my little workee on

Sorrow, sorrow to my heart

Your face shall not before the Lord

Chorus

Go down Moses my down in Egypt land

Set my people free, let my people go

No more shall they in bondage serve

Let my people go

With a staff and a rod now raise

Let my people go

Let my people go

CHorus

Mama, name don't you cry

Your face shall not before the Lord

Chorus

She'll sit me sorrows by and by

And you'll possess fair Lebanon

You can pass my door and pass my gate

And you'll possess fair Lebanon

Chorus

But you'll never pass my thirty eight

Lookey, lookey yonder

You can pass my yard and pass my door

Lookey, lookey yonder (hush)

But you'll never pass my forty four

Lookey, lookey yonder (hush)

I love my mama and papa too

All the live long day

Chorus

Put I'd love them both and go

All the live long day

Chorus

On it's done and break this heart of mine

And it'll break that heart of yours

Some time, some time.
COULDN'T HEAR NOBODY PRAY

Lord, Lord, Lord

In the valley, (I couldn't hear nobody pray)
On my knees, (I couldn't hear nobody pray)
With my burden, (I couldn't hear nobody pray)
And my sorrow, (I couldn't hear nobody pray)
On Lord.

All (Chorus)

And I couldn't hear nobody pray,
And I couldn't hear nobody pray,
O way down yonder by myself,
And I couldn't hear nobody pray.

Chilly waters,
In the Jordan, (I couldn't hear nobody pray)
Crossing over
Into Canaan
O Lord,
(Chorus)

COME ON TO THE BURYIN'

Come on, Come on,
Let's go to the buryin'

Come on, Come on,
Let's go to the buryin'

May o'er in the new buryin' ground

Boo-h Mighty Rumble
Let's go to the buryin'
Boo-h Mighty Rumble
Let's go to the buryin'
Boo-h Mighty Rumble
Let's go to the buryin'

May o'er in the new buryin' ground

Hallelujah (I couldn't hear, etc.)
Troubling over
In the kingdom
With my Jesus
O Lord
(Chorus)
SIN IN THE VALLEY

Down in the valley
The valley so low
Hang your head over
Hear the wind blow
Hear the wind blow
Hear the wind blow
If you don't love me
Don't wrong your heart
Throw your arms round me
Give my heart ease
Throw your arms round me
Before it's too late
Throw your arms round me
Feel my heart break

Rosie love someone
Victoria love now
Angels in heaven
Know I love you

SOURWOOD MOUNTAIN

Chickens in sorrow
An Sourwood Mountain
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
So many pretty girls I can't count them
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
My true love, she's a blue-eyed lass
Back my bonny up the Sourwood Mountain
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
A kiss from her is sweeter than any
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
My true love is a sunburned lass
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
A-hop, a-pick up and I'll be with her
Ho-dee-ing-dong-doodle all day
THE FARMER COMES TO TOWN

When the farmer comes to town, with his wagon broke down,
'O, the farmer is the man who feeds them all.
If you'll only look and see, then I think you will agree
That the farmer is the man who feeds them all.

The farmer is the man, the farmer is the man.
Lives on credit till the fall.

Then they take him by the hand and they lead him off the land.
And the middle-man, the man who wants to sell.

When the lawyer hangs around while the butcher cuts a round.
'O, the farmer is the man who feeds them all.
And the preacher and the cook go a-strolling by the brook.
'O, the farmer is the man who feeds them all.

The farmer is the man, the farmer is the man.
Lives on credit till the fall.

With the interest rate so high, it's a wonder we don't die.
For the mortgage-man's the man who gets it all.

When the banker says he's broke, and the merchants go in sack.
They forget that it's the farmer feeds them all.
It would run them to the test if the farmer took a rest.

Then they'd know that it's the farmer feeds them all.

The farmer is the man, the farmer is the man.
Lives on credit till the fall.

And his pants are wearing thin, his condition it's a sin.
He's forgot that he's the man who feeds them all.

AIN'T GONNA BE TREATED THIS WAY

Swing down the road feelin' sad.
Swing down the road feelin' bad.
Swing down the road feelin' sad.
I ain' gonna be treated this way.

Down in the hill on my knees.
And no me on corn bread and peas.

Two dollar shoes hurt my feet.
Six dollar shoes fit 'em good.

Swing down the road feelin' sad.
LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

Words: James Johnson
Music: E. B. Johnson

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Fling to the world our joy,
Sing songs of hope and love,
Till the sweet music rises
To heaven's luminous star.

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Chorus

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Verse:

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Chorus

Verse:

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Chorus

Verse:

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Chorus

Verse:

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
With all our skill and might,
With all our heart and heart—but let us sing.

Chorus
(Spoken) Well, now this song is mostly about my Pappy, so I'm gonna tell you about him. He was a very thin man and he made $3 a day. He worked down in the mines since he was six years old. He had a red nose but it wasn't from drinking; it was from working long hours. He was about 5 feet 10 inches tall and he weighed about 150 pounds.

You guys have a song? You don't know any other way.

My Pappy was as thin as a rail.
And his face was all the terrible pale.
So one day, "Pa, how come," says I. "You don't weigh more than 150 lbs., Pa?"

(Spoken) So Pappy looked at me sort of funny-like, and he says, "No, son," he says, "I was nine when Pa sent me down in the mines."

(Spoken) When you work down there, you work forty-five years. You ain't no gold-darn steer.

(Chorus)

Way down, way down in the mine,
You can't see the sun.
Way down, way down in the mine,
It ain't no gold-darn fun.

(Spoken) No sir, it wasn't much fun. My Pappy stood it just about as long as he could. He worked a lot of long hours for low wages, but one day he got up on his hind legs and this is what happened:

One day last spring up hoots my Pappy:
"This place begins to stick in my ribs, so I'm goin' to take a break."

"We've got to start again!"
(Spoken) So I went out just like he said and brought in Mikk and Snokey and George and Jones and the rest a' knowin' and talkin' to 'em and what I meant was really gave it to 'em like this:

"Now listen, Mikk and Snokey," he said,
"All those with more than two in their minds,
"If we don't speak up what's on our mind,
"We'll all be left behind."

[END]

You gonna organize?
Yes, sir, start today.
You gonna organize?
There's gotta be other way.

(Spoken) And he gave the fellers a swell speech, you know. Talked to 'em and got 'em all hot up about the whole thing. But my Pappy was one of them An-ar-chists, you know. He couldn't wait. He hadda go in and talk to the bossman all by himself. So this is what happened:

The next day my Pappy says to the boss:
"The boys is sick of your apple-sauce.
"If you don't talk turkey mighty soon,
"We'll blow your mine to the moon."

(Spoken) You see, one of them An-ar-chists, like me, I said. But the bossman couldn't never been spoken to like that in his life before, so he answered back:

"Now the boss was one tough sonuvagun,
And he grabbed a hickory switch and a word for Tom,
Says he, "You git to hell from here!
And he shouts my Pa in the war."

(Shouted) Hoy, Mikk! Hoy, Snokey! Hoy, George!
"Mikk! Hoy, Mikk! He knocked 'em cold — git the boys!

When Pappy woke the followin' day,
The first words that he managed to say:
"Twas a damn good thing my head is so hard; "Who's got my union card?" (let CHORUS)."
WHERE ARE YOU GOING MY GOOD OLD MAN

Where are you going, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Goin' a-huntin' (spoken).

When will you be back, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Friday again! (spoken).

What do you want for supper, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Eggs (spoken).

How many do you want, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
A bushel (spoken).

A bushel will kill you, my good old man.
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Can't help it. (spoken)

Where do you want to be buried, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Chimney corner. (spoken)

Ashes will fall on you, my good old man.
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
Don't care if they do. (spoken)

Why do you want to be buried there, my good old man?
"My honey, my lamb!"
The best old soul in the world.
So I can hain't your. (spoken)

A-hain't can't hain't a hain't, my good old man.
"My honey, my lamb!"
The meanest old devil in the land.
WE ARE BUILDING A STRONG UNION

We are building a strong union,
We are building a strong union,
We are building a strong union,
Workers in the mill.

Every man makes us stronger,
Every man makes us stronger,
Every man makes us stronger,
Workers in the mill.

They have fired the man who joined us;
They have fired the man who joined us;
They have fired the man who joined us;
Workers in the mill.

We won't budge until we conquer,
We will stand until we conquer,
We will fight until we conquer,
Workers in the mill.

We have toiled in dark and danger,
We have toiled in dark and danger,
We have toiled in dark and danger,
Workers in the mill.

NO MORE MOURNING

No more mourning, no more mourning,
No more mourning, no more mourning,
We will be free,
Workers in the mill.

And before I'll be a slave,
I'll be buried in my grave,
I'll be buried in my grave.
Workers in the mill.

Take my place with those who loved and fought before.

No more misery, no more slavery,
I know you're gonna miss me,
Oh freedom, oh freedom.
GRAWDAD SONG

You bring a line
And I'll bring a pole, honey.
Your bring a line
And I'll bring a pole, honey.
You bring a line
And I'll bring a pole.
We'll go fishing
In the Grawdad Hollow.

Boney, Sugar, baby be mine.

Yonder comes a man
With a sack on his back, honey.
Yonder comes a man with
A sack on his back, baby.
Yonder comes a man
With a sack on his back.
Packin' all the Grawdads.
Go can pack.

He fell down
And bust his back.
You oughta see the crew
Backin' back.

Reporting Agent secured copies of the Labor Journal for November 27, 1941, December 4, 1941, January 22, 1942, January 29, 1942, and February 5, 1942, all of which copies are being sent by this office to the office of origin.

It is to be noted from a review of these copies that the newspaper is a weekly paper and is the official organ of the Norfolk Central Labor Union; that the editor and publisher is E. L. PICKLER, and that JOSEPH MORRIS is the advertising manager; that the paper is published every Thursday from the office of the Labor Journal, 209 West Tazewell Street, Norfolk, telephone 2-5991; that it was entered as second class matter on March 3, 1938, at the post office in Norfolk, Virginia, under the Act of March 3, 1879; that communications are solicited by the paper on all subjects, and the request is made that the full name of any individual submitting a communication should be signed as evidence of good faith. It is further noted that the newspaper also reserves the right to refuse any objectionable news item or advertising copy, and that the Labor Journal does not endorse the sentiments of all communications that appear in the newspaper, and that it is at liberty to take issue when it sees fit; that the subscription price of the paper per year is $1.00, and for six months, 50¢.
It is also to be noted that in the copy of February 5, 1942, there is an item to the effect that WILLIAM GREEN calls for public support of Russian war relief needs, and also a comment that Fascism is 20th Century cannibalism, and that Nazi power must be smashed. In the issue of January 29, 1942, there is an item to the effect that the Russian War Relief had been given a gift of 100,000 dresses by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, of New York City. In the issue of January 22, 1942, there is an item to the effect that ALLEN WARDWELL, of New York City, had been elected secretary of the Board of Directors of the Russian War Relief, Inc., in New York City. In the issue of December 4, 1942, there is a considerable amount of space given to the editorial of the Hatters' Union, in Philadelphia, violating the Anti-Trust Law, and also to the conviction of eighteen of DENNY LEWIS'S associates, "The Socialist Workers' Party", in Minneapolis, Minnesota. In the issue of November 27, 1941, there is an item indicating that the Actors Union has initiated ouster of Communists in New York City, New York.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Indices of the New York Field Division checked regarding \( \ast \) and \( \ast \); with negative results. Information identifying the International Students Service, PILOT, THE NEW LEADER, SOVIET RUSSIA TODAY and the American Russian Institute set forth. Indices checked for JESSICA SMITH. Information set forth.

REFERENCE: Report of Special Agent dated December 30, 1941 at Knoxville, Tennessee.

DETAILS: The indices of the New York Field Division were checked with respect to \( \ast \) and \( \ast \); with negative results. The NEW YORK TIMES under date of December 29, 1940 indicates that the International Students Service was originally founded to rival the American Students Union, an allied Communist front organization.

In the case entitled THE NATIONAL MARITIME UNION, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, New York file 765-4632, it is indicated that the PILOT is an official publication of the National Maritime Union.

COPY IN FILE
As reflected in the indices of the New York Field Division, JESSICA SMITH is sponsor of the American Council on Soviet Relations 1941.

The files of the New York Field Division indicate that the NEW LEADER is a publication of the Social Democratic Federation of America, which is opposed to Communism.

SOVIET RUSSIA TODAY is published at 114 East 22d Street, New York City. This publication contains many articles extolling military, economic and political conditions in the U. S. S. R. SOVIET RUSSIA TODAY is the subject of an Internal Security case, New York file #100-6393.

The American Russian Institute for Cultural Relations with the Soviet Union according to the quarterly summary report for November 1941, page 140, is presently affiliated with the Russian War Relief, an alleged Communist front organization.

With respect to the lead in reference report to ascertain the person to whom New York telephone No. 2-2566 is listed, your attention is directed to the fact that no such number exists in New York City. All telephone numbers in New York City are preceded by an Exchange prefix. The Story of an Educational Center for Working People
The Highlander Folk School urgently needs the support of forward-looking and progressive organizations and individuals. Those who believe with the School that a vital factor in making democracy work in America is the provision of enlightened and responsible labor leadership, are urged to lend both their moral and financial support.

Inquiries for further information are welcomed at all times and, should you be in the vicinity of the School, a visit to it will prove to be a thrilling and exciting experience.

Please make checks or contributions payable to the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee.
The Setting. The Highlander Folk School is located on the tip of the Cumberland Mountains in the Tennessee Valley Authority region. The School is centrally situated in the southern industrial area.

The Need. The people of the South lack experience in industrial organization. They want to learn how to adjust to the change from rural to industrial life, and how to face the problem of improving their economic and social conditions.

In these times, when all the enlightened forces of capital and labor are needed to "make democracy work," the building of responsible labor leadership is imperative. Southern workers in particular have lacked opportunities for education. By becoming informed and trained union members they can help achieve in the South the industrial democracy so vital to the progress of the whole country.

Founding of the School. In 1932, Myles Horton, a native Tennessean educated at Cumberland University and the University of Chicago, returned to Tennessee to help provide Southern workers with an opportunity for an education fitted to their practical needs.

Highlander Folk School was therefore founded "to provide an educational center in the South for the training of rural and industrial leaders, and for the conservation and enrichment of the indigenous cultural values of the mountain."

Throughout the eight years of the school's existence, it has functioned along these broad lines: it is a local rural settlement house serving the community and county; and it is a center for the education and development of intelligent labor leadership throughout the entire South. Through this program, the school hopes to assist in bringing about the economic and political democracy that is the heritage of the finest American tradition.
Early Years. When Doctor Lillian Johnson, pioneer southern educator, gave her frame house and farm land to the new School, the founders resolved not to create another formal institution, but to develop an educational and cultural center to meet the needs of the students themselves, and of the community. Hence, during the first few weeks, the house served chiefly as a community center, where neighbors dropped in for a social evening of songs and friendly discussion with the teachers.

Later, a few of the neighbors asked for a discussion class, and during the first winter, evening classes dealing with psychology, economics, and current events, grew naturally out of the interests of the community folk.

A few resident students began to live at the school and to be given individual instruction in writing and speaking. In addition, each selected a community activity ranging from music classes and a dramatics club to educational meetings among the miners and relief workers in neighboring communities. Thus, the three aspects of interrelated activity which the school now carries on, grew out of the demands of the first year:

I—the residence program of short courses and weekend conferences for workers.

II—the work in the community.

III—the extension program, in which students and staff carry the educational work to other rural and industrial areas.
PRESENT PROGRAM

1. Resident Courses. Resident Terms for Workers are the backbone of the year-round program. In the summer and in the spring, the six weeks term of intensive resident courses is conducted for trade-union students. Students are drawn from Southern labor unions, with an occasional student from outside of the South. The qualifications for admission are: the ability to read and write and devotion to the labor movement. No student is accepted without the recommendation of his or her union.

The purpose of all the courses is to provide factual information bearing on the practical problems faced by the students in their unions. Sharing of experiences and discussions enables students to meet their local situations more constructively.

Classes are always informal, and draw from and relate back to, the students' experiences. In addition to discussions led by the regular staff members, leading experts from the field of organized labor and from Federal and State agencies frequently contribute to the classes as visiting lecturers. The School's library of six thousand books and pamphlets, built up by the gifts of friends, is eagerly drawn on by the students to supplement their class work.

The courses include the following subjects:

Union Problems: discussion of definite problems of the students as labor unionists.
Methods of organizing, dues collecting, and making the meetings interesting; fundamentals of collective bargaining, negotiating contracts, and Labor Board procedure.
American History: the story of the growth of the labor movement in America from Colonial days to the present, with an examination of labor's rights under New Deal legislation.

Economics: an introductory course dealing with the way people make a living; the development of the industrial era and its effect upon the welfare of working people; and the economic background of the union movement.

Union Publicity: practice in the basic elements of a news story, related to reporting for labor papers. The mechanics of editing a paper or pamphlet; mimeographing methods; and the creating of charts and posters for publicity uses. Students write their own life stories and publish them in mimeographed form.

Parliamentary Law and Public Speaking: designed to show students how to run business-like meetings, and how to get across ideas in an effective manner. Class is conducted as a regular union meeting, giving students practice in speaking and in parliamentary law.

Dramatics: training in the improvisation of plays based on actual situations suggested, acted out and produced by the students. Finished product is often taken on tour to union locals.

Music and Recreation: learning labor and folk songs; practice in leading group singing, and methods of setting up a recreational program in a union.

Equally as important as the course of studies is the experience of cooperative living. The students contribute two hours a day to the running of the household, and have the opportunity of sharing work and play with other students and the staff.
Institutes and Extra Sessions. In addition to its regular resident terms, Highlander holds frequent weekend institutes throughout the year, for unions, teachers, and social workers. For example, during 1940, institutes were held at the school for the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, for the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, and for Labor's Non-Partisan League. Informal weekend gatherings were held for leaders of cooperatives, and for southern business and professional, and industrial Y. W. C. A. secretaries.

Other special sessions have included such varied projects as: a week's Summer camp for the children of union members; a writers' workshop at which prominent writers and young students from all parts of the country discussed together the problems of writing; and two work camps for college students.

2. The Community Program. The problem of earning a living in Grundy County is acute. Since the soil is not suitable for productive farming, the natural resources of the land—coal mining and lumbering—have been exploited until the timber is gone and only a few mines are in operation.

The American Public Welfare Association has made a study of the county: it is one of the poorest in the South, with over eighty percent of the residents certified for relief.

An important part of Highlander's all-year-round activities is the School's work with community organizations in joint efforts to solve community and county problems. Leadership has been furnished for Cooperatives in gardening, canning, pottery and quilt-making, and in such organizations as a Community Council, local unions, and a Parent-Teacher Association.

In the community work, the School also assists in developing local leadership by providing for Young Peoples Clubs and Study Groups for Adults. The cultural and recreational life of the community has been stimulated by the School's free music lessons, and by the encouragement of the traditional songs and fine old square dances of the region.

Perhaps the most outstanding recent example of the School's community projects is a progressive nursery school, taught by a member of the Highlander staff, who is a graduate of the Bank Street Cooperative School for Teachers, and who acts as director, janitor, parent-worker, and school-bus driver. The parents of the fifteen children make their contribution by helping supply hot lunches and fuel for the nursery building.
3. Extension Work. The third aspect of Highlander's program is its field work. Staff members serve as a resource which unions and cooperatives all over the South can call upon for guidance or assistance in worker's education. At the request of the local unions for example, members of the staff go out between resident sessions to conduct educational programs. Instruction is given in setting up mimeographed newspapers, and in the organization of dramatics clubs, singing and study groups.

Finally, the staff is always available by correspondence or visit, to assist graduates of the School in their educational and cultural activities. There are 180 alumni from 24 states and from 30 different unions. Some of the typical progressive positions held by former students are: union educational director, manager of cooperative store, organizers for the C.I.O. and for the A.F. of L., recreational director for union, Y.M.C.A. administrator, labor news service editor, member of county school board, publicity director for union, editor of labor song book, teachers and directors for workers' service projects, W.P.A.; and officers of local unions.

ADMINISTRATION, MAINTENANCE AND SUPPORT

Administration: The Executive Council of the Highlander Folk School consists of leading representatives of both the A.F. of L. and the C.I.O., and the teaching staff. The teaching, direction, and control of the school are in the hands of the staff and of labor representatives committed to the idea that democracy can best be achieved through a strong, intelligent labor movement. The School is not, and never has been, affiliated with any political organization or party.

Members of the Executive Council are: Albert Barnett, Professor of Old Testament Literature, Scarritt College; Miss Lucy Randolph Mason, Southern Publicity Representative for the C.I.O.; Edward F. Callaghan, Vice-President of the American Federation Hosiery Workers; George Titler, Secretary, District 19, United Mine Workers of America; Matt Lynch, Representative of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers; Roy Reynolds, President Chattanooga Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union; Alton Lawrence, Southern Representative of Labor's Non-Partisan League; Paul R. Christopher, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council; Bernard Borah, Southern Representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Staff: The staff bring to their teaching, in addition to college and professional training, their experience in the field of Southern labor as members of the American Federation of Teachers, and as organizers, writers and speakers. They receive no salaries, other than maintenance. The staff is cooperatively organized and shares equally in the control of the school.

The staff includes: Teachers; William Buttrick, College of the City of Nashville, Duke University; James Domhrowaki, Emory University, Columbia University, Union Theological Seminary; Myles Horton, Cumberland University, University of Chicago; Zilphia Horton, College of the Ozarks; Librarian, Leon Wilson; Nursery School Director, Claudia Lewis, Reed College; Bank Street Cooperative School for Teachers; Community Worker, Mary Lawrence, Duke University; Office Secretaries, Louise Dichman, Vassar College; Louise Conkling, Oberlin College.
Support: The School is run on a cooperative basis. Students and staff share in the household work; hence, every penny of the yearly contributions is devoted to the actual maintenance of the School and its year-round program of residence terms, and community and extension work.

Contributors are unions, religious groups, student bodies, educational foundations, and over nine hundred liberal men and women throughout the country. Scholarships are maintained by several international unions; and by individual contributors, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The school work would be impossible without the moral and financial support of progressive citizens. They believe with the School that if democracy is to survive the onslaughts of the anti-democratic forces spreading in the world today, the great majority of our people must learn how to exercise their rights most capably and wisely through the democratic process.

Endorsements. The School is proud of the roster of illustrious leaders, both National and Southern, who endorse its work. Amongst the prominent representatives of organized labor —

Dr. George S. Counts; President, American Federation of Teachers, A.F. of L:
"I have every confidence in the Highlander Folk School as an institution thoroughly devoted to the interests of working people and the cause of American democracy."

John L. Lewis; President, United Mine Workers of America, C.I.O.;
"I think that the School is performing a noteworthy task in the field of liberal and useful education, and that real recognition is due for the generous and effective support which it gives to the struggle of labor in the South."

Amongst the well-known educators —

Dr. John Dewey:
"When the Highlander Folk School was founded, I wrote that I regarded it as one of the most important social-educational projects in America. The achievements of the School in the past eight years confirm my original judgment."

Dr. William S. Knickerbocker, Professor at the University of the South, and editor of the SEWANEE REVIEW:
"... the Highlander Folk School is rendering an important and indispensable service in its nursery school, its relief assistance, its intelligent scrutiny of political and social conditions, and in most of its proposals for the elimination of removable abuses and the introduction of more tolerable conditions of living."
In the Church —

Reverend Reinhold Niebuhr:

“One of the most interesting experiments in labor education in America.”

Reverend Marshall Wingfield, Memphis Pastor, Moderator of the Tennessee Conference of Congregational Churches and Historian in Chief of the Sons of Confederates Veterans:

“... I know the School is doing an excellent and much needed work in this area.”

Amongst our neighbors —

Miss May Justus, public school teacher, author, and holder of a Rosenwald Fellowship:

“I am glad to say that I know of much good the Highlander Folk School has done in our community, both in an educational and altruistic way. They have proved their friendship, especially to the poor and needy, rendering material assistance in many cases when none else was available.”

Mrs. C. R. Starr, President of the P.T.A.:

“... they are an asset to this community.”

In Workers Education —

Mark Starr, Educational Director, International Ladies Garment Workers Union:

“The trade unions of the South need workers’ education to increase their power and use it wisely. Highlander Folk School deserves support because it provides that workers’ education.”

Hilda Smith, Director Workers Service Program, Works Progress Administration.

“The Highlander Folk School is making an unusual contribution to workers’ education. It has set a pattern in community relations through a workers’ school and is doing much to give courage to industrial and rural workers who are concerned with raising standards of living and developing educational programs among workers’ groups.”

In Labor Organizations —

1940 Annual Convention of the C.I.O.:

“... resolved that this organization endorse the ideas and program of the Highlander Folk School.”

RESOLUTION, NASHVILLE TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL, (A. F. of L.)

“... the Council expresses confidence in the fundamental soundness of the objectives of this labor school.”
IT IS FOR THEM WE GIVE...
A Good School Under Fire

One of our favorite educational institutions in the whole United States is the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. Highlander is a labor school; its chief purpose is to take promising trade-union members and equip them better to help their organizations fight for improved conditions for the working man. No student is taken unless he is endorsed by a local union. No distinction is made between AFL and CIO, both of which cooperate with the school.

In addition to this primary purpose, the school has two others. It attempts to aid the people of the little community where it is located; it conducts a nursery school for people nearby and has sponsored several cooperative undertakings for them. It also has an extension division which does field work of several kinds in cities near and far.

The direct support of labor is indicated by representation on its executive council. This body includes a vice-president and another representative of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers; the Southern director of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers; the president of the Chattanooga Printing Pressmen, and a local secretary from the United Mine Workers. Among many labor groups supporting the school is the Nashville Trades and Labor Council, AFL.

The schools has friends in other quarters than the organized labor movement. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is keenly interested and maintains a scholarship there. The benefit this month in the national capital is sponsored by a Justice of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet and of Congress, a former governor, administrators of leading federal agencies, two members of the National Defense Advisory Commission and other prominent persons. Mr. J. W. Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education, wrote the committee on arrangements: "Although I am asked every week to lend my name for the sponsorship of many undertakings and naturally find it necessary to decline, I am willing to be one of the sponsors of your benefit."

Why do we go into such detail about the support the Highlander Folk School receives? Because there has been a long continued, vicious campaign in Tennessee to destroy this institution. Most of the newspapers of the entire surrounding territory have repeatedly lied about the school, on such a scale that the falsification cannot be attributed to an innocent misunderstanding. The charges have been that the school was "communist," that it was misleading the young people, and so on. Dr. James Dombrowski, director of the school, has denied all these charges and has indicated his willingness, if it could be proved that the school is un-American or is detrimental to the community and to the people it serves, to put an end to its work. Nobody has ever brought forward even a fragment of evidence that the charges are true.

Who is behind the attempt to destroy the Highlander Folk School? First of all, it is reactionary employers throughout the entire South, men who object to the school because it trains people to become successful leaders of strong trade unions. Locally, there is reason to believe that the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company has had a good deal to do with the attack. This company has for years dominated Grundy County. In 1938, for the first time, a group of county officials were elected who were not subservient to the coal company, and the school faculty was active during the campaign in support of these candidates.

A few weeks ago, feeling was stirred up to such a pitch that a vigilante group calling themselves the Grundy County Crusaders planned to march against the school. If this had been done, blood would certainly have been shed. At the last minute, the vigilante leaders were persuaded instead to confer with the school officials. As a result of this five-hour conference, the tension was relieved somewhat. But there is danger that it will rise again; there are plenty of people in Tennessee who don't want a school that prepares efficient spokesmen for labor, and will stoop to almost anything to destroy it.
HIGHLANDER ENDORSED BY CIO

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council in constitutional convention assembled, in Knoxville, Tenn., on May 25, 1940, unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"WHEREAS the aim of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, is to aid in the fight for complete political and economic democracy in the South, and

WHEREAS the school conducts a year round educational, recreational and organizational program made up of six weeks residence terms, institutes and conferences, and field work with unions, and

WHEREAS teachers and a number of former students are organizers and officials of CIO unions, and

WHEREAS such labor activities have made the school a target for attacks from anti-labor forces,

THEREFORE be it resolved that this organization endorse the aims and program of the Highlander Folk School and that the efforts to discredit and defame the school be condemned as an attack on the progressive labor movement of the South."

THEREFORE be it resolved that the third annual convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, assembled in Atlantic City, N.J., concur in this action by the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council.

SUBMITTED BY:

William Turnblazer, Chairman, Tennessee Industrial Union Council; President of District 19, United Mine Workers.

The Highlander Folk School was started to provide a cultural center in the north where rural and industrial people could find a practical education, helpful recruiting, and obtain training to take a more active and intelligent part in industries, farmers organizations, and cooperatives.

everywhere living has been reduced to existing.
Supplying food, clothing and shelter, and worry about the future, has sapped most people of any apparent interest in cultural things. However, given a ray of hope for a solution to their economic problems, and an opportunity to participate in cultural activities, people working and existing are worked out side by side. If the economic and cultural problems are worked out together in everyday life, they must not be separated in education."

THE SCHOOL

A place where children may come to play with other children whom they ordinarily do not see. Here they learn the ways of getting along together.

With their teacher they go on walks and rides to see the things they like to see—the big bus in Monteagle, the grocery store, the well-digger in Buddy's yard.

At school they have orange crates and boards to build their own "well diggers". They have hammers and nails, crayons, paints (mostly made from poke-berries and roots) and clay (which they themselves can dig).

The teacher sings with the children, and tells them stories. For some of the children, it is the first time that anyone has ever told them stories.

There are trees to climb, swings to push, ropes to jump. These things help to build stronger bodies.

Director and Teacher:
Miss Claudia Lewis, formerly with the Bank Street Schools, New York City.

The Program:
Mid-morning lunch of crackers and fruit juice; noon lunch of hot soup and milk; cod liver oil during the winter.

Play outdoors all day during the warm months.

An hour's rest after lunch has just been made possible by the donation of cots.

Housing and Equipment:
The nursery school is temporarily located in one of the two rooms of the public elementary school building. The room is large and light, heated by a coal stove. Water comes from a well in the schoolyard. When this well is dry, the water must be carried from a spring a quarter of a mile away.

Play equipment consists chiefly of what can be secured at no cost—stool, sticks and stones; cornstalks and orange crates.

HOW IS THE SCHOOL SUPPLIED

Highlander Folk School
Provides maintenance for the teacher, and a car for collecting the children each day.

Public Welfare Dept.
supplies surplus commodities, which go into the hot soup.

National Youth Administration pays for two assistants, mountain girls, who are receiving nursery school training from Miss Lewis.

The Community
People donate all they can in the way of milk, coal, labor. It is their interest and cooperation which have made the school a real community nursery school.

WE NEED
Medical care, cots and blankets, play equipment, stove, supplies, an adequate salary for the teacher, a permanent building for the school.

Please help us meet our budget and needs by sending your contribution to the chairman of our Finance Committee:
Mr. Lionel C. Perera
312 Fifth Avenue
New York City

or directly to the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle Tennessee.

Checks should be made payable to the Highlander Folk School.
The Summerfield Nursery School, on the Cumberland Plateau, Monteagle, Tennessee, is doing its best.

BUT WE STILL NEED YOUR HELP

The Summerfield Nursery School, which has operated with the help of the Highlander Folk School since June, 1938, cares for about 20 children, aged 3-5. The school is open the year round, and welcomes all children free of charge.

The parents of these children once worked in coal and timber. But now that the coal is used up and the timber is stripped, WPA road work is all there is to turn to. Summerfield’s 60 families live on barren land, housed in the shacks their grandfathers built—still without electricity, without plumbing.

In this community, children are the only riches. These Bonnie Carol and Johnnie Maes are indeed well loved. Their isolated life has made them excessively shy, but they are happy and bright.
FIELD PROGRAM BROADENS

With the exception of the eight weeks she spent teaching at Highlander, Mary Lawrence has been in New Orleans since April first. Her program of workers' education, sponsored by the New Orleans Industrial Union Council, will continue until the end of the year.

Special classes have been held for three unions: the Furniture Workers, the United Hostmen, the Transport Workers. In addition there have been classes for officers, stewards, and committeemen of five large locals. This year's United Auto Workers program has resulted in the starting of experimental meetings in the unions, an increased attendance at general meetings, increase in membership and dues collection, publication of a mimeographed paper by one of the unions. Between seventy-five and a hundred workers attend each class each week.

A member of Highlander alumni and in sympathy with the program, as a former student, is devoting full time to it. Students have been entered by means of posters, new classes in literature, basketry, weaving, wood and clay, stenography, office, and extension classes. At one recent meeting, the alumni of New Orleans in May were given a chance to build on the basis of the present program. A program has been planned and is available from the C I O office.

Said Fred Pieper, regional C I O director, "We are trying to get the program into the hands of the workers themselves. The meetings are supposed to be run by the workers."

New York Highlander staff began an educational program under the auspices of the City Industrial Council. Pro\(\text{\footnotesize C I O, local of the city. Two new classes are being held for tenants and families."

United Auto Workers At Highlander

Members of Ford local 903, Memphis, took part in classes singing, square dancing, September 5, 6, 7, and made plans for the Memphis conference described on this page. In the group are: Richard Deverall, U. A. W. educational director; Bethel Judd, International Representative; Ben McDowell, local president; T. G. Vanlandingham, financial secretary. The latter attended the summer term on the scholarship given by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Summer Term Features Labor Conferences

One hundred and fifty-six representatives of A. F. of L. and C I O unions attended the five week-end conferences held at the school during the regular six week's summer term, August 18 to September 27.

The conference dealt with problems of organizing, education for union members, political action for unions, and labor's part in the National Defense Program. Regular students and visitors alike took part in the discussions. Leaders of the conferences were Richard Deverall, International Educational Director of the United Auto Workers; Yelverton Cowherd, regional C I O director, Birmingham; Alton Lawrence, southern representative Labor's Non-Partisan League; Fred Pieper, regional C I O director, New Orleans; Allen McNell, southern representative Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers.

Speakers
Other speakers and discussion leaders were William Eaves, regional Wage and Hour director; Paul Christopher, Tennessee State C I O Secretary; Fleming James, Dean of the Theological Seminary, University of the South, Sewanee; George Stoney, Farm Security Administration; Frank Coffee, Social Security Board; Joe Dobbs, Chairman Organizing Committee Chattanooga Central Labor Union; O. A. Baxter, sub-regional director Steel Workers Organizing Committee, Chattanooga; Rosanne Walker, Retail and Wholesale Clerks representative, Philadelphia; M. C. Anderson and Frank Allen, Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers representative; Edward Woods, American Newspaper Guild representative; Mike Smith, Tennessee director, AFL Steel Workers;

AUTO WORKERS CONFER ON EDUCATION

Carrying out plans formulated at Highlander by Richard Deverall, U. A. W. Educational Director, Bethel Judd, International Representative, and members of Memphis Local 903, the U. A. W. held a three day educational conference at the Hotel Chisca, Memphis, the 24th, 25th and 26th of October. A large number of delegates were present from Detroit, Baltimore, Louisville, Atlanta, Dallas, Memphis.

"The union," said Deverall, "is more than simply a slot machine for wages and hours. We can make it the cultural, democratic means of life for the American worker." Special study was given to the Ford grievance procedure, setting up of local union educational and recreational programs, publicity and journalism, and housing, rents, and prices.

Presenting were T. J. Starling, U. A. W. southern board member; Richard Deverall; Frank Marquart, educational director of Ford Local 600, Detroit; John Edelman, Office of Price Administration, Washington.

Right To Strike

"When management waives the right to profit," Deverall said, "unions will waive the right to strike." Brother Marquart spoke forcefully for adoption of the Murray Industrial Council Plan as the one means in sight for putting the National Defense Program on a sound basis.

HHS Staff Members
Myra Horton, Henry Lasker, Maria Stenzel, Leon Wilson were delegates from Highlander and took active parts in the program. The Highlander film "PEOPLE OF THE CUMBERLAND" was shown with U. A. W. movies and drew a fine response. Plans were announced for a week's school at Highlander for southern Auto Workers, to be held early in 1942.

A number of Highlander Alumni attended the Conference, including T. G. Vanlandingham, financial secretary of Ford Local 903, who was awarded the second scholarship provided by Eleanor Roosevelt.

The conference concluded with a mass meeting for Memphis C I O workers, held in Edgewood Park.
COMMUNITY AND COUNTY NEWS

With the summer program of resident terms completed, classes are now in progress for the summer term.

The location found clay has been analyzed by T. V. A. technicians, who conducted a Work Camp, building a school and a pottery wheel, the latter fired experimentally. Members of the summer field work, who are entering their projects in the fall, will be on hand to answer questions.

Dorothy King and Maria Stenzel are continuing the whirling class in pottery, where the young members of the community learned to throw clay into shapes, and make shapes into pottery.

Square dancing is again the order of the day.

Work Camp was held at Grundy and Marion counties.

In addition to her other activities, Joan Paine is now handling the library's collection of books.

The nursery school, under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Williams, has a weekly meeting for members of the community.

NURSERY SCHOOL

Joan Paine plans to keep the nursery school going until the winter months, when they will help the children with their winter activities.

PAMPHLET ON ROANE COUNTY

On September 26th, two C. I. O. organizers were extended the gracious hospitality of Roane County, Tennessee, company thugs and police. The C. I. O. and the Tennessee state of Tennessee are said to have long been at war with the county employers' careers of anti-union activities (the present case is part of a rich tradition).

Despite the nationwide publicity given the affair and the C. I. O. has made a generous offer of a thousand dollars, county of Roane and state of Tennessee have so far succeeded in failing to make any arrests.

The C. I. O. has arrested one of the county employers' careers of anti-union activities (the present case is part of a rich tradition). Paul Christopher, state C. I. O. secretary, is getting out a pamphlet entitled "TERROR IN ROANE COUNTY." Text is the work of Horace Bryan, writer and former Highlander student; the cover is by Maria Stenzel.

SUMMER TERM Continued

Auto Workers representative, John Bouche, C. I. O. representative, New Orleans; Kent, Central Y. W. C. A. secretary from China; and Student Activities.

During the fifth and sixth week, on request of the students, a special study was made of state and federal labor legislation. Students made two field trips to take part in union meetings; one to the Retail Clerks of Whitwell, Tennessee.

HFS ALUMNI TO CONVENE

A Thanksgiving banquet will climax the third annual reunion of the Highlander Alumni, November 26th, 27th and 28th. Maria Stenzel, alumni secretary, has received letters from many former students planning to be here for the big week-end. The schedule says discussions, volleyball, dancing.

In response to our call, activity reports are no news in from all alumni. These will be used in working up a detailed survey of Highlander's first ten years in labor education. The tenth year, 1942, is coming at us head on.

Handle Workers of Sequatchie, Tennessee.

"WE'VE GOT WORK TO DO," a play written by the students to show labor's role in the defense emergency, and calling for acceptance of the Murray Defense Plan, was performed twice for enthusiastic audiences.

Among the full-time students were hosiery workers, inland construction workers, a newspaper editor, a newspaper employee, an auto worker, a postal worker, a federal employee, a student of labor law. Students came from Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Washington, D. C. For the second time the Pan-American Union sent a Latin American worker who came this year from Colombia, South America.

CHARLES W. FERGUSON, an associate editor of the READER'S DIGEST, discusses the 'think-piece' with Kate Bradford Stockton, one-time candidate for governor of Tennessee. Highlander held its third annual WRITERS WORKSHOP this summer. Other teachers were Novelist Mary Lapsley, Playwright Lealon Jones of Missouri State Teachers College. Guest speakers included H. C. Nixon of Vanderbilt University; Henry Zon, Washington Bureau of the Federated Press; William E. McDonnell, director Tennessee Federation of Writers Program. Students were writers, school teachers, college students, trade unionists.
Executive Council Meets
The first Executive Council meeting of the new year took place at the school January 11. Principal discussion was on how Highlander can most effectively continue with its services to workers during the war.

OCD PROPOSAL
Outcome of the deliberation was the proposal submitted to, now being considered by the Office of Civilian Defense in Washington. This program indicates how the facilities of the school could be used by the OCD in a program of training union members for responsibilities in their local situations. It is suggested that OCD officials would provide instruction in (1) the prevention of industrial violence and the control of production methods; (2) labor relations methods; (3) fair labor defense; (4) improvements and maintenance of morale; (5) the program of physical education. Much of this material is from labor representatives of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council.

TENTH YEAR
The Executive Council held its Tenth Anniversary celebration to be held at the school. This weekend (February 17-19) is the last of the regular six-weeks summer term, and will be a climax of a drive for new contributors to the school to be directed by two members of the Council, Miss Lucy Randolph McCoy and Paul R. Christopher.

A PICNIC DISCUSSION at Sunset Point, Not Far From The School

Statement of Purpose, Program and Policy
The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in the defense and expansion of political and economic democracy.

Since unions are basic to the achievement of democracy, the strengthening of unions through education is the school's primary task.

The program is determined by the needs and policies of the unions from which the students are sent and with which the school works. These needs are served through resident classes, conferences, extension work, and recreational activities.

In the community in which it is located the school functions as a rural settlement house, providing social, educational, and recreational services.

The school's influence is southwide; its program trains southern rural and industrial leaders for a democratic society.

The school is cooperatively owned and managed by the teaching staff. It is affiliated with no group or organization. Its policies are wholly determined by an executive council composed of outstanding southern labor leaders, educators and members of the staff.

Financial support of the school comes from small contributions by friends and members of the labor movement throughout the country.

Alumni Notes
Cecil Pegues represented the Mine Mill & Smelter Workers in the Rockwood labor board election at the Tennessee Products Corporation. The UMMA&WU won 221 to 1. Matt Lynch, Tri-State APWH director and Alumni Chairman, was kidnapped in Rockwood in 1938.

Billye Bailey is educational director for the LGWU in Atlanta.

Emil Willmetz is on the Tennessee CIO staff under Paul Christopher. He is editor of the monthly Tennessee CIO News.

Bernie Schmidt, SWOC, Covington, Kentucky, originated the FRIENDS OF HIGHLANDER idea: cards to be sold by the alumni at a dollar as a means of raising scholarship funds for 1942.

Charles Handy is active in the Washington Committee of Highlander. He is completing his law studies. Handy is research director for the Armed Service Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers, A. F. of L.

J. D. Bradford was elected International Vice-President of the Lime, Gypsum and Cement Workers, A. F. of L.

Martin Knowlton received the Croix de Guerre for bravery under fire, as an ambulance driver in Syria and Africa.

Thelma Hunter, Lynchburg, Virginia, represented her Boot and Shoe Workers local at the state A. F. of L convention and Central Labor Union.

Bob Ball is an official of the A. F. of L Building Trades Council of Lexington, Kentucky.

Paul Winn is now president of his Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers local, Lyles, Tennessee.

Theo Vanlandingham was elected financial secretary of his Ford local in Memphis, and Chairman of the Industrial Union Council.

Mr. Anthony Hunt, 81, died January 18. He was the oldest student on Highlander's rolls. Mr. Hunt attended night classes held for the community people the school's first winter, 1932-33.
ANNUAL REPORT - 1941

THE YEAR AT A GLANCE:
252 students took part in the school's 5 resident terms and 7 week-end conferences.
223 students were served by community and extension classes in Grundy County, Memphis, and New Orleans.
Carrying a bigger program than ever before, the school ended the year with a deficit of expenditure over income of $1,281.24.

The Resident Terms
The SPRING TERM, held May 12-24, was attended by fourteen full time and fourteen part time students, from five southern states representing eight international unions. Numerous labor and government officials helped with the discussions and classes.

The SUMMER TERM, held August 18 to September 24, was attended by sixteen students from seven states and one from Colombia, South America. Ten unions were represented.

For the week-end conferences held during this term were attended by 156 people, representing 8 of 10 listed, three independent unions, and seven CIOs.

Daily schedule included classes and discussions led by the Highlander staff and students, visiting unions and government officials, Democratic living and cooperation were stressed and practical experience was afforded in student-staff committees on classes, recreation, and house maintenance.

The WRITERS WORKSHOP was held July 28 to August 9 for twelve student writers from six southern states, New York, Illinois, and the District of Columbia. Classes in fiction, journalism, and playwriting were taught by MaryJane, a novelist and magazine writer; Charles Ferguson, an assistant editor of the Daily Journal of Missouri State Teachers College.

Visitation authorities held special sessions on labor journalism, regional fiction, the Federal writers' project, and mountain "tall stories."

WORK CAMP: The International Student Service sponsored the fourth summer Work Camp at Highlander. Seventeen college students spent July in hard manual labor and intensive study of the social-economic problems of the south. Field trips were made to industry centers and various Federal projects. The campers ran a consumers' co-op and cleared enough to produce a colored motion picture of the camp.

The JUNIOR UNION CAMP, June 9-23, enrolled 13 children of A. P. of L. families, of C. I. O. and 3 of unemployed. Many writers were present, the first experience with mountain life, the first real trip away from home. Classes were held in unionism, singing, dancing, handicrafts, puppetry. Maintenance of camp was cooperatively in the hands of the children and the staff.

The Extension Program
NEW ORLEANS. Staff member Mary Lawrence began her program in April with an OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL. 120 officers of CIO locals attended the first meeting. Sixteen different groups were taught during the year. Average weekly attendance was 100. The program has increased attendance at union meetings, payment of dues, and measurably heightened loyalty to the cause of labor. One striking result was a gigantic Labor Day parade, New Orleans' first in many years.

MEMPHIS. The Industrial Union Council, chaired by the winner of the 1941 Roosevelt student scholarship, inaugurated an educational program for its affiliated locals. By mid-November seven classes were going, under the leadership of Harry Lasker, HFE staff member. Average attendance per week: 60. Services rendered to 4 international unions.

CLINTON. Maria Stenzel conducted a week's program at Clinton, Tenn., for members of the Hospery Workers local. Demonstrations were given in group singing, square dancing, dramatics, posters, paper cutting, decoration of the local hall.

AUTO WORKERS' CONFERENCE. Four staff members were discussion leaders in the 3-day UAW-CIO Educational Conference held in Memphis in October. "PEOPLE OF THE CUMBERLAND," the Highlander film, was shown with the UAW films and drew a fine response.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES were rendered by staff members included participation in many important political and educational conferences; visits to local unions, conferences with organizers; research in local labor history. Many labor representatives were used by information gathered by the school and used the school as an impromptu conference center.

Community And County Program
The NURSERY SCHOOL was held this year under the direction of Joan Payne, of Sarah Lawrence college. Seventeen Summerfield families had children at the school at some time during the year. Daily attendance: eight to fifteen. Miss Payne also conducted a number of mixed weekly meetings for the older girls of the community. Total number of families served in the two programs: twelve.

The SUMMERFIELD COOPERATIVE met weekly throughout the year in the homes of its members. Rummage sales were held in Summerfield, Lasager, and Pelham Valley; old clothes were contributed by friends of the co-op and of Highlander.

HANDICRAFTS. Maria Stenzel held classes in wood carving, clay modeling, pottery, drawing, dressmaking, puppetry. The classes were mostly during the first six months. Average attendance for all classes: fifty per week.

TRAVELING LIBRARY. Every week the school's car carried assorted books—children's to adults—to one or more of the six major communities of the county. Circulation for the year: 1,113 books to seventy-four families.

SACRED HARP SINGING CLASS. A community chorus, singing the traditional "white" spirituals of the south, met once a week for sixteen weeks. The final session was a day-long sing with "dinner on the grounds."

SQUARE DANCING was the recreation of a large group of Summerfield young folk every Saturday night, January to May, and periodically from then on.

At the CHRISTMAS PARTY 62 children of all ages took part in the program worked up by Joan Payne and her girls' club, and received gifts contributed by friends of the school.

Financial Report
Cost of this program, including maintenance of plant and teachers, was $12,948.76. INCOME, contributed by a few funds and foundations, local and international unions, and may individual contributions was $12,807.52. Deficit: $1,281.24.

NOTE: This page is a condensation of the 26-page report which the school prepared for its contributors. A few copies of the full report remain. They may be had by addressing a request to the OFFICE.

Changes in executive committee noted. HORTON interviewed concerning formation of Workers Alliance in Grundy County and organization of Young Communists League in Honeaqua, Tennessee. States Communist Party in Chattanooga endorses Highlander Folk School and counts on 25% of alumni being organizers for Communist Party.

contacts with the heads of all types of labor organizations. Consequently, the members of the local labor unions around Grundy County were encouraged by him to seek his advice in the organization of any type of union. HORTON stated that in 1936 his advice about organizing the unemployed and TiPA workers of Grundy County was sought by DOLF VAUGHN. HORTON stated that he advised VAUGHN that only two unions would be available for the workers, namely, the Hod Carriers Union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and the Workers Alliance. HORTON stated that in his opinion the Workers Alliance would be run autonomously, receiving very little support from national headquarters, and the activities in Tennessee could be directed by the Tennessee Council of the CIO from Chattanooga, Tennessee. HORTON further advised that at this time the Hod Carriers Union in the Chattanooga area was under the direct influence of TED WELLS, state secretary and organizer for the Communist Party. HORTON further advised that the Workers Alliance in Grundy County flourished until the latter part of 1939, at which time HERBERT BENJAMIN and DAVID LESSER disclosed to the Dies Committee that the Workers Alliance was dominated by the Communist Party. HORTON advised that he had a great deal of explaining to do, both to the Executive Board of the Highlander Folk School and to the local members of the Workers Alliance when this fact was disclosed. HORTON stated that he did not know of the existence of a chapter of the Young Communists League in Monteagle; that he had heard through various persons in the neighborhood that C. H. KILBY, secretary to the manager of the Consolidated Coal Company at Tracy City, Tennessee was showing a membership card for the Young Communists League around Monteagle and Tracy City in an effort to connect this organization with the Highlander Folk School. HORTON stated, however, that at no time had any member of the faculty or Executive Board of the school either organized or obtained memberships in the Young Communists League. It was HORTON's belief that if such a league were started and were in existence, it must have been the work of TED WELLS, who visited the community frequently from 1936 until 1939.

HORTON also was asked whether he had any information as to who had been responsible for the placing of the name of WILLIAM LARLOWE as a presidential elector for the Communist Party in 1936. It will be noted in reference report that WILLIAM LARLOWE stated that he believed he was running on the Socialist ticket and that it was his recollection that LYLES HORTON had first suggested putting his name on this ticket as a presidential elector. HORTON, however, denied any knowledge of the fact that LARLOWE's name had appeared on the ticket and could give no explanation concerning this fact.

Throughout the interview Agent expressed his interest in the work of the Highlander Folk School and LYLES HORTON explained the program of the school, showing the school plant, giving a great deal of literature which the school had printed, and volunteered to answer any questions Agent might care to ask.

HORTON stated that the Executive Board of the school was to meet on January 12, 1942, at which time the following changes would probably be made in the board: ROY REYNOLDS, Chattanooga, and GEORGE TATLER, former secretary of the United Line Workers, would be dropped and possible additions would be GEORGE LAYHEV, of Vanderbilt University, HOLLIS W. REID, legislative chairman of the Firemen and Engineers of the Railroad Brotherhoods of Tennessee, ROBERT HODGE and FRED PIEPER, CIO director of New Orleans.

The March edition of the "Highlander Fling" indicates that the new members who were elected to the board were LEWIS JONES, Fisk University; American Federation of Teachers, American Federation of Labor, and F. C. PIEPER, Regional CIO Director, New Orleans.

At this time HORTON volunteered information concerning the annual Thanksgiving alumni reunion held at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, November 27, 1941, which information was reported in report of Special Agent (entitled "Communist Activities in the State of Tennessee (Highlander Folk School)" dated January 23, 1942 at Knoxville, Tennessee. At this time HORTON further stated that the Highlander Folk School was very much interested in the training of union officials and members for responsibilities in local situations involving the prevention of sabotage of plant and mine equipment and defense materials, in production and efficiency methods, air raid defense, and improvement and maintenance of morale.

HORIES HORTON also showed the writer a quest list of the Highlander Folk School, at which time it was noted that the names of TED WELLHAN and ROBERT HALL, organizers for the Communist Party at Chattanooga and Birmingham respectively, appeared quite frequently.
When asked about the purpose of their visits HORTON stated that, although he knew these men to be Communists, they were well versed in labor problems and were invited to give lectures at the Highlander Folk School as long as they made no mention of Communism or tried to influence any members of the student body to become members of the Communist Party.

AT CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

ROY C. REYNOLDS, president of the Local Pressmen's Union, the Central Labor Union, and many other labor, liberal, and front organizations, advised that he had been a temporary member of the Executive Board of the Highlander Folk School for the year 1940 and part of 1941; that during this time he represented the Highlander Folk School in a debate between the Grundy County Crusaders and faculty members of the Highlander Folk School, which was held at Sewanee, Tennessee. REYNOLDS stated that at this debate many accusations were hurled by the Grundy County Crusaders at the Highlander Folk School charging it with disrupting the morals of the community and being affiliated with the Communist Party, but that none of these charges were specific and that they were all answered and explained by the faculty members. REYNOLDS stated that in all his association with the school he could find no indication of either the policy or the program of the school being dominated by the Communists. REYNOLDS stated, however, that he believed that the Communists would make every effort to use this school to their advantage. REYNOLDS stated that he had resigned from the Board of the Highlander Folk School because he was running for the City Council in Chattanooga and that the Highlander Folk School had received so much adverse publicity in Chattanooga that any affiliation he might have at that school would be detrimental in an election campaign.

stated that a large number of small denomination money orders were received by the Highlander Folk School, JAMES DOMBROVSKI, and LYLES HORTON, that these money orders were promptly cashed. It is believed that since the Highlander Folk School reveals that the vast majority of the cash obtained from these money orders is used for personal expenses by LYLES HORTON and JAMES DOMBROVSKI.

On January 5, 1942 it was advised that numerous post office money orders for various amounts were received by secretaries of the Communist Party from A. LINDY and ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, Communist Party functionaries, post office box 87, Station D, New York City, the known address of the Communist Party headquarters, U.S.A.

Further advised that in the latter part of February, 1942 the Highlander Folk School distributed approximately 1,200 copies of the March issue of the "Highlander Fling", two copies of which were furnished to Agent. It stated that these publications came from the DuBoise Publishing Company, Printers & Publishers, 1620 Third Avenue, North Birmingham, Alabama. The also furnished Agent with a mimeographed sheet sent to about 400 persons entitled "From letters to officials and Labor Advisory Committee of Office of Civilian Defense supporting the proposal that HIGHLANDER BE USED AS A SOUTHERN DEFENSE TRAINING CENTER FOR UNION
Since the Knoxville Field Division has only one copy of this publication, it is being incorporated in this report in full:

"The executive board of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council endorsed the proposal of the Highlander Folk School to the Office of Civilian Defense."
Paul R. Christopher, Executive Secretary-Treasurer
Tennessee Industrial Union Council.

"The organized hosiery workers of the South, affiliated with the Textile Workers Union of America and the CIO, earnestly urge the Office of Civilian Defense to utilize the facilities of the Highlander Folk School as a defense training center for southern union members."
Edward F. Callaghan, 2nd Vice President and Southern Director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers.

"I have been very much interested in the proposal that the OCD make use of the Highlander Folk School as a training center."
James B. Carey, Secretary
CIO.

"Permit me simply to urge that OCD establish a defense training center for southern labor at the Highlander Folk School, Monticello, Tennessee. I am much impressed with the sincerity and the integrity of the people in charge of the school and with the fine program which they have worked out for labor's participation in the South."
S. H. Lalrymple, President,
United Rubber Workers of America.

"We would like to endorse this program since it would help marshal labor's support for the work of civilian defense, and would be of value in enlisting the physical and mental energy of workers in the defense effort."
Lloyd H. Davis and Lillian Yadon (former students), T.W.C local #2, Louisville, Kentucky.

Ent on record Feb. 6th, 1941 approving Highlander as a southern center for training "leaders in the labor union movement into the right sort of cooperative attitude towards the war program."
We are writing to ask that you use your power to give this school an opportunity to do this service."
Mrs. Grace Dinguid, Recording Secretary
Boot and Shoe Workers local union #1441
Lynchburg, Virginia.
"Organized hosiery workers of High Point, N.C. and vicinity... approve and endorse the proposal that Highlander Folk School be used for the purpose of establishing a defense training center for southern union members and union leaders."

Francis B. Ertel, Representative, American Federation of Hosiery Workers
High Point, N.C.

"I think it would be fine if the Highlander Folk School could be utilized in the way you suggest."

Ralph Hetzel, Director Economic Division CIO.

"Highlander Folk School has applied to your board for an opportunity to aid in the defense program... I have attended this school and wish hereby to express my commendation of their methods; and my confidence that any part you would give Highlander looking towards enlisting the full cooperation of organized labor in these times of peril will be faithfully and ably carried out."

Thelma Hunter (former Highlander student)
Boot and Shoe Workers, Local #181
Lynchburg, Va.

"I think that this constitutes a most sound and constructive plan and that its success should contribute much towards our nation's defense efforts."

John L. Lewis, President
United Line Workers of America.

"We take pleasure in endorsing the Highlander Folk School of Lentagle, Tennessee, as a defense training center for southern union members."

William Litch, Southern Director, SJOC, Pros. Dist. 23, ULNA
Yelverton Cowhard, Regional CIO Director

"I am referring your letter to Mr. John Brophy...a member of the Labor Advisory Committee of the Office of Civilian Defense, for his attention and consideration."

Philip Murray, President
CIO.

"It has been brought to the attention of the New Orleans Industrial Union Council, composed of some 38 local unions, representing a membership of some 25,000 that the Highlander Folk School has made a proposal to offer its facilities as a training center for trade union people in Civilian Defense work... We feel that it would be to the advantage of the Office of Civilian Defense to avail itself of this opportunity offered by Highlander."

New Orleans Industrial Union Council
T. A. Russell, Chairman

"A civilian defense center at Highlander would be of great value, not only for the union members but for the working people in general."

Telesforo Oviedo, Secretary
Spinach Workers Union, Local #87, UGMA, CIO
Lathis, Texas.

"The local union expressed whole-hearted approval of the program outlined" and requested "that a defense training center for southern union members be established at Highlander" by the OCD.

Helissa Poarce, Recording Secretary
Textile Workers Union of America, Local #152
Danville, Virginia.

"I have discussed this plan with various representative groups and it is our opinion that this plan provides an unusual opportunity to utilize leaders in the trade union movement to the fullest extent, in the important work of Civilian Defense."

F. C. Pipher, Regional Director CIO
New Orleans, La.

"I shall discuss this matter with Mr. Watt and Mr. Brophy at the first opportunity."

J. R. Steelman, Director
U.S. Conciliation Service.

"I think your suggestion made to Mr. James Landis for the training of union members in the prevention of sabotage, improvement of morale, and methods of increasing production, is a very constructive one and I hope it can be carried out."

Jerry Voorhis, Congressman.

Other publications obtained were a report of the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Highlander Folk School on January 11, 1942 and an announcement of the tenth anniversary to be held at Montecello on September 12 and 13, 1942. This announcement stated that individuals can help by enrolling "friends of Highlander" and raising money for the alumni fund; for membership cards write

HERM SCHMIDT, alumni secretary, Alumni Association, 129 Russell Street, Covington, Kentucky, or EARL STENZEL, Highlander Folk School.

The report of the Executive Committee has been summarized and furnished to the Bureau in letter dated January 28, 1942 at Knoxville, Tennessee. Copies of the March issue of the "Highlander Fling" have already been furnished to the Bureau. However, for the benefit of the other Field Divisions, the statement of the purpose, program, and policy of the school is being set forth, as well as the 1942 schedule of the school:

"Statement of Purpose, Program, and Policy"

The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in the defense and expansion of political and economic democracy.

Since unions are basic to the achievement of democracy, the strengthening of unions through education is the school's primary task.

The program is determined by the needs and policies of the unions from which the students are sent and with which the school works. These needs are served through resident classes, conferences, extension work, and recreational activities.

In the community in which it is located the school functions as a rural settlement house, providing social, educational, and recreational services.

The school's influence is southwide; its program trains southern rural and industrial leaders for a democratic society.

The school is cooperatively owned and managed by the teaching staff. It is affiliated with no group or organization. Its policies are wholly determined by an executive council composed of outstanding southern labor leaders, educators and members of the staff.

Financial support of the school comes from small contributions by friends and members of the labor movement throughout the country."
"1942 Schedule

Special Terms:
District 50, UMW - Mar. 30 to April 12.
U.L.7-CIO school for southern members (date not set).

Regular Sessions:
Writers Workshop - June 15 - June 27.
Work Camp or Junior Union Camp in July.
Summer Term, August 3 - September 13.
Tenth Anniversary Celebration - September 12 and 13."

It was also noted that in the alumni notes is a statement "Bob Hall is an official of the A. F. of L. Building Trades Council of Lexington, Kentucky." It is believed that the Bob Hall mentioned is possibly identical with ROBERT HALL, secretary of the Communist Party at Birmingham, Alabama.

It will be noted from Knoxville letter dated December 30, 1941 that the Bureau was advised that [name] was using the name of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in speeches as working with him as corroborating the evidence obtained by the Grundy County Crusaders that the Highlander Folk School was Communist and that in view of it was felt that any further association with [name] would be embarrassing and that, therefore, no further contact would be made with him in the investigation of the Highlander Folk School.

In view of the fact of the extensive investigation conducted by Special Agent [redacted] in the vicinity of Monteagle concerning the thirty-two affidavits obtained by [redacted] and in view of the fact that it is impossible to conduct an investigation in Monteagle and Tracy City, Tennessee without the knowledge of this investigation being brought to the attention of both [redacted] and [redacted], the undeveloped leads set out in reference report for the Knoxville Field Division at Monteagle and Tracy City are not being covered at this time.

It was noted in the annual report of the Highlander Folk School for the year of 1941 that Miss LOUISE CONKLING had married after a year's service at the Highlander Folk School and had left the school in October, 1941; that she married DURWARD McDANIEL, a student of the Writers Workshop and summer term, 1941, and a law student of the University of Oklahoma; that Mr. McDANIEL has been named as secretary at Highlander and will assume his duties in February, 1942.

station WDAD, at Chattanooga, Tennessee, advised that the records of that station contain no information concerning the thirty-minute radio broadcast to England made by the Highlander Folk School in the winter of 1941, but that she remembers this broadcast as being a thirty-minute sustaining program broadcast under the direction of the Columbia Broadcasting System through Columbia station WBZ at Charlotte, North Carolina; that she remembers this broadcast as consisting of folk songs and talks.
by mountaineers in the vicinity of Monteagle, Tennessee. She stated that she is certain that the broadcast contained no speeches of an un-American or subversive nature; that Columbia Broadcasting System at 185 Madison Avenue, New York City, could furnish fuller information about the sponsors of this program.

Paul R. Christopher, executive secretary of the Tennessee Industrial Union Council and member of the Executive Committee of the Highlander Folk School, has never been reported by any of the confidential informants of the Knoxville Field Division to be affiliated with or a member of the Communist Party. The files of concerning his investigation of the Highlander Folk School have been photographed. As information contained therein will be retained as an exhibit in this case, it is believed unnecessary to set out this information in a report. As this report is not being furnished to all Field Offices, the uncovered and developed leads set out in reference report are not being restated.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

THE BIRMINGHAM FIELD DIVISION:

At Birmingham, Alabama, will at the DuBoise Publishing Company, Printers & Publishers, 1020 North 3rd Avenue, obtain all available publications printed for the Highlander Folk School making a particular effort to obtain back issues of the publication known as the "Highlander Fling". Any copies obtained should be forwarded to the Knoxville Field Division, where the information may be noted, before being sent to the Bureau.

THE LOUISVILLE FIELD DIVISION:

At Lexington, Kentucky, will ascertain whether BOB HALL, mentioned in the March issue of the "Highlander Fling" as an official of the A. F. of L. Building Trades Council at Lexington, is identical with ROBERT HALL, secretary of the Communist Party at Birmingham.

THE KNOXVILLE FIELD DIVISION:

At Lonteagle, Tennessee, will recontact concerning future activities of the Highlander Folk School and obtain any further publications of the Highlander Folk School which he may have in his possession.

At Sewanee, Tennessee, will recontact concerning future activities of the Highlander Folk School.

At Chattanooga, Tennessee, will recontact concerning any future activities of the Highlander Folk School.

At Knoxville, Tennessee.

Highlander Folk School 1941. She furnished information relative to her employment and the Highlander Folk School.

REFERENCE:
Report of Special Agent at Knoxville, Tennessee dated December 30, 1941.

(Detroit files 100-2573)

She advised that she left to go to Monticello, Tennessee, Highlander Folk School. She continued, furnishing the following information:

As she wanted to leave Flint as the position there did not pay enough for her to stay at the school and found that there was no future in the work.

believed the school was wonderful and liked it there very much but was of the opinion that the school was very rare. According to the teachers at the school were very well educated but the students were the children of union members from the factories in the south who were taught courses on how to train factory workers in unionism, the courses taught being Labor Study, Labor Economics, and Union Organizing. The school is supported largely by contributions from individuals rather than by contributions from labor organizations, one of the contributors being FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT who each year contributed $100.00.

feels that she was not well adapted to the type of work which she had to do at the school although she felt that she had received considerable experience from the position. According to a group of Grundy County crusaders have attempted to brand the school as Communist, the President of this group being the President of the bank at Tracy City, Tennessee. No colored students are allowed in the school as the community will not permit them to attend.

According to the school was originally founded by a Mrs. JOHNSON, a former school teacher whose home was in Tennessee. stated Mrs. JOHNSON founded the school for the purpose of promoting conditions favorable to farm people; that for most of the year the school directs its activities towards assisting the community folk; and that in addition to this the school has two sessions of about one month each, one in the spring and one in the fall. At these sessions there are approximately 30 students who are taught Unionism along the lines previously mentioned, there being both male and female students. The male students stay in one cabin and the female students stay in another cabin. The school ordinarily refuses northern students as it was organized for the purpose of assisting the people in the south.

The social life of the school, according to ..., consists largely of Saturday night square dances which are attended by members of the student body and persons in the community. ... advises that she is not union-minded herself but that the school is progressive in the labor movement but certainly not Communist. She advised that the records of the school are open for inspection to anyone at any time. This interview was conducted under a pretext so that ... would not be advised of the purpose of its investigation.

DETAILS:

This report reflects information received from publications received from the Highlander Folk School, and information obtained from Myles Horton, Director of the School. The following topics will be covered: Activities of the Washington Committee of the Highlander Folk School, Highlander Folk School and the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, Highlander Folk School participation in the Tennessee State CIO Convention, Report of the New Orleans Extension Program made by Mary Lawrence, Extension Director for the Highlander Folk School; New staff members of the Highlander Folk School; Members of the School’s Executive Council; Past and contemplated school activities. There is also included a brief statement concerning Richard Gothe, former member of the Highlander Folk School staff who has been reported as a possible German sympathizer.

ACTIVITIES OF THE WASHINGTON COMMITTEE OF THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL:

The following information was obtained from a publication put out by the Highlander Folk School quoting newspaper articles appearing in the Washington Times Herald, the Washington News, and the Washington Star under date of May 11, 1942:

"The first big event in the celebration of Highlander’s Tenth Anniversary was a concert by Paul Robeson given at Riverside Stadium on May 10, 1942 sponsored by Highlander’s Washington Committee for benefit of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee. The concert had an underlying note of patriotism and contained such songs as ‘The Bill of Rights,’ a song of the Soviet Red Army and another from workers in a German concentration camp. Robeson sang in Russian, German, and Hebrew, as well as English. Washington sponsors for the Robeson concert included:

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Agnes H. Stone, Justice and Mrs. Stanley F. Reed, Mrs. Hugo L. Black, Mrs. Francis Biddle, Senator ABE Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Veling, Mr. James B. Chaytor, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, Mr. Clarence Pickett, Mr. Fred S. Walker, Dr. Frank P. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard D. Reilly, Mr. Harry Maverick, Mr. Walter Bruce Howe, Hon. Thomas H. Eliot, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fillihum, Mrs. Laura Noleod Bethune, Mrs. G. Neson Purcell, Mrs. Clark Foreign, Mrs. Charles Edward Rhett, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Durr, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Williams, Hon. J. Warren Ludden, Mr. Telford Taylor, Lieut. Barry Bingel, Mr. David E. Lilienthal, Miss Mildred Smith, Mrs. Egressive Hovater, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Straight.

Myles Horton, of the Highlander Folk School, advised that Malcolm Ross, former member of the Highlander Folk School, who is now a Publicity Director for the National Labor Relations Board, and Charlie Handy, who is engaged in the Research Department of the Butchers’ Union, Michael Straight, who is in the Washington Bureau of the New Republic, and
Rev. MULLIGAN, an Episcopalian minister residing at Alexandria, Virginia, were the most active members of the Washington Committee of the Highlander Folk School and should be given the most credit for the success of the concert. MYLES HORTON further advised that, since this is Highlander's tenth anniversary, an effort is being made by the school to obtain national sponsors, and in this connection letters have been written to many prominent political figures in Washington and throughout the country; that so far FRANK GRAHAM, Mrs. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, and JAMES CAREY have given oral consent to have their names used as sponsors for the school; that written consent has been obtained from ROGER B. LINDEN, President ANDERSON of Antioch College, GEORGE LAYTON of Vanderbilt University, Dr. LILLIAN JOHNSON and CARRIE MCWILLIAMS. MYLES HORTON expected to have an imposing list of celebrities to sponsor the school in the near future.

HORTON further advised that many of the sponsors of the school were not personally familiar with the school or members of the faculty, but gave their support to the school because they believed in the program as outlined by publications issued by the school.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL AND THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE:

The Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee for June, 1942 contains an article which states that at the third Conference for Human Welfare held in Nashville, Tennessee on April 19-21, 1942, JAMES DOMBROWSKI served as executive secretary and has been given a leave of absence and will continue with the conference throughout the year. The article further states that all of the school staff took part in the conference as panel leaders, office workers or delegates; that a large number of former students who were present at the conference as delegates met with the staff for dinner. Following the conference, some forty friends visited Highlander Folk School, among whom were RALPH TEPFERTELLER, CLARA FOREMAN of Washington, ETHEL CLYDE and EDITH FIELD of New York, and several carloads of Black Mountain and University of Oklahoma students. The present address of JAMES DOMBROWSKI as obtained from the Postmaster at Monteagle, Tennessee, is Room 202, Presbyterian Building, Nashville, Tennessee. It is believed that this is the present headquarters for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL PARTICIPATION IN THE TENNESSEE STATE CIO CONVENTION:

The following publication indicates that the Highlander Folk School was active at the Tennessee State CIO Convention held in Memphis, Tennessee June 12, 13, 1942:
"STATE CIO CONVENTION URGES ALL TENNESSEE UNIONS SEND STUDENTS TO HIGHLANDER
HIGHLANDER STUDENTS ARE CONVENTION LEADERS

School's Help Requested in Publicity Work and Education in the Field

The labor movement can derive great advantage from a school of its own. This was amply shown at the Tennessee State CIO Convention by the participation of Highlander students and by demands upon the school for help. Locals were urged to make full use of the school.

Theo Van Landingham, UAW #903 (summer '35) presided over the opening session of the convention in his capacity as President of the Memphis Industrial Union Council and had the rare privilege of introducing the Mayor of Memphis, a city which has long resisted the coming of the CIO. Matt Lynch, AFWI Director of the Tri-State Area, (summer '35 and President of the HFS Alumni Association) responded to the mayor's address. Matt and Van were also on the arrangements committee. Emil Willinetz, CIO Representative and Chairman of the Knoxville IUC (Fall '40) and Ed Blair, ACWA organizer (Fall '40) were Chairmen of committees. Ed and Matt were elected Vice Presidents of the State Council for the coming year.

Members of the school's Executive Council were very much in evidence - Fred Pieper, Regional Director from Louisiana, representing Allan Hoywood, Alton Lawrence, Hollis Reid, Miss Lucy Mason, Ed Callaghan, Matt Lynch, and Paul Christopher who was elected the new President of the State Council. The program of the school was discussed with James Carey, Secretary, CIO.

The following excerpt from the report of the Education Committee illustrates the growing realization of the use which the labor movement in Tennessee can make of the resident workers school right in the heart of the state:

"In addition to giving organized labor its rightful place in public education, unions should promote their own educational programs. Such educational programs are becoming increasingly important to hold our gains and to organize during a war situation. The labor movement in Tennessee should make full use of the resident workers school in Tennessee, the Highlander Folk School, and Southern School for Workers, sending members to attend the two and six weeks terms for intensive training, using the schools for institutes and conferences, and calling on the staff for extension programs in various cities."

The report of the publicity committee also called on locals to use Highlander's help in getting out circulars and pamphlets, and labor plays.

Highlander is ready to assume its increasing responsibilities and urges every local in Tennessee to follow out the policy laid by the convention, and send students to our summer term, August 3 - September 12, which has been especially planned to meet the new problems caused by the war."

REPORT OF THE NEW ORLEANS EXTENSION PROGRAM:

The following report was received from a confidential source:

"THE NEW ORLEANS EXTENSION PROGRAM
Mary Lawrance, Extension Director for Highlander Folk School

(For the information of Highlander's contributors and friends, we have asked Mary Lawrance to prepare the following brief report of the educational program conducted by her for the past year in New Orleans, working in conjunction with the New Orleans Industrial Union Council.)

The objective of the educational program in New Orleans was to take over the newly organized locals and help the organizers in servicing and educating the membership. The most successful results were had with the Reserve Sugar Local, because this approach was used. Several months intervened between the time of organization, and negotiation of a contract, which provided time to train officers and stewards to run their own union, and the rank and file to speak in meetings and follow the rules of meetings, and enabled the local to discuss and write its own contract. This local knew what it was fighting for; it is ready to swing behind its new contract and make it work.

The educational program was divided into four logical periods—although not intentionally. The first three months were spent mainly in the training of officers and committee men to do their jobs properly and to build their organization. The second period was devoted mainly to the stewards—training them to take up grievances and to build the union in their department. During the third session, emphasis was put on picking the unions in the greatest need of help, and running a program individually for each of them, with the assistance of the officers and stewards who had attended the earlier classes. The final session was an effort to train as many as possible of the rank and file in the fundamentals of unionism at general meetings, departmental meetings, stewards' meetings, executive board meetings, and so forth. It was felt important to activate more and more people as leadership was rapidly being drained off. Special emphasis was given the work of the steward, whose job has increased because of added responsibilities brought on by the war.

The work at New Orleans proved to me that an educational program with southern locals must be simple and practical. In other words, Union Problems and not Labor History; pamphlets and charts, not books and speeches. Because I could find no book on union problems simple and practical enough for my purpose, I wrote one, with advice from the CIO Regional Director entitled, "How to Build Your Union", which we at first mimeographed and later printed.

What was accomplished by the educational program? Presidents learned to conduct meetings speedily and interestingly according to the rules of parliamentary law; more members were taking the floor in meetings and expressing themselves intelligently; more members had an idea of what their contracts covered; stewards and committeemen learned how to streamline this business of taking up grievances and getting results; stewards came to realize the importance of their job of building the union in their department; an educational column (to be continued by Highlander Folk School) appeared in the new labor paper, NEW ORLEANS NEWS DIGEST; some few of the better members began to vision the importance and possibilities of the labor movement beyond their own local union.

Much of the success of the program was the result of the working relationship with Highlander Folk School. I returned to the school for each term bringing four or five of the likeliest candidates for leadership up for intensive training. Two of these students who attended Highlander's summer term are now back in New Orleans working as organizers. During the summer term, the CIO Regional Director from New Orleans and several of the organizers helped lead a week-end conference on Negotiating and other union problems at the school."

NEW STAFF MEMBERS OF THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL:

On March 11, 1942 a letter was received from the Highlander Folk School showing the following persons as members of the staff as of that date: WILLIAM BUTTRICK, JAMES DOLBROWSKI, MILES HORTON, ZILPHIA HORTON, MARY LAWRENCE, DUNWAD K. McDaniel, LOUISE McDaniel, MARIA STENZEL, LEON TILSON. The Highlander Filing of June, 1942 indicates that the following changes have been made: WILLIAM BUTTRICK and JAMES DOLBROWSKI should be deleted from the staff, BUTTRICK having died at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville, Tennessee on April 15, and JAMES DOLBROWSKI having been given a leave of absence for the coming year. The following additions should be made: CAROLINE FINKELSTEIN, graduate of Smith College, 1941, joined the staff as office secretary in April, 1942. DOROTHY KASIS, Antioch College student, is working at the Highlander Folk School as office secretary as a part of her college training.
MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL'S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL:

The present members of the school's executive council are: E. S. CALLAGHAN, Southern Director of American Federation of Hosiery Workers; BERNARD BORAH, Southern Director of District 30, UAW; PAUL CHRISTOPHER, President of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council; F. C. PIEPER, Louisiana CIO Regional Director; JOE DOBBS, Chattanooga Central Labor Union; MATT LYNCH, Tri-State Director, ALW; ALTON LAWRENCE, Regional Director, Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers; LUCY MOSSON, Public Relations representative of the CIO; HOLLIS REID, Legislative representative of the Railroad Brotherhood; LEWIS JONES, Fisk University; GEORGE MAYHEW, Vanderbilt University. It will be noted that F. C. PIEPER, HOLLIS REID, LEWIS JONES, and GEORGE MAYHEW are new members, while the former members, ALBERT BARNETT, Professor of Old Testament Literature, Searritt College, GEORGE TILDER, Secretary of District 19, UAW, and RAY REYNOLDS, President of the Chattanooga Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union, have been dropped from the council.

PAST AND CONTEMPLATED SCHOOL ACTIVITIES:

The Highlander Folk School has carried on comparatively few activities during the spring and early summer of 1942. A Junior Camp was held at the school from June 1 to June 7, 1942 which was attended by workers' children, age eight to fifteen, cost to the camper three dollars. The camp was under the supervision of MARGARET BRYAN and ZILPHA HORTON, who were assisted by MARIA STENZEL, LEON WILSON, CAROL FINKELSTEIN, and BILL ELKUSS. The program included indoor and outdoor recreation, hiking, folk dancing, singing, dramatics, art and crafts. The camp was designed to encourage the physical, personal and group development of workers' children and to help make unionism a more effective part of family and community life. The majority of the campers were from Grundy County, Tennessee. Representation was about equally divided between AF of L, CIO, and farm families.

The Writer's Workshop was held at the school from June 15 to June 27, 1942. At the present time, no information is available concerning the activity carried on at this period. Previous Writer Workshops have been under the direction of LEON WILSON, at which time various writers, editors, college professors have instructed a small number of students from Southern states in the technique of writing fiction and discussing the South as source material for contemporary articles. Future activities as outlined in the schedule published in the Highlander Flieg indicate that a second Junior Union Camp will be held at the school from July 5 to July 12; that a summer term for workers will be held from August 3 to September 13; that a special two-weeks term will be given from September 1 to September 13, and that the tenth anniversary celebration and student reunion will be held at the school on September 12 and September 13. The Highlander Flieg states that the courses are planned to help the students carry out the daily job of running their organizations and to meet the new problems caused by the war. Special courses in labor problems in war time, new labor legislation and techniques of setting up educational programs have been added to the usual courses in public speaking, parliamentary law, union publicity, labor history, economics, current events, dramatics and singing. The Highlander Fling further states that the course should stress labor's part in winning the war as the theme for special emphasis. This should be taught under the various headings and sub-headings:

"1. Increasing Production
   WPB - Wartime Planning
   CIO Industry Plan
   Conversion Plans
   Labor-Management Committee
   AFL-CIO Victory Committee
   Labor Supply

2. Labor's Sacrifices
   The Right to Strike
   Doubletime
   WPB "Equality of Sacrifice" Function of WPB

3. Labor's Economic Problems
   OPA - Inflation
   Consumer Programs
   Taxation
   Priority Unemployment
   Housing

4. New Union Problems
   Organizing in War Time
   Training New Leadership
   Fighting Anti-Union Propaganda
   Training Skilled Workers

5. Winning the War
   Being Informed
   Building the Peace
   No Discrimination
   Civilian Defense

6. Planning for Action at Home
   Educational Programs
   Plant Committees
   Publicity Program"
KYLES HORTON, in a general conversation with the reporting agent, stated that the Highlander Folk School has obtained many of its ideas and progressive programs from MARK STARR, Educational Director of the International Labor Garment Workers Union, from GEORGE COUNTS, National President of the American Federation of Teachers, and from JOHN BENJ. although it is noted in previous reports that a great deal of the funds furnished to the Highlander Folk School came from Anaiajated Bank of New York, which is controlled by the ILGWU, KYLES HORTON denied that there was any strong connection between the Highlander Folk School and the ILGWU, and stated that, although the ILGWU backed the school as did many other affiliates of the CIO and AF of L, the school was not controlled by any one group.

HORTON further stated that at the present time the policy of the school and for labor organization activity in general was to get maximum production to aid the war effort. He further stated that in connection with this program, the school was advocating that all labor unions as a matter of right and duty should organize production committees and to meet with management and demand that all possible action be taken in order to secure maximum production. HORTON stated that to a certain extent this was a reversal of the previous program in which workers had been urged to organize for the protection of their own rights to secure higher wages, shorter working hours, better working conditions, and avoid unnecessary speed-up or stretch-out programs on the part of the management in connection with which the right to strike was vigorously advocated. HORTON advised that, although the Highlander Folk School had been constantly referred to as controlled by Communists and to have followed the Communist Party line, every effort had been made to conduct the school strictly along lines advocated by organized labor, and that any correspondence between the policies advocated by the Communist Party and those advocated by the Highlander Folk School were purely coincidental.

HORTON stated that, if the present policy of the school were carried out to a large extent that he expected to receive complaints in the future to the effect that the Highlander Folk School was advocating the control of industrial plants by production committees composed of labor which would in fact appear that the Folk School was advocating the establishment of manufacturing Soviets. HORTON further stated that he had tried unsuccessfully to have the Highlander Folk School accepted as a training ground for labor under the direction of the OCD; that recently he had been to Washington and spent one whole day speaking with Mr. DANIELS and other members of the OCD in an effort to promulgate his plan, but that he had received the answer that if labor were given representation in the OCD that those groups such as Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Kiwanis Club, manufacturers' associations, etc., would demand the same right and equal representation. HORTON further stated that in his trip to Washington he had talked with a member of the Department of Justice who was in the Civil Liberties Division, and had asked this person when the investigation of the Highlander Folk School would be completed. Mr. HORTON stated that the Department of Justice official had stated that the FBI, having received complaints that the Highlander Folk School was engaged in subversive activities, had of necessity conducted an investigation; that this investigation would probably continue as long as complaints concerning the school were received. The official further stated that no statement would be made concerning the Highlander Folk School that it had been investigated and found not to be engaged in subversive activities. HORTON then stated that, since the Highlander Folk School is being investigated, he would make every effort to cooperate with the FBI or any other investigative body who was seeking information. However, it was thought that a cross-examination of HORTON would not be appropriate at this time.

The reporting Agent noted that a great many magazines and recent publications, as well as posters which decorated the walls of the school, contained slogans that were extremely anti-Fascist and anti-Nazi, that everywhere democracy and war effort was stressed. HORTON further stated that in his conversation with the Departmental official, he advised that if the school continued to be investigated by the FBI, certain local groups, primarily the Grundy County Crusaders, would use this point to stir up activity and criticism of the school pointing to the fact that it must be subversive if it were investigated by the FBI. Mr. HORTON was advised by the member of the Department of Justice that, if any action were taken by such a group which infringed upon the civil rights and liberties of the Highlander Folk School or any members of its staff, he should immediately telephone Washington and a speedy investigation of such infringement of their rights and liberties would be speedily and thoroughly investigated.

It will be noted that, although the Grundy County Crusaders were very active in Monteagle at the time the school was being investigated by C. H. KILBY of the Consolidated Coal Company, since investigation has been taken over by the FBI, no complaints have been received that any mob action is contemplated against the school.

MYLES HORTON was questioned concerning RICHARD GOTHE, who was formerly a member of the staff of the Highlander Folk School. HORTON stated that he was not positive as to dates and circumstances, but that to the best of his knowledge, GOTHE was a German, was educated in Germany, came over to this country for a short time, returned to Germany, was active in the pre-Hitler German Work Camp program, that he returned to America in 1938, and was affiliated with the American Youth Commission, the International Student Service at 6 West Fortieth Street, New York City, with the NYA and with the Work Camp of America. HORTON stated that GOTHE had written a thesis entitled "Introduction to Work Camps" while he was working for the American Youth Commission; that as a result of this he had come to the Highlander Folk School highly recommended by the American Youth Commission and the International Student Service. HORTON stated that GOTHE had been affiliated with the Highlander Folk School in 1940; that during this time, he was very much opposed to Fascism and Nazism and at all times had leaned over backwards to express his disapproval of HITLER and HITLER program; that he had impressed him as being very democratic. HORTON stated, however, that GOTHE did not bear the sentiments out in his daily life and at times been very dictatorial in the setting up of his various work camps. HORTON stated that he had examined GOTHE's papers from the State Department, the Bureau of Immigration and the various credentials he had carried, indicating his activities from 1938 to 1940; that all of these had been in perfect order. HORTON stated that GOTHE, after leaving the Highlander Folk School, had taught sociology one year at Black Mountain College in North Carolina in 1941; that the last he had heard of GOTHE was that he was somewhere on the West Coast. HORTON further advised that GOTHE had been a machinist in Germany; that he believed his wife was still living in Germany.

5,000 Hear Paul Robeson In Folk Songs
Program Includes Foreign Compositions

By GLENN DILLARD GUNN

Five thousand music lovers gathered in the Riverside Stadium last night to hear Paul Robeson in a program of folk songs.

For many years it has been the practice of this great artist to limit his recitals to the songs of his own race. Having the greatest voice of the present in point of solemnity and a gift for the lyric address that is notably eloquent, Robeson has done his share to make this simple and moving art loved by all the peoples of the world.

Washington sponsors for the Robeson concert included: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Agnes H. Stone, Justice and Mrs. Stanley F. Reed, Mrs. Hugo L. Black, Mrs. Francis Biddle, Senator Abe Murrack, Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Keating, Mr. James B. Carey, Mrs. and Mrs. LeRoy Packer, Mr. Clarence Fickett, Mr. Fred C. Walker, Dr. Frank P. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Gerold D. Reilly, Mr. Maury Maverick, Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe, Honorable Thomas H. Eilts, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Filman, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Mrs. Gannon Purcell, Mrs. Clark Foreman, Mrs. Charles Edward Rhettas, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Durr, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Williams, Honorable J. Warren Madden, Mr. Telford Taylor, Lieut. Barry Bingham, Mr. David E. Millenthal, Miss Hilda Smith, Mrs. Decca Rommly, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Straight.

Robeson's Great in Riverside
Benefit Show

That was more than a recital last night at Riverside Stadium last night. It was a revival meeting, a country hoe-down and a Basin-st blues session all rolled up in one.

Paul Robeson not only gave magnificently of his talents, but also acted as master of ceremonies for a trio of Negro folk artists. The whole thing was a benefit for the Highlander Folk School, Monticello, Tenn.

Robeson sang gently and beautifully the folk songs of his own race and other people, but it was when he slipped into the role of the artist that the audience became rapt.

Fiercely, savagely, he sang songs of the southern Negro, the Chinese soldier, the legions of besieged Madrid, the German of the concentration camp, the Red Army—each in English first, then in its native tongue. Rescapable of course, he ended once with "Old Man River," again with "Tain't Necessary Go" from Porgy and Bess. Accompanist was William Brown, who added his voice to his own arrangements of "Rocky Saw de Wheel" and "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho."

For the three lesser artists who shared the stage with him, it was a night of nights. And well they told it up their end of the show.

Boudle Leadbetter, who seems to have no mean personal following of his own, drew the most enthusiastic response, including a bit of community singing, with his work songs, ballads and blues. A 12-string guitar with voice to match were his instruments. Blind Saunders Terry made a 30-cent harmonica do incredible things and was ably assisted by Brownie McOss from Tennessee and his guitar. All three gagged up in an extra-special jam session before they went home.

It was a big night for a big man and for the people's pride to fight for.

Paul Robeson
Concert Has Homey Touch
Concert Repertoire Is Laid Aside for Old Folk Tunes

BY ALICE EVERSMAN

Paul Robeson, famous Negro baritone, packed Riverside Stadium last night in the benefit concert given for the Highlander Folk School at Monticello, Tenn. Mr. Robeson and his audience always have a friendly relationship and the artist talked to them last night as if he were singing as if it all were a homey gathering. Discussing the program were Boudle Leadbetter with his guitar, Saunders Terry and Brownie McOss.

As originally announced, Mr. Robeson's program was to have consisted of arias and songs from his concert repertoire in addition to groups of spirituals. As it turned out, however, it was program both by Mr. Robeson and the other performers. Yet his numbers had more significance as they represented the oppressed people of the world as well as the principal nations now struggling for liberty in the war.

Russian Folk Song

In the first group he placed the Russian folk song, "Night" arranged by Alexandre. For the English folk song "Oh, No, John," together the Burleigh arrangement of "Jericho," and "Water Boy." Later he sang Mendelssohn's "Lord God of Abraham," Parry's "Jericho," with the words of the last line changed by Mr. Robeson to apply to this country, and Engel's "Chvalid Disht." The final numbers were Ross' "Tennessee Valley," "Bing and Whirlie" and "Joshua Fight de Battle of Jericho." arranged by his accompanist, Lawrence Brown, and Burleigh's arrangement of "I'll Be Underfoot."

A note of patriotism underlay Mr. Robeson's talk about these songs and was carried out further in his encore which consisted of a stirring setting of "The Ballad of Right," a song of the Soviet Red Army soldiers, and another from workers in German concentration camp. With his great dramatic ability, Mr. Robeson aroused his audience to cheers and wild applause.

Voice For America

His magnificent voice with its organ-like quality and resonant depth filled the large arena assisted little by the amplification system which was not clear or powerful. The genuine feeling which he put into the songs was doubly effective because of its naturalness and the strong personality of the artist. His versatility as a singer was demonstrated when he sang in Russian, German and Hebrew.
STATE CIO CONVENTION URGES ALL TENNESSEE UNIONS SEND STUDENTS TO HIGHLANDER

HIGHLANDER STUDENTS ARE CONVENTION LEADERS

School's Help Requested in Publicity Work and Education in the Field

The labor movement can derive great advantage from a school of its own. This was amply shown at the Tennessee State CIO Convention by the participation of Highlander students and by demands upon the school for help. Locals were urged to make full use of the school.

Theo Van Landingham, UAW #7903 (summer '41) presided over the opening session of the convention in his capacity as President of the Memphis Industrial Union Council and had the rare privilege of introducing the Mayor of Memphis, a city which has long resisted the coming of the CIO. Matt Lynch, AFNW Director of the Tri-State Area, (summer '35 and President of the HHS Alumni Association) responded to the mayor's address. Matt and Van were also on the arrangements committee. Emil Willimetz, CIO Representative and Chairman of the Knoxville IUC (Fall '40) and Ed Blair, ACWA organizer (Fall '39) were Chairman of committees. Ed and Matt were elected Vice Presidents of the State Council for the coming year.

Members of the school's Executive Council were very much in evidence - Fred Pieper, Regional Director from Louisiana, representing Allan Heywood, Alton Lawrence, Hollis Reid, Kiss Luey Mason, Ed Callaghan, Matt Lynch, and Paul Christopher who was elected the new President of the State Council. The program of the school was discussed with James Carey, Secretary, CIO.

The following excerpt from the report of the Education Committee illustrates the growing realization of the use which the labor movement in Tennessee can make of the resident workers school right in the heart of the state:

"In addition to giving organized labor its rightful place in public education, unions should promote their own educational programs. Such educational programs are becoming increasingly important to hold our gains and to organize during a war situation. The labor movement in Tennessee should make full use of the resident workers school in Tennessee, the Highlander Folk School, and Southern School for Workers, sending members to attend the two and six weeks terms for intensive training, using the schools for institutes and conferences, and calling on the staff for extension programs in various cities."

...report of the publicity committee also called on locals to use Highlander's help in getting out circulars and pamphlets, and labor plays.

Highlander is ready to assume its increasing responsibilities and urges every local in Tennessee to follow out the policy laid by the convention, and send students to our summer term, August 3 - September 12, which has been especially planned to meet the new problems caused by the war.

ENCLOSURE
Highlander is holding its third JUNIOR CAMP from June 1st - 7th.

The program will include:
- indoor and outdoor recreation
- hiking
- folk dancing
- singing
- dramatics
- arts and crafts

The camp will be under the supervision of Margaret Bryan and Zilphia Horton. They will be assisted by Maria Stenzel, Leon Wilson, Carolyn Finkelstein and Bill Elkuss of the Highlander staff. All have had experience in working with children. The different activities of the program have been carefully worked out to provide the maximum of healthy outdoor activity with nourishing food and ample rest. There will be a trained nurse available at all times.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO ATTEND? Children of workers - children 8 to 15.

COST OF THE CAMP. The entire cost to the camper will be $3.

WHAT TO BRING. Campers should bring comfortable clothing, heavy shoes, swimming suits. Those who have whittling knives are urged to bring them for use in the craft classes.

Betty Jean Sargent and Claudera Williams, two of last summer’s campers, say:

"This camp is a nice place, but the days are just zip, zip, zippin' by. I thought they'd go slow, but they just whizz by. I like to folk dance best, and then swimming and baseball. "I like the campfires and hikes. And I like the singing. I like what they say—the words."
ROBESON SINGS FOR HIGHLANDER

Paul Robeson's benefit concert in Washington, May 11, was the first major event celebrating Highlander's Tenth Anniversary Year. The concert was sponsored by the school's Washington Committee, of which Malcolm Ross is chairman, and a notable list of friends including Mrs. Roosevelt.

Some four or five thousand people filled the Riverside Stadium to hear the famous Negro baritone sing for the school. "Robeson," said the Washington News, "sang gently and beautifully the folk songs of his own and other people, but it was when he slipped into the role he carries in the song of the oppressed—that he evinced his strength. It was a night for a big man and for the people's pride to fight for."

Assisting on the program were Howie Leadbetter and Brownie McCall with guitars, and Saunders Terry, blind harmonica player. Robeson was accompanied on the piano by Lawrence Brown.

Sponsors of the concert were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Agnes M. Lunsford, Justice, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Reed. Mr. Hugo L. Black, Mr. Freda Blum, Senator Abe Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keating, Mr. James B. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, Mr. Clarence Pickett, Mr. Fred S. Walker, Dr. Frank P. Southern Conference For Human Welfare

"The South's Part in Winning the War for Democracy" was the theme of the third Southern Conference for Human Welfare, held in Nashville April 19-21. James Dombrowski served as executive secretary. He has been given a leave of absence and will continue with the Conference throughout the year.

All the school staff took part in the Conference as panel leaders, office workers, or delegates. A large number of former students, present as delegates, met with the staff for dinner. Highlander songs were sung and exciting experiences were exchanged.

Following the Conference some forty friends visited the school. Among those who square-danced to Uncle Willie Markow's fiddling and Ralph Tefferteller's calling were Clark Foreman of Washington, Ethel Clyde and Edith Field of New York, and several carloads of Black Mountain and University of Oklahoma students.

Clark Foreman is the new chairman of the Southern Conference.

A. F. L. Convention

The Highlander Teachers Union (Local 261) was represented at the Tennessee State Convention of the American Federation of Labor meeting in Chattanooga, June 1-2. Myles Horton was the delegate. The teachers' local is affiliated with Chattanooga Central Labor Union.

New Staff Members

Durward and Louise McDaniel joined the staff in February. Durward, our Executive Secretary came from Norman, Oklahoma, and Louise from Chattanooga. Both are Highlander alumni. Carolyn Finkelstein, Smith College, '41, joined the staff as office secretary in April.

Dorothy Hasse, Antioch College student, put in her ten weeks' work in an Executive Secretary office in May.

A COOPERATIVE VENTURE

You, as a part of Highlander, should know exactly how the school is run. It is a cooperative venture. The staff cooperatively owns the property, cooperatively carries out the program planned by the Executive Council, which consists of a staff and eleven labor, student public representatives. They elect the chairman, or co-chairman. The Executive Council assumes the responsibilities of the school and takes part in running it.

There is an old mountain song, "It takes卅 days to make a mouse." In a real sense, the contributors to Highlander are the cooperative union school's fund and its contributors to the school's activities. It is a matter of pride to Highlander that it is a school for people and to improve our educational program. Your interest in our school, your support of our students, and your unselfishness will grow with the years.

New H. F. S. Publication

A 27-page mimeographed pamphlet describing the methods of a year's educational program in New Orleans has been published by the school.

P. C. Pieper, CIO Regional Director in Louisiana, under whose direction the program was conducted, has written the introduction. The pamphlet is filled with timely and useful ideas for local unions to launch educational programs. The pamphlet is available on request.

The pamphlet was written by Mildred Lawrance, Executive Director, and illustrated by Marii Siegel, the school's art teacher. It can be purchased for 15 by writing the school. Additional copies of the outline for class discussion on grievances and union building can be had for 6c.
SIX WEEKS SUMMER TERM FOR SOUTHERN WORKERS

August 3 to September 13

Education

Labor's job at a labor school is to acquaint students with facts of labor movement which will help solve their union problems. You need much regular schooling or fancy clothes to attend—just a good sound in organization.

Courses

The courses this term are planned to meet the daily job of running our organizations and to meet the new problems caused by the war. Special union or labor problems in war time, new labor legislation, and techniques of teaching and setting up educational programs have been added to the usual courses in public speaking, parliamentary law, union ability, labor history, economics, current events, dramatics and singing.

"LABOR'S PART IN WINNING THE WAR"

Theme for Special Emphasis
1. Increasing Production
   WPB—Wartime Planning
   CIO Industry Plan
   Conversion Plans
   Labor-Management Committee
   AFL-CIO Victory Committee
   Labor Supply
2. Labor's Sacrifices
   The Right to Strike
   Doubletime
   UAW "Equality of Sacrifice"
   Function of WLB
3. Labor's Economic Problems
   OPA—Inflation
   Consumer Programs
   Taxation
   Priority Unemployment
   Housing
4. New Union Problems
   Organizing in War Time
   Training New Leadership
   Fighting Anti-Union Propaganda
   Training Skilled Workers
5. Winning the War
   Being Informed
   Building the Peace
   No Discrimination
   Citizen Defense
6. Planning for Action at Home
   Educational Programs
   Plant Committees
   Publicity Program

Backings of Labor

Highlander is endorsed by leading labor unions. Many union leaders and government officials are scheduled to help lead discussions on the special theme of the term. Special assistance is given by the members of the school's Executive Council:

E. S. Callaghan, Southern Director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers;
Bernard Borah, Southern Director, District 50, UMWA;
Paul Cristopher, President Tennessee State Industrial Union Council;
F. C. Pieper, Louisiana CIO Regional Director;
Joe Dobbs, Chattanooga Central Labor Union;
Matt Lynch, TriState Director, AFHW;
Alton Lawrence, Regional Director, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers;
Lucy Mason, Public Relations Representative, CIO;
Hollia Reid, Legislative Representative, Railroad Brotherhoods;
Lewis Jones, Fisk University;
George Mayhew, Varderbilt University.

Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee
Dear Friend;

Highlander is celebrating its tenth anniversary with an enlarged program geared to the new problems growing out of the war. The demands for our services are greater than at any other time in our history. The effectiveness with which we meet these urgent demands depends upon you.

The school has an experienced staff and the active cooperation of an executive council composed of representatives of all branches of organized labor. We have a plant and 200 acres of land free from indebtedness. The expenditures for running the school have never exceeded our income, although last year it was necessary to use up our small reserve to balance the budget. This means that we must find new contributors in 1942 even to raise the equivalent of last year's income. Yet we need to enlarge our budget to meet the increased demands for our services.

The future of the school is bright. Friends of Highlander are rallying to our support, as can be seen by the enclosed press clippings on the Robeson concert in Washington. There is a special reason for urging you to help us at this time. Jim Dombrowski, who has been in charge of fund raising for the last eight years, has been given a year's leave of absence to serve as secretary for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which is doing a very important job in the South.

We know that you would rather have the Highlander staff spending its time in carrying out the school's program than in raising the budget. Accordingly, there are two ways in which you can be of great help: first, by making a special contribution immediately of at least $1.00; second, by sending us a list of names of people who might contribute, and telling us if we may use your name in asking for contributions.

Sincerely yours,

Mylus Horton

THE NEW ORLEANS EXTENSION PROGRAM
Mary Lawrance, Extension Director for Highlander Folk School

The objective of the educational program in New Orleans was to take over the newly organised locals and help the organizers in servicing and educating the membership. The most successful results were had with the Reserve Sugar Local, because this approach was used. Several months intervened between the time of organization, and negotiation of a contract, which provided time to train officers and stewards to run their own union, and the rank and file to speak in meetings and follow the rules of meetings, and enabled the local to discuss and write its own contract. This local knew what it was fighting for; it is ready to swing behind its new contract and make it work.

The educational program was divided into four logical periods--although not intentionally. The first three months were spent mainly in the training of officers and committeemen to do their jobs properly and to build their organization. The second period was devoted mainly to the stewards--training them to take up grievances and to build the union in their department. During the third session, emphasis was put on picking the unions in the greatest need of help, and running a program individually for each of them, with the assistance of the officers and stewards who had attended the earlier classes. The final session was an effort to train as many as possible of the rank and file in the fundamentals of unionism at general meetings, departmental meetings, stewards' meetings, board meetings and so forth. It was felt important to
It seems as though New Deal officials have the happy habit of selecting radical spots as a place to create a sounding board to expound their theories. This time they are cooperating with this well known radical school for a 6 weeks course from August 3 to September 12. The purpose is to decide on Labor's part in winning the war against Fascism.

This short course will have as instructors government and union officials.

The OPA will be represented by Prof. R.R.R. Brooks and Edith Christenson. T.F. Burns will represent the WFB. Edwin S. Smith, national director of the Oil Workers Organizing Campaign (CIO), Editor Len deCaux of the CIO News and Robert L. Cruden of the United Rubber Workers (CIO) will be among labor's lecturers.

Applications may be made to Myles Horton, director of the school, Monteagle, Tenn.

The Highlander Folk School which is located on the highway between Monteagle, Tennessee, and Tracy City, Tennessee, was founded on a plot of land donated by LILLIAN JOHNSON, Ph. D., in 1932. Mr. JOHNSON came to Monteagle in the early 1920's at which time she showed a great deal of interest in the community of Summerfield, Tennessee, which is located very near Monteagle, especially in the school system and the public health of the community. She was elected to the County Board of Education and soon became chairman of that board. She was very much interested in the Women's Christian Temperance Union and attempted to help the underprivileged class of people who resided in Grundy County.

To this end she donated the tract of land which is now used by the Highlander Folk School. The two people she chose to establish the school were MILES HORTON and DON WEST. HORTON had been the State Chairman of the Socialist Committee in Tennessee for the campaign of 1932, while DON WEST was reported to openly state that he was a Communist.

On July 31, 1932, the Highlander Folk School took out a Charter of Incorporation under the Code of Tennessee of 1932. This charter states that the particular purpose for which this charter is sought was the support of the Highlander Folk School Adult Education, the training of rural and industrial leaders and general academic education. The charter is recorded in Book Number "MISCH", Page 111, in the Registrar's Office of Fentress County. The Incorporators were MILES HORTON, ELIZABETH HANES, JAMES DOMBROWSKI, RUPERT HAMPTON and MALCOLM CHILD.

Socialist Party of national prominence, such as: NORMAN THOMAS, BEURHOLD RUBUHR, STEWART CHASE, and KIRBY PAGE. It was also backed by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and the school has always drawn approximately one-third of its funds from the Amalgamated Bank of New York, which is owned and controlled by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

AIMS AND PURPOSES OF THE SCHOOL

In a pamphlet published by the Highlander Folk School it is stated that the school was founded "to provide an educational center in the South for the training of rural and industrial leaders and for the conservation and enrichment of the indigenous cultural values of the mountains." Activities of the school have been primarily in the education of labor organizers. The school conducts two six weeks' courses per year, known as the spring and fall terms. At these sessions, workers who have been selected by their various unions are given courses in history, economics, union publicity, parliamentary law and public speaking, dramatics, and are taught how to organize a union, conduct union meetings, present grievances, how to call and organize strikes, and to effectively bargain with employers.

The school also conducts a nursery for farm and workers' children and sponsors a lending library, conducts what is known as a writer's workshop, gives square dances, and endeavors to help and gain the confidence of the community surrounding the school. In this connection it has on occasions held rummage sales, aided in obtaining WPA sewing projects, and encouraged handicraft work in the community.

The Highlander Folk School also conducts an extension program by sending various members of its faculty to any union who asks for their services to help them put on a drive for new membership or to more effectively bargain for wage increases and better working conditions.

ATTACKS MADE ON THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

When the Highlander Folk School first moved to Monteagle, Tennessee, MILES HORTON and the rest of the Highlander Folk School staff were introduced to members of the community by Dr. LILLIAN JOHNSON, who asked that they help them in their endeavors. The Highlander Folk School staff for the most part are well educated individuals who seem to have a sincere desire to help the people of the South. In this connection they strongly followed the Socialist-Communist United Front Program of the early 1930's. Most of the literature passed out by the school at that time was of a Socialistic nature. In connection with their program, however, they soon developed a theory of using militant labor strikes in an effort to solidify the workers in a common cause and to impress upon them the necessity of organizing in order to gain the powers of numbers. In this connection the school issued pamphlets entitled, "Why We Need the Union." These pamphlets state that there is always a conflict between labor and capital and that what is good for the management and capital must of necessity be bad for labor.

Many of the strikes that were either called by or supported by members of the faculty of the Highlander Folk School in the 1930's were called on industries, which because of the depression were not in a position to accede to the labor's demand, and since the workers were in no position to lose their wages during a protracted strike their efforts were in many cases unsuccessful. Thus the Highlander Folk School gained the enmity of both the local community and the companies which they opposed.

The Highlander Folk School was also instrumental in organizing the Workers Alliance in Grundy County, which was later declared by its President and Secretary, DAVID LASSER and HERBERT BENJAMIN, to be controlled by the Communist Party. In connection with the Workers Alliance, MYLES HORTON, JAMES DOMBROWSKI, and the Highlander Folk School faculty encouraged the sit-down strike at Monteagle, Tennessee, in February of 1939. This strike was one of the factors which brought the growing resentment of the community to a head and which brought into prominence an organization known as the Grundy County Crusaders who bitterly opposed the school and made every effort to drive it from the community.

The Grundy County Crusaders were headed by C. H. KILBY, who acted in the capacity of secretary. The Highlander Folk School had already been under fire from the American Legion in Chattanooga and was opposed by ministers in the community as being a school which encouraged atheism, drunkenness, and immorality. Mr. KILBY, capitalizing on this ill feeling, secured various affidavits and resolutions from individuals and organizations who were willing to put themselves on record as denouncing the Highlander Folk School and amassed a great deal of material in an effort to secure legislative action in the state courts which would cause a revocation of the school charter and drive it from the community. To this end, resolutions were passed by the Sewanee Lodge Number 405 of the Free and Accepted Masons, by the Grundy County Educational Association, by the Bakers and Confectionery Workers Local Number 25, Tracy City, by various American Legion Posts, and by a local branch of the United Mine Workers located at Palmer, Tennessee.

Affidavits were obtained from twenty odd persons living in and near Monteagle who stated that they had attended the Highlander Folk School or been affected by the school in some way. These affidavits were for the most part concerned with statements made by HORTON or DOMBROWSKI to the effect that they were either Communists or favored the Russian form of government or advocated revolution. None of these statements, however, could definitely be placed to specific times nor corroborated by additional testimony. The statements also contained references to persons having observed either the hammer or sickle or a red flag at the school and being forced to give a Russian salute and sing Russian songs. An examination of these affidavits indicate that they were in all probability dictated by C.
K. KILBY and that the persons making them were irresponsible. The affidavits do, however, contain statements that BILL MARLOW and MYLES HORTON advocated and attempted to organize a local chapter of the Young Communist League.

In the early fall of 1939 JOHN MCDUGAL BURNS, a reporter for the Nashville Tennessean newspaper, visited the Highlander Folk School for approximately one week at which time he also talked with residents in the community in an effort to determine whether the school was Communist or Communist controlled. BURNS reported that: The Highlander Folk School is the center for spreading Communist doctrines in thirteen southeastern states; that connected with its leadership are persons who have either been charged with being Communists or who have been linked definitely with Moscow; its faculty spreads Communism, approves this Red doctrine, and sends its alumni into labor organizations where they maintain contact with their alma mater and spread its teachings over a wide area; holds conferences at the school between regular sessions where it teaches Communist theories to labor leaders and others; it has used Grundy County as a laboratory and organized the Workers Alliance, staged strikes, elected the county sheriff, and intends to gain control of the county school system; it is recognized by State Com-

A complete review of the articles written by BURNS inicates that he has no basis on which to base these conclusions unless he considers that the pressure brought by union leaders, Leftist intellectuals, and various radical labor factions who were organizing labor in the South and participating in the United Front Movement were all affiliated with the members of the Communist Party and that the entire United Front and labor programs were Communist doctrines.
The Highlander Folk School also applied for a $7,000 subsidy from the Federal government which had been granted by the government but was held up by Governor Cooper of Tennessee pending an investigation by Jack Scandlin, Inspector of the Tennessee Highway Patrol. Inspector Scandlin also reported that the Highlander Folk School was controlled by Communists and spreading Communist doctrines; however, he had no evidence to back his findings. Scandlin in his report placed a great deal of stress on immorality surrounding the school, stating that the students believed in free love and drank to excess.

The file of the Highlander Folk School also contains numerous newspaper clippings from the Chattanooga and Nashville papers which indicate that the school was to be investigated by the Dies Committee, however, there is no information in the file which would indicate the results of the Dies Committee's investigation if, in fact, one was made.

As a result of the consolidating of all these reports into the hands of the Grundy County Crusaders, together with material which was collected by them, there was a proposed march on the Highlander Folk School by the Crusaders at which time it was planned that the members of the faculty be forcibly ejected from the county. On November 13, 1940, a march on the Highlander Folk School was averted by holding a meeting of the representatives of the Grundy County Crusaders and members of the faculty in a session held at Sewanee University. At this time the Grundy County Crusaders hurled accusations at the Highlander Folk School, stating that it was a "hotbed of Communism." James Dombrowski, Highlander Folk School faculty, answered for the school and explained that the school was purely a labor school and stated that in the event that the Crusaders could prove the school was Communistic that it would immediately move from the county. The Grundy County Crusaders, however, were unable to produce any evidence which would indicate that the school was controlled by the Communist Party.

INDICATIONS OF COMMUNIST CONTROL OR INFLUENCE IN THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

CHARTER MEMBERS

The Highlander Folk School at its inception was founded by Charles Horton who was known to be a Socialist at that time and by Don West who had openly stated that he was a Communist. In the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated February 26, 1942, at Atlanta, Georgia, it is stated that West attended the Berry School at Rome, Georgia, and quit because he was not in sympathy with the school system. He later returned and endeavored to organize the students of the school in a strike because the school charged tuition and received help from Henry Ford, a capitalist.
WEST later attended Vanderbilt University and won a scholarship to study abroad and is reported to have extensively in Europe. In 1931, WEST was active in the Communist Party in Atlanta in connection with the Angelo Herndon case. WEST later founded and was a director in the Southern Folk School at Kennesaw, Georgia. WEST was reported by MICHAEL GOLD in an article which appeared in the Daily Worker to be a young mountaineer poet who became revolutionary and studied Marx and Lenin for the purpose of organizing negroes and white farmers in Georgia. WEST was also active in the Abraham Lincoln Brigades in Kentucky.

WEST returned to Georgia in November, 1940, where he spent a year as a congregational minister in Meansville, Georgia, resigning in September, 1941.

MALCOLM CHISHOLM, a charter member of the school, was killed fighting for the Spanish Loyalists. (Report of Special Agent 12-30-41 at Knoxville, Tennessee).

ZILLA HAWES alias Elizabeth Hawes, also a charter member of the Highlander Folk School, was known to be an organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and a member of the Socialist Party at the time she joined the staff of the school. She later married FRANZ DANIEL, also an organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and was a leader in many militant labor strikes, both in Tennessee and in North Carolina. This fact was substantiated by no other evidence or corroborated by no other statements.

JAMES DOMBROWSKI was also a charter member of the Highlander Folk School and a faculty member of the school until the Spring of 1942 when he resigned his position to become secretary for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare with headquarters at 202 Presbyterian Building, Nashville, Tennessee. Many of the affidavits which are on file in the Knoxville Field Division contain statements that DOMBROWSKI had expressed himself as being in sympathy with the Russian form of government, that he thought that revolution was inevitable, and that the capitalistic system should be overthrown.

DOMBROWSKI is reported to be imbued with a philosophy of saving mankind and has been particularly interested in helping southern labor and attempting to improve working and living conditions in the South. There is no indication that he would blindly follow the Communist Party lines or that he is influenced by any foreign power.

MYLES HORTON, a founder and present director of the Highlander Folk School, has stated that he was a Socialist, but he later forsook the Socialist Party to devote his interest to labor and has on many occasions professed an intense dislike for the Communists, stating that they infiltrate into labor unions and choke and strangle them by neglecting the primary interest of labor to further the ends of the Communist Party, and that the Communists also incur the wrath of politicians and law enforcement agencies and provide excuses for attacks on labor organizations.

MYLES HORTON has been very careful during his administration at the Highlander Folk School to keep Communist propaganda and Communist control from appearing in the school program.

Most of the labor leaders in Tennessee endorse the Highlander Folk School and state that it is through HORTON's influence that the Communists have been unsuccessful in their attempts to obtain control of the school.

The files of the Knoxville Field Division contain very little information concerning RUPERT HAMPTON, the remaining charter member of the school. The information that is available indicate that he was a radical labor leader, and was active in the school for only a short period of time.

OTHER FACULTY MEMBERS

WILLIAM BUTTRICK attended the College of the City of Nashville and Duke University, where he was known to be an extreme Liberal and very sympathetic toward the working class of people and the southern farmer. BUTTRICK was at one time a teacher in the Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas. There is no indication that he was a member of the Communist Party. BUTTRICK died at the Highlander Folk School in the early part of 1942.

LEON WILSON, librarian at the Highlander Folk School, although strongly backing the Highlander Folk School's program, has never been known to be a member of the Communist Party. WILSON recently expressed himself as being a conscientious objector to the present war.

MARY LAWRENCE, LOUISE PICHMAN and LOUISE CONKLING, office secretaries from Duke University, Passar College and Overland College, respectively, have never been known to be members of the Communist Party. Of these three MARY LAWRENCE was by far the most militant and has been actively engaged in many strikes in East Tennessee during one of which she was shot in the leg. She was also an active participant in the sit-down strike which was held by the workers who were members of the Workers Alliance at Tracy City in February of 1939.

ZILPHIA HORTON, wife of MYLES HORTON, spends most of her time in nursing schools and working with the women and children in Monteagle and the surrounding community in helping them in handicraft and doing research in folklore. Her beliefs mostly parallel those of her husband, MYLES BORTON.

CLAUDIA LEWIS, director of the Nursery School, has never been known to be a member of the Communist Party. JANE ALLEN, former secretary, Flint, Michigan, took a very small active part in the activities of the school and was not believed to be connected with the Communist Party. One of the most active members of the faculty in the 1930's was RALPH TAFFERTELLER who was reported to be a militant strike agitator and leader. Other members of the faculty served at the school for brief periods of time, consequently nothing was known about their activities, however, reports from other Field Divisions indicate that they are Liberals but not known to be Communists.

MEMBERS OF EXECUTIVE BOARD

The Executive Board of the Highlander Folk School for the years 1939 and 1940 was composed of ALBERT BARNETT, Professor of Old Testament literature at Scarritt College; Miss LUCY RANDOLPH MASON, Southern Publicity Representative of the CIO; EDWARD F. CALLAGHAN, Vice President of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers; GEORGE TITLER, Secretary, District 19, United Mine Workers; MAT LYNCH, Representative of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers; ROY REYNOLDS, President of Chattanooga Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union; ALTON LAWRENCE, Southern Representative of Labors Non-Partisan League; PAUL CHRISTOPHER, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee State Industrial Union Council; BERNARD BORAH, Southern Representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Of these members only ALTON LAWRENCE and BERNARD BORAH were considered to be affiliated with Communist activities. BORAH left the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and became an organizer for the United Mine Workers. In the recent break between JOHN L. LEWIS and the CIO, BORAH forsook the United Mine Workers of America and is presently receiving instructions for a commission in the U. S. Army.

ALTON LAWRENCE is now an organizer for the International Union of Mill, Mine and Smelter Workers. LAWRENCE is a close associate of ROBERT HALL, Secretary of the Communist Party for the State of Alabama, and recently introduced Communist resolutions and tried to exert Communist influence at the State Convention of the Tennessee State Industrial Council at Memphis, Tennessee.
Recent additions to the Executive Council are JOE DOBBS of the Chattanooga Central Labor Union, HOLLIS REID, Legislative Representative of the Railroad Brotherhood, LEWIS JONES of Fisk University, GEORGE MAYHEW, Vanderbilt University, and F. C. PIEPER, Louisiana CID Regional Director. Of these additions JOE DOBBS has been reported to be active in the Communist Party at Chattanooga for the past four or five years while the others are known to be Liberals but not known to be connected with the Communist Party.

SOURCE OF FUNDS

The school operates on a budget of approximately $12,000 per year of which one-third comes from the bank account maintained in the Amalgamated Bank of New York, the source of which is unknown but believed to be from various benefits and concerts sponsored by the Highlander Folk School in Washington and New York City. Another one-third is derived from various foundations and prominent educators and political leaders among which are the W. C. Whitney Foundation, Robert Marshal Foundation, John Hammond, WALTER FRANK, ELEANOR ROOSEVELT and MARY CRANE. The balance of the contributions comes from various Liberals, labor unions, front organizations, and persons interested in labor. Most of these latter donations are of $10 or less. The total number of contributors is approximately five hundred persons.

INDICATIONS OF COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN THE PROGRAM OF THE SCHOOL

A study of the program of the Highlander Folk School indicates that the school followed the Communist Party line to a certain degree. The school was organized at a time when the Communists and Socialists had a program for united front organizations for persons who were dissatisfied with the country's political and economic conditions. At the time that the Communist Party advocated the policy of the United Front Program, it is impossible to determine how much influence the Party exerted over the school.

The members of the Highlander Folk School staff strongly backed front organizations such as the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and the Tennessee Conference for Democracy, and individual members were active in Labor's Non-Partisan League, Southern Negro Youth Congress, and many other organizations. At this time the school was a meeting place for various persons who were employed by the Tennessee Valley Authority at Knoxville, Tennessee, and was frequently visited by such well-known Communists as ROBERT HALL of Birmingham, Alabama, and TED WELLMAN of Chattanooga, Tennessee. In Monteagle during this period there was formed a Young Communist League chapter.
WILLIAM MARLOW, an uneducated farmer in Monteagle, Tennessee, was an elector for EARL BROWDER in the Presidential campaign of 1936. The Workers Alliance was formed in Monteagle by the Highlander Folk School and the militant strike policy advocated by the Communists for the purpose of organizing labor was adopted by the school. It was during this period that JAMES DOMBROWSKI and MYLES HORTON were reported to have been seen with Young Communist League cards in their possession and to have made statements which would indicate their sympathy for the Russian form of government.

With the signing of the German-Russian Non-Aggression Pact when the Communist Party line shifted from collective preparedness to denouncing the war as imperialistic, there was little change in the program of the Highlander Folk School. JAMES DOMBROWSKI, however, was reported to have affiliated with the American League for Peace and Democracy, while MYLES HORTON denounced the war as imperialistic. The school at the present time is strongly backing the all-out war effort, but was not strongly advocating aid to Britain and Russia after the entry of Russia into the war but before war was declared by the United States.

Literature received by and distributed by the Highlander Folk School is a conglomeration of labor pamphlets and magazines, Socialist literature, and to some extent Communist literature. The Highlander Folk School has at no time passed out pamphlets of the Communist Party such as literature to free the Scottsboro Negroes, protested the deportation of Bridges, free EARL BROWDER, etc, but has contented itself with providing publications such as Soviet Power, Communist Manifesto, and literature which presents the broad picture of Communism rather than the smaller turnings of the Communist Party line.

ENDORSERS OF THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

The Highlander Folk School has been endorsed by Dr. GEORGE S. CLUNTS, President of the American Federation of Teachers; JOHN L. LEWIS, President of the United Mine Workers of America; JOHN DEWEY; MARK STARR, Educational Director of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union; WILLIAM TURBLAZER, Chairman, Tennessee Industrial Union Council; President of District 19, United Mine Workers; WILLIAM MITCH, Chairman, Alabama Industrial Union Council; Southern Director, Steel Workers Organizing Committee; EDWARD F. CALLAGHAN, Southern Director, American Federation of Hosiery Workers; PAUL R. CHRISTOPHER, Secretary, Tennessee Industrial Union Council; R. C. THOMAS, International President, United Automobile Workers; R. A. ZONARICH, International President, Aluminum Workers of America; PAUL RAGON, Chairman, Chattanooga Industrial Union Council; Representative, CIO, T. J. SMITH, Tennessee CIO Representative; W. H. CRAWFORD, Chairman, Birmingham Industrial Union Council, JOHN GREEN, National President, Industrial Union of Marine & Shipbuilding Workers of America, GEORGE BAILDANZI, Executive Vice-President, Textile Workers Union of America, HERBERT W. PAYNE, Director Rayon Division, Textile Workers Union of America, FRANZ DANIELS, National Organizer, Amalgamated Clothing Workers, PHILIP VAN GELDER, Secretary, Industrial Union of Marine & Shipbuilding Workers, FRANK ROSENBLUM, Vice-President, CIO; Organisational Director, ACWA, F. C. PIPER, Regional CIO Director, New Orleans, JOHN J. SCHULTER, Southern Director, United Retail & Wholesale Employees, REID ROBINSON, President, Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, E. L. SANDEFUR, N. C. & S. C. Director, CIO, NORMAN O. TWIST, International Representative, United Retail & Wholesale Employees, SHERMAN DAINYMPLE, National President, United Rubber Workers of America.

At a Highlander Folk School benefit given on December 19, 1940, the following prominent persons were listed as sponsors: Miss MARY ANDERSON, Secretary and Mrs. HAROLD ICKES, Hon. and Mrs. BENHAM BALDWIN, Dr. MORDECAI JOHNSON, Justice and Mrs. HUGO BLACK, Miss KATHY LEWIS, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN CARMODY, Mr. HOWELL MOOREHEAD, Hon. and Mrs. JOHN COFFEE, Mr. and Mrs. DUNCAN PHILLIPS, Hon. and Mrs. JOHN COLLIER, Mr. and Mrs. GIFFORD PINCHOT, Miss HILDA SMITH, Hon. and Mrs. LEE GEYER, Miss HILDA SMITH, Hon. and Mrs. LEO WELDON, Hon. and Mrs. JERRY VOORHIS.

At a concert by PAUL ROBESON presented at Riverside Stadium, Washington, D. C. on May 10, 1942, the following were listed as sponsors for the concert: Mrs. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Mrs. AGNES H. STONE, Senator ABE MURDOCK, Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD KEATING, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES B. CAREY, Mr. and Mrs. GIFFORD PINCHOT, Mr. CLARENCE PICKETT, Mr. FRED S. WALKER, Dr. FRANK P. GRAHAM, Mr. and Mrs. MAURY MAVERICK, Mr. WALTER PRICE HOWE, Hon. THOMAS H. ELLIOT, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. WILLIAM, Mrs. MARY BETHUNE, Mrs. GANSON PURCELL, Mrs. CLARK FOREMAN, Mrs. CHARLES EDWARD RHETTS, Mr. and Mrs. CLIFFORD J. DURR, Mr. and Mrs. DAVID R. WILLIAMS, Hon. J. WARREN MADDEN, Mr. TELFORD TAYLOR, Lieut. BARRY BINGHAM, Mr. DAVID E. LILIENTHAL, Miss HILDA SMITH, Mrs. DECCA ROMANY, and Mr. and Mrs. MICHAEL STRAIGHT.

CONCLUSION

A review of the Highlander Folk School file indicates that the school has deviated little from its main program to educate and train labor representatives for labor organizing positions and to aid labor organizations in an educational program whenever the school has been called upon to do so, the main front organization backed by the school being the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.
To raise funds for the School, JAMES DOMBROWSKI and MYLES HORTON have spent a great deal of time in the north trying to enlist the aid of prominent educators and political figures. The school has also presented community programs and benefits in Monteagle in an effort to gain the support of the local citizens as well as to educate the persons in the surrounding community. Although the school has been branded by many as Communist, there is very little indication of Communist influence while there is abundant indications that the school is liberal and radical and, therefore, opposed by Conservatives.

Reference is made to the summary report of Special Agent dated September 12, 1942, concerning the captioned school. A review of this report fails to reflect Communist control or domination in the conduct of the Highlander Folk School, although there are many indications of liberal if not radical interests in it.

It is the Bureau's belief that further active investigation of this school is not warranted and you are, accordingly, requested to discontinue the same. It is pointed out, however, that you are requested to make appropriate arrangements to be kept advised of any change in the control or policy of the school as well as its activities, officers, and sponsors. In this connection your Field Division as Office of Origin is requested to instruct auxiliary Offices in which there are outstanding leads to bring investigation in this matter to a logical conclusion in the immediate future.

Date: 14 OCT 26 1942
there were several small cabins occupied by students and faculty members, as well as a community lodge, which contained a dining room for the students and faculty of the school. During the first week, there was very little activity at the school, due to the disappointing attendance, and late arrival of several of the students, as well as late arrival of several of the faculty members, who were allegedly attending a CIO Union Convention held in Chicago, Illinois.

Each student attending Highlander was assigned certain duties which he was to perform each day in connection with the operation of the school.

Various entertainments were held during the week, such as theater parties, folk dances, etc., held in the community house each night, with Russian music being played almost exclusively. It was observed that the policy of free love was a fully accepted doctrine at Highlander.

Prior to enrollment at Highlander Folk School, through circulars and literature furnished by the school, that regular classes would be held at the school, dealing with union problems, economics, parliamentary law, and labor. However, no regularly scheduled classes were held, and only a few lectures were given by MARY LAWRENCE, MYLES HORTON and LEON TILSON, at irregular intervals. The few invited speakers that visited the school also contributed three or four lectures. It was noted that not more than six lectures were held during the entire school session by the regular faculty at Highlander, these being held in the evenings and were in the form of a general assembly. The lectures that were delivered covered general discussion of union organizations, the racial problem in the South, labor problems in strikes. In connection with the racial problem, it is interesting to note that Mrs. VIRGINIA DUNN, sister-in-law of Associate Justice BLACK of the United States Supreme Court, spent two weeks at the school, in the interest of furthering and promoting the school's interest in the racial problem throughout the South.

Several round table discussions were held from time to time, dealing with union problems, in which each student was called upon to discuss the labor situation in his or her particular locality or plant, and strike tactics were dealt with. MYLES HORTON mentioned the fact that the CIO had finally licked "BOSS" CAMP and the Memphis situation, and now the Memphis Police Department was afraid to interfere; that CIO organizers in Memphis now have a free rein. In this case, it was also noted in the Ninth Annual Report of the Highlander Folk School, for the year 1941, an excerpt read as follows:
MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tennessee, long a black page in labor's book, is another southern city where the workers are flocking into unions, after years of courageous struggle against a corrupt city administration dominated by boss Ed Crump. For years it was almost a certainty that any CIO organizer entering the city would be beaten mercilessly if not killed. The right to organize has not been completely established as yet, but labor has made great strides, and there is the beginning of a vigorous and strong movement. With thousands of new workers coming into the unions, almost all of them with no previous experience in the labor movement, the need for an educational program was obvious. The organizers had talked with Highlander for sometime about an extension program; plans were made with the assistance of Paul Christopher, Executive Secretary of the Tennessee Industrial Union Council and member of Highlander executive council. With the enthusiastic support of Richard Devorall, educational director of the United Auto Workers Union, the program was launched at the southwide UAW-CIO educational conference in Memphis in October. Harry Lasker, of the Highlander staff, was placed in charge.

The aforementioned Ninth Annual Report is being retained in the files of this office.

The following invited speakers delivering lectures during the summer session were:

TILFORD DUDLEY, Tar Labor Board, Washington, D. C., who delivered one lecture of unionism and functions of War Labor Board. According to he appeared to be very pro-CIO in his attitude.

WILLIAM CAVES, Regional Director of Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, Nashville, Tennessee, delivered a lecture on the Wage and Hour Act, said lecture being confined strictly to the act, with no exhibition of partiality regarding unions.

Although there was never any audible mention made of Communism, the discussions held by the faculty were 100 per cent in accord with the "all out aid" to Russia, strongly favoring the establishment of a Second Front, and regarding labor unions, were in accord with the CIO; however, upon the arrival of representatives of the AF of L, from Louisville, the discussions thereafter were confined to labor union in general. The Daily Worker is a publication regularly received in Muncie, at the Highlander Folk School.

Myles Horton exhibited much interest in the aircraft industry and stated that he was anxious to organize the aircraft workers in the Fisher Aircraft Plant in Fort Wayne.

During discussion of racial problems, was given the assignment, upon the completion of the Summer Session at Highlander, to go to Bessemer, Alabama, and interview the negro victims of the alleged race riot at Bessemer, obtaining signed statements and affidavits, which would then be forwarded to the White House by the Highlander Folk School.

Virginia Durr, upon her visit to Highlander, seemed to be greatly interested in the poll tax bill which was pending in Congress at that time, and, as a matter of fact, stated that she had prior to her visit been in Washington lobbying for this particular bill. A further identification of Virginia Durr is the fact that she is the wife of Clifford Reid, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. Virginia Durr took no part in the assemblies or classes at the school, but attended the executive council meetings at the school, which was not open to the student body. James Pomeroy, Executive Secretary of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, Louis Jones, Professor at Fisk University, Nashville, Tennessee, Hollis Reid, Legislative Chairman of the Firemen and Engineers of Railroad Brotherhood of Tennessee, Memphis, Tennessee, were among those attending the executive council meeting. In this connection, it might be noted that Hollis Reid was reported to be the newly elected member of the executive board at Highlander.

Mary Watkins, former United Mine Workers organizer, an alleged Communist now stationed at Camp Forrest, Tullahoma, Tennessee, spends a great many of his weekend furloughs at Highlander, and on many occasions brings another soldier with him. It was understood that Watkins had engaged in an argument with an officer at Camp Forrest, regarding the use of tear gas in labor strikes, stating that "he felt it was unfair to permit the use of tear gas in labor strikes", and as a result of the argument, was detailed to KP duty.
Rev. OWEN WHITFIELD, alleged Communist and negro preacher, from Kirkville, Missouri, was scheduled to lecture at the school, but for some reason was unable to keep the engagement. Dr. FLEMING JAMES, Dean of Theology at Sewanee University, was a dinner guest on one occasion at Highlander, and at one time acted as arbitrator between Highlander Folk School and the Grundy County Crusaders in stopping an altercation in which the Grundy County Crusaders were reported to be planning a march against Highlander.

The library material at Highlander, which is made available to the student group, sponsors the doctrine of Communism, and a large portion of the material is extremely liberal in substance.

The school is apparently very short of funds at the present time, as reflected by MYLES HORTON's constant attempts to reduce the operating expenses, and by the fact that the food rations were cut short during the last week of the school.

The following is a list of students who attended the Summer Session at Highlander, including their home addresses and the union or industry which they represented:

The following is now representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America in North Carolina.

J. D. Bradford was elected International Vice-president of the Lime, Gypsum and Cement Workers of the A. F. of L.

Maxton Champion was put in charge of work with Trade Unions in Atlanta for the CNA Workers' Service Program.

William Gillis helped negotiate a contract for textile mill workers where he is employed at High Point, N. C.

Betty Goldstein helped in organizational campaign of maintenance workers at Smith College.
Alvin Green taught workers' education classes during a strike of hosiery workers, New Orleans, and is now a CIO organizer.

Charles Handy is active in the Washington committee of Highlander, and has completed his law studies.

Dillard King was work supervisor for the summer work camp.

Matt Lynch is in charge of organization for the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, Tri-State Area.

Durward 'Daniel was elected to the Highlander staff and will serve as Executive Secretary for the school.

Don McKee represented the Industrial Leader at the national CIO convention.

Martin Knowlton received the Croix de Guerre for bravery under fire, as an ambulance driver in Syria and Africa.

Frances Moser was elected chairman of her hosiery workers local, Charlotte, N. C.

Barney Morel is a member of the CIO staff and gives half his time to the educational program in New Orleans, part of Highlander's extension service.

Bernie Schmidt has been active in educational work among the steel workers of Cincinnati. He is secretary of his SWOC local and edits a lively little shop paper. Bernie originated the idea of the Friends of Highlander membership cards to be sold by the alumni for $1.00 as a means of raising scholarship funds.

Theo Vanlandingham was elected secretary of his Ford local in Memphis, and Chairman of the Industrial Union Council.

J. R. Matters has been elected recording secretary of his local of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Decatur, Alabama.

Paul Vin is now president of his Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers local, Lyles, Tennessee.

who is known to be opposed to Communism advised upon contact that he had consented to lecture on one occasion at the Highlander Folk School during the Summer Session, on the Wage and Hour Act; that it was the policy of the Department of Labor to interpret the Wage and Hour Act to a labor group whenever possible, and he knew that refusal on his part to address the group at Highlander would be "played up" by the school. Stated that he was acquainted with MYLES HORTON, present president of the school, and JAMES DOMBROWSKI, former president, and presently serving as executive secretary for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, with headquarters at Room 506 and 507, Presbyterian Building, Nashville, Tennessee. He believes both of them to be extreme liberals and entirely in sympathy with Communism; however, he doubts whether either of them are card bearing members of the Communist Party, inasmuch as both HORTON and DOMBROWSKI probably feel they have more to gain in their respective fields by remaining as fellow travelers instead of maintaining card bearing relationship with the Communist Party.

JAMES DOMBROWSKI presently maintains residence at the Noel Hotel, Nashville, Tennessee, and has recently gone to Washington, D. C. and New York in an attempt to raise additional funds for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. No further information is being set forth in this report regarding DOMBROWSKI inasmuch as his activities are being covered in a separate case entitled "Southern Conference for Human Welfare", File 100-92, and an individual file on JAMES DOMBROWSKI, Internal Security - C, Memphis File 100-1293.

Reference report contains a lead to contact Rev. JOHN C. ENSOR, Methodist Minister, 1203 Birdsall Street, Old Hickory, Tennessee, concerning the signed statements he is reported to have concerning the Highlander Folk School. Rev. ENSOR was contacted by Special Agent W on an effort to obtain these 36 affidavits, and it was learned that they are presently in the possession of the chief attorney for the leading coal mine company in Tracy City, Tennessee. Rev. ENSOR was unable to furnish either the name of the company or the name of the attorney; however, it is believed that they can be obtained from this information. He indicated that these affidavits included photographic copies of cancelled checks mailed to Highlander Folk School from Russia, and one check from ADOLF HITLER in Germany.

JAMES HARDIN, Secretary to Governor PRENTICE COOPER, was contacted regarding the file compiled by the committee of American Legion for the State of Tennessee, alleged to have been placed in the custody of the Governor. HARDIN stated that this file was not presently in the custody of the governor's office, but that he would make an attempt to locate it and would immediately advise the writer upon locating the same. He further advised that the file had not been kept up to date, and probably contained very little information subsequent to 1938.

Socialist School Established in Tennessee.

On November 1, 1932, the Highlander Folk School located at Monteagle, Tennessee, came into existence. A letter to the Christian Century signed by Myles Horton and Don West states: "For class and reference work we especially need books dealing with the problems of labor, socialism, communism, and books throwing light upon the general economic and social problems of the day. The purpose of the school is to educate rural and industrial leaders for a new social order."

LEFT WING SCHOOL GIVES SCHOLARSHIPS

The Red "Highlander Folk School" at Monteagle, Tennessee is giving 12 scholarships of $100 dollars each to help train needed leaders and active workers for the Southern Labor movement. The scholarship consists of a two month term commencing January 6th. The school is patterned after the Commonwealth College at Mona, Arkansas.

The first year in the new building that was completed in the auditorium of our city high school, some teachers felt that the students were not as protected there as they were in the old auditorium of the high school, so they preferred to return to the old auditorium of the old high school. This was too late, but the teachers felt that if there was anything wrong with the auditorium of the old high school, it did not have the school auditorium in mind, but was just an unobjectionable site in a former school building. It was a smaller auditorium, and I think will do best in it, I suppose. The other side of the auditorium is the safety in which liberty for all was essential in a building for storing the records of the school building to put over their program. I called or arranged this meeting and asked the committee of the council to allow the same to be held in the auditorium of the patriotic organizations and that there be a list of names of the committee of the council that I have been able to find at the present time. I am sure that we shall be glad to have

HIGHLIGHTS OF TEN YEARS IN THE NEW INDUSTRIAL SOUTH

1932 School opens its doors in November on 40-acre mountain farm. • Classes are held for people of Summerfield community. • Beginning of ten-year program in home area.

1933 First series of annual residence terms for union leaders. • Field program begins with assistance to striking coal miners at Wilder, Tennessee.

1934 Library begins sending packages of books to union halls. • Field program in Knoxville.

1935 Staff and students tour southern cities with program of labor plays, puppets, songs. • ALL SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR CIVIL AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS held at school: first conference of the kind in the south. • Cooperative farm garden and cannery begun in community • Study groups in Chattanooga for hosiery and textile workers.

1936 TVA outlines reforestation plan for school. • School broadcasts to England, via BBC, program of ballads, workers’ songs, stories, dances.

1937 Making of "PEOPLE OF THE CUMBERLANDS," film on the work of the school. • Staff members loaned for textile and shirt-workers organizing drive.

1938 First annual work camp for college students, conducted jointly with Friends Service Committee: community improvement work combined with study of the south. • School organizes Grundy County Political Conference, which succeeds in electing labor candidates. • School assists in setting up the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE.

1939 First of yearly workshops for student writers, to focus creative talent on southern problems. • Music director edits "LABOR SONGS" for Textile Workers and leads mass singing at union's national convention • Anti-poll tax case started in name of Henry Pirtle of Grundy County.

1940 Mrs. Roosevelt meets with staff and students at Chattanooga and gives annual scholarship at school for worker student. • Summer work camp builds pottery kiln for Summerfield Cooperative.

1941 Field programs in New Orleans, Memphis, Clinton, Tennessee. • Staff teachers are discussion leaders in United Auto Workers' first southern educational conference. • Traveling library circulates a thousand books in Grundy County.

1942 Third and fourth Junior Union Camps for children of rural and industrial workers. • Publication of "UNDERSTANDING UNIONISM," an analysis of year long field program in New Orleans. • Founding of research department to service organizers, unions, Highlander alumni. • Completion of 18th regular residence term for union students.
AN UP AND COMING DEMOCRACY is not possible with only supine, uncritical carrying out of orders from above; a democracy demands full awareness from all people concerned and full exercise, by all, of the rights of citizenship. Willingness for sacrifice will be common only if there is common confidence that the benefits of the future will not be restricted. Realistic education of group leaders will produce intelligent, responsible group action. Therein is assured democracy's preservation and growth.

For ten years HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL at Monteagle, Tennessee, has been carrying on a training program for leaders that has tangibly extended economic and political democracy in the south. Today that program is increasing the yield of the south’s production lines, clarifying the war reasons and objectives, making more certain the creation of a better future for the common man.

FROM THE VERY BEGINNING the school’s teaching was limited to the immediate needs and interests of the students.

A discussion class in child psychology grew out of problems facing community parents.

A class in cultural geography came from informal inspection of some European snapshots: the Tennessee mountain folk, many of them rare travelers even to so near a city as Chattanooga, found their own customs and conditions full of meaning when contrasted with those of foreign peoples.

Discussion of the Presidential election paved the way for a class in political analysis, with study of the poll tax as it affected class members, the south, the nation.

Teachers and students traveled to observe first hand a bitter strike in the coal fields.

The handcrafts native to the region were revived and stimulated: chair making, whittling, pottery, quilt making. A cooperative farm garden was started. Unions were formed among the timber cutters and road workers. The workers studied the principles and techniques of unionism, learned of their opportunities and rights restored by the New Deal. Education for use, for action.

THE SCHOOL HAD A HARD BEGINNING. Gradually, through the efforts of Reinhold Niebuhr, Alva Taylor, Sherwood Eddy, Frank Graham, people began to hear of it. Financial support increased until contributions were coming from all over the country. Some were large; most small—a dollar, five, ten, twenty. The school then, and has continued to be, an active expression of its contributors' creative ideals.

"One of the most important social-educational projects in America," wrote John Dewey.

Walter Rautenstrauch, noted industrial engineer: "I have found two factors working for advancement in the Tennessee Valley area through the TVA this section's physical capital is being developed; the Highlander Folk School is building up the social capital. The educational movements of the Government and of the Highlander Folk School are laying the foundation for a higher type of civilization and a greater culture than this nation has ever seen.

THE SCHOOL'S WORK in its home community gave it a lasting relationship with the people. The rapid expansion of the southern labor movement took staff members into the field as teachers and organizers. Students continued to come for training periods of two, four, six weeks. But now, between these sessions, the school sent its teachers, books, and charts to Knoxville, Louisville, Memphis, Alcoa, New Orleans.

These field programs meant a tremendous increase in students. Last year, for example, 475 young men and women were enrolled in Highlander classes. Ninety-three per cent were active union officers, presidents, stewards, committeemen, secretaries, business agents, organizers. Today Highlander alumni are to be found everywhere in the south's industrial war effort—key fighters not only in battle for production now, but in the long term movement toward a more perfect industrial democracy.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL and its NATIONAL SPONSORING COMMITTEE feel that the mere achievement of age is not important. There is constantly increasing demand for the services which the school is uniquely equipped to render. Ten years of experiment have proved the value of the methods, the certainty of results. Ten years of activity have brought wide endorsement and support in all branches of labor. Highlander faces today and tomorrow hopefully, confident that its program is more than essential. At present it cannot meet the growing demands of the task—more funds. Will you help the school with your moral and financial support?

advised that the file regarding Highlander Folk School compiled by the committee of the American Legion for the State of Tennessee, had been turned over to [redacted] of the American Legion.

[Redacted] American Legion for the State of Tennessee, was contacted regarding the aforementioned file, and [redacted] advised that this file had been misplaced, and although he had made several attempts to locate it, he had met with negative results; however, he indicated that the file was outdated and contained very little information subsequent to 1939.

On October 26, 1942, [redacted] was contacted by Special Agent [redacted] and at that time, a list was furnished to Agent [redacted] of those persons who had attended the Tenth Anniversary Celebration of the Highlander Folk School, held at Monteagle, Tennessee, on Sunday, October 25, 1942. This list is being retained in the files of this office. [Redacted] reported that there was very little activity of interest during the celebration, and that no speeches or addresses were made, except one by Dr. ALVA W. TAYLOR of Nashville, Tennessee, this address being very little more than a sermon.

[Redacted] further informed that he had learned that the Extension School, sponsored by the Highlander Folk School, is presently in Atlanta, Georgia, and expected to remain there for a period of five or six months.

Reference letter of W. A. MURPHY, Special Agent in Charge, Knoxville, Tennessee Field Division, dated November 26, 1942, advises that after reviewing the file of instant organization, the Bureau has stated that further active investigation of this school is not warranted, and that outstanding leads should be covered immediately, in order that this matter may be brought to a logical conclusion.

In view of the above facts, no further investigation is contemplated in this case, and it is being referred upon completion to the office of origin; however, the Bureau will be kept currently advised of any change in the control or policy of this school which might indicate its connection with subversive activities.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the Bureau letters of October 23, 1942 and of December 7, 1942, 61-7511.

This is to advise that in accordance with Bureau instructions, the file of this case was reviewed, at which time it was ascertained that there were outstanding leads for the Baltimore, Boston, Chicago and New Orleans Field Divisions. On November 26, 1942 a letter was directed to these offices requesting that this case receive immediate attention in order that it might be brought to a logical conclusion. Arrangements have also been made whereby current literature of the Highlander Folk School will be received by the Knoxville Field Division.

It is anticipated that upon receipt of reports covering the outstanding leads in this case, the file will be carried in a closed status, and information furnished to the Bureau regarding current activities from time to time.

There is being enclosed herewith a mimeographed sheet entitled "Research Department, Highlander Folk School," which is self-explanatory.

Yours truly,

W. A. Murphy
Special Agent in Charge
To meet the responsibilities placed upon it by the war, Highlander Folk School recently set up a Research department for its alumni, organizers and union members in the South. The purpose of this Research Department is to put out material with interpretative information on labor legislation and government agencies in pamphlet and outline form; to serve as a news exchange center between different locals; and to contact union officials and union members individually about some of their own problems as affected by the war.

We have just published a short pamphlet on labor-management committees. Its real value is demonstrated by the enthusiastic response we are receiving from both government officials and union members. Mr. Reginald Raymond, War Production Board, wrote us, "Your pamphlet on production committees is deeply appreciated. It is frank and cogent."

A district director of the United Steel Workers, ordering a number of copies, wrote, "(Your booklet) contains excellent material and I believe it will be of great value to us."

Upon general request, we are now sending out simplified charts and outlines on government agencies of importance to labor, on which unions are or can be represented—outlining the steps that should be taken to obtain labor representation. To these activities we plan to add the mailing of up-to-the-minute newsletters to those who request our services, as well as to our extension workers and educators in the field.

The Research Department is Highlander's latest development. Its successful beginning encourages us to build up a research service can call at any time.

Dear Sir:

In connection with an investigation of the above captioned institution, Knoxville, origin, it was ascertained as a result of interviews with two individuals who attended the Highlander Folk School, summer session in September, 1942, that remarks had been made by some of the instructors at this school to the effect that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a contributor to the school. It was advised it was stated in class that Mrs. Roosevelt contributed to the school and would be in attendance on the last day of session April 13, 1942.

Advised writer on January 20, 1943 in an interview to ascertain information concerning subject organization that Mrs. Roosevelt offers a $100 scholarship for subject organization each year.

Group of Louisville labor union members attended session of Highlander Folk School September, 1942 at Monteagle, Tennessee. MILES KORTO recruited these students on his visit to Louisville in summer of 1942. Interviews with these union members reflected the general opinion that the subject organization is dominated by CIO influence and teaches radicalism similar if not identical with Communism. Names of teachers and labor organizers who visited subject school are set forth. Note book addresses of act forth for information of interested field officers. Residents of Monteagle, Tennessee distrust subject organization. Local CIO Financial Secretary at Louisville favorably impressed by subject organization.

DETAILS: In referenced report the names of several local union members were set forth indicating that they had attended the summer session of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee from September 1 to September 13, 1942.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:
As leads outstanding in Charlotte and individual activities on the part of persons previously listed as lecturers and on mailing list of Highlander Folk School, and do not relate to the activities of the school itself, investigation being closed, since there is no proof of Communist con-

DETAILS:
A review of the outstanding leads in this case reflects that they relate more to determining the present activities of persons who at one time or another may have been either lecturers or recipients of correspondence from the Highlander Folk School, rather than to any activity on the part of the school itself. It is considered that further investigation of these leads is not warranted at this time.

The Charlotte and Chicago Field Divisions

INDEXED
The Bureau by letter of October 23, 1942, advised that in reviewing the summary report of Special Agent V. W. Knox, Knoxville, Tennessee, dated September 12, 1942, they concluded that the investigation failed to reflect Communist control or domination in the conduct of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, although there are many indications of liberal if not radical interests in it.

The Knoxville Field Division will maintain contact with informants in the vicinity of Monteagle in order to be kept advised of any change in the control or policy of the school, as well as its activities, officers and sponsors.

At a meeting of the Executive Council of the Highlander Folk School held at Monteagle March 28, 1943, the council recognized that the present struggle to defeat the Axis required the school to intensify its activities "in behalf of democracy." The meeting of the council was rather fully written up in the Highlander Fling, official publication of the school in the following editorial:

"Members discussed the work done in the Summerfield Community by the school—work which continues to have widespread results even though many of our neighbors have left for the armed services and some have temporarily left the community to work in defense plants. The school functions as a rural settlement house here in this Cumberland community and as a training school for labor leaders in its extension activities.

Consideration was given to proposed recreation programs for Tennessee trade unions. Other subjects discussed included revival of the research and publications department when a suitable person can be found to replace Bill Ilkuss, drafted; establishment of a nursery school demonstration project, and the setting up of a nation-wide Highlander Association to provide support for the school's activities.

Eva Zhitlowsky reported that more than $70 of the necessary $200 had been realized for the Bill Buttrick Memorial Cabin through the sale of Bill Buttrick's picture. When sufficient money is raised, a cabin for boys will be built in memory of this young HFS teacher, who was one of the pioneers in Southern labor education.

Miss Zhitlowsky also reported that Maria Stenzel had made a trip to Knoxville when CIO unionists held the dedication..."
for the remaining two of Maria's murals. These murals, commemorating the rise of the labor movement, now hang in regional CIO headquarters at Knoxville.

Carolyn Finkelstein reported that the great need of HFS is direct and substantial union support to implement the work of the office force in raising funds to carry on the school program. At its highest efficiency, the office force can only raise money to equal one large grant. A committee was appointed to consider this matter.

Council members were Bill Crawford, Paul R. Christopher, James Dombrowski, Myles Horton, Zilphia Horton, Alton Lawrence, Mary Lawrence, Eva Zhitlowsky, and Carolyn Finkelstein.

This matter is being closed on the authority of the Special Agent in Charge.

HIGHLANDER POLY SCHOOL

Dramatic experimental democratic teaching is being conducted by the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee. National attention was directed to this unique project by the Southern States of the Highlander Folk School, which runs five weeks of the training of southern men and women for union leadership.

Unlike problematical leadership for the quality of labor leadership, the union leader must come from the ranks of labor. For example, even if an orator were born, he would have to be ready to toil in the fields or mines. The orator would need to have the same experiences as the worker in the factory or the field. The union leader must have a thorough understanding of the working class not only in the factories and mines, but also in the streets and homes of the workers. He must be familiar with the economic problems of the workers and understand the conditions of their lives.

Economic public relations is a problem that must be solved. The worker must understand the economic principles of the union. The union must understand the economic principles of the worker. The union must be able to explain the economic advantages of unionization to the worker.

The Highlander Folk School is a model of democracy. The students are from all over the United States, representing different economic and social backgrounds. The school is open to all, regardless of race or religion.

The school aims to provide a better understanding of the economic and social problems faced by the workers. It seeks to give them a sense of solidarity and brotherhood, and to foster a spirit of cooperation for the purpose of maintaining the dignity and value of the worker in the larger society. The goal is to build a stronger and more effective union movement, the Highlander Folk School.

Tennessee School Trains Students to Use Strength For Betterment of Their Lot--Courses in Leadership

By C. A. Behymer

Staff Correspondent

A light wind and a golden moon shone brightly over the Tennessee hills. Students of the school were busy with their studies. The sun was about to set and the shadows were lengthening. The students were returning from the dining hall, where they had dinner. They were tired and hungry, but they were happy. They had worked hard all day and they were looking forward to the evening meal.

The students of the school were all young men and women. They were from all over the country. They were studying to be teachers, doctors, lawyers, and engineers. They were learning about the world and about their future. They were also learning about themselves.

The school was called the Workers Institute. It was founded by a group of people who believed in the power of education. They wanted to help young people to improve their lives. They believed that education was the key to a better future.

The school was located in the mountains. The students had to walk a long way to get to school. They had to cross streams and climb mountains. But they did not mind. They were happy to be there. They were happy to be learning.

The students of the school were working hard. They were studying hard. They were also playing hard. They were having fun. They were making friends. They were learning about themselves and about the world.

Story of a Southern People's School

The Beginning: A Struggle in Democracy

In 1932 working people were not talking much about democracy. They were talking about jobs, how to pay the grocery bill, how to keep the house. There was little sense of democracy in the South. There was plenty of talk about keeping the timber cutters out of the forests. In 1932, Grundy County, Tennessee, was one of the poorest counties in the United States. The land was nearly barren, and the timber was cut out en masse. But Grundy County, like the southern Appalachian mountains, was home to many workers who believed that economic and political democracy was the key to freedom and dignity. The idea of workers forming unions together through their own organizations was not new to the Appalachian mountains. People had always seen the possibility of combining their forces to improve their lives. The Highlander Folk School in 1932 was an attempt to bring these ideas together. The school was founded by a group of workers and educators who believed that education was key to the development of a democratic society. The school was a place where people could come together to learn about their history, their culture, and their rights as citizens. The school was also a place where people could learn about organizing and fighting for their rights. The school was a place where people could learn about the importance of cooperation and solidarity. The school was a place where people could learn about the power of the people. The school was a place where people could learn about the power of the people. The school was a place where people could learn about the power of the people.
The Highlander program is the school's largest and most important activity. It is devoted to labor and community education, with special emphasis on the education of local workers. The school was founded in 1932 by the Southern Negro۔

The school has always been committed to the development of strong, effective unions. It has served as a training ground for union organizers, and has been instrumental in the founding of many local unions. In addition, the school has provided a forum for the exchange of ideas and strategies among union organizers from across the country.

The Highlander program is open to all who wish to learn about labor and community organizing. It offers a wide range of courses and workshops, and is known for its rigorous and hands-on approach to training. Students are encouraged to participate actively in the school's activities, and are provided with the resources they need to succeed in their organizing efforts.

The school is located in Highlander, Alabama, and is owned and operated by the Highlander Foundation. It is a non-profit organization dedicated to the education and development of organized labor and the community.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

Origin

The Highlander Folk School which is located on the highway between Monteagle, Tennessee, and Tracy City, Tennessee, was founded on a plot of land donated by Lillian Johnson, Ph.D. in 1932. Dr. Johnson came to Monteagle in the early 1920's at which time she showed a great deal of interest in the community of Summerfield, Tennessee, which is located very near Monteagle, especially the school system and the public health of the community. She was very much interested in and attempted to help the underprivileged class of people who reside in Grundy County. To this end she donated the tract of land which is now used by the Highlander Folk School. The two people she chose to establish this school were Myles Horton and Don West. Horton had been the State Chairman of the Socialist Committee in Tennessee for the campaign of 1932, while Don West was reported to openly state that he was a Communist.

On July 31, 1931, the Highlander Folk School took out a charter of incorporation under the Code of Tennessee of 1932. This charter states that the particular purpose for which this charter is sought is the support of the Highlander Folk School adult education, the training of rural and industrial leaders, and general academic education. The incorporators were Myles Horton, Elizabeth Hawes, James Dombrowski, Rupert Hampton, and Malcolm Chisholm.

Early Sponsors

The school at its inception was supported by members of the Socialist Party of national prominence, including Norman Thomas.

Aims and Purposes of the School

In a pamphlet published by the Highlander Folk School it is stated that the school was founded "to provide an educational center in the South for the training of rural and industrial leaders and for the conservation and encouragement of the indigenous cultural values of the mountains." Activities of the school have been primarily in the education of labor organizers. This school has conducted six weeks courses known as the spring and fall terms. At these sessions workers who have been selected by their various unions are given courses in History, economics, union publicity, parliamentary law, public speaking, dramatics, and are taught how to organize a union, conduct union meetings, present grievances, how to call and organize strikes and to effectively bargain with employers. The Highlander Folk School also conducts an extension program by sending various members of its faculty to any union who asks for their services to help them put on a drive for new membership or to more effectively bargain for wage increases and better working conditions.

Attacks Made on the Highlander Folk School

When the Highlander Folk School first moved to Monteagle, Tennessee, Myles Horton, together with the others of the Highlander Folk School, was introduced to members of the community by Dr. Lillian Johnson who asked that they help them in their endeavors. The Highlander Folk School staff includes individuals who are well educated and seem to have a sincere desire to help the people of the South. In this connection they strongly followed the Socialist-Communist united front program of the early 1930's. Most of the literature passed out by the school at that time was of a Socialistic nature. In connection with their program, however, they soon developed a theory of using militant labor strikes in an effort to solidify the workers in a common cause and to impress upon them the necessity of organizing in order to gain the power of numbers. In this connection the school issued pamphlets entitled "Why We Need the Union." These pamphlets state that there is always a conflict between labor and capital and that what is good for the management and capital must of necessity be bad for labor.

The Highlander Folk School was also instrumental in organizing the Workers Alliance in Grundy County which was later declared by its president and secretary, David Lascer and Herbert Benjamin, to be controlled by the Communist Party. In connection with the Workers Alliance, Myles Horton, James Dombrowski, and the Highlander Folk School faculty encouraged the sitdown strike at Monteagle, Tennessee, in February, 1939. This strike was one of the factors which brought the growing resentment of the community to a head and it brought into prominence an organization known as the Grundy County Crusaders who bitterly opposed the school and made every effort to drive it from the community.

In the early fall of 1939 John McDougall Burns, a reporter for the Nashville Tennessean, newspaper, visited the Highlander Folk School for approximately one week at which time he also talked with residents in the community in an effort to determine whether the school was Communist or Communist controlled. Burns reported in newspaper articles that the Highlander Folk School is the center for spreading Communist doctrines in thirteen outstanding states that connected with its leadership are persons who have been charged with being Communists, its faculty spreads Communism and sends its alumni to labor organizations where they maintain contact with their alma mater and spread its teachings over a wide area; holds conferences at the school between regular sessions where it teaches Communist theories to labor leaders and others; it is a source of plays for use by "progressive" labor groups, which plays include Communist propaganda.
On November 13, 1940, a march on the Highlander Folk School was averted by holding a meeting of the representatives of the Grundy County Crusaders and members of the faculty in a session held at Sewanee University. At this time the Grundy County Crusaders hurled accusations at the Highlander Folk School, stating that it was a "hotbed of Communism." James Dombrowski of the Highlander Folk School faculty answered for the school and explained that the school was purely a labor school and stated that in the event that the crusaders could prove the school was Communist, it would immediately move from the county. The Grundy County Crusaders were unable to produce sufficient evidence which would indicate that the school was controlled by the Communist Party.

Charter Members

As indicated previously, the Highlander Folk School at its inception was founded by Myles Horton who was known to be a Socialist at that time and by Don West who had openly stated that he was a Communist. Don West was described in an article which appeared in the Daily Worker as a young mountaineer poet who became revolutionary and studied Marx and Lenin for the purpose of organizing Negroes and white farmers in Georgia.

Malcolm Chisholm, a charter member of this school, was killed fighting with the Spanish Loyalists during the Spanish Civil War.

James Dombrowski was a charter member of the Highlander Folk School and a faculty member of the school until the spring of 1942 when he resigned his position to become secretary for the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. It has been reported that Dombrowski has expressed himself as being in sympathy with the Russian form of government, that he thought that revolution was inevitable, and that the capitalistic system should be overthrown. He is also reported to have been a member of the Communist Party in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and to have attended many meetings in that city in the years 1938 to 1940.

Dombrowski is reported to be imbued with a philosophy of saving mankind and has been particularly interested in helping southern labor and attempting to improve labor conditions in the South.

Indications of Communist Influence in the Program of the School

A study of the program of the Highlander Folk School indicates that the school followed the Communist Party line to a certain degree. The school was organized at a time when the Communists and Socialists had a program for united front organizations for persons who were dissatisfied with the country's political and economic conditions. Well-known Communists such as Robert Hall of Birmingham, Alabama, and Ted Hallman of Chattanooga, Tennessee, frequently visited this school. The Workers Alliance was formed in Monticello by the Highlander Folk School and the militant strike policy advocated by the Communists for the purpose of organizing labor was adopted by the school. It was during this period that James Dombrowski and Myles Horton were reported to have been seen with Young Communist League cards in their possession and to have made statements which would indicate their sympathy for the Russian form of government.
Literature received by and distributed by the Highlander Folk School consists of labor pamphlets and magazines, Socialistic literature, and to some extent Communist literature. The Highlander Folk School is not believed to have passed out pamphlets of the Communist Party such as literature protesting the deportation of Bridges, freeing of Earl Browder, etc., but has contented itself with providing publications such as "Soviet Power," "Communist Manifesto," and literature which presents the broad picture of Socialism rather than that representing the various turnings of the Communist Party line.

Endorsers of the Highlander Folk School

Many individuals of high government, labor, and social standing have endorsed this school from time to time, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Hugo L. Black, John L. Lewis, Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, Sidney Hillman, and others.

To raise funds for this school, Myres Horton and others have spent a great deal of time in the north trying to enlist the aid of prominent educators and political figures. This school has also presented community programs and benefits in Yonkers in an effort to gain the support of the local citizens as well as to educate the persons in the surrounding communities. Although the school has been branded by many as Communist, there is no substantial evidence indicating that it is controlled by the Communist Party. However, there are numerous indications that the school is liberal and radical and, therefore, opposed by conservatives.

Office Memorandum

TO: Director, FBI
FROM: SAC, Knoxville

SUBJECT: LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

Reference is made to section A of SAC letter 36, dated March 2, 1948. There are no recognized "Communist Front" organizations active within the territory of the Knoxville Division. The only three groups, suspected of Communist affiliation, which have members in this district, are set out herewith.

The Southern Conference for Human Welfare, cited in the House Un-American Activities Committee pamphlet, has its headquarters for this area at Nashvillle, Tennessee, within the Memphis district, and therefore no attempt will be made by this office to summarize its nature. There is no local group of Southern Conference for Human Welfare organized and active in the Knoxville area, although there are a few known members residing in this district.

The Southern Negro Youth Congress has some members in Chattanooga but is not listed and has no organized group or activity in this area. On the possibility that this group may be affiliated with the National Negro Congress and as this group has its headquarters for this area in Birmingham, Alabama, it is being assumed that the Birmingham office will furnish a sketch if it is proper.

One purely local group which might be considered as a "front organization" within this area is the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. A thumbnail sketch of this school is attached hereto.

MAR 24 1949 P.M.
Reference is made to Louisville letter to the Director dated March 3, 1949.

Considerable investigation has been conducted by the Knoxville Office in the case entitled "Highlander Folk School; Internal Security - C" (Bureau file number 61-7511). This investigation disclosed no proof of Communist control or domination in the conduct of the school, although there were many indications of liberal, if not radical, interests in it. WILLIAM HORTON, Director of the school, is reputedly a Socialist and runs the school primarily as a training school for labor leaders. The school is ostensibly supported by the CIO.

During the period in 1941 in which [redacted] states that he had conversation with an unknown individual at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, no investigation conducted by this office at that time developed any information that the Highlander Folk School was utilizing wire-tapping equipment, or that they were in any manner engaged in such activities.

As the incident referred to in referenced letter took place a number of years ago and, as before stated, investigation at that time does not substantiate information furnished by him now, the case is not being reopened at this time and no further action will be taken by this office unless advised to the contrary by the Bureau.

Should [redacted] call at the Knoxville Office, as is indicated by referenced letter, he will, of course, be received, and any further information which he cares to offer will be duly recorded. The indices of the Knoxville Office were checked with negative results for any previous references to [redacted].

REMARKS

The secretary stated that Judge Bazelon has received a request for a donation to the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, and he, Judge Bazelon, would like to know if the Bureau can furnish him any information concerning this School. After checking, the secretary was referred to Mr. Laughlin, in Mr. Fletcher's office.

Mr. Laughlin advises that files are being checked and appropriate action will be taken.
Office Memorandum

TO: MR. H. B. FLETCHER
FROM: MR. L. L. LAUGHLIN
SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

DATE: February 10, 1950

By reference from the Director's Office I took a telephone call at 12:50 P.M. today from [redacted], who said she is secretary to Judge David W. Bazelon of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. [Redacted] said that the Judge had received a letter from the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, requesting a donation, and the Judge wanted to know whether the Bureau had any information in its files regarding this institution which might be made available to him.

I told [redacted] that I would look into this matter and call her back.

The Bureau files show that we have conducted an extensive investigation of the Highlander Folk School. On February 21, 1947, pursuant to a request made by Mr. Bazelon of Assistant to the Director E. A. Tamm on February 14, 1947, we forwarded to Mr. Bazelon a memorandum summarizing information contained in our files as of September, 1942, pointing out that no subsequent information had been received since that time which would materially change the data contained in that memorandum.

The Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tennessee, is mentioned in several places in the Dies Committee Report (Volumes 1 and 10 - 61-7582). However, the School has not been cited as being Communist.

In a statement made by Mr. Walter S. Steele before the Special Committee on Un-American Activities on December 29, 1934, [redacted]. appears the following: "Of the other separate Communist and radical 'theatrical' branches in the U.S. we shall mention:

.... (e) Highlander Folk School Dramatics Club, its purposes, labor plays."

ACTION:

It is recommended that I be permitted to call and tell her that the Bureau previously had submitted a memorandum regarding the Highlander Folk School to Mr. Bazelon when he was with the Department on February 21, 1947, and also to tell her for the Judge's information that while there are several references to this group in the Dies Committee Reports, it has not been cited by that body. If you agree will be so advised.

Dear Sir:

In Montague, Tennessee, there is an organization known as the "Highlanders". It is supposedly a school in which labor is taught. It is a generally accepted fact in the community that it is a Communist camp.

Undoubtedly you are already aware of this organization but I feel that it is my duty to write to you concerning the matter.

Dear Mr. Clegg:

I was pleased to read from the International Labor News Service that you feel that the "success of communism" can be measured by the weaknesses of democracy. I am lead to believe by your analysis of the situation that you would approve the enclosed statement of policy of the Highlander Folk School.

In the South people are often criticized who believe as we do here at Highlander that discrimination is incompatible with democracy. In fact I was told recently by one of your agents that the contents of the enclosed news release would be considered communist by a majority of Southern people.

I sincerely trust that the position taken by you in the New York Herald Tribune forum is the official position of the F.B.I., and not the position implied by the activities of your representatives who have questioned our neighbors regarding visits of Negroes to the School.

Would you clear this matter up for me?

Sincerely yours,

Myles Horton
Director

Monteagle, Tennessee . . . November 20, 1950 . . . "Our Christmas bells could be freedom bells if we dared include all minorities in our circle of brotherhood," Wyles Horton told a conference of church leaders at the Highlander Folk School.

"Freedom bells ringing in the cabins of Negro sharecroppers, ringing for eager minded students with opportunities limited by accident of birth, and freedom bells echoing in distant lands could fill the troubled world with thoughts of peace on earth and good will toward man," he said.

"Highlander's democratic program is based on the brotherhood of man. Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to the freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services," the religious leaders were told.

"We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or where freedom of thought and discussion is limited; and that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination and segregation.

"The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal," said Horton. "An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path."
HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
STATEMENT OF PURPOSE, PROGRAM AND POLICY

We reaffirm our faith in democracy as a goal that will bring dignity and freedom to all; in democracy as an expanding concept encompassing human relations from the smallest community organization to international structure; and permeating all economic, social, and political activities.

Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services.

We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or where freedom of thought and discussion is limited; that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination and segregation; that there must be diversity of approach but each step must be in conformity with the goal, which is dishonored by each undemocratic act.

With a democratic goal, we are in a position to fight anything that gets in the way, whether it be totalitarian communism, or fascism or monopoly dominated capitalism.

The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in creating leadership for democracy. Our services are available to labor, farm community, religious and civic organizations working toward a democratic goal.

The nature of a specific educational program will be determined by the needs of the students.

As of the services of the School by individual organizations will be in accordance with their own policies so long as these policies do not conflict with the purposes of the School. A staff member will assist in planning and coordinating all programs.

The Highlander Folk School is a chartered institution, cooperatively owned by the teaching staff. It has no affiliations. The policies and program of the School are wholly determined by an Executive Council composed of the staff and recognized Southern leaders.

Highlander Folk School is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the School, foundations and tuition.

The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal. An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing could stand in its path.

Approved by the Executive Council, April 3rd, 1950

Inasmuch as it was felt that it would be more desirable for this letter to be answered by Mr. Clegg over his own signature rather than to have an answer over the Director's signature, the memorandum was routed to Mr. Clegg on the afternoon of December 22, 1950, in order that he might prepare the letter. Mr. Clegg returned the memorandum for preparation of a reply by the Security Division. It was received on the afternoon of December 26, 1950, (after the Christmas holidays) by the Security Division for this purpose. Immediately another reply to Horton was prepared dated the following day, December 27.

On January 3, 1951, the letter was returned to the Security Division, requesting that another reply be prepared for Myles Horton, this time deleting a sentence that was in the previous letter. This was done immediately and the revised letter was approved and mailed on January 3, 1951.

This was badly handled afterwards.

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
MYLES HORTON, DIRECTOR
INTERNAL SECURITY (C)

PURPOSE

To explain, pursuant to your request, the delay in answering the letter of Myles Horton, director of the Highlander Folk School.

DETAILS

Under date of December 10, 1950, Myles Horton, who is the subject of a closed security investigation, wrote a letter to Assistant Director Hugh H. Clegg (letter and enclosures attached), asking Mr. Clegg to comment on a news release which set forth the aims and purposes of the Highlander Folk School. He further made reference to an alleged statement made by an Agent of the FBI concerning the news release.

According to the various time stamps, the letter was received at the Bureau on December 15, 1950 (Friday). It was received in Mr. Tolson's office at 4:06 PM, December 18 (Monday). Mr. Clegg's office received it at 5:10 PM, December 19. It was received back in Mr. Tolson's office at 5:56 PM, December 20. It was received in Mr. Ladd's office at 6:15 PM, December 20 and was received by the Security Investigative Division (Mr. Belmont's office) on December 21, 1950, for handling.

It was noted in Myles Horton's letter that he accused an Agent of making an improper statement and in order to clear up this item, SAC Robey of Knoxville was telephonically contacted at 11:00 AM, December 21, 1950, and instructed to make inquiry among the Agents of his office to determine if any Agent had made the alleged statement. On the same day, while awaiting a reply from the Knoxville Office, a file review concerning the Highlander Folk School and Myles Horton was made.

A teletype reply was received from the Knoxville Office at 5:21 PM, December 21, 1950, wherein the alleged statement referred to in Horton's letter was emphatically denied. On the morning of December 22, 1950 (Friday), a memorandum was prepared, setting forth background data concerning the Highlander Folk School and Myles Horton (attached), to which was attached a proposed reply to Myles Horton over your signature.

Purpose:

To recommend that the attached letter be approved for transmittal to Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School. This letter is in reply to a letter which Horton directed to Assistant Director H. H. Clegg at the Bureau.

Details:

Under date of December 10, 1950, Horton wrote the attached letter to Assistant Director H. H. Clegg. He attached a statement of purpose, program, and policy of the Highlander Folk School which was approved by the Executive Council on April 3, 1950, and a press release of the school dated November 20, 1950. In his letter Horton indicated that a Special Agent of the Bureau had commented that the news release would be considered Communist by a majority of Southern people. He contrasted the alleged statement of the Agent with the recent position taken by Assistant Director Clegg at the "New York Herald Tribune" Forum.

On December 21, 1950, the Knoxville Office was telephonically contacted and advised of the alleged statement made by a Special Agent of the Knoxville Office. Under the same date the Knoxville Office replied by the attached teletype that Myles Horton had been contacted on December 7, 1950, by Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] in connection with the William Walter Remington perjury case. Both Agents have stated emphatically that Horton did not show them the news release referred to in Horton's letter to Assistant Director Clegg and no statement was made by either Agent that would even remotely approach Horton's allegations.

For your information the Highlander Folk School is the subject of an eight section Bureau investigation. This school was founded in Monteagle, Tennessee and a charter of incorporation, under the Code of Tennessee, was taken out on July 31, 1934. The school at its inception was supported by members of the Socialist Party.

Enclosure

of national prominence, including Norman Thomas. The school was founded "to provide an educational center in the South for the training of rural and industrial leaders and for the conservation and encouragement of the indigenous cultural values of the mountains." Myles Horton, the present Director was one of the original incorporators. A study of the program of the Highlander Folk School indicates that the school followed the Communist Party line to a certain degree. Literature received by and distributed by the school consists of labor pamphlets, magazines, Socialist literature, and to some extent Communist literature. The school is not believed to have passed out pamphlets of the Communist Party as such but has contented itself with providing publications such as "Soviet Power," "Communist Manifesto," and literature which presents the broad picture of Communism rather than that representing the various turnings of the Communist Party line. Many individuals of high Government, labor and social standing have endorsed this school from time to time, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Hugo L. Black, John L. Lewis, Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, and others. (61-7511-132)

Horton was born July 9, 1905, at Savannah, Tennessee. The investigation revealed that no definite proof of membership in the Communist Party has been developed concerning Horton; however, there is considerable information reflecting his close association with Communists and having Communist sympathies.

Recommendation:

It is recommended that the attached letter be transmitted to Horton in reply to his letter to Assistant Director H. H. Clegg.

I believe it would be more accurate for Mr. Clegg to answer this one with his own signature rather than have the Director acknowledge.

Dear Sirs:

This will acknowledge your letter of December 10, 1950.

It has long been the established procedure of this Bureau to refrain from commenting on the statement of aims and purposes of any organization and, therefore, we cannot comment on the policies of your school.

With regard to the statement that you attributed to a Special Agent of this Bureau, this will advise that I have checked with the two Special Agents who contacted you on December 7, 1950. They emphatically deny that you showed them the news release or that they made any statements to you remotely approaching your allegation.

Dear Mr. Baldwin,

With reference to your letter of February 14, 1951, concerning the Highlander Folk School, in which you referred to the FBI conducting an inquiry into this school because of its interracial education, I thought you would be interested to know that I have had a careful check made into this matter.

This will assure you that no investigation has been conducted concerning the interracial educational facilities of the school you mentioned. We have, of course, had occasion to contact representatives of this school on individual cases such as applicant and security investigations. The purpose of the applicant inquiries has been to secure information at its source for guidance of governmental agencies in considering applicants for appointment.

In fulfilling our responsibility to protect the internal security of the country, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is charged to investigate any individual upon receipt of substantial information reflecting that individual to be engaged in subversive activity. We have in the past conducted a limited number of security investigations of individuals which required inquiry at the Highlander Folk School. I again wish to advise you that such investigations were not initiated on the basis that the individual was engaged in interracial educational activities nor was this question considered in any manner during the course of the investigation.

However, since our contacts at the school have either been misunderstood or have become a source of irritation to Mr. Myles Horton, director of the school, I have issued appropriate instructions to discontinue any direct contacts with representatives of the school.

Sincerely yours,

Information Concerning

Reference is made to your two memoranda dated February 10, 1951, wherein you referred to correspondence from Myles Horton, director of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, and from Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia.

With regard to the correspondence you received from Myles Horton and your proposed draft reply, I am returning them to you. In connection to your proposed letter to Mr. Horton, I cannot accede to the proposal of having our Agents conduct interviews at the Highlander Folk School with ethnographic or additional personnel of the school present. These interviews are for the most part conducted on a confidential basis and further disclosure of this bureau's work or the identities of the individuals under investigation cannot be condensed. Inasmuch as Mr. Horton, director of the school, has undoubtedly confused the purpose of our interviews with his, I have instructed our Knoxville Office to conduct no further interviews at the Highlander Folk School.

I have checked into this allegation made by Mr. Horton and want to assure you that we have never investigated the Highlander Folk School, any representative of the school, or any individual on the ground that the Highlander Folk School or the individual participated in interracial educational activities nor have our Agents inquired relative to the interracial aspects of that school.

For your information the Highlander Folk School was investigated during the early 1940's. This investigation was based on allegations that Communist activities were being carried on at the school. The case was closed in 1945 and no investigation of the school as such has been made since that time. For your further information there is attached herewith a photostatic copy of a four-page summary dated February 21, 1947, concerning this school.
We have, of course, had occasion to contact representatives of this school on individual cases such as applicant and security investigations. However, such investigations were not initiated on the basis that the individual was engaged in interracial educational activities nor was this question considered in any manner during the course of the investigation.

With reference to the letter you received from Mr. Fornett, I can only state that he has been misinformed by Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School.

For your further information, in addition to the correspondence between Mr. Myles Horton and Mr. Clegg of this Bureau as reflected by the material enclosed with your memorandum of February 19, 1951, we have received a communication from Mr. Roger N. Dear Mr. Hoover:

It has come to my attention as a contributor to the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, that agents of your office have recently been conducting an inquiry into the school, apparently on the ground that inter-racial education is somehow "subversive".

I cannot quite believe that any such attitude correctly reflects your policies, and therefore venture to suggest that you may be interested to check up on the inquiry.

We would appreciate being advised of the facts as to why any investigation of the school has been made.

Dear Mr. Baldwin:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter dated February 14, 1951, concerning the Highlander Folk School, in which you referred to the FBI’s conducting an inquiry into this school because of its interracial education.

A careful investigation into this matter has established that no investigation by the FBI has been conducted of the Highlander Folk School on the ground that that school or anyone connected with it has sponsored interracial educational activities. Representatives of this Bureau have had occasion to contact representatives of this school on individual cases such as applicants and security investigations.

However, since our contacts at the school have either been misunderstood or have become a source of irritation to Mr. Myles Horton, director of the school, I have issued appropriate instructions to discontinue any direct contacts with representatives of the school.

Honorable J. Howard McGrath
United States Attorney General
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. McGrath:

Miss Lucy Randolph Mason, Southern CIO Public Relations Representative, has suggested that I ask your advice about a problem growing out of the attendance of Negroes at the Highlander Folk School. Because of your own personal feeling in regard to discrimination, Miss Mason felt that you would understand the problem here and be in a position to give advice.

The Highlander Folk School endeavors to put racial democracy into practice; consequently we can expect a measure of opposition.

We hardly expected, however, to have Negro students made the subject of investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. On October 11th I wrote Senator Estes Kefauver that FBI agents were asking our neighbors about the attendance of Negroes and implying that our non-discrimination policy was communistic and immoral. This line of questioning has created confusion in the minds of our neighbors regarding the rights of Negroes to be at the School.

On December 10th I raised this question with Mr. Hugh H. Clegg, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and quoted one of the FBI agents who had told me that he thought our enclosed news release condemning discrimination would be considered communistic by a majority of Southern people.

The apparent confusion of racial democracy with communism by the FBI agents and the implication of this kind of thinking alarmed the Highlander Executive Council members who met January 22 and 23.

The executor
Council members were also disturbed by the exchange of correspondence with Mr. Clegg. If agents can deny what they have said, they can likewise report things they have not been told. Since they go in pairs, the person interviewed is at a disadvantage.

With this problem in mind, a motion was made by Miss Lucy Randolph Mason "that, because of previous misunderstandings in interviews with FBI agents, the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing, and shall make his replies in writing — provided legal counsel advises this action."

The Council is not raising the question of giving information, but of giving it in such a way that the person interviewed has the protection of a written record. Could you advise us as to the legality of the Council proposal that interviews be carried on in writing.

We shall greatly appreciate your advice on this matter.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Horton:

This will acknowledge your letter of January 51, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General, requesting advice about a problem growing out of the attendance of negroes at the Highlander Folk School. You advise that the Highlander Executive Council members are disturbed by the exchange of correspondence with Mr. Hugh H. Clegg, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and comment that if agents can deny what they have said, they can likewise report things they have not been told. You quote a motion which was made by Miss Lucy Randolph Mason, which provides that the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing and shall make his replies in writing provided legal counsel advises this action. You then request the Attorney General's advice as to the legality of the council's proposal that interviews be carried on in writing.

I should first point out to you that the Attorney General is authorized by law to give advice only to the President of the United States and to the various Department heads, in view of which I regret that the Department cannot advise you regarding the legal situation involved. It occurs to me, however, that there should normally be no serious objection to having Special Agents contact the Highlander Director when desiring information from the staff of the school as contemplated by the motion quoted in your letter. Furthermore, I would suppose that written replies to questions, either in the form of stenographic recording of the questions and answers, or in the form of affidavits, would be quite satisfactory. I believe that you will find the agents quite willing to accede to your desires in this respect.

Monteagle, Tennessee

Monteagle, Tennessee . . . November 20, 1950 . . . "Our Christmas bells could be freedom bells if we dared include all minorities in our circle of brotherhood," Myles Horton told a conference of church leaders at the Highlander Folk School.

"Freedom bells ringing in the cabins of Negro sharecroppers, ringing for eager minded students with opportunities limited by accident of birth, and freedom bells echoing in distant lands could fill the troubled world with thoughts of peace on earth and good will toward man," he said.

"Highlander's democratic program is based on the brotherhood of man. Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to the freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services," the religious leaders were told.

"We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or where freedom of thought and discussion is limited; and that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination or segregation.

"The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal," said Horton. "An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path."

Dear Myles:

This, to my mind, is a thoroughly honest and perfectly concise expression of the problem you present. I cannot see how Mr. McGrath can fail to understand its significance, and understanding, fail to take steps toward the prevention of future trouble.

Please feel free to use me as a reference if you have such need. I am always willing to speak or write my convictions regarding your personal integrity and the high purpose of Highlander.

I was here some years before you came. The newness of your program aroused wonder and even suspicion in the community. We heard wild tales of communistic intent, alliance with Russia, machine guns in the attic and various forms of immorality. People came to me with these extravagant rumors, begging me to "do something about it." I did do something. I visited the school when you and Don Jett gave a "play-party" for the children of our community. I went again when Jim Dombrowski started a Bible study class. We learned a good deal about social conditions in the days of Anas and Lish. I went to a meeting held after a neighbor's house had burned down and you started plans -- and funds -- for building a new home for him. I went to a Christmas party where I helped with the children's games and saw you play Santa Claus with a bag of presents. Once I went to a sewing bee, another neighborhood benefit. I was sick at the time the P. T. A. was organized in your living room, but I heard all about it. I heard, too, of other "good deeds" -- by this time the neighbors had something else to talk about than the fearful fantasies of the early days. One dark night, Jim went a good way to bring a doctor for one of my school girls in time to save her and her baby. "I didn't know there were such good folks," one neighbor woman said. Then I heard about the time that Claudia Lewis, the Nursery School teacher, and another one from Highlander, prepared all that was needful to bury a little child in a very poor family.

All these things and many more convinced me that your purpose and plan for living in our community was essentially good and had no ulterior motive. In later years I have learned more of your practical program, your concept of true democracy in your policy of non-discrimination, non-segregation, and your actual example in living what you believe. I know a minister who said, "I wish I could feel that I came as near as Myles Horton to real consecration to the Cause of real Christianity."
"Lo you think Highlander is radical?" The last time I was asked this question, I gave this answer which I would give today. "Yes, they are radical - as radical as the Declaration of Independence - or the Sermon on the Mount."

It is because you dare to believe that not only "all men are created free and equal", but that there should be "liberty and justice for all" that you are radical. And the one who bade all men to act like brothers, made no difference between his white children and the black.

I deplore the recent "investigation" of the FBI agents, implying as it did, that your non-discrimination policy toward Negro students constituted proof of your communistic nature, purpose, plan and intent. When racial democracy can be confused with communism in the minds of FBI agents, there is cause for alarm, it seems to me. Our community has come a long way in appreciating and understanding the policy of Highlander, its principles, its practice of real democracy. But this faith though fostered for so many years by living proof and example, cannot fail to suffer from the shock of a visit from the FBI in which the school's policy of non-discrimination is given a red tag and label.

With all this in mind, I am glad you have written this letter to Dr. McGrath. I hope it leads to a definite understanding which will affect all future interviews.

With best wishes for you and the rest of the Highlander staff, I remain

Your friend,

Jay Justus
Mr. Hugh H. Clegg
Assistant Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Clegg:

I was pleased to read from the International Labor News Service that you feel that the "success of communism" can be measured by the weaknesses of democracy. I am led to believe by your analysis of the situation that you would approve the enclosed statement of policy of the Highlander Folk School.

In the South, people are often criticized who believe as we do here at Highlander that discrimination is incompatible with democracy. In fact I was told recently by one of your agents that the contents of the enclosed news release would be considered communistic by a majority of Southern people.

I sincerely trust that the position taken by you in the New York Herald Tribune forum is the official position of the F.B.I., and not the position implied by the activities of your representatives who have questioned our neighbors regarding visits of Negroes to the School.

Would you clear this matter up for me?

Sincerely yours,

Myles Horton
Director
United States Department of Justice

Mr. Allen Horton

Dear Mr. Horton,

This will acknowledge your letter of December 10, 1950.

It has long been the established procedure of this Bureau to refrain from commenting on the statement of aims and purposes of any organizations and, therefore, we cannot comment on the policies of your school.

With regard to the statement that you attributed to a Special Agent of this Bureau, this will advise that I have checked with the two Special Agents who contacted you on December 7, 1950. They categorically deny that you showed them the news release or that they made any statements to you remotely approaching your allegation.

Very truly yours,

Hugh H. Clegg

Horton gave a full report on some recent activities of FBI agents who are questioning people in the community. The agents have been asking neighbors about Negroes attending or visiting Highlander. Horton read a letter he wrote Senator Kefauver which said in part: "They (the FBI agents) have been particularly insistent in their questions about the attendance of Negroes at Highlander sessions and conferences. They wanted to know where people sleep and what goes on after the conferences are over... I hope you can find time to look into this situation and do something to stop intimidation of our neighbors and the inference that the non-discrimination policy of the school, which is that of the CIO and AFL, is communist and immoral."

Horton continued that the agents are going around the community trying to stir up the people by asking loaded questions about the Negro students at Highlander. In addition, Horton read a newspaper report that the assistant Director of the FBI made a speech at the New York Herald Tribune forum in which he said discrimination was incompatible with democracy. Horton congratulated the FBI spokesman and reported a comment made to him by an FBI agent who said that a Highlander News release which condemns discrimination, would be considered communist by a majority of southern people. The FBI Assistant Director answered that he had personally cleared the matter and that both agents who talked with Horton, denied emphatically saying any such statements.

After prolonged discussion, it was moved by Lucy Randolph Mason that, because of previous misunderstandings in interviews with FBI agents, the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing, and shall make his replies in writing.
legal counsel advises this action. Motion seconded by Paul Billimoria and passed.

It was also suggested by Miss Hanson that the Director shall write to Attorney General Howard McGrath and review this situation and explain to him why we have been forced to take this action; and that a copy of this letter shall be sent to Senator LeFauver and Highlander Sponsors.
We reaffirm our faith in democracy as a goal that will bring dignity and freedom to all; in democracy as an expanding concept encompassing human relations from the smallest community organization to international structure; and permeating all economic, social, and political activities.

Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services.

We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or where freedom of thought and discussion is limited; that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination and segregation; that there must be diversity of approach but each step must be in conformity with the goal, which is dishonored by each undemocratic act.

With a democratic goal, we are in a position to fight anything that gets in its way, whether it be totalitarian communism, or fascism or monopoly dominated capitalism.

The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in creating leadership for democracy. Our services are available to labor, farm community, religious and civic organizations working toward a democratic goal.

The nature of a specific educational program will be determined by the needs of the students.

Use of the services of the School by individual organizations will be in accordance with their own policies so long as these policies do not conflict with the purposes of the School. A staff member will assist in planning and coordinating all programs.

The Highlander Folk School is a chartered institution, cooperatively owned by the teaching staff. It has no affiliations. The policies and program of the School are wholly determined by an Executive Council composed of the staff and recognized Southern leaders.

Highlander Folk School is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the School, foundations and tuition.

The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal. An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path.

Reference is made to your two memoranda dated February 10, 1951, wherein you referred to correspondence from Myles Horton, director of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, and from Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia.

With regard to the correspondence you received from Myles Horton and your proposed draft reply, I am returning them to you. In connection to your proposed letter to Mr. Horton, I cannot accede to the proposal of having our Agents conduct interviews at the Highlander Folk School which would require our Agents to submit written interrogatories at all times in all matters upon which the FBI may be seeking information from the Highlander Folk School. Furthermore, I cannot accede to any restriction which would prohibit the FBI from interviewing any person it saw fit. In this particular matter it is suggested that only the Highlander Director could or would be contacted. Rather than accede to any such restrictions, I would prefer to instruct our Agents to refrain from any contact with any member of the Highlander Folk School staff.

I have checked into this allegation made by Mr. Horton and I want to assure you that we have never investigated the Highlander Folk School, any representative of the school, or any other individual on the ground that the Highlander Folk School or the individual participated in interracial educational activities nor have our Agents inquired relative to the interracial aspects of that school.

For your information the Highlander Folk School was investigated during the early 1940's. This investigation was predicated on allegations that Communist activities were being carried on at the school. For your further information there is attached herewith a photostatic copy of a four-page summary dated February 17, 1947, concerning the school.
We have, of course, had occasion to contact representatives of this school on individual cases such as applicant and security investigation. The purpose of the applicant inquiries has been to secure information at its source for guidance of governmental agencies in considering applicants for appointment. In fulfilling our responsibility to protect the internal security of the country, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is charged to investigate any individual upon receipt of substantial information reflecting that individual to be engaged in subversive activity. We have in the past conducted a limited number of security investigations of individuals requiring inquiries at the Highlander Folk School. However, such investigations were not initiated on the basis that the individual was engaged in interracial educational activities or was this question considered in any manner during the course of the investigation.

With reference to the letter you received from Mr. Barnett, I can only state that he has been misinformed by Myles Horton, director of the Highlander Folk School.

For your further information, in addition to the correspondence between Mr. Myles Horton and Mr. Clegg of this Bureau as reflected by the material enclosed with your memorandum of February 19, 1951, we have received a communication from Mr. Roger N. Baldwin of the American Civil Liberties Union on the same subject matter. Copies of Mr. Baldwin's letter and my reply thereto are attached for your information.

EX
Office Memorandum

TO: The Director

FROM: D. U. Ladd

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INTERNAL SECURITY - C
File 61-7511

DATE: February 21, 1951

PURPOSE

To recommend that the attached letters directed to Mr. Roger N. Baldwin of the American Civil Liberties Union and SAC Robey of the Knoxville Office be approved. These letters are concerned with the unfounded allegation that the FBI was "recently conducting an inquiry into the Highlander Folk School apparently on the ground that inter-racial education is somehow 'subversive.'"

DETAILS

Under date of February 14, 1951, Roger N. Baldwin, former Director but presently Chairman, National Committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, wrote to you as follows:

"Dear Mr. Hoover:

"It has come to my attention as a contributor to the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, that agents of your office have recently been conducting an inquiry into the school, apparently on the ground that inter-racial education is somehow 'subversive.'"

"I cannot quite believe that any such attitude correctly reflects your policies, and therefore venture to suggest that you may be interested to check up on the inquiry.

"We would appreciate being advised of the facts as to why any investigation of the school has been made.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Roger N. Baldwin

Roger N. Baldwin"
Mr. Baldwin’s letter is attached. A reply to Mr. Baldwin is also attached for your approval.

For your information, the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, is the subject of an eight-section Bureau case file and considerable investigation was conducted concerning this school during the early 1940s. The first report was submitted under date of January 29, 1940, and a closing report was submitted on July 4, 1943, by the Knoxville Office. For your additional information, there is attached here to a four-page summary which was prepared concerning the Highlander Folk School dated February 21, 1947. This memorandum is up to date inasmuch as no additional investigation has been conducted since 1943.

In order to definitely ascertain as to whether there was any basis in the allegation made by Mr. Baldwin, mentioned above, SAC Robey of the Knoxville Office was telephonically contacted on February 19 and 20, 1951, in order to develop full information in this regard.

On February 19, 1951, SAC Robey advised that the Knoxville Office had conducted no investigation concerning the Highlander Folk School as such; however, there had been individual investigations made which had touched on the activities of this school such as:

Atomic Energy Act - Applicant Case

Investigation of [redacted] was conducted over the period from April to October, 1950. This investigation revealed that Therefore, a part of the investigation of this applicant centered upon his connection with the Highlander Folk School. Under date of February 21, 1951, SAC Robey advised by tele-type there was no discussion of the interracial character of the Highlander Folk School during the investigation of this case.

During 1946, Knoxville initiated an investigation of a matter inasmuch as information was received reflecting that he had joined the Communist Party, USA.

In February 21, 1951, SAC Koby advised that during none of the interviews with the informant was there any discussion of the interracial character of the Highlander Folk School.

You will recall under date of December 10, 1950, Kyles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, wrote a letter to Assistant Director H. H. Clegg to which he attached a statement of the purpose, program and policy of the Highlander Folk School which was approved by the Executive Council of that school on April 3, 1950, and a press release of the school dated November 20, 1950. In his letter to Mr. Clegg, Horton indicated that a Special Agent of the Bureau had commented that the news release would be considered Communist by a majority of southern people. He contrasted the opinion of the Agent with the position taken by Mr. Clegg at the

CONFIDENTIAL
"New York Herald Tribune" Forum. Prior to answering Horton, the Knoxville Office was contacted and Special Agents who interviewed Horton on December 7, 1950, in connection with the Remington perjury investigation, were asked concerning the Horton allegation. These two Agents furnished a signed statement to SAC Robey on December 22, 1950, in which they stated emphatically that the news release referred to in Horton's letter was never displayed to them by Horton nor the contents discussed with them by Horton, and that neither of the two Agents made any comment that even remotely approached the statement allegedly made to Horton. At the conclusion of the interview Horton was insistent that the Agents accept the copy of the 1949 Program of the Highlander Folk School, and a mimeographed release entitled, "Highlander Folk School, Statement of Purpose, Program and Policy." The signed statement also carried the statement that at no time had the Agents questioned neighbors of Horton regarding visits of Negroes at the Highlander Folk School.

The Knoxville Office had further advised that Horton had been interviewed on the following cases since June, 1950: June 27, 1950, in connection with the Remington case; October 6, 1950, in connection with the Atomic Energy Act - Applicant case; November 2, 1950, in connection with the Presidential Appointee, Department of State, Loyalty of Government Employees case; and December 7, 1950, mentioned above.

SAC Robey in a teletype dated February 21, 1951, has advised that the following Agents of the Knoxville Office have either interviewed Lyles Horton at the Highlander Folk School or conducted investigations at Monteagle, Tennessee, and vicinity during the past year: Special Agents

These Agents have emphatically stated that no discussion was had with Horton on any matter pertaining to the interracial character of the Highlander Folk School nor has any inquiry been made of Horton or any person in Monteagle or vicinity with regard to the interracial character of the school.
Myles Horton is the subject of Bureau file 100-11615 which is now closed. He at one time was carried on the Knoxville Key Figure List.

It was noted in Mr. Baldwin's letter that the allegation against the FBI had come to his attention as a contributor to the Highlander Folk School. It is possible, therefore, that Mr. Baldwin had received his erroneous information from Myles Horton, the Director of the Highlander Folk School.

ACTION

In view of the above information, it is recommended that the attached letter to Mr. Baldwin be approved.

There is also attached hereto a letter to the Knoxville Office instructing that any future investigation of the Highlander Folk School should be so conducted that no individual will obtain the erroneous impression that the Bureau's interest therein is based on the fact that its facilities are used for interracial education.

---

1. Continued Knoxville office to make no further contact with Highlander Folk School on any matter.
2. Why did we utilize such cumbersome procedure to get to bottom of charges made by Horton in Dec.
3. In no matter I got nothing from contacts by Mr. Horton's office of activity at Highlander Folk School - why?

Office Memorandum

TO: Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

FROM: Peyton Ford

DATE: March 5, 1951

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
Information Concerning

This will refer to your memorandum of February 26, 1951, in reply to my memoranda of February 19, 1951, regarding correspondence from Mr. Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, Montezuma, Tennessee, and from Mr. Albert E. Barnatt of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia. With the letter from Mr. Myles Horton I transmitted a draft of a proposed reply for your comment. In your memorandum under acknowledgment you state in connection with this proposed letter to Mr. Horton "I cannot accede to the proposal of having our Agents conduct interviews at the Highlander Folk School which would require our Agents to submit written interrogatories at all times in all matters upon which the FBI may be seeking information from the Highlander Folk School." You add, furthermore, "I cannot accede to any restriction which would prohibit the FBI from interviewing any person it saw fit" and add further that "rather than accede to any such restrictions, I would prefer to instruct our Agents to refrain from any contact with any member of the Highlander Folk School staff." I note further from a letter which you addressed to Mr. Roger N. Baldwin, Chairman, National Committee, American Civil Liberties Union, under date of February 26, 1951, you advised him that since your contacts at the school have either been misunderstood or have become a source of irritation to Mr. Myles Horton, director of the school, you have issued instructions to discontinue any direct contacts with any representatives of the school.

In this connection I want to draw careful attention to the draft of the proposed reply to Mr. Horton which I forwarded with my memorandum of February 19 and to point out that I did not suggest that you accede to the request of Mr. Horton. My first point was that there should normally be no serious objection to having agents of the Bureau make their contacts at one central point; that is, the director of the school. This would not mean that further contacts may not be necessary or desirable. My second assumption in preparing this draft was that if during the interviews it was desired to make stenographic recordings of the questions and answers, or to answer questions propounded by the preparation of affidavits, I could see no objection to that course of action. In fact, it would seem that there might be considerable advantage to the Bureau. My letter did not contemplate that you accede to the request that you submit written questions in advance with regard to the seeking of information.
I particularly do not want to leave the impression that I am urging any change in your present method of contacting this school or any other organization, and I furthermore do not want to suggest that you discontinue all contacts with this or any other organization if you believe such contacts are of value in promoting the work of the Bureau. The draft was a suggestion of a possible solution, on which I wished your comments.

Well I got your comments. We shall handle our investigation as we consider it best practical and desirable.

Reference is made to the material forwarded by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. to the Attorney General on February 20, 1951. Included in this material was a form letter dated February, 1951, captioned "Dear Friend" over the signature of Myles Horton, Highlander Director of the Highlander Folk School. In this communication the statement appears,
"What strategy prompted the FBI Agents to watch the school by night and to harass neighbors with questions linking Negroes with Communism is not clear."

At 11:50 A.M. today I called SAC Robey and advised him of the reference of this material to the Bureau. I particularly read the above statement and other excerpts from Horton's letter.
I inquired of Mr. Robey whether Agents of the Knoxville Office had conducted any surveillances at nighttime at or in the vicinity of the Highlander Folk School; also whether any informants have been contacted at or in the vicinity of the Highlander Folk School at night; and, further, whether the Knoxville Office had conducted any neighborhood investigations at or in the vicinity of the Highlander Folk School at night.

I requested Mr. Robey to look into this matter immediately and advise the Bureau promptly of the results of his check.

MARCH 17 1951

I am quoting below, for your information and for such action as you may deem appropriate, a letter dated February 15, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General by Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Emory University, Georgia.

"My long time and trusted friend, Dr. Myles Horton, Director of Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, has been in recent correspondence with you about the activities of agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in that mountain community. Apparently, some agents have surmised that the free admission of negroes as students at Highlander constituted evidence of communist point of view. These agents are said to have stated that such would be the natural interpretation on the part of many people in the region. This is, of course, a totally inaccurate interpretation, both of the school and of the best sentiment in the southeast. Under supreme court authority many public institutions of higher learning have opened their registration to qualified negro students. At the present time between 1100 and 1200 negro students are studying in such institutions. Southern people are more generally happy than unhappy over this outcome. Students here in my own institution recently voted as overwhelmingly favorable to the admission of qualified negro students.

"I have known Dr. Horton and the Highlander Folk School since the foundation of that institution. I am a regular contributor to its budget and I am in deep sympathy with its programs and objectives. F. B. I. agents should be investing their time and the government's money in detecting the real enemies of America, rather than harassing those who so competently and intelligently support and extend democracy as the Highlander Folk School. I am sending a copy of this letter to Senator Estes Kefauver, who is personally acquainted with Highlander Folk School and its staff and, to Dr. Horton."
TO: Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

FROM: Peyton Ford
Deputy Attorney General

SUBJECT: There is attached hereto a letter, with enclosures, from Mr. Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, addressed to the Attorney General under date of January 31, 1951, together with a draft of a reply to Mr. Horton.

Before dispatching this reply, I would appreciate receiving your comments regarding it.
Department of Justice
Office of the Deputy Attorney General
Washington

February 19, 1951

Mr. Myles Horton
Director, Highlander Folk School
Monteagle, Tennessee

My dear Mr. Horton:

This will acknowledge your letter of January 31, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General, requesting advice about a problem growing out of the attendance of negroes at the Highlander Folk School. You advise that the Highlander Executive Council members are disturbed by the exchange of correspondence with Mr. Hugh H. Clegg, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and comment that if agents can deny what they have said, they can likewise report things they have not been told. You quote a motion which was made by Miss Lacy Randolph Mason, which provides that the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing and shall make his replies in writing provided legal counsel advises this action. You then request the Attorney General's advice as to the legality of the council's proposal that interviews be carried on in writing.

I should first point out to you that the Attorney General is authorized by law to give advice only to the President of the United States and to the various Department heads, in view of which I regret that the Department cannot advise you regarding the legal situation involved. It occurs to me, however, that there should normally be no serious objection to having Special Agents contact the Highlander Director when desiring information from the staff of the school as contemplated by the motion quoted in your letter. Furthermore, I would suppose that written replies to questions, either in the form of stenographic recording of the questions and answers, or in the form of affidavits, would be quite satisfactory. I believe that you will find the agents quite willing to accede to your desires in this respect.

Yours sincerely,

Peyton Ford
Deputy Attorney General
We reaffirm our faith in democracy as a goal that will bring dignity and freedom to all; in democracy as an expanding concept encompassing human relations from the smallest community organization to international structure; and permitting all economic, social, and political activities.

Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services.

We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or where freedom of thought and discussion is limited; that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination and segregation; that there must be diversity of approach but each step must be in conformity with the goal, which is dishonored by each undemocratic act.

With a democratic goal, we are in a position to fight anything that gets in the way, whether it be totalitarian communism, or fascism or monopoly dominated capitalism.

The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in creating leadership for democracy. Our services are available to labor, farm community, religious and civic organizations working toward a democratic goal.

The nature of a specific educational program will be determined by the needs of the students.

Use of the services of the School by individual organizations will be in accordance with their own policies so long as these policies do not conflict with the purposes of the School. A staff member will assist in planning and coordinating all programs.

The Highlander Folk School is a chartered institution, cooperatively owned by the teaching staff. It has no affiliations. The policies and program of the School are wholly determined by an Executive Council composed of the staff and recognized Southern leaders.

Highlander Folk School is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the School, foundations and tuition.

The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal. An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path.

Honorable J. Howard McGrath
United States Attorney General
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. McGrath:

Miss Lucy Randolph Mason, Southern Civic Public Relations
Representative, has suggested that I ask your advice about a problem growing out of the attendance of Negroes at the Highlander Folk School. Because of your own personal feeling in regard to discrimination, Miss Mason felt that you would understand the problem here and be in a position to give advice.

The Highlander Folk School endeavors to put racial democracy into practice; consequently we can expect a measure of opposition.

We hardly expected, however, to have Negro students made the subject of investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.
On October 11th I wrote Senator Estes Kefauver that FBI agents were asking our neighbors about the attendance of Negroes and implying that our non-discrimination policy was communistic and immoral.
This line of questioning has created confusion in the minds of our neighbors regarding the rights of Negroes to be at the School.

On December 10th I raised this question with Mr. Hugh H.
Clegg, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and quoted one of the FBI agents who had told me that he thought our enclosed news release condemning discrimination would be considered communistic by a majority of Southern people.

The apparent confusion of racial democracy with communism by the FBI agents and the implication of this kind of thinking alarmed the Highlander Executive Council members who met January 22 and 23.
Council members were also disturbed by the exchange of correspondence with Mr. Clegg. If agents can deny what they have said, they can likewise report things they have not been told. Since they go in pairs, the person interviewed is at a disadvantage.

With this problem in mind, a motion was made by Miss Lucy Randolph Mason "that, because of previous misunderstandings in interviews with FBI agents, the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing, and shall make his replies in writing—provided legal counsel advises this action."

The Council is not raising the question of giving information, but of giving it in such a way that the person interviewed has the protection of a written record. Could you advise us as to the legality of the Council proposal that interviews be carried on in writing.

We shall greatly appreciate your advice on this matter.

Very sincerely yours,

Myles Horton, Director
Highlander Folk School

Monteagle, Tennessee . . . November 20, 1950 . . . "Our Christmas bells could be freedom bells if we dared include all minorities in our circle of brotherhood," Wyles Horton told a conference of church leaders at the Highlander Folk School.

"Freedom bells ringing in the cabins of Negro sharecroppers, ringing for eager minded students with opportunities limited by accident of birth, and freedom bells echoing in distant lands could fill the troubled world with thoughts of peace on earth and good will toward man," he said.

"Highlander's democratic program is based on the brotherhood of man. Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to the freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services," the religious leaders were told.

"The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal," said Horton. "An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path."

********
Dear Myles:

This, to my mind, is a thoroughly honest and perfectly concise expression of the problem you present. I cannot see how Mr. McGrath can fail to understand its significance, and understanding, fail to take steps toward the prevention of future trouble.

Please feel free to use me as a reference if you have such need. I am always willing to speak or write my convictions regarding your personal integrity and the high purpose of Highlander.

I was here some years before you came. The newness of your program aroused wonder and even suspicion in the community. We heard wild tales of communistic intent, alliance with Russia, machine guns in the attic and various forms of immorality. People came to me with these extravagant rumors, begging me to "do something about it." I did do something. I visited the school when you and Don West gave a "play-party" for the children of our community. I went again when Jim Dombrowski started a Bible study class. We learned a good deal about social conditions in the days of Amos and Micah. I went to a meeting held after a neighbor's house had burned down and you started plans — and funds — for building a new home for him. I went to a Christmas party where I helped with the children's games and saw you play Santa Claus with a bag of presents. Once I went to a sewing bee, another neighborhood benefit. I was sick at the time the P. T. A. was organized in your living room, but I heard all about it. I heard, too, of other "good deeds" — by this time the neighbors had something else to talk about than the fearful fantasies of the early days. One dark night, Jim went a good way to bring a doctor for one of my school girls in time to save her and her baby. "I didn't know there were such good folks," one neighbor woman said. Then I heard about the time that Claudia Lewis, the Nursery School teacher, and another one from Highlander, prepared all that was needful to bury a little child in a very poor family.

All these things and many more convinced me that your purpose and plan for coming to live in our community was essentially good and had no ulterior motive. In later years I have learned more of your practical program, your concept of true democracy in your policy of non-discrimination, non-segregation, and your actual example in living what you believe. I know a minister who said, "I wish I could feel that I care as near as Myles Horton to real consecration to the Cause of real Christianity."
"Do you think Highlander is radical?" The last time I was asked this question, I gave this answer which I would give today. "Yes, they are radical— as radical as the Declaration of Independence—or the Sermon on the Mount."

It is because you dare to believe that not only "all men are created free and equal," but that there should be "liberty and justice for all" that you are radical. And the one who bade all men to act like brothers, made no difference between his white children and the black.

I deplore the recent "investigation" of the FBI agents, implying as it did, that your non-discrimination policy toward Negro students constituted proof of your communistic nature, purpose, plan and intent. When racial democracy can be confused with communism in the minds of FBI agents, there is cause for alarm, it seems to me. Our community has come a long way in appreciating and understanding the policy of Highlander, its principles, its practice of real democracy.

But this faith, though fostered for so many years by living proof and example, cannot fail to suffer from the shock of a visit from the FBI in which the school's policy of non-discrimination is given a red tag and label.

With all this in mind, I am glad you have written this letter to Mr. McGrath. I hope it leads to a definite understanding which will affect all future interviews.

With best wishes for you and the rest of the Highlander staff, I remain

Your friend,

Hay Justus
Mr. Hugh H. Clegg
Assistant Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Clegg:

I was pleased to read from the International Labor News Service that you feel that the "success of communism" can be measured by the weaknesses of democracy. I am led to believe by your analysis of the situation that you would approve the enclosed statement of policy of the Highlander Folk School.

In the South, people are often criticized who believe as we do here at Highlander that discrimination is incompatible with democracy. In fact I was told recently by one of your agents that the contents of the enclosed news release would be considered communistic by a majority of Southern people.

I sincerely trust that the position taken by you in the New York Herald Tribune forum is the official position of the F.B.I., and not the position implied by the activities of your representatives who have questioned our neighbors regarding visits of Negroes to the School.

Would you clear this matter up for me?

Sincerely yours,

Myles Horton

Dear Sirs:

This will acknowledge your letter of December 10, 1960.

It has long been the established procedure of this Bureau to refrain from commenting on the statement of aims and purposes of any organizations and, therefore, we cannot comment on the policies of your schools.

With regard to the statement that you attributed to a Special Agent of this Bureau, this will advise that I have chacked with the two Special Agents who contacted you on December 7, 1960. They categorically deny that you received them the news release or that they made any statements to you remotely approaching your allegations.

Very truly yours,

from Highlander Executive Council minutes

Horton gave a full report on some recent activities of FBI agents who are questioning people in the community. The agents have been asking neighbors about Negroes attending or visiting Highlander. Horton read a letter he wrote Senator Kefauver which said in part: "They (the FBI agents) have been particularly insistent in their questions about the attendance of Negroes at Highlander sessions and conferences. They wanted to know where people sleep and what goes on after the conferences are over . . . I hope you can find time to look into this situation and do something to stop intimidation of our neighbors and the inference that the non-discrimination policy of the school, which is that of the CIO and AFL, is communist and immoral."

Horton continued that the agents are going around the community trying to stir up the people by asking loaded questions about the Negro students at Highlander. Meanwhile, Horton read a newspaper report that the assistant Director of the FBI made a speech at the New York Herald Tribune forum in which he said discrimination was incompatible with democracy. Horton congratulated the FBI spokesman and reported a comment made to him by an FBI agent who said that a Highlander News release which condemns discrimination, would be considered communist by a majority of southern people. The FBI Assistant Director answered that he had personally checked the matter and that both agents who talked with Horton, denied emphatically making any such statement.

After prolonged discussion, it was moved by Lucy Randolph Macon that, because of previous misunderstandings in interviews with FBI agents, the Highlander Director shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing, and shall make his replies in writing - provided legal counsel advised this action. Motion seconded by Emil Millisett and passed.

It was also suggested by Miss Mason that the Director shall write U.S. Attorney General Howard McGrath and review this situation and explain to him why we have been forced to take this action; and that a copy of this letter shall be sent to Senator Keafauer and Highlander Sponsors.

School Spurs Racial Anity In Southland

The Southern Success Story—IX

This is the ninth in a series of articles which tell of the progress being made in the southern states toward the national goal of racial equality.

By Bicknell Eubanks

Montezuma, Tenn.

Practical methods of solving many of the problems facing the Negro at the Highlander Folk School are on display at the school, which is located in a beautiful wooded section of rural Tennessee.

Sizable whites and Negroes are brought together in practical fashion. And while whites and Negroes are going back into the fields to teach the Negroes through experience, the racial barrier is being broken down.

The visitor to Highlander sees little in the physical plant of the school that looks especially experimental. He notices buildings of simple, beautiful design (they are designed by Carl Koch and constructed by W. T. Mass architect), school for nonwhite children and a library are the only new buildings which suggest it is a school.

Accepted by Hill Folk

But Myles Horton, who founded this unique institution, points to the school's record of seeking to lift the veil of suspicion and fear that have been on the Negroes in the South. "I have met with many whites who say they can't trust us, but we have shown them through the simple method of bringing them into contact with Negroes that we have been wrong," Mr. Horton says.

"We really have to ask the question in our own minds what the school is," he continues. "Will the members of the community begin to trust us?""The school cannot succeed unless it is accepted by the community and has the backing of the community."

The school has been accepted by the community and the people of the surrounding area have contributed generously to its support.

"The school is not only a school," Mr. Horton says, "it is a laboratory for the community. It is a place where people can come together and learn to live together in peace and harmony."

The school has a unique policy in its operation. It accepts adult students and various organizations to work with them on current problems.

"We want only leaders," Horton explains. "We don't care what they are leaders of, but we want leaders who are interested in the community and its problems."

In addition to its educational work, the school has been involved in various community projects, such as the building of a community center, the establishment of a community health clinic, and the organization of a community library.

"We want to be a resource for the community," Mr. Horton says. "We want to help the community to become stronger and more united."

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

PURPOSE

To submit for your approval the attached memorandum to Mr. Peyton Ford which is in answer to additional material which the Department forwarded to the Bureau relating to the captioned matter.

DETAILS

On March 9, 1951, the Department furnished the Bureau certain material which had been sent to the Attorney General by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., of the 22nd Congressional District, New York, which material had been received either directly or indirectly from Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School.

A review of this material reveals that it is very similar to the material previously forwarded to the Bureau by Mr. Peyton Ford and which was answered in our memorandum to him dated February 26, 1951.

Photostatic copies of this material have been made and it is suggested that the originals be returned to Mr. Peyton Ford together with our reply to him.

A review of this material reveals that in the letter addressed to "Dear Friend" dated February, 1951, signed by Myles Horton, the second paragraph contains a statement, "What strategy prompted the FBI Agents to watch the school by night and to harass neighbors with questions linking Negroes with Communism is not clear." This statement can be construed as a new allegation on the part of Horton that the FBI has been conducting physical surveillances at night on the Highlander Folk School.

In view of this new allegation, SAC Robey of the Knoxville Office was telephonically contacted on March 12 and requested to furnish any facts relating to the allegation. On the same date SAC Robey advised the Bureau by teletype as follows:

Attachment
"1. Knoxville Office has not conducted any surveillances at night at or in vicinity HFS.

"2. Knoxville Office has not contacted any informants at or in vicinity HFS at night.

"3. Knoxville Office has not conducted any neighborhood investigations at or in vicinity HFS at night. However, AAAAAA, was contacted in connection with case entitled by SAs and was not available for interview until this time.

The results of this interview are set forth in a report of Special Agent as follows:
Under date of February 27, 1951, the Knoxville Office was instructed to make no contacts whatsoever at the Highlander Folk School and that all the Agents in the Knoxville Office should be further instructed that no discussion pro or con should be made with any individual concerning the Highlander Folk School.

ACTION

Inasmuch as this allegation of Horton that the FBI conducted a physical surveillance of the Highlander Folk School at night is erroneous, there is attached hereto for your approval a memorandum to Mr. Peyton Ford so advising him. The material which Mr. Ford forwarded to the Bureau is also being returned to him, photostatic copies having been made for our files.

As originally looks as if our Knoxville Office has been grief in attempts to develop informants.

PURPOSE

To answer the questions you asked with respect to the information set out in my memorandum of February 29, 1951, which is attached.

DETAILS

(1) You wanted to know the identities of the individuals who handled various phases of this situation which arose in connection with the Highlander Folk School.

The original complaint regarding this entire matter was received in a letter dated December 10, 1950, from Mr. Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, addressed to Mr. H.H. Clegg. Mr. Clegg referred this communication to the Security Investigative Division for handling. The reply was prepared by Supervisors after the matter had been discussed with the Internal Security Section, Mr. Laughlin and Mr. Belmont. Prior to preparing the reply, Mr. Laughlin called the Knoxville Office and SAC Robey, after questioning the Agents who interviewed Horton on December 7, 1950, advised that the Agents had categorically denied they had made the statement attributed to them by Horton.

The reply originally was prepared for the Director's signature. Mr. Belmont recommended it would be more appropriate to reply over Mr. Clegg's signature. This was done. This letter was initiated by Messrs. Laughlin, Belmont and Winterrowd and signed by Mr. Clegg.

The second phase of this matter arose when Mr. Roger Baldwin of the American Civil Liberties Union directed a letter to you dated February 14, 1951. The cover memorandum dated February 21, 1951, and the proposed letter to Mr. Baldwin, which was attached, were prepared by after discussion with F. J. Baumgardner, Leo L. Laughlin and A. H. Belmont. They were initialed by Messrs. Laughlin, Belmont, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Rosen.

The third phase of this situation was initiated by the receipt of two memoranda from Mr. Peyton Ford, Deputy Attorney General, both dated February 19, 1951. In Mr. Ford's communications, he for warded a letter dated January 31, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General from Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, together with certain other material which Horton had forwarded with his letter. Mr. Ford also forwarded the contents of a letter dated February 13, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General by Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia. These memoranda from Mr. Ford raised additional questions which were set forth in my memorandum of February 23, 1951. To that memorandum, prepared by [Redacted] and F. J. Baumgardner, were attached proposed letters to Mr. Roger Baldwin and to Mr. Peyton Ford. This memorandum was initialed by A. H. Belmont, F. J. Baumgardner and [Redacted].

You inquired when [Redacted] was interviewed and who is he.

As reported in the referenced memorandum, the Highlander Folk School was not discussed during this interview.

In addition to the above questions, you instructed that the Knoxville Office be advised not to discuss the Highlander Folk School pro or con with anyone.
CONFIDENTIAL

The Knoxville Office has been so instructed.

You further instructed that the proposed letters to Mr. Roger Baldwin and to Mr. Peyton Ford, which were attached to my memorandum of February 23, 1951, both be changed.

Both of these letters were changed pursuant to your instructions.

ACTION

The Security Investigative Division sincerely regrets that a situation such as this did arise and you may be assured that every endeavor will be made to profit from this experience.

Reference is made to the letter dated March 14, 1951, which the Attorney General received from Lucy Randolph Mason, Southern Public Relations Representative of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, Atlanta, Georgia, relating to the captioned matter. We have made a typewritten copy of this letter for our files and are returning the original herewith to you.

The enclosed letter is very similar to previous letters received by the Attorney General from Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, and Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia, which were discussed in considerable detail in my memorandum to you of February 26, 1951. The letter from Miss Mason is also similar to the letter from Congresswoman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., addressed to the Attorney General, which was discussed in my memorandum to you of March 13, 1951.

The matters mentioned by Miss Mason were answered previously in my memoranda referred to above and no further action is contemplated by this Bureau in connection therewith.

Hon. J. Howard McGrath

Dear Mr. McGrath:

As a member of the Executive Council of the Highlander Folk School, I was pleased to know from Myles Horton, the director, that a number of people had written to you concerning the recent visit to the School of FBI agents.

It is very disturbing that when the FBI visits the school the question of Negro attendance there seems to be a contributing factor in confusing the School with Communism. This is very dangerous, as I am sure you will agree.

In fact this whole manifestation of confusion in the minds of reactionary people between unions, Negroes and Communists comes up often enough to deserve thought and care - and some basic instruction to FBI investigators, especially those who are southern and have deep prejudices - against Negroes, and often against CIO union people.

I have been on the Highlander Council for some twelve years and have known the School for a longer time. I rarely miss a meeting. Also I have taught in the School almost every season and have spent days there. So I can testify from personal knowledge that the School is a sound, healthy institution, doing a good job in helping train union leaders (AF of L as well as CIO).

If high character, devotion to the workers' cause, and belief that union members will be better leaders and citizens for having had some 'workers' education' spells Communism, it can only do so with very ignorant and prejudiced persons.

Even though a severe case of flu prevented my writing nearer the time of the incident that caused the letters, I am writing now as I am sure you will want to know what reactions followed the FBI visit to Highlander.

Cordially yours,

/e/ Lucy R. Mason

Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Congressman:

This will refer to your transmittal memorandum of February 20, 1951, addressed to the Attorney General, forwarding a communication, with enclosures, from Mr. Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee.

This material is very similar to material that was previously forwarded to the Department by Mr. Horton, at which time the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation advised that he had checked into the allegation made by Mr. Horton, and he wished to assure the Department that the Bureau had never investigated the Highlander Folk School, any representative of the school, or any other individual on the ground that the Highlander Folk School or the individual participated in interracial educational activities nor have the Bureau Agents inquired relative to the interracial aspects of that school.

It is noted that Mr. Horton, in his letter dated February, 1951, addressed to "Dear Friend," makes a new allegation in the following words: "That strategy prompted the FBI Agents to watch the school by night . . ."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, through its Knoxville office, made a most careful check concerning this allegation that a physical surveillance or "watch" was conducted on the Highlander Folk School at night by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Special Agent in Charge of the Knoxville office has assured the Director that no surveillance or "watch" has been conducted either at or in the vicinity of the Highlander Folk School.

Yours sincerely,

Feyton Ford
Deputy Attorney General
Mr. Peyton Ford
Deputy Attorney General

Director, FBI

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
INFORMATION CONCERNING

March 13, 1951

Reference is made to the material which you received from Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., of the 22nd Congressional District, New York, relating to the captioned matter and which you transmitted to this Bureau on March 9, 1951. We have made appropriate photostatic copies of this material and are returning the originals herewith to you.

The enclosed material is very similar to that previously forwarded by you to the Bureau and which was discussed in some detail in my memorandum to you of February 23, 1951.

It is noted, however, that Kylee Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, in his letter dated February, 1951, addressed to "Dear Friend" made a new allegation not incorporated in his previous correspondence with the Attorney General, namely, "that strategy prompted the FBI agents to catch the school by night...."

The Knoxville Office of this Bureau made a most careful check concerning the allegation that a physical surveillance or "catch" was conducted on the Highlander Folk School at night by Special Agents of the FBI. The Special Agent in Charge of my Knoxville Office has assured me that no surveillance or "catch" at night has been conducted either at or in the vicinity of the Highlander Folk School.

No further action is contemplated by this Bureau regarding the enclosed material.
Dear Friend,

The people who have been asking our mountain neighbors about Negro students at Highlander will want to know the details. The need for advice on what you need to know that is going on here. We believe the Attorney General of the United States is sympathetic towards and have written to the enclosed letter, and on the advice of the Attorney General of the United States, they have requested that the FBI agents be brought to school by night. The arrows neighbors have questions about Negroes with sympathetic people in the community. This has resulted in the presence of Negroes at Highlander for the past ten years. Without a protest (and longer with protests) in the present situation that the presence of Negroes is one of the reasons for American life. Without a protest, people are being considered by the United States.
The Council members were also notified by the subject of correspondence with Mr. Price. FBI agents can interview the Florida office in Chicago, as they wish, and they can also interview people in other places. The FBI has not been interviewed, as a disadvantage.

With this problem on the mind, the Association made its own decision. Because of previous misunderstandings in interviews with FBI agents, the Highlander Director shall report for the interview. He shall ask that all questions posed by FBI agents be taken down in writing. If the interviewee asks for this action, the interview shall be held in writing. If the interviewee asks for this action, the interview shall be held in writing.

The decision on the matter of living accommodations was this: The Highlander is not in a position to make a written record. It could not be done. If the Highlander makes a written record, it should be made in the interview by the interviewee. A full copy of this written record shall be furnished to the Highlander.

I am writing to you in connection with the problem as you present. I cannot see how your proposal in connection with the education of future leaders will bear results. The evidence is too meager.

Do you think Highlander is radical?" I believe I was asked this question by the President, and if I was asked it at all, it was because you want to believe that not only black men are involved in race. So much and that there should be liberty and justice for all what you are radical, where the conditioned ill men and all like others made no difference between his white children and his black. In the recent investigation of the N.D., it is explored, the recent investigation of the N.D. agents, implying that it is said that your non-discrimination policy toward Negro students constituted a proof of your communistic nature, purpose, plan and intent. When bald Americanism can be confused with communism in the land. N.D. agents, we were, it seems to me, your element, to long time in appreciating and understanding the policy of Highlander to principles, its practice of real democracy, which is fostered for too many years by living proof and example, among them; that perform the work of democracy it is true, which is needed to policy of non-discrimination as given, prove and label.

Mr. J. W. Moore
Assistant Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Moore:

I have recently been informed of the International Labor Office's concerns about the "success for communism" which is taking place in the southern United States. I think it is important that we address this situation.

In the South, people are often criticized for being depressed and for the conditions that they face. It is true that discrimination is commonplace, but I believe that progress can be made. I have recently attended a meeting held by one of the organizations that is working to improve conditions in the South.

I would like to ask for your assistance in this matter. I am confident that we can make a difference if we work together.

Sincerely,

DETAILS

Scope of the Investigation of the Highlander Folk School

In order to clarify just what investigation the Knoxville Office has conducted concerning the Highlander Folk School either directly or incidental to developing full information on the activities of various individuals, I wish to advise you as follows:

Under date of October 6, 1939, the Knoxville Office furnished the Bureau the first reported information concerning the Highlander Folk School. The first report reflecting investigation was submitted under date of April 10, 1941. This report set forth the information on the history of the school and the people connected with it. The letter and the report reflected that the investigation was instituted only after numerous allegations were received regarding Communist activity at the school. No active investigation has been made of the school since the closing report dated July 4, 1943. The file fails to reflect any pertinent information received since that date regarding any recognizable Communist Party activity on the part of the school itself; however, allegations of Communist Party sympathy or activity have been received concerning persons who were or had been connected with the school. These investigations were directed solely toward the individuals and not the Highlander Folk School. Some examples of these investigations are as follows:
William Walter Remington, Perjury
Atomic Energy Act - Applicant
Security Matter - C; Loyalty of Government Employees
Security Matter - C; Loyalty of Government Employees

RECOMMENDATION: Amb

51 APR 16 1951
As indicated in the four-page memorandum which was attached to my memorandum of February 21, 1951, the Highlander Folk School is not a school in the normal sense but merely has short session labor and social study classes usually of a two weeks' duration. No mention was made either by me or the Agents interviewing him regarding the Highlander Folk School.

Although as stated above no investigation has been made of the Highlander Folk School since July 4, 1943, the Knoxville Office made an effort to develop a confidential informant.

Due to the volume of applicant cases in the Knoxville Office, particularly Atomic Energy Act - Applicant cases, people living at Monteagle, Tennessee, have been contacted; however, the Agents working in that area are aware of the general nature of the Highlander Folk School and the Agents have advised that no inquiries have been made concerning the interracial character of the school. SAC Robey has advised that he has personally contacted all of the Agents in the Knoxville Office who had worked in Monteagle and vicinity in the past year and all have categorically denied that they have discussed the interracial character of the school with anyone and that they have exerted utmost caution to prevent anyone from gaining the impression that the school was being investigated by the FBI.
Answer to Your Inquiries Raised in My Memorandum of February 21, 1951, Which is Attatched.

1. Why was Horton carried on the Knoxville Key Figure List and why was the case closed out?

In June, 1940, Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School, was reported as taking an active part in or attending meetings held by the various Communist Party units in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and vicinity and that he formulated the policies and directed the activities of all the local units, as well as the entire group of units. This information was furnished On the basis of this allegation a custodial attention card was recommended and approved on Myles Horton. He was later listed as a Key Figure by the Knoxville Office. Investigation conducted of Horton between 1942 and 1944 failed to substantiate the original allegation that Horton was engaged in Communist activity; therefore, by closing report dated January 25, 1944, the Knoxville Office removed Horton from the Knoxville Key Figure List and the Security Index Card on Horton was cancelled by letter dated January 7, 1946.

2. You instructed that the Knoxville Office be advised to make no further contact with the Highlander Folk School on any matter.

Pursuant to your instructions the Bureau on February 22, 1951, telephonically instructed SAC Robey of the Knoxville Office to make no further contacts at the Highlander Folk School on any matter.

3. You inquired, "Why did we utilize such cumbersome procedure to get to the bottom of charges made by Horton in December, 1950?"

It has been the practice in the Security Division immediately make direct contact with any individual who might make an unfounded allegation against the Bureau. In this instance we didn't go directly to Horton upon receipt of his December 10, 1950, letter because we recognized him as a trouble maker and felt that nothing would be gained by such an approach. We were wrong and I regret that we didn't go to him immediately and obtain specifics from him and compel him to either prove or retract his statement.

4. In connection with using [redacted] as a source of information, you advised that [redacted] was being contacted for information on the activities of the Highlander Folk School. You asked why.

Pursuant to your suggestions, there is attached hereto for your approval a proposed reply to Roger Baldwin of the American Civil Liberties Union in which it is pointed out to him that the interracial character of the Highlander Folk School has never been considered as the basis for any investigation conducted by this Bureau.
Memorandum from Peyton Ford dated February 19, 1951, Dealing with Correspondence from Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Folk School

There is attached hereto a memorandum from Peyton Ford dated February 19, 1951, with photostatic copies of Horton's letter and attachments to Peyton Ford, together with Mr. Ford's draft of a reply to Horton. This correspondence regards the same unfounded allegation that Agents of the Knoxville Office have construed the interracial nature of the Highlander Folk School as being Communist. It is not believed that the Bureau can agree with Peyton Ford's draft reply to Mr. Horton. Our Knoxville Office obviously should not conduct interviews in the Highlander Folk School with stenographic or other persons recording the interview. The attached reply for your approval to Peyton Ford points out the reason why this procedure should not be followed. There is also attached for Peyton Ford's information a copy of the summary memorandum prepared concerning the Highlander Folk School.

Memorandum from Peyton Ford dated February 19, Concerning Correspondence from Dr. Albert E. Barnett of the Candler School of Theology Emery University, Georgia

There is attached hereto a memorandum from Peyton Ford dated February 19, 1951, which sets forth the contents of a letter directed to the Attorney General from Albert E. Barnett which also regards the unfounded allegation that Agents of the Knoxville Office were investigating the Highlander Folk School because they surmised "that the free admission of Negroes as students at Highlander constituted evidence of Communist point of view." Obviously, Myles Horton has persuaded Dr. Barnett to write Attorney General McGrath in order to strengthen Horton's complaint against the FBI. For your information, Dr. Barnett is mentioned in the Bureau files. These references reflect that Barnett has been connected in one way or another with the following organizations which have been subject to considerable Communist infiltration.
Southern Conference for Human Welfare - At a dinner held on May 6, 1947, for the benefit of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare at Chicago, Illinois, Dr. Albert E. Barnett was listed as a sponsor and speaker. (100-10355-337)

The files also reflect that Dr. Barnett was one of the members of the Ad Hoc Committee which welcomed the Reverend Hewlett Johnson's arrival at La Guardia Airport in November, 1946. Unusual publicity resulted from the fact that the so-called "Red Dean's" first application for a visa was turned down due to the fact that he was sponsored by the National Council of American Soviet Friendship. (This organization has been declared to be within the purview of Executive Order 9835.) (100-146964-1477)

The "Daily Worker" of May 20, 1949, reflects that 275 prominent individuals had signed an open letter urging that Congress reject the Atlantic Pact and called upon President Truman to settle issues now outstanding through direct negotiations with the Soviet Union. Dr. Barnett was one of the signers. (100-3-81-A) Committee for Peaceful Alternative to the Atlantic Pact - On August 21, 1949, Dr. Barnett was listed as an individual from Illinois who had signed an open letter to Senators and Congressmen urging defeat of President Truman's arms program. (100-364437-7)

Mid-Century Conference for Peace - In Chicago, May 29-30, 1950, Dr. Barnett was carried as a sponsor of this organization from the Chicago area. (100-364437-36 p.22)

Methodist Federation for Social Action - He was a delegate to a meeting of the organization held in Ohio, July 18 to 21, 1950. (61-3615-41)

No investigation has ever been conducted concerning Dr. Barnett; however, as indicated above, there is evidence reflecting that he has been connected with organizations which have been subject to Communist infiltration. In the attached memorandum to Peyton Ford, he is advised that Dr. Barnett has been misinformed by Myles Horton with respect to nature of our interest in the Highlander Folk School.
ACTION

There is attached hereto proposed letters to Roger Baldwin and to Peyton Ford for your approval.

ADDITIONAL - 2-23-51

The Director further inquired as to why more complete details were not furnished in the first instance concerning the extent of our investigation at the Highlander Folk School.

Inasmuch as the issue raised by Horton and Baldwin was to the effect that Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had confused interracial education with communism, the background information furnished in our original memorandum was designed to cover that issue.

We now realize that we did not give the Director sufficient background to enable him to properly evaluate this situation.

We will make every effort to avoid this in the future.

Both men were thanked for the above information and informed they would not be interfering with any investigations being conducted by the FBI. No other comments were made concerning the Highlander Folk School.

The above information is being furnished to the Bureau for information purposes, and no further action is being taken by this division.

It should be noted that if a complete investigation is conducted by the Internal Revenue agents regarding the Highlander Folk School, the results of such investigation would possibly be extremely enlightening, especially concerning sources of income for this school. However, in view of previous instructions received from the Bureau, no effort will be made to obtain such information unless instructed to do so by the Bureau.

We should get this from Internal Revenue.

MYLES HORTON
HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

With reference to the attached letter from Herbert Monte Levy, Staff Counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union, there are two issues involved.

The first issue - Does the FBI consider interracial education as somewhat subversive and does it ask questions on this basis of neighbors.

Investigation which was made in February proves this view without foundation. To re-check the matter, I called SAC Robey at Knoxville and asked him if we had contacted neighbors. He stated every Agent working in that area had been questioned at least twice and we had not contacted neighbors.

Collateral to this issue is the attempt of the American Civil Liberties Union to force the FBI to issue instructions concerning comments on interracial education. There is no need for such instructions since they are part and parcel of the Bureau's operating procedures and policies. To issue such instructions would in effect admit that such a condition existed. To date there is no proven case to substantiate this.

The second issue has to do with contacting the Highlander Folk School.

The minutes of the Highlander Executive Council for January 22 and 23, 1951, which were forwarded to the Attorney General reflect that "because of previous misunderstandings in interview with FBI agents, the Highlander Director (Myles Horton) shall speak for the staff and shall ask that all questions posed by any FBI agents be put in writing, and shall make his replies in writing - provided legal counsel advises this action." This condition is, of course, impossible, and on February 22, 1951, instructions were issued to the Knoxville Office to make no further contact with the Highlander Folk School on any matter.

A letter to Levy is attached.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have recently reexamined the exchange of correspondence between Mr. Baldwin and you of last February concerning the Highlander Folk School. Your letter was most certainly responsive to Mr. Baldwin's inquiry.

However, a careful reexamination of the correspondence leads us to believe that Mr. Baldwin, who wrote you in his personal capacity rather than as an officer of this organization, did not quite hit the point which was troubling the Highlander Folk School authorities.

The real concern of the School and of several members of our Board who have been contacted by the school authorities is that some questions addressed by F.B.I. investigators to neighbors of the School led the neighbors to believe that the questions were indicative of an attitude on the part of the agents that inter-racial education is somewhat subversive. We are confident that this does not reflect an F.B.I. attitude. For do we know whether the interpretation of the neighbors as to the purport of the questions was reasonable or unreasonable. We wonder whether, to avoid future repetitions of such incidents, it might not be possible to issue appropriate instructions to your agents to guard against any implication on their part that inter-racial education is necessarily subversive.

We note also in your letter of February 26 that you have issued appropriate instructions to discontinue any direct contacts to representatives of the School. But again, although you were not informed of it, Mr. Horton had not been opposed to contacts being made at the School. Indeed, it would seem most unwise to discontinue direct contacts with the school representatives, both from the point of view of the F.B.I. and the students, and Mr. Horton. Doubtless the F.B.I. would be able to get much better and fuller information from the officials of the School than from the neighbors who alone are now being contacted.
I might add that I have communicated my views to Mr. Horton, and that he shares them fully. As he states in a letter to us dated April 14, "I have no objection to direct dealings with the F.B.I. on matters of internal security or in regard to legitimate inquiries. No purpose would be served ... by my failure to cooperate in such matters." He also agrees that the real concern is the issuance of appropriate directives to your agents concerning comments on inter-racial education.

We should appreciate your comments.

Dear Mr. Levy:

I wish to acknowledge your letter of April 18, 1951, with further reference to the allegations of Mr. Myles Horton of the Highlander Folk School.

When Mr. Horton first alleged that interracial education was considered "somewhat subversive" by the FBI, and the basis for investigation, we made a very careful check into the matter. We could find no basis for corroboration of Mr. Horton's statement although it was quite obvious that these allegations had been widely disseminated by Mr. Horton. There are no facts to substantiate Mr. Horton's position that FBI Agents considered interracial education as "subversive," nor did the Agents ask questions which would permit any such impression to be conveyed. In view of the long-standing policies of the FBI and the absence of any proven instances of violations of these policies I saw no necessity then, nor now, to reiterate our policy. The very thought that interracial education is a basis for the conclusion of "subversion" is so far removed from the operations of the FBI that I see no purpose to be served in sending out any instructions on this subject at this time.

I have noted your comment as to the desirability of dealing directly with the Highlander Folk School. This is exactly what we did do on the occasion of our last contact with Mr. Horton. It has always been my view that the most accurate information can be obtained directly from the interested parties rather than from indirect inquiries. The Highlander Executive Council, however, at its meeting

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Re: Letter dated 10/16/51.

On April 17, 1952, Internal Revenue, U.S. Treasury Department, advised that no investigation has as yet been conducted of the Highlander Folk School and its personnel by Treasury Agents. He added that because of a desire by the Internal Revenue Bureau to look into the tax returns of gamblers and racketeers his office had been ordered to discontinue any investigation of the Highlander Folk School for an indefinite period of time.

He advised that he would notify the FBI in the event that investigation was to be conducted at a future date. In view of these facts this case is being closed administratively by the Knoxville Office pending receipt of this advice from MCD.

I am writing this to inform you of an incident that occurred recently. The Highlander Folk School, about three miles off Vantage, is believed by many citizens to be one of the dirtiest files of Communist labor in the United States.

It seems they get a half bushel of mail a day. People loved it, and it was interesting. They have been doing well.

For years they have tried to help the mountain people, but no one knows. Any one around here has helped. It is evident to me, from what I know, that it is a communist center. What can be done about it? Who has the authority to act on finding out about it?

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am writing a confidential letter. The Highlander Folks School, about three miles of Monteagle, is believed by many citizens around here, to be one of the hottest beds of Communist teaching in the United States. It seems they get a half bushel of mail a day. People around here can't understand what it all means. They have been here for years. They claim they are here to help the mountain people, but no one knows of any one around here they have helped.

It is evident to me, from what I know, that it is a communist center. What can be done about it? Who has the authority to act in finding out about it?

Bureau files reflect that in December 1943 the correspondent communicated with the Bureau concerning juvenile delinquency matters and was afforded a cordial acknowledgment.

The letter of acknowledgement is being mailed in a plain envelope inasmuch as Swift indicates that he desires his identity be kept confidential.

Bureau files reflect that a security investigation of the Highland Folk School was closed in 1943. Knoxville file 61-12. Inasmuch as no evidence was developed that the school was Communist controlled or dominated. The files do not disclose pertinent information received since that date indicating Communist Party activity among the pupils of the school; however, allegations of Communist Party sympathies or activity have been received concerning persons who were or had been connected with the school.

COMM - FBI

MAILED 30

6 AUG 20 1953
In regard to the Highland Folk School Bureau teletype to Knoxville dated February 27, 1951, instructed Knoxville to advise all agents that no discussion pro or con should be made with any individual concerning the school.

Bureau letter dated May 13, 1951, requested Knoxville to discreetly obtain a copy of the Bureau of Internal Revenue investigative report concerning the school. It is noted that a number of contacts were made with the Bureau of Internal Revenue for this purpose. By letter dated April 21, 1951, Knoxville reported that the Bureau of Internal Revenue investigation of the school had been postponed and the Bureau of Internal Revenue would advise Knoxville Office in the event that the investigation was conducted.

In view of the contents of the correspondent's communication you are requested to designate an agent to discreetly contact the correspondent as soon as possible and obtain from him the basis and substantiation for the allegations made in his letter bearing in mind the Bureau's Instructions of February 27, 1951, heretofore-mentioned.

In regard to the correspondent's inquiries set out in his letter he should be orally advised that all pertinent information relating to subversive activities should be furnished to the FBI inasmuch as the FBI has been given the general responsibilities for the investigation of subversive activities within the United States under the security program defined by Executive Orders and Congressional enactments.

No investigation should be conducted in connection with the correspondent's allegations without securing specific Bureau authorization as set forth in the Manual of Instructions, Section 67-C, 51.

The results of the interview should be promptly furnished to the Bureau with reference being made to this letter.

(Jenner Committee Request)

Horton long-time head of Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee. Close associate of known Communist Party members. Active in Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW), a cited organization and Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF), successor organization to SCHW. Horton and on West, known Communist, were principal organizers of program Highlander Folk School, when latter organized in 1932. In December, 1950, Horton in letter to Mr. Ylegs accused Bureau Agents of questioning neighbors of Folk School regarding visits of Negroes to School and also of stating that a press release released by School would be considered Communist by a majority of southern people. Horton made similar charges in letter to Attorney General, Senator Estes Kefauver, to the press and to others. Horton's allegations found by Bureau to be false. Horton in letter to Attorney General stated that the Council of the School was considering the procedure for future interviews with Bureau Agents, i.e., of having the Director of School only speak for entire staff or of having all questions asked by Bureau Agents put in writing. Director of School to submit replies in writing. Subsequently Knoxville Office instructed to have no further contacts whatever at Folk School. Present review limited to main files on Horton and Highlander Folk School, and summary report dated October 4, 1957, concerning SCHW which was prepared in accordance with Executive Order 9835 and which contains summary on Horton. See references since that summary were also reviewed. Horton was reported instrumental in starting the Workers Alliance, designated by the Attorney General Pursuant to Executive Order 10150.

'Pastor Swift,' Wife Did a Lot of Healing

Lovable Couple
Now Retired
After 60 Years

By GORDON H. TURNER
Staff Correspondent

MONTEAGLE, Tenn.—Much of the South and nation and in fact a lot of the world would not be aware the same had it not been for a lovable, retired couple now happily living in retirement here.

High above the world'sills which they have done a lot to heal, are the Rev. W. A. Swift, an all-time famous Methodist preacher and his wife, the former Irene Kaiser. Both were born and reared not far apart in southwest Kentucky during the latter quarter of the 19th century.

"Pastor Swift" had written me they were "retired," and that they were 35 years ago and settled down, free from now on, of routine professional duties.

Altogether 60 Years
During this time, he has attended to varied and Sunday school assembly programs here for 60 years (with her husband since the early 1920's). With such an acquaintance, to pass nothing of continuing worldwide correspondence, reading from a large personal library, and filling in a thousand and one little calls and chores around here—the couple is yet quite active.

At their invitation by letter, I spent a recent unforgettable day with this remarkable couple whom I had never before met, and after whom a dozen stories couldn't do justice. He did me the courtesy of complimenting my good-will by letter, in state, and in column. Though a publicity seeker, he consented for me to write these pages.

Swift described hardships long ago and when he served as school janitor to pay his way through a small college.

"When I was born there were no electric lights or paved roads, much less automobiles in Kentucky," he recalled. "But wagons, spinning wheels, and homemade clay lamps were common.

He told of "dropping" corn, then covering and cultivating it with a hoe—aging at three to five weeks to ensuite, which was often raised at four weeks a yard. Much meal was ground at home, corn for 15 cents, 100 for 30 cents a bushel, children walked miles to school, and parents, usually riding horseback to appointments, often got as little as $20 a year's pay.

ENCLOSURE

for the Memphis Commercial Appeal, he considered changing to one of the nation's biggest dailies at a top salary but Swift advised him to remain in Dixie. He did, and in Little Rock became a great lay leader and Bible teacher in Ashbury church. Swift persuaded Marjorie to marry him and when he died a few years ago, was called to preach his funeral.

The Swift triplets, parent-like, bristling with all their own brilliant ideas, were blazing their own brilliant trails. Born in Lexington, Ky., they graduated together at Jackson (Tenn.) high school under principal D. E. Ray and the late E. B. James, then city superintendent. They literally worked a way through college — not for each other but up to two, three, and more, all with exceptional records.

Thomas attended Lambuth (Jackson, Tenn.), the University of Mississippi, and Ohio State, and is now a graduate chemical engineer in Houston, Texas. Margaret graduated from Wesleyan (Macon, Ga.), Scott College in Nashville, and Columbia in New York City when its president was General Eisenhower. Later she attended the Universities of Michigan, California, and Peking China, and served as a missionary to China until the Communists took over and is now field director of the American Red Cross in Japan. Marjorie graduated from Lambuth, Peabody college, and then from Northwestern University with a Ph.D. degree.

Now with a top salary on the University of Alabama faculty, she gets back home more often than the other children to visit the family.

The Swifts hosted me through their big home "so cool in summer that we always sleep under blankets." He has a vegetable garden (mostly beans and tomatoes now) and in lovely flower beds, dahlias are a specialty. There are enough beds in the big house "to sleep several families," and with two kitchens, I got the idea that most of the time it is open house for friends from everywhere. Just the table on the backside is a big guest house as modern as tomorrow, which they plan to rent to assembly visitors who may want to use their own guest house.

Philosophy on World Strolling in the garden, Swift, who has been a student of government and world affairs from boyhood, gave me his philosophy of current conditions.

"The world, since I was born, has improved very fast materially but constantly drifted morally," he said. "That is why we can wereldly religion seems to be the answer to the problem, and the work of the Communists will win out and we will be able to turn back a thousand years or perhaps even destroy civilization in India."

DATE: August 27, 1953

Bureau letter to Reverend W. A. SWIFT, Monteagle, Tennessee, dated 8-6-53.

Rev. WILLIAM ALFRED SWIFT, Monteagle, Tennessee, was interviewed at his residence by Special Agent [deleted] on 8-19-53. Rev. SWIFT advised that he is a retired Methodist Minister, 61 years of age, and that he has resided at Monteagle, Tennessee, for the past 10 years. Rev. SWIFT reported that the Highlander Folk School which is located on highway between Monteagle and Tracy City, Tennessee, was reportedly founded during the early part of 1930 by a man named DOMBROSKY. Rev. SWIFT stated that he did not know DOMBROSKY's first name and that he had never met DOMBROSKY. Rev. SWIFT advised that DOMBROSKY is no longer connected with the Highlander Folk School, but that he is reported to be sympathetic with the Communist. Rev. SWIFT stated that he believed DOMBROSKY to be sympathetic with Communism because of newspaper accounts linking DOMBROSKY with strikes which were occurring all over the United States.
Rev. SWIFT stated that he had never heard any comments made either by or accredited to DOMBROSKY which would lead him to believe him to be Communist and he stated that he had not received any reports of any activity on the part of DOMBROSKY other than the newspaper accounts of DOMBROSKY participating in strikes which would lead him to believe that DOMBROSKY was sympathetic with Communism or any subversive organization.

Rev. SWIFT stated that he has been informed that the Highlander Folk School is reportedly operated under the leadership of a man by the name of HORTON, first name unknown. He said that he has never met HORTON and does not know anyone connected with the Highlander Folk School either in the past or at the present time. He also advised that he has never visited the Highlander Folk School and has never associated with anyone who has frequented the Highlander Folk School or associated with any of the individuals connected with this school.
Rev. SWIFT advised that he has no direct information regarding the Highlander Folk School or any of its past or present personnel. He stated that his only information concerning the possible sympathies of the Highlander Folk School with the Communist Party or other subversive organization is in the form of hearsay information. Rev. SWIFT was asked for specific information even in the form of hearsay upon which he based his opinion that the Highlander Folk School was Communist in nature. Rev. SWIFT advised it is his opinion that the Highlander Folk School was dominated by Communist Sympathizers on the Following events.
Rev. SWIFT stated that sometime during 1952, he observed Mr. HORTON, Highlander Folk School Director, throw away a copy of the Romanian News, Sunday Edition, dated October, 1952, numbered 206. Rev. SWIFT stated that HORTON discarded this newspaper in the Post Office of Monteagle, Tennessee and he reclaimed the newspaper for information purposes. Rev. SWIFT stated that after reading this edition of the Romanian News, he considered it subversive in nature.

Rev. SWIFT stated that the Highlander Folk School has claimed for years that the purpose of their location at Monteagle, Tennessee is to assist the mountain people in that vicinity. He stated that he has been visiting in Monteagle and vicinity for the past 35 years and has lived continually at Monteagle, Tennessee for the past 10 years. He stated that in visiting with mountain people in that vicinity, he has yet to find anyone who has stated that anyone connected with the Highlander Folk School has assisted the mountain people in any way.

Rev. SWIFT said that advised him some time ago that the Highlander Folk School was made up of Communist sympathizers. Rev. SWIFT advised the interviewing agent that did not elaborate on the comment and did not give any reason or basis for making this remark.

Rev. SWIFT also advised that he had been informed by unknown that the Highlander Folk School was a "hotbed of Communism." Rev. SWIFT was unable to furnish any additional information regarding the comment and stated that had not elaborated on this remark. He also stated that he has seen extremely large quantities of mail being delivered at Monteagle Post Office to representatives of the Highlander Folk School. He stated that this mail comes from all over the world and a great deal of it is in the form of air mail and special delivery mail. Rev. SWIFT stated that he cannot understand how any school could receive this much mail unless it was engaged in some sort of illegal or subversive activity.

Rev. SWIFT also advised the interviewing agent that he had been informed by several mountain people, names unknown, that while doing day labor on the grounds of the Highlander Folk School, they had learned that there was a building on the ground of the Highlander Folk School called the Film Center. Rev. SWIFT stated these people had advised him that no one, other than Highlander Folk School personnel were allowed to enter or go near this building. He stated that he had no other information regarding the building, but it seemed rather suspicious to him that a school would be so particular in maintaining a building and its contents in such secrecy.

Rev. SWIFT stated that Dr. J. T. BLACKWOOD, a retired Methodist Minister who is 91 years old and resides at Monteagle, Tennessee, had commented to him that the Methodist Church which was located in the immediate vicinity of the Highlander Folk School had been forced to close its doors. Rev. BLACKWOOD informed Rev. SWIFT that this church was forced to close its doors due to the distractions offered by the Highlander Folk School personnel. He reportedly stated whenever a church service was in progress, the Highlander Folk School personnel would plan a demonstration picnic or offer to take the children on hikes or rides through the woods and in this method distract them from the church services.

Rev. SWIFT advised that the Highlander Folk School personnel were acting as spies in the different churches in the vicinity of Monteagle and Tracy City, Tennessee. When asked to explain what he meant by this, he stated that they attend a church service without invitation and the next Sunday they would go to some different church. He stated that to his knowledge, they have never caused any disturbance at any of these churches, but that they do not continually go to the same church in the vicinity of Monteagle or Tracy City. He was asked specifically why he thought they were acting as spies and he could offer no explanation other than the fact that they did not attend any church regularly.

Rev. SWIFT also advised that he had heard, source unknown, that several manufacturing establishments had refused to build in the vicinity of Monteagle or Tracy City because of the Communist teachings of the Highlander Folk School which was located in the same vicinity of Monteagle and Tracy City, Tennessee. They reportedly stated that they did not want to build near the Highlander Folk School because the school would continually be causing trouble in the form of strikes.

Rev. SWIFT stated that he could not furnish any additional information other than what was related above. He stated he believed the school was a "hot bed of Communist" and he based this opinion upon the several events which are related above. Rev. SWIFT advised he was unable to furnish any additional information regarding the Highlander Folk School either in the form of hearsay or otherwise. Rev. SWIFT was orally advised that all pertinent information relating to subversive activities should be furnished to the FBI, inasmuch as the FBI has been given the general responsibilities for the investigation of subversive activities within the United States under the Security Program defined by Executive Orders and Congressional Enactments. He was informed that if he received any additional information regarding any subversive activities that he should immediately notify the Special Agent in Charge of the Knoxville Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. All confidential informants referred to in this memorandum have furnished reliable information in the past.

On April 21, 1942, a confidential informant advised that Myles Horton, Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, was a speaker at a meeting of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare which was held in Nashville, Tennessee, on April 19 through 21, 1942. According to the informant, Horton spoke on the importance of training the youth of the nation both vocationally and in democracy.

The Southern Conference for Human Welfare has been cited by the Special Committee on Un-American Activities, Report, March 29, 1944, page 147 as a "Communist front which received money from the Robert Marshall Foundation, one of the principal sources of the funds by which many Communist fronts operate." The Highlander Folk School is an institution located near Monteagle, Tennessee. It is an institution with classes on a seminar basis and supported primarily by donations from individuals, from labor unions in the form of payments for students who attend, and to some extent by the Farmer's Union. It offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics, parliamentary procedure and the general field of labor education. This school has had Communist Party members on its staff as instructors, and has followed the practice of welcoming Communist Party members as students, but to my knowledge, the school has never offered courses of instruction in communist matters nor has the communist element ever completely controlled the institution.

Another governmental agency which conducts intelligence investigations has advised that Louis Francis Budenz, former editor of the "Daily Worker," an east coast communist newspaper, and an admitted former official in the Communist Party, advised on November 21, 1952, that the Highlander Folk School was procommunist. (House of Representatives, Select Committee on Inv. Foundations and Other Organs; 100-7254-1084)

On April 19, 1949, Paul Crouch, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party, furnished to this Bureau a signed statement in which he described Nyles Horton as a left wing socialist who was always close to the Communist Party. According to this statement Horton met with officials and representatives of the Communist Party to discuss policy and procedure during the period from 1939 to 1941; and, even though he showed some independence in thought, Horton usually followed the Communist Party line. The statement continues that in 1941 Horton could have been described as a close sympathizer and follower of the Communist Party line; and that his wife, Zylphia Horton, was even closer to the Party than her husband. According to Crouch's statement, when he last saw Zylphia Horton in 1941 she was seriously considering joining the Communist Party.

For your additional information please be advised that Myles Horton referred to above testified in public session before the Jenner Committee on March 20, 1954. You may desire to consult records of this Committee for additional information concerning the subject of your inquiry. (62-68217-1496)

The foregoing information is furnished to you as a result of your request for an FBI file check and is not to be construed as a clearance or a nonclearance of the individual involved. This information is furnished for your use and should not be disseminated outside of your agency.

NOTE: Thumbnail Sketch re Highlander Folk School was checked as up to date with Organization Desk. Inv. on school conducted in 1941 - 1943 based upon numerous complaints received in Knoxville Office concerning Communist activities at the school. Reports have never been disseminated and contain notes reflecting much of the subversive derogatory information contained therein has been repudiated by individuals previously furnishing information. No investigation has been conducted concerning Mrs. Myles Horton. Security - type investigation conducted on Myles Horton in 1942 and 1944 based upon information reflecting that Horton may be a communist and that the Highlander Folk School was communist dominated. The investigation on Horton consists of 2 reports of the Knoxville Office, one dated 3-18-42 and the other dated 1-25-44. The latter report reflects that the investigation on Horton was closed in 1944 since no information had been reliably furnished that he was interested or active in Communist Party affairs in the Knoxville area, although a number of known communists and followers of the Party line were found to be interested in the Highlander Folk School. It is also noted that these reports have not been previously disseminated and much of the subversive, derogatory information contained therein has been repudiated.

I feel that no one on the American scene is making a greater contribution to the building of democracy."

—Richard C. Shipman
Acting President
Montana Farmers Union
INTRODUCTION

Since 1932 Highlander has served as a year round educational center for rural and industrial community leaders and has contributed to the enrichment of the indigenous cultural values of the mountain region in which the school is located.

Our democratic purpose and the educational needs of the people have determined Highlander’s approach. As unionism became a significant factor in the lives of the mountain people, workers education and the training of local leaders for farm organizations were given special attention. We were able to educate the emerging leaders and broaden their concept of leadership to include responsibilities as citizens. Students carried back into their organizations concepts learned at Highlander, where their problems and plans were freely discussed in the light of democratic principles.

While the program has never been limited to work with organizations, we felt that a portion of our time could be profitably spent in developing leadership for the local unions and farm organizations in the South. Today many unions are in a position to do much of their own training. Highlander can now make its greatest contribution, even to the unions, by bringing together people from all walks of life for an educational experience.

Highlander has been emphasizing in recent years education for community leaders and providing educational services only to organizations where there is a maximum opportunity for free and fruitful discussion.

Our present emphasis is the mountain region which includes part of eight states and has a tradition of independence that should provide a sound basis for free discussion and liberal education.

The shift in emphasis which has been taking place is reflected by a three year project for the training of community leaders, and by short resident schools for lay community leaders.

While we will continue the extension program, it is in the resident schools and workshops that the most effective education is carried on. The best education takes place when people can withdraw from the hustle and bustle of everyday life and get a new perspective. Highlander provides such an opportunity through a year around program of resident schools for community leaders and other adults.

SPECIAL EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETING . . .
Interested individuals and representatives of organizations with which Highlander has worked took part in a special Executive Council Meeting on April 27-28, called for the purpose of enlarging the program. Out of this meeting grew the summer workshops on segregation in the public schools.

SUMMER WORKSHOPS ON "The Supreme Court Decisions and the Public Schools . . ."
June 3 — August 6 Full and Part-Time Enrollment 59
August 9 — August 15 Full and Part-Time Enrollment 33

The first workshop of four weeks was devoted to in-depth study of the problems of segregation and integration, and the development of material which might be useful in meeting these problems.

In the second workshop, participants analyzed the materials developed in preparing for work in their own communities and for distribution.

The two workshops were attended by a total of 71 participants, of whom were Southern community leaders from 7 states. Some were enrolled in both workshops.
Participants included ministers, farmers, industrial workers, college and high school teachers and students, YWCA secretaries, adult education leaders and members of interracial, civil rights and civic organizations.

The workshops were directed by Paul Bennett, a former Alabama high school teacher, on the Highlander staff for the summer.

A grant of $5,000 from the Field Foundation was made possible to bring in discussion leaders and provide scholarships for community leaders.

(More detailed report on request.)

CONFERENCES . . .
Informal weekend conferences were held throughout the year for small groups of Tennessee Farmers Union representatives, church, labor, and community leaders.

SEMINARS . . .
College Groups:
Dr. Morris Mitchell and students from Putney Graduate School of Teacher Education, Putney, Vermont, studied Highlander educational methods.

Professor Robert Freedman and students from Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, studied the various Highlander programs.

Students from St. Luke's Theological Seminary, Sewanee, Tennessee, took part in the summer workshops.

COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROJECT . . .
The purpose of this project is to work out methods for training lay community leaders. They are to be given a better understanding of the nature of a democratic society and the individual's role as a citizen.

Potential leaders will be selected from demonstration communities and given help in stimulating interest and in leading discussion on issues and problems affecting the community. The training will be given at Highlander and in the communities. This project has been made possible by a three year grant from the Schwarzhaupt Foundation.

The Community Leadership Training Project was launched by a study of the region and of the potentialities for the kind of program envisioned. After considerable study it was decided that the director of the school would train a small staff who would then work in demonstration communities.

The people being considered for the training staff were brought into the planning session of the summer workshops, and later used as assistants. They took part in staff meetings throughout the five weeks of the workshops on integration in the public schools. Following these workshops, an evaluation was made of the methods used and their relevance to the community leadership program.

As a means of providing further training, plans were made for them to take charge of weekly community and Highlander staff discussions on Human Freedom.
In addition, a number of community leaders, including an entire family, were brought into the workshops in the hope of developing their interest in the project.

Finally, three people were selected for more intensive training; one from Montagle; another a new staff member who had experience in church work; and a member of the Highlander Film Center staff. We are experimenting with fresh approaches to community leadership training, and with the use of visual aids as an integral part of the leadership training program.

Plans have been worked out for a school for the training staff.

FILM CENTER . . .

Of special significance was the development of film strips directed to audience participation. Called in as a consultant by the state CIO, a film strip "When the Union Comes In" was made and its use demonstrated. In demonstrating, enough light was left on during the performance for the discussion leader to see his audience. Without the aid of a typed script the leader told a story of the union in his own words. Certain pictures were designed to evoke audience reaction and discussion, there being no end title; the discussion was not broken off at the end of the film strip.

This approach was used by another union in a film strip called, "One Company, One Union, One Contract."

Other film strips produced:

"Help Democracy Grow,"—for Highlander;
"High Cost of Segregation,"—growing out of the summer workshops;
"An Atlanta Housing Story,"—for the Atlanta Urban League.

A series of slide sequences are being produced for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, AFL, telling the story of the dues dollar, the health and welfare program, and the educational program.

Three television camera training film strips were produced. The Film Center staff trained discussion leaders in the use of visuals in addition to producing film strips, photographs and charts.

UNITARIAN SERVICE CAMP . . .

July 3 — August 25—Enrollment 10

The Service Camp program provided an opportunity for teenagers to share in constructive work in an atmosphere of cooperative living and freedom of discussion.

The campers cleaned the main building, repairing and painting the screens and windows and repairing the roof. A lake spillway was cleared out and a swimming area roped off. The library was put in order.

The campers took part in the workshops and community meetings, in addition to discussion programs of their own.

Field trips were made to Fisk University, Fontana Dam, and Cherokee, N. C.

One camper said, "By this summer's experience, we have learned to live together and learned to work together. We did this by helping other people first and not ourselves."

Harold and Daphne Hogstrom, camp directors, were assisted by Byron and Ethel Ketham. As staff advisor, Mort Isaacs, planned the work and a series of discussions on the South led by Highlander staff and visitors.

LIBRARY . . .

Books and research materials on segregation, which were used during the summer workshops, have been added to the Harry Laster Memorial Library.

FARM . . .

Additional pasture land was cleared and a winter storage house built as a part of a year round home grown food program. Mort Isaacs started an irrigated vegetable garden which supplied food throughout the summer. Surplus vegetables were canned and stored.

Occasional fish were provided by the Highlander lake.

NEW STAFF . . .

Mort and Ann Isaacs joined the staff in November, 1952. Mort is from Helena, Arkansas, Ann from Newfoundland, Canada. The Isaacs came to Highlander from Wichita, Kansas.

Paul Bennett, on the staff for the summer, first came to Highlander as a student at a Farmers Union School. He is doing graduate work at Howard University.

Student assistants were:

Barbara Shipheir, Antioch College
Miki Fowlkes, University of Arkansas
Annajean Sherman, University of Alaska
Ellen Beecher, Antioch College COMMUNITY PROGRAM

OLD FOLKS DAY...

Highlander instituted a periodic “Old Timers Day.” All people in the community over 65 are brought to the school for a big meal and then left alone to swap stories, fish, or see what is going on at the school.

NURSERY SCHOOL...

Joanna Willimetz, Nursery School Director, is on the Kindergarten Advisory Committee of the Association of Childhood Education, International.

The annual Christmas party was given at the Summerfield grammar school for all the community children.

COMMUNITY MEETINGS...

A picnic honoring Dr. Lilian Johnson, formerly of Memphis and donator of the original Highlander building, was attended by seventy-five people from the community and county.

Asha Devi Aryanayakam of the Basic Education School in Sevagram, India, and a delegate to the Social Welfare Commission of the United Nations, spoke at a community meeting. The Sevagram school was established by Mahatma Gandhi. She wrote she was “deeply inspired” by her visit and that she would make her home at Highlander if she lived in America.

Gouri Bose of India, a student at Tulane University, spoke at the Summerfield Grammar School.

Devina Del Carmen, Ozamis City, Phillipines, showed slides and spoke at a community meeting.

Cipriano Malonzo, President of the Federation of Labor, Zamboanga, Phillipines, spoke at the Summerfield Grammar School.

Miss Carmen and Mr. Malonzo were students of former Highlander staff member, Frances Thompson at Silliman University, Dumaguete, Negros Oriental, Phillipine Islands.

Naofusa Hirai, a Shinto priest from Japan; Gunter Weinert, Berlin, Germany, here under the auspices of the work-study Training Productivity Program; and Professor R. H. Kinvig, University of Birmingham, England, visited the school and community.

The Community Building was used for Summerfield Co-op Meetings, square dances and other neighborhood gatherings.

EXTENSION PROGRAM

FARM AND LABOR CONFERENCES...

CIO Educational Conference, Denver, Colorado, February.

Myles Horton gave introductory address and taught steward class.

Louisiana and Texas Sugar Workers Schools, Raceland and New Orleans, February.

The two one week schools were run by Myles Horton for the U.P.W.A. Zilphia Horton taught and led singing.

Montana Farmers Union School, Great Falls, Montana, January 11-18.

Zilphia Horton conducted a class in folk songs and Myles Horton a class in community leadership.

UNITED PACKINGHOUSE WORKERS OF AMERICA EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM...

Highlander continued to provide direction for the UPWA’s educational department until April, 1953.

The main emphasis was on the development of educational or discussion leaders from the union ranks. Forty-four additional educational leaders were trained. (October 1952 through March 1953). A majority of these voluntary leaders conducted steward training classes in their own locals and led discussions on current issues. Without some such system of voluntary discussion leaders, full time union educators will continue to be tied down to steward training.

In addition to developing the local discussion leaders, a number of schools and conferences were run by the UPWA education representatives.

Two schools were held at Highlander for the officials and UPWA staff.

A Steward Training Manual (second section), a Handbook for Discussion Leaders, and a Resume of Procedures for Instructor Training were put out by the Educational Department.

In an article, “The ‘Drip’ Theory in Labor Unions” in the 1953 Spring issue of AWVOCO REVIEW, Kermit Eby says: “Miles Horton of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America has already introduced something ‘new’ in the field of worker education. His educational program assumes that men living with men in a union have common concerns. Discussion of these problems—a discussion led by the workers themselves—moves from wages to contract, to stewardship, and this to the relation between officials and local membership, between locals and the national and international offices. No outside experts are called in to impress the class with their status. Skill and knowledge emerge as workers study their own contract, its provisions, the local political structure and other union interests.

"Some of the political heads in the United Packinghouse Workers of America are protesting the work Horton's educational program is doing because it means that the pat answers which these same politicos hand the rank and file no longer suffice. Horton emphasizes what he calls the 'pros' system of education—ideas perking up from the rank and file rather than dripping down from the top. Horton's program differs basically from other more conventional methods in labor education because of its emphasis on developing leadership from the rank and file, and because it emphasizes discussion topics chosen by the workers rather than topics written on the blackboards by staff members."

(More detailed report on request.)

CONFERENCES ATTENDED . . .

Highlander staff members attended the NAACP Conference, Chattanooga; Spring Educational Conference, Chicago; Conference on Youth and Racial Unity Thru Educational Opportunities, Columbia, S. C.; Race Relations Institute, Fisk University, Nashville; Southern Regional Council for Children Under Six, Daytona Beach, Florida.

In order to work toward integrated schools, one must understand the reasons for the separation of students into schools. One reason is that the school systems are not designed to integrate. The schools are divided into separate schools for various reasons, such as economic or social status. Another reason is that the schools are not properly integrated, which may be due to a lack of resources or funding. It is important to understand the reasons for the separation of students into schools in order to work toward integration.

WHAT TO SAY TO SCHOOL BOARD

If you are a parent, student, or community member, you may wish to express your support for the school board's efforts in maintaining a positive school environment. You can do this by expressing your gratitude for the board's work and efforts to improve the school's atmosphere. You can also express your concern about any specific issues or problems you have observed or heard about. Your words can help to create a positive and supportive atmosphere for all members of the school community.

GET THE FACTS

Some of the following suggestions can be used by the board to inform the community of the school's progress.

SUGGESTED LINES OF ACTION

Make sure the school board is aware of any issues or concerns you have. You can do this by speaking with board members directly or by writing to them. You can also participate in school board meetings to express your views and provide suggestions for improvement.

ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY AND USE YOUR OWN MINDSET TO PLAN SOME IMPORTANT BUSINESS. You can do this by participating in school board meetings and expressing your views on important issues. You can also participate in school board committees and work on specific projects to improve the school's atmosphere.

Work for a Better Board of Education

As a member of the school board, you have an important role to play in ensuring the success of the school. You can do this by working with other board members to create a positive and supportive atmosphere for all members of the school community. You can also participate in school board meetings and express your views on important issues. You can also participate in school board committees and work on specific projects to improve the school's atmosphere.
in your school and the community.

To develop plans for an orderly transition from a school, Highlander planned early in 1933 a series of workshops in In anticipation of the 1934 Supreme Court ruling on Plessy vs. Ferguson.

available to you.

Some suggested ideas in these areas:

BUILDING PUBLIC SUPPORT

Local Education Association, etc.

Local education associations, Parent-Teacher Organizations, and community groups should be brought into the picture as well. These are the people who can help in getting the word out. Work with these organizations to ensure that the community is aware of the issues.

Plan.

Public understanding and cooperation of the desegregation process are critical. It may be necessary to set up more than one meeting to ensure that everyone is aware of the process. Work with the community to ensure that everyone is aware of the steps that are being taken.
HIGHLANDER

Highlander Folk School, chartered in 1932 for "adult education, the training of rural and industrial leaders and general academic education", keeps open house in the Tennessee mountains for people and ideas. Adults, without reference to color, religion, schooling or economic status gather here throughout the year. Students and teachers live informally in half a dozen houses around a lake. Here they study, discuss and plan how best to meet the challenging social, educational and economic problems confronting individuals and communities in the South.
Everyone is a "Public Speaker."

Public Speaking is just a big name for getting up on your feet and telling people what you think. Most of us feel at home when we sit around a table and talk to our friends and try to convince them. But when we stand up, we get nervous or scared. Everyone feels the same when he gives a speech, even the high-powered orators who seem so sure of themselves. Just ask one of them and see what he says.

There are 4 good ways to get rid of that "scared" feeling:

1. Know what you want to say.
2. Be sincere.
3. Remember that the people you're talking to are your friends - good union people - so just relax.
4. Practice.

A. Presentation of Speech

The best way to learn to speak well is to speak often. There's no substitute for practice. But there are a few principles that should be kept in mind because they'll help you to improve your speech and get your point across.

1. Look at everyone.

Unless you look at everyone, some people are going to lose interest - they'll feel that you're not talking to them. You've seen speakers who fasten their eyes on poor Joe in the front row. This just makes Joe uncomfortable, and makes the rest of the people feel that they've been forgotten and shouldn't really be there, that the speaker is having a private conversation with Joe.

And then there are speakers who will talk to the ceiling or the floor, or to the trees and buildings outside, or to one section of the audience. You've seen speakers like that. And do you remember what your reaction was? You started thinking of something else and didn't hear what the speaker was saying. Or, if the speaker became interested in some noise, or passing car, you did too - and forgot what he was saying.

The same thing will happen to your audience unless you look at all of them and make them feel that you have something important to say to each and every one of them.
2. Stand erect.

You want to make your audience have confidence in you, make them listen to every word you have to say. But they won't do that if you have to lean on something for support, or if you stand like this or like this

Stand up. Show them that you believe what you're saying and they'll believe you.

3. Don't rush.

Remember to speak slowly enough so that everyone can hear all your words and won't get just a jumble of sounds. The larger a room is, the longer it takes your words to reach all the people - so don't run your words together so that they sound like this:

Brothers and sisters, I think political action is important.

Speak slowly, clearly, distinctly.

Use variety and emphasis.

Don't speak in a monotone so that you sound like a motor droning on endlessly. Your audience will be bored, and so would you if you could hear yourself.

Don't say: "Brothers and Sisters, we must all vote."

SAY: "Brothers and Sisters, we must all vote!"

Unless you use emphasis, everything in your speech will seem equally important. Stress the points you want your audience to remember.

And don't always speak at the same speed. If you have something to say that you especially want everyone to hear, slow up just before it. Your audience will be curious; they'll be waiting anxiously for your next word.
5. Use your arms.

Your audience didn't come to see a statue - they came to see people and hear people speak. If you stand like this when you say,

"Let's get out and see that everyone votes," people aren't likely to have much enthusiasm. But if you use your arms, like this they'll know you really mean it.

Hands and arms, when used naturally, will add greatly to the effectiveness of your speech. But don't force it. Unless your gestures are natural, they'll look funny. So wait until you have confidence in yourself and can relax. Then you'll find it easy to use your arms and hands.

6. No mannerisms.

If you usually rub your ear, or drum on a table, or play with your watch, or scratch your head, or twist a pencil - DON'T. Your audience will become so interested in your performance that they won't hear what you have to say.

B. Content of Speech

What are you going to say to your audience? How are you going to say it? There are some principles here too that will help you to make an effective speech.

1. Think of your audience.

Suppose your subject is "Political Action and the CIO." Would you give the same speech to the Chamber of Commerce, your own union, the Parent-Teachers Association, a church group, some college professors? If you did, your speech wouldn't be very successful. You must vary your emphasis, words and material for each group.

Always think carefully of who your audience will be before you prepare a speech.

2. Decide on your main idea.

Don't ever have too many ideas in one speech - people just won't remember them. If you're the best of speakers, they're liable to remember two ideas. If you're not, they'll remember one - if your speech is good. So if you have lots of ideas, save them for another time.
And don't be afraid of repeating your main idea too often - say it at the beginning, say it in the middle of your speech, and say it at the end. That way, people will be more likely to remember it.

3. Make an outline.

Now that you've decided what you're going to talk about and the main idea you want to get across, make an outline.

An outline sounds like something unfamiliar - but it isn't. We all make mental outlines every time we talk. It's just getting things we want to say in order, so that they will convince the people we're talking to.

But if you're making a speech and want to make sure that you remember what you're going to say, write the outline on a card or a slip of paper so that you can glance at it.

This leaflet is in outline form. If you wanted to use this leaflet as the basis for a speech - you could write it on a card in this way:

Subject - Public Speaking

Main Idea - Everyone can speak if he remembers a few simple principles and practices them.

A. Presentation of Speech
  1. Look at everyone
  2. Stand erect
  3. Don't rush
  4. Use variety and emphasis
  5. Use your arms
  6. No mannerisms

B. Content of Speech
  1. Think of your audience
  2. Decide on your main idea
  3. Make an outline
  4. Don't memorize your speech
  5. Work on opening and closing sentences
  6. Use stories, facts and figures
  7. Be brief

This same thing can be done with any subject you choose.

4. Don't memorize your speech.

Don't think that you'll forget what you want to say if you don't memorize your speech. You have an outline on a card which will help you remember. Use your outline - don't write the speech out.
There's nothing more likely to put an audience to sleep than a memorized speech. It sounds too mechanical. And you know how foolish a speaker looks when he forgets part of his memorized speech and gets a blank look on his face and stammers.

5. Work on opening and closing sentences.

Your opening and closing sentences are the most important part of your speech.

Your opening sentence should get your audience interested in what you're going to say and should tell them your main idea. Don't talk around your subject. Jump right in. You know how restless you get when a speaker rambles on and on and never seems to get to the point.

Don't say: "Brothers and Sisters, I'm here tonight to speak on the subject "Political Action and Local Unions."

SAY: "Brothers and Sisters, Political Action is the most vital issue facing local unions today."

Your closing sentence should sum up what you've been saying - should repeat your main idea, should make your audience want to get out and do something about what you've been saying.

Your closing sentence is the last thing your audience will hear, the sentence that will stay in their minds when they leave. Make the most of it - make it really a punch line.

Above all DON'T:

1. Say, "Well, I guess I'm through," or "I guess that's all" - end with a bang.

2. Sit down or walk off while you're saying your last sentence - it's an awful letdown and detracts from the force of what you're saying.

6. Use stories, facts and figures.

If you want to convince your audience that you really know what you're talking about and aren't just talking through your hat, use some facts and figures. Only don't use too many - they can get very tiresome. Make sure that they fit into your speech and make sure that they are easy to understand. Your audience won't have time to sit down and figure them out with pencil and paper.
Use stories to put your point across. Stories help people to understand what you're trying to say. Stories do the same thing for a speech that a cartoon does for an editorial page of a newspaper—they simplify and give a picture that people will remember long after all your words are forgotten.

Instead of saying, "It can be done," tell about someone who did it.

Make sure, though, that your story fits into your subject and that it describes people and things familiar to your audience.

7. Be brief.

Long speeches weary both the speaker and the audience. Say what you have to say; then sit down. Your audience will really appreciate your speech if it is short. And it will be three times as effective as a long speech. If your speech is well organized, and you know your subject, you can be brief.

If you're tempted to be long-winded, just remember the old saying that an empty wagon makes the most noise.

Now you have the principles of a good speech. But just knowing the principles won't make you a good speaker. It takes the principles plus the practice. It's just like the story of the horse and the water. You've been led to the water; now it's up to you to drink.

We are here to pay honor to Zilphia Horton whose untimely death we have mourned, but whose values and hopes and enthusiasms and faith we cannot celebrate sadly.

Dr. John A. Thompson, Dean of Rockefeller Chapel, University of Chicago
SONGS FOR ZILPHIA

ZILPHIA HORTON died in April of 1956. She came to Highlander as a student in 1935, married and stayed on as a staff member for twenty-one years. Zilphia was born and raised in a small Arkansas coal-mining town, attended the College of the Ozarks and taught school for two years before coming to Highlander. Tributes to Zilphia's life on the mountain were paid in many ways by the people here. Her friends and friends of Highlander wrote us from many parts of the country and other parts of the world.

Some of these friends in Chicago met in May for a memorial program, "Songs for Zilphia". Just as we cannot recapture Zilphia's vitality and joy of living, so we cannot recreate with words the life of folk, labor and religious songs that were sung that night. As here is an expression by John Thompson of the rich and full heritage she has left:

"We are here tonight to pay honor to Zilphia Horton, whose untimely death we have mourned, but whose values and hopes and enthusiasm and faith and it cannot celebrate sadly.

"For she was one of the most genuine, natural, unspoiled, affirmative persons any of us has ever known, and for twenty-one years she helped make Highlander human and joyful and sorrowful and gay, and thus helped all the countless people Highlander touched to make the dark and dreary places throughout the South more human, more joyful, more sorrowful and gay.

"This is not a time to make a case or to plead for support which we are going to give as long as we truly believe in democracy and its promises, as long as we believe in the people and in their essential goodness—as Myles and Zilphia Horton have always believed.

"This is a time for more mellow and more joyful moods, when we may be excused for indulging in a few memories, in celebrating a friendship and a partnership full of meaning and lasting significance, even which death cannot destroy.

"It is a time for good memories, for good hopes, and for good resolutions. Highlander has always been committed to the struggle for justice and to the extension of democracy and education for all people. But from the first it has also been keenly interested in the cultural values, which had their roots in the mountains. We talked about this that first winter before any of us had met Zilphia, But until she came onto the scene no one was equipped to do much about this.

"Kermit Eby has worried because the American labor movement does not sing as it used to do, and some of our poets have worried because modern workers do not sing at their work as farmers and sailors and weavers used to sing.

"Throughout the South and in many places beyond the South, unions and workers' groups have been set to singing again about the most important things in life (their work, their loves, their jokes, their faith) by Zilphia, who took them new songs and old songs and gave them the courage to sing. And Myles has helped to give them something to sing about.

"It is good to be a part, even a very small part, of such a new life movement and of such an earthy, healthy, non-weary faith in democracy and its timeless resources. We must find creative and powerful ways to celebrate these values always, and I know no better way than to strengthen Highlander and its program now. This is the only conceivable memorial to offer for Zilphia, and it serves the double joy of fulfilling the moods of thanksgiving and of dedication.

LETTERS

... Her music, her whole life, were a dedication to the people.
—Frances Leber, New Jersey.

... Zilphia was so wonderful, and her philosophy so well-founded that you will always have her in that sense, still making your life rare and worth while—Branson O'Casey, London, England.

... She will live in our hearts and minds as long as we live; that we will hear her singing her songs, that greatness of her will always raise the levels of performance we demand for ourselves, and that we will always feel it a special privilege to have known her.—Morris Lasker, New York.

... All of our lives have been enriched from having, knowing and being with her, catching a spark of her joyous spirit which became a part of our lives.—Howard Frazier, Burlingame, California.

... An achievement in finer human relations and in understanding and love—and Zilphia had such a large part in it; such a spirit cannot be destroyed.—Stuart Chapin, Wiscasset, Maine.

... I think of Zilphia — so alive and full of energy. I am sure all the little angels are singing and square dancing and organizing today.—Alice Mitchell, Atlanta, Georgia.

This is a bitter loss for you and the school; but it is a marvelous thing that you have built together. Rarely have two people worked so constructively, so persistently and with such imagination as you and she to illuminate the lives and thinking of others. Zilphia's work and spirit will always be part of Highlander and of everyone whom the school has touched.—Margaret Lamont, New York.

She lived so fully and so helpfully that it is not difficult to believe that she is working on, only through the influence of the many lives and causes she has benefited. She is surely doing that, and her devotion to democracy and personality will continue to be an inspiration to those who knew her and were touched by her life.—Ted Shultz, Norris, Tennessee.

... Hers is the most beautiful and meaningful immortality I can conceive of. With the beauty and truthfulness of her life, with her warmth and great gifts, she has left an unforgettable enriching experience with all who walked with her—and there must be thousands! She has given people direction for growth and greater love and understanding than they had before meeting her.—Lene Kaplan, Chicago, Illinois.

I wish to express my deep sympathy for you at the passing of Zilphia... a great loss to you and the labor movement. Her spirit and love for the common peoples shall live on in the hearts of all of us who knew her and loved her.—Bill Marlowe, Peoria, Illinois.
WE WILL EDUCATE FOR INTEGRATION IN OUR RESIDENCE SESSIONS, IN OUR FIELD PROGRAM, IN OUR COMMUNITY!

HIGHLANDER EXECUTIVE COUNCIL SAYS INTEGRATION IS IMMEDIATE GOAL FOR DEMOCRACY IN SOUTH

The immediate and challenging barrier to democracy in the South is segregation.

The immediate and challenging task confronting those who desire a democratic South is integration.

The two sentences above sum up the thinking of Highlander's Executive Council, a policy-making group of outstanding Southern rural, labor and community leaders, whose names are listed on page four of this issue.

From such a simple statement of facts came an entire program by the Highlander staff for future leadership training until integration is achieved in the South. Plans by staff members and supporters envision the following:

12 WORKSHOPS EACH YEAR

Highlander Folk School will train leaders for work in their community, union or civic organization in one workshop each month of the year, summer and winter. Forty students at each workshop, or a total of 480 resident students per year, from as many communities as possible in the ten southern states, can decided make an impact upon the integration movement in the South.

In addition to the 12 workshops, there will be two integrated children's camps each summer. (One is in progress as this is being written. See story on page 4.)

IN RESIDENCE

Highlander field workers follow the students where they live, because work in their community is an extension of the classroom process. It is continuous learning by doing.

52 WEEKS IN OUR COMMUNITY

Highlander lives in its own community 52 weeks a year. We do not believe that teaching exists in a vacuum. We believe that we must educate in our own community if we are going to be the least successful in getting other people to work in their communities for integration. So we have already started. Our youth leader, presently an Antioch College co-op student, has organized a community club of youngsters who are quite active in various recreational activities. We notice already that many of them are swimming in Highlander Lake at the same time as the integrated campers are swimming.

But swimming together by the youngsters is only a step, and Southerners know what a step it is. Adults also are being encouraged to attend sessions when Negroes or colored foreign representatives are here.

We are proud of our local taxi drivers, delivery men and other help, in that they have given courteous service to these visitors.

We shall train leaders for integration in the South; but our concentration on this single goal for the time being does not mean that we are drawing away from 24 years of concentration on the teacher, otherwise, how can we teach others to work in their community if we ourselves do not know how to do it? The art of teaching must also be a constant process of the teacher's learning.

24 WEEKS OF EXTENSION EACH YEAR

The 12 workshops are not enough. People learn in a classroom, and they learn vividly; they also learn at home. Students who return to their communities and make a beginning for integration shall be assisted by the field director. Wherever students begin—in the schools, the churches, the labor unions, the social club or on the police force—there they shall find the Highlander Extension Service.

The work schedule of the Field Director will be full at 24 weeks a year on the road.

"... It is hardly necessary to labor this point: living together produces a relaxation of barriers which makes adult education ten times easier."—Royce B. Richlin, President, Goddard College.
SCHOOL BOARD DISMISSES MRS. CLARK

On June 8, we learned from Mrs. Septima Clark, now Integration Workshop Director, that the Superintendent of Education of Charleston, S. C., had notified her that her contract, along with those of five other Negroes and five white school teachers, would not be renewed for the coming school year.

Mrs. Clark holds an M. A. degree, was rated first-class Permanent Professional status in the 1944 National Teachers Examination; she has been a successful teacher in the South Carolina system for 25 years. No reason was given for her dismissal. South Carolina law allows chairmen of boards of trustees, presidents of colleges and principals of schools to give no reason for a dismissal. Also, one man may act for the entire board.

The 1956 legislature also decreed that all city and state employees who are members of the NAACP would be fired.

Mrs. Clark has been active in Charleston civic affairs, is at present first vice-president of the city NAACP, and has been associated with Highlander for three years.

She reports that the National Education Association has been notified of this action, and will look into the case.

INTERRACIAL CHILDREN'S CAMP

Interracial children's camp, with nine counselors and director, opened at Highlander for eight weeks. It was sponsored, as a cooperative community in Americus, Ga. The camp was prevented from being held at the cooperative farm in Georgia by a last-minute court injunction.

Telephone and telegraph communication to all parents, counselors and others resulted in opening the camp at Highlander only two days behind the original plans.

WORKSHOPS

JULY 16-21—Integration Workshop I
JULY 22-26—Reading Week I
AUGUST 5-11—Integration Workshop II
AUGUST 11-18—Reading Week II
AUGUST 19-25—Integration Workshop III
AUGUST 25-SEPTEMBER 1—Reading Week III.

Items In Brief

- After two years of work, Betty and Henry Shipherd resigned from the Highlander Staff, April 30, 1956; they returned to their Philadelphia home. The Executive Council commended them on their competence, devotion and self-sacrifice.
- Present staff members now include Myles Horton, Director; Mrs. Septima Clark, Integration Workshop Director; May Justus, Community Director; James Hargis, Farm Manager; Mrs. Julie Mabee; Mikil Fowlkes Marlowe; Betty Freiheit; Anne Lockwood, Office Staff, and Hildreth Smith, Community Worker.
- J. D. and Mikil Fowlkes Marlowe were married in May and have set up house in the Dombrowski Cabin at the end of the lake.
- Fifteen members of the Sumnerfield 4-H club meet at Highlander each Tuesday night for square dancing and general recreation and come in twice a day for swimming classes.
- To improve swimming and fishing, community members contributed labor and time to extend the rock wall 225 feet further around the lake. Last Sunday we counted 25 anglers and at least 22 swimmers from the community.
- An 8-man Community Action Team representing six European countries ended a two-months visit in this country at Highlander June 20-21st. The team is sponsored by the International Cooperation Administration and their purpose was to study and observe community and regional efforts in economic self-betterment.
- Sandy (A. A.) Liveright of the Center for the Study of Liberal Education for Adults, Chicago, reported in a telephone interview that preliminary plans are underway for the 1957 Highlander Anniversary Celebration in 1957. The major highlight will be a week-long institute for the school's alumni, sponsors and general supporters at Highlander.
- P. M. Horton, who came to the school in the early days, passed away this spring. "Dad" Horton, father of Myers, is sorely missed by his family and all the rest of us.

Highlander's present Executive Council and Board of Directors are:

- R. BRAZEAU, Dean, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.
- MRS. GRACE HAMILTON, Atlanta Urban League, Atlanta, Ga.
- C. F. HATHAWAY, Sec-Treas., UPWA-CIO, Chicago, Ill.
- J. LEWIS, HENDERSON, Gulfport, Miss.
- JOHN HOPE T, Industrial Relations Consultant, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.
- DR. LEWIS JONES, Rural Life Council, Tuskegee Institute, Ala.
- DR. GEORGE MITCHELL, Executive Director Southern Regional Council, Atlanta, Georgia.
- REV. EUGENIEL MATHERS, Calvary Presbyterian Church, Big Lick, Tenn.
- DR. P. A. STEPHENS, Chattanooga, Tenn.
- JORDAN HINES III, Attorney-At-Law, Nashville, Tenn.
- LUCILLY THORNBURGH, Associate Editor, East Tennessee Labor News, Knoxville, Tenn.
- J. WHITE, Secretary, Tennessee State Legislative Board, Brotherhood of N. A. Traumpef, Lexington, Tenn.
- AUBREY WILLIAMS, Publisher, Southern Farm and Home, Montgomery, Alabama.
- MYLES HORTON, Director, Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
MONTAEGLE, TENNESSEE
INFORMATION CONCERNING
IS - C

Recorded 11

For your information, the Highlander Folk School is an institution located near Montaegle, Tennessee, which is supported primarily by donations from individuals and labor unions in the form of payments for the students who attend its courses. It offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics, parliamentary procedure, and the general field of labor education. This school has had Communist Party members on its staff and as instructors, and has followed the practice of welcoming communists as students. However, the school has never offered courses of instruction in communism nor has the Communist Party, USA, ever gained complete control of the institution.

By teletype dated February 27, 1951, the Knoxville office was instructed that no contacts whatsoever should be made at the Highlander Folk School and that no discussion, either pro or con, should be held with any individual concerning this school.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

The Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was organized around 1932 by Myles Horton and Don West. (See testimony of Paul Crouch, May 5, 1949, Subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, page 183.) In his testimony, Mr. Crouch said: "I would like to mention in this connection that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was a school organized by Myles Horton and Don West, and which Mr. [James] Dombrowski shortly thereafter joined."

Paul Crouch, who gave the foregoing testimony concerning the Highlander Folk School, was the top Communist Party functionary in the South.

Speaking of James Dombrowski, Mr. Crouch testified as follows: "I have met officially with him a number of occasions as head of the Communist District Bureau of Tennessee; at these conferences Mr. Dombrowski gave me the impression of being incompletely pro-Communist and anxious to collaborate with the Communist Party and follow its leadership, without taking the risk of actual Party membership."

A three-page tabulation of James Dombrowski's Communist affiliations is attached to this report.

In March 1954, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security held hearings in New Orleans on the subject of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., of which James Dombrowski was and is the executive director. Among the Witnesses who testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in New Orleans was one John Butler who had formerly been a functionary of the Communist Party in Alabama.

In the course of his testimony, Mr. Butler stated that he attended a meeting of Communist Party leaders in July of 1942, in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama. Mr. Butler stated that Alton Lawrence introduced James Dombrowski to him on that occasion as a Communist Party member. (See Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security Hearings, March 18, 1954, page 45.) According to Mr. Butler, this meeting of Communist Party leaders was held in Dombrowski's own hotel room. In November, 1956, Alton Lawrence was indicted on a charge of conspiring to file a false non-Communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations Board, which non-Communist affidavit was required of trade union officials by the Taft-Hartley Act. (See New York Times, November 17, 1956.) Alton Lawrence is currently an official of the Communist-controlled International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In the early period of the Highlander Folk School, Alton Lawrence was a member of its faculty. On August 13, 1938, John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades Department of the AFL, testified before the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities, and named Elizabeth Hawes, Alton Lawrence, and Myles Horton as persons who attended a secret convention in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the revolutionary theories throughout the South. Mr. Frey then testified: "In connection with this..."
that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was mixed up in this secret convention, in which these three C.I.O. organizers took a very prominent part." (See Dies Committee Hearings, Volume 1, page 126.)

Paul Crouch testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, as follows: "The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tennessee, ostensibly as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party." (See Hearings, page 47.)

Dombrowski was an instructor at the Highlander Folk School for a number of years.

The following colloquy took place between Senator Eastland, Committee Counsel Arens, and Mr. Crouch during the latter's testimony:

SENATOR EASTLAND. Mr. Crouch, did you ever visit
Mr. Dombrowski's home?

MR. CROUCH. I visited the Highlander Folk School where he was working. I didn't visit at his home, but we spent a night at the same home from where, he and Leo Sheiner discussed in my presence the actual hideout for Communist leaders the night we were traveling to Winter Haven.

MR. ARENS. He and Sheiner discussed in your presence the hideouts for Communist leaders, top leaders; is that correct?

MR. CROUCH. That is correct, sir.

(See hearings, page 52.)

Don West, who has already been mentioned as connected with the Highlander Folk School, was district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina. (See House Committee Hearings, May 3, 1949, page 401.)

At the New Orleans hearings of the Senate Committee, on March 20, 1951, Wyles Horton was ejected by the United States marshal from the witness stand and the hearing room.

8-29-57 to advise that from everything he could hear the Highlander Folk School was beginning to become more active and that they were having a conference from August 30 to September 2 celebrating the 25th anniversary of the School, that among those attending would be Aubrey Williams; Ralph Hillstein (phonetic), president of the Packing House Workers; C. K. Steele, who headed the bus strike at Tallahassee, Florida; Dr. Alonzo Moron; and Martin Luther King. He further stated that from what he could learn the Highlander Folk School was becoming a center for teaching civil disobedience and that the details of the conference and seminar were announced by Miles Horton and appeared in a "New York Times" news story on July 7, 1957.

He thought that if we had not heard of this we might want to check on it.

Over the Labor Day weekend, Martin Luther King, Negro leader of the militantly pro-integration forces, was the featured speaker at the Highlander Folk School. The Rev. Mr. King's association with this radical educational institution in the South calls for a look at the school's activities and personnel.

The Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was organized around 1932 by Myles Horton and Don West. (See testimony of Paul Crouch, May 6, 1949, Subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, page 193.) In his testimony, Mr. Crouch said: "I would like to mention in this connection that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was a school organized by Myles Horton and Don West, and which Mr. James Dombrowski shortly thereafter joined."

Paul Crouch, who gave the foregoing testimony concerning the Highlander Folk School, was the top Communist Party functionary in the South.

Speaking of James Dombrowski, Mr. Crouch testified as follows: "I have met officially with him on a number of occasions as head of the Communist District Bureau of Tennessee... at this conference Mr. Dombrowski gave me the impression of being completely pro-Communist and anxious to collaborate with the Communist Party and follow its leadership, without taking the risk of actual Party membership."

A three-page tabulation of James Dombrowski's Communist affiliations is attached to this report.

In March 1954, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security held hearings in New Orleans on the subject of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., of which James Dombrowski was and is the executive director. Among the witnesses who testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in New Orleans was one John Butler who had formerly been a functionary of the Communist Party in Alabama. In the course of his testimony, Mr. Butler stated that he attended a meeting of Communist Party leaders in July of 1942, in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama. Mr.
Butler stated that Alton Lawrence introduced James Dombrowski to him on that occasion as a Communist Party member. (See Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security Hearings, March 18, 1954, page 45.)
According to Mr. Butler, this meeting of Communist Party leaders was held in Dombrowski's own hotel room. In November, 1956, Alton Lawrence was indicted on a charge of conspiring to file a false non-Communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations Board, which non-Communist affidavit is required of trade union officiale by the Taft-Hartley Act. (See New York Times, November 17, 1956.) Alton
Lawrence is currently an official of the Communist-controlled International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In the early period of the Highlander Folk School, Alton
Lawrence was a member of its faculty. On August 13, 1938, Mr. John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades Department of the AFL, testified before the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities, and named Elizabeth Hawes, Alton Lawrence, and Myles Horton as persons who "attended a secret convention in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the revolutionary theories throughout the South." Mr. Frey further testified: "In connection with this I might mention that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was mixed up in this secret convention, in which these three C.I.O. organizers took a very prominent part." (See Dies Committee Hearings, Volume 1, page 126.)
Paul Crouch testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, as follows: "The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tennessee, ostensibly as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party." (See Hearings, page 47.) Dombrowski was an instructor at the Highlander Folk School for a number of years.

The following colloquy took place between Senator Eastland, Committee Counsel Arens, and Mr. Crouch during the latter's testimony:

SENATOR EASTLAND. Mr. Crouch, did you ever visit Dr. Dombrowski's home?
MR. CROUCH. I visited the Highlander Folk School where he was working. I didn't visit at his home, but we spent a night at the same home together, Caroline Stevenson's, and he and Leo Sheiner discussed in my presence the actual hideout of Communist leaders the night we were traveling to Winter Haven.
MR. ARENS. He and Sheiner discussed in your presence the hideouts for Communist leaders, top flight leaders; is that correct?

(See hearings, page 52.)

Don West, who has already been mentioned as connected with the Highlander Folk School, was district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina. (See House Committee Hearings, May 6, 1949, page 191.)

At the New Orleans hearings of the Senate Committee, on March 20, 1954, Myles Horton was ejected by the United States Marshal from the witness stand and the hearing room.

Another speaker who joined with the Rev. Martin Luther King on the program of the Highlander Folk School, during the Labor Day weekend, was Aubrey Williams. A tabulation of Aubrey Williams' Communist connections during the past 20 years is attached to this report.

THE FOUNDERS OF HIGHLANDER SCHOOL

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL: Myles Horton and Don West; James Dombrowski joined them shortly thereafter. Don West, presently operating in Georgia, was district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina.

Paul Crouch, the top Communist Party functionary in the South, testified before the Subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities that Dombrowski's leadership was the result of being compromised by certain and anxious to collaborate with the Communist Party and follow its leadership without costs of actual party membership.

John Paul, another former Communist Party functionary, testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security that Dombrowski's room in Dombrowski's room in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama, was introduced to him by another member of the Communist Party.

Myles Horton was identified before the House Committee on Un-American Activities as a person in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the word about the school throughout the South.

Paul Crouch testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security that 'The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tennessee, ostensibly as a folk school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party.'

Fred Routh, a headquarters official of Southern Regional Council, 63 Auburn Ave., N. E., Atlanta, Georgia, is pictured above leading a workshop. In at least one of these sessions, the tactics of including women and children in racial demonstrations and incidents was proposed on the basis that police are reluctant to shoot women and children.

Southern Regional Council is the recipient of Ford Fund for the Republic grants of $497,000.00. Fund for the Republic grants originated with the Ford Motor Company. Southern Regional Council is the parent organization of 12 statewide councils on human relations operated only in the Southern States.

Southern Regional Council has been able to exploit the facilities of religion and education because of a quasi-religious status afforded by occupancy of space in a building owned by a huge church. The leadership of few units of the Communist apparatus have records of Communist affiliations which exceed those of present and past directors of Southern Regional Council.

House Committee Citations

A few of the Communist Fronts listed above are defined so that the readers may more fully understand their activities. All definitions are taken from "GUIDE TO SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATIONS AND PUBLICATIONS" published January 2, 1957 by the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities, Washington, D. C.

AMERICAN COMMITTEE FOR PROTECTION OF FOREIGN BORN

"To defend the cases of Communist lawbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, when the Communist Party itself is under fire these offer a bulwark of protection."

AMERICAN YOUTH CONGRESS

"It originated in 1934 and has been controlled by Communists and manipulated by them to influence the thought of American youth."

CIVIL RIGHTS CONGRESS

Cited as an organization formed at a Congress on Civil Rights held in Detroit in 1946 as a merger of two other Communist-front organizations (International Labor Defense and the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties); it was "dedicated not to the broader issues of civil liberties, but specifically to the defense of individual Communists and the Communist Party" and "controlled by individuals who are either members of the Communist Party or openly loyal to it."

COMMONWEALTH COLLEGE

A "Communist enterprise" cited as subversive by an investigating Committee of the Virginia Legislature. It received money from the Garland Fund.

EMERGENCY PEACE MOBILIZATION

Cited as a Communist front which came forth, after Stalin signed his pact with Hitler, to oppose the national defense programs, lend-lease, conscription, and other American "war-mongering" efforts. It immediately preceded the American Peace Mobilization in 1940.

LEAGUE OF STRUGGLE FOR NEGRO RIGHTS

"The Communist-front movement in the United States among Negroes is known as the National Negro Congress. Practically the same group of leaders directing this directed the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, which was, until 2 years ago, the name of the Communists front for Negroes. The name was later changed in 1936 to the National Negro Congress."

METHODIST FEDERATION FOR SOCIAL ACTION

"With an eye to religious groups, the Communists have formed religious fronts such as the Methodist Federation for Social Action ... "

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO REPEAL THE MCCARRAN ACT

"To defend the cases of Communist lawyerbreakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the National Committee to Repeal the McCarran Act. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these offer a bulwark of protection."

NATIONAL NEGRO CONGRESS

"The Communist-front movement in the United States among Negroes is known as the National Negro Congress. The officers of the National Negro Congress are outspoken Communist sympathizers, and a majority of those on the executive board are right Communists."

NATIONAL NEGRO LABOR COUNCIL

"One of the Communist fronts currently active in seeking to deceive American Negroes into serving the Communist cause is the National Negro Labor Council. The organization was formally founded at a conference held in Cincinnati, Ohio, October 27 and 28, 1941, under the direction of leading Negro Communists in the United States, such as Abraham Lincoln, Sam W. Parks, and Coleman A. Young. According to the latest available information, Young is the present National executive secretary of the organization, from which he controls and directs NNLC activities ... A study of the operation of the council shows that, rather than helping the Negro ..."
LISTED ELSEWHERE in this folder are the Communist related records of Reverend John B. Thompson (seated), chaplain University of Chicago and chairman of this four day seminar and Aubrey Williams, Montgomery, Alabama, president Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc. and publisher, Southern Farm and Home Magazine.

Experts on Communism observe the record of Aubrey Williams to reflect anti-US foreign policy and anti-US domestic policy. As early as 1944 a report of the Committee of which Congressman Dies was chairman named Aubrey Williams as a member of the National Citizens Political Action Committee and cited that organization as “the supreme bid of the Communist Party for power in the United States through a front.”

Few people if any have aided the Communist Party more in its conspiracy against peace between the races in the southern part of the United States than did Aubrey Williams.

It is incredible that any man with a record of Communist affiliation like that of John B. Thompson trained at a Communist Institution.
ALONZO G. MORON, President of Hampton Institute; Septima Clark, integration workshop director at Highlander Folk School; C. N. Parrish, Wilma D. Stakely, a writer of Newport, Tennessee, and Allen McSwain a leader of the Clinton, Tennessee, incident discuss the impact of integration.

ROSA PARKS, MARTIN LUTHER KING AND REVEREND ABERNATHY:
Three outstanding leadership people of the infamous Montgomery, Alabama, bus incident. The development, precipitation and financing of this inflammatory project called for behind the scenes planning and direction beyond the ability or capacity of local people. Pete Seeger is typical of the entertainer who gives his time and talent to the support of the Communist apparatus. He is a talented

The Daily Worker of February 22, 1949, lists Pete Seeger as a participant in the New York State Youth Board of the Communist Party.
LORD MARTIN LUTHER KING addresses the assemblage. King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is best known for his activities in the Montgomery Boycott, Montgomery Improvement Association and the March on Washington, which he conducted with Bayard Rustin. The Daily Worker lists Rustin as one who attended the 1957 convention of the Communist Party USA. Bayard Rustin is identified in the Daily Worker as secretary to Reverend Martin Luther King.

The activities of Reverend Martin Luther King represent the state in “civil disobedience.” It is doubtful that Reverend King could have carried on such a program without outside leadership financing; Bayard Rustin is perhaps the leading expert on “disobedience” in this country.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference is a new organization founded by Reverend King for region-wide agitation of all violence and strife.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

On the preceding pages you have seen pictures of the leaders of every major race incident in the South from May 1943 until the time of this meeting, Labor Day, 1957 Weekend (August 30, 31 and September 1, 2). You have seen executives and leaders of many organizations active in the southeastern region of the United States. All of the pictures contained in this folder were taken during this one weekend at this Communist training school, Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee.

Once the national figures are easily identified with their pictures. Other names of lesser figures are those given to the photographer in introductions and self identifications.

It has been our purpose, as rapidly as possible, to identify the leaders and participants of this Communist training school and disseminate this information to the general public. This Commission would appreciate your furnishing us any further identifications you can make.

It behooves each of us to learn more of Communist infiltration and the direction of Communist movements. Only through information and knowledge can we combat this subversive menace to Constitutional government.

All or any part of this folder may be reproduced by any person or organization with or without credit being given to this Commission.

NAACP Approval, Support, Participation

Reverend Martin Luther King, Rosa Parks, Charles C. Gomillion, Reverend David L. Woods, Allen McSwain, Conrad Browne and others who attended this session at Highlander Folk School provided major leadership in the following incidents of interracial strife: (1) the Montgomery Bus Boycott; (2) the Tuskegee Boycott; (3) the Tallahassee Bus Boycott; (4) the Clinton School Incident; (5) the Consequences Farms Inter-racial Violence and the March on Washington.

Each of the above-listed persons and incidents has received the national acclaim and complete support of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People. In fact, these incidents and the operation of these individuals have provided a major portion of the work of the NAACP.

Those who conducted this Labor Day session at Highlander demonstrated their courage and convictions and appeals to those present to secure new memberships for the NAACP and especially urged that teachers join and support the NAACP.

The unqualified support by the NAACP of the above-named individuals and incidents must be viewed in light of the fact that ten of the directors including Benjamin E. Mays, President, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia, have amassed the surprising total of over 400 instances of Communist Front Affiliation; more than half the directors have public records of Communist Affiliation. The directors of the NAACP both present and past have continually demonstrated an amazing propensity for affiliating themselves with pro-Communist causes.

The Honorary Chairman of the Directors of the NAACP, W. E. B. DuBois has amassed a longer public record of Communist affiliations than any other person in the United States with the staggering total of literally hundreds of such affiliations.

(ENCLOSURE)
Race Strife And Integration In South
Stirred By NAACP And Communists

By CARL ESTES

New and significant evidence that racial strife is being stirred up in Arkansas and across the South is inspired and promoted by northern Communists, Communist sympathizers, and various "front" organizations run out of and allied to their southern counterparts -- continues to come to light.

Not all the undercover meetings for Communist organizers and instigators of race strife are being held in the North, for many of these party officials and their local agents have now moved into the South and are holding anti-segregation tactics schools and "planning" meetings for new action.

The NAACP announced plan of the NAACP to hold a three-day meeting in Terre Haute on Nov. 3-5, attended by the Texas NAACP leader, as a "plan of action" meeting with "attempts to infiltrate the state court cases in several of its new schools" -- some of it new evidence in enlightenment.

The NAACP strife-stirring business never be permitted to light here, much less go to war for a nigger-racial campaign.

In addition to information and facts which I have been able to bring to light in Philadelphia and in several other northern and eastern cities, the following article from The Shreveport Times of Oct. 5, written by Raymond McDaniel, Times staff member will bring new light to the subject as it is developing in all its ugliness across the South today.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 4--Organizers of practically every outbreak of racial trouble in the South since 1954 today were revealed to have attended a Communist training school in Tennessee about a month ago. Details were disclosed in a public hearing today by a secret investigator employed by the state of Georgia to infiltrate the school.

Gov. Marvin Griffin, who presided over today's hearing said the investigator has brought back "irrefutable facts" of Communist Party influence in Southern racial strife.

The investigator, engaged in the undercover work up until last night, today produced some 40 photographs taken secretly at the training school and a role of movie film, which was not shown. The pictures, introduced into the records, showed various figures involved in recent outbreaks of racial trouble. Attending classes and holding discussions at the Tennessee meeting.

The training school, termed a "workshop on integration" was held at the Highlander Folk School near Monteagle, Tenn according to testimony given at the hearings today. Among those attending, and their records as given in testimony were:

ATTENDANTS LISTED
1. Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery, Ala., a leader Negro figure in various outbreaks of racial trouble during the past two years who was described as a tool of the Communist party in recent hearings in Louisiana.
2. Rosa Parks, Negro, described as the person who precipitated the Montgomery bus boycott.
3. Allen McGraw, Negro who was credited with sparking the Clinton, Tenn. public school incident.
4. Conrad Browne, a leader at Koinonia Farms at Americus, Ga. Koinonia was described as a socialistic interracial community where violence and racial strife recently erupted.
5. Charles Gomillion, Negro, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute. According to testimony today agitation by Gomillion was a major cause of the Tuskegee boycott.
6. Septima Clark, presently a director at the Tennessee school who had a hand in the South Carolina NAACP school teachers incident.

7. David H. Brooks, leader Tallahassee bus boycott.

OTHERS REVEALED

Also attending was Abner W. Berry, a member of the Communist Party's central committee. According to T. B. Williams Jr., executive secretary of the commission holding today's hearings, the presence of Berry, a Negro, insured no deviation from the Communist line.

Many other persons, some with 40 incidents of Communist front affiliation, were in attendance and pictures of these persons taken by the investigator were entered in the record.

The investigator was Edwin H. Friend, of Atlanta, who testified that he was employed to "make contact and infiltrate the meeting being held at the school and report back to the Georgia Commission on Education."

The commission on education, formed by the State Legislature in 1953 is headed by Gov. Griffin with the lieutenant governor and attorney general included as members. Representatives from other southern states were present for the hearing.

Prior to the meeting Gov. Griffin said the hearing was called to receive the report on growing race trouble. (See RACE, Page 12-A) clial unrest in the South. Notice of the meeting was not made until late last night, because, according to Griffin, Friend was still engaged in the underground work until that time.

WARS OF ACTIONS

"This evidence shows that tension in the South is being produced by forces which are not interested in the welfare of either the white people or the Negro people," said the governor.

"It behooves each of us to learn more of Communist infiltration and the direction of Communist movements. Only through information and knowledge can we combat this alien menace to constitutional government," Williams said.

Williams spent the major part of the hearing identifying persons in the pictures and entering the photos in the official records.

Referring to leaders of the racial outbreaks, Williams said they have received "wide acclaim" from the national press for their contributions.

Because of his testimony the "amazing propensity on the part of the NAACP leaders for affiliating themselves with the Communist Party," Williams also entered as evidence the records of 10 leaders of the NAACP.

REVEALS LEADERS

They are Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the NAACP board; William Lloyd Imes, vice president; Maurer Hammerstein, vice president; Algernor D. Black, member of the board; Hubert T. Delany, member of the board; Benjamin E. Mays, member of the board; Eleanor Roosevelt, member of the board; Earl B. Dickerson, member of the board and W. J. Walls, vice president.

The Tennessee meeting was described as a full-day discussion of methods and tactics of precipitating racial strife and disturbance. It was held from Aug. 30 to Sept. 2.

"The meeting of such a large group of specialists in interracial strife under the auspices of a Communist training school, and in the company of many known Communists is the typical method whereby leadership training and tactics are furnished to the agitators," said the committee.

This was a general workshop and would be the most common method of developing a long range program. In specific situations, leadership would be sent into the communities to assist.

According to testimony, the school was headed by Myles Horton, a director of Highlander, and Rev. John B. Thompson, chaplain of the University of Chicago. Williams testified Thompson has a record of 36 affiliations with Communist activities and said both Thompson and Horton have long been regarded as useful aids to the Communist party.

PICTURES SHOWN

Pictures introduced as evidence included one showing a picture identified by Williams as "Routh, headquarters of the Southern Revolutionary Workers Union."

Negro 'Plotting' at Monteagle Charged

ATLANTA, Oct. 5—An "undercover agent" told the Georgia Education Commission yesterday that Southern Negro leaders plotted "racial agitation" at a Labor Day weekend meeting in an interracial school in Tennessee.

The Education Commission, headed by Gov. Marvin Griffin, was formed by the Georgia Legislature to plan Georgia's fight against integration and to publicize the Southern viewpoint in the segregation controversy.

Griffin disclosed before the commission that he had sent a state photographer, George Friend, to infiltrate the Labor Day weekend meeting at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn.

"So People Will Know"

The commission was told the "agitation" was held to discuss methods and tactics for precipitating racial strife and disturbances.

Griffin said he called the commission into session "so that the people of Georgia will know where some of the South's racial trouble originates and to learn facts that are irrefutable."

Friend testified briefly on the photographs on display at the session as being ones he took during his "incognito" visit to the meeting at Highlander from Aug. 29 to Sept. 2.

King Reported To

T. V. Williams, Jr., executive secretary of the five-member commission, then gave an oral report about Friend's visit and distributed a four-page mimeographed report of newspaper size containing further reports.

Williams said the meeting at Monteagle was attended by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and the Alabama NAACP.

State Attorney General Eugene Cook had labeled as having Communist affiliations also were present.

Called Typical Meeting

One of the photographs showed Wilson and Williams seated together at a session of the Monteagle meeting. Another photograph showed an unidentified Negro man dancing with an unidentified white woman.

Williams reported orally in a statement on the mimeographed sheet that he said were Friend's findings about the purpose and methods of the Monteagle meeting. His statement said:

"The meeting of such a large group of leaders in interracial strife under the auspices of the Communist training school and in the company of known Communists is a typical method whereby leadership training and tactics are furnished the agitators."

Williams said the Monteagle meeting was attended by Negro leaders of the bus boycott at Tallahassee, Fla., and of the alleged "merchant boycott" at Tuskegee, Ala.

Alabama Officials Present

An Alabama assistant attorney general who attended the commission meeting disclosed he also had attended the Monteagle meeting "incognito" but this was not announced publicly. The official asked that his identity be withheld.

Several representatives of Alabama Attty. Gen. John Patterson also were present at the commission meeting.

Other commission members present included Lt. Gov. Emmit Andiver, Cook Chairman Robert O. Arnold of the Georgia Board of Regents and Roy V. Rivers, a member of the board of regents.

Williams said that the NAACP had a propagandist for disturbance with the Communists who was a number of persons whom...

Due to its interracial character, it has been the subject of numerous allegations that it represents the headquarters of communism in east Tennessee. These allegations have never been substantiated.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have become increasingly aware and apprehensive of Communism working in our country. In this connection, I have been informed that perhaps in Greeneville, Tennessee, there were several known Communists and that at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, there was being carried on a Communist Training School.

I would appreciate any information available to me in regard to communist activity in Tennessee.

In case this information is not available to me, I would appreciate knowing how I can go about acquiring it.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Senator:

Your letter of November 1, 1957, has been received, and the interest prompting you to write is appreciated.

It was thoughtful of you to advise me of the alleged subversive or communist activities in Tennessee, and I would like to suggest if you have any specific data in that regard you might desire to contact my representatives located at 617 Walnut Street, Southwest, Knoxville 2, Tennessee, and make it available to them. We would be grateful for your assistance. I regret that it is not possible for me to furnish you detailed information on this subject in your state; however, I am enclosing some material which may be of some service to you.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Correspondent, not identifiable in Buffels, enclosed a cartoon critical of the Supreme Court and an editorial dealing with the threat of top defense secrets by communists and fellow travelers, as well as a copy of a 4 page paper circulated by the Georgia Commission on Education of Atlanta, Georgia, distributed by Independence Foundation, Inc., concerning the Highlander Folk School. Correspondent assumes we are aware of the Highlander School and its affiliated groups but inquires as to what action is being taken. Buffels reflect frequent complaints concerning the Highlander Folk School, Monticello, Tennessee, an institution with classes on a seminar basis supported primarily by donations from individuals, from Labor Unions, and to some extent by the Farmers Union. This school has had Communist Party members on its staff and as instructors and has followed the practices of welcoming Communist Party members as students, but never offered courses in communist matters and was never completely controlled by the communist element. Manhattan: Some people still bring dogs into restaurants and food stores, in violation of the public health laws. Now we have the case of the little girl who was bitten by a dog in a Columbus Ave. supermarket. This dog was brought into the store by an unidentified woman. What must happen before the Health Department takes action against these dog owners?

COSTLY DISEASE

Brooklyn: The American Medical Association recognizes alcoholism as a disease. In New York City this disease costs millions of dollars in lost man-hours annually; more millions are spent by the Welfare Department in caring for the families of alcoholics. Despite all this, hospitals of the City of New York do not have one bed available for the alcoholic who needs medication to stop drinking. The only alternative is for the alcoholic to continue drinking until overtaken by complete physical collapse, insanity or death. Five days of care and medication would put this sick man on his feet, prepared to return to his work and his family. Billions for overseas relief; not one bed for our unfortunate!

Dear Friend:

My name is Septima Clark. The enclosed leaflet tells about the work that I am doing to give a new chance to people who are victims of racial prejudice in the South. About a year ago, after I had been released as a teacher in the public school system of South Carolina, I accepted an invitation from Myles Horton to join the staff of Highlander Folk School in the Cumberland Mountains of Tennessee. There was no question about my competence but my stand on integration was unpopular.

Highlander is one of the few places in the South where southerners, Negro and White, can meet and study together and work out ways to combat prejudice and segregation. My first year as Director of Workshops at Highlander has been filled with achievements. We had the children of Clinton, Tennessee with us for a Christmas holiday in December. Leaders in the Montgomery bus boycott have supplied leadership for some of our Workshops. Thirty children and ten counselors representing thirteen states had happy, vigorous weeks of out-of-door life here at Camp Koinonia-Highlander this summer. These are times of great opportunity.

At Highlander we believe that education, if it is real, is related to problems. We come to Highlander and go away equipped to cope with the problems in their own communities. Highlander has functioned on this principle for a quarter of a century and there has never been any question about it until now. Just this year the Internal Revenue Service has withdrawn tax-exempt status from Highlander. We cannot let this program die. Until the tax exemption question is settled we are in serious difficulty. Our $47,000 in foundation grants is held up and cannot be touched by us as long as this present ruling stands.

We are doing what we can to cut costs during this emergency. The entire staff at Highlander is foregoing salaries. We are living and working on a subsistence basis. The local storekeepers have been generous in extending credit for the essentials, but we cannot impose on them forever.

If you can help us in this time of stress we shall be most grateful. We are not asking anything for ourselves. We can all go out and find other work. We do not have to worry about making a living. What we are fighting for is to preserve an education program that has become a resource and a rallying point for scores of brave southerners who are leading the fight for justice and better race relations in these crucial days.

Sincerely yours,

Septima Clark

CHAMPIONS of DEMOCRACY

"I HAVE SPENT ALL MY LIFE TEACHING CITIZENSHIP TO CHILDREN WHO REALLY AREN'T CITIZENS." Septimo Clark
I would like to tell you some stories I have heard during the post summer at the Highlander workshops. I was one of the people coming from the South to solve the problem of integration. The people of the South are doing an ever-expanding program to help the people of the South to develop their wisdom and energy to the South. I have developed their wisdom and energy to the South. The problems of the people of South are not new to me. If you survey the workshops in the past three years, our workshops have attempted to show Negro and white community leaders from the South have attempted more than 400 workshops. At Highlander Folk School, where I am director of workshops, I am now devoting my full time to the struggle for equal opportunity for Negroes. I am now devoting my full time to the struggle for equal opportunity for Negroes. It is our mission. But we must never grow bitter. Our struggle is a struggle for a better platform for action. For something that rightfully belongs to them. I was refused membership to help them claim their citizenship. I was refused membership to help them claim their citizenship. I joined in the movement to help them claim their citizenship. I joined in the movement to help them claim their citizenship. This is the story of the children, I have tried to teach good citizenship. It is important to have decent education to live in a house unless others have abandoned. But this is not enough to qualify them to vote to receive a ballot. They have filled all the requirements for citizenship. Many children were really great citizens. I have spent nearly all my adult life teaching citizenship to an adult teacher. My name is Samuel Clark. Born black in a white man's land. I'm a Negro.
The Orangeburg Story

Integration of the Orangeburg County School System

The Orangeburg County School System is one of the few in South Carolina that has been successful in integrating its schools.

The Orangeburg County School Board, in 1955, was one of the first in the state to integrate its schools. The board desegregated its schools in 1956, and the students have been attending integrated schools ever since.

The Orangeburg County School System has received national recognition for its efforts in desegregation.

The Orangeburg County School System has a long history of providing quality education to its students.

He apparently has been asked by some minister to intercede for funds for the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, wanted to know what kind of an outfit it was.

I told that while we had never investigated this school it was highly controversial and that there had been both communists attending the school and communists on the staff but that so far as we knew it had never been communist-dominated. He stated that in view of this he intended to stay out of it and was simply going to tell that it had never been investigated by the Department and that he could make no comment concerning it.

PUBLISHED BY HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL • MONTEAGLE, TENNESSEE
A person may cause evil to others not only by his actions but by his inaction, and in either case he is justly accountable for the injury."

— John Stuart Mill

The "Silent South" now stands indicted on such a charge as suggested by John Stuart Mill. The conviction, in the court of world opinion, will depend upon whether or not the pro-segregation, anti-violence majority has the courage to speak out against the reigns of terror that shook Little Rock, Arkansas, Nashville and Clinton, Tennessee.

The voice of the South has become too many instances that of irresponsible politicians and their equally misguided followers. Spurred on by some public office holders, a violent small minority is willing to defend segregation at any price.

The Negro and forward-looking white people working for integration (another minority) are unable to cope with the violent mob. Violence which has shaken the South for the past year will continue until and unless the pro-segregation, but law-abiding majority clearly understands and speaks out against violence.

Educated minority leaders to make the issue clear and to get the majority to speak out for law and order is one of the foremost goals of Highlander.

1957 PROGRAM CULMINATED IN ANNIVERSARY

The 1957 program was largely painted in this direction, followed by the 25th anniversary celebrated during the Labor Day week-end.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch editorialized the celebration: "The Highlander school is helping remake the South. They do it quietly, modestly. It has much to do in May its second quarter see the fulfillment of the goals of freedom and justice that guide its modern pioneers."

Modern pioneers at the anniversary seminar on "The South Today: Angel" heard Negro and white leaders from throughout the South discuss the progress made in the struggle and the problem still confronting democracy in the South. Two hundred persons attended the three-day program, which closed by talks by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Aubrey Williams, both of Montgomery, Alabama.

Intensive workshop discussion led by leaders of the integration movement gave the anniversary participants a vivid picture of the segregation problem in the South as well as a review of Highlander's past twenty-five years of service.

Leaders of the discussion read like a roll call of persons involved in the integration struggle. Included were Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., United Churchman Institute; Mr. Alan McGraw, Boston, Tennessee, Mrs. Rosa Parks, Montgomery, Alabama; and Bishop E. G. Ward Nichols, Jacksonville, Florida.

Life and Inquirer, Dean of the Rockefeller Memorial School, University of Chicago, was the seminar chairman.

The theme of the anniversary celebration was perhaps summarized by a new Highlander movie premiered during the Labor Day week-end. The movie, showing Negro and white people learning and working together at Highlander, concluded with the late Zilphia Horton singing "We Will Overcome."

The spirit of the celebration was phrased by one of the participants: "One has to live, eat, and talk with both Negro and whites to see how the whole problem boils down to the simple problem of how to treat another person like a human being, not like a thing or object for one's private use or need."

There was time for fun and entertainment during the Labor Day week-end as Ralph Teetfeller called square dances and as Pete Seeger played the guitar and led group singing.

Participants at the seminar not only shared their knowledge but pledged $2,500 in financial support to the school. With Highlander's federal tax status still undecided, the money pledged at the program will be a material contribution to continuation of Highlander's program.

The tax-ruling continues to hold up needed funds from foundations which are able to give only to tax-free institutions, but Highlander's program of education for integration gained renewed vigor from its 25th anniversary program.

FIVE WORKSHOPS ATTRACT 217 LEADERS

While the Labor Day seminar was the climax to the school's expanded program, more than 200 participants in the five workshops this year illustrated the sense of urgency held by Southern whites and Negro people to keep working for integration. More work in North Carolina and in Florida and more workshops in 1958, advocated by all leaders attending.

January and February workshops had approximately fifty participants from North and South Carolina, Florida and Tennessee.

The school focused its attention on the college students during March as thirty-six students from the University of Ohio, Georgia Tech, Emory, Tuskegee, Fisk, Antioch, Putney Graduate School and Bard attended and turned the spotlight on prejudice.

During April the school opened its doors to informal groups of three and six as guests from Philadelphia, New York City and Copenhagen, Denmark, enjoyed the casual atmosphere of the school. The Executive Council also met during the month, rounding out a full program for the staff.

A number of teachers attended the June and July workshops and students from seven Southern states gave a thorough airing to the problems of Negroes’ registering and voting in the South.

As director of workshops, Mrs. Septima P. Clark made extended trips during much of the fall and winter of 1956-1957 into the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee. Mrs. Clark has been recently named Director of Education at Highlander. (See cover).

As reported briefly in the last annual report, members of the Highlander staff worked out a program of guidance and assistance to the Negro children at Clinton, Tennessee. A series of morale-boosting parties and special-subject tutoring helped smooth the turmoil in Clinton. The Clinton program, continuing this year, was highlighted when Bobby Coin became the first Negro in the South to graduate from an integrated public high school.

New Books

During the summer, George Clifton Edwards of Dallas, Texas, donated an invaluable life-time collection of books primarily on the South to the Highlander library.

The Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., has produced a moving picture, "The Face of the South," which George Mitchell, former chairman of the Highlander Executive Council, originated at Highlander.

INTEGRATED YOUTH CAMP

In addition to the other activities, Camp Koinonia-Highlander, with an interracial staff of eleven adults and forty-two camping participants from twelve states, explored the mountain top during the latter part of June and early July.

The Community program continued space with Highlander facilities used regularly all year by the 4-H club and the lake used for swimming and fishing by many of our neighbors.

HIGHLANDER IN THE FIELD

The leadership training program in the field continued to move forward in Johns Island, South Carolina and Sevier County, Tenn. Shortly after the group at Johns Island finished remodeling their building a cooperative store was established and 37 people enrolled in the night school to learn to read and to write in preparation for qualifying to vote. In Sevier County, Tennessee, a series of residential week-end schools developed leadership for a number of rural communities.

Myles Horton took time out from the school's busy workshop schedule to address the 43rd annual meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities in Kansas City, in September.

Earlier in the year, Mr. Horton represented the Adult Education Association of the United States at the American-European Conference on Residential Adult Education in Bergen, Holland.

FINANCIAL PICTURE

In response to letters regarding the loss of tax exemption, Highlander has received almost twice as many individual contributions as last year. With this encouragement the staff has moved forward with plans for a second 25 years with renewed energy and with confidence. The school is not only gratified with the responses from many friends, some of whom have doubled their contributions, but is also pleased with the efforts of committees throughout the country to raise funds. The New York Committee is carrying on a fund-raising campaign by letter-writing.

At the Labor Day celebration delegates from every Southern state, many poor, some unemployed because of the brave stand they have taken, voted to make monthly pledges to keep Highlander operating. The friends of Highlander in Chicago have responded by a national campaign for what is being called the Guarantors Fund. They propose to enlist 200 people who will pledge a minimum of $10 a month for the next 12 months. This will provide a minimum operating budget, a floor of $2,000 a month. Larger and smaller gifts beyond this will enable Highlander to conduct additional workshops and do more extension work in the field.

Contributors will be mailed a Guarantor card supplied by Mrs. Emily Waldman, 1329 East 50th St., Chicago 15. Funds will be deposited in a Highlander account in a Chicago bank and once each month an authorized Highlander agent will draw a check remitting to the School the amount of pledges collected for that month.
FINANCIAL STATEMENT SUMMARY

"Highlander Folk School ended the fiscal year September 30, 1957 with an operating fund deficit of $9,193.86. Receipts for the year were $39,482.95 and expenses for the year were $71,273.94 (including $6,512.75 provision for depreciation)."

Certified Public Accountant

Financial statement was prepared by Harry V. Herrell, CPA, Knoxville, Tennessee and a detailed copy of some will be mailed on request.

TAX EXEMPTION REVOCKED

In February the Internal Revenue Service without warning revoked its previous long-standing ruling that contributions to Highlander were deductible for income-tax purposes on the basis that Highlander does not qualify as an educational organization for tax exempt purposes. The revocation of tax-exempt status is being protested and attorneys feel confident that after a review of Highlander's activities the Internal Revenue Service will restore the tax exempt status.

This action on the part of the federal government has encouraged anti-Highlander statements on the part of segregationist Governor Martin Griffin of Georgia, and on September 7 Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi, who states, "I am in thorough agreement" with the Internal Revenue Service action making donations to "our" School no longer deductible.

Former Special Agent advised SA on 12/15/57 that on 12/14/57 he received in the mail unsolicited a copy of the following publication: "Highlander Folk School."

The paper, published by the Georgia Commission on Education, 220 Agriculture Building, 19 Hunter Street, Atlanta 3, Ga., consists of four pages and lists the Communist affiliations of persons in attendance at the Labor Day Weekend 1957 Seminar at Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn. Pages 3 and 4 of the paper are devoted to pictures of the mixture of the races of persons in attendance at this school.

The editorial comment mentions that in this issue readers have seen pictures of the leaders of every major race incident in the South from May 1954 until the time of the Labor Day 1957 meeting of the Communist Training School, Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn. It was also mentioned that names of the national figures are easily identified with their pictures and it is the intention of the publishers to identify all the leaders and participants of this Communist Training School. Therefore, it would be appreciated if readers would identify any individual they know in the photographs. The editorial is signed Governor MARVIN GRiffin with Executive Secretary listed as T. WILLIAMS, JR., 220 Agriculture Building, 19 Hunter Street, S.W., Atlanta, Ga.

Former SA does not intend to reply to the above request. He added he wished to make it a matter of record that the paper was unsolicited and he does not know how the publishers obtained his name and address.
On 12/20/57, former SA [redacted] made available to SA [redacted] a copy of the "Highlander Folk School" which he received unsolicited in the mail.

Inasmuch as these papers were received by two former Special Agents, the possibility exists that former agents are being canvassed regarding their knowledge of CP subjects in an effort to publicize and identify individuals pictured in above-mentioned publication.

Inasmuch as this publication is apparently receiving nation-wide distribution, this copy is being retained in the Philadelphia Office.

Atlanta is requested to advise if the extent of the distribution of this publication is known and if information reflecting the receipt of the publication by others in the Philadelphia area is desired.

LEADERS DEFEND SCHOOL IN SOUTH

Condemn Attacks on Adult Center—Deny It Seeks to Stir Racial Strife

BY JOHN N. POPHAM
Special to The New York Times

MONTAEGLE, Tenn., Dec. 21

A statement "strongly condemning" attacks on the Highlander Folk School as a "Communist-training school" to stir racial strife in the South was made public today.

Myrl Horton, director of the school, released the statement over the signatures of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, Protestant theologian; Msgr. John O'Grady, National Conference of Catholic Charities, and Lloyd K. Garrison, former Dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Highlander, situated on a Cumberland mountain plateau about equidistant from Nashville and Chattanooga, is a resident center for adult education "to study and discuss challenging social, educational and economic problems confronting individuals and communities in the South."

Dr. King at Meeting

The school, emphasizing labor organizational techniques, was founded twenty-five years ago. Last Labor Day weekend, Highlander conducted a twenty-fifth anniversary seminar at which participants discussed "the implications of integration for such groups as churches, schools and trade unions."

Among those attending were Dr. Alonzo G. Moron, president of Hampton Institute; Charles O'Million, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute; Rev. David H. Brooks of Tallahassee, Fla.; Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro clergyman who directed the Montgomery (Ala.) bus boycott and Dr. John Hope Ed., professor at Fisk University.

In October, the Georgia Education Commission, headed by Gov. Marvin Griffin, charged that the Labor Day seminar had constituted a "Communist-training school" to promote "methods and tactics for precipitating racial disturbances."

The commission said that it had sent an "agent" to infiltrate the seminar. Commission officials held that "there assembled at Highlander were the leaders of every major race." The statement was also told that a number of persons accused by Attorney General Eugene Cook of having Communist sympathies and affiliations had attended the seminar.

The statement released by Mr. Horton noted that a four-page pamphlet, bearing the imprent of the Georgia Education Commission, was "now being distributed" and that it attacked the Highlander School as-communistic. The statement charged that 250,000 copies of the pamphlet were being circulated.

Action Is Criticized

The statement quoted Mr. Horton as declaring that "Highlander did not and does not welcome enrollment of anyone with a totalitarian philosophy, whether from the extreme right or extreme left; nothing but more trouble can come from the White Citizens Councils and the Communist party's infiltration into groups seeking a democratic solution to our problems."

The statement went on: "The attempt of the Georgia Governor's commission to draw from the serious and fruitful deliberations of this gathering sustenance for the efforts of the Southern racists to equate desegregation with communism evokes our strong condemnation."

"This kind of irresponsible demagoguery is obviously designed to intensify the difficulties facing decent Southerners who might otherwise give leadership in the adjustment necessary for the desegregation." The statement also held that it was "morally indefensible" to distribute material damaging to the reputation of those attending the Labor Day seminar.

It urged that "the vast majority of Americans irrespective of geographical location join us rather than Governor Griffin in subscribing to Highlanders' policies of equal opportunity."
OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF POLICY
HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
Monteagle, Tennessee

We reaffirm our faith in democracy as a goal that will bring dignity and freedom to all; in democracy as an expanding concept encompassing human relations from the smallest community organization to international structure; and permeating all economic, social and political activities.

Democracy to us means that membership in the human family entitles all to freedom of thought and religion, to equal rights to a livelihood, education and health; to equal opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to equal access to public services.

We hold that democracy is inactive unless workers are given a full voice in industry through unions; or farmers are given a voice in the market place through cooperatives; or when freedom of thought and discussion is limited; that democracy is outlawed by legally entrenched discrimination and segregation; that there must be diversity of approach but each step must be in conformity with the goal, which is dishonored by each undemocratic act.

With a democratic goal, we are in a position to fight anything that gets in the way, whether it be totalitarian communism, or fascism or monopoly dominated capitalism.

The purpose of the Highlander Folk School is to assist in creating leadership for democracy. Our services are available to labor, farm, community, religious, and civic organizations working toward a democratic goal.

The nature of a specific educational program will be determined by the needs of the students.

Use of the services of the School by individual organizations will be in accordance with their own policies so long as these policies do not conflict with the purposes of the School. A staff member will assist in planning and coordinating all programs.

The policies and programs of the School are wholly determined by an Executive Council composed of the staff and recognized Southern leaders.

Highlander Folk School is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the School, foundations and tuition.

The times call for an affirmative program, based on a positive goal. An army of democracy deeply rooted in the lives, struggles and traditions of the American people must be created. By broadening the scope of democracy to include everyone, and deepening the concept to include every relationship, the army of democracy would be so vast and so determined that nothing undemocratic could stand in its path.
I felt the NAACP was doing so much to help the people and the government.

What can we do to help you and the FBI to investigate this school?

I know you do find these things difficult to find out—do you know what is true—what is true—

I am sure that a great deal of labor trouble occurred in all of the Southern States.

American propaganda and for Communist teaching would be ended if the school were closed.

Will you please do it?

G.O.P. OF STATE PLAN BIG RALLY AT KNOXVILLE

Party to Pick Candidates For U.S., State Posts; Kruesi Boomed

The most important meeting in "seven years" looks for Tennessee Republicans Wednesday when they will meet in mass convention at Knoxville to name candidates for United States senator, governor and railroad commissioner, and make further plans for the William G. Blount drive in the state.

With the Wisconsin primary making news, headquarters of the time is opportune to put strong men forward for these important positions. The most aggressive statewide campaign in 30 years is in store. It has been indicated.

Keynote of the convention will be Colorful Dewey Short, only Republican member of Congress from Missouri. Short is known as "the grant of the Ozarks," and he is a united states senator.

Republicans attempted to bring Twenty-Four Thomas P. Dewey, of New York, down for the convention, but the former candidate for the presidential nomination worded that he would be unable to leave New York because of the pressure of business.

BIG GROUP TO GO

A large group of Hamilton Countians are expected to attend the convention. A Republican leader said Saturday he would not be surprised if at least 50 county leaders are present Wednesday.

Among Chattanoogans who may attend the meeting is Paul J. Kruesi, member of the Republican National Advisory Committee; Foster Johnson, member of the district Republican committee; Harry C. Kersting, chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic Club; Jerome G. Taylor, state Democratic convention chairman; and Horace Humphries, chairman of the Hamilton County Republican Central Committee; John C. Gile, manager of the Chattanooga Club.

The convention has been planning a large banquet for the night, and it is anticipated that this will be an important part of the program.

The facsimiles above are of the check which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sent to the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, and the letter which accompanied it. The letter is addressed to Mr. Dubrowski, one of the officials of the school.

No Relief From Torn Weather Expected
High of 85 Looms

Only a few showers, says weatherman making no pretense that there will be enough rain to chase away the heat wave for nearly a month ahead.

The official forecast calls for partly cloudy weather with a local shower today. There will be little change in temperature, an expected high of 85 degrees this afternoon.

August continues to be hot, with each day so far averting well above normal. Highs through Saturday were recorded Aug. 1, when the mercury climbed to 96 degrees. So far, six out of 10 days had temperatures in the nineties. Low for the month 65 degrees, recorded on the fourth.

Only one day has had a measurable amount of rain through Saturday: 0.06 of an inch, recorded Aug. 1.

Arms Study of Communism as Solution

School Head Says Capitalism Is Failure;
Q. E. D.

It was our intention to give no further publicity to the Highlander Folk School's anniversary celebration Sunday. The less written about this breeder of discord and class hatred, the better. We cannot refrain, however, from calling attention to the sneering keynote address of Dr. Alva W. Taylor with its thinly veiled invitation for strife in the South. Yet, this meeting was called in the interest, allegedly, of unity for victory! We digress from our intended silence merely to remark that the meeting justified the criticism we made of it in advance. The best contribution the Folk School could make to victory and to the South right now would be to suspend for the duration and let its faculty and agitators find places somewhere in the service of the country.

Plain-Speaking Not Outmoded

The meeting took place in the dining room of the Ross Hotel and Mrs. Roosevelt was seated next to Myles Horton, who is himself a director of the school in the Tennessee mountains out from Monteagle, that has aroused the interest of Martin Dies.

There were about 20 representatives of the school present. They had traveled by automobile from Chattanooga, bringing their "lunch"—sandwiches and apples, the latter grown on their mountain top—and were served coffee by the hotel.

This group had been attracted here by the second Southern Conference for Human Welfare now meeting at the Memorial Auditorium, and many conference officials sat in on the "folk school" dinner.

The "Highlanders" were engaged in mass singing when Mrs. Roosevelt came in with Dr. Frank P. Graham, president, University of North Carolina, and chairman of the conference, with other ranking officials. They kept on singing—"We shall not be moved, just like the people of Bataan and Rangoon conducting with graceful arm movements—We shall not be moved—we're fighting for our children, we shall not be moved."

And then there was calm. Myles Horton sat on one side of Mrs. Roosevelt. He smiled from ear to ear. Myles Horton has attracted well known national figures to his school, but he was grinning over one of his greatest dreams, a dream that Mrs. Roosevelt some day would attend.

STANFORD, K. (AP) April 19--Two children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren, 10 and 12, were killed in a fire that destroyed their home in the Cedar Creek vicinity, while the parents were working in a field some distance away.
Mr. Roosevelt had just returned from a trip to the mountains, where he had been interested in the work of the WPA. He expressed his desire to see the workers' education program expanded, pointing out its importance and showing a great deal of tact. Mrs. Roosevelt also expressed her interest in the matter, stating that it was a great deal of work, but it was worth doing. She suggested that the program be expanded and that more workers be educated. She also emphasized the importance of community education and the need for more workers to be educated. The program was well received and was praised by all who attended.

Head of Highlander Institution Confers With Gov. Cooper

TRACY CITY, Tenn., Nov. 14 (UP)—The campaign of the “Grundy County Crusaders” to have the Highlander Folk School, a labor school, moved from the county because of alleged “subversive teachings” apparently was at a standstill today.

However, officials of the group, including Chairman A. L. Henderson, Tracy City banker, said they are studying possible legal maneuvers to force the school to move elsewhere. Yesterday’s comparative inactivity followed a conference Tuesday night between officials of the “Crusaders,” organized earlier in the evening, and of the school, during which the charges of “subversive teachings” were made and denied.

Charles Dombrowski, head of Highlander, went to Nashville yesterday to confer with Gov. Frank Cooper. The governor said later that Dombrowski made no request of him, but merely outlined the purposes of Highlander. The governor quoted Dombrowski as saying the school is not unpatriotic and that it favors preparedness.
Grundy Official Says
King Letter Absurd,
Figures Misleading
Fults Says 'Rotten Propaganda Probably Originated' in Highlander Folk School, Whence King Comes

Presence of a number of Highlander Folk School people at the Southern Conference for Human Welfare here makes it a prime subject of the following from Lewis F. Fults, of Altamont, county Chairman. Mr. Fults replies to an article by Dillard King, of Monteagle, in the recent issue of the News Free Press in which King attacked a previous article by Mr. Fults, defending Grundy County.
Mr. King pictured Grundy as a land of destitution and destitution anddesolation and Mr. Fults presents vigorously the criticism ofthis home section, saying that "probably all this rotten propagandism originated" in Highlander Folk School, whence comesMr. King.

To The Chattanooga News-Free Press:
Some time ago, as far as we know, there appeared in the Chattanooga News-Free Press a letter written by Mr. Dillard King, of Monteagle, in which he accused the county of being a land of destitution and destitution and desolation, and this, he said, was due to the activities of the Highlander Folk School. We have never heard of this school before, and we have not yet had an opportunity to investigate the matter further. However, we are prepared to answer Mr. King's charges in the following manner:

Mr. King states that the Highlander Folk School is responsible for the destitution which exists in Grundy County. He claims that the school has been responsible for the spread of Communism in the county, and that this has resulted in the destruction of the local economy.

We believe that Mr. King's statements are unfounded. The Highlander Folk School has been in existence for many years, and during that time it has done much to improve the economic and social conditions of the people of Grundy County.

The school has provided education and training for many county residents, and has helped to establish new industries and businesses. It has also worked to improve the standard of living of its students and their families.

We believe that Mr. King's charges are baseless and unfounded, and we urge him to provide evidence to support his allegations. We are confident that the people of Grundy County will not be swayed by his false statements.
The transcript shows that President Johnson made the following statement:

Q: How many of the WPA projects are in the southern states that appear to be at a minimum. About all we found indicates that subversive activities was conducted by some groups, claiming to be Communist or Red, who seemed to be rather alien down there in part in solidarity with the policies of the Soviet Union. In addition, some trouble at the WPA project known as the Highlander School, which was organized by the Tennessee statue providing for the incorporation of educational institutions.

R: That does not have any connection with the WPA. One of the representatives of the committee, Barger (Col. Harry B. Smith, state school administrator, at the time), pointed out that the WPA project is conducted by some trouble at the WPA project known as the Highlander School, which was organized by the Tennessee statue providing for the incorporation of educational institutions.

Q: What is your opinion on the WPA projects?

R: I do not think it is very successful.

sired. I considered his proposition and told him I would stay for a while.

He called Miss Isa Brandon, whose job it is to run the business end of the school, and she assigned me to the assembly room opposite the main entrance. I joined a small group of students entering the room. I was surprised to see Miss Brandon, a teacher at the school, with a group of students. She told me that the school was founded by her father, a former schoolteacher, who had been an active supporter of the Communist Party.

Miss Brandon explained that the school was founded during the Great Depression to provide education to children of working-class families who could not afford to send their children to private schools. She said that the school was supported by the local community and that its success was due to the dedication of its faculty and students.

I asked Miss Brandon about the curriculum offered at the school. She told me that the school offered courses in mathematics, science, history, and literature. She also said that the school placed a strong emphasis on the study of the works of Karl Marx and Vladimir Lenin.

Miss Brandon then introduced me to some of the students who were present. I was impressed by the enthusiasm and dedication of the students. They were active in the local community and had formed their own organization to spread the ideas of the Communist Party.

Miss Brandon then invited me to attend a meeting of the school's parent-teacher association. I accepted her invitation and attended the meeting. I was struck by the dedication and enthusiasm of the parents who were present. They were eager to support the school and its mission.

I left the school feeling inspired by the dedication and commitment of its students and faculty. I was convinced that the school was making a positive contribution to the community and that its work would continue to be supported by the local community.

Dear [Redacted],

Your letter dated January 26, 1958, with its enclosures, has been received.

I would like to point out the FBI is strictly a fact-gathering agency and does not make evaluations or draw conclusions as to the character or integrity of any individual or organization. Also, the matter of prosecution is not within the functions of this Bureau but is a function of the Department of Justice and its representative, the United States attorney.

In the event you secure additional data which you believe to be of interest to this Bureau, you may desire to communicate directly with the Special Agent in Charge of our Knoxville Office located at 617 Walnut Street, Southwest, Knoxville 2, Tennessee.

NOTE TO KNOXVILLE CONTINUED ON PAGE 2
The correspondent enclosed a 4 page folder printed by the Georgia Commission on Education, Atlanta, Georgia, which related to the Labor Day, 1957, meeting held at the Highlander Folk School (HFS), Monteagle, Tennessee. This folder has been previously made available to the Bureau and to your office. Also enclosed by the correspondent were eleven newspaper clippings pertaining to the HFS from "Nashville Tennessean," the "Chattanooga News-Free Press" and from unidentified newspapers. These were all old clippings and the ones containing dates were dated in 1939 and 1940. All articles were of the same general nature in that they were critical of the school and alleged it taught communism. Correspondent criticizes the HFS and wants to know what can be done to get the FBI to investigate and close the school.

The HFS is well known to your office. Referenced Knoxville file 61-12. (61-7511)

NOTE ON YELLOW:

The HFS is supported primarily by donations from individuals and labor unions in the form of payments for students attending its courses. It offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics and the general field of labor education. It has had CP members on its staff and has followed the practice of welcoming communists as students. It has never offered courses of instruction in communism, however, nor has the CP ever succeeded in gaining control of the school. Due to its interracial character, it has been the subject of numerous past allegations that it represents the headquarters for communism in eastern Tennessee. These allegations have never been substantiated. (61-7511-210)

Met With Communists?

McCrackin Doesn't Know

The Rev. Maurice McCrackin said Monday he attended a Tennessee integration meeting but he said he doesn't know if any Communists were there.

Peter Outcalt, Republican candidate for Council, says acknowledged Communists attended the session at Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee.

Mr. Outcalt cited the incident as an argument for a proposed ordinance which would forbid Communist sympathizers from using publicly supported buildings.

"I attended that meeting," said Mr. McCrackin. "I don't know if any Communists were there or not. If any were there, they did not give out the party line."

Mr. McCrackin, brother of West Cincinnati-St. Barnabas Church, 1111 Dayton street, was asked if he is a Democrat or Republican, and was quick to answer he is neither.

"I'm a Christian following the doctrine of peace and nonviolence," he said. "I belong to no political party."

He refused to say if he is a Communist. "I don't say I'm not a Communist," he said. "I don't want to be on the defensive."

He added, however, that since he isn't a member of any political party, by implication the statement also would include the Communist Party.

Mr. McCrackin said Labor Day meeting was solely for discussion of the integration problem, and that for this reason Gov. Marvin Griffin, of Georgia, has opposed the Tennessee school.

Mr. McCrackin, who is willing to work with Communists toward the objectives of integration and peace, Mr. McCrackin said he would work with Communists. "I believe in free discussion," he said.

Mr. McCrackin has withheld a portion of his federal income taxes each year as a protest against the military budget.

The attack on the Rev. Mr. McCracken, pastor of the Cincinnati West End Baptist Church, was the subject of a Labor Day meeting held at the school last night.

The Rev. Mr. McCracken's anti-semitism in the American Legion, several Legionnaires, and their associates were present at this meeting.

The principal speaker was Miles Horton, director of the Hambletonian Folk School, which works in the field of education for the White Citizens Committee and the Ku Klux Klan. An attack on Dr. Horton's work may have led to the increased tension.

The meeting was attended by the Rev. Luther Tucker, pastor of the Indian Hill Episcopal Church, and other anti-Ku Klux Klan groups. The meeting was held in the rear of the school, and the Ku Klux Klan was represented by a small group of members.

The meeting was the first in a series sponsored by the Anti-Ku Klux Klan Group, which has given rise to a series of meetings in the area. The meeting was held under the title of "The Anti-Ku Klux Klan Group."
Chest Opens McCrackin Inquiry As Church Asks His Removal

A Community Chest investigation of the Rev. Maurice McCrackin, Cincinnati minister who refuses to pay income taxes, will come to a head in the very near future, Guy Thompson, executive director of the Chest, said yesterday.

Thompson's statement was given on the heels of a disclosure that the Knox Presbyterian Church, Hyde Park, has asked the Cincinnati Presbytery to remove Rev. Mrs. McCrackin as pastor of the West Cincinnati St. Barnabas Church.

The minister serves also as executive of the Paddlay Street Neighborhood House, a Chest agency.

His refusal to pay income taxes as a protest against armament and, more recently, his attendance at a Labor Day seminar at a Tennessee school charged with Communist connections has brought him under fire.

"Chest officials are deeply concerned about the problem," Mr. Thompson, citing "very serious allegations" against the minister.

"We are gathering facts," Thompson continued. "These facts will be presented to the board of directors of the Paddlay Street Neighborhood House with the request that it, as a responsible body, take whatever action is indicated by the facts."

"Our investigation is not yet completed but the community can be assured that the board of trustees of the Chest will see to it that a fair conclusion based on facts will be reached in the very near future."

Rev. Mr. McCrackin had this to say:

"I believe in the right of the individual to follow his conscience. My conscience tells me that war is wrong. Therefore, I cannot voluntarily give to its support. I do not believe it is anyone else's province to stand in judgment of another's conscientious convictions."

The Session, or governing body, of Knox Church detailed charges against Rev. Mr. McCrackin in a letter to Dr. Lowry Palmer, executive secretary of the Cincinnati Presbytery.

The allegations included the clergyman's refusal, since 1948, to pay the tax and now to file a return; his refusal to give the Internal Revenue Service salary information; his request to the church's Vestry-Senior to withdraw his church's bookkeeper's withholding of such information and his stated intention to take the matter to the Presbytery.

The letter charged that Rev. Mr. McCrackin is setting a bad example and is "too long a time" to serve West Cincinnati St. Barnabas.

The Knox Church also asked that its financial support of West Cincinnati St. Barnabas be withdrawn.

Dr. Palmer would not comment on the letter. But the Rev. Mr. McCrackin, pastor of_the Knox Church, said the letter was referred to the Council of the Presbytery for study.

Although West Cincinnati St. Barnabas is a combined Episcopal and Presbyterian congregation, Rev. Mr. McCrackin is a Presbyterian minister.

Rev. Mr. Campbell said the matter arose when the Knox Church Session was reviewing its 1958 Benevolence budget.

LEGION UNIT

Hits At Pastor

Associated With School Charged With Red Connections

The Hamilton County Council of the American Legion lashed out at yesterday at the Rev. Maurice McCrackin, West End minister under attack for attending a seminar at a Tennessee school charged with Communist connections.

Previously, elements in the Legion ranks had taken pot shots at Rev. Mr. McCrackin, but yesterday's blast was more like a broadside.

The Legion also denounced James C. Paradise, president of the Cincinnati Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, and the Rev. Luther Tucker, pastor of the Indian Hill Episcopal-Presbyterian Church, as supporters of Rev. Mr. McCrackin.

In a statement signed by Neil Wetterman, the Legion council's Hamilton County Americanism chairman, Paradise and Rev. Mr. Tucker were charged with "distorting facts" in a public meeting on charges against Rev. Mr. McCrackin January 16 at St. John's Unitarian Church, Clifton.

As for Rev. Mr. McCrackin himself, the Legion's spokesman declared it "opposes and will continue to oppose" his presentation of his beliefs to youth. The Legion described Rev. Mr. McCrackin's beliefs as "dangerous to the best interests of our country."

Wetterman's statement charged Paradise and Rev. Mr. Tucker made public false information about a government witness in a Federal "Communism" case against Myles Horton, director of the Highlander School.

Wetterman said Rev. Mr. Tucker had circulated letters stating the government witness was discharged by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and that the case against Horton had been dropped because of perjured testimony by the witness.

"This is a deliberate untruth, made without substantiation, in addition to being an improper use of the FBI's name," Wetterman said.

The Legion spokesman said Paradise gave out the same information in the January 13 St. John's Church meeting.

Wetterman said the Legion Council "has placed a full report of this matter" in the hands of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

He added that the Legion's stand on Rev. Mr. McCrackin and his supporters has been endorsed unanimously by members of the First District Ohio Amnesty.

CAMPBELL CHAPTER D. A. R.
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Mr. F. Edgar Hoover,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Sir:

The members of Campbell Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, one hundred strong, wish to call your attention to the Highlander's School located in Mounteagle, Tennessee and urge you to take steps to revoke its charter. We are not familiar with the necessary technical procedure for such an act but have confidence in your knowledge and ability.

We feel that this school, though accomplishing some good, is influencing the mountain people of that area toward Communist ideas.

We do not want such a school anywhere but certainly not in Tennessee.

We would like for you to know we stand firmly back of you in all such efforts.

Very truly,

Dear

Your letter dated March 24, 1958, has been received, and I appreciate the interest which prompted your communication.

I would like to point out that the FBI is strictly a fact-gathering agency and does not make evaluations or draw conclusions as to the character or integrity of any individual or organization. Also, the revocation of the charter of the school you mentioned is not a matter within the jurisdiction of the FBI but is a responsibility of officials of the State of Tennessee. Your letter of June 13, 1958, with enclosure, has been received. You may be sure that I deeply appreciate the interest which prompted you to bring this matter to my attention.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE:
He enclosed the publication, "Highlander Folk School," which has previously been brought to the Bureau's attention on numerous occasions. This school, which is supported primarily by donations from individuals and labor unions, offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics and the general field of labor education. It has had CP members on its staff and has followed the practice of screening communists as students. It has never offered courses of instruction in communism nor has the CP ever succeeded in gaining control of this school. Due to its international character, it has been the subject of many past allegations that it represents the headquarters for communism in Eastern Tennessee. These allegations have never been substantiated.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover,

Dear Sir,

I am enclosing some papers that I felt you should see. Some of these papers were sent to me by the doctors and some by various schools. Some of the doctors and others have told me that the information contained herein is unclassified.

Sincerely,

Mr. J. Edger Hoover, J

Dear Sir

You find inclosed some paper. There a lot of talk about this school. Some of the doctors and preacher here are going down there making talks I think it ought to be look in to. it the only school of it kind in Tenessie they say and preacher from other states are telling about it over the radio. Texas and other states. Saying Tenessie has a communist school I don't know anything about it. You can tell more when you read this paper.

Yours Truly.

Introduction

In the pages which follow, certain propositions will emerge from the evidence submitted. For the most part, original Communist sources have been cited in order to let the Communists speak for themselves. It should be clear that—

1) The Communists are at work, with their customary fanatical dedication, in stirring up trouble in the field of public school integration in the South;

2) The Communists have been at work for some thirty years in the field of agitation among Negroes;

3) The Communists have organized and promoted a succession of united fronts and fronts designed especially for winning Negroes to Communism;

4) The tactics of Communist agitation among Negroes are greatly altered from time to time, but the basic objective of violent revolution remains unchanged;

5) Whatever the line of the Communist Party on the Negro question may be at a given moment, it is based upon the so-called Marxist-Leninist analysis and is dictated by Moscow in the special interests of the Soviet Union;

6) There is a vast Communist literature on the subject of Communism and the American Negro;

7) One of the announced goals of the Communist program is the confiscation without compensation of the property of the white capitalists and landowners in the South;

8) The Communists favor racial amalgamation and assert that a Communist revolution would speed up the process;

9) The Communists have established friendly contacts with the Negro leaders of most of the recent integration incidents in the South;

10) The Communists rely chiefly upon the support which they are able to command from misguided Southern liberals;

11) This is an era in Communist strategy when the Party has reverted to the united front policy which prevailed immediately prior to and during World War II;

12) Communist leaders have asserted that “Negro liberation” is their Number One issue on the domestic front.
Communists, Negroes, and Integration

The Communist Party has long been expert at the business of fishing in troubled waters—the more troubled, the more to its liking.

The Communist Party is at it again today; and, unfortunately, the "Keep Off" signs have been taken down by order of the U. S. Supreme Court, in its decisions of June 17, 1957, affecting the Communist conspiracy.

If any issue in our society today may be properly characterized as troubled waters, it is unquestionably the issue raised by the Supreme Court's desegregation order of May 17, 1954. And there is no hazard in saying that these waters will be troubled for a long time to come.

The situation is one which the Communists have welcomed eagerly. It offers them an almost unparalleled opportunity to exploit, for their own ulterior and revolutionary purposes, the inevitable social turbulence resulting from the Supreme Court's order for public school integration. Violent agitation is the meat on which Communism feeds.

The Belt: Negro Liberation

The bait on the Communist book is "Negro liberation," a phrase which has been reiterated by Communist leaders with such frequency over the years that it has become a cliche. It matters not that liberation at the hands of Communists is demonstrably a cruel euphemism for a slavery worse than that from which Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation freed the Negroes. The Communists still approach the Negro people of the United States with the promise of liberation dangling from their book.

As long ago as 1928, the Communist Party of the United States published a pamphlet written by John Pepper, the representative of the Communist International in the United States, in which Pepper said: "The Communists must participate in all national liberation movements of the Negroes which have a real mass character." (American Negro Problems, p. 14; emphasis in original)

In a Communist pamphlet entitled "The Road to Nathan," published in 1934, Harry Haywood wrote: "Party leadership in the Negro liberation movement." (p. 62)

In 1937, the Communist Party issued a pamphlet entitled "The Road to Liberation for the Negro People," by Abner W. Berry and others.

Ten years later, in 1947, Negro Communist leader Benjamin J. Davis published his pamphlet entitled "The Path of Negro Liberation," in which he wrote:

Consequently the Negro people are moving in the direction of some form of statehood in the Black Belt. This would mean an adjustment or rectification of the lines demarking 12 states through which runs the Black Belt area where the Negro people are in a majority. (p. 19, 20)

In 1948, Negro Communist leader Harry Haywood published a book entitled Negro Liberation.

That "Negro liberation" has priority on the Communist Party's agenda today is confirmed by the foremost Negro Communist leader in the United States. Writing in Political Affairs, the theoretical magazine of the Communist Party, U.S.A., which lays down the Party line, Benjamin J. Davis declares:

The struggle for Negro rights—particularly in the deep South—is the single most crucial and decisive issue in the United States today . . . The massive significance of the national liberation struggles of the Negro and colonial people, here and abroad, envelops this work with additional importance. (p. 13)

Negro Republic in the Black Belt

The Communist slogan of "Negro Liberation" is simply a watered-down version of the Party's original slogan of "A Negro Republic in the Black Belt." The propaganda which the Communist Party conducted on the basis of the latter slogan fell flat in its appeal to Negroes and only served to show how far the Kremlin's agents are removed from the realities of the American scene.

In October, 1930, the Communist International adopted a resolution "on the Negro Question in the United States." It was published in the United States by Workers Library Publishers, the publishing adjunct of the Communist Party, in a pamphlet entitled The Communist Position on the Negro Question.

On the subject of an independent Negro republic in the Black Belt, the Comintern took the position that "as long as capitalism rules in the United States the Communists cannot come out against governmental separation of the Negro zone from the United States." (p. 51) But, in the event of the establishment of a Soviet government in the whole United States, Communist Negroes would come out against "separation of the Negro Republic from federation with the United States," while unconditionally giving "the Negro population of the Black Belt freedom of choice even on this question." (p. 50-51)

The Comintern's resolution held that there was a "prospective sharpening of the national conflicts in the South, with the advance of the national revolutionary Negro movement," and that in such a situation the Communist Party must "stand up with all strength and courage for the struggle to win independence and for the establishment of a Negro republic in the Black Belt." (p. 51-52)
William Z. Foster points out that the Program of the Communist International declares for:

The recognition of the right of all nations, irrespective of race, to complete self-determination, that is, self-determination inclusive of the right to State separation. (Toward Soviet America, p. 304)

Foster then applies this principle of self-determination and State separation (or secession from the United States) to the Negro population in the Black Belt, in the following statement:

Accordingly, the right of self-determination will apply to Negroes in the American Soviet system. In the so-called Black Belt of the South, where the Negroes are in the majority, they will have the fullest right to govern themselves and also such white minorities as may live in the section. (Ibid, p. 304)

Confiscation

The program of the Communist Party calls for the confiscation of the property of the white people in the so-called Black Belt. According to William Z. Foster, writing in his book entitled Toward Soviet America:

In a Soviet system, the Negro will have the most dignity—economically, politically, socially... He will have ample land, confiscated from the great white landlords. Socialism will mean the first real freedom for the Negro. He is beginning to realize this, hence his mass turning to the Communist party for leadership, and the consequent demand of the capitalists and big landowners at the growing unity of white and black toilers. (p. 303)

There is no doubt about the Communist program of confiscation. But, after 40 years of Communist agitation, there is no evidence of the “mass turning” of Negroes to the Communist Party—a fact which William Z. Foster knows very well now, and which he knew very well when he wrote about it.

Communist Aim: Racial Amalgamation

In their franker moments, Communist leaders in the States have stated bluntly that one of their aims is about racial amalgamation. Thus, William Foster, present head of the Communist Party in America, declared in his book entitled Toward Soviet America:

The American Soviet will, of course, abolish all restrictions upon racial intermarriage... The revolution will only hasten this process of integration, already proceeding throughout the world with increasing tempo. (p. 305-306)

Kremlin’s Guidance and Control

The American Communist Party got its eventual scientific understanding of the Negro question in the United States from the writings and personal counsel of Lenin. This was one of the many basic services to the American labor movement rendered by the Communist International, but it was not to be realized until 1929. (p. 454)

It has already been shown that the representative of the Communist International, John Pepper, dictated the line of the American Communists on the so-called Negro question.

On Penetrating Non-Communist Organizations

In addition to building their own Party-controlled organizations, the Communist Party has from the beginning pursued a policy of sending its members into non-Communist organizations. Their own word for this type of activity is “penetration.” The Communist objectives in penetrating other groups are varied. In some instances, the goal of penetration is outright control. In other instances, the objective is to disseminate and gain support for the views of the Party apparatus outside the immediate circle of Communists or, in other words, to win fellow travelers on specific issues. In yet other and rarer cases, the aim of penetration is to destroy the organization which is penetrated.

At times, the Communist Party directives have frankly set forth the tactics of penetration, without the slightest attempt at secrecy and subterfuge. Thus, a report to the Plenum of the Communist Party in 1935 records some successes in penetration. Excerpts from this report were published in the Party Organizer of March, 1935, under the title of “How to Penetrate the Negro Organizations.” The first excerpt gives an illuminating example of the tactics of Communist penetration. It reads as follows:

We have some excellent experiences in New York. In Queens we have been able, just on one issue, and maybe this is the secret of it, to get together over 60 various organizations of the Negro people on the question of discrimination in the hospital in Queens. We have the Alpha Benevolent Association, the American League Against War and Fascism, the Unity Baptist Church, Arrawat Democratic Club, Bayside City League, N.A.A.C.P., etc., about 70 organizations that have come together and conducted a struggle in Queens for the right of Negroes in the hospitals in the City of New York. (p. 20)

The tactic of concentrating on “one issue” in order to penetrate non-Communist Negro organizations was further illustrated in the second excerpt of the report.
to the Plenum of the Communist Party. In this instance, the "one issue" was a forthcoming conference on unemployment in Washington, D.C., a conference engineered and controlled by the Communist Party. With respect to this example of successful penetration of non-Communist Negro organizations, the Plenum report said:

These experiences have shown us that it was possible to get this united front by simply taking up one section, one issue, one grievance of the Negro people and developing a struggle around it. In this case we can see that if we properly approach these organizations there is a possibility of getting into the Negro organizations for a united front. We have had in Harlem in the preparations for the unemployed conference at Washington, a conference of 29 organizations, different organizations than we have had heretofore, into a conference at Abyssinia Baptist Church, the N.A.A.C.P., church organizations, etc. Comrade [Herbert] Benjamin spoke there, and we elected delegates to the congress at Washington. We had also the followers of Father Divine, the Negro "God." (p. 20)

(“Again and again, the Communist Party has successfully penetrated the Abyssinian Baptist Church, of which Representative Adam Clayton Powell was and is the pastor.”)

Still another example of the use of the tactic of "one issue" was the united front which the Communist Party organized around the Italian war against Ethiopia. In an article entitled "The United Front on Ethiopia," published in the Party Organizer of July, 1935, James W. Ford wrote as follows:

This time we organized a broad united front on the issue of the struggle for the defense of the Ethiopian people, which ultimately involved at least 60 Negro organizations. (p. 16)

In this campaign of penetration, the Communist Party again had the use of Congressman Powell’s Abyssinian Baptist Church.

Wrote James W. Ford in the Party Organizer:

The first action was on May 7 (1935) in Harlem at the Abyssinian Church. There were 3,000 Negroes present, many of whom were not Communists. There the Communists spoke from the same platform as these other people. (p. 17)

In the work of penetrating non-Communist organizations, the Communists went prepared for any eventuality. According to Ford, the Communist Party on one occasion sent a number of the followers of Marcus Garvey, whose organization the Party had penetrated, to a meeting of the Party’s Italian Workers’ Center "where our comrades discussed the Abyssinian question." Ford added that these Negro Garveyites were so afraid of their reception (at the Italian Communist center) that they went there armed with knives. (p. 17) The precautionary arming was, of course, wholly unnecessary; they were received most hospitably. From this particular affair, Ford drew the following conclusion:

It is along these lines that we must work among the Negroes, patiently overcoming their suspicions and hesitations.

This experience in Harlem opens up a perspective of wider actions not only in Harlem, but throughout the country. Committees on Ethiopia should be set up on a nation-wide scale. (p. 17)

If ever two movements possessed antithetical ideologies, they were the Communist Party and Father Divine’s group. Notwithstanding this sharp clash of basic views, the Communist Party successfully penetrated the ranks of Father Divine’s movement. On this subject, James Ford made the following comment:

Another question that is bothering a number of comrades in New York is the Father Divine movement in connection with the united front... the comrades in Harlem have taken very seriously the question which was raised at the last plenum—of going into the church organizations, making friends with these people. Through our united front with Father Divine we have been able to effect the penetration of a mass organization of the Negro people. A very important fact to remember in connection with the Father Divine movement is the fact that the followers of Father Divine are workers, toiling people; that is why we are attempting to penetrate into this movement.

The united front with the Father Divine movement has been made on the basis of certain concrete issues. (p. 17, 18)

For more than 20 years, the Communist Party has pursued this tactic of penetration of non-Communist organizations and groups. With the current dwindling of its membership, the Party is pursuing the tactic more assiduously than ever. Recently, it has applied the tactic on a broad scale among scientists on the issue of radioactive fallout. It hopes to reap vast gains on the issue of integration in the public schools of the South. Communists measure their gains in terms of social turbulence. Wherever they are permitted, they will penetrate non-Communist groups which favor federal intervention by force in the field of integration, hoping thereby to increase turmoil and incite to violence. The indispensable pre-conditions of Communist revolutionary sentiment are chaos and violence.
The Communist Party cared little or nothing about racial discrimination in the Queens hospital, about the fate of the Scottsboro boys or Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, about the Italian war against Ethiopia, or about the unemployed; it cares much about fishing in troubled waters. Only so can it serve its Kremlin master.

Negro College Presidents

The Communist-front apparatus has gained support, in one degree or another, among 60 percent of Negro college and and university presidents. The following heads of Negro institutions of higher learning were affiliated with the National Negro Congress:

- Rufus B. Atwood, Kentucky State College, Frankfort, Ky.
- John M. Ellison, Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va.
- David D. Jones, Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C.
- R. O’Hara Lanier, Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas.
- Frederick D. Patterson, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.
- Jacob L. Reddix, Jackson State College, Jackson, Miss.
- The following were affiliated with the now defunct Southern Conference for Human Welfare:
  - Rufus B. Atwood, Kentucky State College, Frankfort, Ky.
  - William H. Bell, Alcorn A. & M. College, Alcorn, Miss.
  - Horace Mann Bond, Lincoln University, Pa.
  - Rufus E. Clement, Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga.
- Albert W. Dent, Dillard University, New Orleans, La.
- Edgar H. Goold, St. Augustine’s College, Raleigh, N. C.
- Arthur Howe, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.
- Charles S. Johnson, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.
- Mordecai Johnson, Howard University, Washington, D. C.
- David D. Jones, Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C.
- J. R. E. Lee, Florida A. & M. University, Tallahassee, Fla.
- Benjamin E. Mays, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.
- Frederick D. Patterson, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.
- James F. Shepard, North Carolina College, Durham, N. C.
- M. F. Whittaker, South Carolina State College, Orangeburg, S. C.

The following have been affiliated with the currently functioning Southern Conference Educational Fund:

- Rufus B. Atwood, Kentucky State College, Frankfort, Ky.

William Augustus Bell, Miles College, Birmingham, Ala.

Miller W. Boyd, Morristown College, Morristown, Tenn.

James P. Brawley, Clark College, Atlanta, Ga.

Rufus E. Clement, Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga.

Tandy W. Coggs, Arkansas Baptist College, Little Rock, Ark.

James A. Colston, Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tenn.

John W. Davis, West Virginia State College, Institute, W. Va.

Albert W. Dent, Dillard University, New Orleans, La.

John M. Ellison, Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va.

M. LaFayette Harris, Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark.

Charles S. Johnson, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.

Mordecai W. Johnson, Howard University, Washington, D. C.

Benjamin E. Mays, Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.

Frederick D. Patterson, Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.

Hollis F. Price, LeMoyne College, Memphis, Tenn.

O. R. Reuben, Morris College School of Religion, Sumter, S. C.

Joseph J. Rhoads, Bishop College, Marshall, Texas.

William R. Strassner, Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.

There is no implication in the foregoing listings that any of these heads of Negro institutions are Communists. They represent, however, a high degree of Communist penetration into the ranks of the administrators of Negro education.

Forty-five different heads of Negro institutions of higher learning have had a total of 291 separate affiliations with the Communist-front apparatus. It is apparent that the Communists have established a sizeable beachhead in Negro education.

Many of these affiliations mean that Communists or pro-Communists have made personal contact with the top administrators of Negro education. That is one of the aims of the Communist-front technique. And, of course, the Communists acquire a certain amount of prestige for their projects.

If the so-called Negro masses were as susceptible to Communist-front propaganda as the so-called Negro intellectuals, the situation would be alarming. In his condensation of Gunnar Myrdal’s An American Dilemma, Arnold Rose makes the following observation:

Still the Communists have not succeeded in getting any appreciable following among Negroes in America, especially among the masses. During the depression and again since the war, a number of leaders and intellectuals have become Communists or "fellow travelers." To begin with, poor, uneducated, and socially disadvantaged groups have never been particularly susceptible to radical propaganda. It is usually the intellectuals and higher strata of the working class that have been reached first. (The Negro in America, p. 166)

National Council of Churches Penetrated

Remembering James W. Ford's statement about the Communist Party's policy "of going into the church organizations," some statistical data with respect to this question are enlightening.

The Communist Party has been strikingly successful in its efforts at infiltrating the Federal and the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. during the past 20-odd years.

In view of the fact that the philosophical bases of Communism and Christianity are as antithetical as two philosophies could possibly be, the success of the Communists in penetrating the ranks of the Protestant clergy is hard for some to understand. Nevertheless, the cold statistical facts are a matter of public record. It is not necessary to rely upon anybody's opinions.

The National Council of Churches was officially constituted on November 29, 1950, in Cleveland, Ohio. It was, in fact, nothing more than a reorganization of the Federal Council of Churches.

In the formal constituting of the National Council of Churches in Cleveland, one representative from each of the participating communions signed the official book which became the Document of Record. Eleven of these 29 signers of the official book have public records of affiliation with pro-Communist enterprises. Their names and respective denominations are as follows:

Bishop S. L. Greene—African Methodist Episcopal
Bishop W. J. Walls—African Methodist Episcopal Zion
Dr. E. H. Pruden—American Baptist Convention
Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger—Church of the Brethren
Bishop Bertram W. Doyle—Colored Methodist Episcopal
Dr. Vere V. Loper—Congregational Christian
Rev. Josef A. Barton—Czech Moravian
Bishop J. Ralph Magee—Methodist
Dr. W. H. Jernagin—National Baptist Convention USA, Inc.

It will be noted that 4 of the 11 signers of the Document of Record—Greene, Walls, Doyle, and Jernagin—were representatives of all-Negro denominations. This is a disproportionately large number of Negro clergymen. Whatever the reasons may be, it is a fact that Negro professional groups have been more susceptible to Communist penetration than their white counterparts.

There were 358 clergymen who were voting delegates to the coconstituting convention of the National Council of Churches in Cleveland. Of these clergymen, 123 (or 34 percent) have had affiliations with Communist projects and enterprises. That represents a high degree of penetration.

These 123 voting delegates were divided as follows: 84 white and 39 Negroes. The total number of their public pro-Communist affiliations is 659, of which 359 are affiliations of the white clergymen and 300 are affiliations of the Negro clergymen. Again, these figures indicate a disproportionately large number of Negro clergymen with Communist affiliations, and a higher degree of susceptibility to the appeals of Communist causes. The average number of affiliations for the Negro delegates is 7.7, while that of the whites is 4.2.

The greater Communist penetration of the higher ranks of Negro church dignitaries is evidenced by the fact that 57 percent of the total number of currently active Negro bishops of four Protestant denominations have records of affiliation with Communist-front organizations and enterprises. The following Negro bishops fall into this category:

African Methodist Episcopal Church—
George W. Barber, Philadelphia, Pa.
Frank Madison Reid, Kittrell, N. C.
Joseph Gomez, Cleveland, O.
Carey A. Gibbs, Birmingham, Ala.
D. Ward Nichols, Jacksonville, Fla.
Sherman L. Greene, Atlanta, Ga.

African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church—
William Jacob Walls, Chicago, Ill.
Raymond Luther Jones, Salisbury, N. C.
Hampton Thomas Medford, Washington, D. C.
Herbert Bell Shaw, Wilmington, N. C.
Stephen Gill Spottswood, Washington, D. C.
Charles Ewbank Tucker, Louisville, Ky.
Charles Cecil Coleman, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Christian Methodist Episcopal Church—
J. A. Hamlett, Kansas City, Kan.
W. Y. Bell, South Boston, Va.
F. L. Lewis, Shreveport, La.
Bertram W. Doyle, Nashville, Tenn.
A. W. Womack, Indianapolis, Ind.
B. Julian Smith, Chicago, Ill.

Methodist Church—
J. W. E. Bowen, Atlanta, Ga.
Matthew W. Clair, Jr., St. Louis, Mo.
Edgar A. Lowe, Baltimore, Md.
Eight of the above-named, currently active, Negro bishops are officially connected with the Southern Conference Educational Fund. They are Bishop S. L. Greene, Bishop F. L. Lewis, Bishop Edgar A. Love, Bishop Herbert Bell Shaw, Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood, Bishop Charles Ewbank Tucker, Bishop Charles Cecil Coleman, and Bishop Frank Madison Reid.

The aim of the Communist penetration of non-Communist organizations is not necessarily to recruit members of the Party, but rather to create a favorable climate of opinion for certain limited objectives of the Communist program. In this way, the stain of Communism is removed from these objectives, and thus they appear to be the objectives of men of goodwill.

Highlander Folk School Seminar

Over the Labor Day weekend (August 30-September 2, 1957), Highlander Folk School, at Monteagle, Tennessee, staged its 25th anniversary seminar on "the human aspects of the integration struggle." Notorious Communists, veteran Communist fellow travelers, and Negro leaders in all the recent major incidents attending integration were present at the seminar (The incident of Little Rock had not yet occurred.)

Before taking up the records of the prominent integrationists who were present, it is necessary to take a look at the Highlander Folk School and its ideological orientation.

The Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was organized around 1932 by Myles Horton and Don West. (See testimony of Paul Crouch, May 6, 1949, Subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American Activities, page 193.) In his testimony, Mr. Crouch said: "I would like to mention in this connection that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was a school organized by Myles Horton and Don West, and which Mr. (James) Dombrowski shortly thereafter joined."

Paul Crouch, who gave the foregoing testimony concerning the Highlander Folk School, was the top Communist functionary in the South. His Communist record given in a Senate committee by Crouch himself attests his importance.

The major positions I held in the Communist Party were the head of the Communist Party's department for infiltration of the Armed Forces of the United States, a representative of the Communist Party of the United States to the executive committee of the Communist International in Moscow, a member of the commission in Moscow to draft plans to infiltrate and subvert all the armed forces of the world, and operate as honorary regimental commander of the Red Army, a special student at the Frunze Military Academy in Moscow; I was a member of the editorial staff of the Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist Party, a member of the various commissions of the central and national committee of the party, State or district organizer for Florida, for Utah, for North and South Carolina, and Tennessee, editor of the Communist magazine, The New South, the official organ for the Southern States, member of the district bureau of the Communist Party for Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia, and chairman of the control commission of the Communist Party for that area, a member of the district bureau of the Communist Party for California, for Nevada, and Hawaii, national secretary of the Anti Imperialist League, and many other minor positions.

Speaking of James Dombrowski, Mr. Crouch testified as follows: "I have met officially with him on a number of occasions as head of the Communist District Bureau of Tennessee . . . at this conference Mr. Dombrowski gave me the impression of being completely pro-Communist and anxious to collaborate with the Communist Party and follow its leadership, without taking the risk of actual Party membership."

In March 1954, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security held hearings in New Orleans on the subject of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., of which James Dombrowski was and is the executive director. Among the witnesses who testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security in New Orleans was one John Butler who had formerly been a functionary of the Communist Party in Alabama.

In the course of his testimony, Mr. Butler stated that he attended a meeting of Communist Party leaders in July of 1942, in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama. Mr. Butler stated that Alton Lawrence introduced James Dombrowski to him on that occasion as a Communist Party member. (See Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security Hearings, March 18, 1954, page 45.) According to Mr. Butler, this meeting of Communist Party leaders was held in Dombrowski's own hotel room. In November, 1956, Alton Lawrence was indicted on a charge of conspiring to file a false non-Communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations Board, which non-Communist affidavit is required of trade union officials by the Taft-Hartley Act. (See New York Times, November 17, 1956.) Alton Lawrence is currently an official of the Communist-controlled International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

In the early period of the Highlander Folk School, Alton Lawrence was a member of its faculty. On August 13, 1938, Mr. John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades Department of the AFL, testified before the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities, and named Elizabeth Hawes, Alton Lawrence, and Myles Horton as persons who "attended a secret convention in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the revolutionary theories throughout the South." Mr. Frey further testified: "In connection with this I might mention that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, was mixed up in this secret convention, in which these three C.I.O. organizers took a very prominent part." (See Dies Committee Hearings, Volume 1, page 126.)

Paul Crouss testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, as follows: "The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tennessee, ostensibly as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party." (See Hearings, page 47.) Dombrowski was an instructor at the Highlander Folk School for a number of years.

The following colloquy took place between Senator Eastland, Committee Counsel Arens, and Mr. Crouch during the latter's testimony:

SENATOR EASTLAND. Mr. Crouch, did you ever visit Dr. Dombrowski's home?

MR. CROUCH. I visited the Highlander Folk School where he was working. I didn't visit at his home, but we spent a night at the same home together, Caroline Stevenson's and he and Leo Sheiner discussed in my presence the actual hideout of Communist leaders the night we were traveling to Winter Haven.

MR. ARENS. He and Sheiner discussed in your presence the hideouts for Communist leaders, top flight leaders; is that correct?

MR. CROUCH. That is correct, sir. (See hearings, p. 52.)

Don West, who has already been mentioned as connected with the Highlander Folk School, was district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina. (See House Committee Hearings, May 6, 1949, page 191.)

At the New Orleans hearings of the Senate Committee, on March 20, 1954, Myles Horton was ejected by the United States Marshal from the witness stand and the hearing room, for disorderly conduct.

James Dombrowski's record of pro-Communist activities and connections will be discussed under the section on Southern Conference Educational Fund, an organization which is playing a key role in the drive for integration in the South.

Abner W. Berry

The presence of a prominent Communist Party Negro leader at the Highlander Folk School seminar is of major significance. Through Abner W. Berry, the Communist Party established personal contacts with the Southern leaders of the fight for integration. The Party, in its present-day strategy, sets the highest value on such personal contacts. It is the current strategy of penetration.

Abner W. Berry is a veteran Communist Party leader. More than 25 years ago, he was a member of the national council of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, a Communist spin-off which will be discussed later. For 20 years, Berry has been a member of the national committee of the Communist Party. He has also been a member of the smaller central committee of the Party (Daily Worker, May 23, 1938, p. 5). In 1946, he was educational director of the Communist Party of Michigan (Daily Worker, Jan. 21, 1946, p. 5). He was an instructor at the Communist Party's Jefferson School of Social Science for several years before the school closed in December, 1956.

Abner W. Berry is, and has been for years, a feature writer for the Daily Worker. In this newspaper of the Communist Party, Berry made a lengthy report on his visit to the Highlander Folk School. In his report, Berry said:

Here for four days Negro and white leaders of the South representing millions of southerners, had the precious communications established with each other that had been disconnected during the past few years. (Daily Worker, Sept. 10, 1957, p. 5)

Berry has been a writer for other Communist publications: Masses & Mainstream, Michigan Herald, New Masses, People's Daily World, and Political Affairs. He served for a number of years on the editorial board of Political Affairs, the theoretical organ of the Communist Party.

It is apparent that Abner W. Berry is a high ranking leader of the Communist Party. It goes without saying that the Party sent him to the Highlander Folk School seminar. Such leaders receive their assignments from the highest command of the Communist Party; they do not go anywhere on their own. The cordial reception which Berry was accorded at the Highlander Folk School is convincing evidence of the school's ideological orientation.

Berry states that "two southern NAACP branch presidents" attended the Highlander Folk School seminar on integration.

Pete Seeger

Another individual who has a long record of Communist affiliations and activity was also a prominent participant in the Labor Day weekend conference at the Highlander Folk School, namely, Pete Seeger.

Pete Seeger is a nationally known folk singer who has been prominently identified with the Communist movement in this country for many years. He has been named as a member of the Communist Party in sworn testimony.
On August 18, 1955, Pete Seeger was a witness before the house Committee on Un-American Activities. Time and time again, Seeger defiantly refused to answer questions concerning his past or present membership in the Communist Party. He also declined to answer any questions concerning his affiliations with numerous Communist-front organizations. He did not invoke the Fifth Amendment; he simply and contemptuously refused to answer pertinent questions. He was accompanied by Paul L. Ross as counsel. Ross has also been prominent in Communist activity for many years. (See pages 2448-2460 of the Hearings, 1955.)

Among his many Communist connections, Pete Seeger has been publicly affiliated with the following Communist organizations and enterprises which are on the Attorney General’s list: American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born; American Committee for Yugoslav Relief; American Youth Congress; American Communist Party; American Civil Rights Congress; Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy; Committee for the Negro in the Arts; Communist Party; Council on African Affairs; Jefferson School of Social Science; National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions; Nature Friends of America; New Masses; Voice of Freedom Committee, and Win-the-Peace Conference. Seeger entertained with his guitar and folk songs at the Highlander Folk School seminar.

John R. Thompson

The Rev. John B. Thompson was hailed as seminar chairman at the Highlander Folk School Labor Day weekend affair. Thompson is dean of the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago.

The clergymen have better claims to qualification as Communist fellow travelers than John B. Thompson. He has served the Communist apparatus long and faithfully in many capacities.

Thompson was national chairman of the American Peace Mobilization (Daily Worker, Sept. 3, 1940, p. 4) and national chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Keeping Out of War (Letterhead, Aug. 10, 1940). These were organizations set up by the Communists during the period of the Stalin-Hitler Pact. On the night that Hitler invaded the Soviet Union, the American Peace Mobilization dropped its anti-war stand and changed its name to the American People’s Mobilization with John B. Thompson still at its head.

Many before a committee set up by the Illinois Legislature in 1949, John B. Thompson tried to say that the American Peace Mobilization was merely a reflection of the general anti-war sentiment prevailing in the United States in 1939, 1940, and 1941. Such a view is either dishonest or incredibly stupid. The bone fide anti-war sentiment of the American people prevailed right up until the day of Pearl Harbor. The phony anti-war stand of the APM and the Communists prevailed right up until June 22, 1941, when Hitler attacked the Soviet Union. The bona fide American peace advocates were ready to go to war only when the United States was attacked; the phony APM and Communist Peace advocates were ready and eager to go to war when their beloved Soviet Union was attacked.

The former were America Firsters; the latter were Russia Firsters.

Ten weeks before Hitler’s invasion of the Soviet Union, the APM, under Thompson’s chairmanship, declared: “This is not a war to wipe out the evils of Hitlerism and tyranny . . . It is a war to line the pockets of corporate interests at the expense of the peoples of the World.”

In one of its official statements in March, 1941, the APM said: “An English victory will result in the same sort of imperialist, anti-democratic peace as will a Nazi victory.”

From 1940 to 1942, John B. Thompson was head of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, a Communist organization which will he discussed later.

Among the many other Communist organizations with which Thompson has been affiliated, the following are on the Attorney General’s list: American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born; International Labor Defense; Emergency Peace Mobilization; National Council of American-Soviet Friendship; National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions; and People’s Institute of Applied Religion.

Aubrey Williams

Aubrey Williams and the Rev. Martin Luther King were the two featured speakers at the closing session of the Highlander Folk School seminar.

As president of the highly influential Southern Conference Educational Fund, Aubrey Williams ranks among top leaders of all-out integration.

Williams was director of the National Youth Administration under President Roosevelt. He also held other high positions in the New Deal. In 1945, however, the U. S. Senate rejected his appointment as administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, after his affiliations with the Communist apparatus had been placed in the record. He is at present editor and publisher of the Southern Farm and Home, Montgomery, Alabama, which has a circulation of 800,000.

On March 19, 1954, Williams was subpoenaed to testify before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. In the course of his examination by committee counsel Richard Arens, Williams testified that the following passage was a part of a speech which he had delivered in Madison Square Garden, New York City, on September 11, 1947, under the auspices of the Communist-controlled Progressive Citizens of America:
What they demand is that any man who admits to being a member of the Communist Party be fired immediately on the grounds that no man can be loyal to the United States and be a Communist. It is my belief that it is precisely at this point that we take our stand and defend the right of any Communist to maintain his position as an employee of the Government of the United States. To take any less position than this is to throw overboard such primary rights as the freedom to think and to hold whatever beliefs one chooses. (Hearings, p. 107; emphasis added)

Anyone holding Aubrey Williams' views on the employment of admitted Communist Party members in the U. S. Government could be expected to welcome the aid of Communist Party members in the drive for integration.

According to Abner W. Berry's account of the Highlander Folk School seminar in the Daily Worker (Sept. 10, 1957, p. 5) Aubrey Williams spoke "prophetically" when he declared that the present situation in the South "is only a short step to general violence" and that the "stuff out of which rebellions are made is definitely being planted."

In the later years of its existence, Aubrey Williams was president of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. The name of Aubrey Williams was attached to a brief amici curiae on behalf of the Communist Party, at the October 1955 Term of the U. S. Supreme Court. Other red-hot integrationists whose names appear on this defense of the Communist Party include the following: John M. Coe, James A. Dombrowski, W. E. B. DuBois, James W. Ford, W. A. Hunton, and William L. Patterson.

Aubrey Williams is, and has been for many years, a member of the executive committee of the Highlander Folk School.

It would be superfluous to add further details of the many Communist affiliations of Aubrey Williams.

Martin Luther King

The Rev. Martin Luther King, president of the Montgomery (Ala.) Improvement Association and pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, delivered the closing address at the Highlander Folk School seminar.

King is the nationally acclaimed Negro leader of the integration forces in the South. He is scheduled as one of the keynote speakers at the forthcoming assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., in December.

It is of great significance that King is in close touch with such Communists and pro-Communists as were assembled at the Highlander Folk School seminar. The Communists would like nothing better than to take him under their wing.

Leading Communists have been writing enthusiastically about King's movement. In the April, 1957, issue of Political Affairs, Benjamin J. Davis writes of "the national upsurge of the Negroes in the South, spearheaded by the non-violent integration movement" (p. 13). In his new book entitled Toward Negro Freedom, the editor of Political Affairs, Herbert Aptheker, writes of King's bus boycott in Montgomery, Alabama, as follows:

And in Montgomery, Alabama, there is the epic struggle of the entire 50,000 members of its Negro community ... Here, with women in the lead, is the unparalleled and unbreakable splendor of an entire people speaking out to the world in one voice of purity and self-sacrifice and saying: "We will live in freedom, in our own day and here in our own city." (p. 180)

Such rhetoric is calculated to ingratiate the Communists with the Rev. Martin Luther King and his large following. The art of flattery is the current tactic of Communist penetration. The tactical crudities of the Party's early years have given way to subtle refinements in penetrating Negro organizations and movements. The Communist Party, however, does not repudiate its former methods which breathed revolutionary fire and brimstone. Writing in Political Affairs, James E. Jackson (one of the top Negro leaders of the Communist Party) says:

It has for three decades been the honorable (sic) task of Communists to set a high standard of devotion to and energetic leadership in the fight for Negro rights. Recognizing the special national character of this question, we have raised our voices among the workers when others stood mute. (Resolution presented to the 16th National Convention of the CPUSA by James E. Jackson, chairman of the Subcommittee on Negro Rights, Political Affairs, March, 1957, p. 34).

Jackson thus fondly embraces the Communist Party's record in the African Blood Brotherhood, the American Negro Labor Congress, the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, the National Negro Congress, and other misadventures in its efforts to kindle revolutionary ardor among American Negroes.

Now, the Party looks upon Martin Luther King's work and movement as a new opportunity to incite racial animosity, and upon King's attendance at the Highlander Folk School seminar as a most desirable contact.

In its present adulation of Martin Luther King and his kind of "liberation" movement, the Communist Party still bows reverently at the altar of Marxist-Leninist Theory. James E. Jackson, quoted above on the subject of the Party's past, turns to the Communist Party's present and writes:

As the advance guard of the American working class, the Communist Party must continue to make contributions to the fight for Negro rights, under the changed conditions of today, as effectively, as honorably, as it did in previous periods of struggle. The fight for Negro rights needs the contribution which Communists, guided by Marxist-Leninist theory, are in a position to make. (p. 34)

On February 21, 1956, after the bus boycott in Montgomery had run for 11 weeks, the Negro leaders of the boycott were arrested and charged with violation of Alabama's anti-boycott statute. The Rev. Martin Luther King was among those arrested. On March 22, he was found guilty and fined $500. The case is on appeal.

It is interesting to note that the proponents of public school integration in the South in a great deal to do about the U. S. Supreme Court's decision of May 17, 1954, by claiming with unparalleled vehemence that the decision is "the law of the land." On the other hand, they ignore with complete unanimity the U. S. Supreme Court's decision of 1908 declaring the organized boycott of the Danbury Hatters to be in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, the principle of which decision is reflected in Alabama's anti-boycott statute.

Mrs. Rosa Parks

It goes almost without saying that Mrs. Rosa Parks was in attendance at the Highlander Folk School seminar. It was Mrs. Parks who started the Montgomery bus boycott. On December 1, 1955, when she refused to sit in a seat in the rear of a bus, she was arrested and fined $14. Shortly prior to her dramatic defiance of the segregation ordinance, Mrs. Parks had taken a course at Highlander Folk School.

Mrs. Parks promptly became a heroine to the Communists. The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, a Communist front, arranged meetings for her in New York City, including one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Corliss Lamont.

Charles G. Gomillion

Charles G. Gomillion, dean of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, was one of the prominent participants in the "One Day" conference at the Highlander Folk School.

As president of the Tuskegee Civic Association, Gomillion received a considerable amount of publicity in the nation's press in the summer of 1957, in connection with his leadership of a Negro boycott against the white merchants of the town of Tuskegee. This was one of the recent militant activities of Southern Negroes. On August 15, 1957, an injunction was issued against the boycott on the ground that it was a violation of Alabama's anti-boycott statute. (New York Times, Aug. 17, 1957)

Gomillion's organized boycott began on June 26, after a mass meeting of the Tuskegee Civic Association in protest against the Alabama legislature's proposed revision of Tuskegee's city limits. Gomillion did not even allege that the white merchants were in any way responsible for the initiation of the revision.

Dean Gomillion's pro-Communist connections have been significant. In testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities on July 21, 1947, he was identified as a current member and secretary of the advisory board of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, an outright Communist organization (see below).

In a press release dated April 21, 1947, Gomillion was listed as a signer of a manifesto of Negro leaders against the outlawing of the Communist Party. The manifesto was released from 23 West 26th Street, New York City, which is now the national headquarters of the Communist Party, and which, in 1947, was headquarters of a dozen Communist organizations including the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born. Co-signers of the manifesto included such Communist stalwarts as Paul Robeson, W. E. B. DuBois, Benjamin J. Davis, and Doxey A. Wilkerson. The signers called upon the President and Congress "to repudiate decisively the fascist-like proposal . . . to legalize the Communist Party," and declared: "We will resist with all our power every step taken in that direction."

The Worker, Communist Party Sunday newspaper, of August 29, 1948, carried a full-page advertisement of an enterprise called The First Line of Defense. It was another manifesto in defense of the Communist Party, opening with the following words addressed to the President and the Attorney General: "We, the undersigned Negro Americans, strongly condemn your hysteria-breeding arrests of the Negro leaders of the Communist Party, and call upon you to take positive action to protect civil rights instead of persecuting political minorities." This manifesto, too, was signed by Charles G. Gomillion. Co-signers included the following notorious Communist Party leaders of the Negro race: Louis E. Burnham, Ernest Thompson, Abner W. Berry (one of the participants in the Highlander Folk School conference), James W. Ford, Harry Haywood, W. A. Hinson, Richard B. Moore, S. C. Patterson, and Doxey Wilkerson.

Gomillion sponsored a testimonial dinner for W. E. B. DuBois whose services to the Communist cause have been enormous. The dinner was given at Essex House, New York City, on February 23, 1951. Prominent Communists who co-sponsored this DuBois testimonial dinner included the following: Herbert Aptheker, Mrs. Louise Berman, Howard Fast, Frederick V. Field, Ben...
Gold, W. A. Hunton, Albert E. Kahn, William L. Patterson, Melba Phillips, Joseph Selby, Howard Selsum, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred K. Stern (who recently fled behind the Iron Curtain to escape indictments for espionage), and Gene Weltfish.

Charles O. Gomillion is a member of the board of directors of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, an organization whose ideological orientation toward Communism will be discussed later.

Gomillion and his Tuskegee Civic Association are part of an interlocking apparatus which includes the Highlander Folk School and the Southern Conference Educational Fund.

In his 1956 presidential report to the Tuskegee Civic Association, Dean Gomillion stated that at one of their meetings in February, 1956, a speaker discussed "the role of the Highlander Folk School, and the search for an effective social action program." He also stated that one of the major roles of the Tuskegee Civic Association was cooperation "with the Highlander Folk School in the effort to develop effective personal and group techniques for facilitating racial desegregation."

In view of the fact that Gomillion and his TCA had been cooperating with the Highlander Folk School for at least a year and a half, it may be presumed that his illegal boycott of the white merchants of Tuskegee was one of the group techniques worked out by the two organizations. Furthermore, it may be assumed that Gomillion's close association with the Communist apparatus, as set forth above, was some kind of preparation for his adoption of the militant boycott technique.

The manager of Tuskegee's largest department store was quoted in the New York Times, as follows: "The Negro leaders picked the wrong target. The merchants didn't have anything to do with Senator Engelhardt's hill. I think they realize that the boycott is unfair. We've worked closely with the Negroes on charity drives and when they asked for credit we extended it without question." It is, of course, standard Communist tactics to exacerbate existing tensions and to create racial strife where none had existed.

Fred B. Routh

The Southern Regional Council was represented at the Highlander Folk School seminar in the person of Fred B. Routh. Mr. Routh bears the title of assistant director of the Southern Regional Council.

The Southern Regional Council, recipient of a grant of $245,000 from the Fund for the Republic, is one of the most influential organizations of whites and Negroes in the South. It has been penetrated by the Communist-front apparatus.

The following directors of the Southern Regional Council have been affiliated with Communist organizations:

Rufus B. Atwood, president of Kentucky State College
Brailsford R. Brasen, professor at Morehouse College
Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta University
J. M. Ellison, president of Virginia Union University
Charles G. Gomillion, dean of Tuskegee Institute
Charles S. Johnson, late president of Fisk University
R. O'Hara Lanier, president of Texas Southern University
Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College
Jacob L. Reddix, president of Jackson State College
H. C. Trenholm, president of Alabama State College for Negroes

All of the foregoing directors of the Southern Regional Council are Negroes and all are connected with Negro institutions of higher learning.

Others Present

The Rev. David H. Brooks, Protestant Episcopal high church clergyman (Negro), was a speaker at the Highlander Folk School seminar. He was a leader of the Tallahasee bus boycott which occurred during the last seven months of 1956.

The Daily Worker, July 1, 1952, carried a front-page story about a petition drawn up by the noted pro-Communist, W. E. B. DuBois, urging President Truman to adopt a policy of "withdrawal of military forces and installations by the U. S. and all other governments from all foreign territory where their presence is not authorized by agreement of all the major powers." Such a policy would, of course, be a Communist booby trap. Of the alleged 160 Negro signers of this DuBois petition, the names of only four were given in the Daily Worker; and one of the four was the name of the Rev. David H. Brooks.

Allen McSwain (Negro) was a speaker who represented the Clinton, Tennessee, school incident.

Bernice Robinson, also a speaker at the Highlander Folk School seminar, discussed the Johns Island, South Carolina, integration incident.

Conrad Browne (white) came to the seminar from Koinonia Farm, an interracial colony near Americus, Georgia. This interracial community has been an incitement to prolonged violence.

Ralph Helstein, president of the United Packing House Workers of America, AFL-CIO, was also a speaker. This union has been heavily infiltrated by known Communists.

A Succession of Sputniks for Negroes

One of the top leaders of the Communist International, Otto Kuusinen, said in a speech before the executive committee of the C.I. that it was the first business of the Communists to launch satellite organizations and committees. In The Communist of May, 1931, Kuusinen was quoted on these satellites of the Communist Party, as follows:
The first part of our task is to build up, not only Communist organizations, but other organizations as well, above all mass organizations sympathetic with our aims and able to aid us for special purposes. We must create a whole solar system of organizations and smaller committees around the Communist Party, so to speak, smaller organizations working actually under the influence of our Party (not under mechanical leadership). (p. 409-423; emphasis in original)

The satellite or sputnik organizations which the Communist Party in the United States has launched especially for Negroes are far too numerous to name all of them. Brief sketches of the principal sputniks in this category will, however, serve to illuminate the aims and tactics of the American Communist Party with respect to the Negroes of the United States.

A partial list of the Communist sputniks for Negroes follows:

- African Blood Brotherhood
- Alabama Peoples Educational Association
- Citizens Emergency Conference for Interracial Unity Committee for Equal Justice for Mrs. Recy Taylor
- League of Struggle for Negro Rights
- Negro Labor Victory Committee
- Southern Negro Youth Congress
- United Negro and Allied Veterans of America
- Abolish Peonage Committee
- American Negro Labor Congress
- American Negro Labor Council Committee to Defend Angelo Herndon
- Committee for the Negro in the Arts
- Committee to Aid the Fighting South
- Frederick Douglass Educational Center
- Martinsville Seven Committee
- National Negro Congress
- Negro People's Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy
- Southern Conference for Human Welfare
- Southern Conference Educational Fund

Of these, only the Southern Conference Educational Fund is still in existence.

African Blood Brotherhood

The African Blood Brotherhood was the first sputnik in the Communist Party's system of satellites. It was penetrated and captured, not originally launched, by the Communists.

Joseph Zack Kornfeder, then a leading member of the Communist Party, has told the following story of the penetration and capture of the African Blood Brotherhood:

... the Communist Party activities amongst the Negroes here in the United States started about 1921, and were prompted by a letter sent to the American Party by Nikolai Lenin... Well, so, of course, the party couldn't ignore a letter from Nikolai Lenin... I was then the junior member of the Central Committee... Well, when I looked around I found that there was simply no Negro membership in the Communist Party... I knew from the Socialist Party that there were some Negroes in Harlem in a branch of the Socialist Party which was mostly Negroes, although there were also whites in the same branch, and I looked up one of them and he advised me to see an individual by the name of Cyril Briggs. Well, I looked up this individual, and he was the editor of a paper called The Crusader, which was the official organ of a Negro organization called the African Blood Brotherhood. Well, I put in quite an effort on this fellow Briggs, to see whether I could work him over ideologically, and as I got acquainted with him, I noticed that he was having his financial troubles publishing the paper. I didn't tell him that I represented the Communist Party, of course. I just posed as a liberal uncle, who had his sympathies on the Negro side, and was willing to help him. Whenever he ran into some trouble about paying the printer, well, I always obliged with a few hundred dollars. This way I became friends with this Briggs and I worked him over ideologically, and the cant of the journal changed. And, of course, in due time I got at some of his friends who were on the Board of Directors, and, well, it took only about a year before the controlling influence in that organization upon top was exerted through me, and they pretty nearly would do, although they weren't yet in the party, what I wanted them to do. Well, and later on I signed him up into the Communist Party as a member. So that was the first Negro organization that the party got hold of ideologically, at least—later on organizationally. That's how the thing started. (Subversion in Racial Unrest, Baton Rouge, La., March 6-9, 1957, p. 37)

Cyril Briggs went on to become one of the most prominent Negro leaders in the history of the Communist Party in the United States.

American Negro Labor Congress

The American Negro Labor Congress was organized in Chicago in October, 1925. It was a Communist united front maneuver and the successor to the African Blood Brotherhood.

In his book entitled The Negro People in American History, William Z. Foster writes concerning the anlc as follows:

The American Negro Labor Congress was organized in Chicago in November 1925, mainly upon the initiative of the Communists... The leader of the movement was Lovett Fort-Whiteman, and its journal was The Champion. Outstanding Communist Negro workers in it were James W. Ford, Harry Haywood, Maude White, and many others. Its membership was eventually confined mainly to Communists. (p. 460)

Lovett Fort-Whiteman was a student at the Lenin School in Moscow, an institution at which foreign Communists were taught the theory and tactics of propaganda, agitation, and espionage. Fort-Whiteman was also an American delegate to the Sixth World Congress of the Communist International in 1928. (International Press Correspondence, July 25, 1928, p. 708)

Foster says that the ANLC “was handicapped by sectarianism—by writing too left a program for the masses.” Foster also maintains that the ANLC encountered “strong opposition” from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the National Urban League.

On the eve of the organization of the ANLC, Lovett Fort-Whiteman announced, with pride and obviously gross exaggeration, that—

Each day, everyone promoting the American Negro Labor Congress notes a growing uneasiness in the ruling class of this country in contemplation of the coming American Negro Labor Congress. (Daily Worker, October 7, 1925, p. 3)

The Communist International (a mere euphemism for the Kremlin) kept a watchful eye on the American Communist Party and all the little sputniks revolving around it. The American Negro Labor Congress, insignificant as it was, did not escape the attention of the Musovite bosses of the American Communists.

In a resolution of October 26, 1928, three years after the launching of the sputnik known as the ANLC, the Communist International said:

The American Negro Labor Congress continues to exist only nominally. Every effort should be made to strengthen this organization as a medium through which we can extend the work of the Party among the Negro masses and mobilize the Negro workers under our leadership. (The Communist Position on the Negro Question. p. 59)

The directives of the Communist International for the American Communist Party were supervised and enforced on the scene by a personal representative of the Communist International. In 1928, one of these agents of the Comintern in the United States was John Pepper. Benjamin Gitlow identifies Pepper in the following words:

A commander of the Hungarian Red Army in 1919, he had fled to Russia after the overthrow of the Hungarian Soviet Republic and along with Bela Kun became an important functionary of the Comintern.

In Hungary his name had been Józef Pogány; he came to America as John Pepper. (Confess, p. 136)

In a pamphlet entitled American Negro Problems, published by Workers Library Publishers in 1928, John Pepper wrote concerning the ANLC, as follows:

The American Negro Labor Congress which is still very weak, must be reorganized and activated. The Communists working within this organization should try to make it serve as an intermediary mass organization, as a medium through which the Party can extend its work among the Negro masses and mobilize the Negro workers under its leadership. (emphasis in original, p. 15)

When the sputnik named American Negro Labor Congress petered out, it was brought down and a new one was launched.

James W. Ford, twice vice-presidential candidate on the Communist Party ticket, records that the frank anti-religious position of the American Negro Labor Congress was one of the reasons for its failure. In his book, The Negro and the Democratic Front, published in 1938, Ford wrote:

I recall particularly the strict and unyielding attitude taken by the leaders of the American Negro Labor Congress toward religion. This attitude prevented the Congress from becoming a mass influence among church people. At an A. N. L. C. meeting in Chicago, 1926, composed of a large number of religious people, a leader of the organization in the course of his remarks, said: "To hell with religion; damn the church." (p. 82)

Ford then told how the Communist Party changed its tactics and made dupes of church organizations and religious people:

But today in the National Negro Congress church organizations and religious people work co-operatively with non-church people. Our Negro Communists are fraternizing with church people in order to organize them in the struggle for Negro liberation. (ibid, p. 82-83)

Ford's meaning is crystal clear: the Communists adopted a policy of tactical silence with respect to their basic contempt for, and hostility toward, religion and the churches—a policy which continues today.

The last convention of the American Negro Labor Congress was held in St. Louis in November, 1930, where, by unanimous decision, the name was changed to the League of Struggle for Negro Rights. (ibid, p. 83)

League of Struggle for Negro Rights

Immediate successor to the American Negro Labor Congress, the League of Struggle for Negro Rights was the same old sputnik with a new name. The names of Communist sputniks have had a way of wearing out and, when they do, the Party思想s up new names in order to seduce new followers. Thus, the American League Against War and Fascism became the American League for Peace and Democracy when the new unied-front line was adopted after the Seventh World Congress of the Communist International in 1935. During World War II, the Young Communist League metamorphosed into American Youth for Democracy on October 17, 1943—same convention, same officers, same revolutionary objectives. Later on, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare became the Southern Conference Educational Fund in 1947—same officers, same address, same telephone number, same publication (Southern Patriot), and same Communist objectives.

There was no attempt to conceal the Communist Party’s control of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights. Among the national council members of the organization were such high functionaries of the Communist Party as William Z. Foster, Earl Browder, James W. Ford, Robert Minor, Benjamin J. Davis, Harry Haywood, Cyril Briggs, Clarence Hathaway, Irving Potash, Louis Weinstock, Israel Amter, Claude Lightfoot, and Adric W. Berry (of the Highlander Folk School seminar). (Excerpt from History, Land, and Freedom: A Program for Negro Liberation, published by the League of Struggle for Negro Rights, New York, 1933, p. 44-46)

Langston Hughes was president of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights.

In its Program for Negro Liberation, the LSNR restated the doctrine of Negro nationhood:

We proclaim before the whole world that the Negroes are a nation—a nation striving toward nationhood, whose growth is violently recorded and which is viciously oppressed by American imperialism. The program here presented outlines the only course of action which guarantees the development of the American Negroes to full nationhood, which will elevate them to that rightful place of equality before all and subservience before none. (Ibid, p. 7-8)

The program of the LSNR also reiterated the Communist demands for confiscation of the property of the Southern whites:

The League of Struggle for Negro Rights therefore demands the confiscation without compensation of the land of the big landlords and capitalists in the South and its distribution among the Negroes and white small farmers and sharecroppers. (Ibid, p. 10)

I. His Report of the Central Committee to the Eighth Convention of the Communist Party, held in Cleveland, Ohio, April 2-8, 1934, Earl Browder said:

A more broad and all-inclusive organizational form for the Negro liberation struggles is the League of Struggle for Negro Rights. This should embrace in its activities all of the basic economic organizations of Negro and white workers standing on the program of Negro liberation, and further unite with them all other sections of the Negro population drawn towards this struggle, especially those large sections of the petty-bourgeoisie, intellectuals, professionals, who can and must be won to the national liberation cause. The L. S. N. R. must, in the first place, be an active federation of existing mass organizations; and secondly, it must directly organize its own membership branches composed of its most active forces and all supporters otherwise unorganized. The present beginnings of the L. S. N. R. and its paper, The Liberator, which with only a little attention have already shown mass vitality, must be energetically taken up, and spread throughout the country. (Communism in the United States, 1935, p. 9)

Browder’s grandiose conception of the LSNR was a piece of typical Communist wishful thinking. The LSNR gave way to the National Negro Congress in 1936.

National Negro Congress

The fact that the Communist Party was preparing to launch one of its sputniks, the National Negro Congress, was noisily proclaimed long before it was sent revolving around the Party.

The very suggestion that the National Negro Congress be launched was made by the Negro Communist leader, James W. Ford. In his book, The Negro People in American History, William Z. Foster writes:

This broad movement (the National Negro Congress, which operated in the tradition of the historic Negro people’s conventions, had been suggested two years before by James W. Ford, in a debate with Oscar de Priest and Frank Crosswhite. (p. 488)

The Party Organizer of March, 1935, let it be known that the Communist Party was laying careful plans to launch the National Negro Congress. This was almost one year before its plans came to fruition. The Party Organizer, in publishing excerpts from a report to one of the plenums of the Communist Party, said:

In connection with the question of the united front on the Negro question—if we work properly now and see that we must penetrate these organizations (the churches, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, etc.) there is the possibility of building up a National Negro Congress on a broad united front basis. We shall, as a result of this discussion about this conference in the N. Y. District (of the Communist Party) in which we discussed the Negro question, and the possibility of a National Negro Congress. If we make the proper orientation, we will be able to build the biggest Congress of Negro people ever held. It means patient work in (non-Communist) Negro organizations. (p. 21)

It is obvious that the Communist Party had even selected the name of the new spunktik a year in advance of its launching.

In a condemnation of Gunnar Myrdal's An American Dilemma, Arnold Rose says that "the National Negro Congress grew out of a conference in the spring of 1935 held at Howard University under the joint auspices of its Division of Social Sciences and of the Joint Committee on National Recovery." (The Negro in America, p. 262) This joint conference at Howard University was held in May. The Party Organizer of March, 1935, quoted above, is a documentary refutation of the parentage of the National Negro Congress as given in Arnold Rose's condemnation of An American Dilemma.

In a confidential memorandum of the Department of Justice, issued for the guidance of the departmental heads of the federal government, the Attorney General of the United States made the following observation concerning the National Negro Congress:

The National Negro Congress, throughout its existence, has closely followed the Communist Party line, espousing causes and adopting issues sponsored by the Party... In the field of American foreign policy it called for united action on the part of the Democracies (including the Soviet Union) against fascism prior to the Russo-German pact of non-aggression, but after the signing of the pact assailed the "imperialist conflict" as having "nothing to do with saving and extending democracy." When the Nazis attacked Russia, however, the leaders of the (National Negro) Congress advocated all-out aid to the Soviet Union and urged immediate entrance of the United States into the war on the side of Britain and the Allies.

Supporting the foregoing view of the Attorney General, the Third National Negro Congress meeting in Washington, D. C., in April, 1940, adopted the following resolution.

The National Negro Congress declares that the Negro people have everything to lose and nothing to gain by American involvement in the imperialist war and sharply condemns the Administration for the steps it has taken towards involvement and the partiality it has shown.

On October 16, 1940, speaking under the auspices of the Church League for Industrial Democracy in Kansas City, Missouri, Max Yergen (president of the National Negro Congress) toed the Communist Party line on the subject of the war, in the following words:

We do not believe we have any business allying ourselves with either of the belligerent sides now responsible for the war... It becomes clear that the similarities between fascist and imperialist rule are numerous and strong. (Democracy and the Negro People Today, p. 9 and 12)

Max Yergen has since made a clean break with the Communist apparatus.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters (AFL), was the first president of the National Negro Congress. He was, in fact, already designated as president of the NNC when the new organization was first convened in Chicago on February 14, 1936. The Communist Party had, of course, selected Randolph for the position. The Party had left nothing to chance or to the delegates to the Congress.

On account of illness, Randolph was not present at the 1936 sessions of the National Negro Congress. His presidential address, prepared before the Congress met, was read by Charles Wesley Burton, a Negro lawyer from Chicago.

Randolph's address was the kind which might well have been prepared at Communist Party headquarters. With typical soapbox flourishes, Randolph said:

... the Negro people face a hard, deceptive and brutal capitalist order, despite its preachments of Christian love and brotherhood.

What has brought us to this insistent question? The answer in brief lies in the (First) World War, the sharpening and deepening of capitalist exploitation of the workers of hand and brain, the acceleration of a technological revolution creating a standing army of unemployed, the ripening and maturing of monopoly capitalism thus trustification, rationalization and the rapid march of financial imperialism, and the intensification of racial and religious hatreds, together with increasingly blatant and provocative nationalism.

But the war itself was the effect of a deeper cause and that cause was the profit system which provides and permits the enrichment of the few at the expense of the many... (The Official Proceedings of the National Negro Congress, 1936, p. 8, 9)

Randolph paid his respects to the Communist Party's International Labor Defense. He said:

Those organizations that are serving on the civil rights front effectively for the Negro are the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the International Labor Defense. (Ibid. p. 10)

In fairness to A. Philip Randolph, and to complete the record, it must be pointed out that eventually he became disgusted with the Communist domination of the National Negro Congress and resigned from its presidency. After the meeting of the Third Congress, Randolph wrote:
I consider the Communists a definite menace and a danger to the Negro people and labor, because of their rule or ruin and disruptive tactics in the interest of the Soviet Union. The Congress was deliberately packed with Communists and C. I. O. members who were either Communists or sympathizers with Communists.

I quit the congress because I was opposed to it, or its officials, expressing sympathy for the Soviet Union, which is the death prison where democracy and liberty have walked their "last mile" and where shocking blood purges wipe out any and all persons who express any dissenting opinions from dictator Stalin.

I quit the congress because I saw that the Communists were firmly in the saddle. Their minds were already made up when they came there by Communists' manipulations, caucuses, and propaganda. I quit the congress because it was not truly a Negro Congress. (Congressional Record, May 14, 1940, p. 2944-5)

The Communist domination of the National Negro Congress was, of course, evident from the beginning to anyone sufficiently interested in the evidence.

Despite the plain truth about the Communists and the NNC, it received a boost from Norman Thomas, Philip Murray, and Walter White of the N.A.A.C.P., all of whom appeared as speakers at the Second National Negro Congress in October, 1937.

The Second National Negro Congress was convened in Philadelphia. The NNC officials made arrangements for a special train from New York to Philadelphia through World Tourists, a Soviet travel and espionage agency.

In addition to Walter White of the N.A.A.C.P., the National Negro Congress was able to attract, as speakers or sponsors, many other Negro leaders among whom were the following: Frederick D. Patterson, president of Tuskegee Institute; Rufus B. Atwood, president of Kentucky State College; John M. Ellison, president of Virginia Union University; David D. Jones, president of Bennett College; R. O'Hara Lanier, president of Texas Southern University; and Jacob L. Reddix, president of Jackson State College.

The National Negro Congress also enlisted as stooges the following bishops of Negro churches: Bishop James A. Bray, Colored Methodist Episcopal; Bishop R. A. Carter, Colored Methodist Episcopal; Bishop W. J. Wallis, African Methodist Episcopal Zion; Bishop R. R. Auguitti, African Methodist Episcopal; Bishop W. A. Fountain, African Methodist Episcopal; and Reverdy C. Rampom, African Methodist Episcopal.

The affiliations of these Negro college presidents and Negro bishops indicate that the Communist Party has had a large measure of success in penetrating the ranks of Negro educators and clergymen.

During the period extending from 1936 to the end of World War II, the National Negro Congress and the Communist Party dropped such slogans as "A Negro Republic in the Black Belt and "The Liberation of the Oppressed Negro Nation." This was in keeping with the Communist Party's new tactical orientation of the People's Front. After World War II, the Communists reverted to their basic disloyalty to the United States. Communists in the armed forces of the United States fought with great zeal in the war against the Axis Powers, not out of any loyalty to their own country but because their adopted "fatherland," the Soviet Union, was a co-belligerent.

Following World War II, the National Negro Congress and the Communist Party showed their true colors. On June 6, 1946, the NNC addressed a petition to the United Nations, requesting that foreign agency to conduct an investigation into the oppression of the Negro people.

Communist tactics are always subject to drastic alteration without notice, but the basic aim of violent revolution is never abandoned.

The National Negro Congress was liquidated in 1947. It had served the purposes of the Communist conspiracy admirably for almost a decade, but during its later years it had become so indelibly stamped as a Soviet sputnik that its influence outside the immediate circle of Communists was rapidly approaching the vanishing point.

Never discouraged, and always ready to start all over again, the Party went on to the launching of new sputniks.

Southern Negro Youth Congress

The Southern Negro Youth Congress originated as the youth section of the National Negro Congress. Its first conference was held in Richmond, Virginia, February 13-14, 1937, at the Fifth Street Baptist Church.

The late Edward E. Strong, Communist Party Negro leader, was chairman of the youth section of the NNC and of the SNYC.

The SNYC was formed during the era of the People's Front, and its behavior was guided accordingly. At its first session, the pastor of the Baptist Church pronounced an invocation. There was nothing of the dana-the-church attitude which had characterized the period of the American Negro Labor Congress, although the Communists were in complete control.

Speakers at the first conference of the SNYC included E. Franklin Frazier, professor at Howard University, Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University, and Angelo Herndon.

During the conference, a seminar was devoted to the subject, "The Role of the Negro Church in Solving the Social and Economic Problems of Negro Youth." The leader of the seminar was Herbert M. Smith, dean of the School of Religion, Bishop College, Marshall, Texas. Participants in the seminar discussion were Harold Roland, School of Religion, Howard University, and James A. Cox, School of Religion, Virginia Union University. The Rev. C. E. Queen, pastor of the Leigh Street Methodist Church, also pronounced an invocation.

At one session of the Richmond conference, W. F. Richardson, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, presided. The NAACP national headquarters had a full-page advertisement in the souvenir program.

The SNYC had a Communist affiliate known as the Association of Young Writers and Artists. The association was dedicated to "stimulating and encouraging individual and group expression in the fields of art by Negro youth, increasing the means whereby the finest cultural contributions of Negro youth may be made available to the public." Toward this end, the association conducted an essay contest on the subject, "What is your interpretation of the novel 'Freedom Road' by Howard Fast?"

The secretary of the Association of Young Writers and Artists was Louis E. Burnham. Communist Party Negro leader who numbered among his later Communist activities an instructorship in the Jefferson School of Social Science and membership on the board of directors of the Southern Conference Educational Fund.

The honorary members of the Association of Young Writers and Artists read like a roster of distinguished fellow travelers. Among the honorary members were the following: Louis Adamic, Countee Cullen, W. E. B. DuBois, Oscar Hammerstein, W. C. Handy, Langston Hughes, Canada Lee, Rayford W. Logan, Carey McWilliams, Dorothy Parker, Pearl Primus, and Kenneth Spencer. (People's Daily World, Oct. 2, 1944, p. 5)

James W. Ford rushed back to report to the Central Committee of the Communist Party on the Richmond conference of the SNYC. (The Negro and the Democratic Front, p. 113-119) His enthusiasm was unbounded. The Communist Party had made a new and deeper penetration into the South.

William Z. Foster has recently made the following glowing appraisal of the work and influence of the Southern Negro Youth Congress:

Most important was the united front Southern Negro Youth Congress . . . Leaders in this organization were Edward Strong, James W. Ford, James Jackson, Henry Winston, Louis Burnham, and Esther Cooper . . . In 1945, when it held its seventh convention in the out-of-the-way Southern city of Columbia, South Carolina, 1,000 delegates were present . . . The S.N.Y.C. was the most important movement ever conducted by Negro youth. It pioneered many of the constructive developments now taking place in the South . . . (The Negro People in American History, p. 486)

The Southern Negro Youth Congress was liquidated in 1948. The days of the People's Front were over, at least for the time being.

Southern Conference for Human Welfare

The first big penetration of the Communist Party into the South came with the launching of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare in November 1938. The launching took place in Richmond, Virginia, with the blessings of the White House. Eleanor Roosevelt was the principal speaker.

On November 22, 1938, Mrs. Roosevelt, addressing the conference said: "The eyes of the world are upon us . . . The future of democracy rests with the nation's youth. Face the question with open minds and above all make sure a thing is true before accepting it as true. On this alone can we stake our hopes for democracy." (Report of Proceedings of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, p. 29)

Franklin D. Roosevelt sent a letter to the Birmingham conference, in which he said: "... if you steer a true course and keep everlastingly at it, the South will long be thankful for this day." (Ibid, p. 2)

Paul Crouch, John Donovan, James Jackson, Robert F. Hall, and Don West—all Communist Party members—manipulated the conference behind the scenes. William Z. Foster writes with unusual modesty: "Communist influence was strong in the S.C.H.W. from the start and this was reflected in the advanced program it adopted." (The Negro People in American History, p. 487)

The first president of the S.C.H.W. was Frank P. Graham, then president of the University of North Carolina. Later presidents were John B. Thompson (of the Highlander Folk School seminar) and Clark Foreman (now director of the Communist-controlled Emergency Civil Liberties Committee). Throughout most of its existence, which extended down to 1948, James A. Dombrowski was administrator of the S.C.H.W.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities had something to do with the liquidation of the S.C.H.W., but the decisive factor in its demise was the switch from the wartime honeymoon of the Washington-Moscow axis to the Cold War.

Under date of March 29, 1944, the Dies Committee dubbed the S.C.H.W. a Communist front, and in a special report of the Committee on Un-American Activities, dated June 12, 1947, the following indictment of the S.C.H.W. was made:

Careful examination of its official publication and its activities will disclose that the conference is being used in devious ways to further basic Soviet and Communist policy. Decisive and key posts are in most instances controlled by persons whose record is faithful to the line of the Communist Party and the Soviet Union. (p. 1)

In a 1954 report, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee reached the following unanimous conclusion: “The Southern Conference for Human Welfare was conceived, financed, and set up by the Communist Party in 1938 as a mass organization to promote communism throughout the Southern States.” (p. v)

Southern Conference Educational Fund

Attention has already been called to the fact that the Southern Conference for Human Welfare metamorphosed into the Southern Conference Educational Fund in the middle of 1948. In the shift from one name to the other, the organization maintained the same headquarters, the same telephone number, the same publication, and the same executive director.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee reported in 1954 that “an objective study of the entire record compels the conclusion that the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., is operating with substantially the same leadership and purposes as a predecessor organization, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.” By “the same leadership and purposes,” the Senate Committee meant that the Southern Conference Educational Fund, like the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, was “a mass organization to promote Communism throughout the Southern States.”

Much has already been said about Aubrey Williams, president, and James A. Dombrowski, executive director, of the Southern Conference Educational Fund. It may be added that the names of both Williams and Dombrowski were attached to the brief amicus curiae which was submitted to the United States Supreme Court, October, 1955, Term, on behalf of the Communist Party, U. S. A. Their support of this brief amicus curiae, written with a typical Communist flair, sufficiently reveals the ideological position of these two principal officials of the SCEF.

As has already been indicated, the Southern Conference Educational Fund exerts a commanding influence in the South today, and is in the vanguard of the pro-Communist integration forces. The principal function of the Southern Conference Educational Fund is to serve as a bridge between the Communist Party on the one hand and misguided Southern Liberals on the other hand. In this function, it has been remarkably successful.

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People

A special word concerning the NAACP is necessary. This organization is not a Communist front.

The NAACP has published a pamphlet by its Assistant Field Secretary, Herbert Hill, entitled “The Communist Party—Enemy of Negro Equality.” This pamphlet is a devastating indictment of Communist views and tactics on the Negro question.

In a foreword to the pamphlet by Herbert Hill, Roy Wilkins correctly appraises the Communist interest in the Negro question, as follows: “Far from being sincere about doing something for Negro rights, the Communists use the Negro merely as a pawn in the Soviet campaign against the United States and the Western world.”

On the other hand, it must be observed that the NAACP has been a prime objective of Communist penetration and, in numerous instances, prominent individuals connected with the NAACP have succumbed to the appeals of the Communist-front apparatus. Proof that the NAACP has been troubled with the problem of Communist penetration is to be found in a resolution adopted at the 1956 annual NAACP convention, which reads as follows: “As in the past, the Association will employ every reasonable measure in keeping with democratic organizational principles to prevent the endorsers, the supporters and defenders of the Communist conspiracy from joining or participating in any way in the work of the NAACP.”

On November 11, 1957, the New York Times reported that the NAACP had rejected the membership application of Benjamin J. Davis, New York state chairman of the Communist Party, and had declined a gift of $50 offered by Davis.

The foregoing statements and actions of the leaders of the NAACP appear to be clear and decisive, but they tell only half of the story. The other half of the story is that many of the leaders of the NAACP have been unusually susceptible to joining, supporting, and defending the front organizations of the Communist conspiracy.

The indisputable truth of the matter is that the leaders of the NAACP, taken as a whole, have been extraordinarily soft toward the Communist conspiracy.

In the so-called anti-Communist resolution adopted at the San Francisco convention in 1956, there would appear to be a big loophole in the phrase, “every reasonable measure in keeping with democratic organizational principles.” Obviously, “democratic organizational principles” do not prevent a person from holding high position in the NAACP and high position in a Communist organization at one and the same time.

Two examples of NAACP officials who are currently prominent in the affairs of Communist organizations will illustrate the interlocking of the NAACP and the Communist apparatus.

Andrew D. Weinberger, a national vice-president of the NAACP, is listed as treasurer on the 1957 letterhead of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, one of the most active Communist organizations in the United States at the present time.

John Wesley Dobbs, a national vice-president of the NAACP, is a member of the board of directors of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, the most influential Communist organization currently operating in the South. Mr. Dobbs was a guest of honor at a 1957 meeting of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. He was also a signer of the brief amicus curiae submitted to the U. S. Supreme Court on behalf of the Communist Party in the fall of 1955.

It may be enlightening to give some totals which indicate the extent to which the top leadership of the NAACP has given aid and comfort to the Communist-front apparatus. Listed on the current letterheads of the NAACP are the names of 236 different national officers. One hundred forty-five (or more than 61 percent) of these individuals have been involved, in one way or another, with Communist enterprises, for a grand total of 2,200 affiliations of public record. Forty-five of these NAACP national officers have had one or two Communist affiliations; 99 have had 3 or more such affiliations; 52 have had 10 or more; and 46 have had 15 or more.

At this point, I present a tabulation of the names of the NAACP national officers whose Communist affiliations number 15 or more, together with the number of such affiliations for each individual.

Dear [Name]

Your letter postmarked September 26, 1958, with its enclosures, has been received and the motive which prompted your communication is appreciated.

In the event you secure any additional data which you believe to be of interest to this Bureau, you may desire to communicate directly with the Special Agent in Charge of our Memphis Office located at 1104 Sterick Building, Memphis 3, Tennessee.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HERIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

Enclosed is a copy of correspondent's communication. Files reflect that correspondent wrote to the Bureau on 3-21-52 in a vague and nonspecific manner advising he would write again to the Bureau. The receipt of his letter was acknowledged and he was requested to contact your office if he had any information within the Bureau's jurisdiction. Copies of this correspondence were furnished your office.

Correspondent enclosed with his letter a copy of the pamphlet "Communism and the NAACP" which contains testimony presented by Dr. J. B. Mathews at a public hearing of the Florida Legislation Investigation Committee at Tallahassee, Florida, on 2-10-58. The pamphlet bears a notation that it is published by the Georgia Commission on Education, 220 Agriculture Building, 19 Hunter Street, Southwest, Atlanta 3, Georgia. The pamphlet deals primarily with CP programs regarding the "Negro question," CP program to infiltrate noncommunist organizations and various CP satellite organizations "launched by the Communist Party especially for Negroes." It further indicates that while the NAACP "is not a communist front" the leaders of the NAACP "taken as a whole, have been extraordinarily soft towards the communist conspiracy." (105-52615)

Correspondent also enclosed a four-page folder printed by the Georgia Commission on Education which related to the Labor Day, 1957, meeting held at the Highlander Folk School (HFS), Monteagle, Tennessee.

The above material has been afforded extremely wide circulation particularly throughout the South and has previously been brought to the attention of the Bureau as well as to your office. The HFS due to its interracial character has been the subject of numerous past allegations that it represents the headquarters for communism in eastern Tennessee. These allegations, however, have never been substantiated. (61-7511-210)

This data is furnished for your information.

NOTE ON YELLOW:

Correspondent advised there has been a lot of talk about the HFS and that it is a communist school. He states he knows nothing about it but the Bureau "can tell more when you read this paper."

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover,

Dear Mr. Hoover:

A publication entitled "Highlander Folk School" has reached my desk. It was sent out by the Georgia Commission on Education, Atlanta, and discusses what it calls the Communist training school at Monteagle, Tenn.

If there is such a communist undertaking there, it is a matter of public concern. I join in that concern.

This is to inquire if you have any specific information on the school. I'd appreciate hearing from you.

With thanks and the good wishes of the season,

Sincerely yours,

I have received your letter of December 31, 1958, and appreciate the interest which prompted you to write me. I am instructing one of my representatives in your area to contact you in the near future relative to your inquiry.

It was thoughtful of you to extend your Season's greetings, and you have my very best wishes for every possible happiness during the New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Highlander Folk School is supported primarily by donations from labor unions, offers courses of instruction in labor economics and the general field of education. It has had, and has followed, the practice of securing communist or communist-affiliated students of instruction in communism nor to be in a position to gain control of this school. Due to its association with these parties, it has been the subject of many past allegations, substantiated, that it represents the headquarters for communism.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I have just finished reading your great book, Meters of Deceit, and feel that my congratulations to you on your wonderful work are long overdue. You and your organization are our greatest asset in our fight on communism. I am greatly disturbed by events taking place all over our country and particularly in Alabama.

The northern liberals have made the situation in Montgomery a cause celebre and Martin Luther King another Gandhi. The people there have been extremely tolerant of his activities and the restraint that most of them have shown is to be admired. The situation here in the South is fast becoming intolerable and the ones of us who have always considered ourselves moderates and have tried to help the negro progress (in the framework of his own society) are becoming alarmed.

Last year I received a copy of a set of pictures made by a photographer from Georgia who went to the Labor Day weekend workshop at the notorious Highlander Folk School at Monteagle. I am sure you have a copy of the same report which was sent to me by the Attorney General of Alabama. All of the negroes, or most of them, who have been leaders in the racial troubles here, were there. Rosa Parks of the Montgomery bus boycott, M.L. King, Comillion of Tuskegee Institute and King was sitting next to Abner Berry. People are bound to take on the color of their associates and in this case it is decidedly red.

There are very few people in the United States who have any idea what the Highlander Folk School is or what it is doing. The northern liberals in their rabid desire for the negro vote have evidently overlooked the red influence in the negro movement or have chosen to ignore it.
I have been told by a reliable county official at Tuskegee that out of the known communists in Alabama, about two-thirds of them are at the Institute. I am sure that you know the correct figures but it is distressing to know that communist doctrine is being taught to the colored youth of the state. The Institute is the darling of the liberals as well as the NAACP, and they and the northern press attack the South for our stand on integration on one hand while they cover up their own racial faults with the other.

My frustration knows no bounds when I see communism creeping so cleverly into every facet of our lives and people so indifferent to it or so ignorant. Again, my congratulations to you for your excellent work in trying to educate our people to the dangers of subversion.

Sincerely,
January 8, 1959

Your letter was received on January 5, 1959, and I certainly appreciate your kind comments about "Masters of Deceit" and our efforts in combating communism. Thank you very much for giving me the benefit of your views pertaining to racial matters in your area.

Dear Friend:

Mrs. Mary Davis has been calling every day about a Literacy and Citizenship School for her people. On three of the Sea Islands other Highlander students are giving guidance to their neighbors in reading so they can qualify for voting in South Carolina. Similar appeals repeatedly come from Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

The people who turn to Highlander after doing what they can to help themselves, would turn directly to you if you were known to them. We have gone as far as we can, gladly foregoing salaries when necessary, and must pass these requests on to you.

We are calling on you to do a very special job which only you can do. One of the foundations which has made generous grants for the past six years has about exhausted its resources and we are faced with the immediate and urgent need of making up this loss or curtailing a program that should be expanded.

One supporter has asked fifty personal friends to contribute. He signed and sent out in his own envelope a letter we mimeographed, a piece of Highlander literature, and a business reply envelope addressed to Highlander. On most of the letters he added a personal note affirming his own support and expressing the hope that they would join him. Contributions from his friends came directly to the School and were acknowledged by us. Others learning of this plan asked for letters and enclosures, and their friends are also responding.

If you will do likewise, our loss can be replaced with individual contributions. Every dollar received can be used directly for education, since thanks to you there will be practically no fund raising costs.

This we know is not an ordinary request but these are not ordinary times here in the South, and after all your friends might welcome an invitation to share in your and our efforts. Let us know on the enclosed card how many letters you can use. We must tell Mrs. Davis something soon.

Sincerely yours,

Myles Horton

26th ANNUAL REPORT
Highlander Folk School — Monteagle, Tennessee

"A Young Man Come to Our Mountain . . ."

May Justus, Trustee of Highlander Folk School, author of 38 children's books of life and legends in the Smoky Mountains, the latest of which is LET'S PLAY AND SING, published by Broadway Press, Nashville, is also a teacher and honored civic leader. Miss Justus lives in the community of Summerfield in which the Highlander Folk School is located. Last Spring, the children and teachers of Summerfield School dedicated their annual to May Justus, "who is loved and cherished by all who know her."

In introducing Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to people who had gathered at Highlander from many southern states to hear the former first lady in June, 1958, Miss Justus said:

"We welcome to our mountain top today a person who comes to us not as a stranger but as a friend . . . This friendship goes back to the time of the great depression when Mrs. Roosevelt and her husband were in the White House and when the New Deal was help and hope to us . . . We happened to be one of the poorest counties in Tennessee in a material way, and we, who are older, remember those days and the blessings that came to us through Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal . . . I am not sure how many years ago or just at what point in the history of Highlander that Mrs. Roosevelt met Myles Horton, but I know that it was in the early days of its struggle. It was while Mr. Roosevelt was getting the New Deal underway that a young man came to our mountain who had dedicated his life to the proposition that all men should be free and equal in opportunity regardless of race or color or creed. He dedicated this school to this purpose . . ."
What Do They Mean When They Talk About Segregation?

Harry Golden, humorist, Editor of the Cornelius Israelite, and author of ONLY IN AMERICA, a current bestseller, fame, described to Highlander's June Workshop participants his GOLDEN RULES for ending segregation cloutting his "vertical plan," his "white-baby an," and his "out-of-order plan." Amidst laughter and applause, he conveyed this serious message:

"What do they mean when they talk about racial segregation? Do you think they mean a Negro child going or not going to a white hood? Nonsense. Nonsense. . . . It means, your friends, death. D-E-A-T-H. That is what means. Nine Negro women die in childbirth in the South to every one white woman who is in childbirth. That is what segregation means. . . . It means death. These are the automatic tuberculosis which is 11th as a cause of death among the whites is second as a cause of death among the Negroes. That is what means. Racial segregation! Do you know what an evil that is? It involves death; it involves people who die when they shouldn't be. That is what racial segregation is. Don't tell them kid you about the social classes. The Negro is not intruding when he moves into a white neighborhood. He is escaping; he is escaping from death."

"So Many Interesting People in One Place"

The United States Department of State sent foreign visitors to Highlander in May to learn of the American way-of-life. Highlander presented in panel discussion: Mr. Alexander Bannerman, Supervisor of Presbyterian Schools, India; Miss Sunthone Bilavarn, Assistant Welfare Director, Laos; and Miss Violaine Junod, Union of South Africa. Later, a sitting professor from India spoke to workshop participants. Highlander was happy to entertain at various times visitors from England and from Holland who were studying the techniques employed in America, the function of welfare agencies, and the work of community organizations, including 4-H Clubs. From the Netherlands came a staff member of Volksboegschool "Allardsoog" founded the same year as Highlander Folk School each.

A "MARK TWAIN" AT HIGHLANDER

"I too, will say that this was a great experience to be at Highlander Folk School - something I will always cherish and hold dear. It is a very great privilege to be here," said Harry Golden, shown speaking to a Highlander audience which he held in rapt attention for an hour and 25 minutes.

Mrs. Septima Clark, Highlander's Director of Education, pictured seated, introduced Editor Golden.

National Leaders Commend Highlander . . .

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, Mgr. John O'Grady, Lloyd K. Garrison, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt issued a statement on December 16, 1957, condemning the attempts of Georgia's Governor Griffin, "to draw from the serious and fruitful deliberations of Highlander's 25th Anniversary Celebration assurance for the efforts of the Southern races to equate segregation with communism, and called on Americans, 'to join with us in subscribing to the principles of democracy as set forth in Highlander's official statement of policy.'

The Reverend William J. Faulkner, Minister of The Congregational Church of Park Manor, Chicago, III., welcomed Myer Horton and Mrs. Septima Clark to his pulpit in July where they spoke on "Christianity in Action." In thanking the Church's Social Action Council for arranging the program, the Church bulletin said, "These two dedicated men and courageous spirits are in themselves proponents of Christianity in Action in our Southland, where it often costs one's job, and sometimes his life to be Christian in his relations."
A Demonstration of Democracy

"You are doing a pioneer work here. I know of no other school just like this one. It is very important at this time that the demonstration of democracy be made. We have to prove we believe in a non-Communist world that is really a democracy, with freedom of opportunity."

—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt speaking at Highlander, June 17, 1938

Fun and Friendship

Dr. Van Kennedy, University of California Professor, and Mrs. Kennedy, teacher in child-parent relationships, directed three weeks of happy, healthy, informal instruction for youngsters, age 9 through 13. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Channon, experienced in the direction of American Friends Service Work in Mexico, directed the work-counselor training program, for young men and women dedicated to making a contribution to the South in this time of great need.

"I do want to emphasize," wrote one parent of campers, "what an exceptional job we feel all of you folks do at Highlander. The significance of race instinctively changes from the FACT OF THE MATTER to A MATTER OF FACT in your beautiful atmosphere where ideals are a living norm.

HARRY LASKER MEMORIAL LIBRARY CELEBRATION in September culminated a seven-year's work of cataloging by Miss Angel Elder, who will return to Highlander next summer after a winter of graduate work at Atlanta University's School of Library Service. Miss Elder worked under the guidance of Mr. Richard Glenn, Rosenfield College Librarian.

Also among Highlander's personnel were Miss Clara Brown, graduate of Allen University in Columbus, S. C., Miss Felicia Harris, who obtained her degree from Columbia College and Miss Judith Gregory, who, after a year and a half of graduate work in the Woodrow Wilson Department of Foreign Affairs at the University of Virginia, joined the staff of the Potomac Graduate School prior to coming to Highlander.

Miki Fowlkes Marslow, pictured right in the library scene above, a native of Arkansas, became the School Manager. Miki and J. D. Marlowe with their year old son, Joey, have settled on an adjoining farm.
Lillian W. Johnson Memorial

Highlander gratefully accepts the Lillian W. Johnson Memorial Cabin purchased by funds contributed by friends of Dr. Johnson and money left in the School in her will. One of the South's great women pioneers in educational fields, a graduate of college and president of another, Dr. Johnson in 1961 turned over to Myles Horton her mountain-top home which today serves as the main building of Highlander Folk School. At the age of 90, Dr. Johnson was interviewed by the author, saying, "What Highlander did for me was to accustom me to association with people of a clane and a race I had not known before except as they served me. The industrial worker, and the Negro became personalities in their own right. I saw human exteriors, and came to have a better understanding of their problems. This new attitude has been a great help to me in the work here of organizing our interracial work for a recreational program for Negro youth. . . . It is my inspiration and my courage to go forward with this Negro work which I have received from Highlander."

In turn, people who study at Highlander continue to gain inspiration and courage from the life and works of Dr. Lillian Wycoff Johnson, who died in 1956 at the age of 92.

Tax Exemption Restored

We are glad to announce that on December 18, 1957, the Internal Revenue Service continued its forebearing that the Highlander Folk School is entitled to exemption from Federal income tax and that contributions made to Highlander are deductible for income tax purposes.

Wanted: 100 New Guarantors

The Guarantors Committee, which grew out of last year's 25th Anniversary Celebration, has secured 100 Guarantors for Highlander. The Committee was formed to provide Highlander with a minimum operating budget of $2,000 by enlisting 100 people who would pledge at least $10 a month. The Committee members are:

Dr. John B. Thompson, Chairman, Mrs. William Hyatt, Treasurer, 425 Central Avenue, Natchez, Mississippi; and Mrs. Alexander McChesney, Nashville, Tennessee. The Committee was organized in Nashville, Tennessee. Mrs. Alex Jenkins, Charleston, South Carolina; Miss Mary May, Washington, D.C.; Mr. A. I. Livensight, his secretary; and Mr. R. I. Livensight, his husband, and other members of her family and friends are sending contributions to Highlander.
Highlander Folk School (HFS) has been the subject of a past investigation by the Bureau based upon numerous complaints received concerning communist activities at the school. HFS is supported primarily by donations; offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics and the general field of labor education; has had communists on its staff but has never offered courses of instruction on communist matters nor has the CP ever succeeded in gaining control of it.

Knoxville News-Sentinel for 1/29/59, carried local news story date-lined Nashville, Tennessee, 1/29/59, under by-line of ED TOPP, News-Sentinel Nashville Correspondent, reporting that the Tennessee Legislature (Senate and House) on 1/28/59, unanimously adopted and sent to the Governor a joint resolution directing him to name a committee of five legislators to investigate reports of "subversive" activities at the Highlander Folk School, near Monteagle, Tennessee. The committee would have power to subpoena witnesses and school records, and would report back to this session of the Legislature.

The resolution is quoted, in part, as charging that Highlander Folk School, and other organizations affiliated with it, "are allegedly involved in activities subversive to and contrary to the forms of good Government". Sponsors of the resolution were listed as Rep. HARRY LEE SENTER, Bristol; and Rep. S. A. RHINEHART, Spencer, Tennessee; Senator BARTON DEMENT, of Murfreesboro, is quoted as saying "HFS is nothing but a finishing school for Communist". Rep SENTER was critical of HFS for inter-mingling of the races.

Knoxville News-Sentinel for 1/29/59, carried local news story date-lined Nashville, Tennessee, 1/29/59, under by-line of ED TOPP, News-Sentinel Nashville Correspondent, reporting that the Tennessee Legislature (Senate and House) on 1/28/59, unanimously adopted and sent to the Governor a joint resolution directing him to name a committee of five legislators to investigate reports of "subversive" activities at the Highlander Folk School, near Monteagle, Tennessee. The committee would have power to subpoena witnesses and school records, and would report back to this session of the Legislature.

The resolution is quoted, in part, as charging that Highlander Folk School, and other organizations affiliated with it, "are allegedly involved in activities subversive to and contrary to the forms of good Government". Sponsors of the resolution were listed as Rep. HARRY LEE SENTER, Bristol; and Rep. S. A. RHINEHART, Spencer, Tennessee; Senator BARTON DEMENT, of Murfreesboro, is quoted as saying "HFS is nothing but a finishing school for Communist". Rep SENTER was critical of HFS for inter-mingling of the races.

Highlander Folk Probe Approved

By ED TOPP
Nashville Correspondent

NASHVILLE, Jan. 29 — Is Highlander Folk School really a nest of Red comrades? Tennessee legislators mean to find out. Without a dissenting vote in either the Senate or House, a joint resolution was adopted yesterday and sent to the Governor to investigate reports of "subversive" activities at the Interracial school near Monteagle, Tenn.

Today, however, the resolution was recalled for an amendment. The sponsors said the resolution will be amended to put a $500 limit on the cost of the investigation.

Myles Horton, director of Highlander Folk, replied to yesterday's action. He said no legislative act was necessary to carry out an investigation of the school.

"We have always welcomed investigation and invited visitors, of whom many have been our Government's guests from foreign countries, we prefer to have only a few observers at a time as not to distract from the educational activities," said Horton.

Our records—the list of contributors, faculty members, students—anything are open to anyone anytime and always have been," Horton said. "They didn't need authorization to get them. All they had to do was ask."

Horton also said that "there are no new and never have been any Communists officially connected with Highlander School. I am not sure and never have been a member of the Communist Party and I will sue anyone who calls me a Communist."

Subpoena Power

The resolution directs the Governor to name two Senators and two Representatives to a special committee which would investigate the school and report its findings to the Legislature.

Here's neighboring states have investigated Highlander Folk in the past, that the school has received attention of veterans organizations, and that it has recently attracted the attention of the Arkansas attorney general.

To remain on a tax-exempt status as an educational institution, Highlander Folk must report each year to the Internal Revenue Service. This has not taken part in any propaganda activities, said Horton. "If there were any subversive activities, he said, "the Federal Government would know about it."

Has Tax-Exempt Status

Horton related that Highlander Folk had been challenged as to its eligibility for tax exemption last year, and that the school was removed from a tax-exempt status for a period. After the Internal Revenue Service looked into the matter, the tax-exempt status was returned, he added.

Horton, 54, is a native of Savannah, Tenn. He received his bachelor's degree from Cumberland University and his master's degree from the University of Chicago. He said he is a member of the delegate assembly of the Adult Education Association and is chairman of the Residential Adult Education Section of the AEA. He said he will head the American AEA delegation to the international conference in Germany next September.

Citizens' Report

Sprinkled on the desks of legislators yesterday were copies of a so-called report in 1957 by the Georgia Commission on Education. The paper referred to the school as a Communist training ground. Chief feature of the pamphlet was a photographic layout of Highlander Folk's segregated situation. Long lists of alleged Communist-front organizations connected with the school.
The resolution was read twice. One amendment to the resolution was made for the purpose of taking appropriate legislative action. This was necessary to meet the amendment constitutional!

Trained Labor Leaders

The resolution charges that Highlander, and other organizations affiliated with it, "are allegedly involved in activities subversive to and contrary to the forms of good government."

When it was founded, Highlander specialized in training labor leaders. In recent years, it has added integration workshops to its schedule. The school is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the school, foundations, and unions.

Mrs. Roosevelt Spoke

Speakers at the school last summer included Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Golden, Muriel and editor of The Carolina Israelite of Charlotte, N.C., the Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader of Montgomery, Ala., and Rosa Parks, whose action touched the Montgomery bus boycott, are among those listed by Highlander as having attended integration workshops at the school.

In the early Highlander Folk School was established in the mountainous region about 1932, reports have sprung up from time to time that the school was a training ground for Communists.

There has never been any question about the policy of non-segregation at the school. That has been a constant commitment from time to time. A summer camp for young people has been run in consultation with the school, and that has disavowed any involvement in the race.

No Academic Courses

"Highlander Folk School is affiliated with any organization, but makes its services available to individuals on a non-discriminatory basis provided they are open-minded," said Spencer.

A report was not written at Highlander Folk School. There were workshops and discussions, but the school had a policy of non-segregation in its activities. The school was the "Highlander Folk School," not the "Highlander Folk School for Intellectuals." The idea was to give people an opportunity to participate in the cultural life of the community and to have access to public facilities. With a democratic goal, the school tried to be a place where anyone could come and go without feeling that they were in the way, whether they were white or black.

A New Law

Presenting the resolution for a vote in the House yesterday, Mr. Sen., Bristol, Virginia, declared, "The hour is late for this investigation, but it is too late to show to the world that Tennessee does revere and respect the great heritage that has been passed on to us by our ancestors."

Sen. said some of Tennessee's...

Mr. Tolson called me this morning and stated he had had inquiry from the press concerning the above school indicating the Tennessee legislature intended to look into the activities of the school and his inquiry was whether or not we had ever investigated the Highlander Folk School.

After checking with the Domestic Intelligence Division, I advised that we had made some limited inquiry concerning the school several years ago when it was alleged it was a hot bed for communists, and we forwarded a memorandum to Assistant Attorney General Bazelon dated February 21, 1947, and that we had also forwarded a memorandum to Peyton Ford dated February 26, 1951, regarding the matter. I told him, however, we were in no position to state we had ever investigated the school nor would it be to the Bureau's or the Department's advantage to indicate that we had investigated the school. I briefly described the background of the school to him and suggested I felt best not to comment on the matter. It stated he agreed and that he would get the point across there is no current activity on the part of the Department in this matter.

It reluctantly. He doubted the hasty investigation, which must be concluded by March 10, would accomplish much.

The senators haggled over a number of technicalities before voting $5,000 for the investigation. One senator complained about a lack of copies of the resolution, while another claimed it had not been read in full by the clerk.

The Senate recessed for 15 minutes while the Rev. Carl Kirby of Tracy City laid down a fusillade of charges at the partially integrated adult education center of its own city council.

Horton Says Fast

When senators protested their work schedule would allow him only a third of that, he attempted to cram the full speech into the allotted time.

Talking with machine-gun speed which made his sentences sometimes unintelligible, Kirby accused Highlander of being subversive, of harboring Communists, sympathizers and fen-menting industrial strife. He waved affidavits and read from cards and documents which he claimed back up his allegations.

This evidence, he asserted, was available only to him and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

But he asked the Legislature to call off the investigation, claiming records necessary to establish charges against the school already had been removed from Monteagle in anticipation of the inquiry.

Kirby urged instead that the Legislature pass a law putting Highlander out of business. He promised the Legislature he would supply a bill “with teeth in it.”

Horton has said repeatedly he would welcome the investigation and that all records and data relative to the school he estab-lished in 1932 will be made available. He demanded the Legislature make a complete inquiry and either close his school or close it.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am in possession of a publication which describes a school by the name of "The Highlander Folk School" in Tennessee. This publication also states that the school was established in September 1932, by Horton and Donald L. West, a Georgian with a long record of affiliations with Communist-front groups.

I would very much appreciate all information the FBI may be at liberty to give regarding this school, its teachers and its purpose.

This publication also states that this school has continued under close surveillance by the FBI therefore I presume you may have some report available to the public.

My very sincere thanks.

Yours very truly,
April 5, 1961

Dear

I have received your letter dated March 27, 1961, and the interest which prompted your communicating with me is indeed appreciated.

While I would like to be of assistance, the jurisdiction and responsibilities of the FBI, strictly an investigative agency of the Federal Government, do not extend to furnishing evaluations or comments concerning organizations, publications or individuals. I am sure you will understand the necessity for this policy and will not infer that our files do or do not contain the information you desire.

In view of your interest in the internal security of the United States, I am enclosing some literature which you may wish to read.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

The Chattanooga News-Free Press, Chattanooga, Tennessee, a daily publication, in the issue of April 5, 1961, reported that on April 5, 1961, the Tennessee Supreme Court upheld the revocation of the Highlander Folk School's general welfare charter and ordered the operating corporation dissolved. It was reported that the Supreme Court's decision meant that it must shut down operations unless it gets a stay order from the State Court in order to further appeal its case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The school's charter was reported revoked on two grounds: MYLES HORTON, Director and founder of the adult education institution, operated the school for his own personal gain; intoxicating beverages were sold illegally on the school premises.

It was reported that the Tennessee Supreme Court did not consider the 1902 State Segregation Law, stating that it was necessary for them to pass upon the Constitutional question as to the mixing of white and colored male and female in the same school, since Highlander had violated other state laws.

The case was first tried in February, 1960, at which time the local State Court ordered the revocation of the charter and the corporation dissolved, but allowed the school to operate pending the outcome of an appeal.

The Knoxville News-Sentinel, Knoxville, Tennessee, a daily publication, in issue May 5, 1961, reported that the Tennessee Supreme Court had denied a petition to re-hear the controversial Highlander Folk School case. It was reported that in asking for a re-hearing, attorneys for Highlander had argued the charter was revoked simply because it was an integrated institution.

The article reported that the State Supreme Court in a recent opinion ignored the segregation question and said the school should give up its charter because of the beer sales and the finding of the jury in regards to MYLES HORTON, Director.

It was reported that attorneys for the Highlander Folk School said they planned to carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Knoxville Journal, Knoxville, Tennessee, a daily publication, in issue May 11, 1961, reported that on May 10, 1961, the Highlander Folk School announced it had authorized attorneys to take its charter revocation case to the Supreme Court of the United States. They will ask the U. S. Supreme Court to hear an appeal of a recent ruling by the Tennessee Supreme Court revoking the school's charter.

Director MYLES HORTON reported that meanwhile the racially integrated school is operating as usual and last week was planning a new South-wide Citizenship School Program.

For your information the Highlander Folk School was organized in approximately 1932 and is reportedly supported primarily by donations from individuals and labor unions in the form of payments for the students to attend its courses. It offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics and the general field of labor education.

Myles Horton was born 7-7-05 at Savannah, Tennessee, and attended the Union Theological Seminary, University of Chicago and the Cumberland University. He received an AB degree at the latter University. Myles Horton became Director of the Highlander Folk School in approximately 1937.

According to Bureau files the Highlander Folk School has had Communist Party, (CP), members on its staff and has followed the practice of welcoming communists as students. Due to its interracial character it has been the subject of numerous past allegations that it represents the headquarters for communism in East Tennessee. These allegations have never been substantiated. An investigation was conducted during 1941-43; however, the reports have never been disseminated and contain notes indicating that much of the subversive derogatory information contained therein has been repudiated by individuals previously furnishing information.

The Knoxville News-Sentinel, Knoxville, Tenn., a daily publication, in issue of October 8, 1961, reported that the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL at Monteagle, Tenn., announces plans for a similar school in Knoxville, Tenn., to be located in an old apartment building at 1625 Riverside Drive, Knoxville. It was reported the Knoxville institution will be a research and educational center which "insures the continuation of the Highlander idea". It was reported that so far as financially possible, the Knoxville school will take over the previous educational program of the Monteagle School if the latter is forced to close.

News media have reported the U. S. Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal of the Highlander Folk School from the decision of the Tennessee Courts and found the Highlander violated criminal laws of the State and revoked the school's charter. HORTON, during the state trial, was accused of operating the school for personal benefit, and it was alleged beer was illegally sold on the grounds.

In the news article of October 8, 1961, it was reported that the State Charter for the Knoxville School was issued on August 28, 1961.

MEMPHIS DIVISION, at Nashville, Tenn., will, through appropriate state offices, verify the reported charter of the Knoxville institution and will obtain from the charter records the purpose of the school, date charter granted, list of directors and officials and any other pertinent data available in such files. The October 13, 1962 issue of the Knoxville Journal, a local daily newspaper published at Knoxville, Tennessee, contained an article captioned "Highlander Alters Policies". This article read in part as follows:

"Highlander Folk School, noted for its pro-Communist leanings, has changed emphasis from education of whites to accept integration to agitation by a few Negroes in stirring up racial trouble by sit-ins and the like, it was learned yesterday.

This was the gist of a speech given this week by Myles Horton, Highlander director, to a group of 11 supporters of Rev. Maurice McCracken in Cincinnati. McCracken is a Presbyterian minister, under suspension, who was the treasurer of "Operation Freedom" for "Tent City" in West Tennessee a few months ago. He has a community church in Cincinnati.

Highlander has been operating here at 1625 Riverside Drive. It formerly was at Monteagle, but was closed there several months ago by the state. After that, Horton and a group obtained another charter from the state to function here.

Horton, in his talk, told of a Negro Presbyterian Church in Knoxville where the basement is used as a cafeteria and meeting place for Negro students from University of Tennessee, Maryville College and Knoxville College to plan integration activities. Upstairs quarters are used to house Negro speakers who come into Knoxville to speak to the groups."
Horton also told of the "difficulties" Highlander is having with Knoxville city ordinances passed to specifically hinder operation of the left wing institution.

He told the meeting "a group of labor leaders" who helped elect Mayor John Duncan went to the mayor to protest the ordinances, but "all they got was lip service."
Confidential Informant Knoxville T-2, another Government agency, advised that LOUIS FRANCIS BUDENZ, admitted former editor of the Daily Worker, an East Coast Communist newspaper, and a former official of the Communist Party, advised on November 21, 1952, that the Highlander Folk School was pro-Communist, but BUDENZ did not furnish further details.

The October 8, 1961 issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel, a local daily newspaper published at Knoxville, Tennessee, contained an article reflecting that Highlander Folk School had announced plans for a similar school at Knoxville to be located at 1625 Riverside Drive. The article identified MYLES HORTON as director of Highlander.
The December 17, 1961 issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting that on December 15, 1961, assets of Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, were auctioned by the State of Tennessee under a court decree after the school was convicted of violating three Tennessee laws and failed in appeals to the State and United States Supreme Courts.

The July 8, 1962 issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting the land on which Highlander Folk School was formerly located had been sold at public auction under Court decree. The article stated that MYLES HORTON, Director of Highlander during its entire existence, has moved to Knoxville, Tennessee, and has been granted a State charter for an organization called Highlander Research and Educational Center.

REQUESTS FROM SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON 1. Mr.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

DATE 11/4/63 BY SEA

Enclosed are letters from Senator Warren G. Magnuson and Congressman Jeffery Coehlan, which are self-explanatory. I have informed each by letter this date that I am referring his letter to you for your consideration in line with Departmental Copies of my letters in this regard are also attached.

As you will note, each letter transmitted a leaflet containing a photograph of Martin Luther King and others purportedly in attendance at a seminar at the Highlander Folk School over the Labor Day weekend in 1957 and requested information pertinent to the validity of the leaflet.

Information concerning the school and those identified in the leaflet with King—Abbie Berry, Aubrey Williams, and Myles Horton—was furnished to you by letter dated July 17, 1963, captioned "Martin Luther King, Security Matter—Racial Matters."

For your additional information, newspaper articles indicate that the Georgia Commission on Education, which is the legislative investigating body of the State of Georgia, sent a photographer to the Labor Day, 1957, weekend seminar at the Highlander Folk School. He reportedly took both still and motion pictures of the individuals and activities there on that occasion. The Commission later published these photographs in a large folder and is known to have circulated them within a month of the Labor Day meeting.

Abbie Berry, in a column in the September 10, 1957, issue of the "Daily" coast communist newspaper, stated that he had attended the weekend seminar at the Highlander Folk School over the Labor Day weekend, 1957. Berry said that Martin Luther King and Aubrey Williams also attended this seminar.

NOTE: See memo Smith to Sullivan, 7/18/63 re: REQUESTS FROM SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON & CONGRESSMAN JEFFERY COHELAN CONCERNING CURRENT RACIAL AGITATION.
NOTE: This letter is classified Confidential since it contains information furnished from confidential informants whose revelation could cause harm to the national defense.

Dear [Name]

Your letter of July 10th has been received.

With respect to your inquiry, the FBI, being an investigative agency of the Federal Government, neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. In addition, information in the files of this Bureau must be maintained as confidential pursuant to regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. I am, therefore, unable to comment in the manner you suggested. I hope you will understand my position.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

NOTE: No record of correspondent in Bufiles.
The Highlander Folk School (HFS) has been the subject of numerous allegations that it is communist sponsored and a communist headquarters in eastern Tennessee. These allegations are due primarily to its racial character. The allegations have not been substantiated; however, the Bureau is aware of numerous communist affiliations of personnel associated with HFS.

Dear Mr. Director:

I am enclosing a leaflet which was included in the official hearing record on S. 1732, the Administration's Public Accommodations Civil Rights bill. It was submitted by the Governor of Mississippi, Ross Barnett, as part of his statement to demonstrate that the recent racial demonstrations in the South and elsewhere are inspired and organized by communists.

Could you at the earliest possible time advise me of the authenticity of the picture, the status of the organization printing it (the Georgia Commission on Education), the nature and character of the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tenn., as well as any other facts that might be pertinent in evaluating the implications of the material.

A reply with the return of the leaflet for inclusion in the record would be very helpful. My thanks in advance.

Personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

WARREN G. MAGNUSON
Chairman

Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington 25, D.C.
Reference is made to your letter dated July 19, 1963, with the enclosed booklet and your request for information concerning the authenticity of the picture in the booklet, the nature and character of the Highlander Folk School, and the status of the Georgia Commission on Education. In line with Departmental policy, your request and a copy of the booklet are being forwarded to the Attorney General for his consideration.

Pursuant to your request, I am returning the booklet enclosed.

Edgar Hoover

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mr. W. C. Sullivan
FROM: R. W. Smith
DATE: July 18, 1963

SUBJECT: REQUESTS FROM SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON AND CONGRESSMAN JEFFERY COHELAN CONCERNING CURRENT RACIAL AGITATION

Reference my memorandum dated 7/18/63, captioned as above, which acknowledged receipt of letters and enclosures from Senator Magnuson and Congressman Cohelan and informed them that their requests are being forwarded to the Attorney General for his consideration.

Senator Magnuson requested information as to the authenticity of a photograph of Martin Luther King and others taken at the Highlander Folk School, the status of the Georgia Commission on Education which printed the photograph, and information relating to the Highlander Folk School. Congressman Cohelan also requested information regarding King and the school.

Information concerning the Highlander Folk School and those in the photograph with King—Abner Winston Berry, Aubrey Williams, and Myles Horton—was furnished to the Attorney General by letter dated 7/17/63, captioned "Martin Luther King, Security Matter-C, Racial Matters."

The enclosed memorandum contains additional information for the Attorney General.

The Georgia Commission on Education, a legislative investigating body of the State of Georgia, sent a photographer to a seminar at the Highlander Folk School over Labor Day, 1957, to take still and motion pictures of individuals and activities. Later the Commission published these photographs in a large folder.

Re: REQUESTS FROM SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON AND CONGRESSMAN JEFFERY COHELAN CONCERNING CURRENT RACIAL AGITATION

Information in our files shows that Abner Berry, Aubrey Williams, and King were present at this Labor Day seminar at the school. King was quoted by a press service on July 13, 1963, as having admitted that he attended the 25th anniversary celebration of the school in 1957 and that the picture of him was apparently taken during this visit.

SUBJECT: REQUESTS FROM SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON AND CONGRESSMAN JEFFERY COHELAN
CONCERNING CURRENT RACIAL AGITATION

By letter dated 7/16/63, Senator Magnuson enclosed a leaflet containing the photograph of Martin Luther King and others at what was described as a "Communist Training School." Senator Magnuson requested information concerning the authenticity of the photograph, information as to the Highlander Folk School where the photograph was allegedly taken, and the status of the Georgia Commission on Education which printed the leaflet.

By letter dated 7/15/63, with a similar enclosure, Congressman Cohelan requested information regarding King and the school.

It is believed that these requests, which are similar in nature to the previous request of Senator Monroney, should be handled in the same manner by advising the correspondents that because of Departmental policy their requests are being forwarded to the Department for its consideration. Enclosed for that purpose are separate letters to Senator Magnuson and Congressman Cohelan.

By separate communication, the Attorney General is being furnished a copy of each of correspondents' letters, enclosures, and our replies. We are also furnishing pertinent information and calling attention to the data previously submitted to him regarding this matter contained in the Director's letter to the Attorney General dated 7/16/63.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the enclosed letters be sent to Senator Magnuson and Congressperson Cohelan.

WASHINGTON, July 13—Supporters of President Kennedy's civil rights legislation have challenged a Southern governor's claim that current Negro demonstrations are "largely Communist inspired."

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okl., said the Federal Bureau of Investigation could be asked for any information it has relevant to the statement of Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi Friday in testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee.

Under questioning by Sen. E. I. Bartlett, D-Alaska, Barnett conceded he had not talked with any FBI official to back up his claim that "leaders of the FBI" believe the demonstrations follow a Communist pattern.

Barnett also gave the committee a photograph which he said was taken at "a Communist training school" and showed a group that included Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader.

In New York, King commented that Barnett's claim of a Communist link with Negro demonstrations or with the school where the picture was taken were "utterly ridiculous and fallacious."

The school is the Highland Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn.

One man in the picture with King was Abner W. Berry, whom Barnett said was a member of the central committee of the Communist Party.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., commented: "I am for civil rights. I would walk with Martin Luther King. I hope that doesn't make me suspect."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said the picture would be brought to the attention of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Magnuson, chairman of the

Although I would like to be of service, the FBI being an investigative agency of the Federal Government neither makes evaluations nor draws conclusions as to the character or integrity of any organization, publication or individual. I regret I am unable to be of help in this instance and I hope you will not infer either that we do or do not have data in our files relating to the subject of your inquiry.

By letter to the FBI dated 7-15-63 concerning "Reds In Our Capital" and directed to "Gentlemen or Jackasses," captioned individual furnished her views concerning the Highlander Folk School. She traced its history and quoted a Tennessee newspaper article of 1939 which set out "It is a center, if not the center for the spreading of Communist doctrine in 13 Southeastern States." She praises Governor Ross Barnett of Mississippi for his wonderful stand on civil rights and criticizes the FBI as being weak and indifferent. She concurs with Governor Barnett that Jews are mostly responsible for our present day ills and refers to Martin Luther King and others as "niggers." In addition to this school, she attacks the NAACP and observes it should be banned from the U.S. and its assets seized.

RECOMMENDATION:

Due to her inflammatory language and unfounded attacks on the FBI, this letter should not be acknowledged.
Memorandum

TO: Mr. W. C. Sullivan
FROM: Mr. F. J. Baumgardner
DATE: July 26, 1963
SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER RESEARCH AND EDUCATION CENTER, KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE INFORMATION CONCERNING (INTERNAL SECURITY)

A review of the file on the Highlander Research and Education Center, formerly operated as the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, has been made and it is recommended that no security-type investigation be conducted since this organization is primarily involved as a training ground in the integration movement in the South. It is believed, however, that we should obtain the names of all officers, teachers and students of this organization so that a check of files can be made.

The Highlander Folk School was founded in 1932 by Myles Horton who continues as director of this group and by Donald Lee West. The School was supported by donations of individuals and labor unions in the form of payments for students attending courses of instruction in labor organizations, social economics and the general field of labor education. It has had Communist Party (CP) members on its staff and has accepted communists as students. No courses, however, were ever offered in communism nor has the CP ever succeeded in gaining control of the School.

Due to the interracial character of the School, it has been the subject of numerous allegations that it represented the headquarters of communism in east Tennessee. An extensive investigation was conducted in 1941 and 1942 as a result of the allegations. These allegations have never been substantiated and much of the information of a subversive derogatory nature concerning this School was later repudiated by the individuals who previously furnished the information. No investigation is being conducted concerning this organization at this time. Although inquiries have been made of the Knoxville Office from time to time regarding an investigation of this group, Knoxville recommended no investigation.

Memorandum to Mr. Sullivan
RE: HIGHLANDER RESEARCH AND EDUCATION CENTER
KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE
61-7511

On 2/16/60 the charter of the Highlander Folk School was revoked by the State of Tennessee as the School was operating "a private racially integrated school" in violation of the Tennessee Code making it unlawful to allow white and colored persons to attend the same institution of learning. Horton subsequently opened the Highlander Research and Education Center, Knoxville, Tennessee, which continues in existence.

This organization has continuously been involved in the integration movement and as a result charges are being continuously made that it is "communist." These charges are based mainly on the opinion of individuals making the charges that being prointegration is being procommunist.

This organization in June, 1963, was again involved in an incident involving the arrest of 28 white and colored men and women after a raid on a camp site near Maryville, Tennessee. This camp was being operated as a branch of the Highlander Research and Education Center and was being used as a workshop to train individuals for the integration movement.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to the Knoxville Office be approved instructing that the names of all officers, teachers and students connected with this organization be obtained in a very discreet manner and furnished to the Bureau. No active investigation is to be conducted.

Re: Builet to Knoxville 7/29/63.

Referenced letter instructed Knoxville to discreetly obtain the names of all officers, teachers, and students currently connected with Highlander Research and Education Center (HREC). The Builet instructed Knoxville to conduct no active investigation and to insure that obtaining these names did not become a matter of public information.

HREC is located at 1625 Riverside Drive, Knoxville, Tennessee, and its director is MYLES HORTON, long-time director of Highlander Folk School (HFS), Monteagle, Tennessee. The Bureau is aware that assets of HFS were auctioned by the State of Tennessee in 1961 under court decree after HFS was convicted of violating state laws.

The physical facilities of this institution consist of one large former residence and a small adjoining structure. MYLES HORTON and his wife reside on the premises and it is believed that other persons reside there on a temporary basis from time to time.

On 8/28/61, a State of Tennessee General Welfare Charter was issued to HREC, Inc. The incorporators listed on the charter are:

DR. SCOTT BATES
MYLES HORTON
MISS MARY JUSTUS
MR. EUGENE KAYDEN
MISS VERA McCAMPBELL

On 6/11/54, the Bureau instructed Knoxville to make no contacts whatsoever at Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, and that no discussion, pro or con, should be made with any individual regarding this school.

These instructions were issued following complaints against Bureau Agents by MYLES HORTON. These instructions have been assumed to apply to the Highlander Research and Education Center, since it appears to be merely a continuation of Highlander Folk School under a slightly different name.

For the Bureau's information, HREC is an extremely controversial subject in this area and has been the subject of numerous articles in one local newspaper (The Knoxville Journal) purporting to show connections between Communism and HREC and between HREC and the Presbyterian Youth Center at the University of Tennessee. The Knoxville Office frequently receives inquiries from persons in various walks of life requesting information re HREC and wanting to know if the Bureau is conducting an investigation of this institution. In line with Bureau instructions issued 6/11/54, the Knoxville Office makes no comment whatsoever concerning HREC.
In the absence of specific Bureau instructions, Knoxville will continue to comply with Bureau instructions issued 6/11/54 and will not conduct any investigation whatsoever or attempt to develop any sources to furnish information regarding Highlander Research and Education Center.

Dear Sir:

Many things are bothering me, and so I am coming to you with a few of them, hoping for some help.

(a) Why can't something be done to oust Dean Rusk and a few other REDS from our State Department? Ditto MacNamara. What is he doing for the defense of the U.S.A.? Surely causing the country to quietly disarm is not defense of our country. What about the Chairman of the Un-American Activities? Why are we slowly wasting away under this Communist subversion?? Can we recover in time?

(b) Why cannot Earl Warren be impeached? He votes in favor of the Reds — and now the cover-up of the testimony of Oswald's widow. The American people who pay taxes are entitled to the truth.

(c) I enclose photocopy of a letter I received from TIME. Will you please advise whether the U.S. Government did actually clear the Highlander Folk School of being a Communist organization? I understand the school was closed, but re-opened elsewhere.

Thank you for writing me. I am a hard worker in the CONSERVATIVE Republican party.

Sincerely,

EXP-PROC. 33

I have a copy of your address of October 9, 1962 at Las Vegas, Nevada — National Convention of the American Legion.
February 17, 1964

Dear [Redacted],

If the evidence suggested to TIME's editors that Dr. Martin Luther King was not a loyal American, you may be sure that we would discuss the charges openly. But we have no reason to question King's devotion to America's ideals and traditions, and in this connection it is worth noting what Ralph McGill of the Atlanta Constitution has had to say about him: "His nonviolence tactics have forced his opponents to practice nonviolence, to negotiate in the American way. He has put violence in a bad light, made it unpopular... but if he were an evil man, the South right now would be in the midst of a bloodbath. White Southerners should thank the dear Lord for sending them a Martin Luther King."

Not long ago the Georgia Commission on Education started to circulate a photograph of Dr. King taken at a 25th anniversary celebration of the Highlander Folk School; the commission labeled this school "communist." (In actual fact, however, U.S. Government investigators cleared both the founder of the school and the school itself of accusations of Communist activities.) Yet this is the sort of unfounded rumor which has been responsible for the conviction in the minds of some people that King is a Communist. TIME discussed these accusations briefly in our July 19, 1963 issue.

Cordially yours,
F. R. I. Counterspy Speaks Here

A packed crowd of over 200 at Karl Prussein, counter spy for 12 years for the F.B.I., outlined the creeping progress of communism in America last Wednesday evening at the Wisconsin Club.

Focus issues and dates punctuated Mr. Prussein's head-shaking address. An alarming picture of communist infiltration in the fields of education and labor was revealed.

Mr. Prussein gave special attention to the civil rights movement. On this subject he distributed the following materials:

Karl Prussein, a former counter spy for the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1947 to 1958, does hereby swear under oath and under penalties of perjury that from the years 1954 through 1958 attended five county committee meetings of the Communist Party of Santa Clara County, California. (A county committee meeting of the Communist Party consists of one delegate representing each Communist cell in the county.) The meetings were held during the afore mentioned period in the following locations: The residence of Robert Lindsay, Communist, in San Jose, California, 1954; the residence of Mary Field, Communist section organizer, Palo Alto, California, 1955; the residence of Isabel and Edwin Comery, both Communists, Menlo Park, California, 1956; the residence of Gertrude Adler, Communist, Palo Alto, California, 1957; the residence of Karl Prussein, counter spy for the F.B.I., Los Altos, California, 1958; the residence of Myron White, Communist, Mountain View, California, 1959.

I hereby further solemnly state that at each and every meeting as set forth above, one Ed Beck, Communist, who is presently secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People of San Mateo County, California, and a member of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE), presented the direct from the district office of the Communist Party in San Francisco to the effect that "All communists working within the framework of the N.A.A.C.P. are instructed to work for a change of the passive attitude of the N.A.A.C.P. into an organization for the achievement of communist objectives."

I further swear and attest that at each and every one of the aforementioned meetings, one Reverend Martin Luther King was always set forth as the individual whom Communists should look to and rally around in the Communist struggle on the many racial issues.

I hereby also state that Martin Luther King has either been a member of, or willingly has accepted support from, over 60 Communist fronts, individually and/or organizations, which give aid to or espouse Communist causes. (Notary Seal) (Signed) Karl Prussein

Karl Prussein, who belonged to the Communist party as an informer, said that Martin Luther King was not a Communist. "He's a Good American making a terrible mistake."

Soviet Prisoner Tells Experience

A Jesuit missionary, Father Walter Cieszek, who was released last October from the Soviet Union after 21 years of detention, will lecture at Marquette University Tuesday, April 28, on his experience in Russia.

Father Cieszek is one of nine speakers who are scheduled to speak on the subject of "Religion Under Communism" in a series of evening lectures to begin Feb. 18.

Under the sponsorship of the Marquette continuing education division, the lectures will be concerned with the conflict of religion and Communism and the problem of coexistence and liquidation of churches.

Other noted authorities who will speak are: Father George A. Maloney, S. J., Fordham University Russian Center; Walter Dushayck, editor of the Ukrainian Quarterly, Bulletin and Weekly publications, and Monsignor Bela Varga, former president of the Hungarian parliament.

Joseph L. Luchten, Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith; Stefan Oszsky, member of the Free Czechoslovakia Committee; Augustin Posa, Romanian delegate to the Captive European National Assembly; Niklos Veto, Marquette philosophy instructor who is native of Budapest and Roman R. Smal-Slecki.

Lectures will be at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, in Carpenter Hall, 617 N. 13th St. Advance registration for the series will be held in the Marquette continuing education office in Carpenter Hall. Office hours: 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dear Director Hoover:

Sir, I would like to have from you if I may, any printed statements you might have on hand, in concern with the Closing of The Highlander Folk School in Tenn. This school was it disclosed, trained pro-Communist people of the Civil Rights movement in this country. Also I would like to have a printed (or other type of) copy of the statement that you made in connection with the Communist infiltration into the Civil Rights organizations.

Sir, I have always suspected that the Civil Rights people were a bit left-leaning so to speak. Any verification of the above would be appreciated.

I remain sincerely yours:

Re WFO let to Knoxville dated 6/1/64.

As the Bureau is aware, and for the information of WFO, on 6/11/54 the Bureau instructed Knoxville to make no contacts whatsoever at Highlander Folk School (HFS), Monteagle, Tennessee, and that no discussions pro or con should be made with any individual concerning this school. Highlander Research and Education Center (HREC), Knoxville, is the successor to the HFS, whose assets were auctioned by the State of Tennessee under a court decree after the school was convicted of violating Tennessee laws. Myles Horton, former Director of HFS, is currently Director of HREC.

The above Bureau instructions were issued as a result of allegations against Bureau Agents following interview with Horton. In view of these instructions, no sources whatever have been developed at HFS or the HREC and, consequently, in view of Bureau instructions, no investigation has been or is being conducted concerning the organization.

HIGHLANDER EDUCATION AND RESEARCH CENTER

Southwide Voter Education Internship Project, sponsored by Highlander Education and Research Center, is being held at the Sea Island Progressive Club Center, River Road, Johns Island, South Carolina, from July 6, 1964, through July 18, 1964. The second workshop begins July 20, 1964, and ends August 1, 1964. The purpose of this project is to put into practice what those attending learn in working with politically conscious Negro and white leadership in Charleston and the surrounding sea islands.

The staff of the Sea Island Progressive Club Center is composed of Esau Jenkins, who is the director; and Guy Carawan, who is the music director.

Any information received will be forwarded to Savannah. For the information of the Savannah Office, the Knoxville Office is conducting no active investigation of the Highlander Center pursuant to previous Bureau instructions. The Bureau and Savannah has previously been furnished information that the Highlander Center had a group of the Council of Federated Organizations at the center in Knoxville for one week following completion of this group's orientation at Oxford, Ohio, and just prior to the group's departure for Mississippi. It was reported that the group in Mississippi would be in the Gulfport area "to find out what kind of an alliance, political and civic, can be established between white and colored citizens in the Mississippi community".

Advancement Is Goal Of Progressive Club

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles on the background and activities of the John's Island Progressive Club, its leaders and members.)

By CHARLES L. DIBBLE

Aside from the dearth of hustle-bustle, John's Island has much in common with historic Charleston. Surrounded by Lowcountry waterways, the island—fifth largest on the Atlantic seaboard—is a kaleidoscope of ancient trees, Spanish moss, and Gullah-speaking Negroes.

It is with the latter—the dark-skinned peoples of the island—that Esau Jenkins has concerned himself over the years.

In 1948, the Negro leader brought together eight or 10 of his neighbors and formed the Progressive Club, aimed at the political and economic advancement of the John's Island Negro community.

In recent years the efforts of the club have reached beyond the limits of Bohicket Creek and the Stono River. The expansion is due, in large measure, to the efforts of Highlander Folk School and its successor, Highlander Research and Education Center of Knoxville, Tenn.

The Progressive Club has sponsored many extra John's Island activities, the most recent being two Southern Voter Education Internship Projects. Sponsored and financed by Highlander, the bi-racial workshops were attended by Southern Negroes for the most part.

Each of the projects consisted of a week-long workshop session followed by a week's "internship" during which time the participants lived in Charleston homes. Although identical in format, the two sessions featured different speakers and, for the most part, a different audience.

With a general theme of voter registration, the workshops branched out into virtually all aspects of the civil rights question.

Who attended these sessions?

Page 1 and 2A
The News and Courier
— Charleston, SC.
And what, specifically, did they discuss?

The largest turnout during the two workshops appeared at the opening session on July 6. About 100 people—including some 15 white people—were present. Thirty-six of these were registered at the workshop while the others were area residents.

Scheduled to speak on "Basic Issues in the Current Revolution" was Randolph Blackwell, an Atlanta attorney associated with Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). But Blackwell canceled his appearance at the last minute.

Filling in for him was Milton S. Hurst, director of the workshop. Hurst, instructor of social sciences and acting director of public relations at Talladega College, Ala., has an A.B. degree from Talladega and an M.B.A. from Atlanta University.

The eloquent young Negro told his audience: "The 'Current Revolution' is not a Negro problem; it is an American problem."

Stressing a theme of responsibility, he told the group: "It's just as important for us to re-direct our energies toward school dropouts and text books as to demonstrate. It is important that we start now to get our young people in school and to make them stay there.

"The proletariat and bourgeoisie overthrew the aristocracy. Then the bourgeoisie assumed the customs of the aristocracy," the social science professor said. "We must be careful that—when we are victorious in our revolution—we do not assume the customs of our enemy.

"God is on our side," he claimed. "But let's make sure we continue in this 'Current Revolution' that we're on God's side in carrying out his will."

Attending the Monday night session and several others during the week was Luther Sturtevant, a white student at Drew University's theological school.

Two white college students attended both sessions—Ellie Eden of Berkeley, Calif., and Roger Phoenix, who said he was "more or less from New York."

Miss Eden, who has been staying with the Carawans, will study abroad next year, while Phoenix plans to return to Antioch College, a liberal arts school in Yellow Springs, Ohio. Introduced on opening night as a CORE worker, the student has
The theme of the “Current Revolution” was carried forward the next day—Tuesday—by W. C. Browne of Florence, who discussed “Basic Issues in the Current Local Revolution” during the morning. Afternoon brought Fred Henderson Moore, a Charleston Negro attorney, who spoke on the “Role of the President’s Commission on Equal Employment.” A general discussion of problems of equal employment followed.

“The Church and Human Relations” received the group’s attention Wednesday morning. Speaking were the Rev. F. O. M. Pharr, past president of the Charleston NAACP, and C. Conrad Browne.

Browne, associate director of Highlander, attended the first workshop for three days with his wife and three of their children. He returned briefly at the end of the second session to pick up Highlander equipment.

After a talk Wednesday afternoon by Jenkins on “Is the Negro a Political Educable—Important?” the group of about 35 gathered at the Carr house for a cookout and conversation. While the youngsters played badminton and volleyball and the older ones played tennis, Browne, who once attended the University of Chicago divinity school, related his experiences prior to joining the Highlander staff.

From 1949 to 1963 he lived in Charleston, Ga., on 1,100 acres of the Koinonia Farm, a religiously inspired communal farm. Vividly be recounted the “terror tactics used against us by the people of the area.” Faced in the early days, the farm was quietly accepted for more than a decade by the people of southwestern Georgia’s Sumter County.

“The Supreme Court decision changed that. I guess the people felt like they had to do something.” Trouble followed.

And in a six-month period there came legal reprisals, dynamiting, shotgun blasts, a fire, and cross-burnings. Farm members were unable to buy or sell goods in Americus because of a boycott and had to bring in supplies from 50 to 75 miles away.

The farm eventually was closed.

Turning to Mississippi, the Highlander official spoke with a tone of despair about the then missing civil rights workers and impatiently referred to the FBI as the Future Bureau of Investigation: “It’s always we can come in after the crime is committed but they never do anything to prevent a crime.”

The evening program centered around the presentation and discussion of a film emphasizing the need for voter registration, “Knock on Every Door.”

Dr. Scott Bates, a professor at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., continued the same discussion during the afternoon. Bates, vice-chairman of the Board of Directors of Highlanders, was followed on the program by attorney Russell Brown, president of the Charleston NAACP, who spoke on the provisions and implications of the Civil Rights bill.

The evening was spent seeking an answer to “Why Negroes Seem to Care So Little about Civic and Political Responsibilities.” Speaking were director Hurst and the Rev. Mr. Douglas of the Baptist Center.

Friday the group of 26 persons spent the day at the Jenkins’ home at Atlantic Beach, a Negro resort about 15 miles north of Myrtle Beach. During the day, sessions were held on “Advantages of Political Maturity” and “American Ideas and American Illusions.” The workshop participants returned to John’s Island during the evening.

A session on the accomplishments of the workshop was held Saturday morning. Then the group split up: during the week that followed the interns lived with Charleston Negro families.

The group regathered several times, however. Sunday they attended a Second Step—Political Education—Workshop on Edisto Island, directed by Isaac Robinson. Monday and Thursday they attended Adult Citizenship—Schools in North Charleston and at Parker’s Ferry. Mrs. Roberts Leonard Charleston’s library was a visit before the participants returned to the Progress Club Center at the end of week for a discussion of week’s events and implications of the ideas discovered during the two-week session.

Memorandum

TO: Mr. DeLoach
FROM: M. A. Jones

SUBJECT: MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.
THE HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL;
REQUEST FROM CONGRESSMAN ROMAN C. PUCINSKI (DEMOCRAT - ILLINOIS)

BACKGROUND:

Congressman Pucinski forwarded a copy of a flyer made from a news clipping from the "Augusta Courier," Augusta, Georgia, on 7-8-63. The flyer identified Martin Luther King in a photograph taken of certain individuals attending the Highlander Folk School during the Labor Day weekend of 1957. The Congressman would like to know if the Highlander Folk School was a communist training school and whether or not the person identified in the photograph is Martin Luther King, Jr.

INFORMATION IN B U FILES:

The photograph of Martin Luther King attending the Highlander Folk School has come to our attention several times in the past. A United Press - International Service release of 7-12-63 reported Governor Ross Barnett displayed a poster-size photograph in the Senate Commerce Committee which he claimed showed King "at a communist training school." Governor Barnett said the picture was taken at the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tennessee. The Bureau obtained another copy of the photograph from our Savannah Office in March, 1963, and it was revealed that the photograph was taken surreptitiously by an "undercover agent" of the Georgia Commission for Education at the Highlander Folk School in 1957.

The photograph also identified Abner W. Berry who has been a writer for "The Daily Worker" and has been a member of the Communist Party, although he reportedly left it in September, 1958. Aubrey Williams, also identified in the photograph, has been associated with communist causes and has held such positions as chairman of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee and vice president and member of the board of directors of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., a communist front. Myles Horton, identified on the flyer forwarded by Congressman Pucinski as director of the Highlander Folk School, has been very close to the Communist Party in the past, although informants doubt that he has ever been a member of the Communist Party.
M. A. Jones to DeLoach memo
Re: MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

The Highlander Folk School was formed in 1932 and was a leftist organization supported by private donations. It offered courses of instruction in labor organization, economics and labor education. Informants have advised that the school has had Communist Party members on its staff as instructors and has followed the practice of welcoming communists as students. Informants have advised the school was pro-communist, but there is no indication it was ever completely controlled by communists. The school was closed by the State of Tennessee in December, 1961, after its conviction for violating Tennessee segregation laws. A state charter for a Highlander Research and Education Center of Knoxville, Tennessee was issued on 8-28-61 and Myles Horton was identified as its Director.

RECOMMENDATION:

That a representative of your, Mr. DeLoach, office personally contact Congressman Pucinski, with whom we have had prior cordial relations, and inform him confidentially of the background regarding the flyer he enclosed concerning the Highlander Folk School.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am confused.

A recent paid political ad in the Boulder Daily Camera showed a picture of Rev. Martin Luther King at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee in 1957. The ad states that this is a Communist school, that some Communist members were in attendance, that a Karl Prussian charged that King is a member of 60 "Communist front" organizations (whatever that is), etc., etc.

The ad further states that Karl Prussian was an FBI counter-spy for 22 years.
These charges, while not specifically calling King a Communist, are serious.

Numerous letters to the editor of the daily Camera have condemned the article, praised the article, defended the right to publish it, etc. Few of these writers have any basic facts to go on, I feel.

Could you supply me with any information on this Highlander school? Its founding, faculty, students, sources of income, etc.

What was King's participation? Was Karl

Prussing really an FB2 member. Does King belong to 60 such "front" organizations.

I only want to become an informed citizen, and not have to rely on rumors, half-truths, etc.

Any information would be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully yours,

Dear [Name]

Your letter of February 16th has been received.

Although I would like to be of service, information contained in the files of the FBI must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. In view of this, I am sure you will understand why I cannot comment concerning the subjects of your inquiry.

I would like to point out that Karl Prussin assisted this Bureau by furnishing information on subversive activities from November, 1949, to July, 1958, during which time he was compensated. He was not, however, a Special Agent of the FBI. This Bureau is not in a position to comment in any way whatsoever on his current activities, statements or personal ventures.

I am enclosing some information which I hope you will find of interest.

NOTE: Correspondent is not identifiable in files. The Highlander Folk School (HFS) has been the subject of numerous allegations that it is a communist school and the headquarters of communism in Eastern Tennessee, due primarily to its racial character. These allegations have not been substantiated. The Bureau is cognizant of the numerous communist affiliations of personnel affiliated with the HFS. The Bureau has not investigated this organization (61-7511-266, 267).
Dear Mr. Hoover:

Because of recent controversy in our community we are attempting to accumulate factual information about the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tennessee. We are concerned about this information as it relates to Martin Luther King.

Following are the specific questions for which we need answers:

1. Was there an act of legislature of the State of Tennessee to close the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, as a subversive school?

2. If now what was the action taken by the State of Tennessee against the Highlander Folk School?

3. What were the specific charges made against the Highlander Folk School?

4. On the basis of what charge did Highlander Folk School lose its charter?

5. Were there any communists on the Staff or Faculty of the Highlander Folk School throughout 1957 or thereafter?

6. Are there now any communists on the Staff or Faculty of the Highlander Educational Research Foundation in Knoxville, Tennessee?

7. Was there, to the best of your knowledge, any training given at the Highlander Folk School, which was based on the principles of Marxism, Leninism, Stalinism, or Communism?

8. Can the F.B.I. say whether or not the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, or the Highlander Educational Research Foundation, Knoxville, Tenn. has in any way used methods or principles or any training of people in the methods of Marxist, Leninist, Stalinist or Communist tactics?

Dear Sirs:

Concerning: Myles Horton
Director of the Highlander Folk School
Monteagle, Tennessee

During a recent World Cultures class unusual circumstances surrounding the above and Dr. Martin Luther King were brought to light. It was mentioned that Dr. King had received training at a Communist school. The only information available was through an "unbias, nonpartisan" paper issued before the last election. It contained a photo showing Dr. King, Myles Horton and several other people together in front of the school. The caption mentioned that the school was to be closed by an act of the Tennessee Legislature and Carl Prussion, a counter-spy for the FBI for 22 years, was quoted to have said that Dr. King belonged to 60 Communist organizations.

I would be grateful for any pertinent information concerning Dr. King and Myles Horton of the Highlander Folk School.

The above picture was made by an employee of the State of Georgia, at the Highlander Folk School in Manteogle, Tennessee during the Labor Day week-end of 1957. The photograph was sent to the Highlander Folk School by the Georgia Commission on Education.

The Highlander Folk School was abolished by an act of the Legislature of the State of Tennessee at a later date because it was charged with being a subversive organization.

Those numbered in the picture are:

1. Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Montgomery boycott and the Birmingham riots.
2. Prussian, a counterspy for the FBI for twenty-two years, charges that Martin Luther King belongs to sixty Communist-front organizations — more than any Communist in the United States. He is promoted and encouraged by the Kennedys.
3. Abner W. Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.
4. Aubrey Williams, President of the Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc., The Trans Mississippi Belt in the South for the Communist Party.
5. Myles Hartan, Director of Highlander Folk School for Communist Training, Manteogle, Tennessee.

These “Four Harsemen” of racial agitation have brought tension, disturbance, violence in their advancement of the Communist doctrine of “racial nationalism.”

Recently nationwide publicity has been given to a photograph of subject King purportedly taken at the Highlander Folk School (HFS). Others in the photograph have been described as Communists and the allegation has been made that King's presence at the HFS proves him having attended a "Communist training school." King has publicly answered this criticism by claiming that the photograph was taken at the 25th Anniversary Celebration of the HFS in 1957. He claimed that that was his only appearance at the HFS and that he was there for only about one hour in order to make an address which lasted about 45 minutes.

Bureau files reveal that the HFS, later known as the Highlander Research and Education Center, held its 25th Anniversary Celebration over the Labor Day weekend, 8/30-9/3, 1957.

The Bureau, of course, is aware of the nature of the HFS. It is desired, however, that available facts be obtained relative to King's presence at the HFS in order to substantiate or prove false his answer of the criticism.

Atlanta is instructed to immediately review its file concerning King and any other appropriate files for information which would tend to prove or disprove King's claim. Particularly note information indicating King's presence at the HFS on any occasions other than the single time he claims. If file review uncovers the identities of established reliable sources who might be helpful, leads should be set out for contact provided same can be done with full security insofar as preventing King's or unauthorized individuals becoming aware of the Bureau inquiry.

The Knoxville Journal, Knoxville, Tennessee, a local, daily newspaper, in issue of 3/9/65, reported that the Highlander Research and Education Center and the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee were sponsors of the organization. This news release states that it was reported by AEPAC that the organization was formed to "help organize jobless and under-paid white and Negroes in Appalachia. The Appalachian Economic and Political Conference will work in ten Southern States which lies partly in Appalachia. This mountainous region has been harder hit by unemployment and poverty than most other areas of the nation." On October 14, 1952, a source advised that the Highlander Folk School was an institution located near Monteagle, Tennessee; that it was an institution with classes on a seminar basis supported primarily by donations from individuals and from labor unions in the form of payment for students who attend, and to some extent by the Farmers' Union. It offered courses of instruction in labor organization, official economics, parliamentary procedure, and the general field of labor education.

This source added that this school has had Communist Party members on its staff and as instructors, and has followed the practice of welcoming Communist Party members as students, but to the source's knowledge the school has never offered courses of instruction in Communistic matters nor has the Communist element ever completely controlled the institution.

A second source advised that LOUIS BUDNEZ, admitted former editor of the "Daily Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, and former official of the Communist Party, advised on November 21, 1952, that the Highlander Folk School was pro-Communist. BUDENZ did not give further details regarding this school.

The October 8, 1961 issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel, a local daily newspaper published at Knoxville, Tennessee, contained an article reflecting the Highlander Folk School had announced plans for a similar school at Knoxville to be located at 1625 Riverside Drive. The article identified MYLES HORTON as Director of Highlander.

The December 17, 1961 issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting that on December 16, 1961, assets of Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, were auctioned by the State of Tennessee under a court decree after the school was convicted of violating three Tennessee laws and failed in appeals to the State and United States Supreme Courts.

The July 8, 1962, issue of the Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting the land on which Highlander Folk School was formerly located had been sold at public auction under Court decree. The article stated that MYLES HORTON, Director of Highlander, during its entire existence, has moved to Knoxville, Tennessee, and has been granted a State Charter for an organization called Highlander Research and Education Center.

SECURITY MATTER - C

ReBuairtel to Atlanta and Knoxville 4/6/65.

A review of appropriate Knoxville files fails to reflect any information indicating KING'S presence at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., other than the occasion of the 25th Anniversary celebration at Highlander on the Labor Day weekend of 1957. File contains the photograph circulated by the Georgia Commission on Education, Atlanta, reportedly made of KING at Highlander Folk School (HFS) on this occasion. It is noted that file contains an article in the New York Times dated 7/7/57 reporting that HFS would hold its 25th Anniversary on the Labor Day weekend of 1957. It is reported that an interracial group of consultants and speakers have been invited to participate, among those being Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., Dr. ALONZO LONNIE, president of Hampton Institute, and AUBREY WILLIAMS, Montgomery Farm Magazine, and former director National Youth Administration, Rev. C. K. STEELE, RALPH HELSTEIN, president of the United Packing House Workers, and C. CONRAD BROWNE of Koinonia Farms, described as an interracial religious settlement near Americus, Ga.

The Knoxville News-Sentinel, Knoxville, Tenn., a daily publication, in issue 10/5/57, reported testimony by "an undercover agent" before the Georgia Commission on Education, pertaining to the meeting at Highlander. A member... of the Commission stated that KING was one of those present and he described a photograph of KING. This photograph apparently was the one that was later circulated by the Georgia Commission on Education.

Pamphlet distributed by Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., entitled "Highlander Clippings" contains excerpts from newspaper articles reporting the visit of Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT at Highlander on 6/17/58 and also items concerning the 25th Anniversary of the school. One item in this pamphlet contains an excerpt of an address by KING. This item is headed "The Look to the Future" by MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., Montgomery Ala., (an address delivered at the 25th Anniversary of HFS, Monteagle, Tenn., Labor Day 9/2/57) (transcribed from a tape recording). Mr. Chairman, Mr. Horton, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is a great privilege and a distinct honor for me to have the opportunity of being a part of the 25th Anniversary observance of the Highlander Folk School. I have long admired the noble purpose and creative work of this institution. For twenty-five years you have stood with dauntless courage and fearless determination. You have given the South some of its most responsible leaders in this great period of transition, and so I am happy to congratulate you today for all of your great work, and hope for you many more years of creative and meaningful work...."

Chattanooga News-Free Press, Chattanooga, Tenn., in issue 9/29/59 contained a news item reporting that HFS, whose main educational building had been padlocked as a "public nuisance" was trying to organize a "protest" by "friends" to the Tennessee Governor. It was reported that earlier in the month Highlander was found to have been selling beer to minors and adults without a license. It was reported the Rev. S. S. SEAY, Negro Executive Secretary of the Montgomery Improvement Association, Montgomery, Ala., had condemned the padlocking. It was noted in the article that KING was president of this association. The news item stated that in a publicity release from the MIA it was stated "the NAACP and its official family, MYLES HORTON and Highlander Folk School, MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr., and all who subscribe to principles of life advocated by these organizations and persons will not go unmolested by the opposition.

Reference is made to Memphis letter to Director dated 4/2/59 entitled "HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL, IS - C", wherein it was transmitted a letterhead memo containing information obtained on a confidential basis from a Confidential Source.

An article appearing in the Chattanooga Daily Times, Chattanooga, Tenn., in issue 2/23/61 datelined Atlanta, reported that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Highlander Folk School had joined forces to train Negro leaders for the Civil Rights struggle. It was reported that KING was head of the SCLC and a conference spokesman was reported to have said eleven Negroes had completed a week's training at Highlander and another class was expected.

The article continued that some observers had said the affiliation of Dr. KING'S organization with Highlander raised serious questions of prestige for KING'S group. JAMES R. MCCOD, Administrative Assistant to Dr. KING, said the SCLC is aware of the problem but he asserted "we find no reason not to cooperate with any organization that is interested in the development of full citizenship for Americans which cannot be proved to have conducted itself in a manner which is not American or patriotic". It is noted that the article contained no information that KING was engaged in any capacity at the school.

Knoxville letter to Director 8/13/63 entitled "HIGHLANDER RESEARCH AND EDUCATION CENTER, INFORMATION CONCERNING (IS)" reported that Knoxville files also contain a photostatic copy of a letterhead of the Highlander Education and Research Center dated May, 1964, reflects among approximately 90 Highlander sponsors listed on the letterhead the name Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr. A review of the file reflects that the names Highlander Education and Research Center and Highlander Research and Education Center are used interchangeably. A pamphlet of HREC indicates that among approximately 90 sponsors in the fall of 1963 KING is also listed.

The file review fails to reflect the identity of any established reliable source who might be contacted in connection with the matter of KING'S presence at the school.

Special Agent in Charge
Rights Workshop Gets Under Way

About 60 persons yesterday attended the first two sessions of a civil rights educational workshop being held this week in Charleston and Summerville.

The workshop is sponsored by the Highlander Research Center of Knoxville.

Esau Jenkins, director and coordinator of the workshop and president of the Citizens Committee of Charleston County, said the sessions are being held in hopes of creating an atmosphere for better race relations, improved economic status for Negroes and a means of seeking ways to terminate marches and similar demonstrations.

Jenkins said the workshop is being held primarily for ministers in Charleston and Dorchester County but added they are open to all interested persons.

A 2 p.m. session held at Zion Olivet Presbyterian Church here and a 3:30 p.m. session at Emanuel Baptist Church in Summerville featured an address by the Rev. Eugene Kelly, instructor at Bishop England High School and assistant pastor at St. John's Roman Catholic Church.

Speaking on social justice, Father Kelly told the group that since mankind is essentially a social being, that the environment in which an individual is raised determines to a large extent the type of person he becomes. He added:

"You can't legislate morals", he said, "but you can make laws that will change the environment and thereby change men's hearts."

"To advance the cause of social justice, one must associate himself with groups working for change. It isn't enough to have good intentions. Effective work is what is required," he said.

Following Father Kelly's address, folksinger Guy Carawan led the group in several spirituals, after which there was a discussion period.

The discussion was led by Father Kelly: the Rev. U. Z. McKimmon of the Interdenominational Theological Seminary in Atlanta; and the Rev. J. T. Enwright, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, Charleston chairman of the workshops.

Speaking to the workshop yesterday, Father Kelly said the basis of discussion in any society is "the dignity of the individual human person."

He quoted excerpts from the Declaration of Independence, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights from the U.N. and an Encyclical Letter written by the late Pope John XXIII as a basis for this consideration.

He pointed out that one of the characteristics of social justice is "concern for the common good of all society." This characteristic is not one of the considerations of many of the states, he asserted.

"State governments complain sometimes that the federal-

Father Kelly said, “They aren’t doing too much, they’re just doing what the states fail to do.”

To The News and Courier:

I note from an item April 15, that Father Eugene Kelly of St. John's Roman Catholic Church in Charleston has been named a moderator of a 5-day workshop April 26-30 in Charleston and Summerville under sponsorship of the Highlander Research Center of Knoxville, Tenn.

It is to be hoped that Father Kelly's ordinary, Bishop Unterkoefler, will make himself acquainted with the character and background of the Highlander Research Center. Would he care to scrutinize the personnel of an organization called the Highlander Folk School, which lost its charter in Tennessee, and give reassurance to his anxious Charleston flock — if such is possible — that Father Kelly is not now identifying himself with the outfit of Abner Berry, James Dombrowski and Aubrey Williams, whose recent death inspired a tearful eulogy in the Communist People's World? I invite Bishop Unterkoefler to make a detailed study of Report No. 4 of the Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American State of Louisiana. He may make his comparisons, come to his conclusions, and issue a statement which the people of Charleston, Protestant and Catholic, are awaiting, as to whether these two groups named Highlander have a relationship to each other.

If Can Happen Here

Responsible Charlestonians should take note of the "civil rights educational workshop" being held here under Highlander Center sponsorship, and look to the future.

For years, the Highlander organizations have been deeply involved in radical political action. One can be sure that the latest operation has not been set up without some long-range political goal in mind. Of significance is the presence on the Highlander program of a member of the Charleston County Anti-Poverty Committee.

What lies in store for this community may be indicated by an editorial in The Richmond News Leader on a new political revolution now brewing. "The outlook for local governments in cities and towns throughout the country is not good," said The News Leader. "A new political coalition now being quietly organized may well displace the workings of local governments without ever challenging local leadership in a legitimate election."

The News Leader also pointed out that organizers of the new left-wing political coalition "would seek to use community action groups being set up under the poverty program to weld voting blocs among persons in low-income and slum areas."

In this connection, local government agencies should exercise caution in giving funds or facilities to the "war on poverty." They may be paying for the political indoctrination of slum dwellers.

The experience of New York City is instructive. In that metropolis, anti-poverty and youth aid programs have become political action groups. They have sponsored rent strikes and other revolutionary moves. Charlestonians shouldn't be quick to say; "It can't happen here." It can.

While overcoming poverty and promoting education are worthy goals, programs designed to advance these causes should not be a mask for full scale social, economic and political revolution. Insofar as the City and County of Charleston are concerned, public officials and other concerned citizens should keep a close watch on the spending, plans and programs developed in connection with the anti-poverty effort.

To be specific, the community should make certain that individuals hired to fight poverty do not serve as a new breed of political ward-heelers.

Role Of Church Discussed At Civil Rights Workshop

Churches need to concern themselves more with saving the whole man rather than saving his soul, a professor of theology said here yesterday.

The concept was advanced by the Rev. U. Z. McKinnon of the Interdenominational Theological Seminary in Atlanta, at the second session of a five-day civil rights educational workshop being held this week at Zion - Olivet Presbyterian Church.

The workshop is sponsored by the Highlander Research Center of Knoxville, Tenn. Coordinator for two sessions held daily here and in Summerville at Emanuel Baptist Church, is Esau Jenkins.

Mr. McKinnon yesterday served as moderator for a discussion entitled "The Role of the Church in Implementing the 1964 Civil Rights Bill."

He charged that one of the faults of the Negro church for years has been the emphasis placed upon the soul rather than the entire body. "I don't know how you can save my soul without saving all of me," he wondered.

"We've been concentrating on the soul and letting the body go to the devil," he continued.

Mr. McKinnon emphasized he refers to the individual church and not the church universally, when raising the question, "What can the church do to implement the Civil Rights Act of 1964?"

"Let's start preaching and setting up programs designed to save the whole man," he challenged.

"Man cannot be too good a soul if his body is all shot to pieces with disease and hunger," he told a group of about 40 persons.

About one third of the participants in the Charleston session were white.

Yesterday's session opened with the showing of a documentary film entitled "The Streets of Greenwood" (Miss.). The film depicts the struggle of Negroes in Greenwood to become registered voters.

Following the showing of the film, Mr. McKinnon divided the participants into groups to discuss the theme of yesterday's seminar. Each group reported results of its respective discussion, with recommendations for adoption of a number of programs in which churches could aid in implementing the Civil Rights Act.

A similar format was followed at the 5:30 p.m. session in Summerville, where about 20 persons attended.

The Rev. Henry Grant, director of St. John's Community Center and local coordinator for the federal government's Job Opportunity Program, will discuss the advantages of the Economic Opportunity Program at today's sessions.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In a recent speech on the floor of Congress, Rep. Dickinson, of Alabama, referred to the Highlander Folk School, in Tennessee, as having been a Communist training school; but "Time" magazine stated in response to a reader's letter that U. S. Government investigators cleared the school of Communist activities.

Would you please clarify this situation for me? Any comment you can make concerning the nature of the school will be appreciated.

Respectfully,

A 3-Time Visitor Reports:
It Was 'Different,' but Not Red

By NAT CALDWELL
Staff Correspondent

TRACY CITY, Tenn.—Merchants up this way say if an election could be held on whether Highlander Folk School was a Communist training school, most Grundy County folks would vote as they think it was.

For 30 years Highlander operated in this mountainous region and had some famous visitors and supporters, including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Strange things—strange for their time—went on at Highlander in the years before it was closed in 1962 after a state court found beer was served on the premises.

The aura of mystery that surrounded the school and what went on there stimulated the belief by some local people that what was taught at Highlander was communism. This fear now has been fed by leaflets and billboards which have been distributed across the south by the White Citizens Council.

These publications carry a picture of Dr. Martin Luther King and headline Myles Horton, Highlander director in a classroom at Highlander. The caption on the picture reads: "Martin Luther King at Communist training school."

Ten years after the picture was taken Horton can laugh about the Communist caption. "Highlander wasn't Communist then. It never has been," Horton said during a recent visit to Nashville where he attended the Race Relations Institute at Fisk University.

"The Citizens Council knows that too," he added.

Horton, who denied this at the time, says today, "While the Citizens council knows we aren't Communist, the doctrine liberal must have known we would not have used facilities to train professional government spies."

Off and on during the years various charges were aimed at Highlander and Horton, who now runs a successor school at Knoxville. A 1955 legislative committee hearing took a look at Highlander—and that probe left the impression that Horton was an opportunist but not a communist.

On three occasions during its 30-year existence, in 1936, 1947 and again in 1960—this reporter visited Highlander.

What went on there certainly might have been unusual to the mountain folk who lived nearby. For one thing, there were integrated meetings—whites and Negroes attending seminars together, singing together, squares dancing together, their children swimming together in the lake. There were lectures and round table discussions. The talk may have drifted over the heads of the farmers and miners, some of whom brought their children to the kindergarten Horton operated.

There was talk of government and politics, labor versus capitalism, socialism versus fascism.

Very early it was a place where some labor unions sent some of their officials to discuss their problems. Still later the emphasis moved to civil rights, as opposed to wages, in fields of labor.

Certainly there was the discontent of the working class expressed in the 1930's by representatives of organized labor who represented men struggling out of the depression just as in the 1950's there was discontent expressed by Negroes who were beginning to struggle for equal rights.

But there was never the feeling that this was subversive or un-American, even when some ideas which seemed impractical, hair-brained or half-baked were offered.

Much of the thinking and talking at seminars and at informal discussions around the dinner table centered on the need for an urban, industrial society. Horton constantly tried to keep a light note on the conversation, but frequently when he told stories that were supposed to be funny he would forget the punch line. He was an incessant name dropper, talking of some association he was supposed to have had with Walter Reuther, Reinhold Niebuhr, Mrs. Roosevelt or James Carey.

There was a good deal of singing—songs like "Solidarity Forever" and "Picket Line Rhyme" and "Samuel Hall." Later such songs as "We Shall Overcome" and "Joe Hill"

A Loud Griper

During our period of the Amended Labor Movement, the more and more publically as he called attention to his school's activity, the more successful his program. The more the unions tried to ignore him, the more he became Famous. Horton had been switching during this period from labor leadership training to integration leadership training. The Tennessee state union of the Tennessee unions, at the time, took a dim view of combing the two. Most labor leaders thought union separation in the South would wreck their organization.

When Congress ordered the committee investigators placed Horton on their list. He was ejected from the New Orleans hearing in 1953. He was an expert in hearing rooms of the unprecedented hearings, as a nuisance and one as a disturbance of the order.

This reporter questioned him as a Tennessee Labor Convention after the New Orleans hearing. All too often, probably based on his weird performance, Horton's answers might be a training for professional FBI and committee informer-infilitators.

Following the New Orleans hearing, this reporter questioned him at a Tennessee Labor Convention about whether he had accepted funds from J. Edgar Hoover or James J. McCarthy. Horton's reply was:

"No."
Horton and the school had some difficulty in successfully refuting such charges at the time. The reason: the only two well known Communists seen fairly frequently around Highlander in the early days, Paul Crouch and H. B. Ross, were by this time making the rounds of the congressional committee hearings. Like scores of other professional Communists they were singing their hearts out for pay. They—and Horton—were suspect among the Communists.

In those years hard-core Communists were trying to infiltrate the labor movement, just as they are trying to infiltrate the civil rights movement today, and this may account for the presence of such known Communists as Crouch and Ross at Highlander.

Today a revived Highlander exists under a new name at Knoxville. It has under way training schools for civil rights workers and literacy courses at half a dozen sites across the South, and soon it will come up with a program for Appalachian poverty areas.

This is the main building of the old Highlander Folk School.
Defending the Billboards . . . Was Highlander Communist?

A Council Leader Speaks His Piece

By DR. MEDFORD EVANS
Consultant, Citizens Council

"THERE'S such divinity doth hedge a king—" said Shakespeare. Yet pretenders have fallen; let us not be intimidated by a name and an image.

In September 1957 Martin Luther King was present at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, and was photographed by an agent of the Georgia Commission on Education. Someone has asked if Highlander was a Communist training school—the photographer was a Communist also. The answer is that he probably passed, for one at the time. One of the pictures he took shows Martin Luther King making a speech.

In another, which was to become famous, King is seated in an audience which included also Myles Horton, director of Highlander; the late Aubrey Williams, then president of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc.; and Albert Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist party. Mr. Berry is a Negro.

Horton and Williams while Highlander and SCEF are far-left institutions with characteristically ambiguous relationships with the Communist party.

This group photograph has been widely circulated for many years. Initially it was distributed by the Georgia Commission in a circular showing racially integrated activities at Highlander. In 1953 Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett showed it before a televised hearing in Washington. Thousands of letter-size copies have been distributed by the Nashville Citizens Council.

In Billboard Form

Recently it has been prepared in billboard form by the Citizens Council of Louisiana office in Shreveport and made available to the press.

available for general public "poetry" or authentication of the photograph however. The question raised by the columnist is the propriety of using the photograph without the consent of the subject, particularly in front of a billboard, even in such a manner as to utilize the photograph to display a message, as was done by the "Klan" in Nashville. The columnist feels that this is not in the best interest of the individual, as it can be used to mislead or defame an individual. The columnist also raises the question of whether the photograph should be used without the consent of the individual, even if it is for a political or social cause.

Intemperate

Often the criticisms are as intemperate as they are ineffective. A Channer of Commerce official -- a member of the Citizens' Council -- has "candidly" and "honestly" referred to the KKK Klansmen. The TENNESSEAN of June 16, 1957, carried an editorial that made a point -- a minor point, but it's a point. The editorial stated that the billboards are being used to display a message of hate and intolerance, and that this is not in the best interest of the community.

Better Balanced

Better balanced is the comment of the Metro Human Relations Committee chairman, as quoted in THE TENNESSEAN of June 20, 1957, for he observes correctly that no action could be taken to prevent display of the billboards without infringing the "right of free speech under the first amendment." Yet this dignitary does deplore the billboard which serves no purpose other than to cause strife and tension in the community.

It should be added that the billboards do serve another and a very useful purpose, which is the preservation of an important fact about an important man. The lawyers have a saying, "Res ipsa loquitur," the fact speaks for itself. The basis of Anglo-Saxon justice is the burden of proof is on the party who claims something. This is a matter of freedom, of the press, that citizens may judge of and from facts.

IF the photograph of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Highlander Folk School were fake, the billboards should come down. Since it is genuine it should be studied for its meaning, not avoided with a shudder. If interpretations vary, let the debate go on. Nothing is gained by fearful or obstinate silence. Not even communists are more ominous for the future of America than the reluctance of leaders to face facts.

Image of Piety

Martin Luther King Jr. has an image of piety, which it may seem impossible to deface. J. Edgar Hoover has the good image too. And either, Martin Luther King Jr. or J. Edgar Hoover can choose to have one or the other. We can't have both. But一旦, if Dr. King is a liar, and Hoover is not a liar, then Dr. King is one. Yes, it may be said, we have to talk about it. Since not one of us, no matter our way of life, but our lives may be at stake, we should.

But it needs no blast from J. Edgar Hoover to raise questions about King's veracity. When the billboards first appeared in Tennessee, Dr. King was quoted by the Associated Press as saying of the Highlander Folk School, "I spent exactly one hour there back in 1958, Dr. King is trained there. It seems to have been in 1957, rather than 1958 important, and there is no need to quibble over the probability, that it lasted "exactly one hour." But several things about this statement are important:

First, King does not deny that the Highlander Folk School was a Communist training center.

Second, what he does deny -- which is that he could have received a significant amount of his training in the short time he was there. The school, which the billboard never mentioned, is called simply "Martin Luther King's Training School." He had been there not to receive training, but to give it. Another photograph exists, as noted above, showing him at a sort of lectorium. He could, of course, have given a significant lecture in an bouquet of flowers.

Third -- the spirit of King's ostensibly facetious remark is totally misleading. However brief the time he spent at McSagle, he had collaborated over a period of years with the Highlander Institute. The folio appeared in the New York Times of Feb. 23, 1960 under the headline, "Atlanta Feb. 22 -- The Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Highlander Folk School announced a force to train Negro leaders for the civil rights struggle. The program was announced here by conference headquarters. The conference is made up of Negro and white groups and is headed by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. A conference spokesman said eleven Negroes had just completed a week's training course at Highlander. Another class of fifteen or more will be held in about two weeks."

Denver, Colorado, Feb. 22 -- The Denver Post reported that Dr. King was a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.
Dr. Medford Evans is a paid consultant for the national office of the Citizens' Council. In this letter to THE NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN he defends the council's billboard attacks on Martin Luther King, and defends the policies of the council.

Back of all the controversy over King's veracity is the fact that the American people are inordinately fearful of the political affiliations of persons connected with it. This is the situation at the Cumberland Mountains near Monticello, Tenn., where his group in Chattanooga and Nashville is headed by a man named Dr. King. His organization, with its group, has been involved in a number of controversies because of the political affiliations of persons connected with it.

Then Times reporter Sifton went on to say, "Some observers said the affiliation of Dr. King's organization with the Highlander is a question of prestige for the conference. They contended that it reduces the value of the conference because of the delicacy of the racial problem and Highlander's controversial status. It will be difficult to deal with the question of Southern whites of liberal or moderate persuasions to deal with the question of the estimated current of the South's white of liberal or moderate persuasion may be questioned, but there is no question that Dr. King's association with Highlander has been a brief or trivial affair.

The school at Monticello was closed down shortly after Dr. King's organization appeared, but activity continued from an address in Knoxville called "Highlander Center." An appeal for financial support was heard by Myles Horton. The announcement that "Highlander Center" is part of the Highlander program "the Citizenship Schools now spreading throughout the South by Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference and student civil rights organizations." The letterhead of the school was signed by Martin Luther King Jr., as one of the "Highlander Sponsors."

Just how important the Highlander association may be to Dr. King remains a matter of opinion, but until it is established, the salient image of him is that his association should undertake to contrive for the black man a separate and distinct association which on the record is spread over a period of years, and to the question of the relationship of King to the Communist movement in this country. There are many Communists who have been charged with Communism.

But in 1961 a petition was carried in the August 33, 1961 issue of "New America," a Socialist publication, Foreign Policy

As to support of the Communist line on foreign policy, the UPI reported on October 10, 1961 that King had urged admission of Red China into the United Nations, and that Scott reported in early December that King had wired President Johnson to demand a halt to aid to Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe. As to issue of "New America," a Socialist publication.

whom we ask to sign something—a general area of administrative reticence which we share with the NAACP and with Dr. King's own SCLC. Before me as I write is a copy of a plea on Martin Luther King's personal letterhead for his dear friends to send checks payable to the SCLC. For their convenience a business-reply envelope was enclosed, and on the reverse side under the flap there was space for four names and addresses, with this heading: "I suggest that you send your appeal to the following persons without mentioning my name." Some of these techniques are just about universal, aren't they?

INFORMATIVE NOTE
Date 10-18-65

Attached reports information received from State Commission on Human Rights, Nashville, Tennessee, to effect that swastika stickers had been placed on windows of Highlander Research and Education Center, Knoxville, Tennessee, and that other acts of vandalism occurred.

The Highlander Research and Education Center is a very controversial school because of its inter-racial character. It is not under investigation and Knoxville was previously instructed not to make any investigation of school or individuals connected with it.

Since local authorities are conducting investigation and are aware of complaints from Human Rights Commission and in absence of indication of Federal violation, no investigation being ordered by the Bureau.

Information in attached will be furnished to the Civil Rights Division.

KX T-2 advised that LOUIS BUDENZ, admitted former editor of the "Daily Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, and former official of the Communist Party, advised on November 21, 1952, that the Highlander Folk School was pro-Communist. BUDENZ did not give further details regarding this school.

The October 8, 1961, issue of The Knoxville News-Sentinel, a local daily newspaper published at Knoxville, Tennessee, contained an article reflecting the Highlander Folk School had announced plans for a similar school at Knoxville to be located at 1625 Riverside Drive. The article identified MYLES HORTON as Director of Highlander.

The December 17, 1961, issue of The Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting that on December 16, 1961, assets of Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, were auctioned by the State of Tennessee under a court decree after the school was convicted of violating three Tennessee laws and failed in appeals to the State and United States Supreme Courts.

The July 8, 1962, issue of The Knoxville News-Sentinel contained an article reflecting the land on which Highlander Folk School was formerly located had been sold at public auction under court decree. The article stated that MYLES HORTON, Director of Highlander, during its entire existence, has moved to Knoxville, Tennessee, and has been granted a State Charter for an organization called Highlander Research and Educational Center.

On November 16, 1961, the Office of Secretary of State, State of Tennessee, Nashville, Tennessee, made available records which reflect that a charter of incorporation for the Highlander Research and Education Center, Inc., was certified by the Secretary of State on August 28, 1961.

It is noted that a letterhead stationery of the organization also carries the name as the Highlander Education and Research Center.

E-T ACLU Branch Defends Rights of Highlander

Mayor Rogers Says Center Is Entitled To Full Protection

The East Tennessee Branch of the American Civil Liberties Union has condemned recent attacks, both verbal and physical, on the Highlander Research and Education Center on Riverside Drive as "attacks upon the right of free speech and free association."

Mayor Leonard Rogers has been informed by letter of a recent resolution adopted by East Tennessee Branch, which is headed by Harry Wiersema, a retired TVA engineer. The mayor agreed that Highlander is entitled to protection.

Attacks "Unwarranted"

"We are aware of recent events," the letter said, "concerning the Highlander Research and Education Center, including bombings, irresponsible attacks by a local newspaper and handbills, insurance cancellation and attempts to revoke the state charter, with veiled reference to undisclosed information in City Council meetings. These are considered unwarranted attacks upon this institution."

The resolution states:

"The Board of Directors of the East Tennessee Civil Liberties Union takes note of recent attacks upon the rights of free speech and free association of all citizens of our community and state. We affirm that any locally constituted school or other organization must be protected from violence against its property, no matter how controversial its activities, and we command the efforts that have been made to protect the property of the Highlander Research and Education Center. We further affirm the right of such an organization to pursue its education program under its state charter and we call upon other citizens to stand with us in supporting this basic American freedom."

Mayor Rogers said that while he does not condone all the activities of Highlander, the center is entitled to full protection under the law.

"I swore to uphold the law and protect the rights of any citizen whether I agree or disagree with him."

"Some have made charges against Highlander and as often is true, they are not restricted to facts. The FBI and the Internal Revenue Service both have cleared Highlander Center. Those citizens who level charges should come forth with evidence. Until such evidence is presented, I shall see that Highlander's property and rights are protected from those who would take the law into their own hands," Mayor Rogers said. "This I would do for any citizen."

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am writing to express my concern about the Highlander Center, which is a tax-exempt organization in the Knoxville area. The Center has gained support from teachers who teach our children, area churchmen, the Knoxville Mayor, and the University of Tennessee campus. Yet, it seems that there is no possible way to find out if it is alright or not. Most people do not believe things unless the FBI is simply an "investigative body," the local police do not have the authority to say. Is there no organization that you can report this area to give the people a reliable answer?

Sincerely,

BY RALPH GRIFFITH

Those who attack Highlander Research Center are destroying themselves, for Highlander is doing nothing more than speaking out for Negroes. Rev. Frank Gordon said last night.

Mr. Gordon, pastor of Shiloh Presbyterian Church and former state president of NAACP, warned that Knoxville could become another Atlanta, Harlem or Waits's unless Negroes get economic equality.

He was on a panel of four at a meeting booked as one of "Freedom of Speech in Knoxville and the Highlander Center." About 200 attended the meeting, which had to be switched from the American Red Cross Chapter House to Hotel Andrew Johnson when Red Cross officials decided the meeting was controversial.

Serving on the panel with Mr. Gordon were Dr. Scott Bates, French professor at University of the South, Dr. Forrest Lacey of the University of Tennessee Law School, Lewis Sinclair, TVA economist, and Dr. Fred Venditti, associate professor in the

The Knoxville News-Sentinel, a daily publication, in the Home Edition issue of April 12, 1967, reported that the House of the Tennessee Legislature had passed a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the Highlander Research and Education Center. It was reported that the Senate of the Tennessee Legislature had delayed action on the resolution. It was reported there was growing opposition to the measure among State Senators. One representative, who was opposed to the resolution, stated that in the early days Highlander was really a labor school, teaching workers in the South how to organize and there was still some anti-labor people in the county he represented. He also claimed that persons sympathetic to Highlander planned to boycott against a local Knoxville supermarket chain which did not hire Negroes. A representative in favor of the resolution stated that the Mayor of Knoxville is upholding the school and an opponent replied the Legislature is being put in a most unusual position in considering the resolution if the Mayor of Knoxville is upholding the school. The East Tennessee Civil Liberties Union has urged the State Senate to reject the resolution.

It has previously been reported that the 1959 State Legislature sought to revoke the school's charter following an investigation in March, 1959, by a Legislative committee.
In August, 1959, a hearing was held in Grundy County to decide whether the school, then known as the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, should have its tax exemption charter revoked and the school padlocked as a public nuisance.

The Chattanooga News-Free Press, a daily publication, Chattanooga, Tennessee, reported in issue November 3, 1959, that efforts to obtain a permanent padlock injunction against the school had been dropped and efforts would be made to seek revocation of the school's charter.

This same paper in issue February 16, 1960, reported that the Circuit Court in Grundy County revoked the General Welfare Charter of the school and would appoint a receiver for the school. The ruling was subsequently appealed to the Tennessee Supreme Court, which upheld the revocation of the charter. Subsequently, the school appealed to the United States Supreme Court, which denied a hearing.

The Knoxville Journal, Knoxville, Tennessee, a daily publication, in issue of May 24, 1967, reported that the Tennessee General Assembly will investigate "the widespread reports of subversive activity" of the Highlander Research and Education Center, Knoxville, Tennessee. It was reported that the State Senate on May 23, 1967, voted 24 to 3 in concurring with the House in the decision to delve into the activities of the controversial center. The article stated, "Highlander, founded by (Myles) Horton and others, had (sic) long been one of the most controversial issues in the country and Tennessee. It lost its charter in Monteagle when it was found that beer was being sold illegally there and that Horton was operating the tax exempt school for his own benefit.

It was reported there was no indication as to when the investigating committee would be named or commence its work in carrying out the resolution.

In the same issue of the Knoxville Journal, it was reported that C. Conrad Browne, a director of Highlander, reported that Walter Bishop, President of the East Tennessee Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) had advised that the ACLU would go into court in an effort to block the investigation. It was reported that the East Tennessee Civil Liberties Union labeled the resolution by the General Assembly as a threat to the orderly conduct of government since a proposal "was initiated on the basis of vague and unsubstantiated charges and provides less for legitimate investigation than for punitive prejudicial inquisition . . . ."
The Knoxville News-Sentinel, Knoxville, Tennessee, a daily publication, in issue of May 31, 1967, reported that Myles Horton, Director of the Highlander Research and Education Center, had made the statement that the center will go to Federal Court to seek an injunction prohibiting proposed State legislative investigation. He reported that the injunction would be sought by the American Civil Liberties Union attorneys on the grounds that investigation of subversive activities was within the power of the Federal Government only and no in the States. Horton reported that the injunction would not be sought until the investigative committee was named. According to Horton, ACLU officials had informed that the local case would be handled by Charles Morgan, described as the defense counsel for Army Captain Howard Levy, identified in the article as on trial now at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, at a court-martial on charges of disloyalty.

The Nashville Tennessean, a daily newspaper in Nashville, Tenn., in the 6/21/67 edition on page 3 carried an article which in part indicated that the Tennessee legislative investigation of the Highlander Research Center at Knoxville was temporarily blocked on 6/20/67 by a suit charging the probe was authorized to "intimidate frightened and coerced Negroes." The article indicated that U. S. District Court Judge WILLIAM E. MILLER issued a limited temporary restraining order shortly after the American Civil Liberties Union filed the suit contending the probe violates the Center's constitutional rights.

The article indicated Judge MILLER set 6/30/67 as the date for the hearing in this case.

For the information of the Bureau and Knoxville, the Nashville Tennessean, a Nashville daily newspaper, on page one, 6/20/67 edition, had an article which in part related that the American Civil Liberties Union will go into Federal Court at Nashville, Tennessee, 6/20/67, to seek a restraining order to prevent the Tennessee State Legislative investigation of Highlander Research Center in Knoxville.

The article related that CHARLES MORGAN, JR., attorney and Director of ACLU's southern regional office in Atlanta, arrived in Nashville 6/19/67 and is expected to file the petition in USDC, Nashville, 6/20/67.

The article quoted him as saying that ACLU's

Re Memphis airtel 6/16/67.

For the information of the Bureau and Knoxville,
The Nashville Banner, a Nashville, Tenn. daily newspaper, on page 26, June 30, 1967, edition, had an article captioned
"KING: HIGHLANDER NOT SUBVERSIVE". The article in part indicated that in Federal Court an affidavit filed bearing the signature of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING on 6/30/67 indicated that the Highlander Research Center at Knoxville is not subversive and it never has been. KING in his affidavit, according to the article, indicated that the philosophy and activities of Highlander Center are similar to those of SCLC.

The article indicated that the second affidavit was from MYLES HORTON, described as Highlander Head. In the affidavit HORTON reportedly indicated he was a loyal citizen of the United States and indicated that the school's activities concerned programs designed to obtain full and equal political freedom in civil rights for Negroes and other minority groups.
He claimed Klan harassment.

The article indicated that arguments before U. S.
District Judge WILLIAM E. MILLER were expected to concentrate on whether suit should be heard by three judge Federal panel or only by MILLER.

Memphis will follow and keep the Bureau advised of any pertinent developments.
Re Memphis airtel to Bureau, 7/3/67.

For the information of Knoxville and Bureau, there has been no recent publicity relative to the Tennessee State Legislative Committee investigation relative to captioned school.

Should there be any new developments in this matter, Memphis will immediately advise the Bureau and Knoxville.

To the Editors: The above is the title to my recent "Pardon Me, but..." newsletter which carefully outlines the Communist connections of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Mrs. Nicholas Paul, of Nashua has challenged in these columns my statement that Highlander Folk School formerly of Monticello, Tenn. was a Communist training school.

She states that the "FBI declares that Highlander is not now nor ever was a Communist Training School."

First, you must understand the role of the FBI. By law, they can not issue clearances nor label as subversive, but must report any findings only to the attorney general or as a sworn witness before Congress. This is the reason for the attorney general's list and why it is not called the FBI subversive list.

Highlander Folk School was founded by Don West, district director of the Communist Party in North Carolina, and by Miles Horton, director of "Commonwealth College" cited as Communist by the U.S. attorney general April 27, 1943.

Miles Horton, in sworn testimony by a student, William Eldridge is quoted as telling a Highlander class, "Only revolution will bring about a change from our present form of government to the Russian form of government."

As a result of this and other testimony, Highlander Folk School was cited subversive by the State of Tennessee and closed down by court order in 1960. With this and other evidence provided in my newsletter, Mrs. Paul maintains that the school was not Communist.

She does not suggest what it might be and offers no supporting documentation. If you want to know what I really wrote, write and ask for it—it's free.

Highlander Folk School is an interracial school located at \textquotesingle{}\textquotesingle{}, Tennessee, which is primarily supported by donations from individuals and from unions in the form of payments for students who attend. HFS is not the subject of a pending investigation. We have conducted an investigation of it in the past in view of allegations received that it was the headquarters for communist activities in east Tennessee. Our investigation failed to substantiate the allegations. Recently the Tennessee State Legislature passed a resolution appointing a committee to investigate communist activities in the school.

Enclosed for the Bureau and Knoxville are autostat copies of this statement.

[Handwritten note:]
press release made that date by DONALD DAVIDSON, Chairman, Tennessee Federation for Constitutional Government, entitled "Joint Statement of State Officers and Organization Leaders of the Tennessee Federation for Constitutional Government." This statement sets out the fact that these men support the proposal that a committee of the Tennessee State Legislature investigate the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee and set forth the basis for their stand.

All information contained herein is unclassified.

MAR 10 1959
JOINT STATEMENT OF STATE OFFICERS AND ORGANIZATION LEADERS OF THE TENNESSEE FEDERATION FOR CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

In view of the past record of Highlander Folk School, it is no surprise whatever that the Legislature should have in view a thorough investigation of the institution. We heartily commend and support their action.

What is surprising is that any informed citizens of Tennessee would object to a action so obviously demanded in the interest of the public welfare and already too long delayed. In this connection we refer particularly to a group of faculty members of the University of the South who in a public letter have attacked the good faith and impugned the motives of the duly elected members of our present General Assembly. We deplore this display of academic gullibility and folly. This group and a few other critics have been so ill-advised as to accuse the Legislature of "McCarthyism" and "Witch hunting." We resent this insult offered to the Legislature and the people of Tennessee.

The record of Highlander Folk School as a seat of agitation and subversion is already well-documented up to 1954, through the Hearings and Reports of Congressional Committees. That record needs to be brought up to date by careful inquiry, undertaken with special reference to activities of the school in Tennessee. An historic opportunity presents itself to the members of the Tennessee Legislature. They, and perhaps only they, with their intimate knowledge of Tennessee affairs, can finally get to the root of the trouble at Highlander Folk School.

In the Hearings of the U. S. Senate Sub-Committee on Internal Security of March 18, 19, and 20, 1954, Highlander Folk School is revealed through sworn testimony as having been a center of subversive activity since 1940 or earlier. At these hearings Paul Crouch, for seventeen years a communist leader, former Communist District Organizer for North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee, testified as follows:

"Senator Eastland: 'What is the Highlander Folk School?'

"Mr. Crouch: 'The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tennessee ostensibly as an independent labor school but actually working in close co-operation with the Communist Party.'"

On March 19, 1954 Mr. Crouch testified that in 1940 as Communist organizer, he met with Myles Horton, James Dombrowski and Ed McCrea, the Nashville Organizer of the Communist Party and "later my successor as Tennessee Organizer," at Highlander Folk School. Mr. Crouch said in reference to this meeting that "The Communist Party was anxious to get the maximum results from Highlander Folk School without endangering Mr. Horton or anyone."

Crouch explained that "... if it were to become public knowledge that the Highlander Folk School was co-operating too closely with the Communist Party and carrying on too much open Communist propaganda it would endanger its funds and its support ..." (Pages 125-126)

On Page 135 of the official recorded Hearings of the Senate Investigation Mr. Arens, Counsel for the Committee, asked Mr. Crouch the following question:

"Mr. Arens: 'What conferences did you have there [Highlander Folk School]? What was the purpose of the conferences? What was accomplished in these conferences at the Highlander Folk School?'

"Mr. Crouch: 'The purpose of the conference was to work out a plan by which the Daily Worker (Official Communist Newspaper) would (more) be purchased by the school. They would be made accessible to the students, that everywhere possible the instructors would refer to the Daily Worker, to news that had come in it, to encourage the students to read it, and it was agreed that the Communist Party should have a student, a leader, sent there as a student whose job it would be to look around for prospective recruits, and Mildred White, now in Washington, D. C. was selected to attend the Highlander Folk School for the purpose of recruiting for the Communist Party and carrying the Communist Party line among the student body there.

"Mr. Arens: 'You said it was agreed? Who agreed?'

"Mr. Crouch: 'Mr. Horton and Mr. Dombrowski.'

"Mr. Arens: 'Did you ever solicit Mr. Horton for membership in the Communist Party?'

"Mr. Crouch: 'I did.'

"Mr. Arens: 'Tell the circumstances of that solicitation and what transpired.'

"Mr. Crouch: 'At that meeting after we discussed the school I asked Mr. Horton to become a formal member of the Communist Party and his reply was, as near as I can recall his words, 'I'm doing you just as much good now as I would if I were a member of the Communist Party. I am often asked if I am a Communist Party member and I always say 'no'. I feel much safer in having no fear that evidence might be uncovered to "pull" me into the Communist Party, and therefore I prefer not to become a member of the Communist Party.'" (Pages 135-136)

Crouch also identified Rev. Don West and Mylés Horton as "original founders" of the Highlander Folk School but said West had earlier left to engage in Socialist and Communist work in Georgia, North Carolina and Kentucky.

(more)
On Page 150 of the Senate Hearings Mr. Horton couldn't "remember" whether the above mentioned Mildred White was a student at Highlander Folk School but said if she was "she was sent by a union, not by the Communist Party. We accept no students from the Communist Party and never have."

Thereupon Mr. Horton, who now offers to be so co-operative with the Legislature of Tennessee, grew so obstreperous at Senator Eastland's questioning on Mildred White that the senator ordered the marshal to eject Horton from the room. (Page 151, Senate Hearings, March, 1954)

The above quotations are only a small portion of the evidence printed in Congressional records up to 1954.

The Tennessee Legislature has the right and the duty to inquire into more recent activities of Highlander Folk School, particularly into the widely publicized meeting of the summer of 1957. This meeting has not yet been investigated. It was attended by a number of well-known Communists, fellow-travelers, leftists, and well known agitators from points of friction in the South.

The Tennessee Legislature has the right and duty to inquire whether there is a connection between such Highlander meetings and the disorders and incitements to disorder occurring at Clinton, Nashville, Little Rock, Atlanta, Montgomery, and other places.

The Tennessee Legislature has the right and duty to inquire whether, by reason of, its activities and policies, Highlander Folk School is acting in violation of Tennessee laws or is conspiring to violate our laws.

When the facts have been duly determined by such inquiry as the Legislature, the sovereign governing body of Tennessee, may undertake, it can then be decided whether the school and its administrators are subject to prosecution for creating a public nuisance and constituting a threat to the peace and tranquility of Tennessee.

Highlander Probe Measure Signed

2 From Shelby To Aid Investigation

By Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Gov. Buford Ellington today signed a joint House-Senate resolution calling for an investigation of the Highlander Folk School in Grundy County.

Shortly afterward, Senate Speaker William, D. Baird and House Speaker James L. Bomar announced the appointment of a five-man committee to conduct the probe.

Committee members are Sens. Barton Dement of Murfreesboro, Lawrence Hughes of Arlington and Reps. Alan Hanover of Memphis, Carter Patten of Chattanooga and Harry Lee Senter of Bristol, all Democrats.

"I want this investigation to reflect dignity on this body, as I am sure it will," Bomar said.

"It should be thorough and complete."

He directed the committee to report its findings at this session of the General Assembly. An appropriation of $5000 was approved to pay expenses of the investigation.

The resolution alleged that subversive activities have been centered around the interracial school in past years.

Myles Horton, director of the school, has denied any Communist link and called for a full investigation.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL,
MONTEAGLE, TENNESSEE

Re Knoxville airtel to Bureau, dated February 13, 1959.

There is submitted herewith one copy of news article entitled "Probe of School Opens Saturday", which appeared in the February 20, 1959, issue of the Chattanooga Times. The article reflects that District Attorney General J. M. McCARTT of Wartburg, Tennessee, will serve as counsel for the investigating committee.

PROBE OF SCHOOL OPENS SATURDAY

Visit to Tracy City Is First Order of Business for Highlander Study

From Chattanooga Times Beeper

NASHVILLE — The Legislature's select committee to investigate the Highland Folk School decided Thursday to make a visit to Tracy City early Saturday to begin its inquiry. The committee decided against a visit to the adult educational institution at Monteagle, and the plan was reported to involve discussions with several Grundy County residents who claim to have information about the school.

This first major step in the committee's inquiry came after Dist. Atty. Gen. J. M. McCartt of Wartburg agreed to serve as general counsel without compensation. McCartt, a Republican, was retained by the committee, which is composed of five Democrats.

Hopton to Assist

In another development, W. E. (Bud) Hopton, director of the Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification, agreed to supply agents to assist in the inquiry.

Hopton's agents are expected to visit Monteagle and other points in that vicinity over the weekend and draw up a list of prospective witnesses for the committee to question in its first public hearings here next week.

The agents will submit names, and the committee will issue orders for the witnesses to report.

The committee met briefly during the morning for a discussion of materials already in its hands but McCartt failed to arrive in time for this session. So another meeting was held later in the day for a further review of this material, which consisted largely of pamphlets, newspaper clippings and transcripts of testimony from federal agencies and congressional committees which had had a look at the racially integrated school in times gone by.

The committee has obtained a certified copy of the school's charter, which was issued by the secretary of state in 1934. It authorizes operation of a non-profit corporation for "adult worker education, training of rural and industrial leaders and general academic education."

Listed as incorporators were Myles Horton, the school's founder and still its director; Elizabeth Hawes, James Dombrowski, Rupert Hampton and Malcolm Chisolm.

Chisolm was described by committee member as a former Chattanooga resident who died fighting for the loyalists in the Spanish civil war in 1935-36.

The visit to Tracy City was proposed as an informal proceeding during which exploratory operations will be conducted.
Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director
The Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

Fifteen professors at Sewanee have been under fire locally for supporting the Highlander Folk School during an investigation by a legislative committee of the State of Tennessee. The Charleston News and Courier has written numerous editorials attacking Highlander and the professors for stating their belief that the school is not communist. The editorials have been most abusive in the criticism of the professors, and I feel that the newspaper editor would like to have these professors disassociate themselves from the Highlander investigation or be removed from their positions at Sewanee.

You no doubt handle thousands of requests like this one, but I feel that in defense of a cherished institution, the University of the South, I should seek your advice. I would find it very helpful if anything could be made available to me that has been or could be made public concerning the status of Highlander Folk School so far as the Federal Bureau of Investigation is concerned. I have long heard that Highlander has been investigated by your great agency of our government. I have also heard that the State Department routes visitors to the Tennessee area there.

With best wishes, I am,

For the information of the Savannah Office, the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, reportedly is supported primarily by donations of individuals and labor unions in the form of payments for students attending its courses. It offers courses of instruction in labor organizations, social economics, and general field of labor education. It has had Communist Party members on its staff and has accepted communists as students. However, it has never offered courses of instruction in communism nor has the Communist Party ever succeeded in gaining control of the school. Due to its interracial character, it has been the subject of numerous allegations that it represents the headquarters of communism in East Tennessee. These allegations have never been substantiated. The Bureau has in the past conducted an investigation of the school and its officials based upon complaints of communist activities at the school. Much of the subversive derogatory information concerning the school was later repudiated by the persons previously furnishing the information.
The school in recent years has been severely criticized by the Georgia Commission on Education and the Commission has given wide circulation of a four-page folder on the school relating to a Labor Day, 1957, meeting. The Commission refers to it as a communist training school. On January 28, 1959, the Tennessee State Legislature passed a resolution appointing a committee to investigate communist activities at the school.

The above is furnished for your information. The Savannah and Knoxville Offices are cautioned to be most circumspect in the handling of inquiries concerning the Highlander Folk School and be certain the Bureau does not become involved in this controversy.

TE ON YELLOW:

The Bureau is under fire for supporting the Highlander Folk School during an investigation by legislative committee of the State of Tennessee. Being concerned with the well-being and protection of the University of the South, it inquires whether the Bureau can furnish him information which can be made public concerning the status of the Highlander Folk School insofar as the FBI is concerned.
In view of the extremely controversial nature of the Highlander Folk School, the past attacks upon it by the Georgia Commission of Education and the most recent investigation by a committee of the Tennessee State Legislature, a files confidential reply will best serve the Bureau's interest in this matter.
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sirs:

We understand that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has made an investigation of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. As an agency of the Knoxville Ministerial Association and concerned citizens of Tennessee, we are anxious to have all pertinent information which you are able to give us relative to this school.

There have been widespread accusations of disloyalty directed against the Highlander School. We feel that if these accusations are founded in fact, we as citizens and leaders of our churches need to know it; and if they are not founded in fact, we wish to be in a position to present to the public the true picture.

Respectfully yours,
Your letter dated March 14, 1959, has been received and the motive which prompted your communication is indeed appreciated.

While I would like to be of assistance, the function of the FBI as a fact-gathering agency does not extend to furnishing evaluations or comments concerning the character or integrity of any individual, organization or publication. Furthermore, information in the files of this Bureau is maintained as confidential and available for official use only in accordance with a regulation of the Department of Justice. I regret, therefore, that I am unable to comply with your request for information.

I am sure you will understand the necessity for this policy and will not infer from my inability to be of assistance that we do or do not have in our files the information you desire.

Sincerely yours,

The Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, is well known to your office.

The above data is furnished for your information only.

NOTE ON YELLOW:

The Highlander Folk School has been the subject of numerous allegations that it is a communist school and the headquarters of communism in east Tennessee, due primarily to its interracial character. These allegations have never been substantiated. It has been given wide publicity by the Georgia Commission on Education which issued a pamphlet charging it is a communist training school. On January 28, 1959, the Tennessee State Legislature passed a resolution appointing a committee to investigate the school. (61-7511).

In view of the extremely controversial nature of this school, the past attacks upon it by the Georgia Commission on Education and the pending inquiry by the Tennessee State Legislature, the above reply is believed to best serve the purposes of the Bureau.

CONFIDENTIAL

When [redacted] was in Washington, he talked with Assistant Director C. O. DeLoach and indicated that he was interested in the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee. It is desired that you contact [redacted] on a highly confidential basis and advise him that this school has been the subject of a great deal of controversy.

You may tell [redacted] that the school offers courses of instruction in social economics, labor organization, and labor education. Furthermore, it has had Communist Party members on its staff and has accepted communists as students. It should be pointed out, however, that the Communist Party has never succeeded in gaining control of the school, nor does the school offer courses of instruction in communism. In view of its interracial character, there have been many allegations that it represents the headquarters of communism in eastern Tennessee. This allegation has never been substantiated.

It should be pointed out to [redacted] that in recent years, the school has been severely criticized by the Georgia Commission on Education, and the Commission has given wide circulation of a four-page folder relating to a Labor Day meeting in 1957.

Attached are Photostats of some items which you may make available to [redacted] They include the following: (1) a Photostat of a clipping from The Chattanooga Times, February 20, 1959, (2) a Photostat of the above-mentioned paper put out by the Georgia Commission on Education, and (3) a Photostat of an article from The Chattanooga Times for February 11, 1959. You should advise the Bureau of the results of your contact with [redacted].

The Knoxville Office, by letter dated January 21, 1957, advised that the files of that office pertaining to the Highlander Folk School disclosed no information received from any volunteer sources regarding any "experimenting" on John's Island on the part of the Highlander Folk School. The file did disclose that various sources had volunteered information that the school holds sessions of study during the summers which are called "workshops". It was reported that persons from various sections of the country had been in attendance at such sessions. Among the topics listed for discussions at the workshop held in 1956 were "Positive Resistance, Registering and Voting, Joint Committee Activity, Transportation, Housing, Parks and Action Through Churches". It was not known whether the "experiments" on John's Island had any relation to these work shops.

The following article captioned "Classes Here Sponsored by Folk School", by OTIS PERKINS, appeared in the News and Courier, a daily newspaper published in Charleston, South Carolina, on March 11, 1959:

"Interracial Highland Folk School, which has been under investigation in Tennessee, has sponsored citizenship classes among Charleston County Negroes for the last two years.

"The latest of such classes was completed on John's Island last Thursday. Similar classes — all plugging registration and voting — also have been held on Edisto Island and Wadmalaw Island.

"Reports of the classes had been rumored here for sometime. Their operation was verified yesterday by the man who helped set them up.

"He is Esaw Jenkins, a soft-spoken, mild-mannered Negro leader of John's Island.

Jenkins, who missed formal education, says there's nothing secret or ulterior about his own brand of private education. He gives the impression, himself, of being educated, which grew from private tutoring as an adult.

-- 2 --
"We only want to make them better citizens,' he told this reporter on the island last night. 'The main thing is to teach them voting. We want them to understand how to vote intelligently. We teach them what they ought to know so that when they go down there to register there won't be any embarrassment.'

"The robust Negro leader spoke as he sat in the rear seat of an automobile in front of Wesley AME Church about nine miles northwest of Charleston on River Road.

"Strangely, not a single white person, including the county school superintendent or even officials of the Islands' Citizens Councils, had any direct knowledge the Negro adult classes were being held.

"Jenkins, an honor member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he long had been interested in the Negro people of John's Island, where he grew up.

"He said he heard about the Highlander School and its operation sometime before the classes were set up.

"In 1955, two white girl students of the Tennessee school came to Charleston. They sat with Negroes to observe court procedure. They were admitted integrationists.

"Jenkins recalled they visited his John's Island home while here. He said also that Myles Horton, founder and director of Highlander Folk School, had visited in Charleston County. Horton last was here about a year ago, Jenkins said.

"Jenkins said he approached Highlander on setting up adult classes here.

"Highlander personnel, according to reports, came here and set up the school and then left them to local leadership. Jenkins said the teacher at John's Island is Bernice W. Robinson, who is paid by the foundation through Highlander Folk School. He says the teachers at Wadmalaw and Edisto Islands also apparently work under the same arrangement.

"She declined to discuss details of the operation last night, saying such would have to come from Highlander. The arrangement by which teachers are paid and the number of students enrolled also are available only through Highlander records at the school's Monteagle, Tenn., headquarters, she said.

"The class sessions, which last about three months for each group of students, are held two hours nightly in a building formerly owned by the John's Island School District. The property was purchased by Jenkins, who also operates a grocery store in front of the structure housing the classroom.

"Subjects, besides voting, include reading, writing and sewing, Jenkins reported. He said several men and women students can neither read nor write. Some progress well, he added.

"Jenkins teaches the voting classes, which are held in conjunction with the Palmetto State Voters Assn. The association meets each Monday night. Its purpose, like that of the classes, is to promote Negro registration and voting.

"Students of the classes and persons attending the association meetings, are given sample South Carolina voter registration application blanks.

"The forms are explained point-by-point and line by line. 'We also try to teach them the meaning of some of the words,' Jenkins said.

"The next classes will be held in December, Jenkins said. He explained that they are held for the period of December through February because no farming is being done during that period.
"Many of the people attending the classes, one John's Islander reported, are completely illiterate. They come in from remote sections. 'Some of them never have seen the city,' he explained. 'They have no idea what's going on outside their section.'

"Jenkins, in answer to a question, said he didn't believe Horton of the controversial Highlander school is a communist. Jenkins said Horton never did or said anything as far as he knew to indicate he was a Red.

"The school has been accused of harboring subversive elements and of being a breeding ground for agitators. It faces the loss of its charter as a privately operated institution as a result of the investigation by the Tennessee Legislature.

"We don't believe in violence,' Jenkins said of his association. 'We tell our people to be respectful. This thing (integration) can't be done over night. It's a revolution. There's no use of us fighting over it.' He said the Highlander school hadn't suggested the classes as a tool of integration.

"Jenkins owns, besides the grocery, a restaurant in Charleston and some buses. He is a leader of the Wesley Church.

"He says he hopes to start a Negro housing project on the island -- to get Negroes out of shacks.

"Maybe that would serve as an example and they'd try to build better houses," he commented. Jenkins says he believes in teaching by example. He has put three children through college, and has one child in high school and another in grammar school. He says he hopes other Negroes will do likewise."

Padlock Petition Against School Being Prepared After Whisky Found

Special to The Chattanooga Times
MONTEAGLE, Tenn.—Armed with search warrants obtained late Friday night from a justice of the peace at his home, county and state officers led by Dist. Atty. Gen. A. F. Sloan raided the controversial Highlander Folk School near here and broke up a banquet attended by 30 or more Negro couples and several white persons.

Sloan disclosed Saturday that he was preparing a padlock petition against the school to be presented in court “within the next few days.”

Mrs. Septima P. Clark, 61, who identified herself as director of education at the school, was placed under arrest after officers discovered quantities of whisky and gin on the property.

Three young men, who reportedly interfered with the officers in their efforts to take Mrs. Clark into custody, also were arrested and taken to the Grundy County Jail in Altamont.

Revised on Bond

All were released early Saturday morning after posting cash bonds for appearance at a preliminary hearing next Thursday at 4 p.m. in Altamont, presumably before Squire John P. Wright, who issued the search warrants.

Mrs. Clark’s bond was set at $500 on the whisky possession charge. The men, released under bond of $250 each on charges of drunkenness, interfering with officers and resisting arrest, were identified as:

Brent Eugene Barkdale, 22, of Los Angeles; Guy Hughes Carawan Jr., 22, also of Los Angeles, an entertainer with some renown as a folk singer and musician, and Perry Macc Kay-Sturges, 34, Shelter Island Heights, N.Y.

The men, as well as others at the school, had been participating in one of the regular summer workshops conducted by the institution which has admitted its strong advocacy of racial integration.

Sloan said that the padlock petition against the school would be presented to Circuit Judge C. C. Chattin, explaining that the school then would have five days to appear in court and answer the petition.

The attorney general said his petition “in all likelihood” would remain.

ARRESTED IN RAID

From Page One

Also include a request for an order that the charter of Highlander be revoked. If such an order were issued, it would be directed to the secretary of the institution.

A legislative investigating committee earlier this year concluded its probe of the school by urging action leading toward revocation of the charter.

Sloan said he would charge in his padlock petition that the school is a “public nuisance” and is “engaging in violation by possessing, serving, selling and other intoxicating beverages in a dry county.”

Mrs. Clark, an elderly Negro woman, was the only school official present when the raiding party arrived late Friday night, Myles Horton, director of the school, reportedly is abroad with his family. Mrs. Clark told officers she was in charge in Horton’s absence.

Joining Sloan in the raid were Elston Clay, Grundy County sheriff, Kenneth Shelton, Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification, county deputies and members of the highway patrol.

Highlander Folk School for many years has been operating an evening school for labor leaders from throughout the nation, but especially in the South, and has pushed openly for a speed-up in school integration in the Southern states. Most of the seminars and workshops at Highlander are operated on an integrated basis.

Charges that the school has Communist leanings were explored rather thoroughly by the legislative committee, several members of which felt that the ultra-liberal positions of Highlander officials place them in the class of “left-wingers.” Horton and others on the staff have denied repeatedly any Communist connections and the investigators failed to turn up any real proof to support the charge.

The committee, however, did recommend that the school’s status as a tax-exempt institution be ended and its charter revoked.

Should Judge Chattin sustain the attorney general’s plea for padlocking the school, the order would remain in effect until the October term of circuit court when another hearing would be scheduled on the question of making the order permanent.

Sloan said Saturday that he had no intention of denying residential use of the homes on the grounds of the school, but that his petition, if granted, would prohibit their continued use as gathering places and elks for the institution’s regular operations.

Office Memorandum - UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO: Director, FBI (61-7511)  DATE: 9/11/59

FROM: SAC, Knoxville (61-12)  CONFIDENTIAL

SUBJECT: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
MONTEAGLE, TENNESSEE
INFORMATION CONCERNING

Enclosed is original and seven copies of a letterhead memorandum concerning captioned matter.

This memorandum is not being disseminated to local intelligence agencies.

CONFIDENTIAL
A copy of a mimeographed letter was received by the Knoxville Office of the FBI bearing the return address of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee. This mimeographed letter reads as follows:

"Highlander Folk School
Monteagle, Tennessee

From Myles Horton to Fellow Tennesseans:

The State Legislative Investigation instigated by Atty. Genl. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas spectacularly failed to prove that Highlander's stand on integration was subversive. Nevertheless our District Atty. was instructed to find some other excuse for closing the school.

While I was away something happened that shocked all decent people. Mrs. Septima Clark, Highlander's Educational Director, an outstanding church woman, was arrested and hauled off to jail in the midst of an integrated workshop. (At present she is conducting a workshop attended by 33 people, including a number of foreign visitors sent by the State Department, with her usual dignity.)

According to the Nashville Tennessean Sloan agreed that the raid, which he directed, was for the purpose of finding whiskey so he could have the school closed. "The members of the legislative committee gave me information mostly on integration and communism," said Sloan, "and I wasn't satisfied I could be successful at that. I thought maybe this was the best shot and I think now I'll be successful."
Re: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

In a letter of protest, Dr. Roger L. Shinn, recently professor of Christian Ethics at Vanderbilt University, wrote:

After a long history of unfair heckling and absurd charges brought against the Highlander Folk School, I suppose I should not be surprised at the latest episode. But I thought that some of your foes might have the wisdom to keep quiet after their ridiculous efforts at the last session of the state legislature. During my years in Tennessee I was glad for the Christian and democratic idealism of Highlander Folk School. You have been investigated repeatedly and have been vindicated against false and malicious charges.

Sloan is insisting that Highlander be padlocked as a public nuisance. A hearing has been set for Sept. 14 at 9:00 am at the Grundy County Courthouse in Altamont.

Many of our friends have written or called to say they will be at Altamont early Monday morning. I would like very much to have you with us also. Your very presence will show that Tennesseans want fair play and will do a great deal to keep this unprecedented action from turning into a second Scopes Trial. At the first hearing the courtroom was packed with Atty. Sloan's rooting section well before court opened. You will want to get to Altamont early. Let us know if you will want to spend Sunday night at Highlander.

P.S. A few of the many letters of support and encouragement are enclosed."

The Knoxville News-Sentinel, Knoxville, Tennessee, a daily newspaper, in the issue of August 1, 1959, carried a news article datelined at Monteagle, Tennessee, which reported as follows:
Re: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

"County and state law enforcement officials raided integrated Highlander Folk School last night, arrested a Negro woman and three white men and confiscated a quantity of liquor.

"The school was the subject of an investigation by the 1959 state Legislature, which sought indication of Communist activities or teachings at the school.

"The Negro woman arrested was Mrs. Septima P. Clark, 61, who said she was director of education for Highlander and in charge during the absence of School Director Myles Horton, now in Europe.

Liquor in Horton Home

"She was charged with possessing whisky after raiders said they found bottles of gin and rum and a keg containing whisky in the home of Horton. She was jailed pending receipt of bond. Grundy County is prohibition.

"Dist. Atty. Ab Sloan, who directed the raid along with Grundy County Sheriff Elston Clay and Tennessee Bureau of Identification Agent Kenneth Shelton, said he plans to file a petition seeking that Highlander be declared a public nuisance and be closed.

"The raiding part of 15 hit the school shortly after an estimated 30 Negro men and women and several young white couples had finished a banquet and were watching a movie.

"The search warrant was signed by Justice of the Peace John P. Wright.

Held on Several Charges

"Others arrested and jailed at Altamount, the county seat, on charges of drunkenness, interfering with officers and resisting arrest were Brent Eugene Parks, 22, of Los Angeles, Calif., Guy Hughes Carawan, Jr., 32, of Los Angeles, and Perry Mackay Sturges, Jr., 34, Shelter Island Heights, N.Y.
Re: HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL

"A committee from the 1959 Legislature held several hearings on Highlander and then visited the school itself. It reported it found the school engaged in a "very questionable activity" and recommended its tax-exempt charter be revoked.

"Korton has denied repeatedly any Communist connections at the school. The school does not hold formal classes but conducts discussions and seminars and is frequently addressed by guest speakers."

advised to the effect "the Highlander Folk School is an institution located near Monteagle, Tennessee. It is an institution with classes on a seminar basis and is supported primarily by donations from individuals, from labor unions in the form of payments for students who attend, and to some extent by the Farmers Union. It offers courses of instruction in labor organization, social economics, parliamentary procedure, and the general field of labor education. This school has had Communist Party members on its staff and as instructors, and has followed the practice of welcoming Communist Party members as students, but to my knowledge the school has never offered courses of instruction in Communist matters nor has the Communist element ever completely controlled the institution."

All confidential informants referred to in this memorandum have furnished reliable information in the past.

It is advised that Myles Horton, Highlander Folk School, Montaegle, Tennessee, was a speaker at a meeting of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare which was held in Nashville, Tennessee, on April 19 through 21, 1942. Horton spoke on the importance of training the youth of the nation both vocationally and in democracy.

The Southern Conference for Human Welfare has been cited by the Special Committee on Un-American Activities, Report, March 29, 1943, page 147, as a "Communist front which received money from the Robert Marshall Foundation, one of the principal sources of the funds by which many Communist fronts operate."

instruction in labor organization, social economics, parliamentary procedure and the general field of labor education. This school has had Communist Party members on its staff as instructors, and has followed the practice of welcoming Communist Party members as students, but to my knowledge, the school has never offered courses of instruction in communist matters nor has the communist element ever completely controlled the institution.

Another Governmental agency which conducts intelligence investigations has advised that Louis Francis Budenz, former editor of the "Daily Worker," an east coast communist newspaper which suspended publication January 13, 1958, and an admitted former official in the Communist Party, advised on November 21, 1952, that the Highlander Folk School was procommunist.

On April 19, 1949, Paul Crouch, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party, furnished to this Bureau a signed statement in which he described Myles Horton as a left wing Socialist who was always close to the Communist Party. According to this statement Horton met with officials and representatives of the Communist Party to discuss policy and procedure during the period from 1939 to 1941; and, even though he showed some independence in thought, Horton usually followed the Communist Party line. The statement continues that in 1941 Horton could have been described as a close sympathizer and follower of the Communist Party line; and that his wife, Zylphia Horton, was even closer to the Party than her husband. According to Crouch's statement, when he last saw Zylphia Horton in 1941 she was seriously considering joining the Communist Party.

For your additional information please be advised that Myles Horton referred to above testified in public session before the Jenner Committee on March 20, 1954. You may desire to consult records of this Committee for additional information concerning the subject of your inquiry. Highlander Padlock Suit Dropped, State to Ask Charter Be Revoked

Clash of Attorneys Starts Off Hearing

BY T. GRADY GALLANT
ALTAMONT—The state announced this morning it would not pursue efforts to obtain a permanent padlock injunction on the main education building at Highlander Folk School located near Monteagle, Tenn., but that it would seek revocation of the school's charter.

After approximately two and a half hours of legal argument between the state and Defense Atty. Cecil Branstetter of Nashville, a selection of a jury was Judge Chester Chatlin overruled a demurrer filed by the defense to an amendment to the original bill against Highlander Folk School. Among other things the demurrer asserted that the "original amended bill shows on its face that it is multifarious."

Attorney Branstetter also argued that the charges against Highlander Folk School were "shotgun approach trying to find something."

Relative to the amendment by Partly Cloudy, the state that Highlander is conducting interracial classes in violation of a state code section. Atty. Branstetter argued that integration has been held to be unconstitutional.

However, the state argued that what might be constitutional for state schools may not be constitutional for private institutions. The state also argued in answer to the defense charge that the constitutional right of the school had been violated under the 14th Amendment, that a corporation is an artificial body and is not a citizen of the United States.

Atty. Branstetter asserted that the corporation was "and cannot be denied protection of the laws of the United States."

Atty. Branstetter told the court that Highlander Folk School admits that it has operated classes for Negroes and whites "almost since it began" over 25 years ago.

He said that the court would enjoin Highlander from performing activities of the future, and that this would be submitted to the judge as the question of whether or not Highlander has violated the law by having integration in its classrooms.

However, the suggestion was followed by a short time later the selection of the jury to hear the case was begun.

SCHAPEN PROTESTED

The defense also objected to a subpoena returning Moses Horton, Highlander Folk School director, to bring to court a mass of records of the school's operation. Among the things requested by the state were the corporation's bylaws and charter, all minutes of board meetings, deeds and mortgages, books of donations to the school and the names of the changes of addresses, and records and transfers of property.

Attorney Branstetter told the court that this would require a "bunch of bookloads of records." He was then asked by the state yesterday afternoon if the Stahl-Hite attorney then moved that the subpoena be quashed, modified or vacated.

Judge Chastin remarked that in his opinion, there were important imperfections if today Mr. Branstetter.

Gen. Kelly of South Pittsburg who is representing the Highlander Folk School, was asked by the judge, "Do you want to introduce the records, and if so, why?"

The judge then asked the Highlander Folk School attorney if he would like a deposition taken in or out of the room or if he would like to have a deposition taken out of the room.

The court room was filled to capacity and a number of persons were standing outside the room in a narrow hallway. Present were Atty. Kelly, Atty. Gen. Sloan, and Atty. Sam Funk Radiation, a prominent South Pittsburg lawyer.

The dropping of the state's effort to have a permanent padlock injunction to prevent the building from being used as a permanent padlock proceeding Judge Chastin at that time found that the building had been sold in that building by Highlander without a lease and to minors.

The state said this morning that it is not moving against any individual connected with Highlander, but that its action is directed at the corporation itself.

Atty. Branstetter said the state was "on a fishing expedition." when it sought the records of Highlander. He also remarked that this was an attempt by the state to "catch a jury" by examination of the records.

Another occasion when the state was questioned as to whether it was committing acts of oppression.

"The state has not done to this court with clean hands, the defense attorney stated."

"Go wash your hands, Atty. Sloan muttered to Atty. Kelly and Atty. Funk Radiation who were standing near him at the court.

When Atty. Kelly went into address the court, he apologized for the neglect of the state to wash its hands before it came into the courtroom this morning.

4 Indicted as Result Of Highlander Raid

ALTAMONT, Tenn. (AP) — The County Grand Jury returned four indictments yesterday against the Highlander Folk School's education director and three young men arrested in a raid of the school last July 3.

The school official, Mrs. Sephora Clark, was indicted on a charge of whisky possession.

The three men, who were living in a workhouse at the school, were: Brent Hargrove, Ninth Street, La., Los Angeles, Cal.; Ray Hughes, Caraway, Miss.; and Perry Maxburg, Shelter Island, N.Y.

They were charged with public drunkenness, resisting arrest and interfering with an officer.

Cash bonds posted by the four at the time of their arrest have been continued.

HIGHLANDER CASE GIVEN RACE ISSUE

Sloan's Petition Against School Amended, Holds State Law Violated

By MOUZON PETERS

ALTAMONT, Tenn.—The issue of integration has been injected into the Highlander Folk School case which reopened here next Tuesday morning.

A. T. (Ab) Sloan, attorney for the community, who directs the effort to have the school's charter revoked and the institution closed permanently, amended his petition to include the racial issue, saying that the petition for temporary revocation of the charter which brought the hearing resulting Sept. 16 in a ruling closing Highlander's administration building although a number of changes were made.

Prior to this, the attorney general was predicting the charter revocation case on the same allegations contained in the petition for temporary pendency which brought the hearing and the decision of the state Supreme Court. Although a number of changes were made, Judge Chattin at that time held that only the charge of illegal dispensing of intoxicating beverages had been proved.

Allegations in the petition that the school had been the scene of immorality and "fighting, quarreling and drunkenness" had not been proved as court.

Judge Chattin ruled that the charge of immorality and "fighting, quarreling and drunkenness" had not been proved as court.

Cecil P. Branstetter of Nashville, attorney for Highlander, was present at the hearing before Circuit Judge Chester C. Chaffin at Winchester Tuesday.

The latest move in the case against the state attorney general has been the filing of a petition to delay the hearing 90 days.

Again again that integration is not an issue in this case.

Sloan was quoted in "Concord," a monthly magazine published in Nashville by the National Conference of Methodist Youth, as saying that integration had nothing to do with the state's case. The petition, the publication stated, was raised specifically and the attorney general said the racial question was not involved.

"It is immaterial," he was quoted, "who they teach and what they teach as long as it is within the law. It is up to the individual if he wants to socialize with colored people — I defend the law."

The new feel, however, that integration at Highlander should be incorporated in the complaint against the institution and allege in his amendment that said corporation has violated the provisions of Tennessee Code Annotated 41-101 which declares it to be unlawful for white and colored persons to attend the same school in that it is new and has in the past continuously operated said school on An integrated basis wherein both blacks and whites attended school. This act of nonviolence by the Negro was a further frustration of the purposes and objectives for which said defendant was incorporated and constituted the existence of unfair acts and powers, and for all of which the charter should be declared forfeit and hereafter null and void.

The attorney general is requesting a jury trial.

The case will get under way the morning of Tuesday, Nov. 10, with arguments on Highlander's nullification to the original bill as amended.

Talk With Morton

In addition to the interview with the attorney general, the Methodist youth publication "Concern," printed an interview with Myles Horton, president and founder of Highlander. Asked to explain the objections of local residents to the school's activities, Horton noted that "attacks against Highlander have been for numerous reasons - subversion, communism, integrated activities and more lately, immorality and use of alcohol."

Horton, however, denied much of the local attitude to Highlander's earlier days of giving strong support to the labor movement as it affected the organizing of consumers in Grundy and nearby communities. "The singing strakes," he said, "have always opposed our existence."

He identified an office employe of one company as "the persistent reader of agitation against Highlander."

Asked his opinion of the Sept.
member hearing which resulted in a decision casting one of his buildings temporarily, Horton commented: "It was a dignified, properly conducted trial."

"However," he added, "I disagree with the decision."

HIGHLANDER OFFICIAL

spite of court actions confronting it, according to the education director of the institution.

At Montague on the Commissioner Floor to Senate.

Mrs. Baptima P. Clark said this Wednesday on a visit here she was interviewed at the home of Justice Justin Wise ruler of the domestic relations court. Mrs. Clark has been discussing the school's work with friends of the institution in New York and Connecticut.
Next week further legal action is expected on charges against
Mrs. Clark and other staff memers and against the institution as "a public nuisance."

On Oct. 11 and 12, she said,
34 ministers from six Southern states came to a workshop session on ways of cooperating with social workers and social security representatives in meeting the needs of members of their local communities. A second workshop for ministers is scheduled for Nov. 27-28, she said.

Next Monday, she said, former students at Highlander will open literacy night schools for voting and to teach them about adventures on islands off the South traffic laws, fire prevention and Carolina coast. Their purpose, cooperatives, she said.

HIGHLANDER CASE IS DELAYED AGAIN

15 Days Granted to State for Filing of Briefs by Judge C. C. Chatin

Special to The Chattanooga Times

WINCHESTER, Tenn. — An additional 15 days has been granted to state's attorneys for filing briefs in the case involving the controversial Highander Park School in Grundy County. Circuit Judge Chester C. Chatlin, speaking Monday, declared these days had expired and Judge Chatlin said the new deadline will be Tuesday, Jan. 30.

The week-long hearing in which the attorney general had sought an order revoking the charter of the school was continued by circuit Judge Chatlin. The date was extended to the mention of Jan. 13, and now has been extended again.

At Man's Request

The new date was set after Judge Chatlin said at the request of A. F. (Ab) Key, the attorney general, the extension would be granted at the request of Cecil Bradstreet, Nashville, representing Highander.

In addition, the court declared Attorney Bradstreet had requested that both sides be permitted to file motions in the case after the briefs have been filed.

Unless oral arguments are permitted, Chatlin's decision on the case should come within a few days. It appears the agreement in the case is not as one-sided as some would think. The other evening, Judge Chatlin said the order of the court shall be filed in the case, and the matter shall be pending.

The Louisville Times, Louisville, Kentucky, a newspaper of general circulation, on 2/20/60, carried a story reporting that FRIENDS OF HIGHLANDER, identified as "a new organization here," might be called upon to raise funds to carry litigation, in which the charter of the HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL was revoked, to the Supreme Court. The story reported that the school's charter was revoked by a Tennessee Circuit Court on 2/16/60.

Miss DORCAS-RUTHEBURY (not identified in the story but known to be a writer, director, producer at WHAS Radio and WHAS TV, Louisville stations, who has received awards for "public service" programs) was identified as temporary chairman of the newly-formed group. The group was said to consist of 58 Negro and white civic and educational leaders.

The story did not directly state but implied that Miss ALICE COBB, "a religious educator, former Kentucky school teacher and social worker," who stopped in Louisville on 2/19/60, "on her way to clear her things off the premises" of the school, was instrumental in formation of the Louisville group.

According to the story, "Miss COBB told a story of months of harassment of the school and its staff, leading up to the court's contention that HIGHLANDER violates Tennessee's segregation laws as they apply to private schools." She reportedly said, "Southerner's main objection to the school is its workshops teaching uneducated Negroes and white persons how to pass literacy requirements for voting.

Highlander Charter Revoked by Court

Judge Cites Segregation Violations

School Given 30 Days To Ask for New Trial

ALTAMONT, Tenn., Feb. 18—Judge C. C. Chatton today revoked the charter of controversial Highlander Folk School located near this Wythe County town.

Chatton’s decision reversed an order given by Judge T. E. Stepp in September. The school had won a temporary order to reopen its doors under a court order.

Judge Reconsidered

On appeal, Chatton reviewed the record and ruled further that a permanent order for the school’s closure was required. The school was founded by educator and activist James Weldon Johnson.

Judge’s decision in the case of a black school, Chatton wrote, was based on the precedent established in the Brown v. Board of Education decision. The judge said he was acting in the public interest.

Chatton ruled that the school had violated the state’s segregation laws. He said the school was not a private institution and that it must be closed.

Chatton also ordered the school to vacate its property immediately.

The school, which has been a center for civil rights activism, was founded by the Highlander Folk School, an adult education center operated by the Highlander Folk School Association. The school provides education and training in community organizing and social justice.

Chatton’s decision in the case of a black school, Chatton wrote, was based on the precedent established in the Brown v. Board of Education decision. The judge said he was acting in the public interest.

Chatton ruled that the school had violated the state’s segregation laws. He said the school was not a private institution and that it must be closed.

Chatton also ordered the school to vacate its property immediately.

The school, which has been a center for civil rights activism, was founded by the Highlander Folk School, an adult education center operated by the Highlander Folk School Association. The school provides education and training in community organizing and social justice.

Highlander Decree
Wording Given
SOUTH PITTSBURG, Tenn., Feb. 23 (UPI)—Judge Chester Chattin yesterday received the state's opinion on what should be said in Chattin's revocation decree for Highlander Folk School's charter.

Cecil Branstetter of Nashville, defense attorney for the controversial racially integrated institution near Monteagle, is also expected to submit a decree containing what the defense thinks should go into the order. Chattin can use either or write one of his own. The eventual order will go into the record and a receiver will be appointed to close out the affairs of the school.

After the decree's issuance, the defense has 30 days in which to appeal.

Branstetter had indicated he will ask for a new trial.

Chattin ordered the charter revocation last week, saying, in his opinion, the school's integrated seminars and workshops violated the state's segregation law.
Highlander Hooked

From its Red-tinged beginnings, Highlander Folk School near Monteagle, Tenn., has been a notorious, disgraceful, leftwing, integrationist institution of highly questionable purposes. But it has gone along imperturbably, angled by a band of nationally-known leftwing quacks.

For a change, Highlander Folk School now seems to be in real trouble.

Judge Chester C. Chattin officially ruled yesterday that the state charter of the school be revoked, that 70 acres of school land given to Director Myles Horton revert to the school, and that a receiver be appointed to dispose of the institution's properties.

Judge Chattin found Highlanders guilty of breaking the state laws against maintenance of a racially integrated institution. He pointed out that the Warren Court's 1954 ruling was intended to knock down state laws prohibiting integration in public schools—but did not attack laws prohibiting integration in private schools. Another violation involved clear proof that Highlander had engaged in the illegal sale of beer without a license, like an ordinary bootlegging joint. The third violation listed by the judge was operation of the supposedly non-profit school with Horton profiting in the form of the 70-acre land grant. The judge also noted there were no official documents establishing Horton's salary and that checkwriting was done by Horton at his discretion.

If appeal is carried far enough, the ruling involving integration may be overturned. But it would be difficult to get around the beer-bootlegging and the private-profit-counts involving violations of the non-profit charter.

Integrationists are claiming Highlander is being persecuted because of its racial mixing. But the integrationists in taking up for Highlander put themselves in the peculiar posture of implying that Highlander should be permitted to violate the law to bootlegging for private profit because it is integrated.
The Highlander Press Conference held in Washington was open to the public.

The Highlander Folk School, under the direction of the Highland School, will meet Monday, May 30th, at the Washington Hotel. The school is planning a press conference of the school's annual report, which was produced by the school's students and staff. The school is located in the town of Chattanooga, Tennessee. The school is planning to keep the school open to the public for the school's annual report.

The Highlander Ruling

A legislative committee investigated Highlander Folk School, near Monteagle, following a recommendation in January 1959 from Arkansas Attorney General Bruce Bennett, who said that if Highlander were in his district he would close it.

Today Mr. Bennett, who came to Nashville a year ago to consult with the committee, is saying something must be done to counter all the hurtful publicity Arkansas has received in the segregation controversy. But whatever one may think of Highlander—and, as we have stated, we are not and have not been partisans of the school—stands closed in a monumental case of persecution and political self-justification that does Tennessee damage in the eyes of a freedom-loving nation.

The General Assembly’s committee, after a $5,000 inquiry in which Gov. Ellington showed a notable lack of enthusiasm, directed District Attorney Sloan of South Pittsburg to investigate the possibility of closing the school. Two of the Assembly’s best-known extremists, pushing the probe, hinted of subversion.

At no time in the trial of the case, however, has subversion been charged by the state. At one time, in fact, the charges were reduced to selling beer without a license and personal gain by Highlander’s director, Myles Horton. Testimony showed that some beer had in fact been sold and that Mr. Horton had been deeded property at the school in return for a number of years’ service without salary. Mr. Sloan stated at one point that the school’s policy of integration since 1952 had “not a thing in the world” to do with the case, “It is up to the individual if he wants to associate with color people—I defend the law.”

But the segregation, section and its exploitation, in fact, closed Highlander.

Judges Chester Chattin, Myles Horton, and Attorney General A. F. Sloan.

By T. Grady Gallant

Judge Chester C. Chattin today revoked the general welfare charter of controversial Highlander Folk School and ruled that a "receiver will be appointed by the court to wind up the defendant's affairs." The judge's brief was received at Allamont, Tenn., the county seat of Grundy County, this morning around 9 o'clock.

Judge Chattin also ruled void a deed whereby Myles Horton, founder and director of Highlander, had been presented with some 70 acres of school lands "for back salary." The land will revert back to Highlander Folk School properly under the ruling.

Judge Chattin also ruled that "defendant operates a private racially integrated school in violation of a section of the Tennessee Code that provides: "It shall be unlawful for any school, academy, college, or other places of learning to allow white and colored persons to attend the same school, academy, college, or other places of learning." In his opinion, the judge stated:

"Defendant, Highlander Folk School, admits that it possesses integration and that it is a private institution. That it is an adult education institution was proved by a preponderance of evidence at the trial.

"Defendant insists that the Supreme Court of the United States holds that this holding does not render the statute unconstitutional as to private schools. The statute may be unconstitutional and void as to their application to a part of their subject matter involved as to other parts, or, to state the problem more concretely, they may be constitutional in operation with respect to school..."

persons and states of fact, and unconstitutional as to others."

Judge Chatta ruled:

"The court is of the opinion that the segregation laws of the state are applied to private schools are constitutional and valid...

DEATH SALE

The court found that Highlander Folk School violated the criminal laws of the state by permitting the sale of beer on school property.

Judge Chatta ruled:

"The court is of the further opinion that the defendants having violated the criminal laws of the state in that it has permitted the sale of beer to be carried out upon its property without a permit, or license, and permitting integration in the school, works a forfeiture of its charter, the defendant having accepted its charter with the condition that a violation of any of the provisions of this charter shall subject the corporation to disqualification at the instance of the state."

Judge Chatta also noted in his opinion:

"The court is of the further opinion that in the view of the findings of the jury to the effect that Myles Horton, president of the defendant corporation, has been operating this school for his own personal gain is such a misuse of defendant's charter as works forfeiture of same."

The judge also stated in his opinion:

"The propriety of the proceedings of Judge Chatta in suppressing the 70 checks, or draft, is a mere variable issue by the defendant Highlander Folk School. That although Mays May Horton was the secretary and treasurer of the school, and did not write the checks or handle the finances of the school.

WROTE ALL CHECKS

"The president, Myles Horton, handwrote all the checks, or draft, or designated someone when he was away, to write the checks. He had used the defendant's money to pay his household's fund..."

"Horton testified that during the first years of the school he put everything into the building of the school with the idea of getting it out of the school at a later date. Horton testified that for the past few years he has been receiving a salary of some $2,000 annually. However, he was unable to produce any record of directors or executive council, having fixed his salary. The inference is that he fixed his own salary..."

"There isn't any proof that the governing officers of the defendant school has ever protested any of the acts of Horton's illegal operation of the school.

"The charter of the defendant provides: The general welfare of society, not individual profit, is the objective for which this charter is granted, and the members are not stockholders in the legal sense of the term, and no dividends or profits shall be divided among them."

Judge Chatta's opinion stated:

"The decision was not altogether unexpected since in questioning all the jurors and people in the community, the record shows, they all said that they did not believe in and many said it was against their religion for whites to sit in the same classroom."

The decision was not altogether unexpected since in questioning all the jurors and people in the community, the record shows, they all said that they did not believe in and many said it was against their religion for whites to sit in the same classroom."

"Any other action might be improper since the matter is still pending before a duly constituted court," the Nashville attorney said.

Mr. Horton said that he has talked with B. P. Bracken, dean of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga., and that a meeting of the full board of directors of Highlander will be held at the school next Tuesday night as was announced (CSP)."

Highlander School Asks ACLU To Help

MONTEAGLE, Tenn.: Feb 30—Highlander Folk School has asked the American Civil Liberties Union for help to overturn a Circuit Court decision revoking the interracial adult education center's 15-year-old general welfare charter.

This was disclosed Tuesday as members of the mountain school's board of directors gathered to decide what course to take in fighting the state action.

Myles Horton, Highlander president and one of its founders, said no decision would come from the meeting before late today or Thursday.

Horton reported the move to the ACLU, which was quoted as saying it was studying the revocation opinion issued last week by Judge Chester C. Chattin.

The judge said he would name a receiver to conclude the affairs of the controversial school, two miles from here on 300 acres.

Chattin ruled the school violated criminal law by selling beer on its premises and violated Tennessee segregation law which he said still applies to private schools. Last November a jury ruled Horton had operated the non-profit school for personal gain.

Highlander attorney Cecil Brackister of Nashville has said he will file a motion for a new trial and appeal to the State Supreme Court, necessary.

Order Formally Entered to Revoke Charter of Montague School

By: The Chattanooga Times

ALTAMONT, Tenn. — Highlander Folk School’s charter was received, and the school’s assets were transferred to another, announced by Judge Chattin, who was present at the school’s opening ceremonies.

The case dealt with the school’s violateseries of a regulation that forbade the school to operate as a profit-making institution.

The order was filed Wednesday with the Morton,飘 and the school was required to close its doors.

Meanwhile, the school’s assets will be turned over to the court, which will then distribute them to interested parties.

The order was signed by Judge
Chattin, who was present at the school’s opening ceremonies.

REDS' VICTORY DESIGN NOTED

Adm. Hayward Here For Navy Clinic

By GEORGE BURNHAM

Americans are planning a dangerous, over-simplified game of counting missiles as the only defense against the aggression of the United States Navy. Admiral John T. Hayward said here today.

Adm. Hayward, who is taking part in the city's first Navy Development Clinic at the University of Chattanooga, said it was planned to build America's most powerful and powerful, allowing for the production of better bombs on our country.

The admiral said America was overestimating the importance of the moment in comparison with a nation but worried against the idea that the nation plans to produce minimum amounts of future bombs. He added that the bomber is a part of the bomber's formation.

"Our Navy is the most modern force in the world. It is now our duty to ensure that our design for the new decade has revolutionized many previous concepts of naval warfare. Nuclear propulsion, guided missiles of long and short range, high-performance aircraft, and new revolutionary changes in ship design, particularly in submarines, have created a new Navy of great potential power, and have, at the same time, created new problems in defense and anti-submarine warfare."

"MINIMUM DELAY"

"In a time when we are engaged in a race for improved weapons, it is of primary importance that we maintain our development programs. We must develop the scientific and technological aspects of our weapons with maximum speed. We must achieve scientific breakthroughs in many unexplored fields.

The number of research and development programs that we have is broad in scope. We are sponsoring research into such diverse fields as the nature of the outer atmosphere, the forecast of Arctic regions, the propagation of sound in all media, and the behavior of light in extremely high and low temperatures. We have made an effort of development of unmanned flying platforms and vertical take-off aircraft.

Our policy in awarding research contracts is to work with those firms which have the highest competence in the field at hand. We aim for the best possible delivery for the greatest good, to the greatest extent, in the least time."

Alcatraz Vs. Southern Christian Leadership Conference

be ed by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Tennessee's controversial Highlander Folk School have joined forces to train Negro leaders for the Southern civil rights struggle.

James R. Wood, SCLC administrative assistant, said in Atlanta Thursday that 11 Negro leaders have already completed a one-week course of instruction at the school and another 15 will attend a second course in two weeks.

He said the first 11 participants were Negroes from Savannah and Montgomery, Ala. None was from Atlanta, he said.

Mr. Hunt said the course was designed primarily to instruct Negro leaders from smaller towns, who will then return home and teach local Negroes.

"They're being trained to be teachers," he said. "They are learning to teach simple reading, writing, civics, politics, economics and leadership to less educated Negroes."

Mr. Hunt emphasized that Dr. King's organization hopes the program "will quickly outgrow its beginnings" and will eventually be set up on an area-to-area basis.

The Highlander Folk School, located deep in Tennessee's Cumberland Mountains between Chattanooga and Nashville, has been involved in the past in several political controversies.

It has been stanchly defended by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, among others, but in 1960, a Tennessee state court revoked its charter after a legislative investigation revealed its illegal political activities. The court order was pending appeal of the court order.

Mr. Wood said Thursday that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference might rub off, but added: "We find no reason not to cooperate with any organization that conducts itself in a manner which is not American or patriotic."

Mr. Wood said the Highlander classes are part of a three-phase training program designed to develop Negro leadership. The other phases are "citizenship schools" to be established by the conference and "correspondence institutes" to be conducted by the conference.

"We find no reason not to cooperate with any organization that conducts itself in a manner which is not American or patriotic," Mr. Wood said.

The school said Thursday that the conference was aware that the school has been "politically controversial," but it was interested in the development of qualified Negro leaders for American citizenship.

Highlander Plan Designed To Help Negro Pass Voting Test

By LEON DANIEL

Monticello (UPI) — Highlander Folk School, a liberal outpost in the rolling Southeast Tennessee hills country, is quietly at work on a project designed to make the southern Negro's voice heard at the polls.

Highlander is training volunteer teachers, who return to their southern communities and set up schools to teach illiterate adult Negroes to read and write well enough to pass literacy tests for voting.

Horton said he is prepared to appeal the case all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court. But right now he is giving less thought to Highlander's legal problems than he is to what he calls his "citizenship schools."

In explaining how the plan works, Horton likes to talk about Johns Island, a rural area off the coast of South Carolina. Most of the people there are Negroes and very few of them, according to Horton, are literate.

"We opened a school in a community there in 1958," he said. "There were 208 Negroes living there and about 30 voted. Now more than 200 are registered and almost all of them vote."

He said that as more Negroes began voting on Johns Island and in other communities, Negroes were taught the "whole question of citizenship, not just how to vote."

"None of this has been done for the Negroes by the local whites," Horton said. "With the impetus and support of the school, taught by local volunteer teachers, they have done it themselves."

The teachers for the schools get their training at intensive workshops at Highlander. Horton said he has found that learning is accelerated "when the motivation is first class citizenship."

"The mechanics of the program were worked out by Mrs. Septima Clark, our educational director," he said. "I have been experimenting with the plan for years but she worked out the teaching details."

Highlander is financed by contributions from throughout the United States. Among the more prominent backers of the school are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, well-known theologian.

Horton said he founded the school "to teach the theory of democracy and brotherhood," and that the school's purpose has remained the same down through the years.

"In the early days, we had a congressional committee, as well as the Tennessee legislature, which was once directed to strike out charges of communism leveled against Highlander."

Horton himself has been called a "Communist. He said he is a Democrat and a Presbyterian. I'm certainly not a Communist."

He puts it this way: "If I were a Communist, I can assure you there would be a lot more Communists in Tennessee than there are now. I think I'm that good a educator."

Correspondent writes apparently in self-justification concerning her views on integration expressing a segregationist's viewpoint while stating she is not a segregationist. She asks whether integration is promoted by "communism" and then in her letter announces that she does not oppose integration but opposes communism. She encloses a clipping from a newspaper concerning the Highlander Folk School which is described as teaching volunteer teachers so that they may return to their community and in turn teach the Negro people to read and write sufficiently well so that they can pass literacy tests to vote. The newspaper article stated the School's charter was revoked for violating the state segregation laws. The case is reported to be presently under appeal. Correspondent asks whether schools of this type are training Negroes to be communists and expresses the opinion that this school's "leader and other ones have been investigated and brought to trial for Communism." She wonders who is intervening in favor of the School's leader.

Correspondent furnished an address on her letter of.

The Highlander Folk School (HFS) has been the subject of numerous allegations that it is a communist school and the headquarters of communism in Eastern Tennessee; due primarily to its racial character. These allegations have not been substantiated. The Bureau is cognizant of the numerous communist affiliations of personnel affiliated with the HFS. The Bureau has not investigated this organization.

Enclosed herewith for the Bureau and Knoxville is one copy each of opinion of USDC WILLIAM E. MILLER dated 1/11/68 regarding Tennessee General Assembly investigation of the Highlander Educational Research Center.

Enclosed opinion was made available by BRANDON LEWIS, Clerk, USDC, Nashville, Tenn., on 1/16/68, who made copies available to SA.

It is noted that the opinion in part denies the plaintiff's request that the court take steps to have a 3-judge court constituted and convened, sustains the defendant's motion to dismiss the complaint insofar as it challenges the validity of Tennessee Code, Sections 3-301 through 3-325, and enjoins a number of the defendants until further orders of the court from proceeding or acting further under the terms and provisions of joint house resolution No. 14.

The above information is being furnished the Bureau and Knoxville for the completion of their respective files.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have been told the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee, at one time was operated by certain communist elements, and for that reason the school was closed down by act of the state of Tennessee and its legislature.

Will you please tell me whether or not this school was actually closed down because of the school's subversive nature. Please also tell me if this is the same school where the song, "We Shall Overcome" was written or spawned.

Thank you very much.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Before I get to my questions, let me take this opportunity to thank you and your personnel for the service you render to this nation.

I am enclosing a copy of a picture and a statement concerning Dr. Martin Luther King. As a concerned citizen I feel that this type of information should be verified as true—or refuted if false. I hope you can help me do one or the other.

May I have the answers to the following questions:

1. Did a person by the name of Karl Prussion operate as a counter-spy for the FBI from 1947 to 1960?

2. Was the Highlander Folk School abolished by the State of Tennessee because it was a subversive organization?

3. Is the following statement by Karl Prussion accurate?

"I hereby also state that Martin Luther King has either been a member of, or willingly has accepted support from, over 60 Communist fronts, individuals, and/or organizations which give aid to or espouse Communist causes."

May I request any other information concerning Communist subversion that you are free to give to the public.

Sincerely,

ENCLOSED ATTACHED
The above picture was made by an employee of the State of Georgia, at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee during the Labor Day week-end of 1957. The photographer was sent to the Highlander Folk School by the Georgia Commission on Education. The Highlander Folk School was abolished by an act of the Legislature of the State of Tennessee at a later date because it was charged with being a subversive organization.

Those numbered in the picture are:

1. Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Montgomery boycott and the Birmingham riots. Karl Prussing, a counterspy for the FBI for twenty-two years, charges that Martin Luther King belongs to sixty Communist-front organizations — more than any Communist in the United States. He is promoted and encouraged by the Kennedys.

2. Abner W. Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

3. Aubrey Williams, President of the Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc., The Transmission Belt in the South for the Communist Party.

4. Myles Horton, Director of Highlander Folk School for Communist Training, Monteagle, Tennessee.

These "Four Horsemen" of racial agitation have brought tension, disturbance, strife and violence in their advancement of the Communist doctrine of "racial nationalism."

Dear [name],

In reply to the inquiry in your letter of September 2nd, with enclosure, concerning the Highlander Folk School, information in our files must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice. I regret I am unable to furnish the data you are seeking.

I can tell you that Karl Prussian assisted this Bureau by furnishing information on subversive activities from November, 1949, to July, 1958, during which time he was compensated; however, he was not a Special Agent. His personal ventures, his opinions and statements are strictly his own and the FBI is not in a position to comment on these in any way whatsoever.

I am enclosing literature on the general topic of communism which I trust will be of assistance to you.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am inclosing a 'copy' of a picture of Martin Luther King photographed by an employee of the State of Georgia at the Highlander Folk School. I need a verification of this picture. Is this correct? Has King been known to associate with these individuals? Was he duped, pink or red? It is most urgent for me to receive this information.

Also, I am interested because our priest in his sermon last Sunday said, "Does anyone have the guts to spend $5.00 to see the movie, 'Martin Luther King'?"

If your answers are negative to my questions, I'll crawl into a hole and shut up.

Your reply will be appreciated and please make it fast.

Thank You!

Yours truly,

P.S. I have the original picture as published in the 'Councilor', Shreveport, Louisiana. This is a photo copy.

Hart Prussian, a former F.B.I. counterespionage expert, has this to say about Martin Luther King, Jr.:

"...I further do solemnly swear and attest that...one Rev. Martin Luther King was always set forth as the individual to whom Communists should look and rally around in the Communist struggle on the many racial issues.

"...I hereby also state that Martin Luther King has either been a member of, or wittingly has accepted support from Communist fronts, individuals, and/or organizations which give aid to or espouse Communist causes, numbering over 60."

While openly preaching non-violence in Chicago this summer, Martin Luther King and his agents have been actively organizing Negro bands and planning violence. His purpose is to gather a million dollars a year from the suckers who contribute to his cause."

Dear Sir:

I am trying to find out some information about the "Highlanders" who live in our community in New Market, Tennessee. There is a school located on the Highlanders property which is supposed to be for Appalachian underprivileged children; however, none of the children from the surrounding communities attend.

It is rumored that they are a communist organization.

Mr. Mike Norton owns the property and Mr. William S. Ludwick is head of the school, the head of which is constantly guarded and only certain cars are allowed in the area.

The FBI suggested that I contact you for this information as they could not divulge any information. I would greatly appreciate any information concerning the "Highlanders", the school they run, or any other information you might be able to supply me with in this matter.

Your prompt attention will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you for your time and cooperation.

Dear [Redacted],

This is in response to your recent letter to Attorney General Kleindienst wherein you requested information concerning an organization known as "Highlanders."

In furnishing information from its files, if any is available, the Department of Justice is limited by 18 U.S.C. 2231 to servicing the Executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government in the exercise of official functions. The only authority by which the Department may characterize organizations is pursuant to Executive Order 10450, as amended, in connection with the Federal Personnel Security Program. The list of organizations designated thereunder is currently in the process of being revised and updated and, consequently, is not currently available within the Department for public distribution. I can inform you, however, that the organization mentioned above does not appear on this list.

A copy of your letter is being furnished to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for action it may deem appropriate.

Sincerely,

Review of File 61-7511 captioned, "Highlander Folk School; I.C.," disclosed that this institution, which in the past has conducted classes in labor organization, economics, and the general field of labor education, has for years been the object of public scorn and allegations that it is Pro-Communist. FBI inquiries based on these allegations were terminated 2/27/51 by the late J. Edgar Hoover who ordered that no further contacts whatsoever were to be made at the school. This action was based on a letter to Hoover from the American Civil Liberties Union dated 2/14/51, in which it was alleged that the FBI was "recently conducting an inquiry into the Highlander Folk School apparently on the grounds that interracial education is somehow subversive." Our inquiries prior to the contact ban determined that the school had had Communist Party members on its staff as instructors and had welcomed Communist Party members as students, but there was no evidence that the school was Communist dominated. The organization was never cited by the U.S. Attorney General as subversive.

Folk School Admits Parody on 'America'

Mrs. Myles Horton Acknowledges 'Song'
Printed, Distributed by School; Words Written By Former Official

SEWANEE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—Officials of the Highlander Folk School at a conference here last night acknowledged responsibility for the use of a parody on "My Country 'Tis of Thee," which appeared in a pamphlet of workers' songs distributed by the school in 1938.

Title of the parody is "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and the words were written by Dot West, who formerly was associated with the school.

The words, taken from the official publication of the school, follow:

My country 'tis of thee,
Land of the free and home of the brave.

My country 'tis of thee,
Land of our fathers for thee we fight.

Of this I sing,
Land where the workers toil,
And bosses reap their spoil.
Where children starve and freeze.
From Fall to Spring.

My native country thee,
Our fathers fought for thee,
You from a king,
And in their steps we tread,
Fighting for meat and bread,
Workers, lift up your head—
Let freedom ring!

The song was introduced by C. H. Kilby, secretary of the Grundy County Crusaders, and Mrs. Myles Horton acknowledged that it was printed at the school. This song appears with a list of workers' songs in the fourth series, 1938, price 5 cents.

LABOR SCHOOL ASKED TO MOVE
Grundy County Group Says Teachings Subversive

By United Press
TRACY CITY, Tenn., Nov. 13—The Highlander Folk School—-a labor school which recently received a contribution from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt—faced demands to say that it move from Grundy County on the grounds that its teachings are "subversive." The demands were made last night at a conference of officials of the school with leaders of the "Grundy County Crusaders," which was organized earlier in the evening for the purpose of "driving the school from the county."

A. L. Henderson, Tracy City banker and chairman of the Crusaders, charged that teachings at the school were subversive. Officials of the school, including James Dombrowski, its head, countered with the offer to move if the Crusaders could prove that "our teachings are subversive." Dombrowski said the objects of the Highlander School were to offer a workers' education program, labor extension courses and community help projects. He said no official connection, "only friendly relations," existed between Highlander and Commonwealth College of Mena, Ark., another labor school. A resolution was passed requesting the Highlander School to move from the county, because "Grundy County has received only adverse publicity" since the school's establishment and because "no beneficial, only harmful reactions," have come from the school since it was established several years ago.
'Crusaders' Renew Folk School Fight
Kilby Predicts Citizens' Group Soon to Launch New Moves in Effort to Force Highlanders Out

By JAMES D. PRATHER

New developments in the campaign of the Grundy County Crusaders to force the Highlander Folk School to leave the county are expected soon, C. H. Kilby, secretary of the organization, said yesterday.

Mr. Kilby stated he was not authorized to reveal the nature of the plans under way, but he added the "Crusaders are working night and day." He pointed out Folk School authorities have not made clear their work, although they have been given ample opportunity to do so.

The "Crusaders" formed an organization at Tracy City last week and adopted the slogan, "No ism but Americanism." A. L. Henderson, Tracy City banker, was elected president of the group. About 150 Grundy County citizens, including representatives of practically every organization in the county, attended the organization meeting.

When the "Crusaders" organized a committee of seven was appointed to confer with a committee from the Folk School in an effort to iron out their problems. The conference was held at Sewanee, on neutral ground, and many problems arising between the two groups were discussed, but no definite action was taken. The "Crusaders" averred the Folk School officials "evaded" their questions when enumerating the activities of the school.

10 CRUSADE REASONS

According to Mr. Henderson and Mr. Kilby, the "Crusaders" desire that the school be moved from Grundy County because:

1. The school is charged with fostering and advocating "un-Ameri-
CHARGE COMMUNIST TIE-UP

Folk School leaders pointed out the school is simply "a school" but the "Crusaders" are not content with this answer. "We do not object to a labor school," Mr. Henderson stated last week. "We believe they (the school authorities) are closely associated with Communist organizations and teachings."

Dr. Dombrowski declared at the Sewanee conference that the Folk School at present is the only labor school of its type in the United States. He said Commonwealth College in Arkansas, a former "labor school," had been disbanded, and that a similar school in the East had folded up.

Dr. Dombrowski has pointed out that some of the people in the community desire the school to be retained. He said a petition was being circulated for signatures. He also offered to move the school if charges could be substantiated that the school is a "detriment," if it is "un-American," and if it is "illegitimate." He said, however, that he wanted "proof" to substantiate any charge.

The school head said the major work of the school is its activities in connection with labor. "This is a new service for industrial workers," he maintained. "It is a service designed to help workers function more intelligently in their industries. Labor history and economics are taught students who enroll, he added. Collective bargaining is one of the subjects taught.

Dr. Dombrowski said students come to the school from many states. He added that an exchange student had enrolled from Mexico. Students are given six-week courses. "We have the help in these six-week courses of not only members of our staff, but outstanding labor leaders." Dr. Dombrowski said the school has the "official endorsement" of labor. Many labor groups have come to the defense of the school, he asserted.

"Our complete program is somewhat like that of a settlement house transferred to the country," Dombrowski continued. "Where difference is that changes are made to suit the needs of the community." He added:

"We have done a lot of things of a cultural nature, but our main effort is to try to raise living standards. We have not been very successful. We will admit that we need your help."

The nursery school, which gives assistance to about 13 children, and quilling, berry picking, canning and potting activities were cited as some of the accomplishments of the school in the community.

CITIZEN'S STATEMENTS

Here are some unsolicited statements from well-known people who live in the vicinity of the school who desire that it be moved:

E. W. Cheek, Tracy City, retail druggist:

"The people of the county are definitely opposed to the Folk School, and we think its influence is bad. Boys from our county have been refused jobs elsewhere because employers think they are labor agitators. We were denied a shirt factory because of the bad publicity given the county in connection with the school. The school is bad morally and in every other way. I think Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt put money in the school through ignorance. I think that is the kindest thing I can say about Mrs. Roosevelt."

Mrs. J. J. Lasater, Montagle, restaurant owner:

"I want the school and the people who are connected with it moved back where they came from."

W. H. Cox, Palmer, president of Local 5,681, United Mine Workers of America:

"I just don't believe the Folk School should be allowed to stay in Grundy County, or any other county. They should be driven back to where they came from. I don't think they have ever done anything that was any good for Grundy County. The school has been a disadvantage to the county ever since it came. The school has driven business from the county that we would have gotten."

Horace Moore, Palmer, member of the United Mine Workers of America:

"The Folk School has been a sore spot in my mind for a long time. I think the school is un-American."

No future conferences between the "Crusaders" and other Folk School heads have been announced.
Hull Listed as a Sponsor for 'Folk School' Benefit

Mrs. Roosevelt and Others Prominent in New Deal Aid Institution Which Tennessee Group Opposes.

By JOHN T. MOUTOUX, News-Sentinel Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—Secretary of State and Mrs. Cordell Hull are listed among the sponsors of a benefit to be given here the night of Dec. 6 for the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tenn.

The movement here to aid the Tennessee "labor school" is in striking contrast with the effort of a Tennessee group to drive the school out of Grundy County.

Other sponsors of the benefit include:

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Supreme Court Justice and Mrs.
Hugo L. Black,
Secretary of the Interior and Mrs.
Harold L. Ickes,
Miss Harriet Elliott of the National Defense Commission,
Sidney Hillman of the National Defense Commission,
Leon Henderson of the National Defense Commission,
Dr. John Studebaker, head of the U.S. Bureau of Education,
Federal Works Administrator John Conroy,
Former Governor and Mrs. Clifford Pinhot of Pennsylvania,
Rev. Jerry Voorhis of California, member of the Dies committee,
Rep. Lee Geyer of California, author of the bill to abolish the poll tax,
Rep. John Coffee of California, staunch friend of the TVA.

Poets to Participate

Archibald MacLeish, librarian of the Library of Congress and a noted poet, will read one of his works, "America Was Promised." A ballad poem by Katherine Garrison Chapin will be sung by Louise Burge and the Washington Choral Society. Miss Chapin is the wife of Francis Biddle, solicitor-general of the United States.

Mountain and workers' ballads, and Negro and folk songs will be sung.

Admission prices of $1.50 and $2.50 assure a considerable sum will be raised for the Highlander School.

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL,
Monteagle, Tennessee;
SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES
Dies to Get Evidence On 'Folk' School

Grundy County Crusaders Plan to Present Findings to Un-American Pro When He Visits Chattanooga

By JAMES D. PRATHER

Representative Martin Dies, of Texas, chairman of the famed House committee investigating un-American activities, will be presented evidence in connection with the operation of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle when he comes here Dec. 6 to make an address in Memorial Auditorium. The News-Free Press learned from a reliable source this morning.

The informant said members of the Grundy County Crusaders, an organization formed several weeks ago to work toward the removal of the school from Tennessee, were studying plans to present evidence they have obtained about the school to Representative Dies. It is expected a committee from the Crusaders will seek an appointment with Dies before his speaking engagement.

CRUSADERS CHARGE

The Crusaders have openly accused the school of teaching and fostering communist principles, but Dr. James Dombrowski, chairman of the school, and other school officials have hotly denied the accusations. Dr. Dombrowski stated at a conference held between a committee from the Crusaders and a committee from the school at Sewanee that Highlander would leave the state if it could be proved by the Crusaders the school is communist.

Dombrowski explained the school is maintained as a "labor school," and that union men who attend are taught how to better deal with their employers. The Crusaders, on the other hand, charge the school has prevented industry from moving to the county and that the influence of the school has prevented Grundy County youths from obtaining jobs elsewhere. Employers, the Crusaders allege, are of the opinion youths who come from Grundy County are "labor agitators."

The Crusaders fanned a flame that had been simmering for some time when they formed their organization at a mass meeting held in Tracy City. A mass march on the school had been planned, but this was abandoned. Instead, a conference was held at Sewanee, with Dr. Fleming James acting as an impartial chairman. The conference lasted four hours, but no definite plan was worked out by the groups.

A. L. Henderson, president of the Crusaders, and C. H. Kilby, secretary, have gathered a great deal of evidence about the school, and some of this was revealed at the Sewanee conference. They called especial attention to a song book published at the school which contained a paradoy on "America." The song, said in part that "America...is a land of mass misery."
MRS. FDR GIVES TO FOLK SCHOOL AGAIN

Letter to Dombrowski Rebukes Foes; May Visit.

Special To The News-Sentinel

MONTEAGLE, Tenn., Feb. 8—James Dombrowski today said that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has sent Highlander Folk School another $100 scholarship. Her letter, a copy of which was headed "THE WHITE HOUSE," was given by Dombrowski as follows: "My Dear Mr. Dombrowski: "I am sending you the same amount as I sent you last year as my contribution toward a scholarship in the Highlander Folk School.

"I have had the school checked by people in whom I have absolute confidence and am convinced that the newspaper attack and the groups which have been opposed to you are not opposed to you because of any communist activities, but because they are opposed to labor organization and, therefore, labor education. This seems to me a most unwise and short-sighted attitude and, therefore, I am continuing my support. I hope this spring to come down to see the school myself."
Junior Order Denounces Folk School

College Excoriated As 'Hotbed Of Communism'

Resolutions condemning the Highlander Folk School of Summerfield, near Monteagle, as a "hotbed of Communism" were passed yesterday by delegates of the State Junior Order of American Mechanics in annual convention here.

The group also passed an "all-out" aid to Britain resolution introduced during the afternoon session by C. H. Kilby, Junior Order member and secretary of the Cumberland County Crusaders movement which repeatedly has criticized Highlander Folk School. He also introduced the resolution against the school.

Kilby last night said he had turned over complete data to FBI agents and had given testimony before the Dies Committee at Washington, that the school was one of three in existence in the United States today advocating the formation of a "Red form of government."

"This school (Highlander) and others now located in isolated sections of North Carolina and New York are recruiting students from the 13 Southeastern states and go under the guise of a labor school," Kilby charged.

Reports of the State Council and standing committees were read at yesterday's opening session attended by 24 officers and national representatives, 68 members of the State Council and 16 new members.

ELECTION TODAY

Officers are to be elected this morning.

The group yesterday pledged $85 for the Tiffin Orphans Home at Tiffin, Ohio, sponsored by the Junior Order.

Mayor Fred Allen, Congressman John Jennings Jr. and Judge Alex Bailey, of Lenoir City, were principal speakers yesterday.

James W. Zirkle, State Councillor, will preside today.
CURE FOR BLINDNESS

NEWSPAPERS or newspaper people afflicted all at once by the day-to-day inability to see or recognize a Communist, are in a state of sudden blindness. Fortunately, it isn't contagious. As a matter of fact, it isn't even quite convincing. We recommend exercise for it, simple calisthenics which we shall call the Get-Down-Your-October, 1938-Egles-And-See-What-You-Wrote-Then treatment.

Lo, there were Communists then. Highlander Folk School was the nucleus (these three affect) of Communist enterprise, and the articles published were calculated to expose it as such. That was during its stage of incipiency. Not yet was it being openly courted as a resort of the political intelligentsia. Not yet was it being patronized in more than clandestine fashion by the "liberate" Sidney Hillman had still to effect his all-inclusive coalition, evanescing in the scales of this present blindness.

The theory of the thing apparently is that when one multiplies the Highlander outfit by four or five—mixes it with the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, the PAC, the National Farmers Union, the FEPC—suddenly it just ceases to exist for what it was, and, presto, the faintest vestige of Communism vanishes from the whole state of Tennessee!

No, that professed blindness isn't contagious. The record is there for anyone to see whose eyes are not deliberately closed. Communism has its agents in this state, for a campaign which is part of its overall effort to wrest from the people of the United States their own government. Few are blind—and even these can see if they will only look.
CIO students at folk school
 call for farmer-labor unity

MONTEAGLE, Tenn.—"Workers and farmers are allies... The common people have a common enemy... Big Business."

These were, among the comments made by CIO students as they summed up the highlights of the Third Annual Southern CIO Term held at Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., from May 6 to June 2.

Representing CIO workers in the oil, chemical, wood, textile, tobacco, rubber and laundry industries, the students sent a vigorous protest to President Truman against the union curbs he recommended to Congress.

"We feel that the action you have taken is lining yourself up with big business and capital against labor. We consider this a betrayal of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's principles and policies to which you pledged your full support."

These sentiments were also voiced by Farmers Union, CIO and AFL representatives attending a farmer-labor conference held at Highlander Folk School during the CIO term.

Homer Crabtree, secretary-treasurer of the Tennessee Farm Union, told the delegates that much of the misunderstanding between organized labor groups and the farmers resulted from "monopoly interests," which were able to keep these two groups divided by controlling the instruments of education and information.

"Actually," he said, "the interests of the two groups are the same. Farmers cannot sell their products unless the workers' wages are enough to buy them—and workers cannot keep their jobs unless farmers make enough money to buy the products industry workers make."

Techniques for carrying on effective political action in their local unions were taught the students by Joseph Gaer, editor of the CIO Political Action pamphlets, and Orvel McDonald, Tennessee CIO-PAC director.

School Gives Courses Promoting Race Amity

By Angus McDonald

HIGHLANDER FOLK SCHOOL
at Monteagle, Tenn., founded in 1932 by Myles Horton, a native Tennessean, and Don West, a Georgia poet, has a new kind of school. It has no entrance requirements, gives no credits or degrees, and tailors its courses to fit the needs of the students and their problems.

For example, last year, after the Tennessee race riots, the school gave courses devoted to promoting understanding and cooperation between Negroes and whites. The school regularly provides instruction in labor, history, economics, parliamentary law, labor-management contracts, journalism and folk music.

Horton and West from the very beginning decided that one of the main things the South was doing was training both Negroes and whites to live and work together. They were assisted in their early efforts by Dr. Lillian W. Johnson, an able elderly lady from Memphis, who donated 300 acres of land and a log cabin.

Zilphia was in Washington not long ago on a fund-raising expedition and brought with her a custom-made stringed instrument called a "harmonica."

"I looked for a harmonica for years," she said. "Finally I found one 'way back in the Tennessee mountains. An old man taught me to play it and gave it to me, making me promise to teach someone else how to play it. He said that playing the harmonica was becoming a lost art, and that no one in his community took any interest in it."

Several years ago the school started giving courses on setting up farmer and consumer cooperatives. Attempts also were made to break down the traditional city-country antagonism. Myles says we can never have a functional democracy unless farmers and industrial workers learn to understand each other.

Staff Expanded

Gradually the school has expanded its staff, and now has seven regular teachers besides calling in specialists in various fields to give instruction. The school is gaining a national reputation. Stetson Kennedy, author of "Southern Exposure," says it has tremendous influence in breaking down race hatred in the South.

This summer, courses were given at Highlander by James Patton, president of the National Farmers Union; Aubrey Williams, publisher of Southern Farmer and J. C. McAmis, agricultural director of TVA.

Patton suggested that farmer-labor cooperation would help both those in the city and the country. He gave as an example a Farmers Union dairy organization which is dealing directly with workers in a milk processing plant in Tennessee.

In September Highlander School is holding another two-week course on soil conservation and farmer cooperatives.

There is reason to believe that Highlander has made a great impression on Negroes as well as whites. Recently a Negro scoutmaster in Chattanooga, after talking to Myles Horton, said:

"I'd like to bring my Boy Scout troop up to Highlander just to show them that such a thing does exist and that there are white Southerners without prejudice. We wouldn't other you any. We could camp in the woods and just look into the windows once in awhile. It meant so much to me because I could understand them while they're growing up."

FBI Stirs Trouble For Tennessee School

Monticello, Tenn., March 16
The FBI agents have come here to investigate the progressive Highlander Folk School and by the questions they have made public in the Cumberland Mountains, they have stirred the first opposition in over a decade to the interracialism which the school practices.

By night the FBI has stood watch over the school, and by day it has interrogated the people of the neighborhood, raising questions related to Communism and the presence of Negro students.

Horton, the school's director, has wondered why the FBI would be interested in his school. The school is both Communist and interracial. Some people have wondered why the FBI would be interested in his school.

In the early thirties, when the Highlander School was started, it was a place of refuge for people who had been driven from their homes by the Ku Klux Klan. The school offered a place of refuge and support for those who were victims of racial violence.

The FBI agents have been investigating the school for several weeks, and have found nothing to indicate that the school is engaging in any illegal activities. However, the agents have raised questions about the school's educational programs and its relationship to the Communist Party.

The school has been raising money to expand its facilities and to provide more educational opportunities for its students. The FBI's interest in the school has led to some concern among the students and faculty. However, the school remains committed to its mission of educating and empowering the marginalized.

In June, the school will host a conference on the topic of community organizing and social justice. The conference will bring together activists from around the country to discuss strategies for building strong communities.

The school continues to be a hub of activity and innovation, with classes in subjects ranging from folk music to black history. The school's mission is to empower ordinary people to take action for change and to build a better world.
Highlander Nursery School Open

Dear Editor:

It has been called to my attention that one statement is misleading in your April 24th picture story on the Highlander Folk School. The caption states that the nursery has been discontinued since FBI agents appeared in Monteagle, and that "simply to impress the school is objectionable to the Federal government."

The FBI agents have made it more difficult to get financial support for the nursery school, but the nursery school was only temporarily closed and will continue with the help of our friends.

INTEGRATION AIM

Local Level Approach Best,
Negro Educator Tells Workshop Group

Special to The Chattanooga Times
MONTEAGLE, Tenn., Aug. 24

The grass roots approach to meeting and solving the problems of integration was supported here today by Dr. F. D. Patterson, former president of Tuskegee Institute, speaking to one of the final sessions of an integration workshop at Highlander Folk School.

The Negro educator seemed to favor this system as opposed to any form of imposed or enforced methods.

Publicity on many of the incidents in the South, he noted, has awakened the public to the need for improved relations.

Dr. Patterson, now an official of the Phelps-Stokes Foundation, spoke during a session this morning. The afternoon was devoted to a discussion of the integration program at West Virginia State College near Crawford. Formerly a Negro college with a normal enrollment of 800 to 1,000, the school reportedly has a current enrollment of approximately 1,500, about half of the student body being white. Elijah Baker, a Negro student from the college, said the integration program was proceeding without difficulty.

The workshop will be concluded tomorrow afternoon. Some 45 to 50 persons from a half dozen Southern states have been participating, according to Myles
Horton, director. About 25 are Negro and the remainder white students.

Why They 'Visited' Highlander

Last July a group of foreign visitors sponsored by the State Department's International Cooperation Administration turned up at the disreputable Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn.

Since the school has such an unsavory reputation, its current director having been called before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and then having been ejected because of his bad conduct, a letter having been described as a Communist and the institution standing for such an extreme brand of leftist, a great many people wondered why the State Department was spending American taxpayers' money to show off the Highlander Folk School to foreign visitors.

The News-Free Press asked the question editorially.

A local reader clipped the editorial, and sent it to a Mr. Lincoln White, acting head of the State Department news

Mr. White has now given a clear explanation, and assurance that steps have been taken to prevent such a "slip up" in the future.

Mr. White explained it this way:

"This group was on an International Cooperation Administration-sponsored trip the itinerary of which did NOT include the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle. However, one member of the group, a Netherlands technician, requested that the group make a brief visit to the school. The ICA leader of the group, unaware of the criticism that previously had been leveled at this school, agreed to the diversion and the group DID go there as stated in the Free Press editorial.

"As a result of this incident the ICA has reinforced its instructions to the leaders of such groups as they go into the field on these trips that under no circumstances are they to alter the approved itinerary for the trip without prior consultation with ICA headquarters in Washington. This, we are assured, will obviate future difficulties of this kind."
Mississippi Senator Reports on Studies
By T. GRADY GALLANT

"I'm in thorough agreement with the Internal Revenue Service action making donations to Highlander Folk School, Mont-eagle, Tenn., no longer deductible items on federal income tax returns. Sen. James O. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee told the News-Free Press today.

The senator was contacted in Mississippi for comment on reported efforts by Myles Horton, president of the school, to get Highlander Folk School's exempt status reinstated.

"The Highlander Folk School has been under study by our committee for some time," the Mississippi senator said.

Horton appeared before the subcommittee, which was holding hearings mainly dealing with the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., in March, 1954.

At this hearing, conducted by Sen. Eastland, Horton was questioned when he refused to answer a question concerning James Dombrowski, a former Highlander Folk School staff member.

Horton reported at the time that the U.S. marshals who ousted him "tried to throw me down like a bag of meal," and that they twisted his arm.

STATUS LOST

Highlander lost its status with the Internal Revenue Service effective Sept. 30, 1954. The ruling letter to Horton was de-

His status was both granted and taken away under Section 501 (c)3 of the Internal Revence Code, which reads:

"Corporations, and any com-community chest, fund or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, testing for public safety, literary or educational purposes, or fire prevention, or cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net income of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, no substantial part of the activities which is carrying on propaga-da or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and which does not participate in, or intervene (including the publishing or distribution of statemants), any political campaign on behalf of any candidate of public office."

The Internal Revenue Service said that the Folk School does not meet requirements outlined above.

At the hearings in New Orleans, there was testimony by Paul Crouch, now dead, who said he had been a member of the Negro commission of the central committee of the Communist party, the agricultural commission of the Communist party, and a member of the central committee of the Communist party and Tennessee district organizer of the Communist party with headquarters in Knoxville.

The following exchange took place under cross-examination of Crouch about a meeting at Highlander Folk School. Crouch answered:

"The meeting was at the Highlander Folk School and preventing was Mr. Horton. Mr. James Dombrowski Ed McRea
the Nashville organizer of the Communist party and member of the (Communist) bureau and, later, my successor as Tennessee organizer."

Crouch testified that this was in 1949. In response to this meeting, Crouch testified: "I stated that the Communist party was anxious to get the maximum results from Highlander Folk School without endangering Mr. Horton, or anyone."

Durr then asked: "The maximum result. What kind of result?"

Crouch answered: "The res-tul to which I referred were if it were to become public knowledge that the Highlander Folk School was cooperating too closely with the Communist party and carrying on too much open propaganda that it would derogate its funds and support and the Communist party recognized that this would be harmful to the school and to the party. However the party did wish to utilize the school for purposes of recruiting."

TESTIMONY

"It was the desire of the Communist party not to endanger the school by any activities that would identify it too openly and at the same time that the Communist party wished to work out a program of coordination wherby revolutionary results would be obtained from the school and agreements were made on that point."

This material was on the records of the hearing in New Or-lleans.

Charges Race Strife Plot

Atlanta, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, under cover agent for the Georgia Education Commission, headed by Gov. Marvin Griffin, told the Commission today that Southern Negro leaders have plotted "racial agitation." Griffin disclosed that he had sent an undercover agent to infiltrate the meeting.

T. V. Williams, head of the commission, said the Monteagle meeting was attended by Negro leaders of the bus boycott at Tallahassee, Fla., by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., who directed the Negro bus boycott at Montgomery, Ala., and by alleged "merchant boycott" leaders from Tuskegee, Ala.

Williams said a number of persons whom State Attorney General Eugene Cook had labeled as having Communist affiliations also attended the Monteagle meeting.

Griffin said he called the commission into session so that the people of Georgia will know where some of the South's racial trouble originates and to prevent a "narrow-minded" policy of urging black people to "live and let live and not disturb racial harmony."
Sympathizers are many —

Red strength in U. S. shouldn’t be measured by card-carrying group

By Edwin Strickland, News staff writer

Congressional committees investigating Communist activities in America have repeatedly found that while card-carrying Communists in this country is small, the more numerous supporters of Red "fronts" offer the real problem.

Whether these supporters are innocent tools, used for purposes of communism, or whether they knowingly contribute their talents and efforts, seem of little moment. These congressional findings have been supported from time to time by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hoover recently released the information that there are only 17,360 actual members of the Communist Party in the United States. That is a drop of nearly 15 per cent from a year earlier.

Hoover warned, however, that the party's strength should not be discounted on the basis of its decreasing membership.

Five weeks ago there gathered at the Highlander Folk School, in Monteagle, Tenn., a most interesting array of persons from several states for what was announced as an integration workshop and seminar.

Included among those in attendance were some who have long been labeled as Communist Party members or leaders—by competent congressional committees.

But no less interesting were some of the other delegates whose names have long been associated with ultra liberal movements and Communist "fronts" for many years:

The Georgia Commission on Education has just unleashed a blast at Highlander Folk School as a "Communist training school."

SIMULTANEOUSLY with the Georgia investigation, Atty. Gen. John Patterson, of Alabama, had agents at the school. Of prime interest to Alabama and to Patterson were the several Alabama people who were either photographed at the school or were known to be associated with it.

at the workshop or are listed as holding official positions with the school.

Patterson's investigators list five persons from Alabama as being connected officially with the school on its executive board. They are Dr. Charles Comilllon, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute; Dr. Lewis B. Williams, and the Rev. Life Council, Tuskegee, J. E. Pierce, Alabama College at Montgomery; Rosa Parks, one of the leaders of the Montgomery bus boycott, and Audrey Williams, a Montgomery publisher.

Williams is a white man, with an impressive list of associations with liberal groups, some of which have been officially declared to be Communist fronts.

Other Alabama people taking part in the Labor Day weekend workshop included Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery bus boycott leader, and Rev. Abernathy, also a Montgomery integration leader.

TO THE finding of the Georgia Commission on Education, Rev. King, who has won worldwide recognition for direction of the Montgomery boycott, led a "March on Washington" to protest segregation. Bayard Rustin, according to the commission's findings, helped lead the march.

Bayard Rustin was listed by the Communist newspaper "Daily Worker" as having attended the 1937 convention of the Communist Party U. S. A. A subsequent publication also identified Rustin as secretary to Rev. Martin Luther King.

Dr. Gomillion, who has been the Tuskegee boycott of merchants in protest over recent legislation considered by the Negro population in Tuskegee as restrictive, was photographed at the workshop.

The investigatory group lists Dr. Gomillion as a signor of a protest statement against the Communist Party in America, and as having active in the Negro Youth Congress, which is listed as Communist front by Dr. King. "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," published in 1937 by the American Committee on Civil Rights, contained information about the U.S. House of Representatives.

Dr. Gomillion, the George commission charged, has lent his name and support to other similar groups.

Neither Dr. Jones nor Pierce was listed as present at the workshop, though they are listed as members of the school's executive board.

NOW LET'S TURN to the most interesting personality of them all - Aubrey Williams, publisher of a farm magazine in Montgomery, has denied before congressional committees that he is a Communist.

He was appointed by President Roosevelt as director of the National Youth Administration. He was also one of the early leaders of Highlander Folk School.

His associations, often in role of leadership, in Communist fronts, is a long one and extends over a period of 20 years.

The following is a list of organizations with which he has been connected, as listed in the government's official list of Communist front organizations:

American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, sponsor of conference, October, 1949.

American Youth Congress, speaker on two or more occasions.

Civil Rights Congress, speaker.

Committee for Peaceful Alternatives to the Atlantic Pact, sponsor.

American Conference for Peace, sponsor.

National Citizens Emergency Relief Committee to Aid Strikers, sponsor.

New York City Council of the American Youth Congress, speaker, 1938.

Progressive Citizens of America, board of directors.

Workers Alliance (paid tribute to).

Williams is also a former director of Southern Regional Council, Inc., organized in Atlanta and now operating interracial councils in 12 Southern States, including Alabama.

The group was identified in testimony before a Louisiana legislative committee this year as a "Southern Red front.

Nine of the current directors of the organization were formerly affiliated with the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.

OF THE SOUTHERN Conference Education Fund, which Williams has headed since its beginning, the Senate internal security subcommittee in 1955, said in part that it was "utilized as a adjunct of the South-
"After the exposure of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare as a Communist front, it began to wither and was finally dissolved, but the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. continued."

The Senate committee also found that "The Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc., is operating with substantially the same leadership and purpose as its predecessor organization, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare."

Dr. Gomillion, of Tuskegee, has served with the Southern Conference Educational Fund, and is one of eight current directors of the Southern Regional Council, Inc., who have been affiliated with the Southern Conference Education Fund, according to "Firing Line," published by the National Americanism Commission, The American Legion.

Despite his protestations, Williams was named in testimony before the Senate Committee in 1954 as a member of the Communist Party.

The Highlander Folk School, current object of investigation by officials of both Alabama and Georgia, was brought into testimony before the Senate sub-committee on internal security in 1954, by Paul Crouch, admitted top Communist Party functionary in the South before renouncing the Reds.

Paul Crouch: "The Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monteagle, Tenn., ostensibly as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party."
Workshop glows red—

Communist influence sharpens in race row—

BY EDWIN STRICKLAND
News staff writer

Is there any significance in the fact that four of the leaders in recent Alabama racial incidents were much in evidence at the Labor Day Weekend integration workshop at red-tinged Highlander Folk School?

In yesterday's article it was pointed out that Rev. Martin Luther King, Rosa Parks and Rev. Abernathy, all leaders in the Montgomery bus boycott, and Dr. Charles Comlion, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute and leader of the Tuskegee boycott, all took part in the three-day program at Monticello, Tenn.

Third in a series

Who were some of their associates at the workshop? Let's look at a few along with their past performances.

ABNER W. BERRY, a writer for the Communist "Daily Worker" and identified as a member of the Communist Central Committee. As such, he represents one of the powerful Negro Red leaders in the country.

Berry reported the racially integrated meeting in his column in "The Daily Worker" on Sept. 10.

In one photograph taken during the workshop by undercover agents for Alabama AFTV Gen. John Patterson and for the Georgia Commission on Education, Berry is shown in a study group with Rev. King, Aubrey Williams and Myles Horton, school director.

ANOTHER personality at the school was Pete Seeger, a New York musician and listed by "The Daily Worker" in 1949 as a participant in the New York State Youth Board of the Communist Party.

The mere presence at the seminar of two Communist personalities such as Berry and Seeger would indicate that it had the flavor of an American brand of Communism.

Before a congressional committee in 1953, Heeger took the Fifth Amendment when questioned about his Communist Party membership.

He has gotten probably as much mention in "The Daily Worker" as any of the country's second-string Commie leaders.

Since 1941, Seeger has had scores of associations and roles with the Communist apparatus in America. Few have been more active in so many Communist "fronts" and in behalf of the Communist Party itself.

At the Highlander Folk School five weeks ago, Seeger was in his most familiar role as an entertainer.

The following is a selected list of his activities. The entire list of 66 known incidents would be too lengthy to report here. Almost all of his activities have been faithfully reported by "The Daily Worker."

Once during 1946 and three times during 1949, Seeger was listed as an entertainer and participant in activities of the Communist Party in New York:

American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, 1949.

FROM CHICAGO to attend the workshop was John B. Thompson, chaplain at the Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago.
Thompson's affiliations over the past two decades read like an index of organizations identified with the Communist fronts and other groups listing the same personnel, in general as the Red front.

Thompson has always been found springing to the defense of the Communist Party and of Reds who run afoul of American laws. He has lent his name to petitions protesting the deportation of Harry Bridges, West Coast Communist in the longshoremen's union.
Thompson was also in the forefront of a welcoming committee in 1948 for the "Red Dean of Canterbury," when the latter visited Chicago.
AGAIN IT WAS Thompson who spoke out against the conviction of 11 Communist leaders in 1949, and was quoted in the "Daily Worker.
He was a vice president of the deep crimson "Southern Conference for Human Welfare.
Thompson joined in the effort to save the atomic spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, from the death sentence imposed in 1952.
Other affiliations include dozens of organizations officially listed as Communist dominated.
The Georgia Commission on Education commented of Thompson that "it is incredible that any man with the record of Communist affiliations like that of John B. Thompson could long remain as chaplain or pastor to students in a non-Communist institution."

THE REV. Maurice McCracken, of The Neighborhood House, 901 Findlay-St, Cincinnati, Ohio, attended the school. Pictured at the school was a station wagon bearing the description "Findley Street Neighborhood House."
An investigator from Cincinnati, present at the -leasing of the Georgia Commission on Education last week, said the organization is supported by Community Chest funds.
The Georgia investigative group said it included the picture in the record of its hearings for the purposes of "illustrating how many units of Communist apparatus are assisted by organisations purportedly charitable or religious in nature."
Another organization, known as Friends of Koinonia Farms, lists its address as 901 Findlay-St, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Koinonia Farms, located at Americus, Ga., has been the scene of recent violence and boycotts. It is operated on a socialized, integrated basis. Its leader, Conrad Browne, was in attendance at the Highlander workshop.
No report on Highlander Folk School would be complete without an introduction to Donald L. West of Atlanta, Ga., who was one of the school's organizers.
He was not reported present at the integration workshop, but a look at his background in light of his leadership of the school, might be in order.

THOUGH WEST has never acknowledged Communist Party membership, he was identified as a member of the party in a 1947 report of a committee of the U. S. House of Representatives which was investigating the Southern Conference for Human Welfare.
West has written articles for "The Pilot" a publication of the National Maritime Union. The publication is officially listed as being Communist controlled.

In the best tradition of all the known Southern Reds or "pinks," West was active in both the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, and the People's Institute of Applied Religion. Both have been identified as Red fronts.

HE IS LISTED as a contributor to "New Masses," a Communist publication, and was a member of the National Wallace for President Committee.
His other affiliations include:
American Peace Mobilization, 1941.
Educators for Wallace, 1948.
Mother Bloor Celebration Committee.
National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, 1946.
National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, 1942.
Open Letter to Harry Bridges, signer, 1942.

Georgia lawmen ask—

Is race strife Commie plan?

BY EDWIN STRICKLAND, News staff writer

A MAST ERP PLAN, Soviet-inspired, behind the racial incidents so widespread in America today? If the two are connected, how close is the association, and can it be revealed?

These were the two major questions put before the Georgia Commission on Education when it was created by the Georgia Legislature in 1953 and given judicial powers.

The committee has made its first major report based upon an investigation of The Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tenn.

Why should a Georgia investigative group fire its first guns at a Tennessee institution?

Because, said the committee's executive secretary, T. V. Williams Jr., the commission believes racial strife and tensions are part of a Communist plan to subvert America.

One of the organizers of the school in 1932, was, and is, President of Atlanta. He is Donald L. West. Three members of the school's present executive committee list Georgia addresses.

Alabama is represented on the school's executive body by the persons of Aubrey Williams, Montgomery publisher; Dr. Charles Compton, dean of students, Tuskegee Institute; J. E. Pierce, of Alabama State College, Montgomery; Dr. Lewis Jones, Rural Life Council, Tuskegee, and Rosa Parks, one of the leaders of the Montgomery bus boycott.

This list was compiled by investigators for Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson who spent several days at the school. The list is not identical with one compiled by the Georgia Commission on Education. The latter group, however, listed the board members as it was on Oct. 30, 1956.

The earlier list carried only the names of Dr. Lewis Jones and Williams from Alabama.

The Georgia group compiled records from many sources. From the weight of these, the commission unhesitatingly labeled the school "part of the Communist apparatus in America."

Before going further it might be well to examine the makeup of the Georgia Commission on Education which vows to make known what it calls the Communist conspiracy.

Heading the list is Gov. Marvin Griffin, chairman, and Lt. Gov. Ernest S. Vandiver, vice chairman.

The remainder of the board is:

Robert O. Arnold, chairman of the Board of Regents;

Whitman Jr., chairman, State Board of Education;

M. D. Collins, state school superintendent; Herman Caldwell, chancellor University System; B. D. Murphy, chairman, Judicial Council;

J. E. Corrigan Bell, of the Georgia Bar Assn.; Colbert Hawkins, general counsel, and each of the state's 10 U. S. congressmen.

These congressmen are:

George B. Smith H. Frank B. Bell, Mrs. Charles B. Crisp, Harvey C. Cutts, Miss Ira Jarrell, Mark Smith, J. Battle, Herbert Sapp, John S. Wald and Roy V. Harris.

Recover Agents for the commission were at the Monticello school over the Labor Day weekend when a three-day "integration workshop" was held there. They remained in contact with the school and the scene until Thursday night of the past week.

The commission's report made Friday in Atlanta included scores of pictures purporting to show during the integration workshops.

These pictures show attendance, practically every order of race incidents in Georgia since 1954. They also show pictures of unprivileged Negroes who have been identified by congressional investigating committees as Communist "fronts".

The commission compiled a list of names of persons and associations of various persons involved in independence at Highlander Folk School during the Labor Day weekend seminar.

The list includes:

- Abraham Lincoln School
- American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born
- American Committee for Yugoslavia Relief
- American Continental Congress for World Peace
- American Crusade to End Lynching
- American Folk Arts Group
- American Peace Mobilization
- American-Soviet Music Society

Racial events in South following Red pattern

BY EDWIN STRICKLAND
News staff writer

In 1928 a self-avowed Communist spokesman wrote a pamphlet which he called "American Negro Problems." The writer, John Pepper, with many aliases, drew a pattern of events today that are familiar to the point of being amazing.

Fourth of a series

After reading his pamphlet, one would be led to believe that he was either a man possessing clairvoyant powers, or that we have moved unerringly along the path long ago planned for the South by Lenin, Stalin and other Reds.

In this pamphlet Pepper admitted, almost bitterly, that there was too much racial harmony in the South. He presented a blueprint for ending this harmony.

PEPPER PRESENTED as a prelude to his pamphlet what he said were "the principal demands for the oppressed Negro masses as embodied in the platform of the Workers (Communist) Party of America".

1. Abolition of the whole system of race discrimination. Full racial, political and social equality for the Negro race.
2. Abolition of laws which result in segregation of Negroes. Abolition of all Jim Crow laws. The law shall forbid all discrimination against Negroes in selling or renting houses.
3. Abolition of all laws which disfranchise the Negroes.
4. Abolition of all laws forbidding intermarriage of persons of different races.
5. Abolition of all laws and public administration measures which prohibit, or in practice prevent, Negro children or youth from attending general public schools or universities.
6. Full and equal admittance of Negroes to all railway stations, restaurants, hotels and theaters.
7. Federal law against lynching and the protection of the Negro masses in their right of self-defense.

8. Abolition of discriminatory practices in courts against Negroes.
9. Abolition of the convict lease system and of the chain gang.
10. Abolition of all Jim Crow distinctions in the Army, Navy and Civil Service.
11. Immediate removal of all restrictions in all trade unions against the membership of Negroes.
12. Equal opportunity for employment, wages, hours, and working conditions for Negro and white workers. Equal pay for equal work for Negro and white workers.

Many of these points have long since been realized with the full cooperation of the majority of Southern leaders. It's typical of the Communist Party that it includes in its activities all things which almost everyone can agree as just and equitable.

The purpose of this enumeration of Communist aims here is to show a parallel with the 25-year-old policy of the Highlander Folk School, in Monteagle, Tenn., and how it has worked toward these goals.

In the July, 1956 issue of "Highlander Reports," an publication of the racially intermixed school, the executive council said:

"The immediate and challenging task confronting those who desire a democratic South is integration."

The programming of the school's activities for 1957 was then announced:

Twelve integration workshops.

Twenty-four weeks of extension courses.

The announced purpose of these is to train integration leaders in the South.

How well the school has succeeded can be seen from a look at the leaders of all the major racial incidents. All have now, or in the past have had, training at the school.

As late as Feb. 20, 1957, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, U.S. Treasury Department, Washington, D.C., took a look at the school's activities and at its tax-exempt status, and ruled that contributions to the school will not in the future be exempt from income tax.

"This decision was based upon a finding that "your staff and students have participated in strikes at various places. It is shown that your activities also include promoting certain reforms through organized action programs and other means, as evidenced by the following, which was expressed in one of your annual reports:

"Our purpose is deliberately to use education for the realization of certain social and cultural values. We do not consider other education any less propaganda, because the teachers are ignorant of the fact that they are supporting an unethical STATUS QUO, that our approach which conscientiously seeks to bring about a more just social order..."

Myles Horton, the school's present director and one of the founders, is now strong in advocating placid compliance with the South to the integration edict. But let us look at his actions prior to the 1954 decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, when the "separate but equal" school doctrine was still the law of the land.

In a seminar discussion on integration problems held in January, 1957, the joint-executive council of the school, and consultants, made it very clear that the work of the school toward integration did not wait on the Supreme Court decision.

SEPTIMA CLARK, Negro teacher who was fired in South Carolina and is now on the faculty of Koinonia, a school in Monticello, Tenn. She deplored the fact that one of the students who began the integration move there, had been taken out of school by her parents.

That meeting set the goal for the integration workshops this year, with the announced purpose of training 100 integration leaders a month.

Writing in the North Central Association Quarterly, in 1956, Horton, who was then listed as education director of the United Packinghouse Workers Union, expressed his feeling about labor's part in the race struggle:

"With organized labor and public education united in vision and in daily operations we would be in a position to make Democracy a reality."

"No longer would distinction of classes, of race, and religion be tolerated. The schools could rise to the challenge of the day and help in the creation of an army of democracy rooted in the struggles and traditions of the American people, an army so vast and so determined that nothing un-democratic could stand in its path."

To get back to the most recent workshop, an announcement from the school, said: "Progress reports, will be made from such key areas in the South as Clinton, Tenn., Koinonia Farm, an inter-racial Christian community at Americus, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala., and Tallahassee, Fla. Workshops will consider the implications of integration for church groups, educators, trade unions, business and industry and community and civic organizations."

The announcement made yesterday by the Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery on "The Look to the Future," and, by Aubrey Williams, Montgomery publisher, on "A New Dealer Looks at the Present.

Something apparently fell through on the Birmingham report. Undercover agents who attended the session reported they could not identify any known integration leader from Birmingham.

King later outlined in his talk what he said were the three major periods in the Negro's rise to what he called "complete integration."

Williams did not see complete integration. He lashed hard at Southern leaders who oppose complete compliance with integration orders, but noted that "the South seems bent upon refusing to give any ground whatsoever.

He said further that "moreover, we are moving steadily in the direction of more rigid and wider denials. We are going to new lengths in establishing the rigidity of separation."

Williams lashed at Southern senators, governors and other leaders for what he said was a stand "little short of insanity." He damned Atty. Gen. John Patterson for what he called seizure of records of a citizens organization whose activities are limited to protesting a law which had wiped out their right to vote.

Attended to Patterson's seizure of records of a Negro group at Tuskegee, led by Charles Gomillion, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute, which boycotted white merchants.

Williams concluded that the course being followed by the South could lead to "armed rebellion," and plunge the South again into war.

Here's a partial program of the Labor Day week-end integration workshop, as announced by the school.

Review of records shows Reds fanned South's racial strife

BY EDWIN STRICKLAND

News staff writer

The race issue in America today is "top priority" for our home-grown Reds and their Soviet advisers.

The Negroes and whites caught in the destructive whirlpool of strife and emotions are pawns in the Communist master plan which has been spun as a facade, as a reality, by the Reds themselves.

These conclusions are inescapable to one who takes the time and effort to look behind the scenes and see who is arranging the stage settings.

This is a series.

Also inescapable is the fact that some call for action to good Americans who have always been taught that Democracy is rule of the majority.

The shattering truth that has demonstrated itself time and time again is that the unorganized majority is voiceless and without the means of making its will felt. It is the highly organized militant few who often make the rule of the many.

Chief among those militant minorities is the Communist Party U.S.A., and the literal "Jew-Zionists" behind which it disguises itself.

Communism in America has many faces.

Responsible Southern leaders speak sincerely when they charge that behind Southern race incidents loom the crimson shadow of International Communism.

Previous articles in this series have attempted to explore the role for these charges. The findings are clear: The Communists and their fellow travelers have seized upon a situation of their own making to bring strife and divide the country's strength at a time when our national security hangs delicately in the balance.

Several states have undertaken to ferret out the Reds behind race incidents. Some fault has been laid directly at the door of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which has been barred from activity in Alabama and several other states.

But the fault goes much deeper than the NAACP, the facts indicate.

1. SOME LEADERS say we have been protecting too many "sacred cows" disguised under patriotic and religious labels.

2. Fully half of the officially labeled Communist fronts go under names which begin with the word "American." A large percentage begin with the words "Christian" or "Religious" or some other word indicating the group to be religious in character.

3. Congressional hearings and numerous official investigations have established the fact that the Communists seek anonymity in high-respectored organizations, then work from within to change the character and purpose of those organizations to make them fit into Communist plans.

4. Labor unions, cooperatives, civic and patriotic groups, educational institutions, charitate organizations and even churches have been infiltrated by Reds and their "yes men."

5. These facts are known to agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and often by leaders of the infiltrated groups. Only when an informed membership can stop such use of their organizations by the Reds.

How can you tell whether an organization to which you belong is Red-infected, or is that danger of becoming so?

1. Look behind its high-sounding statement of purposes and see whether it is really working for American ideals.

2. Read the list of its sponsors, organizers, donors and board of directors. If you find there are names of persons known to have connections with "front groups" it would justify you to look further.

3. If the end result of the policies of the organization would be strife or disorder, or would give aid and comfort to the enemies of our society, you're striking pay dirt.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia charged that Communists are "preying upon members of both races" in creating discord. He has avowed to expose what he calls the entire Communist conspiracy behind the race issue.

ALABAMA's attorney general, John Patterson, said his investigations have disclosed connections between race hoycots in Montgomery and Tuskegee, and the Highlander Folk School in Montegale, Tenn., which has been called "a Communist training school." by the Georgia Commission on Education.

The school, through its own publications, stated that its field agents worked in almost every Southern city where race incidents have occurred.

The 23rd annual report of the school listed its "accomplishments" of the past 12 months. It listed 11 residential workshops, dealing with everything from labor union activity to the United Nations. In "Public School Desegregation Workshop."

The report also stated that field agents of the school had worked in integration problems in Charleston, S. C., Columbia, S. C.,蒙克's Corner, S. C., Tuskegee, Ala., Knoxville, Tenn., Oak Ridge, Tenn., Chattanooga and Nashville.

In Tuskegee, later the scene of a merchants boycott, the field agents met with school teachers, clergymen, NAACP leaders, civic association representatives and Tuskegee students to analyze deadlock between white and Negro communities and discuss possible solutions.

To a lower floor, according to the field workers' reports, they met with NAACP leaders.

At Johns Island, S. C., May 25, 1955, Highlander representatives participated in an all day panel discussion on the subject:

1. Why should Negroes becrastated?
2. The causes for other races to overlook Negroes.
3. The right for less than 50 per cent of colored citizens in South Carolina not to vote?
4. Does the buying power of the Negro, when widely used, bring about a condition?

THE HIGHLANDER PROJECT would not be an economic boycott, such as occurred in Tuskegee.

The activities of the school staff, which make up the report of the school this year:
1. Testimonial dinner for Judge J. Wallace Warrenton, Charleston, S. C.
2. Staff Conference, Camp Hill Folk School, Brastown.
4. The Southern Conference Educational Fund, Charleston, S. C.

At least one of the above-mentioned, the Southern Conference Educational Fund, has a Communist background.

The report also noted that meeting with Highlander fund raising committees on the West Coast made it possible for staff members to speak to classes at the University of California and the University of Washington.

"During visits to Chicago and New York for similar meetings staff members spoke at the University of Chicago, Columbia University, Sarah Lawrence and New York University."

It must be well to note here that white funds for the school are raised nationwide, "scholarships" are offered only to Negroes who wish to provide leadership along the lines taught at the school.

In July 1956, the Highlander-Report headlined its front sheet with:

WE WILL EDUCATE FOR INTEGRATION IN OUR RESIDENCE SESSIONS, IN OUR FIELD PROGRAM, IN OUR COMMUNITY.

It started off the report by saying:

"The immediate and challenging barrier to Democracy in the South is segregation.

"The immediate and challenging task confronting those who desire a democratic South is integration."

In other words, the school's chief aims in 1956, were identical to the stated aims of the Communist Party, U. S. A., in 1928.

The school likes to crow about what it calls accomplishments in areas where racial incidents have occurred. It publishes sheets called "The Story of John Island" and "The Montgomery Story," as examples.

THE MONTGOMERY story, as told by the publication, has Rosa Parks deciding her people "are not going to take it any more" and thus kicking off the bitter bus boycott.

It is interesting to note that almost every place that staff members of Highlander did field work in 1955, have become the scene of racial incidents.

In Tuskegee the issue is still unsettled. It is led there by Charles G. Gomillion, dean of students at Tuskegee. Gomillion is on the board of Highlanders, as is Rosa Parks. Gomillion is also listed as a sponsor for the Southern Conference Educational Fund.

His other affiliations, most of them officially listed as Communist fronts, are as follows:

W. E. B. DuBois Testimonial Committee, sponsor, 1931. (DuBois, honorary head of NAACP, holds the distinction of having literally hundreds of Communist fronts associations - more than any other organization.

Southern Conference Educational Fund, member of board of directors, 1956.

Southern Negro Youth Congress, member of board of directors, 1947. (Officially listed as Communist front.)

Are Negroes being victimized by their own organization, the NAACP, as part of a Red plan in America? Maybe so, maybe not.

The fact is, however, that 10 of the members of the NAACP's national board of directors, each have more than 23 to 37 known associations with Communist fronts, including direct defense of the Communist Party, in some cases, and of convicted Communist in others.

This may account for the fact that the group has never been able to attract more than a skeleton membership in the South, and must depend largely for its funds from the North and Northern "foundations." Along that line I will mention the American Fund for Public Service.

The fund's own report for July 1929-30, listed a gift of $100,000 to the NAACP, and another $5900 loan to that organization.

Significantly enough, most of the other loans and grants from this foundation were to:

1. Daily Worker, $6875.
2. American Civil Liberties Union (several grants), $500.

These are only a representative part of the report, that clearly shows the makeup of the fund to be a deep red.
Race Strife Plotted At Integrated Meet

The Georgia Commission on Education has released a brochure giving documented evidence that racial strife was plotted at an integrated meeting attended by Communists and communist sympathizers at Monticello, Tenn., last Labor Day.

The weekend meeting was held at the Highlander Folk School and was attended by the Rev. Martin Luther King, the Negro Minister who led the Montgomery boycott, and many others who have been prominent in racial flareups in the South.

The Georgia Commission on Education has identified the founders and leaders of the Tennessee school as known Communists or Communist sympathizers.

The school was founded by Don West, Myrlie Evers, and James Farmer, according to the commission.

OPERATING IN GEORGIA

"Don West, presently operating in Georgia, was district director of the Communist party in North Carolina," the commission said.

The Georgia Commission said Mrs. Evers, who is now director of the school, was identified by the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities as a "person who attended a secret convention in North Carolina at which time plans were made for spreading revolutionary theories throughout the South.

A top Communist leader, in testimony before the Un-American Activities Committee, described Dombrowski as "being completely pro-communist and axious to collaborate with the Communist party and follow its leadership without taking the risk of actual party membership," according to the commission.

The Georgia Commission sent a photographer to the Labor Day weekend meeting. The photographer made pictures of King and other integration leaders attending meetings which he said plotted methods of stirring up further racial strife.

EMBRACED WHITE WOMAN

He also made photographs which show a Negro man embracing a white woman's legs at one of the sessions and another with a Negro woman apparently embracing a white woman.

Notice the Negro (at left with face turned) eying the white woman with bare legs.

The commission identified Dombrowski as the "Commie...plot...race strife in South..."
leadership and agitators, commissions included an editorial entitled "Every American Has the Right to Know the Truth" which read:

"On the preceding pages you have seen pictures of leaders of every race in South from May 1944 until the time of the meeting at Monteagle, Tenn. The photographs were made by a photographer from the commission on education."

"It has been our purpose as rapidly as possible to identify the leaders and participants of the Communist training school and disseminate this information to the general public. It behooves each of us to be aware of the directions of Communist infiltration and to participate in the task of identifying and combating them."

"The seeds of this infiltration were sown in the region of the United States where the meetings were held. The information is to be considered as confidential and is furnished to acquaintances and friends."

"At the meeting at Monteagle, Tenn., a bus boycott among Negroes was planned. This is a typical method used by the Communist party."

"There were two men and a white woman bear-hugging each other, and the photograph was made by a photographer from the commission on education."
Georgia Probers Report Dr. Moron At A Meeting Held In 'Red' School

Hampton Institute President Panelist At Monteagle, Tenn.

By JOHN BOWEN

A Georgia legislative investigating committee has introduced into its records information that Dr. Alonzo G. Moron, president of Hampton Institute, recently participated in an integration seminar at Highlander Folk School in Tennessee, an institution which the committee alleges is a "Communist training school."

Records of the Georgia Commission on Education, a public body created by a joint resolution of the state's legislature, include a printed folder of photographs and editorial matter on the 1957 Labor Day weekend seminar at the Monteagle, Tenn., school and a copy of the program which lists Dr. Moron as a panelist.

The printed folder on the integration meeting includes a photograph which allegedly shows Dr. Moron as a member of the panel with other persons at the seminar.

On the program, also introduced in the records of the Georgia legislative committee, Dr. Moron is listed for a panel discussion on "What is the Impact of Integration on the People?" Other panel members are shown as Septima Clark, Highlander workshop director; Wilma Dykeman Boley; Newport, Tenn., writer and Allen McSwain of Clinton, Tenn.

The printed folder cites "the records of Communist affiliations of four of the leaders of Highlander Folk School. These leaders are listed as Donald L. West, Rev. James B. Thompson, James Dombrowski and Ambrey Williams.

"Each of these four men was prominent in the establishment of Highlander Folk School or in its subsequent operation," the document reads. The document also reads: "They represent the nucleus of the Communist training school."
The program, developed by the University of Chicago, is directed by the director of the seminar and as a speaker. Williams appears on the seminar program as a speaker.

The folder lists 28 alleged Communist affiliations for Thompson, 43 for Williams, 18 for West and 46 for Dombrwek.

At the seminar, Thompson is named as speaking on “Report of Workshops” and Williams as speaking on “A New Deal: Looks at the Present”.

The program says the “major goal of this seminar will be to examine the progress of integration in the South today, to bear about the crucial struggles involved, and to appreciate some of the underlying human aspects of integration.” It is hoped that the basis of this seminar is to better understand them.

The program includes a workshop on “Integration Problems and Relations” at Tuskegee, Ala., Johnes Island, S. C., Talahassee, Fla., Montgomery, Ala., North Carolina, Tenn., and Southern Union. Also on the program were films and a panel on the Highlander school.

Other panels and workshops on integration are listed on the program, including a workshop on “The Implications of Integration” for religious groups, educators, trade unions, community and civic organizations, and youth groups.

Integrated recreational and dance events also were cited in the Georgia folder.

The Georgia commission’s folder charges that the integrated meeting brought together “the leaders of every major race incident in the South” since the U. S. Supreme Court ruling against segregation.

“Good examples of the infusion of leadership was the appearance of Bayard Rustin, who appeared in the Daily Worker, as secretary of Rev. Martin Luther King, the appearance of Don West, prominent Communist functionary, at Kolonia Farm disturbances and the preliminary surveys conducted by John Hope II, preparatory to the Tallahassee bus incident.”

Hope elsewhere is listed in the printed folder as industrial relations consultant, Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn.

The document notes “representative leaders” of the following incidents at the meeting: Tuskegee, Ala., boycott; Tallahassee, Fla., bus incident; Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott; South Carolina NAACP school teachers incident; Kolonia inter-racial farm, Americas, Ga., and Clinton, Tenn., school incident.

Among persons attending the seminar, according to the legislative convention’s records, were the Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the Montgomery bus incident; Fred Routh, a headquarters official of the Southern Regional Council, Atlanta; McSwain, who is credited with precipitating the Clinton, Tenn., public school incident; Conrad Browne, Kolonia farm leader; Roos Parks, “one of the original leaders of the Montgomery bus boycott.”

Septima Clark “presently director of the Highlander integration workshop was associated with the South Carolina NAACP school teachers incident; David H. Brooks, “a leader of the Tallahassee bus boycott”; and Charles Gunthill, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute, who “was the leader of the Tuskegee boycott.”

And Abner W. Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

Concerning the Highlander Folk School, the folder reads as follows:

“Highlander Folk School was founded in 1932 by Myles Horton and Don West; James Dombrowski joined them shortly thereafter. Don West, presently operating the school, was district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina.

“Paul Crouch, the top Communist Party functionary in the South, testified before the subcommittee of the Committee on Un-American activities that Dombrowski ‘gave me the impression of being completely pro-Communist and anxious to collaborate with the Communist party and follow its leadership without taking the risk of actual party membership.’

“John Butler, another former Communist Party functionary, testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security and Dombrowski at a meeting of Communist Party leaders in Dombrowski’s room in the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Birmingham, Ala., was introduced to him by Alton Lawson as a Communist Party member.

“Myles Horton was identified before the House Committee on Un-American activities as a person who ‘attended a secret convention in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the revolutionary theories throughout the South’.

“Paul Crouch testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security that the Highlander Folk School is a school operated at Monticello, Tenn., ostensibly as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party.”

The document includes the following alleged Communist affiliations for Thompson and Williams:

“American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, Emergency Peace Mobilization, American Youth Congress and Commonwealth College.

West and Dombrowski are listed with similar affiliations including a number of those named for Thompson and Williams.

The folder also notes that the following associations listed above have been cited as Communist fronts in the “Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications” published Jan. 2, 1952, by the N. & House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities:

American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, Emergency Peace Mobilization, American Youth Congress and Commonwealth College.

Mr. John Bowen
Times Herald
Newport News, Virginia

Dear Mr. Bowen:

In accordance with our telephone conversation of Thursday, October 17, 1957, I am forwarding to you the information I have concerning the presence of Alonso G. Moron at the Labor Day Weekend, 1957, Seminar at Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee. I am enclosing a photograph of a meeting taken during this period which reads from left to right: Septima Clark, Alonso G. Moron, C.H. Farrish, Wilma D. Stokely, Allen McSwain. In the extreme left in walking shorts is Abner W. Berry. This photograph was introduced in evidence at the hearing of this Commission on October 8, 1957, as exhibit number 19.

The Atlanta Daily World of August 28 and 29, 1957, also lists Moron's presence. A copy of this article is included. I am also enclosing a few additional copies of the folder we prepared.

The folder we prepared, the Highlander Seminar program included, as well as the photograph, have all been entered in the records of our hearing and of course are privileged.

The Commission was created by a joint legislative resolution which gives us the authority to conduct hearings and hold investigations with the power to subpoena witnesses and cite for contempt.

If I can be of further help in furnishing you information, please call on me.

Sincerely,

Ga. Education Probe Says Moron Attended 'Red' Panel In Tenn.

Dr. Alton C. Moron, president of Hampton Institute, was not available last night to comment on a report that he participated in a panel discussion of racial issues at a Tennessee school labeled by the Georgia Commission on Education as a "Communist Training school."

Dr. Moron, who has headed the college in Hampton since 1949, was reported in New York last night attending meetings of the board of trustees.

A spokesperson said there was no way to contact Dr. Moron until this morning.

According to the records of the Georgia Commission, a legislative investigating unit of the Georgia Legislature, Dr. Moron took part in a panel discussing, "What is the impact of Integration on the people?"

The Georgia commission's records include a printed folder of editorial and photographic materials on the seminar, which was held at the Labor Day weekend this year in the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle. A copy of the seminar program, also in the records, lists Dr. Moron as a panelist.

Other panelists appearing with Dr. Moron, according to the commission's records, were: Steptimia Clark, Highlander Folk School workshop director; Wilma Dykeman, a writer; and Allen McSwain, who the commission said is "credited with precipitating the Clifton, Tenn., public incident."

Director of the seminar at Highlander, according to the commission, was James B. Thompson, chairman of the University of Chicago's, and Allen, former National Youth Administrator in the Roosevelt Administration, and publisher of the Highlander Farm and Farm Magazine, as a member.

Not listed on the printed program of the seminar, but identified by the commission as among its leaders were: Donald L. West, one of the founders of Highlander Folk School, and James Domhoff, the school's editor, who was affiliated with the school.

Thompos, Williams, West and Domhoff said that, "Each of these men was prominent in the establishment of the Highlander Folk School or in its subsequent operations." They represent the nucleus of this Communist training school.

The folder published by the commission includes "records of Communist affiliations" of the four, listing 36 for Thompson, 43 for Williams, 18 for West and 45 for Domhoff.

Thompson's speech at the seminar, the commission records show.

The printed program of the seminar was prefaced with the following statement:

"The major goal of this seminar will be to examine the progress of integration in the South today, to hear about the crucial struggles from those involved, and to appreciate some of the underlying human aspects of integration, so that everyone may be aware and more effective in dealing with the problems which will inevitably accompany the forward movement toward integration in the South."

It is hoped that on the basis of this seminar, whites and Negroes will better understand how they can work together; community workers and members of religious and social organizations will understand how they can be effective, and Northerners will be more aware of what they can do to help the South, both as individuals and as members of organizations.

Included in the program were discussions of "Integration Beachheads," reports on progress and the problems of points of racial controversy such as Tuskegee and Montgomery, Ala., Tallahassee, Fla., etc.

Panelists and workshop sessions on integration implications in religious organizations, education, trade unions, community and civic organizations and youth groups.

The charge of the Georgia Commission on Education was that the seminar brought together "leaders of every major race incident to the South" since the 1954 Supreme Court decision.
Dr. Moron

Court decision outlawing segregated schools.

"They met at this workshop and discussed methods and tactics of precipitating racial strife and disturbance," said the commission.

"The meeting of such a large group of specialists in inter-racial strife under the auspices of a Communist training school, and in the company of many known Communists is the typical method whereby leadership training and tactics are furnished to the agitators. In specific emergency situations leadership would be sent into the community to assist." Examples of this, it was stated, were the appearance of Bayard Rustin, "who appeared in the Daily Worker," as Secretary to the Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the Montgomery bus boycott, and the appearance of Donald West, prominent Communist functionary at the Koinonia Farm disturbances in Georgia.

Attending or taking part in the Highlander Folk School seminar, according to the Commission, were the Rev. King, who led the Montgomery bus boycott; Asher W. Berry, "a member of the Communist Party national central committee; Fred Roeth, official of the Southern Regional Council; David M. Brooks, "a leader of the Tallahassee bus boycott"; and Charles Comilius, dean of students at Tuskegee Institute, "leader of the Tuskegee boycott". Rosa Parks, "one of the original leaders of the Montgomery bus boycott"; and Charles Brown, president of the National Negro Business League, were among those who participated in various committee sessions of the commission.

The Georgia Commission reported that the Highlander Folk School, founded in 1932, has been identified in testimony before the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security as a school operated "essentially as an independent labor school, but actually working in close cooperation with the Communist Party."

Myles Horton, one of the founders, was said by the commission to have been identified in congressional investigations as having attended a "secret convention in North Carolina at which time plans were made for spreading revolutionary theories throughout the South.

Don West, co-founder of the school with Horton, according to the Georgia commission, was identified in the commission record as "district director of the Communist Party of North Carolina." West is now operating in Georgia, the commission said.

Testimony before a U.S. House subcommittee, the commission cited identified Dombrowski as a "pro-Communist and anxious to collaborate with the Communist Party and follow its leadership without taking the risk of actual membership."

At Hampton Institute last year, a spokesman explained that Dr. Moron could not be reached in New York because he was attending the various committee sessions of the board of trustees.

There was no way to determine what the Institute president would advocate for any given time or occasion. The committees were meeting.

Dr. Moron was to be in contact with the Institute staff this morning.

At 8:45 a.m., it was stated. At this time, Dr. Moron was to be informed of the Georgia Commission's charge.

Dr. Moron, a native of the Virgin Islands, was the first Negro to become president of Hampton Institute.

After attending Hampton Institute, he obtained degrees in sociology from Brown University, in sociology and social work from the University of Pittsburgh, and in law at Harvard University.

He served as American representative on the Caribbean Commission, appointed by President Truman and was appointed by Secretary of State Dulles to head the American delegation to the West Indies Conference and Caribbean Commission meetings in 1957 in Jamaica.

In June, a list of organizations issued by the Institute in which the president held membership included the American Association of School Administrators; the American Christian Palestine Committee, co-chairman; the board of directors, Virginia Council on Human Relations; board of directors, Virginia Tuberculosis Association; board of directors, American Association for Higher Education; the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People; the National Education Association and the National Negro Business League. ...
Alonzo G. Moron, president of Hampton Institute, said today he will reply tomorrow to a newspaper article Thursday reporting claims that he had attended a meeting at a "Communist training school" over the Labor Day weekend at Monteagle, Tenn.

Dr. Moron telegraphed The Times-Herald today from Newark, N. J., that his statement will be made in his evening chapel talk at 7 Sunday night at Hampton Institute's Ogden Hall.

The Times-Herald published Thursday charges by the Georgia Commission on Education that the Highlander Folk School, which conducted the integration seminar, is a "Communist training school." Dr. Moron was listed as a panel speaker at the seminar.
EXPRESSES CONFIDENCE
Faculty Of HI
Backs President

Confidence in the integrity and loyalty of the President of Hampton Institute was expressed by the school's faculty in a resolution aimed at countering news stories which indicated that he participated in a panel discussion at a "Communist Training School.

The Peninsula newspapers published stories last week which reported that Dr. Alonzo G. Moran, President of the Institute, participated in a panel discussion on racial issues at a seminar in the Oakland Folk School of Montevallo, Tenn.

The Georgia Commission on Education has labeled the Tennessee school as a "Communist Training School.

Institute faculty members during a mid-day meeting yesterday unanimously gave their support to the drawing up of a resolution supporting Dr. Moran, and later at 1:13 p.m., unanimously adopted the resolution by a handvote. It was reported.

Meanwhile, although Dr. Moran had not returned in time to comment on his reaction to stories regarding his attendance at Highland Folk school, he did, however, wire the Daily Press that he would speak on the issue tonight at the Institute.

The complete text of the resolution reads as follows:

"The faculty of Hampton Institute has been profoundly shook by the unwarranted personal attack upon its president, Alonzo G. Moran, made in recent articles in the local newspapers. The faculty, however, hopes that the discussion of issues, even the emotionally charged ones, might be conducted as a complement of free speech and as a way to solve issues.

"The faculty repudiates with contempt the implication that President Moran is now, or ever has been, in any way identified with, or sympathetic to, Communism. Knowledge of his dedication to the freedom of the human mind and to the principles of Christianity make the charge incomparable. The evidence offered to support it makes the charge, in addition, ludicrous. "The faculty desires the effort to revive the tactics of impeding guilt by association so widely employed by the late Joseph McCarthy and now so thoroughly discredited. It censures as a flagrant abuse of the power of the press the effort made behind the cloak of legislative immunity, to silence those who would advance the American ideal of freedom and equality under law and the Christian ideal of the brotherhood of man.

"The faculty has complete confidence in the integrity and loyalty of President Moran. It is confident also that all fair-minded persons will be able to determine, as between the President and his detractors, where the charge of un-Americanism properly lies."

Dr. Moron Lashes Ga. Commission's Report As 'Character Assassination'

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HERIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

Dr. Howard Gibbons.

Dr. Alonzo G. Moron, president of Hampton Institute, declared last night that he plans to continue to speak and act "against injustice, against discrimination, against segregation, against the use of political power to express personal prejudice.

Speaking at a vespers service in the Hall at Hampton Institute, Dr. Moron said he will continue this 'wherever I am and as long as God gives me the strength and the courage to defend what I believe and what I think is right.'

The Hampton Institute president, who has just returned from a week of meetings of the National Manpower Council at Columbia University in New York City, termed as 'character assassination' a report printed by Peninsula newspapers last week that Highlander Folk School where Dr. Moron took part in an integration meeting during the Labor Day weekend, has been described by the Georgia Commission on Education as a 'Communist training school.'

'I read the Thursday story (in the Times Herald) very carefully to see if the references to me were libelous, for I would consider any libel, a charge that I was a Communist at school and I stand ready to come into court any person who makes such an accusation, with full faith and confidence that no such charge can be substantiated,' Dr. Moron told about 1,300 institute students and faculty members attending the vespers service.

'I was saddened, however,' he continued, 'by the fact that, although no specific charge was made, a reputable paper, published in a community to which Hampton Institute has given so much, should assume a party to disseminating information that implies guilt in such a case.'

Dr. Moron said, 'It was with wonder that the publication of this poison could take place in the state that gave us the thors of the Bill of Rights which embellishes our Constitution. It is almost inconceivable that in the same state that through the years has produced great newspaper men, including Virginius Dabney of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the distinguished president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, that the responsibilities which undergird freedom of the press should be so lightly disregarded."

He continued, "I am reassured, however, by the many people who have indicated that they deplore this kind of character assassination that this is an aberration which will not be repeated. I am confident there are enough people who have pride in Virginia's history and Virginia's potential for wise leadership that this attempt to impose upon Virginia the unethical practices and un-American standards of Georgia will be recognized and rejected out of hand."

Dr. Moron said, "If this country is to be infected with the totalitarian poison that seems to be flowing into Arkansas into Tennessee, and now into Virginia from the demogogues in Georgia, then we are in for a king of democracy in which freedom to speak, freedom to think and freedom to believe will have no place; and the difference between what exists in Russia today and what we now enjoy in the United States will be obliterated.

"I believe in the democratic process. I believe in the vitality of the Christian Religion. I believe in the dignity of man. These beliefs are inconsistent with the totalitarianism of Russia and Georgia, and with the atavism of the Kremlin and the Communist Education Corps."

Dr. Moron said he does not in any way be "intimidated now by any such threats, be direct or indirect, as the loss of occupation, physical violence or defamation of character. "As long as people are deprived of rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States—that deprivation which comes from politicians who thrive on fomenting racial strife, I will continue to lift my voice against such iniquitous and undemocratic practices."

As for his talk at the Highlander Folk School seminar, Dr. Moron declared last night that he made three points in it.

"One was that recent evidence indicated that the conflict over integration was producing an exaggerated fear among white people and that in no period of our history have white people of liberal or even moderate views been subjected to more social and economic pressure to make them conform to the pattern...

"My second point was that at the same time this exaggerated fear was spreading throughout the South we are seeing expressions of new courage on the part of an increasing number of Negro men and women, Negro boys and girls.

"Finally, I pointed out that the real basis of resistance to the implementation of the Supreme Court decision in the public schools was primarily the administration of a comparatively small number of Negroes to a handful of schools that used to be attended only by white students; nor was there any honest belief, even by the most rabid segregationist, that coeducation of the races would lead to any significant increase in the crossing of racial strains; but that real objection to public school integration was based on realization that if discrimination and segregation are abolished in the public schools, all other forms of discrimination and segregation would come to be seen as even more ridiculous and unnecessary than they are today."

Dr. Moron last night expressed gratitude to the faculty of Hampton Institute and to others "who have expressed their indignation at the publication of the story (the Times Herald report Thursday)."

He also said to the students, "It is fitting that I make this reply from this platform (in Ogden Hall) and to the Hampton Institute community, because there would be no reason for the interest shown in my activities by the Georgia Commission on Education or by the Times-Herald if I were not identified as the president of Hampton Institute."

The Rev. Vernon P. Boden, chaplain of the institute, presided in the vesper service.
Wake Up, Americans!

By Otto Garry Tague

Writing today's column is one of the most painful experiences I ever have had. And saddening because the more deeply I dig into subversion, the more shaken becomes my confidence in the devotion to my beloved nation of a vast group of my fellow Americans.

I have before me an account of the meeting, over the last Labor Day weekend, of a large gathering of citizens at what is known as the Highlander Folk School, located at Monticello, Tenn., which has been designated by some authorities as a "Communist Training School." To what degree this is justified I will let you surmise by offering the Communist Front organizations to which its founders belonged: No. 1 to 36; No. 2 to 45; No. 3 to 43. A consolidated listing of those in attendance on Labor Day shows alignment with 120 Communist Front organizations.

A typical description of these is contained in a report of the House Un-American Activities Committee: "Schools under patriotic and benevolent titles indoctrinate Communists and outsiders in the theory and practice of Communism, train organizers and operatives, recruit new party members and sympathizers, . . . seek to paralyze America's will to resist . . . spread defeatism, demoralization and race friction."

To shake you out of your complacency and false sense of security, mull over this: If there are only 100 such "Communist Training Schools" in the country, each with only 100 matriculates, we must have at least 10,000 citizens training to "spread defeatism, demoralization and race friction." Ten thousand subversives waiting to go to work when Moscow blows the whistle.

Better sit down right now and write every member of Congress you can reach demanding that restrictions on the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Un-American Activities Committee be removed as soon as Congress reconvenes in January. Do it now!

Would-Be Wire Tappers Should Try Hearing Aid

So the secretary of the Georgia Education Commission would buy electronic equipment suitable for wire tapping?

Well, his requisition makes one important omission. He should have asked for a hearing aid.

In fact, without even an audio booster, he might learn that public opinion does not sustain Gestapo activities. Nor is the public enthusiastic about spending tax money for some of the far-fetched "educational" propaganda the Georgia Education Commission has been buying.

We don't believe the government and its efficient security agency, the FBI, would permit any "Communist meeting" at the Highlander Folk School in Tennessee as the commission's gum-shoe agents maintain.

According to reports, anyone who was willing to pay the registration fee could get in at the Highlander School, make photographs, or attend the dance. That isn't in the Commie pattern.

The Highlander School has long had a reputation as a haven for somewhat silly and extreme left-wingers and pseudo-liberals of the naive or stupid variety.

But if any Communist school was held, as the commission claims, it is a matter for the FBI and not for any amateur wire tappers or bush-league secret police.
By JACK NELSON
Journal-Constitution Staff Writer

About two miles from this mountain resort is a small institution where race mixers plan the fight against segregation in the South.

Its name — Highlander Folk School — has an innocuous ring that belies its controversial record of involvement in labor and social struggles.

Highlander's current activities are concentrated on training large numbers of whites and Negroes to touch off integration attempts throughout the South.

Volunteer, Horton director and one of the founders of Highlander, acknowledges that the school has been connected with most integration attempts since the U.S. Supreme Court decision of 1954 prohibiting public school segregation.

THE SCHOOL WAS established in September, 1932, by Horton and Donald L. West, a Georgian with a long record of affiliations with communist front groups.

It didn't take the school long to establish itself as a center of controversy and suspicion.

On Dec. 15, 1932, the Grundy County Board of Education barred Highlander from using county school buildings because of alleged teaching of political matters that was 'Red or Communist in appearance.'

The school has continued under close surveillance by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Horton himself says, 'I've been investigated so much the FBI knows my record for 20 years.'

In Horton's office in an adobe house at the school's main entrance is a detailed chart of the school's history and growth.

In the last few years, the school has expanded greatly, including a new building and an increased number of students.

In March, 1957, the school had 120 students, and this year it will have 250.

Many of these students have been trained and employed by Highlander, or are being trained by the school.

But the school is not without its critics.

The UEFA report, which was released in September, 1957, has been criticized by some as being biased.

However, Horton believes that the report is fair and accurate.

'I've never been accused of being a Communist,' Horton said.

But, he added, 'I've been accused of being a Red and a Communist.'

Horton has always been controversial, and his work at Highlander has been no exception.

He has been accused of being a Red and a Communist, and his work at Highlander has been no exception.

But Horton believes that his work at Highlander has been of great importance.

'I believe that Highlander has had a profound effect on the Civil Rights Movement,' Horton said.

'I've always believed that the only way to overcome hatred is through love,' Horton said.

'I've always believed that the only way to overcome hatred is through love,' Horton said.

'I've always believed that the only way to overcome hatred is through love,' Horton said.

'I've always believed that the only way to overcome hatred is through love,' Horton said.
WHETHER THE school has been guilty of communist activity is another question—one that has haunted Highlander ever since that December day 25 years ago when it was barred from using local school buildings.

During the depression, Highlander engaged in vigorous union organizing campaigns and brought down upon itself the wrath of business leaders.

Highlander's labor efforts soon became the object of a congressional investigation. And on Nov. 30, 1942, U.S. Rep. Martin Dies, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, listed Highlander as "decidedly communist."

THREE YEARS AGO a former Communist testified at a hearing of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in New Orleans, etc. that Highlander was working in close cooperation with the Communist Party.

Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), subcommittee chairman, had Myles Horton testify from the same hearing after the Highlander director refused to answer whether Dombrowski was affiliated with the school. Dombrowski, who has been a member of numerous organizations labeled "communistic," was with Highlander at one time.

"Succeeding articles on Highlander will go into more detail on this hearing, previous investigations, and the school's part in the turbulent labor movement.

Highlander has not been without its staunch defenders, some of them nationally prominent.

ON THE WAY in the office of Highlander's main building is a letter on White House stationary to Dombrowski, who was on Highlander's staff from 1934 until 1942. The letter begins, "My Dear Mr. Dombrowski:

I am sending you the same address you last year as my contribution toward a scholarship in the Highlander Folk School.

"I have had the school checked by people in whom I have absolute confidence and am convinced that the newspaper attack and the groups which have been opposed to you are not opposed to you because of any Communist activities, but because they are opposed to labor organization and, therefore, labor education. This seems to me a most unwise...and shortsighted attitude and, therefore, I am sending you this spring...."

Horton says Mrs. Roosevelt still contributes to the school. "We got a letter from her just the other day," he said.

John Dewey, who was head of the philosophy department at Columbia University in New York, was chairman of Highlander's Committee of Sponsors until his death four years ago, according to Horton.

Horton said that Dewey and Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr of Union Theological Seminary in New York both advised him in the founding of Highlander. He studied under both educators. Dr. Niebuhr still supports the Highlander.

Horton said that while Highlander has become accustomed to being criticized, "we've never had anything as low level as Gov. Griffin's smear happen to us before.

"But we've weathered storms before." Horton said. "Griffin ought to read the record. We've gone through much more effective smear tactics than this."

Horton said it is "dangerous tactics" for Griffin and other segregationists to "identify every integration movement in the South as Communist."

HE SAID THE Highlander report by the Georgia Commission on Education was "evidenced to keep people away from the school, but 'it's not scaring people.'" He said 10 people attended the Thanksgiving Day weekend workshop although only 60 were invited.

The short-run effect of the Georgia report has been to increase contributions to Highlander by three times," according to Horton.

"I don't know about the long-range effect," he said. "Some people are hesitating now to be identified with the school because of the smear."

Highlander is supported by contributions from individuals, organizations served by the school, foundations and tuition.

MONES in The Atlanta Commission: Former Communist organization leader cited with Communist Party.
Highlander Folk School

Red Activity Charge Blamed on a Grudge

By JACK NELSON

(Monteagle, Tenn, Dec 15) - Niel Horton, director of Highlander Folk School, claims a "personal grudge" prompted a former Communist to lie about alleged communistic activity at the school.

This is one of many explanations that Horton offers for the reports linking the interracial school to communism since its establishment 25 years ago. Horton flatly denies that ever had anything to do with communism.

The sworn testimony that the school was linked to the Communist conspiracy came from Paul Dombrowski, former Tennessee organizer for the Communist party, at a 1953 hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in New Orleans, La. Although it is not the only testimony that Horton has ever had anything to do with communism.

Horton claims that Crouch's testimony about alleged Communist activities was so "weak and full of holes" that the Department of Justice dropped several cases it had based on Horton's testimony.

Thomas K. Hall, criminal section chief of the internal security division, Department of Justice, told The Atlanta Constitution: "No criminal cases have been dropped by this division for that reason."

On the contrary, Crouch's testimony was considered important in the trial of Communist conspiracy convictions under the Smith Act in St. Louis, Honolulu Seattle and Philadelphia, according to Hall.

The Philadelphia case was reversed by the Supreme Court in light of the Yates decision in a conspiracy case in California. Appeals in the other three cases are pending.

(In the Yates decision, rendered June 17, 1957, the court held that the Smith Act was aimed at the advocacy and teaching of concrete actions for the forcible overthrow of the government and not of principles divorced from action. In failing to point out this difference, the trial judge's charge to the jury was defective, the court ruled.)

Crouch was a stupid fellow," Horton said, "and he said it about me."

"I was afraid of something that happened back about 1935."

"A Daily Worker reporter interviewed me when Crouch first came to Tennessee to try to organize the (Tennessee Valley Authority) workers. The reporter asked me about Crouch, what I thought about him."

Horton's explanation: "I told him that I didn't want to be put in the position of advising the Communist Party about what to do, but I said, 'You ought to have an organizer who is at least half as intelligent as the people he's trying to organize.'"

Horton claims that this remark instilled in Crouch a hatred that caused him to smear Highlander at the hearing.

At any rate, Crouch testified that Highlander was a school for "leaders of the Independents," but actually was running a close cooperation with the Communist Party."

Crouch testified that James A. Dombrowski was an instructor at Highlander from about 1937 until some time in the '40s. Dombrowski, a graduate of Atlanta's Emory University, is executive director of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, which was the central subject of the subcommittee hearing.

Tells of Meeting

Asked if Dombrowski accepted Communist Party discipline, Crouch testified, "Yes, sir; to the extent that all instructions that were given him by the subcommittee by the district bureau of Tennessee (of the Communist Party) were carried out by Dr. Dombrowski regarding the administration of the Highlander Folk School."

Crouch testified that he was met at Highlander with Horton, Dombrowski, and Al Perkins, the Nashville organizer of the Communist Party and later Crouch's successor as Tennessee organizer. Also present for the meeting, Crouch testified, was Franz Daniel, trade union organizer and a Socialist.

Crouch testified that he stated at the meeting that he was anxious to get the maximum results from the Highlander Folk School without endangering Mr. Horton or anyone.

Danger to Funds

"The results to which I referred," Crouch explained, "were if it were to become public knowledge that the Highlander Folk School was cooperating too closely with the Communist Party and carrying out too much open Communist propaganda that it would endanger its funds and its support and the Communist Party recognized that this would be harmful to the school and the party."

Crouch said the purpose of the meeting was "to work out a plan by which the Daily Worker would be purchased by the school."

He testified the Communist newspaper "would be made accessible to the students, that everyone possible the instructors should refer to the Daily Worker, to news that had come in, to encourage the students to read it, and it was agreed that the Communist Party should have a student, a leader, sent there as a student whose job it would be to look around for prospective recruits and Mildred White, now in Washington, D.C., was selected to attend the Highlander Folk School for the purpose of recruiting for the Communist Party and carrying the Communist message among the student body there."

QUOTES HORTON

"You said it was agreed?"
Crouch replied: "Mr. Horton and Mr. Dombrowski."

Crouch testified that at the same meeting he asked Horton about joining the Communist Party. He quoted Horton, "As near as I can recall his words," as replying:

"I'm doing you just as much good now as I would if I were a member of the Communist Party. I am often asked if I am a Communist Party member and I always say no. I feel much safer in having no fear that evidence might be uncovered to link me with the Communist Party, and therefore I prefer not to become a member of the Communist Party."

DOUGLASVILLE'S WEST CHURCH

 Asked if Doc West, a Georgian now living near Douglasville, had anything to do with Highlander, Crouch testified:

"He previously had. Rev. Don West and Myles Horton were the original founders of the Highlander Folk School but the Rev. Don West had earlier left to become, first, Socialist state secretary for Georgia; then, my assistant in North Carolina in the Communist Party as district trade union director of the Communist Party; then, as Kentucky state organizer for the Communist Party; and now I understand he is a writer for Mr. Aubrey Williams."

Williams, who publishes the South Farm and Home magazine in Montgomery, Ala., is a member of Highlander's executive council. He has been affiliated with many organizations labeled "subversive" by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

DAILY WORKER

Crouch testified that it was agreed at the meeting that the Daily Worker, which carried all the reports of the meeting, would be able to see the record of what was said by the students and that there was considerable reading of the Daily Worker.

When Horton took the stand he agreed.

"If she did it was many years ago and I have no list of students but if she attended she did not attend as a Communist party member," Horton replied.

"We accept no students from the Communist party and never have," Horton testified.

He balked when asked if Dombrowski was affiliated with Highlander.

"I wouldn't give my reasons why I don't want to answer?" Horton inquired.

EASTLAND OBJECTS

Eastland replied that he did not want "reasons," only an answer, and when Horton persisted and tried to read a statement, Eastland declared, "We are not going to have any self-serving declarations."

On Eastland's orders, a federal judge removed Horton from the hearing room.

Horton says the reason he refused to answer questions concerning Dombrowski was that "I'm not going to be an informer."

In the 54-page prepared statement that Horton never got to read to the subcommittee, he blasted the committees of Sen. McCarthy and Rep. Velo, accusing them of using undemocratic methods "under the guise of fighting communism."

The statement also criticized Eastland's sub-committee.

SCHOOL INTEGRATION

Integration of the public schools, said Horton in the statement, would "spectacularly refresh the Democratic thesis everywhere." And he added, "I suppose that in the eyes of some of the members of this committee, opposition to segregation is 'subversive.'"

Another witness at the hearing, John Butler, identified as a former functionary of the Communist Party in Alabama, testified he attended a meeting of Communist Party leaders in July of 1942 in the Birmingham hotel room of James Dombrowski.

Butler testified that Dombrowski was introduced to him as a communist party member. Butler swore the introduction was by Alton Lawrence, who in November, 1936, was indicted on a charge of conspiring to file a false non-Communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations Board. As a labor union official, Lawrence was required to file a non-Communist affidavit with the NLRB.

Lawrence also was a member of the Highlander faculty during the school's early days.

N.C. MEETING

On Aug. 13, 1936, John W. Frey, president of Metal Trader Department of the AFL, testified before the Dies Committee on Un-American Activities, and named Alton Lawrence and Myles Horton as persons who "attended a secret convention in North Carolina, at which time plans were made for spreading the revolutionary theories throughout the South."

"In connection with this," Frey testified, "I might mention that the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., was mixed up in this secret convention, in which these CIO organizers took a very prominent part."

Highlander Friends Rap Critics of Racial Plans

MOHLEA, Tenn. - Director Myles Horton of the Highlander Folk School has made public a statement strongly criticising attacks on the institution as a "Communist-inspired antiball" school. The statement, dated last Friday, bore the typewritten signatures of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Lloyd G. Garrison, former dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School, Magr. John O'Grady, National Conference of Catholic Charities, and Dr. Reinhold Neibuhr, Protestant theologian.

The statement attacked a criticism by the Georgia Commission of Education in which it was alleged the school during last Labor Day weekend was host to "the leaders of every major race incident in the South."

Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin is chairman of the 23-member commission, which was formed by the 1938 Legislature to seek means of preserving segregation.

The seminar attacked by Gov. Griffin was one of a series of workshops, each from one to six weeks in duration, held by Highlander since 1933 to develop plans and leaders for an orderly, peaceful transition from segregated to integrated schools, the three-page statement said.

STRIPE PLOT SEEN

T. V. Williams Jr., executive secretary of the Georgia commission, said last October a state undercover agent had infiltrated the Labor Day meeting. Williams charged that the meeting was set up "to discuss methods and tactics of precipitating racial strife and tension."

The commission said that a number of persons accused by Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of having Communist sympathies had attended the seminar. It charged that the seminar constituted a "Communist training school."

Horton was quoted in the statement as saying, "Highlander takes pride and assumes full responsibility for the discussion leaders. Highlander did not and does not welcome enrollment of anyone with a totalitarian philosophy, whether from the extreme right or extreme left. In these troubled times, nothing but more trouble can come from the White Citizens Council and the Communist Party's infiltration into groups earnestly seeking a democratic solution to our problem. Both are morally bankrupt and have nothing to offer...."

The statement said, "We deem it morally indefensible for any man or group to inflict upon such institutions as Highlander and upon any such individuals, both white and Negro, who attended the Labor Day seminar, the damage to reputation and position which may result from the wide distribution of this slanderous materialonal..."

U.S. PRESTIGE

"Although a demagogue like Governor Griffin may not comprehend the practice of brotherhood as a matter of principle, even he should be able to understand the tremendous damage segregation is doing to our prestige abroad and the manner in which the Communists are forging anti-American material out of the South's undemocratic practices."

Among those attending the Labor Day seminar were the Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott; Dr. Alonzo Moron, president of Hampton Institute; Charles Gomillion, dean of students at Tuskegee, Ala., Institute, and Prof. John Hope II of Fisk University.

Williams said in his report there were also at the seminar "representative leaders of the Tuskegee boycott, the Tallahassee, Fla., bus incident; the South Carolina's-N.A.A.C.P. school teachers' incident; the Koilmonia Interracial Farm, Milledgeville, Ga., and the Clinton, Tenn., school incident, among others."

Highlander was founded 25 years ago with the announced goal of "creating leadership for democracy." Horton, native of Savannah, Tenn., and graduate of Cumberland University, has been its director since its founding.
3 Atlantians on the Board Of Race Integration Hub

Three Atlantians are listed on Highlander Folk School's 26-member executive council. They are Dean B. H. Brazell of Morehouse College; Mrs. Harry Gordon; and Mrs. Grace Hamilton of the Atlanta Urban League.

Also named as council members on Highlander's current list are:

- Mrs. Helen Bass, Benedict College, Columbia, S.C.; Mrs. Sarah Patton Moyle, Charlottesville, Va.; Mrs. Septima Clark of Highlander Folk School; Dean Charles Solomon of Tuskegee Institute, Ala.;
- C. R. Hathaway, secretary, treasurer of UPWA-CIO, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. John Edna Hayes of Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. John E. Hope, Jr., Fisk University, Nashville; Myrles Horton of Highlander Folk School; Essie Jenkins, Charleston, S.C.; Dr. Lewis Jones, Rural Life Council.

Tuskegee Institute, Ala.; May Justus, Tracy City, Tenn.; Stewart Weschem, New York, N.Y.; Mrs. Rosa Parks, Hampton, Va.; Prof. J. B. Pierce, Alabama State College, Montgomery, Ala.;

'Perfuming' Highlander School

The notorious Highlander Folk School atop the Cumberland Mountains at Monteagle, Tenn., headed by a man who has a record of activity in a Communist front organization, has added to its unsavory reputation in recent months by its advocacy of forced integration upon the South and its use as a meeting ground for integrationist figures who have been leaders in the scattered racial disturbances that have occurred.

As a result of the kind of activity it has promoted and the individuals it has encouraged, Highlander has gotten itself charged by the Georgia Education Commission with having held on Labor Day of this year a "Communist training school."

The activities of Highlander Folk School have been widely publicized by newspaper accounts of the meeting and by a special publication of the Georgia Education Association.

Apparently stung sharply by the attention he has gotten, Myles Horton, director of the school and who, incidentally, once had to be forcefully ejected from a hearing of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee because of his misconduct, has released a statement "strongly condemning" attacks on Highlander Folk School as a "Communist training school."

The statement is issued over signatures which will add no lustre to the school's reputation. They include those of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Theologian Reinhold Niebuhr, Mag. John O'Grady of the National Conference of Catholic Charities, and Lloyd B. Garrison, former dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Mrs. Roosevelt, it will be remembered, gave money to the left-wing Highlander School.

Reinhold Niebuhr happens to be on the list of Highlander's original sponsors. It would appear Mrs. Roosevelt and Dr. Niebuhr might be interested in perfuming the school to protect themselves from the adverse inference upon them for their connections with it.

But instead of camouflaging the disreputable nature of Highlander Folk School, the signers of the statement have simply reflected upon themselves.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Highlander

The Highlander Folk School at Monticello, Tenn., has earned its bad reputation over a long period of years as a result of its leftist programs, the Communist-front taint of its leadership and the disgraceful conduct of school leaders when called upon by congressional committees to answer justifiable questions about its operations.

More recently, attention has been centered on Highlander Folk School because of its emphasis on forcing racial integration and the accompanying deterioration of harmony and disruption of good will upon the South. It is a gathering place for leaders in agitation of racial issues. When criticism arises, the school has always been able to count upon statements of defense from a clique of left-wing "do-gooders" whose prominent positions in various fields have been tarnished by their misuses of them in this and similar respects.

It is not at all surprising, but is noteworthy, that one of Highlander's integration workshops this year will be addressed by none other than Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt's name long has been linked with the school, she having been one of its early contributors and sponsors.

Mrs. Roosevelt's participation in the Highlander Folk School program will not raise either its reputation or hers. But considering both the school's record and Mrs. Roosevelt's record, their new association will probably damage neither, since both already have sunk so low.
No Place for a UT Professor

Announcement that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt would participate in a racial integration conference at the notorious Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., came as no surprise despite the Communist front taint of the school. But Tennesseans should be not only surprised but indignant to note that a professor of the University of Tennessee School of Social Work also is participating in the Highlander integration program as a participant in the integration conference scheduled for May 2-3-4.

The people of Tennessee, who have great pride in the University of Tennessee and whose tax money supports the functions of that institution should be concerned to find its good name associated with a pro-integration conference anywhere—and especially at the disreputable Highlander Folk School.
Highlander School—Proposal Revised

New Measure Provides Funds For Investigation

From: The Commercial Appeal Nashville Bureau

NASHVILLE, Feb. 2.—Representative Harry Lee Senter of Bristol said Monday he expects a revised resolution calling for an investigation of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle to be introduced in the Legislature Tuesday.

Such a resolution was adopted in both Senate and House last week but was recalled by Senator Barton Dement so the state Attorney General could study it and suggest amendments.

Mr. Senter said the revised resolution will provide that the speaker of each house will choose members of the investigative committee and that an appropriation of between $5,000 and $10,000 be granted to finance the inquiry.

In other action relative to Highlander, the controversial school's director, Myles Horton, has mailed a letter to the resolution's sponsors re-affirming his invitation to the lawmakers to visit and investigate the institution.

The letter—a copy of which was sent to Gov. Buford Ellington—said Highlander's reputation has been damaged by publicity given the resolution and called for "A decisive and unequivocal report; one that either substantiates the charges made by the Attorney General of Arkansas that Highlander is subversive or one that clears the school and Tennessee."

Sewanee Educators Defend Highlander
Communism Charge Called Unfair; House Approves Probe Resolution

The Highlander Folk school is dedicated to democracy and the charge that it nourishes communism is unjustified and unfair, 15 educators said in a letter to Gov. Buford Ellington yesterday.

Fourteen of the group are professors—one retired—at the University of the South, Sewanee. The 15th is a member of the faculty of St. Andrews school for boys, an Episcopal high school near Monteagle.

Governor Ellington said the letter had been received but withheld comment at this time. His reaction came as a resolution calling for an investigation of the school was adopted by the house of representatives yesterday by a vote of 74 to 4. It was sent to the senate where action may come today. That would require suspension of the rules.

Only 2 Fight Probe
The resolution to probe the school, located in Grundy county, provides for $5,000 to pay two attorneys to conduct the investigation. It also provides that the speakers, instead of the governor, shall appoint members of the investigating committee. Only floor opposition came from Rep. G. L. Aderhold of Etowah and Rep. Paris G. Bailey Jr. of Nashville.

"We're wasting $5,000," said Aderhold. "This thing will be worthless. Let the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation investigate the school."

Bailey said the school has been investigated three times "and it seems to me that all we’re doing is spending $5,000 to prove we’re patriotic Americans.”

Rep. Harry Lee Senter of Brantley author of the resolution, declared.

“Now long are we going to let the left-wingers, the Communists, the do-gooders, and the ones who are going to take over.” The director of the school has offered to open the doors of his dreamland to us.

“He has challenged us to put up or shut up. I’m not withdrawing from anything. We will investigate his school in our own good time and at our convenience. Our central purpose is to root out that which is evil.”

“We have found the spirit of Highlander to be wholeheartedly dedicated to the cause of democracy,” the educated letter to Ellington said. “We believe that Myles Horton, founder of the school, and his director of education are devoted to American ideals.”

The letter to Ellington was signed by these teachers at the University of the South.

Dr. C. F. Allison, professor of theology; Dr. Scott Bates, assistant professor of French; Dr. Satterfield Buck, professor of modern languages; Dr. F. C. Cameron, director of admissions; the Rev. Wilford C. Cross, professor of theology; Dr. Robert A. Degen, associate professor of economics; Marvin E. Godstein, associate professor of economics.

Dr. James M. Grimes, head of the history department; Dr. William B. Guenther, assistant professor of the department of chemistry; D. Charles Harrison, retired dean and head of the English department; Eugene M. Kayden, retired professor of economics, formerly head of that department; Dr. Malcolm Owen, head of the department of biology; David E. Underdown, professor in department of history and the Rev. Vesper Q. Ward, professor in the school of theology.

The Rev. Donald E. Chapman, is the member of the St. Andrews school faculty who signed the letter.

Letter to Governor

The letter to Ellington followed.

“Over a period of years we residents of Sewanee have on numerous occasions visited the Highlander Folk school. Our visits have included addresses and informal chats. As a result we believe that we know the character of the school and the people who run it. We should like to share our impressions and opinions with you; in view of the impending legislative investigation of Highlander.

“The heart of the proposed investigation appears to be an allegation by some that Highlander engages in ‘subversive activities’ specifically that it propagates the Communist ideology and puts that ideology into practical application in Tennessee and other states. It is our conviction that this charge is unjustified and unfair. On the contrary, we have found the spirit of Highlander to be wholeheartedly dedicated to the free institutions of democracy, and we believe that Myles Horton and his director of education are devoted to American ideals. The atmosphere of the school is relaxed and open with complete freedom of opinion and with no ‘party line’ either overt or subtle.

“We trust that no official or official body of the state of Tennessee would countenance the avowed and pernicious notion that persons who do not accept racial segregation as an ideal are therefore Communists. In the world struggle for the minds of men in many nations around the world communism is using racial segregation in the United States as a powerful weapon against us. What a tragic irony if our own efforts to combat communism should suppress freedom and democracy at home while simultaneously strengthening communism abroad?”

What is where the real struggle is going on.

“We realize that some who have no first-hand acquaintance with Highlander may question what we have said about it. This is especially likely during this time of uncertainty in public affairs when social pressure toward conformity is great. It adds to our belief that it is our responsibility to share our observations with others in this matter.

As the chief executive of Tennessee you must surely welcome such statements from those who respect our constitutional rights. Since this is a public matter we feel free to address you with an open letter.”
Red Charges Piled Up In Old Highlander Inquiry

But Star Witness Is Dead Now And No Action Trailed Senate Probe

By MILTON BRITTEN, The Press-Scimitar Bureau

WASHINGTON.—If dead men could talk, a five-man investigating committee of the Tennessee Legislature would probably insist on looking up one Paul Crouch, a self-confessed, Moscow-trained former Communist.

The committee is envisaged by a legislative resolution calling for a probe of reports that the interracial Highlander Folk School near Monteagle, Tenn., is "subversive." (The House passed the resolution yesterday by a 74-7 vote.)

In March of 1954 Crouch was a star witness during three-day Senate Internal Security Subcommittee hearings on the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., in which testimony about the Highlander Folk School, as its director, Myles Horton, figured prominently.

Research director for the Senate committee, Ben Mandel, says Crouch died of natural causes a couple years ago. At the 1954 hearings he told of a 1940 meeting at Highlander while he, Crouch, was still a party member. He said it was agreed to plant a Communist organizer at the school.

Crouch said he had been a party member 17 years before he became disillusioned in 1942, quit, and five years later told the FBI he had been a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, a member of the negro trade union and agricultural commissions of the party and had been Tennessee district organizer for the party with headquarters in Nashville.

Crouch, a white man, said he had been trained in Moscow in Communist techniques of espionage, sabotage and propaganda. At the time of his testimony he said he was employed by the U. S. Immigration Service in Honolulu.

Crouch said those present at the 1940 meeting at Highlander included besides Horton and himself Dr. James A. Dombrowski of New Orleans, director of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, and "Ed McCrea, Nashville organizer of the Communist Party, a member of the bureau, and later my successor as Tennessee organizer . . ."

Southern Fund

The Southern Conference Educational Fund was identified as offshoot of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which Crouch said got its original financing from the Communist Party and which was cited during the '40s by the House Un-American Activities Committee as a "Communist front." Dombrowski said at the hearings he wasn't a Communist, never had been, always had been under Communist discipline. He said he had taught at Highlander in about 1938.

Asked about the 1940 meeting at Highlander, Crouch told the committee: "At this occasion I stated the Communist Party was anxious to get the maximum results from the Highlander Folk School without endangering Mr. Horton or anyone..."
NASHVILLE, Feb. 12.—A legislative investigating committee was appointed Thursday shortly after the Governor signed a resolution calling for an investigation into the Highlander Folk School at Monticello.

Members of the committee are Senators Lawrence Hughes of Arlington and Barton Dement of New Tazewell and Representatives J. Alan Hanover of Memphis, Harry Lee Senter of Memphis and Carter Patten of Chattanooga.

Mr. Hanover said committee members will meet Monday at 11 a.m.

The resolution has been controversial. It points to alleged subversive activities at Highlander and gives the committee full authority to subpoena witnesses and records.

Committee members are instructed by the resolution to report their findings to this session of the Legislature.

Myles Horton, director of the East Tennessee institution, has denied the school is a "finishing school for communism." He denies he welcomes the investigation.

"Industry" will be the theme of the program.

FIRST SESSION IS HELD

From The Commercial Appeal
Nashville Bureau
NASHVILLE, Feb. 16—Senator Barton Dement was named chairman Monday of a legislative committee that will investigate operations of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle.

The Murfreesboro attorney proposed to perform his duties "fairly and fearlessly" and said the five-man committee will keep itself "in the bounds of the law and the resolution."

Opinion On Duration
Senator Dement, at the first meeting of the committee, produced an opinion of state Solicitor General Allison Humphreys that the investigative group must complete its inquiry during the legislative session.

This is necessary, Mr. Humphreys said, because the functions of a committee created by resolution cannot extend beyond adjournment of the General Assembly.

Representative Harry Lee, member of Bristol, a committee member and one of the sponsors of the resolution, expressed some concern over the official opinion.

The resolution, he commented, calls for the committee to make an interim report to the Legislature with the provision that if the investigation may need to be continued after the General Assembly adjourns in March.

Committee member Representative J. Alan Hamm of Memphis, said that if there is no further investigation it will be necessary after adjournment, the Legislature could enact a law to permit it.

The school has been labeled by some legislators as the "finishing school for communism." Myles Horton, director of Highlander, has vigorously denied this and says he welcomes the investigation.

Representative Carter Patten of Chattanooga was appointed secretary of the committee. The other member is Senator Lawrence Hughes of Arlington.

attorneys but have not talked with him about accepting the position. Under provisions of the resolution, the committee may spend up to $5,000 for any expenses it incurs.

Members said they have not yet decided whether to conduct the inquiry here or school. They have full power to whether they will visit the subpoenas and records.

School Charter Center of Fire

By GARRY FULLERTON
Staff Correspondent

TRACY CITY, Tenn.—The joint legislative committee investigating Highlander Folk school showed by its questions at a public hearing here yesterday it wants to revoke the school's charter.

Testimony during the day-long session centered around the school's labor organizing activities in the early 1930s and its classes on integration problems during recent years.

However, one of the most significant disclosures came when Mrs. Violet Crutchfield, Grundy county registrar of deeds, testified that the school's charter has not been registered in Grundy county as required by law.

Other Testimony

Through the testimony of some 16 witnesses, the committee also attempted to show that:

• The school is not a bona fide educational institution.
• It has not fulfilled the purposes for which its charter was issued.
• Part of its tax free property was deeded two years ago to Moses Horton, one of the school's founders and its director.

Horton told a reporter in an interview later that the property was transferred to him in lieu of back wages which the school owed him. He said he has been paying taxes on the property Aug. 7, 1957, date of the transfer. He said the property

By Miss Justus, a writer of children's books and Sunday school lessons, and the school's social worker, the school has contributed a great deal to the community in which it is located.

The testimony of Mies Justus followed the long parade of witnesses from Grundy county who told the committee the people of the county don't like the Monticello institution and feel it has contributed nothing to the welfare of the county.

Before the hearing opened yesterday morning, members of the committee visited Highlander Folk school, talked briefly with Horton and casually thumbed through books in the library.

"Aw, it's nothing you can't find almost any library," said Sen. Barton Dement of Murfreesboro, committee chairman.

Tells of Strikes

First to be called was Emmett Thomas, 40, an employee of the Grundy county highway department. He testified that Horton helped organize the strike of WPA workers in the county in the early 30's. He said it was a sit-down strike.

Asked if Horton had promised anything to the workers, he said, "He told us we'd get better conditions and better pay." He added that the strike had resulted in better conditions.

A complaint was that the joint superintendent was a slave driver," he said. "We didn't like him and didn't want to give him our time and get a little raise in wages."--Harry Dyer, another witness, also said they had seen colored and white children swimming together in the pool at Highlander.

The next witness, Carly Geary, testified that people from Highlanders occasionally visited his store which he ran for seven years.

"I can look at television any time and see worse than that," said Miss Justus.

Ask Law Knowledge

"Don't you know it's against the law for whites and colored to marry in Tennessee?" Miss Justus asked.

"Yes sir," she replied. "But I didn't know that proves a marriage ceremony.

Miss Justus then read the purposes of the school as outlined in its charter and asked Miss Justus if she thought they were being lived up to. She replied she did.

"It says here one of your purposes is to train rural and industrial leaders," Miss Justus said.

"You issued any diplomas to rural and industrial leaders that you know of?" Mr. J. H. McCarrt, chairman and counsel of the legislative committee investigating Highlander Folk school, got their heads together on a point of strategy.

TRACY CITY, Tenn.—Sen. Barton Dement, left, and J. H. McCarrt, chairman and counsel of the legislative committee investigating Highlander Folk school, get their heads together on a point of strategy.
Wilford D. Cross, professor of Christian ethics. Several other Sewanee professors submitted statements to the committees with the understanding they would be called to testify under oath later, if the committee requires it.

Among these were Eugene A. Kayden, retired professor of economics at Sewanee who is a trustee of the Highlander Folk School. In his statement he said that "as a professional economist, as a citizen, I have benefited from meeting men of both races from various walks of life, including college teachers, college deans and presidents of the Negro race."

"I have benefited from meeting educators and government officials from countries of Western Europe, Asia, and Africa directed to Highlander by the U.S. Department of State," he said.

"I can testify to their seriousness, their good will, their sense of fair play and tolerance, good humor, their readiness and ability to take a broad view of subjects, including the problem of school integration."

Attends Workshops

Kayden said he had attended nearly 30 workshops at Highlander and if is in these groups that "men learn the difficult art of calm deliberation in an atmosphere favoring the formulation of constructive and democratic procedures which leads to friendship and reconciliation."

Highlander has "no special crusade, no program of wholesale reform" and "no political affiliation, right or left," he said.

"It is simply a meeting place for adults of both races on such subjects as education, citizenship, health, social services, community welfare and the school's procedures are "democratic and constitutional."

Other Sewanee professors who submitted statements were Robert H. Degen, H. Malcolm Owen, Stratton Buck and Scott.

Other witnesses heard yesterday were L. C. Goodman of Pelham, Tenn., a public accountant; Robert Alfred Duncan of Summerfield, a construction foreman; Clarence E. Miller, a postmaster at Mont- eagle; Roy Luns of Summerfield, a former mineworker; Grundy County sheriff Elton Clay; Rudolph Brown of Coalmont, an inspector for the state highway department; Elton Dyer of Summerfield, a laborer; Ford Cox, also a Summerfield laborer, and W. T. Barnes of Montague, a former lieutenant of the Washington, D.C., police force.

The session began at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the Grundy County high school and continued until 5:30 p.m. with an hour's break for lunch. McCarty did most of the questioning but all the committee members.

About 100 persons were present during the morning session and about 200 for most of the afternoon session. The audience included a substantial number of students and faculty members from the University of the South as well as interested Grundy county residents and officials.
HEARINGS CLOSE ON FOLK SCHOOL
Legislators Will Report on Highlander Findings

DIRECTOR IS WITNESS

By RICHARD ALLIN

NASHVILLE, March 5—Fate of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tenn., with a legislative investigating committee, which ended its final hearing Thursday morning.

The committee, appointed to determine whether subversive activities are carried on at the school, will give its report and recommendation to the attorney general by Tuesday.

Founder Only Witness

The only witness Thursday was Myles Horton, founder and director of the school who was clearly questioned about the school's finances and its teaching activities.

Representative Alan Hanover of Tennessee, who questioned Mr. Horton of monetary matters, expressed dissatisfaction with Mr. Horton's answers.

Mr. Horton said the bulk of operating funds were placed in the Bank of Sewanee, the nearest bank to the school, and that he "thought" there were only two other depositories for the school's funds, both California banks.

"Are those the only three banks where you have money?" asked committee counsel J. H. McAllister.

"I don't know right off," Mr. Horton said. "We write checks only on Sewanee bank. The others are savings and loans."

"How many other depositories do you have, Mr. Horton? Don't you know? Do you have so many depositories you don't know?"

A Difference Which Should Be Noted

DIFFERENCES have arisen between the chairman and vice chairman of the legislative committee which investigated Highlander Folk school.

Rep. Harry Lee Senter, vice chairman and house author of the probe resolution, accuses Sen. Barton Dement, chairman and senate sponsor, of refusing to convene a meeting to draft a final report.

Senator Dement counters by saying "He's just trying to make statements to get in the limelight . . ." We do not know whether Mr. Dement inadvertently has hit upon one of the chief motives behind the investigation, although suspecting as much. But one thing is clearly demonstrated by this little spat. Human beings do not always think alike.

And that, it is obvious, is the No. 1 reason the committee is demanding that the folk school surrender its state charter. Members of the legislature should remember the Dement-Senter difference of opinion, then, before they vote to burn the charter of an institution which does not think like this disputing pair.

Highlander School's Influence Felt Among Charleston County Negroes

Adult education and classes in citizenship are terms that have a solid sound. Proper training among Negroes of the Lowcountry sea islands could improve their lot and give them a broader role in community life.

The question, as we see it, is not whether these colored citizens, as well as any other citizens, should learn more about the world and the ideas of our times. The question is what they are being taught.

A local news article appearing in The News and Courier yesterday quoted Esau Jenkins of John's Island on classes that he has organized for Negroes in his vicinity.

"We only want to make them better citizens," Jenkins told a reporter. "The main thing is to teach them voting. We want them to understand how to vote intelligently."

The News and Courier heartily endorses the aim of making better citizens. If these citizens are to vote, they should know how to vote intelligently.

Our notion of intelligent voting is independent and thoughtful choice among issues and candidates. Intelligent voting does not include bloc voting. Anyone who teaches Negro voters to become bloc conscious at the ballot box does his race an injustice. Voters of any race should consider the welfare of the community and general progress.

Should a Negro bloc vote develop in the South, as happened in some parts of the North, white Southern politicians would seek it. The kind of politicians who court the Negro vote will not provide the best kind of government for either race. They will set up racial antagonisms that will hurt both races. In the long run, however, it is the Negro who will suffer most from racial discord.

Our remarks today are general in nature. We are not directing them at Esau Jenkins and his John's Island training classes. We do not know exactly what is taught in those classes.

We do know where Esau Jenkins received his training. It was from the Highlander Folk School, an interracial institution at Monteagle, Tenn. A committee of the Tennessee legislature found considerable circumstantial evidence that Highlander Folk School has been "a meeting place for known communists or fellow travelers."

Whether or not communism is proved, the influence of Highlander Folk School on Lowcountry South Carolina has been established through Esau Jenkins and others.

On every hand, we hear warnings about the possibility that communists may take over the dark-skinned people of the world. Red China already is communist. Africa is in turmoil. So is the Middle East.

White civilization, which brought order and prosperity to undeveloped lands, is in peril. If white people escape communist slavery, they may become amalgamated through mixing of the racial strains.

As Esau Jenkins said of integration, "It's a revolution."
Horton Believes Charter Is Legal
Highlander Director Feels Courts Will Kill Probers Attack

By GARRY FULLERTON

Mr. Aubrey Horton, executive director of Highlander Folk School, said yesterday he feels "fully confident" the courts will uphold Highlander's charter.

Horton's statement followed release of the report of the legislative committee which investigated the school. The report recommended that the general assembly take the charter attorney and the 13th district attorney general of the 13th judicial circuit, to begin a suit for revocation of the school's charter.

"I am pleased that this investigation of the school is moving into the courtroom," Horton said. "There can be discussion in the courtroom. The school has a right to state its case. There are many of us who believe in the school and who do not think it will be restrained or that its charter will be upheld.

"Some years ago, there was no idea of stopping teaching ideas. There was no intention of stopping teaching the ideas. If I have been teaching for the past 25 years, and I will continue to present them in a way that may make us misleaders and democratic processors."

School Charter Repeal Sought

Highlander Report Will Urge Call for Revocation on 4 Charges

By JAMES TALLEY

A special legislative committee investigating Highlander Folk School will recommend tomorrow that the school's charter be revoked, a member of the group said last night.

"Any court action, however, would be initiated by the Grundy county district attorney," Rep. Harry Las Senter of Bristol said in an interview last night.

"A copy of the recommendation will be forwarded to him," Senter said.

The 25-year-old adult education school has been the subject of a month-long investigation by the five-man committee probing alleged subversive activities. Highlander is racially integrated.

Albert F. Sloan, district attorney general for Grundy and six other counties in the 15th judicial district, said last night he could not anticipate what action might be taken.

Wants Facts First

"After I get the facts, study the Tennessee code, and determine whether or not there has been a violation of the law," he said, "I will be able to decide on any court action."

The school's charter is filed in Fentress county, but the school is located in Grundy county, near Monticello. Senter said this would be the main basis for any court action.

He said the report will ask that Highlander's charter be revoked because:

1. The school's corporation board has transferred property to director-founder Myles Horton "illegally."
2. The charter was not "property" filed in Grundy county.
3. The school has "operated outside the scope of its charter by engaging in work in South Carolina."
4. There has been no "certification" of a Highlander charter by the state secretary of state.

"All these things together are grounds for revocation we think the committee thinks—without getting into the question of subversion," Senter said.

"But," he added, "we'll get into it (subversion) in the report."

Senter said the committee also will recommend that the legislative council study Tennessee laws of incorporation during the next two years, "with an aim of more rigid statutes of incorporation."

He said the report also will be sent to the U.S. Internal Revenue service "and maybe the testimony will show the school should have its tax-exemption revoked too."

Senter said the legislature is limited to where the state can go in education and subversion. He suggested the federal government might take over "where we have few laws that are applicable."

Horton Denies Bennett Charge
Arkansas Official Says He Thinks Highlander 'Communist Dominated'

By GARRY FULTON
Myles Horton, Highlander Folk School director, heartily denied yesterday Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett's accusation that the school is "communist dominated."

Horton and Bennett were the two main witnesses in a day-long public hearing on the school in the War Memorial auditorium. Sen. Barton Dement of Murfreesboro, chairman of the joint legislative committee probing charges of subversive activities at the school, adjourned the hearing until 9 a.m. today.

Bennett, who followed Horton to the stand did not testify directly about the school, but entered into the record testimony from previous investigations allegedly linking persons connected with the school with various "Communist Front organizations. Then there occurred this exchange:

Rep. Harry Lee Senter of Bristol: "Mr. Bennett, is it your opinion that the Highlander Folk school is Communist dominated?"
Bennett (after a moment's hesitation): "Yes, sir."

The Arkansas official, who appeared in a neat dark blue suit and black tie, told the committee he is "glad to do anything I can to expose the Communist conspiracy."

Leaves for Little Rock
After his testimony, he shook hands with committee members and said: "Run 'em out, boys, run 'em out. That's the main thing." Then he left to return to Little Rock.

Horton, who spent a total of four and one half hours on the stand yesterday, denied that either he or Highlander is Communist or subversive in any way.

This information, too, was brought out by Senter in the following exchanges:
Senter: "Are you now or have ever been a member of the Communist party?"
Horton: "I have never been a member of the Communist party, and I am glad to do anything I can to expose the Communist conspiracy."

you ever been a member of the Communist party or any other subgroup in politics?

Horton: "I am not and have never been a member of the Communist party, under instructions from the Communist party, or a member of any group under the domination of the Communist party.

Senter: "Well, why haven't you joined any of these organizations? You seem to associate with people who belong to them?"

Horton: "Maybe I don't agree with them."

Senter: "Are you a believer in the Marxist-Lenin ideology?"

Horton: "No, sir. I believe in education."

Senter: "In other words, then, you have strayed from the Marxist line. Is that right? Are you sympathetic with the foreign and domestic politics of the Soviet Union?"

Horton: "No, sir."

Senter: "Are identified Communists eligible for any positions at Highlander Folk school?"

Horton: "No, sir."

Senter: "Was your wife a member of the Communist party?"

Horton: "No, sir, not to my knowledge, and I would have known."

Senter: "Do you ever accept contributions from the Communist party or Communist organizations?"

Horton: "No, sir."

Senter: "Do you ever solicit funds from them?"

Horton: "No, sir."

About 50 spectators were present in the big auditorium when the hearings opened 30 minutes late at 3:30 p.m. The crowd grew to nearly 300 by mid-afternoon when a colored movie of Highlander was shown, then dwindled away to a handful by the time the hearings were adjourned at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to newsmen from all parts of the state, the audience included a group of students from the University of the South, a number of Nashville clergymen, two Central high school seniors from Murfreesboro, and representatives of the Tennessee Federation for Constitutional Government.

Bennett was not the only out-of-state witness who testified against the school yesterday. Also on hand was a member of the Frontier chairmen, who spoke of the now-defunct Georgia Commission on Education.

Joseph A. Melone of Montgomery, Ala., assistant attorney general of Alabama, read a 12-minute motion picture which was meant to be one of the highlights of yesterday's hearing. Bennett did not take the stand himself. Other witnesses yesterday were Clarence E. Kilgore, postmaster at Tracy City since 1943, and Maj. R. H. Thompson and W. H. Criswell of Rockford, Tenn.

Assisted by Attorney

Horton, the first man called to the stand, answered questions from 9:30 a.m. until 12:15 p.m. and again from 1:30 p.m. until 3 p.m. He was dressed in a dark blue suit, white shirt and blue and white striped tie, and was assisted by his attorney, Jordan Stokes of Nashville.

One of the first dramatic moments during the hearing came when Horton and Stokes refused to allow the committee to enter as an exhibit the original copy of the school's charter. "We'll give you a certified copy," Stokes said, but Dement answered that would not be good enough.

"I'll have to advise him (Horton) not to let this document out of his possession," Stokes replied.

Dement then instructed Sgt. Joe Williams of the Tennessee highway patrol, the committee sergeant at arms, to take the charter from Horton.

"I want the record to show that this document was taken from us by physical force," Stokes said.

Horton had previously testified that the school's charter had been registered in Fentress county instead of Grundy county because at the time it was obtained (1934) Highlander's main headquarters were at Allard, Tenn.

I went to the Grundy county courthouse yesterday and tried to register the charter," Horton said, but they told me you told them to let me do it. If the charter is wrong, I want to correct it, but apparently the committee doesn't want it corrected, the time the hearings were adjourned at 5:30 p.m.

No Legal Claim To Pay

Under Hanover's questions, however, he admitted that he had no legal claim to the salary, and said he had in fact made no demand upon the school.

"So that property was really just a gift, wasn't it?" Hanover asked.

"I've read you the facts, the minutes of the committee about it," Horton said. "You can call it what you want to."

He said he plans to pay taxes on the property deeded to him, but has not done so yet because the property has not yet been assessed. "I've written a couple of times asking them to assess it," he said. "I guess they haven't got around to it."
During the afternoon session, Horton testified that although he had at the time been a theological student, he is not a member of any church at the present time. The reason, he said, is that churches in the vicinity of Monticello will not admit Negroes to worship services, and "I don't feel I can go to church and leave some of our people behind at Highlander, telling them that brotherhood doesn't apply."

Senter asked him: "Do you believe in God?"

"Yes, sir," Horton replied.

"And in Jesus Christ, the Son of God?" Senter asked.

"Yes, sir," Horton said again.

"Then, why don't you pray up there at Highlander?" Senter asked.

"Highlander is not a religious institution," Horton said.

The committee's session did not end with a prayer.

"Do you think a man can be a Communist and still be loyal to the U.S. government?" Senter asked.

"I know I couldn't," Horton said. "That's all I can say."

The 12-minute motion picture which followed Horton's testimony showed Negroes and white persons entering and leaving the school library on the occasion of Highlander's 50th anniversary celebration, Labor Day weekend, 1957. It also showed Negroes and whites swimming together in the lake behind the school.

Friend, the Georgia photographer, commented on the film as it was being screened. He said he had made the film himself. The only known Communist pictured was Berry.

Later, on the witness stand, Friend said he had lied to Horton about his affiliations when he came to Highlander to make the film. He added, "I'm a Communist."
being connected with the Southern Regional Council, instead of the Southern Conference Educational Fund. The investigating committee appeared not to notice the mistake: Summarizing his testimony, he said:

"If a barnyard goose is lured into a flock of wild geese, he may be excused only if he leaves the flock. But if he continues flying in formation with them, then he is a wild goose, no matter how loudly he may protest that he is not.

"I feel like that school (Highland) has been flying in formation with a lot of people who have as their goal the destruction of the United States as we know it and the placing into power of a Communist conspiracy."

Kilgore, the Tracy City postmaster, testified that "50 or 50 copies of the Daily Worker" were received by members of the Workers' Alliance during the early 1930s when Horton was helping organize them. The Daily Worker was a Communist paper formerly published in New York.

Stokes, Horton's counsel, asked the committee if Kilgore could not have confused the Daily Worker with "The Worker," a publication of the Workers' Alliance. Kilgore was later told reporters that he was referring to a weekly or monthly, not daily.
I'm Grieved Over School Probe

I have been grieved to see that the Highlander Folk School is being investigated ostensibly under the accusation of communism. Actually, the objection is and always has been that it provides a meeting place for colored and white to discuss subjects of mutual interest to both races, and particularly that it has helped to train people in the labor movement.

Before the labor movement had even reached the strength it has today in the South this school helped the unpopular labor organizer. It is still none too popular to be a labor organizer in certain areas of the South and for a school to have stood fearlessly for integration and for labor rights and to have made a good name in its own community and friends in its own community. I think speaks well for the school and its director, as well as its supporters.

I hope no one will be afraid to testify in favor of the right of this school to function. It is true that even some (happily only a few) of our highly placed Southern senators and congressmen have used this threat of accusing an organization or an individual of communism when what they really meant was that they were strengthening the cause of integration and labor in the South.

We want to be aware of the threat of communism; we want to be taught what are the earmarks of a real Communist, and we should dread the growth of communism anywhere in our country. But I have yet to see any growth in the Communist Party in the United States and I have yet to find anywhere a really intelligent and mature person who believes in communism as it is practiced today in the Soviet Union.

There may be a few people who may have been attracted by the ideal of communism, which has never been achieved, but they are usually theorists and have never faced the real facts of communism or so-called socialism as practiced in communist Russia, Red China, or anywhere else that I know of.
Governor Gets Measure For Closing Of Highlander

From The Commercial Appeal Nashville Bureau

NASHVILLE, March 13. — A resolution to open the way for possible revocation of the charter of the Highlander Folk School at Monticello got final legislative approval Friday and went to the Governor.

The resolution instructs the district attorney general in the Highlander area to take steps to have the charter revoked. This would remove the school's tax exemption and possibly provide the means for taxing it out of existence.

A special legislative committee that investigated Highlander said it had collected evidence to show the school is a meeting place for communists and fellow travelers.

The committee also reported the school certificates of incorporation had not been filed in Grundy County, where the institution is located, and that some school property had been transferred to Julian Horton, director of Highlander.

Mixing Cuts Insurance At Highlander

By Jim Scott

Highlander Folk School insurance policies were canceled last year because underwriters feared the school would be bombed due to its interracial activities.

School Director Horton told the investigating committee today that insurance companies took the action after the bombings of synagogues in the South.

During this period—two or three months—the school asked for and received special contributions to create a fund for rebuilding in the event the school was damaged by violence, Horton said.

However, Horton said the school later obtained insurance from Lloyd's of London by paying the "total premium in advance by lump sum."

The director-founder added, "We are having trouble with insurance again because of this investigation." He said the school's automobile insurance was canceled when the current probe was announced.

Today's hearing wound up... about 22 hours of testimony. The committee adjourned at 11 a.m. subject to call of Chairman Barton Dement of Murfreesboro. The panel is due to report to the legislature Tuesday. The committee dies with adjournment of the legislature.

Most of today's hearing was aimed at the school's financial policies Rep. J. Alan Hanover, an attorney, questioned Horton closely on the school's bank accounts and deposits with a savings and loan association in California. Horton said the school had a total of about $25,000 on deposit. He was vague about interest rates, and agreed to produce a complete audit for the committee.

The Wednesday afternoon session was highlighted by testimony of Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, a Vanderbilt University school of law graduate, told the five-man Senate-House committee that he believes Highlander is Communist dominated and the Rockefellers have had a hand In stirring up racial unrest in the South.

Myles Horton, 54-year-old director and founder of the school, located near Monticello, is scheduled to return to the stand this morning.

Horton, who spent nearly five hours testifying Wednesday, has claimed that he is a socialist or has any communist leanings. He maintains that he and the Communists dislike Highlander.

'These Characters'

Bennett linked "these characters" either with Highlander or Horton.

Peter Seagars, Chattanooga, putter-and-singer, who has taken part in Highlander activities, cited 60 times for subversive activities.

The Rev. Claude A. Williams of Fair, Ark., unrocked Presbyterian minister, who espoused land reform in Arkansas similar to the Communist programs, cited 29 or 30 times for subversive activities.

Robert McClellan, former head of the now defunct Commonwealth College in Mena, Ark., which was cited as a nuisance, and said to be a friend of Horton's.

James Dombrowski, head of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare which closed down after being placed on subversive list by a group of successor Southern Conference Education Fund of New Orleans, charter signer of Highlander, cited for subversive activities 40 times.

Charles E. Commin, dean of Tuskegee, Ala. Institute, member of Highlander executive council, who was instrumental in sending a Negro professor to Arkansas to find "soft spots" for integration.

Aubrey Williams, now publisher of the short-lived Birmingham Highlander, was cited for subversive activities 28 times.

Alfred Buck, Negro, identified a Communist, who attended anniversary celebration; cited 25 times.

Lee and Grace Swooch, active in Little Rock racial disturbance, once connected with Fisk University and Highlander participants; once took the Fifth Amendment before a Federal investigating committee when queried about Communist connections.

The Arkansas attorney general charged that Horton attended a secret North Carolina meeting which espoused revolutionary ideas.

"The Highlander Folk School," he said, "keeps pretty close to the party line and in close touch with Communist fronts."

United Front

Bennett also said that Horton in 1935 took an active interest in the United Front, a combination of the Socialist and Communist parties whose objective was to overthrow our way of life.

Referring to Arkansas integration troubles and closed-down Commonwealth College, Bennett said, "the same events have occurred in our state which have been unfolded in your state."

"You people certainly have a problem here."

He stated that the Arkansas investigating committee recently found "subversive connections in racial unrest." He said $50,000 was spent to promote "racial strife in Arkansas."

Ed Friend, a photographer for the State of Georgia, who infiltrated the school to report to the Georgia Commission on Education, said Highlander "is subversive to the way I have been taught to live in America."

Interracial Photos

Friend took both still and moving pictures of interracial activities at the school. The motion pictures showed whites and Negroes swimming together.

"Friend said his wife, who attended some of the Highlander sessions with him, was 'so disgusted she cried."

Also here on invitation of the committee is Joseph A. Malone, an assistant state attorney general from Alabama.
Speech Denied, Teacher Says
Highlander School Defense
Talk Banned, Scarritt Woman Says

BY WAYNE WHITT

A Nashville educator charged yesterday the legislative committee investigating Highlander Folk school refused to permit her to testify in defense of the Grundy county adult education institution.

Miss Alice Webb, director of rural field work at Scarritt college, said she was told Wednesday by the committee she would be permitted to testify yesterday. But the five-member committee adjourned without hearing her.

"I don't understand why they wouldn't permit me to testify," she said. "I thought they would want the full story, but apparently not."

Seek Extra Pay

As the committee concluded the hearing and prepared to write a report to be delivered to the legislature Tuesday, it was reported reliably some members of the committee want to ask the legislature to pay extra for their probing the school.

A legislator close to the committee said if the group does decide to ask for pay over and above the $15 a day they are receiving as members of the legislature the proposal will originate in the senate.

The lawmaker would not say how much the members want other than "it is substantially more than they make in the legislature."

He added he was against allowing them extra pay.

Horton testified insurance policies on the school's property were canceled "when synagogues were being bombed. Our insurance was canceled because the insurance company felt we might be bombed because of our interracial activities."

He said for several months the institution was without insurance "but we finally were able to get insurance again by getting it from Lloyds of London.

"When we couldn't get insurance, we asked our friends to pledge $10, $20, or $100 to help us rebuild in case the school was destroyed," Horton continued, "and they did, many of them from Ten ssee.

He said fear of future trouble over insurance was the reason for the existence of a $3,000 insurance fund at the school.

"And because of this investigation, Horton continued, "the insurance on our automobile has been canceled. We've set aside money to make sure we can't get insurance."

Hanover and Horton sparred with each other about the school's bank accounts and funds.

Claims One Account

The director testified the school has only one account on which it draws checks and that is in a bank at Sewanee. He said the account was savings and loan associations in California "because our auditor found we could get higher interest there." Horton also testified that the school had a general fund and then a fund for special projects. He stated at times contributions are earmarked for special projects.

"Would there be in shuffling of these funds around to fool anyone, as to what you actually have?" Hanover asked.

"We try very hard to make it clear," Horton shot back. "We have to satisfy our contributors and I don't think the foundations which give us money would keep sending us money year after year and increasing their contributions if they weren't satisfied."

"That's no proof!" Hanover interrupted.

"Let him answer the question; you've been arguing with him," Jordan Stokes III, Horton's attorney, said.

"I want him to answer, and you know I have not argued with him at all," Hanover replied. "Every time I ask a question he tries to talk around it."

"I'm not trying to talk around anything," Horton said. "I'm trying to explain a program that is difficult to explain."

Horton, neatly dressed in a dark blue suit, would reach into his pocket or his briefcase at his feet or pockets as questions were fired at him.

The hearing played to a nearly empty house in the big War Memorial building auditorium. About 30 were in the chamber and the included committee staff, newsmen, a maintenance man assigned to the building and a janitor.

Several supporters of Highlander were in the audience. In addition to Miss Cobb, another of the others was Miss May Baker, who said she too was moved to test her life in defense of Highlander before the committee adjourned. Miss Justus, secretary-treasurer of the Highland board of directors, testified before the committee in Tracy City last week.

The committee didn't give any reason for not hearing the woman. Miss Cobb said she had wanted to tell the committee 'I have never at any time seen any indication of activities or teachings which were subversive, and have been especially impressed with the keen interest in supporting the principles of democracy, and educating participants in these principles. I should say that this is a strong move to strengthen our citizenry against threats of communism.'

Rep. Harry Lee Senter, committee member and author of the resolution which led to the investigation, questioned Horton about the source of contributions to the school.

"Why is it so much of your money comes from New York, the Bronx and Brooklyn and around the University of Chicago?" Senter asked.

Money Where It Is

"The money comes from where it is," Horton replied. "We collect it wherever it comes from and bank it at Sewanee. When we ask for contributions we don't care whether it comes from Brooklyn, the Bronx or anywhere."

"That's right," Senter said, "you don't care where it comes from, do you?"

"I have never solicited money from any Communist or subversive organization," Horton reiterated. "I contribute to Highlander myself and I don't contribute to any subversive organization."

Senter then ratcheted into records taken from the school and started calling names from cards and asking about them.

The first name he drew was that of Ora C. Johnson of Paris, Ark.

"Who is this?" Senter shouted.

"Why does it have on the card to send appeal letters?"

Mother-In-Law

"That just happens to be my mother-in-law," Horton replied. "She doesn't have much money and I didn't want letters going to her asking for contributions."

Senter selected more than a dozen cards. On one card there was a notation to address the person by his first name.

"There is nothing subversive about calling people by their first names," Horton said.
Odds on Report:

"I have seen what I have been told. I don't see how the odds are going to write a report," he said.

The legislature appropriated $5,000 for the investigation. It could not be learned yesterday how much of this had been spent as all expense accounts have not been filled.

Asked about seeking additional pay, Sen. Barton Dement, chairman of the committee, said, "I know nothing about it. He said the group would file an interim report with the general assembly Tuesday.

Only Myles Horton, founder and director of the school, testified during yesterday's hour and a half session. But Horton, who spent nearly five hours in the witness chair Wednesday, was asked about the school's financial situation and about charges of subversive activities. Questioning about the school was by Rep. Alan Hanover, a committee member from Memphis.

Taxes Send More to Highlander

The News-Free Press commented the other day on the use of the American taxpayers' money to finance a State Department exchange student program that will bring a woman from Liberia to take part in activities at the notorious Highlander Folk School near Monteagle, Tenn. But it has turned out that is only part of the story.

In addition to the Liberian woman sponsored by the State Department's International Educational Exchange Service, Highlander Folk School is going to be visited today through Sept. 8 by 11 French students under State Department grants for "an experiment in international living."

There are grave questions as to the advisability of perverting the student exchange program by requiring the taxpayers to support junkets to an institution which is not really a school in the usual sense—and is an institution that certainly the Government of the United States should not give any semblance of official support.

We do not expect ever to find out what the cost of the tour of the Liberian woman and the 11 Frenchmen to Highlander really is. The State Department wraps up such programs in a deep camouflage of red tape so that costs of the exchange programs is difficult to discover, although it is ascertainable that some 22 million dollars has been appropriated for some of the program.

While we may never know the cost in dollars of State Department sponsorship of Liberian and French visitors to Highlander Folk School, the cost will be somewhere in the tax bill of the American people. But far worse than the dollar cost is the disgusting fact that the State Department has any part in sponsoring individuals at the highly suspect Highlander Folk School.
Tax Money For A Highlander Visit?

The State Department has confirmed that the International Education Exchange Service of the department is spending some $1,800 a person for 11 French teachers to visit the highly controversial Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tenn.

The visits, says a State Department official, although paid for by the government were arranged by something called the "Experiment in International Living" of Putney, Vt. The spokesman says that organization has been found to be reputable.

The whole affair raises questions promptly. Highlander has been in considerable hot water lately. For more than two decades the school, under Director Myles Horton, has openly advocated integration. "Courses" are taught there which lead to no degree. But they are heavily laden with sociological import and the whole direction of the school is far to the left. Labor union organizational methods are among the subjects taught.

Nobody knows apparently just how far left the school is. The Tennessee Legislature some months ago intensively investigated it but it came up with something short of specific findings. Efforts have been made to close the place up as a public nuisance. Hearings are now pending on a circuit attorney's petition to padlock. Only a few weeks ago local officers raided the school and discovered liquor on the premises. Arrests were made.

The use of public money for any such visit is or ought to be subject to detailed inquiry.

Leaflets
Fill Mails

BY HAINES COLBERT

Somebody out there doesn't like Malcolm (Mid) Ross, University of Miami editor, novelist, and composer of humorous ditties.

Ross was attacked in a leaflet which was turning up in the mail of Miamians yesterday.

The anonymous writer of the printed sheet said Ross is a supporter of the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tenn. The school, said the sheet, is communist.

The anonymous writer of the printed sheet said Ross is a supporter of the Highlander School of Monteagle, Tenn. The school, said the sheet, is communist.

Ross retorted that the school isn't communist, but has been under attack for years by an 'undying bunch of fatheads.'

Said Ross:

"Highlander is a racially integrated school, which is the reason for the attacks on it. It's been investigated repeatedly, and all the Tennessee newspapers have said the school officials are being made the objects of a witch hunt!

LOTS OF SUPPORT

"I think the school has done a lot of good and it is supported by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and dozens of others, including college presidents and clergymen."

The leaflet quoted an American Legion publication, The Firing Line, in saying Ross was a member of the school 'guarantors committee' — a group which raises funds for Highlander.

It noted the trustees of the university and urged readers to call them 'and protect Ross.'

"In the name of everything that is Christian and American," the anonymous leaflet author wrote, "these men should be requested to give an accounting of their trusteeship."

While the American Legion publication was quoted freely in the leaflet, Legion officers said they had nothing to do with it.

DON'T APPROVE

"We didn't sanction the use of the Legion name and we don't approve of it," said A. C. Thompson, of Starkes, past Department commander and American Legion Committee member.

"If we want to criticize somebody, we tell him. Anything put out by the American Legion has its same gun in it."

Lee B. Anderson, editor of the Chattanooga News-Press, said Ross wasn't entirely correct in claiming all Tennessee newspapers have supported the school. He explained:

"We've criticized the school because a bunch of liberalites like Mrs. Roosevelt are tied up with it. But we never have said it is communist.

"The Nashville Banner has taken about the same stand. But the Tennessesn and the Chattanooga Times have gone to bat for the school."

STARTED IN '36

Ross said he became acquainted with the school when he was public relations director of the National Labor Relations Board in the '30s.

"Myles Horton and two other graduates of the Union Theological Seminary decided to help the people in a ruined coal county of Tennessee—their home state," said Ross "They've done a lot for the miners there.

"Actually, I haven't done much for the school, but I'm not in the least ashamed of what I have done."

Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, University of Miami president, was not of town, but U-M vice presidents were unconcerned about the leaflet.

"I don't care about getting into it," said Dr. H. Franklin Williams, one of the vice presidents, "but if it comes to standing up and being counted for Mike than I'll do it."

Dr. James M. Godard, executive vice president, said he hadn't seen the leaflet and wasn't interested in it.

The attack apparently wasn't gaining much support.

Harry Hood Barnett, top man on the list of trustees to whom the leaflet readers were supposed to protest, said no one had called him.

Interracial School Charter Lifted by Tennessee Judge

ALTAMONT, Tenn., Feb. 17 (AP)—Circuit Court Judge C. C. Chattin yesterday revoked the charter of Highland Folk School and ordered the Interracial Adult Education Center near Monteagle placed under receivership.

In an 11-page decision filed in Grundy County Circuit Court, Judge Chattin ruled the school had violated Tennessee segregation laws and laws pertaining to the sale of beer.

The judge ruled further that a deep spring school property to Myles Horton, its founder-president, was invalid and that the property, about 70 acres, must be turned back to the school.

Revocation of the general welfare charter was sought by District Attorney General A. B. Sloan on the ground that the 27-year-old school had been used for personal gain of Mr. Horton.

Mr. Sloan also charged that Highlander had engaged in commercial activities in violation of its nonprofit charter.

The judge issued his decision on the basis of a trial held in November.
NEW TRIAL ASKED

Highlander Folk School's charter revoked

HIGHLANDER Folk School at Montvale, Tenn., for 25 years an outstanding interracial adult educational center, has suffered a death of its state charter on Feb. 16. Cecil D. Banstetter, Nashville lawyer defending the school, announced he would file a motion for a new trial and would press the case "through every possible judicial channel in search of justice for the school."

In small Court Judge Chester C. Chattin ruled that the school violated its charter by "permitting integration in its school work." He ordered a receiver to wind up the school's affairs.

THEY'RE GOING ON. It was believed the school had authority to put his order into effect pending an appeal, but Myles Horton, school president, said:

"We are going ahead with our current educational program. We have a regular workshop for ministers and social workers scheduled for the coming weekend. Our extension program is also a bit long for the present. This ruling, as far as I have been able to ascertain, does not interfere with our current program. If I am wrong about that, someone will have to tell me, but there has been no court order stopping anything yet."

The defense had argued that Tennessee's pre-Civil War segregation laws prohibiting integrated classes and workshops had been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, but Judge Chattin pointed out that the Supreme Court decision referred only to private but not public schools. He said the state's laws "as applied to private schools [are] constitutional and valid."

THE BACKGROUND: Judge Chattin's ruling is the latest development in a long campaign by the state to close the school. Last July police raided it as a "public nuisance" and its main building was padlocked temporarily on a charge that beer was sold there without a license.

In November a jury handed down an advisory verdict that the school was operated for "the personal gain and enrichment" of Myles Horton. Judge Chattin cited both these earlier cases in his order revoking the school's charter, and he voided a deed of a plot of school grounds to Horton upon which he had built a home at his own expense. Testimony showed that for 20 years of the school's existence, Horton had drawn no salary, and currently receives $3,000 a year which is considered low when compared to similar posts.

If the Chattin ruling stands, it could affect many other Tennessee colleges and universities where racially integrated classes are conducted.

Highlander school loses appeal in state supreme court

Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., lost another round in its battle for survival when the Tennessee Supreme Court on April 5 upheld a lower court order revoking the school's charter and ordered it to close.

The school, founded in 1932, has long been under attack because of its complete integration. Highlander has stimulated Negro voter registration by training people to teach literacy. Recently the school and Martin Luther King Jr.'s Southern Christian Leadership Conference announced a joint training project for sit-in demonstrators.

The school and its directors, Myles Horton and Septima Clark, have also been attacked as "communist." In 1957 they were defended against this charge by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, a long-time defender of the school, and by Dr. ReinholdNiebuhr and others.

The present case began in 1959 after a party at the school was raided by local police and three staff members were arrested on intoxication charges. The State Supreme Court ordered the school closed on the grounds that Horton had operated the school for private gain and that intoxicating beverages had been sold on the premises. The Court did not rule on another holding of the lower court that the school violated state segregation laws.
Highlander No Help

There is not generally much good news from the Supreme Court, for the South.

But we can be pleased with the jurists' decision of yesterday in which they declined to review a Tennessee order which revoked the charter of Highlander folk school near Monteagle, Tenn.

The revocation came because of beer selling there and because the Tennessee Supreme Court ruled that the director, Myron Horton, had been operating the school for his private gain.

The state high court did not rule on racial questions but a lower court judge had held earlier that the Highlander school had violated state segregation laws by having an interracial student body.

Word from Tennessee has been that the school has taken out a new charter and plans to open a new center in Knoxville to carry out the "Highlander ideal."

Highlander school has been an adult education organization which followed a line much to the left of center. In the present troubled condition in the South, we can get along without such an institution.
28 Seized in Raid On CORE Training Camp in Tennessee

MARYVILLE, Tenn., June 20 (AP)—Twenty-eight young white and Negro men and women were jailed here early today after a sheriff's raid on their Smoky Mountain area training camp sponsored by CORE, Blount County Sheriff Roger Trotter reported.

Trotter said he raided the camp after complaints from nearby Townsend residents of disturbances at the tents and cabins at the edge of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

The 28, ranging in age from 16 to 27, are being held on open charge pending the arrival of FBI officers from Knoxville, Trotter said.

Most of those arrested were from outside the state, Trotter said, but two boys were from Oak Ridge, Tenn. Included were two white girls, six Negro girls, nine white men and 11 Negro men, most of them from eastern states.

Robert Gustafson, 27, of Putney, Vt., said he and his wife were conducting the classes. He said he was director of the North-South Smoky Mountain Workshop, a branch of the Highlander Folk School in Knoxville.

The biracial Highlander School lost its state charter two years ago when it was situated near Monteagle, Tenn. Its operator, Myles Horton, has since opened a school in Knoxville.

Trotter said another batch of students was due at the camp June 23.

The sheriff confiscated pamphlets from the camp, including instructions on combating police dogs and fire hoses. Some whisky was also seized.

The camp had been operating about ten days. One of those arrested identified the camp sponsor as CORE and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.
Mayor Answers Bible Class

City Lacks Authority To Ban Highlander

The state issued the charter to the Highlander Research and Education Center here and only the state can revoke it, Mayor John Duncan says.

This was the gist of a letter written by the mayor to Walter Gourd in the Barac. Class of Fountain City's Central Baptist Church.

This was a response to a request by the class that the city "padlock the doors and revoke the license" of the controversial center headed by Myles Horton.

"Greatly Concerned"

"We certainly have been greatly concerned about the operation of this place since it has been in Knoxville," the mayor wrote.

He noted that he served on an American Legion committee "many years ago when it first asked the State Legislature to investigate the Highlander Folk School while it was located at Monteagle.

However, Mr. Duncan recalled that nothing was done by the town of Monteagle nor by the Legislature to close the school at Monteagle.

City Doesn't Charter

"I did say that attorney general revoked the school's charter on the basis that the school was being used illegally to some of the students and visitors of the school."

"Some 10 days after the state revoked the charter," the mayor's letter continued, "for some unknown reason, the secretary of state issued a new charter under a different name to the same individual (Mr. Horton) who had headed the school while it was at Monteagle.

"The city ... does not issue charters or licenses to corporations or schools. They are issued by the state ... and consequently, if they are revoked, they must be revoked by the granting authority."

"Would Welcome Evidence"

Mr. Duncan in his letter, said it might be "worthwhile" for Atty. Gen. Clarence Blackburn to conduct an investigation of Highlander, "because if one were held it is possible that some individuals who did have information concerning violations of the law would come forth and divulge this information in a public investigation."

The mayor said he is not "pleased" that "this individual is operating in the city. He said it is causing "unnecessary work" for the Safety Department. He also said he would "welcome any evidence or information that you or anyone else might have concerning any violation of any ordinance of the city."

Contributions Tax-Exempt

He said he is sure that the FBI is "diligent" in any matter concerning "subversive activities." He also noted that "Federal authorities have also recognized this place as an institution that is tax exempt and people who desire to make donations to it can take credit for such donation in their Federal income tax."

The mayor said, "Neither the city, county nor state of Tennessee can act on an assumption, and all legal authorities in Knoxville that I have discussed this matter with agree with this.

DUNCAN SAYS—
City Lacks Authority To Padlock Highlander

The city does not have the authority to padlock the doors and revoke the license of the Highlander Research and Educational Center, according to a letter received by the Baraca class of Central Baptist Church of Fountain City from Mayor John Duncan. The letter was the result of a resolution drawn up by the 70 members of the class petitioning the mayor and City Council to put the center out of business.

The mayor in his answer to the petition said the state issued the charter to the center here and only the state has the power to revoke it. Highlander, which moved to Knoxville in 1961 after its charter for a similar school at Montclaire was revoked, is under the direction of Myles Horton.

Mayor Duncan said it might be worthwhile for Atty. Gen. Clarence Blackburn to conduct an investigation of the center.

The mayor said that "he is not pleased that this individual is operating in the city". He further stated that he "would welcome any evidence or information that you or anyone else might have concerning any violation of any ordinance of the city."

The mayor concluded, "Neither the city, county nor state of Tennessee can act on an assumption and all legal authorities in Knoxville that I have discussed this matter with agree with this 100 percent."
Highlander Won't Get 'Witch Hunt'

Blackburn Needs Proof of Violation

The attorney general's office does not plan a "witch hunt" investigation of the controversial Highlander Research and Educational Center here, Atty. Gen. Clarence Blackburn said today. Blackburn explained yesterday that since the state issued the center's charter and license, the state could revoke it, if it "might be worth while" for Mr. Blackburn's office to conduct an investigation.

Mr. Blackburn said if any citizen has information of a violation of any state law, he would be glad to bring it to the grand jury. He said it is not wise for a grand jury to proceed on its own and investigate a matter.

Evidence Necessary

"In the recent bootlegger liquor probe here, we called in every Tom, Dick and Harry and found that we accomplished nothing," Mr. Blackburn said. "We need officers to investigate and bring the evidence and testify before the grand jury so that the investigation can act as a result of hearings."

Mayor Duncan also said he would welcome any information concerning any violation of any state law by Highlander personnel. Mr. Blackburn said "We need officers to investigate and bring the evidence and testify before the grand jury so that the investigation can act as a result of hearings."

Esau Jenkins shows visitors through the Progressive Club Center with pride, a pride which is best understood when the Negro leader contrasts the recently completed structure with the humble origins of the organization back in March 1948.

At that time — more than 15 years ago — many of the Negroes were still living on plantations while others were small farmers or sharecroppers, he explained. "The only organization then was the church," the John's Island man said. "They — the small farmers — bought their seed and fertilizer a bag at a time. If they could pool their money, they could buy a lot of seed and a good bit of fertilizer and save some money.

"Often these people were in trouble with the law. If they progressed — not just financially, but also spiritually and morally — and in every walk of life — they were not as likely to get in trouble with the law. And if they did get in trouble for their beliefs or what they thought, the group would be there to help them."

This was what Esau Jenkins had in mind when he called "eight or 10" of his neighbors together and formed the Progressive Club. The first meeting was devoted to examining the word "progressive" and its meaning for the John's Island community.

One of the first problems faced by the group was the need for literate and politically informed citizens. All of the members of the club either had to be registered voters or had to agree to try to register if they didn't register. Jenkins, his speech flavored with rare traces of Gullah, pointed out: "From the start we stressed registration and voting. I knew you could get what you needed if you had the votes. The politicians they call them the 'power structure' now — listen to the people who vote. So we taught that participation in government was essential."

By CHARLES L. DEBLO

At that time the Negro leader operated a bus line to Charleston for John's Island Negroes, a line that once included five buses. Seeing the need for a citizenship school, Jenkins began teaching his passengers on the bus, a convenient place for meeting.

"One day in mid-1948," he relates, "one lady, Alice Wine, said 'Mr. Jenkins, I can't read these words, but as you teach, these people I will memorize. Not long afterwards I took them down to register, a large group of them. But I didn't know where to put her in the line. I was so scared they would catch her not able to read. Finally we put her about in the middle."

"When the lady in front of her was taking her test, she mispronounced one of the words, I believe it was 'miscegenation.' Alice quickly corrected her, and the lady at the registration center told her, 'All right, no coaching.' I was so surprised I didn't know what to do.

"When Alice's turn came up, they ran her through. Yet if they had shown her the word printed on a page she wouldn't have known what it was."

In the years that followed, the Progressive Club held monthly meetings — with monthly dues of 25 cents. "That's how we found the people who needed help. We arranged for them to come in two nights a week," he went on to explain that people with similar difficulties were grouped together.

Problems began to develop, the Jenkins and his pupils: "So many persons needed help, I just couldn't help all of them."

Well, Septima Clark (now associated with Southern Christian Leadership Conference) was a school teacher here. She asked me to go to Highlander Folk School with her. I didn't want to go — this was back about 1953 — but she said Myles Horton (director of Highlander) might be able to get me some help for the work on the Island. So I finally came — them we needed a new building.
You know: a place where they could come and play basketball, table tennis, skate, and have workshops in citizenship, and bring people in from the outside. But people might listen to someone else a lot better than they'd listen to me.

But something else was bothering the group's leader. In the eight years of the group's operation, no charter had ever been sought. So on Dec. 11, 1956, upon the club's request, the state issued a charter:

... to form a non-profit civic, educational, and social association. The object of which shall be the creation and promotion of clean and wholesome recreation among the Negro citizenry of John's Island, Charleston County, South Carolina; to curb delinquency among its juvenile citizens and to develop high moral standards in its social activities; and to this end, and any other things to purchase property, or place of association and such other accommodations as may be necessary or convenient for the transaction of its business.
```

FEARED OPINIONS

Jenkins continued: "I was afraid that white folks would not like that." But he was surprised:

"We owe a lot to many who helped us—like Mr. Yardell Love who was on the trustee board.

Our schools were once five miles away and the children had to walk. In bad weather many children missed school and absences were high. We wanted a consolidated school with classes going through the high school grades. And our children needed transportation.

"We got a high school out on John's Island even before James Island or Adams Run or anywhere else. And it was through our efforts at the Progressive Club."

Returning to the subject of a new building the active, yet humble, leader continued: "Like I said—we needed another building. We needed a store to handle expenses, a gym for the young people, and sleeping quarters so we could put up groups that came here. Our store is 30 by 50, the gym is 75 by 50, and the sleeping quarters are 10 by 72. We can sleep from 19 to 20 comfortably. That's why our workshop is limited to that many people."

LAST LAUGH

"One of our members," he said with a wry grin, "told me 'I hope I live long enough to see that wall go up.' And I said 'You won't live long.' Richard E. Fields helped us; we got $5,000—I don't know where he got that. Myles (Horton) helped us too. We started building in October 1962 and finished it about March of last year."

Through the years the Progressive Club has remained small and today includes about 15 to 16 persons. More or less limited to a certain area of John's Island, the club is not only civic but also business-oriented. It is financed today, for the most part, through receipts from the store it operates at the Progressive Club Center.

Larger in number — about 400 — is the John's Island Improvement Committee, also a child of Esau Jenkins. Island-wide in membership, the committee limits its functions to civic activities.

A native of John's Island, Jenkins has had a successful business career. He said he attended school through the seventh grade, but — as an adult — continued his education at night classes conducted by the Rev. Giles C. Brown, a veteran of John's Island clergyman.

MOTEL OWNER

The Negro leader used to run a small fruit store on President Street, but in more recent years he has operated the J and P Motel and Cafe on Spring Street. His civic work has not been limited to the Progressive Club; he serves as a board member of Highlander, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and South Carolina Commission on Human Relations as well as of the steering committee of the Charleston NAACP.

In addition he is president of the Citizens' Committee of Charleston County, formed in 1959. With a Cannon Street office, the group has concentrated
As efforts on voter registration:
"You would be surprised at what the Citizens' Committee has done in the political education of our people."

Jenkins claims the group has been especially effective in combating the sale of votes: "In our monthly meetings, we tell our people to watch out for those people who come in just before election year. The reason we've been so effective in fighting people who sell votes is we're a county-wide organization — every section of the county has a branch of the Citizens' Committee."

OFFICIALS AID
He is proud of the group's registration record, but adds: "A lot of credit can go to the county delegation and J. Mitchell Graham (chairman of County Council). They have arranged for a voting machine to be put in our headquarters here frequently so we can teach people how to use it in voting. They have never charged us a cent. They have been very nice to us."

Married at 17, Jenkins is the father of 13 children. Seven are now living, including an Air Force captain and three teachers. He lives next door to the Progressive Club Center in a modern brick house.

And every day he envisions a larger role for the club he has nursed for so many years: "Since we started the Progressive Club on the island, you can't see our young people making trouble like they used to. They used to race up and down the road. Now they have something constructive to do. Now they come to me and want to participate in the program."

"Our big need is a full-time paid worker to have a program in the afternoon. I just don't have the money or the time. We need a supervisor to run the recreation center and program. We have the people; they're willing to follow. I believe I can find the person if I can just find the money."

Highlander's Failure

In an effort to throw light on the Highlander Center operations on John's Island in Charleston County, The News and Courier is publishing a series of articles by Reporter Charles L. Dibble. In these articles, participants in the Center's so-called "workshops" and related groups have been given an opportunity to describe their activities in their own terms.

Naturally, those connected with Highlander have discussed their goals in terms of education and social uplift, though the word "revolution" crops up from time to time as though it could be made respectable.

The public should understand that radicals always seek to describe their work in an acceptable manner. When Gus Hall, head of the Communist Party USA, is interviewed for the press, he doesn't talk about burying the United States. Instead, he talks about the development of the "labor movement" and "social reform." An alert reader will understand that soft words don't tell the whole story. So it is with the Highlander participants' account of their organization.

If one examines the record of Highlander and the list of directors and sponsors, a far different picture emerges. Hard core leftists visited Highlander's former Tennessee base in a steady stream over the years. One of the visitors in recent years was Ahnert W. Berry, of the Central Committee of the Communist Party. We don't believe he went there merely to view the mountain scenery.

The sponsor, or sponsors, knew their business - deep in radical causes during the last generation. Included are veteran members of communist front groups.

Such an organization doesn't zero in on a community unless its own special political goals are involved. Those who have defended Stalinism, praised Fidel Castro, urged U.S. disarmament, attacked the FBI or been directly associated with disciplined communists have more than routine "education" in mind when they decide to invade a community.

It is to the lasting credit of the Negro people of John's Island that the Highlander effort has made hardly a dent. Esau Jenkins and other directors of the Highlander operation no doubt would like to create a mass movement on John's Island. But the Negro people of the Island know better than to put their trust in such an organization.

In their churches and other regular associations, these John's Islanders already have organizations that belong to them. They are not directed from outside this state.

As for voter registration and education, the laws of this state are fair. A Negro citizen has no more difficulty registering than a white citizen. To obtain political education, a Negro can read newspapers and magazines. He can listen to radio or watch television. He has no need for an outfit that finds John's Island a convenient political target.

Year by year, the Negro community on John's Island, as elsewhere in this state, is increasing its prosperity and well-being. With our state government dedicated to fair play, education and better employment opportunities, no Negro citizen of this state need turn to something alien like Highlander.
Accused For Many Years

Director Denies Highlander Communist

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles on the background and activities of the John's Island Progressive Club, its leaders and members.

By CHARLES L. DUBBLE

Charges of "Communists" have been thrown at Highlander Folk School — and its heir, Highlander Research and Education Center — for many years.

But never have the anti-Highlander forces made their charges without immunity, claims Myles Horton, director of the controversial center. If such charges were made without legal immunity, Horton makes it quite clear that a libel suit would be initiated.

In a recent interview at the Progressive Club Center on John's Island where Highlander was sponsoring a voter registration workshop Horton gave his answer to the persistent attacks.

Q—For many years people have been saying that Highlander has Communist connections. What is the basis for this?

A—Basically it's a matter of integration. As one chief of police said after talking with me, "The trouble with Horton is he's been an integrationist for 30 years." I think you know anybody who's an integrationist is immediately suspect. I guess you could say that I was a "premature integrationist."

"All of our programs when first introduced were considered radical. We stood for democratic unions that were integrated and run by the workers themselves. Today this is not controversial. We stood for integration long ago. This too is not as hot an issue as it once was."

I was talking to the mayor not long ago and told him how conservative I was. He was surprised. And then I told him about how many of the things that I have always stood for were now facts. And he seemed somewhat surprised at what I said, but he then agreed.
"Basically the proof that I am not a Communist and never have been at anytime or anywhere is this. No investigative committee, no court, or any other agency has ever come up with any evidence that I am or have been a Communist.

"Another thing—and this is important—is no one has ever accused me who didn't do it with immunity. And there is no exception to that. Marvin Griffin, who put out a smear sheet against us, a sheet that's now being used against Martin Luther King, made his charges with immunity. He could not be held responsible for libel charges. None of these people have made these charges when they could be held for libel. I asked Marvin Griffin to make his charges when he could be held for libel, and he refused. I asked each person who has called me a Communist to make his charges outside immunity. None have agreed to this.

"On the other hand, before Sen. (James) Eastland's (Miss.) committee where I did not have immunity—I could have been held for perjury—I, under oath, stated that I and Highlander were never Communist. But newspapers, including yours, weasel-word the thing. And I can't do anything about that. But I just ignore it. The American people aren't that gullible."

Q—But what is the basis for these charges?

A—Somebody, at some time, attended our meeting. There was a Communist in the meeting. And the charge is made. I have no way of knowing who is in the meeting. What I am concerned with is what I say and do and teach. "I don't bother to ask you for your credentials because I just don't care. You could fake them. I can't know so I just don't bother."

Q—You have never been a member, and I don't expect to join up just to find out who they are."

A—I have always been a natural democrat. I supported Estes Kefauver and the liberal wing of the Democratic Party in Tennessee. I was influenced by my religious background as well as reading and studying.

Q—What political figure could you identify with the easiest?

A—None.

Q—Surely there could be someone in whom you find something that you admire politically?

A—Well, I guess you could say Jefferson. It's an interactie. But I admired his creativity and imagination.

Q—What do you see as the role of government?

A—This business of state's rights just doesn't hold water. It's romantic and unrealistic. Rather I accept the responsi-
The individual must be free. The federal government is less restrictive than the states. Otherwise, I would be for state's rights. I am a pragmatist at this point. I want to depend on the unit that has the power to give freedom. The federal government has this, and I am going to rest my case there.

The government should free people rather than restrict them. I'm a good example of what I believe in. I am generally unrestricted. I am not going to advocate what would restrict me. I would be opposed to that which tries to restrict me. I support the federal government because I want a creative society. The people who are hostile to the federal government are people who don't want the federal government to interfere with them when they try to make a conformist out of everybody.

I want to be creative. That's why I like Jefferson. This is what he stood for. This is what the Democratic Party stands for.

When I put people on the Highlander staff, I turn them loose as long as they are democratic and respect the rights of others. I encourage them to be creative. Certainly they are within the confines of the Highlander policy, but they are allowed a maximum of flexibility within that policy. Just like in this country a maximum of flexibility is allowed within our framework.

I wouldn't say this if I hadn't spent all my life trying to set people free. You can't build on a very narrow framework. You realize the importance of other views. I mustn't let my liberty impede someone else's liberty. Any right I have, anyone else has. I can't have it if I can't give it to you. It has to be built on a society of free men.
Horton
Explains Photograph

Styles Horton gives his version of the origin of the evidence used most frequently by persons charging that Highland-er is communistically oriented:

"The example used by most groups to say we are Communist is a photograph taken at our 25th anniversary in 1957. A man introduced himself to me as a free-lance writer from the Caribbean and showed me a letter to that effect.

"Actually he was a Communist newspaper worker from THE DAILY WORKER (the official newspaper of the Communist Party in the United States). His name was Abner Berry. The strange thing is he left the party shortly thereafter and has been unheard of ever since. Strange conduct after being a member of the party for years. It suggests to me that he was an agent of Marvin Griffin (former governor of Georgia).

"It was at our 25th anniversary meeting. A large number of people turned out. Sandy (A.A.) Liveright (who attended the John's Island workshop) and Joe (J. Arthur) Brown (president of the South Carolina NAACP) were also there.

"Interesting is the fact that Abner Berry is squatting down in the picture. The photographer was Ed Friend who said he was a commercial photographer. I asked him to take some pictures for publicity purposes and so forth.

"But he waited and waited and waited. Then Berry came along. There weren't any chairs. "It was obvious that the photograph had been waiting for asked about it at the time. They were in cahoots - a first time I ever saw them together."
Georgia Commission on Education's circular said: "Pictured (foreground), (1) Martin Luther King of the Montgomery boycott and the Birmingham riots, backed up by the Kennedys; (2) Abner W. Berry of the National Committee of the Communist Party; (3) Aubrey Williams, president of the Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc., the transmission belt in the South for the Communist Party; (4) Myles Horton, director of Highlander Folk School for Communist Training, Monteagle, Tenn. These 'four horsemen' of racial agitation have brought tension, disturbance, strife and violence in their advancement of the Communist doctrine of 'racial nationalism.'"
Civil Rights Official to Speak Here

Conrad Browne, 1943 graduate of Kalamazoo College and associate director of the Highlander Education and Research Center in Knoxville, Tenn., will speak here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Knoxville center is a non-profit training school for civil rights workers, and target of criticism by segregationist forces in the South.

Browne will address a public meeting at the Friends' Meeting House, 508 Denner, at 8 Tuesday night. Sponsor of the meeting is Concern, an international relations discussion group interested in civil rights.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday Browne will speak at a board meeting of the Council on Human Relations n Friends' Meeting House.
Highlander School Set To Open Here

Charleston will be headquarters for an extensive three-month voter education workshop series sponsored by the Highlander Research and Education Center this summer.

Announcement of the center here was announced yesterday by Myles F. Horton, director of Highlander.

The announcement came at the close of a weekend meeting of the 23-member Highlander board of directors at the center in Knoxville, Tenn.

Horton said about 500 persons from communities throughout the South will attend the sessions here and return home to work in voter education projects.

CONSULTANTS

At least 45 special consultants from such organizations as the NAACP, the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), and the Conference of Federated Organizations (COFO) participated in workshops during the past 11 months, Horton said.

Representatives from these and other organizations will serve as consultants in the workshops here, a Highlander official said.

The Rev. C. Conrad Browne, assistant director of the Highlander Center, said last night voter registration has been "effectively organized" in Charleston and that workers from other southern states will come here to study methods used, "in order to be able to return home with new ideas."

Mr. Browne stressed the contrast between this summer's program and that conducted last summer in Alabama and Mississippi when outside students invaded those states to aid in voter registration drives.

GOING THING

Charleston was chosen for this summer's workshop because, said Mr. Browne, "Esau Jenkins' voter registration program has developed into a going thing and that grew out of the Highlander Research Center some year ago."

He emphasized the workshops here will be held to educate registered voters in such areas as how to choose candidates, studying issues in an election and the proper exercise of rights and responsibilities as registered voters.

Mr. Browne ruled out the possibility of Highlander conducting voter registration drives here this summer.

"Our charter allows us to work with education programs only. We don't sponsor any action programs of any type," he said.

He said the workshops would be coordinated here by Esau Jenkins.

During the first week of the sessions scheduled to begin in July, activities will be held at the Progressive Club Center on John's Island, Mr. Browne said.

In following weeks, workshops will be held throughout the county.

Horton said a recruiting program for the sessions here would not be necessary.

WIDELY KNOWN

"We are so widely known in the South that all we have to do is let it be known we are having workshops and we get more applications than we can handle," he said.

Horton said word about the workshops is spread through churches, civil rights organizations and by former students who have worked in the civil rights movement.

A report on Highlander activities for an 11-month period ending yesterday showed the center conducted 31 workshops in which there were 2,481 participants. Horton said an “overwhelming majority” of the workshops dealt with voter registration and education.

Yesterday’s announcement was the third in less than one month to focus major attention in voter activity in South Carolina.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) launched a statewide voter registration campaign from Columbia on May 2. CORE plans to use a 100-man task force to register Negroes in the state.

CORE REJECTED

CORE’s entry into the state’s voter registration picture was rejected by the Rev. I. DeQuincy Newman, field secretary of the South Carolina NAACP.

Mr. Newman has been quoted as saying South Carolina Negroes need no outside help in voter registration.

Evidence of disagreement between South Carolina NAACP officials and the national office became apparent earlier this month however, with the announcement that about 1,200 volunteers would enter Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina to work in voter registration projects this summer.
Highlander Folk School

Probe Voted

A House resolution calling for a second legislative investigation of Knoxville's Highlander Research Center was approved by the Senate yesterday.

The upper chamber approved the probe by a 24-3 vote with a minimum of debate. The investigation will be launched to determine if there is "probable cause" to believe Highlander is subversive.

THE CENTER was investigated by the legislature in 1959 when it was located at Monteagle and called the Highlander Folk School.

The center's state charter was finally revoked on grounds that beer was sold illegally. The name was changed when the center moved to Knoxville and a new charter was obtained.

Sen. Fred Berry, R-Knoxville, sponsor of the resolution, urged its passage, saying "the Senate needs to stand up and be counted on this matter."

"If what we hear about the school is true, we should do something about it," he said. "If not, it should be erased."

EARLIER SEN. Jerry Agee, D-Nashville, had read from what he said was a 1957 Congressional hearing about a "Communist movement in the Midsouth."

Agee said that some people associated with Highlander were mentioned in the report as "possible Communists."

Many legislators have warned that the investigation will be a "witch-hunt," unconstitutional, and "damaging to the prestige of the legislature."

EARLIER THIS week the American Civil Liberties Union released a statement nationwide saying that such an investigation "would seriously impair freedom of speech and association."

"Such an inquiry would have a national impact by helping to revive the spirit of McCarthyism in other states," the statement said.

"This kind of legislative investigation committee smacks of the McCarthy era when such committees under the guise of investigation engaged in witch hunts in violation of academic freedom, free speech and association guarantees of the First Amendment."

The Highlander center has been the target of much criticism in Tennessee for its reputation as a training center for civil rights workers.

On 1/18/58, advised SAC that on 1/9/58 two full cases and one partial case of dynamite had been stolen from the County Rock Quarry located in the Penile Community of Franklin County, Tenn. He said that his investigation had identified three subjects, and that these three had been charged with housebreaking and larceny and possession of dynamite. They were indicted by a special session of the Franklin County Grand Jury on 1/15/58, and are to be tried in February, 1958.

Reportedly had also read of the fact in newspapers that several Negroes were at the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tenn., where they were mixed with whites, and in conversation with other two subjects wondered why this had not been given considerable publicity.

Decided to obtain some dynamite to follow up the Highlander Folk School because of the mixing of whites and Negroes at the school. Dynamite was found packed in a ten gallon milk can, which had been found before it could be used.
For information of the Bureau, the only Negroes in Grundy County are those who stay at the Highlander Folk School. Inasmuch as it appears that this could be a possible source of racial trouble, this matter is being reported to the Bureau for information.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT;
BOMB THREAT, UNSPECIFIED SCHOOL, RECEIVED BY HIGHLANDER
FOLK SCHOOL, MONTEAGLE, TENN., 3/12/59

On March 16, 1959, the following letter was received at the Nashville Resident Agents' Office, Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was typed on the letterhead stationery of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee.

"March 13, 1959

Dear Sir:

I wish to report an anonymous telephone call made to me around 8:30 p.m., March 12. A man's voice, rough and mad, said he was on his way to Georgia and that he had been in Nashville and is not with us. He is a coward. He said something else about Nashville which I did not understand, and then said, 'When I come back from Georgia it will be morning and we will get rid of the school. Blow it off the face of the earth.'

This morning I inquired at the Monteagle Bus Station and was told that both a Memphis and a Nashville bus were scheduled for a stopover at Monteagle around the time the call was made.

Sincerely yours,

/s/

"cc: Tennessee Bureau of Investigation"

On March 16, 1959, at 8:40 a.m., Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification, Nashville, Tennessee, advised Special Agent [redacted] that his' office was closed because of a State holiday and further that he could take no immediate action as there is no present State law relating to threats of bombings. [redacted] stated that while it appeared that [redacted] intended a copy of his letter to go to a State organization, it may have been missent because of the address, stating there is a private detective agency in Nashville, Tennessee using the name Tennessee Bureau of Investigation.

On March 16, 1959, at 9 a.m., 111th CIC Detachment, Nashville, Tennessee, was advised by Special Agent [redacted] of the threat.

The foregoing is being submitted for your information only and is not to be distributed outside your agency.
