The NAACP established in 1909, is a national inter-racial organization composed of 350 local branches and 122 college and youth groups in 44 states with headquarters in New York City. Its aim is to secure full citizenship rights for the negro by legal and other recognized ethical methods and frequently by vigorous protestation of alleged discriminations. The publicity organ of NAACP is the "Crisis", a monthly publication. Indication of increased communist tendencies among some local branches and officers. The various local connections with the communist party and other communist controlled organizations determine extent of subversive activities NAACP may be engaged in.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

According to a newspaper clipping from the Washington Star dated February 23, 1934, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) was organized following the race riot of 1908 at Springfield, Illinois. WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING suggested an organization for the protection of the colored race. A call was sent out by OSWALD GARRISON VILLARD. Among those responding were JANE ADDAMS, LILLIAN D. WALD, JOHN DEWEY, Rabbi STEPHEN WISE, and SAMUEL BOYLES.

On Lincoln's birthday, 1909, a Committee of Forty was formed for carrying out the purposes of the organization. In 1934 the NAACP had three hundred seventy-five branches and a membership of about eighty thousand. In 1911 the NAACP declared through its organ, the "Crisis" that it is an organization of persons who believe that the present prejudice against colored races and particularly the denial of rights and opportunities to millions of Americans of negro descent is not only unjust and a menace to our free institution but also is a direct hindrance to world peace and the realization of human brotherhood.

At this time its methods of accomplishing its purposes were stated as:

1. A lecture bureau.
2. A bureau of legal assistance.
3. A bureau of information.
4. A bureau of publicity and research.

In the second annual report of the NAACP dated January 1, 1912, which is on file in the Library of Congress, its purposes were stated as follows:

"The NAACP seeks to uplift the colored man and woman of this country by securing to them the full enjoyment of their rights as citizens. Justice in all courts and equality of opportunity everywhere. It favors and aims to aid every kind of education among them save that which teaches special privilege or prerogative class or caste. It recognizes the national character of the negro problem and no sectionalism. It believes in the upholding of the Constitution of the United States and its administration in the spirit of ABRAHAM LINCOLN. It upholds the doctrine of 'all men up and no man down.' It abhors negro crime but still more the conditions which breed crime and most of all the crimes committed in the mockery of the law. It believes that the scientific truths of the negro problem must be available before the country can see its way clear to righting existing wrongs. It has no other belief than the best way to uplift the colored man is the best way to aid the white man to peace and social content; it has no other desire than exact justice, and no other motive than humanity."

Today the NAACP states that full citizenship rights for the negro is the rock upon which it is established. It claims to be an international organization, membership in which is open to all who believe in equality of mankind. The association has 350 branches and 122 college and youth groups in 44 states. The national headquarters is at 69 5th Avenue, New York City.

The NAACP today states its aims:

1. The end of lynching
2. The ending of disfranchisement
3. The abolition of injustice in legal procedure based solely upon color or race.
4. Equitable distribution of funds for public education.
5. Abolition of segregation and discrimination, insult and humiliation based upon race or color.
6. Equality of opportunity to work in all fields with equal pay for equal work.
7. Abolition of discrimination against negroes in the right of collective bargaining through membership in organized labor unions.
8. The ending of peonage and the debt slavery of southern sharecroppers and tenant farmers.
9. Abolition of segregation in the Army and Navy. (It will be noted that this is a new aim which has only recently appeared as one of the stated ends of the NAACP.)

According to its own statement the principal achievements of the NAACP have been:

"1. A continuous war on lynching by writing, lecturing, mass demonstrations and the fights for the passage of the Dyer anti-lynching bill in 1922 and the Costigan-Wagner anti-lynching bill in 1934 and 1935. The campaign led by the NAACP resulted in the passage of the Gavagan anti-lynching bill in the House on April 15, 1937, by a vote of 277-119. The bill was taken up November 15, 1937, at the special session and debated for six days, when it was displaced by the farm bill. By agreement, it came up for debate January 6, 1938, and from that date to February 21, southern senators engineered a lengthy filibuster which resulted in the bill's being laid aside. The filibuster cost American taxpayers $460,000. The bill was reintroduced in the 76th Congress in January, 1939, being sponsored in the House by Representative JOSEPH A. GAVAGAN, and in the Senate by Senators ROBERT F. WAGNER, FREDERICK VAN NUYS and ARTHUR CAPPER.

2. The NAACP has won twelve out of thirteen cases before the highest court of the land. It has won the following U.S. supreme court decisions aiding colored people: Grandfather Clause disfranchising

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Negroes declared unconstitutional in 1915; Louisville Residential Segregation ordinance held unconstitutional in 1917; Arkansas sharecropper riot victims freed (12 from death, 67 from long term and life imprisonment) when trial in mob-dominated court was held not due process of law in 1923; Texas white primary law barring Negroes by statute from Democratic primaries held unconstitutional in 1927; New Orleans segregation law held unconstitutional in 1927; Texas white primary law (second case) barring Negroes by enabling act from Democratic primaries held unconstitutional in 1932. These memorable victories were achieved at the remarkably low cost of $31,193.92; largely due to generosity of members of the national legal staff and other lawyers who contributed their services.

In the JESS HOLLINS case arising in Oklahoma, which was won by the association before the U. S. supreme court in 1935, the opinion of the court in the Scottsboro cases was sustained: That HOLLINS had been convicted by a jury from which Negroes had been systematically excluded. A similar decision was obtained in 1937 when a new trial was secured for JOE VALE, convicted by an all-white jury in McCracken County, Kentucky.

On December 12, 1938, the supreme court ruled in the case of GAIRES vs. University of Missouri that the University of Missouri must either admit LLOYD GAINES, a Negro student, to its law school, or the state of Missouri must provide equal accommodations for the training of Negro graduate and professional students. The court held that out-of-state scholarships did not answer the constitutional requirement of equal rights and that states must provide equal training within their borders.

In 1937, the association secured a re-trial as a result of the United States supreme court decision in the case of ED BROWN, HENRY SHIELDS and YANK ELLINGTON, Negro sharecroppers who were convicted of murder by the supreme court of Mississippi in the death of RAYMOND STEWART, April 4, 1934. The United States supreme court decision was based on the fact that the only evidence against these three men was procured through coercion and brutality. The court held unanimously "The rack and torture chamber may not be substituted for the witness chair."

The latest victory was won on May 22, 1939 when the United States supreme court ruled in the case of LANE vs. WILSON that the

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Oklahoma registration law discriminating against Negroes was invalid. Mr. Justice FRANKFURTER, speaking for the court about the Fifteenth Amendment stated: 'The amendment nullifies sophisticated as well as simple-minded modes of discrimination.'

3. It was the first national organization to raise the question of the right of Negroes to sit on juries in the Arkansas sharecropper case, 1919-1923.

4. With a group of other national organizations, the NAACP is a member of the joint national Scottsboro Defense Committee which is carrying on the fight to free the world's most famous defendants.

5. It launched and has continued the fight to abolish the system of lily-white Democratic primaries in the South. The association believes that free and independent use of the ballot is the right of every citizen in America.

6. In 1932 it twice investigated slave labor conditions on the Mississippi levees and won increases of $100,000 weekly for 25,000 Negro workers, shorter hours and better conditions. Similar efforts were made in connection with other great public works such as Boulder Dam and TVA. TVA was investigated in 1938 and the evidence of discrimination against Negroes was presented to the joint committee of the U. S. Congress investigating TVA.

7. It has everywhere fought school segregation and discrimination in the allotment of educational monies to Negro schools. Lawyers for the association secured a ruling by the Maryland court of Appeals in January, 1936, which opened the doors of the University of Maryland law school to Negro students. This fight is being continued in Maryland where the third Negro was admitted in 1939. Similar cases are to be filed in Tennessee and Missouri.

The campaign to equalize the salaries of Negro and white teachers has spread to Maryland, Virginia, Florida, Alabama and Kentucky. As the result of two court cases, salaries have been equalized in nine out of twenty-three counties in Maryland, which means an additional $100,000 a year on the pay checks of Maryland school teachers. One additional case is pending in the Circuit Court of Prince George's County, Maryland, and another in the federal court in Maryland.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

8. Under the New Deal it fought at great expense all sorts of discrimination against Negro workers and persons on relief under the NRA, PWA, WPA, etc.

9. It has fought discrimination against Negroes in both federal and state civil service and is continuing its fight against discrimination in organized labor."

According to information received from the local branch of the NAACP at 1011 U Street, N.W., by reporting agent under suitable pretext, the various local branches of the organization operate in the following way:

When trouble is spotted or information sought, the local office is notified. The trouble-spotter or information-seeker reports to a full time clerk. By a regular system the secretary of the branch refers the matter to an appropriate committee--Legal, Labor, Education, or Youth. The Press Committee sees that the reading public is aroused; the Entertainment Committee provides fund raising and continual activities. The works of the branch are dove-tailed by a very alert Executive Committee fully representative of the groups which pay for the branch's operations.

So it would appear that the NAACP is divided itself between the conservative approach to the negro program as advanced by BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, and the more radical program advocated by W. E. B. DUBOIS.

A review of the Bureau files on the NAACP indicates that prior to 1935 a concerted effort was made to keep politics out of the organization but since about the middle of 1935 increasing communistic tendencies are noticeable among minor local branches in the national administration of the NAACP. In July, 1935, the NAACP went on record at its annual convention in Columbus, Ohio, as saying that in the future it would cooperate with other groups on specific issues. It is known that the NAACP has allied itself with the National Negro Congress, the American Civil Liberties Union, and the American People's Mobilization and other communist front organizations on specific issues in several respects.

Furthermore, it is apparent from the investigation conducted in this case that any subversive or un-American activities which the NAACP may be engaged in are determined for the most part by the local relationship of its various branches with the local communistic element.

9 committees shall consist of not less than three members nor more 10 than seven members.

11 The duties of the standing committees shall be:

12 (a) MEMBERSHIP. The Membership Committee shall work to 13 increase the membership of the Association.

14 (b) FINANCE. The Finance Committee, which shall consist 15 of the President, Treasurer, and at least one other member,
16 shall have the duty of raising funds for the Branch for special,
17 local and other purposes within the scope of the Branch program.

18 (c) PRESS AND PUBLICITY. The Press and Publicity Committee 19 shall endeavor to secure publicity in the local press for the 20 work of the Branch and the Association. By personal visits and 21 correspondence, it shall attempt to interest editors in local 22 conditions affecting colored people and in the race question 23 in general.

24 It shall watch carefully the publications of the community
25 and report thereon to the appropriate committee.

26 The Press and Publicity Committee shall be responsible 27 for forwarding to THE CRISIS items covering Branch activities 28 and important local affairs. It shall also act as far as 29 possible as an agency for the promotion and sale of THE CRISIS.

30 No publicity shall be released by the Press and Publicity 31 Committee without first being approved by the President of the 32 Branch.

33 (d) LEGAL REDRESS AND LEGISLATION. The Legal Redress and 34 Legislation Committee if possible shall be comprised largely 35 of lawyers. It shall examine the state laws and local ordi-
36 nances for possibilities of discrimination, work for better
37 and equal enforcement of the laws, sponsor beneficial legisla-
38 tion, and work for the repeal of discriminatory laws.

39 It shall keep the Executive Committee of the Branch and 40 the National Office promptly informed of all proposed legisla-41 tion affecting colored people.

42 It shall investigate all cases reported to it for legal 43 redress, consulting when necessary with the attorneys of the 44 National Legal Committee, and shall watch over all litigation
45 in which the Branch is interested.

1
3
4
5
7
8 The Legal Redress and Legislation Committee shall not 9 given general legal advice.

10
11 (e) LABOR AND INDUSTRY. The Committee on Labor and In-12 dustry shall seek ways and means of improving the status of 13 colored people in labor, industry and agriculture.

14 (f) EDUCATION. The Committee on Education shall study
15 local educational conditions affecting colored people. It
16 shall aim to be a center of popular education on the race 17 question and the work of the National Association. It shall 18 seek to stimulate attendance of colored youth in schools and 19 shall visit the schools so as to keep informed of conditions 20 and strive to correct abuses where found.

21
22 (g) ENTERTAINMENTS. The Committee on Entertainments
23 shall have charge of entertainments of such kind as shall be 24 approved by the Executive Committee.

25
26 (h) YOUTH COUNCIL AND JUNIOR WORK. The Committee on Youth
27 Council and Junior Work shall consist of the Senior Branch Ad-28 viser to the Youth Council, The Senior Branch Adviser to the 29 Junior Youth Council, the Youth Council President, and the 30 Junior Youth Council President. The membership of this Commi-
31 ttee may be increased by the Branch Executive Committee to seven 32 members.

33
34 The Committee on Youth Council and Junior Work shall be 35 responsible to the Branch Executive Committee. Its duties shall 36 be to develop the youth program of the Branch and to coordinate 37 the programs of the senior and youth groups.

38
39 Section 3 Members of the Executive Committee and of the 40 Tenure several standing committees shall hold office
41 for one year and until their successors are 42 elected and qualify.

43
44 Section 4 Non-functioning committees shall be promptly
45 discharged by the Executive Committee and, where 46 Vacancies necessary, new appointments made by the Executive 47 and Committee for the unexpired terms of unful-48 Removals filled purposes.

49
50 The position of any member of the Executive Com-51 mittee or of any standing or special committee who shall be 52 absent from three consecutive meetings of the committee, without 53 notice or explanation to the committee, may be declared vacant
54 by the Executive Committee.

Branches      Office for a period of four consecutive months, Failing      the National Board of Directors may declare a to Report      or all of the offices of the Branch vacant and order a new election.

3
4
7 Notice of removal shall be sent to the President,
8 Secretary, and Treasurer of the Branch by registered mail at 9 their last addresses on file in the National Office and may be 10 published in the official organ of the National Association.
11 Upon receipt of notice either by mail or publication, the officers
12 shall perform no official act and shall hold all records and monies
13 of the Branch, subject to the disposition of the National Office.

14
15 Section 2 The National Board of Directors may also declare 16 any office of the Branch vacant and order a new 17 Neglectful election, on satisfactory evidence that the officer
18 and Unit is guilty of gross neglect of his official duties,
19 Officers or of such conduct as would be inimical to the best
20 interest of the National Association for the Ad-
21 vancement of Colored People or of the Branch.

67D [REDACTED] advised that he suspected the LeMoyne College Chapter at Memphis of having radical tendencies; that the individuals who were leading that group are well-known agitators. The two leaders mentioned in this report are Pacifists; others are known to be fellow-travelers among the Communist group.

On Tuesday night, July 14, 1942, at an open mass meeting, ROY WILKIN, Assistant Secretary, N.A.A.C.P., New York, New York, gave the keynote address of the convention to some 4,000 assembled delegates and spectators. He stated that the N.A.A.C.P. would continue their fight against segregation and discrimination against the negroes and for equal rights of the Negroes with white people. He said that "We are determined forever to be through with status quo". He further stated "This is no war — this is a social revolution. Nations and societies are being shattered and remolded almost overnight. I say to you that the reason why this association was born in 1909 and has lived 33 years — the reason why I am here and you are here — is because we are determined forever and a day to be through with the status quo. Are we worms to sit in a corner and say we yearn not for green pastures? We are impelled to oppose the status quo by the imperatives of the situation. If you are in a crack you must get out."

"I do not recall a time," said WILKINS, "when there has been such unity of thought and such clearness as to the path we have to follow. It is not such luxuries as freedom of speech, but the control over his own body, the right to walk around and not be strung up to a tree, that concerns the negroes at this time and that gave rise to the association."

WILKINS further stated, "Some say we should let things go during the war period so there will be no disunity, in other words remain in a status quo. That we will not do because to make people free is why the war is being fought. No one can call us subversive if we refuse to remain in a status quo position."

A list of objectives outlined included; No segregation in the armed services; war jobs open to all; no bias against negroes in labor unions; removal of "the insulting and unscientific rule of the segregating of blood of negroes and white donors by the Red Cross in plasma banks"; abolition of "Jim Crow" rules in voting, jury service, employment, education, and housing.

At a mass meeting CHARLOTTA A. BASS, negress, editor of the California Eagle, leading Los Angeles negro weekly newspaper, addressed the assemblage in a stirring talk which followed the Communist Party line. It will be noted that in the July 16, 1942, issue of the California Eagle, an editorial by CHARLOTTA A. BASS describes her position regarding the Communist Party as follows:

"We must pause to hail reinstatement of the Communist Party upon the ballot in the state of California. This newspaper once felt that no good could come from the infiltration of Communism in the American political scene. The changing of our views on this matter is reflected also in the change of policy of the great state of California and follows logically in the development of true national unity around the victory for the anti-Fascist world."

The "Los Angeles Sentinel" had the following to say regarding CHARLOTTA A. BASS' speech:

"She called for an immediate opening of the second front, and delivered a scathing attack upon A. PHILIP RANDOLPH and his program for fighting "Jim Crow" segregation and discrimination in all phases of American life; she put across a rather different type of thought than was the general expression of the meeting."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Parts of CHARLOTTA A. BASS' speech described is as follows:

"She called for a concerted effort of the united nations for victory, saying that the alternative would be that this country would be ruled by American Fascists. She said that this was a moment of great decision for the whole civilized world and paid tribute to the noble Russian defense. She said that Hitlerism is a counter-revolution to every people's movement from Bunker Hill to the 'barracks of St. Petersburg'. She further stated that American Fascists such as the Talmadges, Coughlin, Ku Klux Klan, and the whole host of appeasers would be in control of the country if HITLER wins. She further stated that the poll tax execution of ODELL WALLER, Virginia negro sharecropper who killed his landlord, was due to the poll tax, 'pole cat' congressmen from the southern states. (It will be noted that Communist newspapers are sponsoring considerable agitation in the ODELL WALLER case). She said that the negroes must immediately demand a mixed brigade in the armed forces, and fair employment practices. She said that before we can enter on the final battle against the imperialist regimes of today, we must eradicate Hitlerism. In conclusion she called for an immediate establishment of a second front in Europe."

The complete text of CHARLOTTA A. BASS' talk appears in the "California Eagle" issue of July 23, 1942, which is being retained in the subject file.

The July 23, 1942, issue of the "California Eagle" carries an article in which the resolutions adopted by the conference were discussed. The resolutions are as follows: A Pacific charter was urged, the capital march on Washington movement re-endorsed, the poll tax struck, a New Dies Committee asked, and a national youth executive committee of ten members demanded.

A resolution endorsing the immediate establishment of a second front in Europe was tabled, two recounts being necessary on the tabling motion.

The same paper carried an article concerning the youth parley of the N.A.A.C.P. and the resolutions and program endorsed by the Youth Conference are as follows: Resolution to set up a ten-man national youth executive committee; a firm and determined stand for the observance of the democratic rights of all people, campaign for a mixed volunteer unit in the army through cooperation in progressive white organizations and trade unions (many of which circulated petitions to that effect at the convention), and a resolution calling for the establishment of the second front. One of the prominent speakers at the youth convention was REVELSICATON, Negro, state vice-president of the C.I.O.

The "People's World", West Coast Communist newspaper, carried an announcement in the issue of July 11, 1942, that JOHN PITTMAN, Negro "People's World" foreign editor, would cover the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE convention, and readers were urged to consult the columns of the "People's World" for news of the convention.

b1 { [REDACTED]

The names of the following Communists, or people who have sponsored Communist movements, were noted in the list of officers and committees shown in the official program:

b7C { [REDACTED]

"The Los Angeles Sentinel", Negro newspaper, issue of July 23, 1942, shows a photograph of LAURENCE BAQUET, who stood up in the convention and objected rather loudly to A. PHILIPS RANDOLPH'S talk upon the Communist program for the negroes at this time of crisis, quoting BAQUET as follows: "I am a Communist at heart and anyone who says that the Communists have not helped the negro is all wrong".

One of the highlights of the convention was the presentation of the Spingarn medal, an award made annually for the highest achievement of an American negro, which was presented to A. PHILIPS RANDOLPH, International President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. This presentation was made because RANDOLPH was instrumental in securing the issuance of July 25, 1941, by the President of the United States of Executive Order banning discrimination because of race, breed, or color in national defense industries or Federal Government. RANDOLPH led a capital march on Washington movement which was discussed at length during the convention. The issue of the "California Eagle", dated July 23, 1942, states that a march on Washington committee has been planned.

Another highlight of the convention was a talk by WENDELL WILLKIE, who rapped race bias as imperialism and who made a strong appeal to win the war.

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

Lift ev'ry voice and sing
Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us.
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the chast'ning rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with steady beat,
Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path thro' the blood of the slaughtered,
Out from the gloomy past,
Till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who hast by Thy might
Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee,
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee,
Shadowed beneath Thy hand,
May we forever stand,
True to our native land.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

This organization was founded in 1910 at New York, New York. The Fourth National Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party of America held in Chicago in 1925 reported that it is permissible and necessary for selected Communists (not the Party membership as a whole) to enter in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People conventions and to make proposals calculated to enlighten the negro masses under its influence as to the nature and necessity of the class struggle. The identity of their exploiters and their leaders in the same persons and the treacherous nature of reformist measures proposed. A list of the National Officers and the officers of the Chicago Branch are set forth in this report. A War Emergency Conference was held in Detroit on June 3 to 6, 1943. This organization took an active part in the trial of two police officers after the shooting of ELMO VASSAR, a negro boy in the Morgan Park District of Chicago on May 13, 1943.

The following article appears in the January 29, 1943 issue of "Current History" entitled "Twenty Years of Negro Progress" by HERBERT J. SELIGMAN, Director of Publicity, NAACP:

"At the end of May 1909 the National Negro Congress was begun, among the conspicuous absentees being BOOKER T. WASHINGTON. At that conference race relations were discussed in the plan formed in the Cooper Union, New York, with a frankness and directness of statement that have since become familiar. Among the speakers were the late Professor JOHN SPENCER BASSETT, Professor FERRAND of Columbia University, Judge STAFFORD, and JENKIN LLOYD JONES. It was decided at that conference to form a permanent committee and to hold other conferences. Out of this beginning grew the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, organized as a permanent body in 1910, having for its President MOORFIELD STOREY of Boston, former President of the American Bar Association, whose activity and interest in the field of race relations has dated back to his services as Secretary to Senator CHARLES SUMNER in the person of Dr. DU BOIS. The Niagara Movement and that new organization were merged. Dr. DU BOIS came from Atlanta to New York to assume the duty of Director of Research and Editor of the editor of the 'Crises' magazine which first appeared in November of 1910."

According to an article appearing in the "Light" magazine on February 26, 1927, WILLIAM PICKENS, Field Representative of the NAACP toured Russia and wrote articles concerning his experiences there. The following article appeared in the Seattle Enterprise on February 4, 1927 with a New York date line of February 3, 1927:

"Also have Jews been received by the NAACP, 69 Fifth Avenue from WILLIAM PICKENS, Field Secretary of the NAACP who has visited Russia on his European lecture tour.

"Among the Russian leaders Mr. PICKENS has conferred with are KALININ, sisters of Trotsky and Lenin, and prominent editors. He reports that the 'Fire in the Flint' by WALTER WHITE and 'Bursting Bonds' and 'The Vengeance of the Gods' by Mr. PICKENS himself are to be translated into Russian and perhaps put on the stage as well as made into motion pictures.

Mr. PICKENS has written a comprehensive article on lynching during the past forty years, details the campaign conducted over these past forty years against this evil in America by the NAACP. This article is to be published in newspapers in Moscow, Berlin, and Paris whereas Mr. PICKENS has always written for Russian magazines on the American race problems."

The following information was obtained in "The Fourth National Convention" official report of Workers (Communist) Party of America held in Chicago, Illinois on August 21 to 30, 1926:

"In the NAACP, the negro bourgeoisie together with the middle class white reformists and under the partial leadership of the bourgeoisie (such as represented by Senator BURTON, Chairman last Republican National Convention) find the chief medium for its reformist operations. Yet it is a paradox and a reflection of the now passing period of the patronizing of the negro cause by the capitalist class, that this organization at its last convention, appeared in the role of championing, though in a timid and "respectable" way, negro worker's right to admittance in the trade unions. h

In this organization, under present circumstances, it is permissible and necessary for selected Communists (not Party membership as a whole) to enter its conventions and to make proposals calculated to enlighten the negro masses under its influence as to the nature and necessity of the class struggle. The identity of their exploiters and their leaders in the same persons and the treacherous nature of the reformist measures proposed.

However, it is only when the Communist work is so broadened and extended in the field of negro movements as to make our Party stand out as the only real champion of the negro against lynching, all discriminating and all oppression and exploitation that we can successfully combat the influence of such bourgeois movements.

The aim of our Party and our work among the negro masses is to create a powerful proletarian movement which will fight and lead the struggle of the negro race against exploitation and oppression in every form and which will be a militant part of the revolutionary movement of the whole American working class, to strengthen the American revolutionary movement by bringing it to the 11,500,000 negro workers and farmers in the United States, to broaden the struggles of the American negro workers and farmers, connect them with the struggles of the national minorities and colonial peoples of the world and thereby further the cause of the world revolution and the dictatorship of the proletariat. (adopted unanimously)."

b7D { The following information was obtained from a memorandum written on the NAACP, compiled by [REDACTED]

"The NAACP was organized in 1909 upon a call written by OSWALD GARRISON VILLARD, signed by 54 persons including MARY WHITE OFINGTON, W. E. B. DU BOIS, BISHOP ALEXANDER S. CANTERS, CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, JOHN HAYNES HOLMES, JOHN E. MILLHOLLAND, FRANCIS J. GRIDKE, RABBI STEPHEN S. WISE, and others.

In 1927 it had grown from this small committee to a nation-wide organization with branches in forty-four states and the District of Columbia with a gross expenditure of $78,834.27 in 1927. Primary objectives of the organization are to fight against segregation, disfranchisement of colored voters in the south, lynching, to nullify anti-inter-marriage laws, segregation and other laws directed against social equality of negroes with whites.

Official organ of the group is the "Crisis" edited by W. E. B. DU BOIS.

The National Officers are MOORFIELD STOREY, President, ARCHIBALD H. GRIDKE, REV. JOHN HAYNES HOLMES, BISHOP JOHN BURST, ARTHUR B. SPINGARN, OSWALD GARRISON VILLARD, vice-President, MARY WHITE OFINGTON, Chairman. Members of the Board—J. E. SPINGARN, Treasurer, ROBERT W. MAGNALL, Director of Branches, WILLIAM W. WATKINS, Field Secretary, HERBERT J. SELIGMANN, Director of Publicity, JAMES WELDON JOHNSON, Secretary, and WALTER WHITE, Assistant Secretary."

The following information was obtained from the book "The Red Network" written by ELIZABETH DILLING, Communists WILLIAM Z. FOSTER, BENJAMIN GELLOW, SCOTT LERRING, ELIZABETH GURLEY LYNN, ROBERT M. DUNN, and their fellow Director NORMAN THOMAS with generous appropriations of $31,552, 1925-1928, $7,365, 1923-1924, and $5,000, 1929-1930 to the NAACP."

b7C { The official report of the Communist Party for the National Convention stated that the Party had penetrated the NAACP. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] was very active in the NAACP.)

b7C [REDACTED] is a Socialist Party member, active as well, in Communist affairs and organizations. (See Who's Who).

b7C [REDACTED] an executive of the NAACP and also a Garland Fund Director has served at the same time in company with most of the Garland Fund Directors on the National Committee of the "Red's Aid Society," the A.C.L.U.

The NAACP emulates the A.C.L.U. among negroes. In fighting for "negro rights" naturally, it has won the friendship of many negroes, themselves opposed to the Red movement who believe it to be a purely altruistic Agency without radical or political motivation. According to a NAACP bulletin dated February 19, 1943, the following are the National officers of this organization:

WALTER WHITE, Executive Secretary
ROY WILKINS, Assistant Secretary
DANIEL BAILEY, Field Secretary
THURGOOD MARSHALL, Special Counsel
ROSIE PERRY, Administrative Assistant,

b1 {

[REDACTED] X
[REDACTED] X
January 16, 1941 was National Defense Protest Day for persons of the colored race. The Chicago Branch of the the NAACP held its meeting at the Good Shepherd Congregational Church, 5700 Prairie Avenue. The chief complaint seems to be that the Army and Navy are not permitting negroes to obtain positions of importance; negroes are excluded from jobs in certain plants holding defense contracts. It was stated that the trouble is due to the Unions' refusal to permit negroes to membership.

Reverend HAROLD M. KINGSLEY (negro), Pastor of the Good Shepherd Congregational Church and Reverend JAMES A. BRAY (negro), Bishop Methodist Church, were speakers and stated that negroes were justified in feeling cool toward defense efforts and should be slow in condemning Germany because German Generals were the salvation of the Northern Armies during the latter years of the Civil War and without their help, the North would not have been victorious.

Professor PAUL H. DOUGLASS of the University of Chicago stated that negroes should enjoy equality with whites in the Army and Navy. u

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Washington Bureau of NAACP established June 1, 1942; considered the national association's most important new venture with the principal duty to maintain a constant watch over all Congressional bills and resolutions affecting the welfare of negroes. Total membership in Washington, D. C. in 1943, was 8200. District of Columbia chapter of NAACP conducted membership drive in February and March, 1944, and total membership became 8075. More white persons enrolled in 1944 than any previous year. Civil rights committee of students branch of NAACP at Howard University on several occasions has organized picket lines in protest against alleged discrimination by white restaurants against negroes. In June, 1944, WILLIAM H. HASSIE, Dean of Howard University Law School and former Federal Court Judge in Virgin Islands, became president of District of Columbia chapter of NAACP. Organization more militant as result of his leadership. Association has vigorously supported passage of Bill by Congress for permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee. Generally the organization has injected itself into issues concerning alleged discrimination against negroes in employment, housing facilities, segregation of white and negro blood plasma at the blood donor center, segregation of white and negro veterans in rest centers and hospitals, alleged mistreatment of negroes in the armed forces, and alleged activities of white terrorists in Southern states. Recently, GALT RICHMONDS, Administrative Assistant of Washington Bureau of NAACP, resigned to take more active part in work of Non-Partisan Council for Abolition of Discrimination in military and veteran affairs. Report of Special Agent [REDACTED] dated March 11, 1941, at Washington, D. C.

DETAILS:

AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

On June 1, 1942, the Washington Bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was established at 100 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. The establishment of the Washington Bureau was considered as the national association's most important new venture and its duties were as follows:

(1) To maintain a constant watch over all Congressional bills and resolutions affecting the welfare of the negroes;

(2) To examine the policies of the Federal Departments and Agencies handling the armed services, employment, housing, etc;

(3) To prepare memoranda briefs to support good legislation or to oppose bad legislation;

(4) To inform the country on such measures; and

(5) To cooperate with other organizations interested in the same or similar objectives.

At the time the Washington Bureau was established, Reverend ARTHUR D. BAY became its initial president and LUCILLE S. BAY and FRANK D. BAY were administrative assistants. MARY McLEOD BETHUNE was a vice-president of the national association. She is the president of the National Negro Council for Women at Washington, D. C. On the Board of Directors of the national association are the following persons from Washington, D. C.: WILLIAM W. HASKIE, Dr. ELIZABETH KATZ, and FRANKS REAGAN WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM H. HASTIE is chairman of the National Legal Committee and the Washington members of this committee are CHARLES H. HANSON, EDWARD P. ROBERTS, W. ROBERTSON, Jr., JAMES H. HARRIS, Jr., and LEON A. HANSON. WILLIAM HASTIE is Dean of the Howard University Law School and was formerly civilian aide to Secretary of War SHILSON. Prior to his service in that capacity, he acted as a Federal Court Judge in the Virgin Islands.

The head of the legal staff is THURGOOD MARSHALL, whose legal defense work in behalf of the NAACP carried him to all sections of the country during 1942. The national legal committee consists of 29 lawyers, white and colored, in 18 cities. The executive secretary of the national organization is WALTER HIND and the assistant secretary is ROY WILKINS, who is also editor of "The Crisis", the official organ of the NAACP since 1910.

A chronological resume of the diversified activities of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP since its inception, are set forth as follows:

December, 1942:

The NAACP renewed the fight against the poll tax at the fall opening of the 73th Congress. The stand taken by the association was the abolition of the poll tax in eight Southern states.

January, 1943:

The association directed Secretary of War SHILSON's attention to discrimination against negroes in armed forces.

February, 1943:

Judge WILLIAM H. HASTIE, chairman of the radio committee of the local branch of the NAACP was appointed as the key worker in the 1943 membership drive of the local branch. It is to be noted that on January 31, 1943, HASTIE resigned his position as civilian aide to the Secretary of War in protest against the unfair treatment of the negroes by the armed forces as alleged by him.

March, 1943:

Local NAACP requests larger representation of colored people on public agencies. A resolution expressing opposition to the proposed establishment of a second all colored fire department station house was unanimously adopted.

April, 1943:

Civic Rights Committee sponsored by the Howard University chapter of the NAACP began an intensive campaign to urge passage of the HARRISON-ROBINSON Equal Rights Law for the District of Columbia. In line with this campaign, Howard University students picketed several local restaurants as a result of their refusal to serve colored persons.

July, 1943:

The District of Columbia branch of the NAACP inaugurated a series of membership meetings aimed at the organization of NAACP clubs in Washington schools, churches, and other institutions. There was continued pressure on Congressmen for passage of the pending Civil Rights Bill for the District of Columbia.

August, 1943:

The District branch of the NAACP viewed the opening of the Hearststone War Workers Club at 1703 - 11th Street, N. W. as a major defeat for Democracy in that it extended the pattern of segregation.

January, 1944:

WALTER HINE of the NAACP asserted that the increased efforts by Communists to spread their doctrines among the colored people should serve as a warning to the Democratic and Republican parties who have been "using the negro as a political football". He pointed out that recently schools in New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles had come under Communist control.

ANDREW ROSS was elected vice-president of the NAACP Youth Council in Washington, D. C. and EMERICK HOLLANDER was elected assistant secretary. ROSS, Youth Council President, named committee members who were to deal with problems facing the council and community.

The annual report of the NAACP revealed that the membership of the District of Columbia chapter of the association for 1943, was 3210.

RUTH L. HARVEY was elected president of the Howard University chapter of the NAACP and other officers elected were as follows:

AUGUSTA GOLDER, Vice-President;
 CARRIE BRADY, Secretary;
 GLORIA ROOPER, Assistant Secretary;
 ELAINE WELLS, Treasurer;
 ANDREW ROSS, Reporter; and
 JOSEPH J. JAMES, Chairman of the Civil Rights Committee.

Four major objectives for the year were decided upon by the NAACP Youth Council as follows:

(1) Demand by negro governmental clientele of respect and equal opportunities on the job;

(2) Education of negro business men in respect demanded of and given to his customers;

(3) Promote wholesome recreational activities for war workers and service people; and

(4) Support legislation favoring the Civil Liberties Bill for the District of Columbia.

EUGENE J. JAMES was appointed chairman of the 1944 Membership Campaign of the Washington NAACP. He was formerly administrator of the New Negro Alliance and was then employed as assistant director of field operations of the Fair Employment Practices Committee.

February, 1944:

It was asserted that the annual membership drive by the NAACP was offering Washington teachers an opportunity to help thousands of teachers in the South and through them thousands of students.

May, 1944:

It was announced by Reverend ABRAHAM D. BRAY, president of the District of Columbia branch of the NAACP that the annual membership campaign which started on February 12, 1944, had reached an enrollment of 1075, with contributions and membership fees totaling $11,913.75. Dr. BRAY stated that the NAACP which is a bi-racial organization had enrolled more white persons in 1944 than in any previous year. The membership goal was to secure 10,000 members in Washington, D. C. in 1944.

Howard University students identified with the Civil Rights Committee of the Howard University chapter of the NAACP, picketed Thompson's Restaurant at 1109 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., in protest against a refusal of the restaurant to serve negroes. Spokesmen for the group contended that they had no special grievance against that particular restaurant nor the Thompson firm, but that the protest was instituted because there are very few downtown restaurants in Washington, D. C. where negroes are allowed to eat.

THURGOOD MARSHALL, Special Counsel, and WILLIAM H. HASTIE, Chairman of the National Legal Committee of the NAACP, declared that all NAACP branches in the South had been advised to file complaints with United States Attorneys where negroes were barred from voting in the primaries.

It had been rumored that Dr. MORDECAI J. JOHNSON, president of Howard University, had ordered the Civil Rights Committee, the student's branch of the NAACP, disbanded at the University because it would open the University to attack by reactionary Congressmen in whose lands Howard University's appropriations rest from year to year. However, the national negro press association reported that Dr. JOHNSON had expressed a sympathetic attitude for what the students had been endeavoring to accomplish with some success but he felt that the same results could be achieved without the students making use of the University's name in their operations.

June, 1944:

Reverend ARTHUR D. GRAY as president of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, was succeeded in that capacity by WILLIAM H. HASTIE, Dean of Howard University Law School. It was expected that as a result of the new leadership of WILLIAM H. HASTIE the local group would become more militant in character. It was noted that the District of Columbia chapter of the organization had given its full support to the program started by the Howard University branch of the NAACP in picketing restaurants in the downtown area demanding interracial service. It was understood that the majority of the Howard University faculty approved of the ideas expressed by the group but opposed the activity on the ground that it might bring the University into disrepute among members of Congress. Reverend GRAY resigned his position as president in order to accept a pastorate in Chicago.

- July, 1944:

The NAACP pointed out that the Fair Employment Practices Committee fund was a very small part of the total amount that Congress voted this year for the war and operation of the government and the NAACP vigorously urged the Senate Appropriations Committee to vote favorably on the Fair Employment Practices Committee item in the National War Agencies appropriation bill for 1945.

~~GRANT RAYMONDS~~, Administrative Assistant in the Washington office of the NAACP, assumed such capacity to succeed ~~LESLIE BERRY~~ who was transferred to the New York office of the association to occupy a similar position. A graduate of Hampton Institute, Mr. ~~RAYMONDS~~ did college work in New York University before studying theology at Eden Theological Seminary in Oberlin. He entered the United States Army Chaplain Corps two years ago and served three consecutive terms as president of the Cleveland NAACP branch.

In a letter to Mr. PAUL V. McNUTT, Director of War Manpower Commission, the discriminatory practices of the USDS were assailed by the Washington Bureau of the NAACP. The letter demanded that McNUTT order all of his field officers to cease requiring negro job seekers to use separate entrances or to be interviewed in segregated quarters or to fill requisitions of employers who seek workers by racial description.

August, 1944:

EARL J. ABEDES, NAACP Youth Council Delegate to the NAACP war time conference in Chicago, stated that the District of Columbia groups resolution proposing the establishment of a national planning and advisory committee of local NAACP Youth Councils, had been adopted by the war time conference. The resolution calls for a Youth Council Planning and Advisory Committee that would be composed of representatives of the local youth groups in college chapters.

September, 1944:

The executive board of the NAACP decided to set up a permanent housing committee as a result of the public attention focused on the critical colored housing shortage in Washington, D. C. The personnel of the committee were to be chosen at the October meeting of the board.

The Washington Branch of the NAACP was one of the sponsors of a mass meeting staged on September 4, 1944, at the Blood Donors Center, Acacia Building, 51 Louisiana Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. to protest the segregation of white and negro blood plasma. This was a peaceful meeting which, after about one hour, was disbursed by the Metropolitan Police because the group had not obtained a license from the District for such demonstration. WILLIAM H. HASNIE was the leader of this demonstration and in the October issue of "The Crisis", he assailed the deplorable spectacle of the use of the combined authority of the District of Columbia police and the Federal authority through the national park police in preventing a meeting which was particularly inspired for the purpose of increasing interest in blood donations for the armed services.

October, 1944:

The NAACP, the ARA Non-Partisan Council, and a group of prominent New York citizens were among those who protested to the president the anticipated plan of the Army for the establishment of separate re-distribution stations for white and colored overseas veterans returning to the States. The negro press carried statements to the effect that Major General SOMERWELL was being blamed for the decision of segregation by the Army.

WALTER WHITE, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, revealed that in the near future he intended to go to India. This announcement came after a conference in which he and two other negroes participated with the President.

THURGOOD MARSHALL, Special NAACP Counsel, arrived by plane in San Francisco, California to assist in the civilian defense of the 30 negro sailors charged with mutiny for refusal to load ammunition at the Mare Island Depot on August 9, 1944.

The Standard Oil Company, part of whose building in Washington, D. C. is leased to government agencies including the Fair Employment Practices Committee, was being urged to end discrimination in the canteen operated in the building by a private lessee who allegedly had refused to serve colored people or whites seen with them and the NAACP has exhibited an interest in the elimination of this discrimination.

WILLIAM H. HASNIE, NAACP President, sent a letter to Major General FREDERICK SOMERWELL, Superintendent of Soldiers Home Hospital, and in that letter HASNIE protested discrimination through segregation of negro veterans.

Accompanied by representatives of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, J. LEO BERRY, one of the citizens of New Iberia, Louisiana who were allegedly beaten and driven from their homes on May 16, 1944, had two lengthy conversations with VICTOR M. ROSELI, Chief of the Civil Rights Section at the Department of Justice, in which it was urged that the Department begin immediate prosecution of white terrorists in New Iberia.

Letters protesting the dismissal of Mrs. ~~BIRMAN~~, white dietitian in charge of the 11 colored people from the Statler Hotel were sent to S. ~~W. COLEMAN~~, President of the American Civil Liberties Union, National Lawyers Guild, Workers Defense League, and others. The local NAACP requesting that the letters be sent following dismissal of Mrs. ~~BIRMAN~~ early in August for eating with the colored group, has demanded that Mrs. ~~BIRMAN~~ be reinstated.

It was announced that GRANT REYNOLDS for two years a chaplain in the United States Army, and more recently an administrative assistant in the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, had resigned his post in order to participate more actively in the work of the Non-Partisan Council for the Abolition of Discrimination in Military and Veteran Affairs. In his letter of resignation, he charged that the government continuously indicates its unwillingness to protect colored veterans and soldiers against humiliation, abuse, and outright mob violence.

Discriminatory practices by the proprietor of a restaurant and canteen in the building housing offices of the Fair Employment Practices Committee and other Federal agencies were vigorously protested during the last week of October, 1944, by the NAACP in a letter to the Standard Oil Company, owner of the premises at 261 Constitution Avenue, N. W. The NAACP urges that all patrons and interested citizens mail in protests now against the renewal of a lease to a tenant occupying said premises participating in such un-American practices.

The NAACP has issued a statement praising the recently announced policy of the Navy to admit negro women into the WAVES and expressed the hope that the negro WAVES will be integrated into existing units rather than into Jim Crow Units.

Addressing a meeting of the Americans United for World Organization in the State Department during the latter part of October, 1944, Dr. M. E. ~~BARBER~~ IS, Director of the NAACP's Bureau of Research, declared that the Lamberton State Conference on the future world peace organization depressed him as a result of its passing over the matter of colonies in its deliberations. Other negroes attending the meeting in the State Department were WILLIAM H. HASTIE of the NAACP, and Mrs. ~~WILLIAM HASTIE~~ President of the National Council of Negro Women. In reference to the meeting, Mr. HASTIE observed that in inviting negro groups to participate, a small and wholesome beginning had been made toward recognition.

WILLIAM H. HASTIE denied the report that he had resigned from the National Citizens Political Action Committee.

Under the auspices of the District of Columbia branch of the NAACP and cooperating organizations, a mass meeting was held in Washington, D. C. on October 22, 1944, to urge support for the passage of a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee act by Congress. There were several speakers at this meeting, all of whom urged the advisability of one necessity for such legislation. The meeting was attended by approximately 700 people and about 90% of those present were negroes. This constituted the most recent activity of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP with a broad scope.

Inasmuch as investigation has not disclosed any activity on the part of this organization which is subversive in nature, this case is being closed subject to being reopened after consideration of future activity of the organization.

The NAACP was born when MARY WHITE OVINGTON, its first member, met with WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING, a columnist, during the first week of January, 1909, in a small room of a New York apartment.

The first conference was held on the evening of May 30, 1909, at Cooper Union, New York City. Over 1000 guests were invited and the initial conference was considered a success.

It was not until the second conference held in May, 1910, that the group organized a permanent body to be known as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Its first officers were listed as follows:

Stated Aims and Objectives

A review of the Certificate of Incorporation at the Hall of Records, New York County, Clerk's Office, on May 11, 1954, revealed that the NAACP filed its Certificate for Incorporation under the New York State Membership Corporation Laws on June 19, 1911.

The principal objects for which the Corporation was formed are:

To promote equality of rights and eradicate caste or race prejudice among the citizens of the United States.

To advance the interest of colored citizens.

To secure for them impartial suffrage.

The November, 1953 issue of "Political Affairs" contained an article entitled "The NAACP Convention" by -16-

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

CONFIDENTIAL
one HUGH BRADLEY. The article is an extract from the report on Negro Work delivered at a National Conference of the CP.

ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, testifying in the case "U.S. vs. ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, et al", on October 20, 1952, stated that "Political Affairs" has been the theoretical organ of the CP since the publication's beginning in 1945.

The article pays tribute to the NAACP as the most important Negro organization dedicated to the fight for Negro equality.

In the past, states the article, the NAACP has witnessed a consistent and steady growth in the influence not only among the Negro people, but in the labor movement and among other progressive strata of Americans. It is increasingly becoming a coordinating center for all major organizations among the Negro people and the pivot for the furtherance of the Negro-Labor Alliance. The NAACP has over 200,000 members, reflecting all classes among Negroes and representing the struggle towards unity of the Negro people. At the same time, it typifies the continued dominance of Negro life by the Negro petty bourgeoisie.

According to the article, these factors were strongly revealed at the 44th National Convention of the NAACP held in St. Louis, Missouri, in June of 1953. The convention was held against the background of a new political situation in the country, following closely upon the advent of the Eisenhower Administration. It convened at a time when the hope for peace was rising in the hearts of humanity everywhere, but when, at the same time, the pro-Fascist offensive of the Mc Carthyites had already marked menacing proportions, and when the reign of terror against the Negro people continued unabated. Manifestly, the Negro people were looking to this convention for clear leadership on the vital issues facing them, and expected a call for united and militant action in their behalf.

NY 100-7629

The convention lived up to this expectation by adopting a general progressive program on such questions as compulsory FEPC, housing, and an end to Jim Crow in education and in the railroad industry. The delegates associated themselves with the growing movement against Mc Carthyism, calling an end to the book-burning, taking a forthright stand in defense of academic freedom, and demanding a revision of the Mc Carran - Walter Immigration Act, as well as revision of the Loyalty Program. A positive stand was taken in defense of the labor movement; there was a call for Labor-Negro collaboration and the branches and their members were urged to work with the unions in their community.

In arguing persuasively for greater Negro-Labor cooperation, a resolution was adopted at the convention which pointed out:

"Organized labor is an important pioneer center in American life today. The support and cooperation of the American Labor Movement for the Civil Rights Program of the NAACP is extremely important and in certain situations perhaps even decisive. We urge our branches and state conferences whenever possible to seek the support of responsible trade unions for measures that we favor and in turn give our support to such measures supported by organized labor as are consistent with our policy and program."

The program on Foreign Policy adopted by the convention also showed an advance. While still weak in several respects, it represents an important departure from that of the 43rd Convention. In contrast to the almost 100% endorsement of the Truman Foreign Policy a year ago, this convention refused to give such blanket support to the Dulles-Eisenhower conduct of foreign affairs.

The 44th Convention urged the planning and execution of a Civil Rights mobilization in Washington, D.C., and voted to welcome "in the mobilization, the cooperation and support of bona fide organizations genuinely at one with us on our stated objective".

CONFIDENTIAL

Another important feature was the militant participation of the youth and the overwhelming support given to the Youth Program by the adult delegates. The convention launched a program to rid America of Jim Crow and to win the total integration of Negroes by 1963, the 100th anniversary of the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation.

The article revealed that there were serious weaknesses which evolved from the 44th Convention deliberations. Certain negative and harmful resolutions were adopted which run counter to the progressive and positive ones, and which can only be harmful to the Negro movement.

The article criticized the closing address to the Convention delivered by Mr. WALTER WHITE, Executive Secretary of the NAACP. The address was characterized throughout by a fawning attitude which called for complete confidence in and support for the Eisenhower Administration, an administration whose policies are generating further anti Negro measures in the country. WHITE stated that EISENHOWER is an unwilling prisoner of his own cabinet, his party and Congress, and, if the President has failed to do more on the Negro question, it is because he "has been so absorbed with war and foreign problems."

In addition to surrendering to the Eisenhower Administration on the Negro question, WALTER WHITE'S address included an orgy of Red-baiting and anti-Communist slander that is rare even for these times. According to the author, WHITE falsely proclaimed that war and Communism are the two factors which plague the modern world. WHITE stated, "We don't want the Communists running our affairs."

In addition, the article depicted that at no time did the convention approve of Mr. WHITE'S pro-Eisenhower speech, and it was the opinion of many observers that a majority of the delegates were definitely opposed to the Eisenhower Administration. The address by

WHITE was additionally characterized as "the major weakness and most negative feature of the 44th Convention of the NNACP". The capitulation by the top leadership to the Eisenhower Administration and the orgy of Red-baiting never before was equalled in any Negro gathering.

The author furnishes an explanation for the inconsistent and contradictory policy adopted by the convention - a policy which calls at the same time for struggle and surrender, for anti-Mc Carthyism and Red-baiting, for support to the National Independence Movement of Africans and Condemnation of Mau Mau "Violence". The answer is found in the composition of the convention and its leadership, made up of the Negro middle class and petty bourgeoisie.

The article concludes by stating that the Negro workers in the main were absent; progressives and Communists, in the main, were absent. Therefore, the reformist leadership of WALTER WHITE was not basically challenged and he maintained an iron-fist control over every aspect of the deliberations. The negative features of the convention constituted a prime example of the vacillating role being played today by the Negro petty bourgeoisie and of the continuing subordination of the Negro workers to the bourgeoisie in the Negro Liberation Movement.

The programs adopted by the NNACP and other major Negro organizations reflect the striving for unity on the part of the Negro people. The fight for jobs and FEPC, Negro representation and right-to-vote movement in the South are indicative of unification.

The February, 1954 edition of "Political Affairs" carried an article entitled "On The Slogan Free By '63" by ABNER W. BERRY.

The "Daily Worker" issue of March 7, 1952, page 2, column 5, reported that ABNER W. BERRY is a Negro affairs editor of the "Daily Worker".

It is to be noted the "Daily Worker" is an East Coast Communist daily newspaper.

NY 100-7629

The article referred to in "Political Affairs" above reveals that the slogan was adopted at the 44th Annual Convention of the NAACP. To accompany this slogan, there was to be "a 10 year crusade" for freedom, which would be a summary of a program of action for Negro rights.

The article continued by referring a great deal to excerpts from the report to the National Conference of the CP by HUGH BRADLEY.

Regarding the SCHW, it is noted that the Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications, published March 3, 1951, by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, reflects that the SCHW was cited as typical of completely Communist created and controlled organizations of the Civic Committee Fields. This citation is attributed to the California Committee on Un-American Activities, Report of 1948, pages 38 and 168.

DETAILS For the purpose of brevity the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will henceforth in this report be referred to as the NAACP; in like manner the Communist Party as the CP and the Communist Political Association as the CPA.

The CP and the CPA have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

All informants utilized in this report are of known reliability unless otherwise indicated.

NATIONAL SECTION

I. ORGANIZATION

A. Purposes and Achievements

4. [REDACTED] made available the purposes and achievements of the NAACP as follows: <sup>b2</sup> 670

Purposes

1. To bring about complete integration of colored people into all phases of American life.
2. To break down segregation and the resultant inequalities in public education.
3. To secure enactment of federal, state and local civil rights legislation, including fair employment practices acts with full enforcement powers.
4. To insure justice without respect to race, creed or color in the courts.
5. To end police brutality and mob violence.
6. To guarantee the right to a "free and unfettered" ballot for colored Americans.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

7. To end all segregation in transportation and places of public accommodation.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

8. To secure the right of all men and women to serve their country in the Armed Forces without regard to race or color.

9. To abolish all barriers in housing, public and private, which would prevent any American from living in the place of his choice.

10. To support the United Nations and to combat imperialism, totalitarianism, colonial exploitation and racial discrimination throughout the world.

Achievements

1. Admission of qualified Negro students to tax-supported graduate and professional schools in southern states.

2. A full-scale attack against segregation in the public elementary and high school levels.

3. Investigation and successful action against unfair treatment of Negroes in the armed services and a campaign for their full integration into all branches of the services.

4. Removed barriers depriving Negroes of the ballot and expansion of the Negro vote.

5. Outlawed enforcement of restricted housing covenants and won a series of cases which have established the right of a Negro to occupy any property he owns or leases without interference by any governmental agency.

6. Defense of countless victims of racial prejudice in the courts.

7. A nation-wide campaign against lynching which has resulted in drastic reduction of this crime.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

8. Precedent-shattering decisions outlawing segregation in interstate transportation.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

9. Helped to secure passage of fair employment laws in ten states and an executive order against employment bias by government agencies and defense contractors.

10. Thirty victories out of 33 cases carried to the United States Supreme Court reaffirming the rights guaranteed to all Americans by the Constitution.

D. NAACP Policy and Attitude Toward Communism

An article entitled, "The NAACP and the Communists" reprinted from "The Crisis", official magazine of the NAACP, 20 West 40th Street, New York City, March, 1949 was made available [REDACTED]

The article is set forth as follows:

b2
b7D

"There is in progress a campaign of misrepresentation of the NAACP currently running in the 'Daily Worker', the Communist newspaper. All the old phrases are there. The name-calling has started all over again. The slanted and angled 'news' stories appear. The half-truths and whole lies see print. The object is to discredit NAACP leadership, local and national; to tear the Association apart through suspicion and strife; to take it over, if not obviously, then deviously, so as to control its elections, meetings, speakers, program, policy conventions, resolutions, and other public statements.

"Back in the early thirties the NAACP was on the receiving end of some of the fanciest name-calling, and the most vicious, truth-defying misrepresentation and slander that has appeared in print. The campaign was carried on openly by the Communist party and its various faithful, echoing groups. The occasion was the famous Scottsboro case which began in 1931.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"After the Communists had accomplished their main purpose of building that case into a world-wide attack on Western democracy, they found that all the defendants were still in prison with little likelihood of being released as long as the Communist party stood as the official defenders. So a Scottsboro Defense Committee was organized, consisting of seven or eight organizations, including the Communists. An eminent clergyman, the Rev. Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers became the committee chairman and thereafter, almost single-handedly, effected the release of most of the defendants. With the passing years the Communists gradually dropped out of the picture.

No Loc.

"By now the Roosevelt era of cooperation between Russia and America was in full flower. It is true the Soviets made a pact with Hitler and during that brief honeymoon Roosevelt won the favorite Communist title of war-monger, but with the German army's attack on the Soviet Union, the 'line' changed literally overnight and Roosevelt's America became the blessed friend and ally in the war on fascism.

"As the political line changed, so did the line on Negro Americans. The Communists abandoned abruptly their widely-advertised fight for Negro rights. Nothing must interfere with the war effort, lest such domestic wrangles hurt the aid to the Soviet Union. The NAACP, believe it or not, was criticized as being 'too militant' in its wartime fights. The Communists joined the Southerners in saying in effect 'this is not the time to fight the race question, we must fight the war.' So American Negroes fought their bitter battles against jim crow in the war (and rather well, too) without the dubious aid of the American Communists.

"The watchword through these years was cooperation. The NAACP, which had been lashed as 'betraying the masses,' as 'cooperating with the lynch-bosses,' etc., ad nauseam, became tolerable, if not respectable, in the eyes of American Stalinists.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"But now everything is changed again. America is in a cold war with Russia. The American Communists are busy stirring disaffection, dissension, and unrest in every segment of American life they can penetrate, such as labor unions, church bodies, youth groups, college campuses, community organizations, and Negro groups, including the NAACP.

"The purpose in all this is not to build a better NAACP to fight more effectively for civil rights for Negroes under the American Constitution, using legitimate American methods, but to operate one more front group to confuse and embarrass Americans and the American government in the present contest of ideologies.

"There is no mystery, except to the unthinking and uninitiated, about the Communists' program on the Negro. Their characterization of the NAACP as 'reformist' reveals the line: they do not believe American democracy can be improved or reformed, hence anyone who does, who keeps alive a faith in the American way of life, is a criminal and a 'betrayor of the people.' As long as the NAACP and similar groups exist and push programs of reform, the Communist doctrine takes root slowly, if at all, in the nation's largest minority group. Hence the NAACP must either be captured or destroyed.

"We are not alarmed. In 1931 we were bewildered by the utterly unscrupulous and vitriolic attacks which had no relation to truth. We know now that everyone who says he is fighting for Negro rights is not necessarily doing so and if Scottsboro left any doubts, they were dispelled by the sell-out during the war. The truth is that the American Communists fight only for the Soviet Russia 'line' and for nothing else. Any other contests in which they seem to be engaged are merely side efforts which have been (and will be) played up, played down, or abandoned altogether, according to the party line of the hour.

"Our NAACP membership, therefore, should be on guard against this campaign. It should remember that the Communists do not hesitate to lie when lies will serve their purpose, that they are masters of "misrepresentation through misinterpretation, that they prattle about democracy in other organizations while maintaining an iron-handed non-democratic procedure in their own party, and that their aim is to use the Negro and his problems mainly in support of Communist party policy and only incidentally in support of Negro rights.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"This does not mean the Communists should be fought, as such. They constitute a political party and have rights under the Constitution as do other parties. Those rights must be maintained. Free speech and free assembly must be maintained for all. Let them enjoy their rights in this democracy and push their program as well as they can in their own groups. But their campaign of infiltration, disruption, and destruction of other organizations such as the NAACP can be prevented if members will not be deceived by their words, and will elect the proper officers and committees, choose the right delegates to conventions, attend meetings faithfully and out-vote the party followers, and see that the resolutions and public statements adopted by NAACP groups are NAACP statements in truth, and not those of a group using our name for its own political purposes."

E. National Headquarters

The current Manhattan telephone directory lists the NAACP as located at 20 West 40th Street, New York City.

II. CP INFLUENCE AND CONNECTIONS

The feature column "On the Way" by ABNER W. BERRY in the "Daily Worker" of July 14 and 15, 1954, page 5, column 3, is devoted to the 45th convention of the NAACP. The column of July 14 is captioned, "The NAACP Stays in Labor's Corner" and the column of July 15 is captioned, "The NAACP Looks at McCarthy and the World".

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The article of July 14, 1954 reveals that the labor program adopted at the recent 45th convention of the NAACP in Dallas, Texas was comprehensive and sought further to join the fight for civil rights with the fight for strong trade unions. The resolution on labor was marred only by provisions prolonging the partisan feud between the CIO and the unions that had been expelled in 1949 around the issue of the presidential elections. The author states that some of the most important provisions of the labor resolution were:

1. Call to all NAACP members who are members of CIO, AFofL and "non-Communist independent unions where there is no color bar to be active and loyal members".
2. Established "as a matter of fundamental policy" that branches engage in vigorous action to prevent the use of Negroes and other racial minorities for striking-breaking purposes during labor disputes.
3. Support to the campaign for a guaranteed annual wage as being put forward more and more by various unions.
4. Call for a federal minimum wage of $1.25 an hour and enlarging the coverage of the minimum wage law to cover all workers.
5. Offered full support to labor unions in the fight to repeal or defeat state anti-labor laws called in some states by the name "anti-violence" or "right to work" laws.
6. Urged a fair employment practices amendment to the Taft-Hartley Law.
7. Pledges of vigorous support for organized labor's demand for higher wages to increase mass buying power.

8. Support to non-contributory pension and retirement fund programs as part of trade union contracts.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

10. Call for state and local fair employment practices laws.

According to the author these labor resolutions were not much different from the labor resolutions of last year. However, they indicate the continuing impress of organized labor on the main civil rights organization among Negro Americans.

The article also states there are approximately two million Negroes in organized labor and the labor program of the NAACP against the background of these two million Negro trade unionists in their influence on the labor movement, brings to mind the thought: The fight for full equality would be irresistible if the labor movement in its entirety had an active program and civil rights which matched the NAACP's program for labor.

The author opines that it would be hard to defeat labor in any of its struggles if the NAACP labor program was actively pursued in the direction to collaborate with labor on a full scale basis. The author finally states that without the full cooperation of the NAACP and organized labor on the local level, north and south, freedom will come much more slowly.

The article dated July 15, 1954 states that the principal speeches and the resolutions of the 45th convention of the NAACP held recently in Dallas, Texas, recognized that the criticism of the world's colored people have a lot to do with the United States Supreme Court decision against Jim Crow in the schools.

According to the article, WALTER WHITE, NAACP Secretary, spoke on the world menace of Communism and part of his recommendations are set forth as follows:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"Too little attention has been paid by Americans to the fact that for more than a half a century a rebellion has been growing among two-thirds of the people of the world who are colored against the twin and related evils of racism and colonialism....If for no other reason than enlightened selfishness, the white world should have awakened long since to the fact that long before the October revolution in Russia in 1917 there was a bitter revolt against exportation of the raw materials and peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America".

The author states that the delegates at the convention took a slightly different view of world affairs. In dealing with "peace and imperialism" the delegates resolved: "Imperialism, the rule of one nation by another, either directly or through a satellite or subservient government, is unjust and a threat to world peace" and the resolution called for the setting up of free governments in Indo-China, Tunis, Morocco and other French colonies and asked that no American troops be sent "to Indo-China unless it is to protect free and sovereign governments".

A debate developed on two paragraphs in the "Labor and Industry" resolutions which barred cooperation of the NAACP with the Negro Labor Council and international unions expelled by the CIO. A motion to strike the offending paragraphs lost by a show of hands with about a score of delegates voting to strike. However, more than a third of the delegates present failed to vote either way.

It is to be noted that the National Negro Labor Council has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The article states that many of the delegates may have compromised their consciences on the anti-Communist sections of the resolutions, but as a whole the delegates expressed their feelings in the anti-

McCarthy resolution which read in part as follows: "Under the banner of fighting Communism McCarthy aims to lead the nation to fascism. And the document connected to fight against Jim Crow with the fight to curb the inquisition...guarantee....freedom of the press, speech, religion, association and political beliefs for all citizens". The article concludes by stating that the anti-Communism and foreign policy statements coming out of the NAACP convention was not as all-inclusive as the final resolutions show. Further resolutions cannot reveal the direction in which a large number of the still predominantly middle-class delegates are moving.

DETAILS: For the purpose of brevity the National Association For The Advancement Of Colored People will henceforth in this report be referred to as the NAACP. (u)

All informants utilized in this report have furnished reliable information in the past unless otherwise noted. (u)

NATIONAL SECTION

[REDACTED] (u) b1

[REDACTED] (u) b2 b7c

It is to be noted that MARTHA STONE was arrested in New York City on November 1, 1954, for violation of the Smith Act and is presently awaiting trial at New Haven, Connecticut. (u)

Salient parts of the above referenced report are set forth as follows: (u)

"The convention was undoubtedly one of the most significant in the history of NAACP. This was due to the impact of the May 17 Supreme Court decision upon the Association and upon all sections of Negro life and large sections of the white community, especially in the South. The anti-segregation decisions became the point of departure for every major speaker and for the discussion of the delegates. Thus, an atmosphere of militant optimism pervaded the convention as never before. Further, the difficult problems involved in implementation of the decisions, and the challenge to work out specific programs for carrying the fight against segregation into other fields contributed to a note of seriousness in the deliberations and opened up in the thinking of the delegates many questions which the NAACP has not had to address itself to in the past. (u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

"I also have the impression (though a detailed credential report was not available at convention's end) that the composition of the delegates was an improvement over past conventions. There were 617 voting delegates, 65 alternates and 95 fraternal delegates and observers, making a total of 777. So that numerically the convention was larger than most in the past, which have usually ranged between 400-500. u

"Also, a large part, probably a majority, of the fraternal delegates were trade unionists. There was a good-sized representation from auto, 16 packinghouse workers came from Chicago, and there were others. In addition, of course, there were some trade unionists, although I don't know how many, who came directly from branches as voting delegates. u u "In addition, there was an important number of delegates from some of the small-community branches especially in the South who were attending their first convention and are not yet committed to the policies of the leadership. This does not mean that all the old NAACP warhorses were not there - they were. But there were many indications that they met a sterner challenge to their leadership than any time since 1950. But more of that later. u

"Another major positive feature of the convention was the strong current of anti-McCarthyism. This sentiment was more pronounced than last year and resulted in what in my opinion is the strongest anti-McCarthy resolution adopted by any Negro people's organization to date. And, as we shall see, this resolution was passed in face of the most determined effort on the part of reactionary forces in the convention to defeat it. u

"Furthermore, there was the usual healthy anti-bureaucracy sentiment of the rank and file delegates which found many opportunities to express itself in opposition to the railroading of measures, the handling of the chair, the curtailing of discussion, etc. u

"Now, with regard to the major negative factor in the convention: the rash of red-baiting on the part of the leadership was unprecedented and more vicious than previously. Not one single major speaker at the mass meetings did not red-bait. No, that's a mistake - the single exception was Dr. Theodore Lawless, the American-Firster from Chicago who did not red-bait in his speech accepting the Spingarn Award.) Channing Tobias began with a keynote speech which, for political depth, was on a level lower than juvenile. He began by ranking the Supreme Court decision with 'The Declaration of Independence, the Federal Constitution with its amendments, and the Emancipation.' Then he invoked the spirit of Booker T. and the 'Atlanta Compromise' by quoting as follows from his own speech to the NAACP May 22 Atlanta meeting: 'Let it not be said of us that we took advantage of a sweeping victory to drive hard bargains or to impose unnecessary hardships upon those responsible for working out the details of compliance.'

9 "Then he got down to his real business of the evening. He said: 'As has never been true before in the history of our Organization, we must see the fight for rights of Negro Americans as part of a world struggle for freedom.' There was spontaneous applause at this point, and there is no doubt that the audience had in mind a conscious alliance of the struggle for Negro liberation with the struggles of colonial peoples in Asia and Africa for independence. However, almost before the applause died down Tobias went into a point by point support of U.S. foreign policy and the reaction of the audience was one of silence and bewilderment. He said:

" 'During the past year the situation has worsened considerably. The menacing cloud of communism continues to darken the international sky. The issues involving Korea are still unresolved. The struggle in Indo-China grows more desperate with every passing day. The Geneva Conference has been declared a failure. The government of the Union of South Africa continues its apartheid campaign. The communist infiltration of Guatemala is about to precipitate a civil war that may have serious consequences for the western hemisphere. In such a world as this we rightly insist that America cannot afford the expensive luxury of racial discrimination. At the same time we must make it emphatically clear that Negro Americans are undivided in their allegiance to the United States of America as it engages in mortal combat with the enemies of the free world.'

"This was followed immediately by a discussion of 'The Communist Menace within our Borders.' Tobias said:

" 'Let no one deny or take lightly the existence of a communist conspiracy in the United States. Enough has been brought to light in recent years to show that there is a persistent though small group of men and women in this country, who are attempting to blast at the "rock of ages" of our national structure. They do not hesitate to lie, or steal, or even kill, if by so doing they can accomplish the ends dictated by their foreign masters.

" 'It is no secret that communists have tried to infiltrate our ranks and get control of some of our branches. It is also true that they have been decisively defeated in their efforts. (Some applause). For this is one protest organization that makes its fight for equal rights on the basis of American principles and ideals, and within the American system. Nevertheless we must be ever vigilant to detect and expose by orderly methods those who parade as sheep but inwardly are ravening wolves, whose only purpose is to destroy.'

"One might think that the progressive potential of the convention would be completely nullified, especially if one considers these leaders as representatives of a class that has completely 'gone over' to the side of imperialism.

"But this did not happen for two very good and important reasons.

"First, it is important to note that the party forces and the progressive caucus forces at this convention, while still woefully small, were larger and better organized than in St. Louis. With regard to our own people, there were seven delegates [REDACTED]

9 [REDACTED] Not until next to the last day did we discover that one of our people from [REDACTED] Before the convention I was informed we would have one or two people [REDACTED], but the names were never gotten to me and we could not discover them in Dallas. b7c

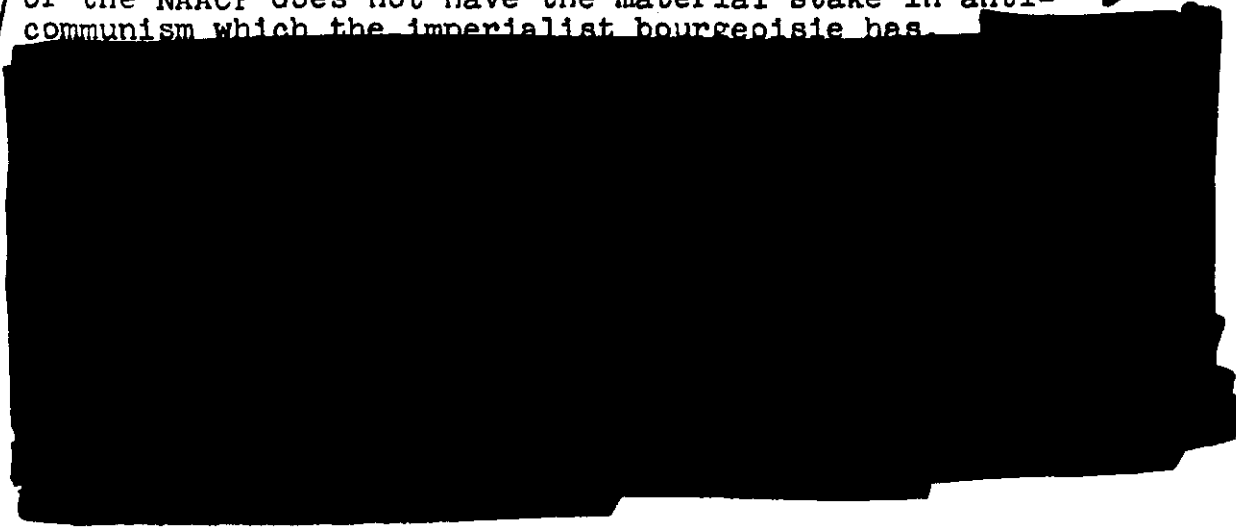

111 "In addition, there were a few progressive forces who played a major role in the convention, such as [REDACTED] b7c

"1 - This leadership looks upon a more vigorous anti-communist line as a necessary tactic to gain more concessions from the bourgeoisie and to 'placate' the mortal enemies of Negro liberation. They are encouraged in this line by the Supreme Court decision and by the fact that the forces they choose to vilify - the left - was conspicuous by its lack of participation in the fight to realize the decision.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

"Nevertheless, this petty-bourgeois leadership of the NAACP does not have the material stake in anti-communism which the imperialist bourgeoisie has.

67C
"2- The leadership can be defeated in one aspect or another - and eventually all aspects - of their anti-communist position, if they are effectively challenged. The experience of the progressive forces in the resolutions committee and in the floor debate on resolutions proves this conclusively - and in this respect the convention represented an important advance over last year.

"Following is a play-by-play description of the debate and vote on important resolutions.

"1. The first resolution was the Preamble, at the end of which there was tacked on, like an appendix, the reiteration of the stand against 'communist infiltration' adopted originally in 1950. It was the decision of the progressive caucus not to oppose this resolution, but to save our attack for the Labor Relations resolution with its attack on the independent progressive unions and the NNLC. Therefore this resolution passed without objection and therefore no vote was taken.

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

"2. The next resolution was the Labor and Industry resolution, It contains a prohibition against NAACP cooperation with 'Communist dominated' unions and with the NNLC. According to the rules, those who wanted to speak on a resolution had to voice objection and call out their name and branch as soon as the reading is completed."

It is to be noted that after a debate, "the vote was then taken. Failure of the progressives to provide a second for the Ellis motion to strike the 2 paragraphs and insist on a vote on that motion, resulted in the vote being taken on the resolution as read. No count was taken. About half voted for the resolution. A small handful (approximately 20) against. About half the delegates did not vote.

"With regard to other sections of the resolution it should be noted that a number of provisions which were introduced in resolutions by the progressive caucus were incorporated and adopted. They are as follows: (a) Calling upon Congress to defeat all filibustering measures and pass FEPC; (b) Urging President's Contract Compliance Committee to hold public hearings in major industrial areas to facilitate processing of complaints; (c) calling attention to special exploitation of Negro women and calling upon the Program Committee for the 1955 convention to set up a workshop dealing with special problems of Negro working women."

The "California Eagle", a local Negro newspaper, in its issue of January 20, 1955, reported that the following were the officers of the Los Angeles Branch of the NAACP, in 1955:

President: THOMAS G. NEUSOM
Vice-Presidents: FLEMING ENNIX
REV. P.D. LEHMAN
C.E. MCKINNEY
L.B. THOMPSON
Secretary: ZELLA M. TAYLOR
Treasurer: LORENZO BOWDOIN

[REDACTED]

The United States House Committee on Un-American Activities report entitled "Communist Activities Among Professional Groups In The Los Angeles Area - - Part 3", dated December 28, 1952, reflects that THOMAS G. NEUSOM was one of the attorneys who represented some of the attorneys who were subpoenaed to appear before the HCUA in Los Angeles, in September, 1952. All of the attorneys represented by NEUSOM refused to answer questions propounded to them by the HCUA.

NY 100-7629

This report reflects that NEUSOM was one of the attorneys representing 12 physicians and one dentist who refused to answer questions before the HCUA at hearings in Los Angeles in October, 1952. All of these physicians and the dentist had been identified by the HCUA as having been members of the Medical Branch of a professional cell of the CP in the Los Angeles area. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The "Daily Worker" of September 24, 1948, page 1 and 11, columns 1 and 2, contained an article entitled, "Sixteen Thousand Demand-Get Thompson Assailants." The article referred to the stabbing of BOB THOMPSON, Chairman of the New York State CP and presently incarcerated for violation of the Smith Act. Among those who demanded action be taken to apprehend the "would-be assassins", was GUY BREWER, former Democratic Harlem leader. u

The "Daily Worker" issue of October 25, 1949, page 3, columns 4 and 5, contained an article, "Notables Ask Mc Grath OK Bail for Eleven." The article stated that the New York State Civil Rights Congress had announced that a number of prominent people had wired Attorney General MC GRATH to intervene to see that reasonable bail was set for the eleven CP leaders. Among those listed as signing the wire was "GUY BREWER, Legal Redress Committee, NAACP." u

SYNOPSIS:

The Director has requested that he be furnished with a general memorandum on the NAACP.

NAACP incorporated in New York City in 1911. Declared aim is to secure full citizenship for Negroes. Bureau is in receipt of reports since 1941 re Communist attempts to infiltrate NAACP. Communist Party (CP) has had measure of success in controlling isolated chapters but unable to dominate the organization on state or national level. National Convention of NAACP in 1955 reaffirmed stand taken at 1950 convention to oppose Communism. CP has constantly strived to infiltrate NAACP and redoubled their efforts since 1953. Bureau, to discharge its responsibility, instructed field in February, 1954, to follow closely CP activities in connection with infiltration into NAACP. Bureau is being advised each six months of situation in each field division. Investigation disclosed some local chapters have been penetrated by CP but organization is aware of Party's efforts.

Both CP and NAACP have taken aggressive stand in connection with alleged murder of Emmett Till, a Negro youth, in Mississippi in August, 1955.

CP and NAACP have in several instances acted jointly and frequently engage in parallel activities; however, the programs of the organizations are distinct. CP seeks to foster discord and discontent in Negro race by agitating when racial incidents occur. NAACP aim is to achieve full racial integration and racial equality by lawful means; it employs racial incidents to dramatize alleged inequalities and develop support.

RECORDED - 8

Dominant figures are Roy Wilkins and Thurgood Marshall, executive secretary and special counsel, respectively, who have been associated with CP front organizations in 1940s but now appear to be strongly anti-Communist.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For your information.

OBSERVATIONS:

The NAACP, being a minority group, has always been susceptible to infiltration by the CP. [REDACTED] b7D

The emphasis of the program of the CP is to foster discord and discontent in the Negro race through agitation when racial incidents occur.

The declared program of the NAACP, however, is one of aggressive action to achieve integration and equality through rallies, meetings, the courts and petitioning of responsible officials for restoration of equal rights. The NAACP employs racial incidents to dramatize alleged inequalities and develop support as exemplified by the Till case.

The results of the Communist program to infiltrate the NAACP have been noted to date in the participation of CP members in NAACP sponsored activities. The effect of continued participation by Communists in such activities may in the future result in greater communist influence in the organization unless such influence is curbed from within by the NAACP.

CONFIDENTIAL

DETAILS

In connection with a memorandum from Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson dated 10/19/55 re an attack on the NAACP by the Attorney General of Georgia, the Director noted: "Let me have general memo on NAACP."

Organization, Aims and Membership:

The NAACP was organized in February, 1909, and incorporated in the State of New York in 1911. (61-3176-7)

stated
The/aim of the organization is to secure full citizenship rights for the Negro by legal and other recognized ethical methods and frequently by vigorous protestation of alleged discrimination. (61-3176-15)

In 1950, the NAACP claimed to have 250,000 members with chapters in forty-five states. (61-3176597)

Bureau Interest in NAACP:

The Bureau has been receiving reports re Communist infiltration into the NAACP since 1941. These reports have been submitted by practically every field office in the Bureau. The reports reflect that the CP, through the years, has attempted to infiltrate, dominate and control the NAACP. The Party has been successful in controlling isolated local chapters but has been unable to control the organization on a state or national level.

Position of NAACP re Communism:

The NAACP at its 41st National Convention, held in Boston, June, 1950, went on record as opposing Communism and empowered its board of directors to revoke the charter of any chapter found to be Communist controlled. (61-3176597)

Bureau Efforts to Combat Intensification by CP to Infiltrate NAACP:

In the November, 1953, edition of "Political Affairs," a monthly theoretical organ of the CP, an article appeared outlining the CP's new line with regard to infiltrating the NAACP.

In view of this concerted effort by the Party to infiltrate the NAACP, a letter dated 2/10/54 was sent to all field offices advising that the CP was meeting with some success in its effort to infiltrate the NAACP; however, this success was confined to local chapters, notably in the New Haven and Newark areas.

The Bureau, to discharge its responsibilities, instructed the field to be alert to any infiltration on a national or local level. The investigation was to be discreet and limited to contact with reliable sources. All offices were advised that the Bureau was not investigating the NAACP itself but the Communist infiltration into it. Instructions were issued that the Bureau and the New York Office were to be advised every six months as to the situation in each field division. (61-3176-667)

Since this Bureau letter of 2/10/54, our investigation has again established the relentlessness of the CP in efforts to infiltrate the many nationwide chapters of the NAACP. All Negro Party members have been instructed to join NAACP chapters to exert their influence in NAACP programs. Local chapters in some localities, e.g., Chicago, have been penetrated to the extent that CP members have become officers of these chapters. However, most chapters, as well as the national office, are acutely aware of the constant attempt on the part of the CP to dominate these local groups and are actively combatting the Communists in their efforts.

CP Agitation in the Emmett Till Case:

In various memoranda during September, 1955, the Attorney General was advised of the agitational activities of the CP, USA, in connection with the death of Emmett Louis Till, a fourteen-year old Negro youth from Chicago who was allegedly murdered in Mississippi in August, 1955.

The NAACP has taken a most aggressive stand in this case and has sponsored numerous rallies and meetings in protest of the death of Till and the conduct of the trial in Mississippi.

The CP press has afforded the Till case continued attention, constantly urging the Department of Justice to intervene in the case and agitating for a mass march on Washington to enforce their demands.

New York State Conference of NAACP, October 15, 1955:

[REDACTED]

Dominant Personalities in NAACP:

1. Roy Wilkins, Executive Secretary.

A summary memorandum re Wilkins was prepared on 4/13/55. In essence, he was elected by the Board of Directors of the organization to succeed the late Walter White. He was never investigated by the Bureau although approximately 400 references to him appear in Bureau files. Review of these data indicates Wilkins in the 1930s and early 1940s tended to adhere to the CP line but since then he appears to be strongly anti-Communist and has done all possible to steer the NAACP away from Communist influence. (61-3176-914)

2. Thurgood Marshall, Special Counsel.

A summary memorandum re Marshall was prepared on 12/15/50. Marshall has been Special Counsel of the NAACP since at least 1946. Marshall, according to House Committee on Un-American Activities and public source records, was associated with Communist front organizations in the 1940s, e.g., National Lawyers Guild and International Juridical Association. In 1947, he is reported to have said that if any office of an NAACP chapter were held by a Communist the charter of the chapter would be withdrawn. [REDACTED] b7C

DETAILS:

For the purpose of brevity, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will henceforth be referred to as the NAACP.

All informants utilized in this report have furnished reliable information in the past unless otherwise indicated.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE NAACP

ORIGIN

From a pamphlet publicly distributed by the NAACP entitled "How the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Began," a history was obtained. The NAACP started when MARY WHITE OVINGTON, its first member, met with WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING, a columnist, during the first week of January in 1909, in a small room of a New York apartment.

The first conference was held on the evening of May 30, 1909, at Cooper Union, New York City. Over 1,000 guests were invited and the initial conference was considered a success.

It was not until the second conference, held in May, 1910, that the group organized a permanent body to be known as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Its first officers were listed as follows:

MOORFIELD STOREY, National President

WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING Chairman of the Executive Committee

JOHN E. MILHOLLAND Treasurer

OSWALD GARRISON VILLARD, Disbursing Treasurer

FRANCES BLASCOER, Executive Secretary

Dr. W.E.B. DU BOIS, Director of Publicity and Research

In November of 1910, the first edition of the NAACP official organ, "The Crisis", was printed with Dr. DU BOIS as its editor.

STATED AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

A review of the Certificate of Incorporation at the Hall of Records, New York County Clerk's Office, on May 11, 1954, revealed that the NAACP filed its certificate for incorporation under the New York State Membership Corporation Laws on June 19, 1911. The principal objects for which the corporation was formed are:

To promote equality of rights and eradicate caste or race prejudice among the citizens of the United States.

To advance the interest of colored citizens.

To secure for them impartial suffrage.

To increase their opportunities for securing justice in the courts, education for their children, employment according to their ability, and complete equality before the law.

To ascertain and publish all facts bearing upon these subjects and to take any lawful action thereon; together with any and all things which may lawfully be done by a membership corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York for the further advancement of these objects.

To take, receive, hold, convey, mortgage or assign all such real estate and personal property as may be necessary for the purposes of this corporation.

The territory in which the operations of the corporation are principally to be conducted, shall be the United States of America.

The principal office of the corporation and the center of its operations shall be in the City, County and State of New York but the directors may establish branch or auxiliary offices elsewhere in the United States for the purpose of carrying on the work of the corporation, each to be managed by its local organization under such powers as lawfully may be prescribed in the by-laws of the corporation.

PURPOSES AND ACHIEVEMENTS

From a pamphlet received by the writer in October, 1954, the purposes and achievements of the NAACP are as follows:

PURPOSES

To bring about complete integration of colored people into all phases of American life.

To break down segregation and the resultant inequalities in public education.

To secure enactment of federal, state and local civil rights legislation, including fair employment practices acts with full enforcement powers.

To insure justice without respect to race, creed or color in the courts.

To end police brutality and mob violence.

To guarantee the right to a "free and unfettered" ballot for colored Americans.

To end all segregation in transportation and places of public accommodation.

To secure the right of all men and women to serve their country in the armed forces without regard to race or color.

To abolish all barriers in housing, public and private, which would prevent any American from living in the place of his choice.

To support the United Nations and to combat imperialism, totalitarianism, colonial exploitation and racial discrimination throughout the world.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Admission of qualified Negro students to tax-supported graduate and professional schools in southern states.

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100 7629

A full-scale attack against segregation in the public elementary and high school levels.

Investigation and successful action against unfair treatment of Negroes in the armed services and a campaign for their whole integration into all branches of the services.

Removed barriers depriving Negroes of the ballot and expansion of the Negro vote.

Outlawed enforcement of restricted housing covenants and won a series of cases which have established the rights of a Negro to occupy any property he owns or leases without interference by any governmental agency.

Defense of countless victims of racial prejudice in the courts.

A nation-wide campaign against lynching which has resulted in drastic reduction of this crime.

Precedent-shattering decisions outlawing segregation in interstate transportation.

Helped to secure passage of fair employment laws in 10 states, and an executive order against employment bias by government agencies and defense contractors.

30 victories out of 33 cases carried to the United States Supreme Court re-affirming the rights guaranteed to all Americans by the Constitution.

SCOPE

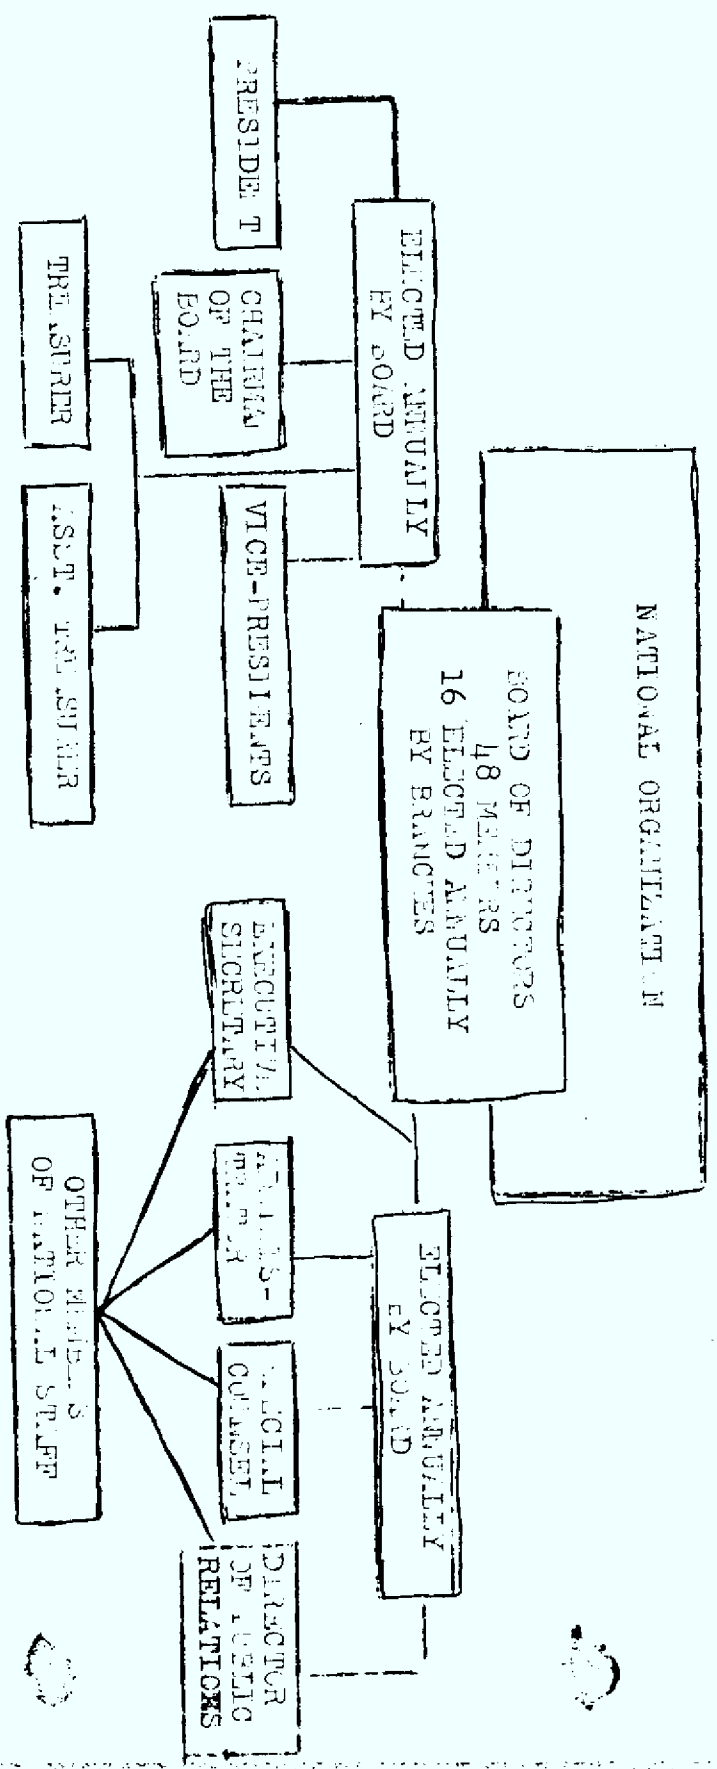

From a leaflet distributed by the NAACP and received by the writer on January 6, 1956, the NAACP is described as an organization of a quarter-million strong in 45 states, the District of Columbia and the Territory of Alaska. The NAACP members, of all races and religions, are organized into more than 1,000 branches, which in turn form 30 State Conferences and several Regional Conferences. The national office staff covers the country, too. With headquarters in New York City at 20 West 40th Street, the NAACP maintains a Washington Bureau, in which most of the legislative activity is centered, and three regional offices: in Birmingham, Dallas and San Francisco. Local and state offices are maintained by constituent NAACP units. Field workers of the NAACP are sent wherever they are needed.

Additional information concerning membership of the NAACP is contained under the National Section of instant report.

"Labor's Roll Stressed in NAACP Membership Drive." This article states that an intensive membership campaign for 20,000 new members will highlight the celebration by the New York chapters of the NAACP on the first anniversary of the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling. The article reflected that the campaign, whose goal was to triple the NAACP membership locally, was to run until June 17, 1955.

The Manhattan Chapter of the NAACP was sponsoring a mass rally to celebrate the desegregation victories and to promote a borough-wide drive for 10,000 new members. The article also stated that the NAACP supporters point to the fact that, of some 250,000 members nationally, the NAACP has reported fewer than 10,000 in the New York area. The article states that this is apparently one of the smallest NAACP organizations in proportion to local population.

The August, 1955, issue of "Political Affairs" contained an article entitled "The 46th Annual Convention of the NAACP" by DOXEY A. WILKERSON. Pertinent excerpts from the article are as follows:

"The recent 46th Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People demonstrated, once again, that this organization constitutes the vital center of the Negro people's movement today. Its democratic program for Negro rights and on other social and economic questions is probably more advanced than that of any other mass organization in which

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"the Left plays so modest a role. Its policy of independent political action coincides with the requirements for breaking through the G.O.P.-Dixiecrat road-block to progressive foreign and domestic policy. Its serious quest for allies, especially in the labor movement, will help to consolidate the democratic people's coalition for 1956. And its militant, fighting spirit reflects the mood of its quarter-million members and the Negro people as a whole.

"Approximately 800 people attended the N.A.A.C.P. Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, June 21 to 26. On the fourth day the Credentials Committee reported 479 voting delegates and 286 alternates, observers and fraternal delegates; others arrived toward the end of the week.

"There were 138 voting delegates and 136 others from the Middle Atlantic and New England states; the Mid-Western Regions sent 134 representatives; the Far West Region sent 52; and the Southern Regions sent 295, or 39% of the total. Approximately one-half of the 235 community branches, youth councils and college chapters represented at the Convention are located in Southern regions.

"This relatively high representation from the Southern states reflects the Association's widespread organization in the South. Some 458 (61%) of N.A.A.C.P.'s 780 community branches, 121 of its 241 youth councils, and 28 of its 64 college chapters are in the South....

"It was a serious convention. Although practically devoid of the dramatic or 'exciting' moments, it was notable for the dead-in-earnest concern of most delegates, especially those from the South, to grapple with the concrete problems they face back home. And out of it all there emerged a formulation of policy and program which underscores the key importance of N.A.A.C.P. in the fight for civil rights, civil liberties, economic "security and peace, and which re-emphasizes the Association's great potential for helping to consolidate the Negro-Labor Alliance in a program of independent political action.....

"To the end of implementing the 'Free by '63' slogan, the Convention defined nine specific civil rights objectives to be fought for in the period ahead. They include: (1) 'equality of job opportunity' through passage and enforcement of federal and state F.E.P. laws; (2) abolition of the poll tax and protection of the right to register for voting; (3) a stronger Civil Rights Section of the Department of Justice; (4) an end to discrimination and segregation in public and private housing; (5) 'Speedy and diligent implementation of the recent Supreme Court ruling outlawing segregation in public schools, and integration of teachers on the basis of qualifications'; (6) 'legislation to guarantee complete access to public accommodations, transportation and recreational facilities on an unsegregated basis'; (7) unsegregated hospital and health service; (8) 'protection of the safety and security of all persons without discrimination'; and (9) 'initiation of a program of education in race relations by federal, state and local government agencies.'

"The civil rights issue which dominated the Convention from beginning to end was, of course, the problem of implementing the Supreme Court ruling against segregated schools. Next in importance were the fight for the vote in the South and the struggle against Jim Crow housing.....

"....Marshall outlined the Association's program for implementing the Supreme Court ruling. Each local branch in a segregated school area is to file a petition with the school board immediately requesting that it act to implement the Court decision, with periodic

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

"follow-up to determine what steps are being taken. The branch is also to conduct an educational campaign in the community and to solicit the support of parents, churches, trade unions, civic groups and prominent individuals. 'Good faith compliance' by school officials is to be judged by whether they (1) recognize the principle of desegregation now, (2) plan now some implementing steps to begin this fall, (3) take some concrete steps toward integration this fall, and (4) complete the process of desegregation by September, 1956. As stated in the Directive to Branches adopted at the Regional Emergency Conference in Atlanta, Georgia, on June 4, 'If no plans are announced or no steps toward desegregation taken by the time school begins this fall, 1955, the time for a law suit has arrived,' and the issue will be turned over to the legal department for proceedings in the court.....

"It was clear at the Convention--and has been further emphasized by National Office and local branch activities since--that the N.A.A.C.P. is determined to maintain a vigorous offensive on this segregated schools question. It was clear then--and is even more evident now--that the job of coping with the die-hard segregationist resistance is, indeed, 'going to be tough.'.....

"The fight for the right to vote in the South loomed large in the discussion of several workshops. Here, again, there was impressive participation by Southern delegates. They cited a wide range of concrete problems-- refusal to accept poll tax payments from Negroes, arbitrary 'disqualification' of Negro citizens by registrars, threats and violence directed against Negro voters--as in the recent murder of Rev. George W. Lee in Belzoni, Mississippi--obstacles to voting in the (now illegal) 'white primary,' and many others. They also reported significant achievements-- in breaking through many barriers and increasing the number of Negro voters, in winning important footholds in the Democratic Party organization, and in the election of

NY 100-7629

"Negroes to state and local public office. It was clear from the discussion that the right-to-vote movement is one of the most powerful civil rights struggles under way in the South and that local branches of N.A.A.C.P. are actively involved in its development.

"This question was dealt with formally in a resolution which pledges the Association 'to use all legal means to destroy restrictions and practices which adversely affect the right to register and vote.' The resolution also declares 'We believe that we can and must have three million colored voters in the South by 1956.'.....

"The Convention resolution on housing 'reiterates our policy that members of all minority groups should be able to live in the place and location of their choice and economic status'; condemns discriminatory practices of 'real-estate brokers, home builders, banks and other lending institutions'; raises a number of concrete demands, directed to federal housing agencies. It is evident that here is a major civil rights issue around which N.A.A.C.P. branches are conducting widespread struggles.....

"During recent years N.A.A.C.P. conventions have been the occasion for leaders of the Association to laud the current President of the United States.....

"But a radical change was registered at Atlantic City. There the main spokesmen of the Association very deliberately hurled sharp criticisms at President Eisenhower because of his expressed opposition to the N.A.A.C.P.-sponsored anti-discrimination amendment which Representative Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. had had incorporated in the National Reserves Bill then pending in the House, and to similar amendments proposed for pending federal-aid-to education bills.....

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

"As noted in the concluding address by Roy Wilkins, sharp criticism at this Convention was directed, not only at Eisenhower and the G.O.P., but likewise at the Democrats. The very significant address by Clarence Mitchell, for example, began with the statement that 'Republicans and Democrats have united in a bi-partisan program of smothering civil rights legislation in the Eighty-Fourth Congress.' He challenged the effort of Democrats 'to hide behind the South when explaining their failures on civil rights,' pointing out that New York's Representative Celler, West Virginia's Senator Kilgore and Washington's Senator Magnuson all head committees which are sitting on civil rights bills--and that 'northern and western Representatives and Senators outnumber southern members on the Senate and House Labor Committees where FEPC is bottled up.'....

"This was the setting in which the Convention adopted its very fine resolution on Political Action. Criticizing the President and Congress for 'betraying' the fight for civil rights--'neither of the major political parties has kept a single platform pledge on civil rights legislation'--the resolution endorses the lobbying apparatus proposed by Clarence Mitchell and calls 'upon the National Office and Board of Directors to use the most dramatic and effective methods with the second session of the 84th Congress to bring civil rights legislation before the Congress for passage and before the conventions of the major political parties for consideration in the 1956 platforms.'

"In short, the Convention, very forcefully, declared the N.A.A.C.P.'s political independence from the Eisenhower Administration--a big advance over previous years; and it called for concerted pressure now on both major political parties for progressive

"legislation--which is precisely the best policy it could adopt in preparation for the national elections of next year.....

"N.A.A.C.P. is probably more highly conscious than any other Negro mass organization of the decisive importance of trade-union support in the fight for Negro rights; and this fact was demonstrated anew at its 46th Annual Convention.....

"This recognition of the need for labor support was reflected in Labor Secretary Hill's pre-Convention letter to many trade unions, inviting them to send fraternal delegates to participate in the workshop on Organizing Labor and the N.A.A.C.P. It was spelled out even more clearly in his prepared speech on 'The Role of Organized Labor in Effecting School Integration.' Hill characterized the unions as 'a significant power group' to aid in the fight for desegregation, stressing their importance in 'helping to resolve conflicts and tensions within the general community.' He urged trade unions to issue public declarations in support of school integration, especially in the South, and 'to invoke disciplinary action against members who take part in public demonstrations against desegregation.'

"The Convention resolution on Labor and Industry is even more fully expressive of N.A.A.C.P.'s very positive orientation toward the labor movement; and it reflects a high degree of maturity on this question. The opening section 'reaffirms' the Association's 'support of democratic trade unionism and the principle of collective bargaining,' pointing out that 'hundreds of thousands of Negro workers (more accurately, nearly two million) belong to labor unions in every part of the country.'.... Then follows this

NY 100-7629

CONFIDENTIAL

"truly advanced call for the necessary two-way approach to building the Negro-labor alliance:

"We urge our branches and state conferences wherever possible to seek the support of responsible trade unions for measures that we favor, and in turn give our support to such measures supported by organized labor as are consistent with our policy and program.

"The second section of the Labor and Industry resolution is on the A. F. of L.-C.I.O. merger. It 'endorses the historic merger agreement'; asserts that 'a strong and united labor movement represents a powerful weapon in the struggle to end racial discrimination in the training and employment of Negro workers'; and calls 'on the new Federation to launch an intensive drive to organize the unorganized in the South especially.'....

"The third section of the resolution headed 'Non-Cooperation with Communist-Controlled Unions,' reaffirms the Association's 'official policy that no branch or state conference of the N.A.A.C.P. will endorse, participate in, or cooperate with Communist-controlled unions or with unions dominated by underworld racketeering elements.' It makes clear that reference is 'particularly ... to those international unions expelled from organized labor for being under Communist control or under racketeering control and still under that control'; and asserts that support given to or accepted from such unions 'will not help but rather will hinder our efforts to win adoption of our program.' Several delegates expressed vigorous opposition to this statement of policy; but it was adopted by an overwhelming majority--and without any really substantial debate.

"* Emphasis here added.

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

CONFIDENTIAL

"As reported out by the Resolutions Committee, the wording of this ban on cooperation with the independent unions expelled from C.I.O. is identical with that of the 1954 Convention resolution--with two significant exceptions. First, this year's resolution, by adding the qualification '...and still under that (i.e., Communist) control,' seemingly opens the door to N.A.A.C.P. cooperation with formerly banned unions which have effected mergers with other, politically more acceptable, internationals. Second, the 1954 Convention resolution stated that 'the prohibition against working with Communist-controlled unions shall also include the National Negro Labor Council, because it is completely Communist-dominated...'; but this item was left out of the Resolution Committee's report at the 1955 Convention. Upon being queried about this omission, the Chairman of the Committee explained that it was deliberate, based on 'advice of counsel'; and when pressed for further explanation, he stated that the provision might be construed by the courts as 'libelous.' On motion from the floor, and again with only inconsequential protest, the prohibition against cooperation with N.N.L.C. was incorporated in the resolution.

"Thus, N.A.A.C.P. again embraced as its own the C.I.O. policy of opposition to the expelled independent unions. In so doing, it once more endorsed the Big Lie now incorporated in the Brownell-Butler provisions of the Communist Control Act, about which even the anti-Communist sections of the labor movement are becoming increasingly concerned.

"It is doubtful that a score of the voting delegates at the convention could name the unions proscribed by this resolution, or that they had any real interest in the trade-union policy struggle which lies at the root of this question. They voted for the resolution because it was proposed by leaders in whom

NY 100-7629

CONFIDENTIAL

"they have confidence, and because they had no special reason for opposing it--especially in the anti-Communist political climate of this period. The leaders of the Association were probably motivated chiefly by a desire to hold firm their close relations with C.I.O.--even at the expense of a truly independent policy for N.A.A.C.P. But it seems to this observer that a dispute which arises within the ranks of labor and which does not involve issues of Negro rights should be fought out in the labor movement, not in the organizations of the Negro people. The N.A.A.C.P. would be well advised to end its intervention in this intra-labor conflict, because such intervention represents only a drag on the whole Negro freedom movement.....

"There was very little discussion at Atlantic City of the Cold War erosion of the Bill of Rights or of the struggle for peace; but the Convention did adopt, with little or no debate, a series of significant resolutions on these questions. The policies asserted are, for the most part, progressive; but there are also important limitations--and they operate to weaken the Association's advanced position in the fight for Negro democratic rights.

"There are several notably progressive policy statements in the civil liberties field. The resolution on Academic Freedom, for example, opposes 'any and all efforts to suppress freedom of thought and objective learning,' and particularly condemns 'the discharge of teachers on the basis of charges by 'nameless informers.' The resolution on the Federal Security-Loyalty Program demands 'that all persons accused of being a security risk shall have the right to know the nature of the charges against them, the source of the charges and the right to be confronted by the accuser and to cross-examine the witnesses against them,' and condemns as 'odious' the Federal Government's use of 'paid professional informers.'

"The resolution on Congressional Investigations asserts that 'many innocent persons have been charged with

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

"treasonable or subversive conduct and given no opportunity to know the evidence against them or to defend themselves or their reputation with the consequent loss of their employment,' and calls 'on the Congress and the legislatures of the several states to enact rules of 'fair play' for the conduct of such investigations. The resolution on the McCarran-Walter Anti-Immigration Act calls 'for revision...to eliminate the national origins quota system and other racist-based provisions, and to liberalize its procedures in accordance with fair and equal treatment for all immigrants and prospective immigrants.'

"The Convention was silent, however, on the civil liberties violations entailed by the Smith Act, the McCarran Internal Security Act of 1950, and the Communist Control Act of 1954. Moreover, in formal endorsement of the Big Lie which operates as the premise for precisely those violations of civil liberties which the Association condemns, the Convention again adopted, without discussion, its resolution reaffirming 'our rejection of Communism as an anti-democratic way of life,' and calling on all branches 'to be constantly alert against attempts of Communists and their sympathizers...to infiltrate and gain control of any units of our organization.'

"The Convention also shied away from certain key issues on which, with little danger of appearing 'too progressive,' it might well have advanced its position on the question of civil liberties. For example, the Supreme Court declaration that the right to travel abroad is a 'natural right' was handed down during the early days of the Convention, and has subsequently been used by several Negro newspapers as the basis for editorial demands that Paul Robeson be granted a passport. Also, shortly before the Convention, Federal Judge William H. Hastie, a member of N.A.A.C.P.'s National Board of Directors, wrote an historic dissenting opinion which exposes the fraud inherent in the imprisonment of Communists for alleged violation of the Smith Act. But the Convention ignored both of these questions; and at the same time it gave comfort to the main

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7022

CONFIDENTIAL

"enemies of civil liberties--always the most rabid racists-- by reaffirming its policies of 'Anti-Communism' and 'Non-Cooperation with Communist-Controlled Unions.'

"Even so, it is important to note that the proceedings of this Convention were markedly free of red-baiting, either from the platform or from the floor. In sharp contrast to the 1954 Dallas Convention--which featured virulent anti-Communism from the keynote address of Channing Tobias to the concluding speeches of Ralph Bunche and Walter White--not one national leader of the Association made a red-baiting speech at Atlantic City; and there was extremely little of it from the delegates. This fact, coupled with the Resolution Committee's deliberate omission of a recommendation for non-cooperation with the National Negro Labor Council, suggests that the N.A.A.C.P. leadership may be taking a second look at the contradiction between its generally advanced position on civil liberties and its endorsement of the Big Lie of anti-Communism.....

"As with certain key questions in the civil liberties field, the Convention did not discuss or take any action on such concrete issues in the fight for peace as the situation around Formosa, the seating of China in the United Nations, the unification of Germany or the banning of nuclear weapons.

"One gets the impression that the N.A.A.C.P. is following a 'cautious' and rather opportunist policy in these fields. Whereas the Association asserts a bold and independent position in the fight for civil rights--which it properly regards as its main business--it acts with seeming deference to the Eisenhower Administration on questions of civil liberty and foreign policy, especially the latter. Where special 'Negro interests' are directly involved, N.A.A.C.P. tends to assert advanced policies, even critical of the Administration. But on many other 'hot' issues it tends to remain silent, or to make general gestures of obeisance to the powers that be--largely 'for the record.'

"The 46th Annual Convention of N.A.A.C.P. met in the context of political developments on the world and

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"domestic scenes which profoundly affect the welfare of our country as a whole and of the Negro people in particular. In what ways were these developments reflected in the Atlantic City Convention? How shall we appraise the N.A.A.C.P. as a force in the important political struggles which lie immediately ahead? What tasks are entailed for the labor-progressive movement as a whole?

"In the first place, it is clear that N.A.A.C.P. is determined to press the fight for Negro democratic rights in a big way, especially around the schools question, jobs, housing, and the right to vote in the South. Moreover, while continuing to rely heavily upon its talented lawyers and the courts, the Association is giving important new emphasis to organized legislative action focused on Congress and to mass people's struggles in the local communities. The further development of its program along these lines will surely enhance the effectiveness of N.A.A.C.P. as, without question, the foremost civil rights organization of the Negro people.

"Second, the growth of N.A.A.C.P. membership seems to lag considerably behind its potentialities and needs, especially when one considers the dynamic program, the mounting prestige and the difficult tasks reflected at this Convention. The current membership of around 250,000 is very substantial; but it is little more than half the total of a decade ago, and the decline is only partially explained by the increase of the membership fee.

"It would seem to be quite possible to build an N.A.A.C.P. of 1,000,000 or more members under the objective conditions of this period; but to do so will require a more thoroughly democratic policy in the conduct of the Association's affairs than was reflected at the Convention. The rules of procedure, for example, seriously limited participation from the floor, with but little of that full and rounded discussion and debate essential for maximum understanding of the Association's program and enthusiasm for building the organization. This Convention, like its predecessors, was tightly controlled from the top.

"In this connection, there were many evidences at the Convention that the development of youth work is being

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

"seriously neglected--if not actively discouraged--by leaders of the Association. Yet, considering the increasing ferment among young people on a wide range of social questions, there is no doubt that N.A.A.C.P., with little effort, could build a vital and extensive network of youth councils and college chapters, and thus greatly stimulate the growth of the Association and enhance its effectiveness generally.

"N.A.A.C.P. can be built into a much larger and far more powerful civil rights organization; and the tasks it now faces urgently require that this be done. The main thing needed, in the opinion of this observer, is for leaders of the Association to unleash the initiative of its many members and supporters below, and to rally them in truly mass struggles for the achievement of its goals.

"Third, the Convention registered a radical and very important shift of the Association away from support of the Eisenhower Administration and toward a more independent course in domestic affairs.

"Certainly, the Atlantic City Convention revealed a definite stiffening of the Association's attitude toward the President and the G.O.P.; and it was accompanied by sharp criticism of the compromising northern Democrats in Congress. There was no clear indication of the present orientation of N.A.A.C.P. leaders toward the coming national elections; but if they implement the Convention's call for vigorous independent political action during the next fifteen months, they will surely contribute much to the electoral strength of the democratic forces in 1956.

"Fourth, the Convention reaffirmed and in some respects strengthened the Association's already progressive policy on civil liberties--especially around the security-loyalty question and the Government's use of paid informers; and it made some slight steps forward on the question of foreign policy--notably in relation to the Asian-African Conference and the Geneva meeting of the 'Big Four.'

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"The continuing serious limitations of the Association's policy in these fields must be understood chiefly as a reflection of the present relations of forces in our country. On the question of 'anti-Communism,' for example, it would have been unrealistic to suppose that any explicit change of position could be registered at Atlantic City. Although the Negro people, because of their own oppression, do tend to be more sensitive than the general population to all kinds of undemocratic measures, still, given today's political climate, we could hardly expect the N.A.A.C.P. now to undertake a task which even the labor movement thus far eschews.

"Fifth, the Atlantic City Convention re-emphasized the fact that N.A.A.C.P. is the key to building the Negro-labor alliance. Not only did the Convention call for labor's help in the fight for Negro rights; it also endorsed practically all of labor's current economic demands and defended labor's right to engage in independent political action. When one considers, further, that C.I.O.'s Walter Reuther is a member of the Association's National Board of Directors, that there is an increasingly active Labor Department in the National Office, that the two-years-old Labor and Industry Committees are beginning to play a vital role in the local branches, and that scores of unions consider it important to send fraternal delegates to the Annual Convention, it is probable that no people's organization in America, Negro or white, has so conscious and organized a relationship with the labor movement as does the N.A.A.C.P. Here, surely, is the most advanced expression of the Negro-labor alliance on the current scene.

"It is clear that the Association is eager further to develop its relations with labor--as, indeed, it must. The fond reformist conceit that integration can be achieved through the good graces of the ruling class has been dealt some shattering blows in the recent period; and the leaders of N.A.A.C.P.--as is beginning to be true of other Negro people's organizations--are forced to look more and more to the working class for support. In this quest for allies in the labor movement, they will also find it necessary, in time, to reappraise their relations with the Left as a part of the working class.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

"Sixth, the Convention highlighted the big opportunity now before the labor-progressive movement to cement its ties with the whole Negro people through closer cooperation with the key and influential N.A.A.C.P. There are many concrete ways in which white and Negro progressives, especially those in the trade unions, can contribute to this end.

"They can help to build the membership of the Association in the ranks of the unions. It is reported, for example, that one Negro trade unionist in the New York area recruited more than 300 new N.A.A.C.P. members during the recent membership campaign of his branch. His role could well be emulated by hundreds of trade unionists throughout the country.

"They can help to develop the N.A.A.C.P. Labor and Industry Committees into even more vital and influential units, and thereby to involve the Association increasingly in direct cooperative relations with the trade unions.

"They can encourage their unions to make financial contributions to the Association's Freedom Fund, and to take out Life Memberships for union officials.

"They can influence their unions to give active support to the legislative demands of the Association, and especially to cooperate with local branches in the fight for school integration, for non-discrimination in housing, and for the right to vote in the South.

"The most important task progressives in the unions can now undertake is to win trade union support for the Atlantic City Convention's call on the coming merged labor Federation 'to launch an intensive drive to organize the unorganized in the South.' Nothing could contribute more during this period to strengthen labor's ties with the whole Negro people than for the new Federation to carry through a massive campaign to organize many millions of southern white and Negro workers. Nor is there any other single task which

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

"could now contribute more toward building the national trade-union movement and strengthening the entire democratic coalition.....

"Finally, in the light of developments revealed by this analysis, one must conclude with an over-all positive estimate of the 46th Annual Convention of the N.A.A.C.P.

"The Convention did reveal significant weaknesses in N.A.A.C.P. policy and program, especially in its continuing 'anti-Communism' and its reluctance to tackle certain very important, concrete issues in the fight for peace and freedom. Notable also in this regard is the Association's continuing failure to develop any program on the basic land question in the South. These limitations flow in large measure, from the reformist ideology which dominates the middle-class leadership of the Association. The necessary corrective lies in developing a stronger base of active trade unionists in the organization, together with much more substantial support of its program by the labor-progressive movement.

"There can be no doubt that in the context of the changing political scene, and given much more substantial support by the labor movement--a task for which progressives in the unions have a special responsibility--the N.A.A.C.P. will continue to move forward as an increasingly powerful force in the fight for the civil rights of the Negro people, and also in the broader struggle for democracy and peace. The Atlantic City Convention made important contributions to this end."

CIVIL RIGHTS MOBILIZATION FOR WASHINGTON

The "Daily Worker," issue of October 31, 1955, page 1, column 1, contained an article entitled "Civil Rights Mobilization Set for Washington, Reuther Says." This article states that a giant people's mobilization, timed to convene in Washington early in 1956, as efforts are made to obtain passage of civil rights legislation in Congress, is planned by the NAACP and cooperating organizations. The article states that this was disclosed by WALTER REUTHER, President of the United Auto Workers (UAW) in a call to action letter to the UAW Locals and Fair Practices Committee.

REUTHER's letter accompanied a statement of the UAW's General Executive Board which contained the union's views on the deaths of EMMETT TILL and other Negroes in Mississippi and a program of stepped-up action on the civil rights front by the union of 1,500,000 members. The UAW's statement and program in part were set out as follows:

"Our international union is working with the NAACP and a host of other organizations who are planning as a part of the total overall civil rights program a nation-wide civil rights mobilization to be convened in Washington early next year so that we and thousands of other Americans can express to Congress the overwhelming desire of the American people for the enactment of civil rights legislation."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7029

This article also reflects that the Executive Board authorized a donation of $5,000 to the NAACP's "Fight for Freedom Fund" and called upon the locals of the UAW to do as follows:

"Add their local donations to the NAACP's fund to be forwarded to the NAACP's offices at 20 West 40th Street, New York City.

"Write immediately to Congressmen and Senators requesting that they work for and vote for enactment of effective civil rights at the opening of Congress, January, 1956.

"Urge Congressmen to use every influence to get pending civil rights bills in the House Judiciary Committee (there are 53 of them) reported out. They should be urged to join with others for a discharge procedure, if that procedure becomes necessary, to get the bills on the floor of Congress for debate and vote.

"Senators should be reminded that a filibuster can be broken when the majority of Senators desire to break it by wearing the filibuster out with the same determination and stamina as the type displayed by the enemies of civil rights."

This article, under a subtitle "World Issue," reflects that the issue of civil rights in America has become a matter of world concern. The article states that Congress has not adopted a single civil rights measure in the past 80 years, attributing this fact in a large part to the lack of a majority rule in Congress. The article concludes with a UAW statement which criticizes the Administration's failure to advance civil rights legislation.

SUBVERSIVE MANIPULATIONS

The "Daily Worker," issue of October 20, 1955, page 1, column 2, contains an article entitled "Georgia Plans to Outlaw NAACP as 'Subversive.'" This article states that Georgia Attorney General EUGENE COOK accused the NAACP of becoming "part and parcel of the Communist conspiracy." The article states that COOK charged the activities of the NAACP and its local fronts as posing a serious threat to the peace, tranquility, the government and way of life of the State of Georgia, and promised to put the facts before the Georgia Legislature for appropriate action.

According to the article, COOK stated that his office and the staffs of Representative JAMES C. DAVIS of Georgia and Senator JAMES O. EASTLAND (D. Miss.) conducted a thorough investigation into the NAACP. COOK stated that he would welcome the chance to present the evidence in court. COOK said: "On the basis of the evidence now in hand, no other conclusion can be drawn but that the NAACP is being used as a front and tool by subversive elements in this country."

The article continues: "Either knowingly or unwittingly, it has allowed itself to become part and parcel of the Communist conspiracy to overthrow the democratic governments of this nation and its sovereign states."

The article states that COOK linked a number of the NAACP officials with Communist activity. In addition, the article states: "Through its activities, the NAACP is fomenting strife and discord between the white and Negro races in the South.... These activities, carried to their ultimate conclusion, can only result in conflict, bloodshed and internal revolution, delivering this nation into the hands of international Communism."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The article also sets forth that ROY WILKINS, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, denounced the accusation made by Attorney General EUGENE COOK of Georgia that the NAACP was a "subversive" organization or "part of the Communist conspiracy to overthrow the U.S. Government."

WILKINS stated that COOK's speech, which was made before the Annual Convention of Georgia Peace Officers, was apparently part of a conspiracy by some Southern officials to combat the Supreme Court's order to desegregate the public schools by charging the NAACP with being subversive.

In addition, WILKINS charged that "The real subversives are those who defy the Constitution of our country and openly declare they will not obey it, or who scheme to evade it and counsel others to do likewise.

"Cook said that the Supreme Court ruling on segregation in public schools should not be obeyed. He has advised on ways and means of circumventing it. It is he, not we, who are seeking to undermine the Government of the U.S. There is nothing subversive in demanding equality under the Constitution. The Constitution prescribes equality for citizens. Those who deny that equality are subverting the Constitution."

The "Daily Worker," issue of October 25, 1955, on page 1, column 1, contains an article entitled "Eastland Threatens Witchhunt Probe of NAACP Supporters."

This article states that JAMES O. EASTLAND, Mississippi's national weapon in the fight to retain segregation, indicated that he will attempt a witch-hunt "investigation" of the NAACP. According to the article, EASTLAND charged that the NAACP is "heavily infiltrated" with subversive persons. The statement by EASTLAND was made in Jackson, Mississippi, the day after Georgia Attorney General EUGENE COOK announced his proposal to have the NAACP placed on his state's "Subversive List."

The article reflects that EASTLAND stated that Attorney General COOK was "on the right track" in branding the NAACP "subversive" and added that he thought it "timely" to investigate the group's source of funds.

TITLE COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE			CHARACTER OF CASE INTERNAL SECURITY - C

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

This report deals with the "Delegate Assembly for Civil Rights," which was first announced in 10/55 as joint venture of NAACP and cooperating organizations. Information re identity of sponsoring organization, the "Leadership Conference on Civil Rights," its officers, and 51 participating organizations set out. Aims were to call the attention of Congress to an 8 point civil rights program. The Assembly agenda, general instructions, examples of civil rights violations, the visiting of Congressmen and reports on visits, reported by informants as followed. Assembly reported as orderly and attended by between 1500 and 2000 persons. Informants report no indication of CP infiltration or influence in Assembly actions. NAACP took steps to prevent such infiltration by delegation limitations. Literature re the Louisville Case, "The Militant," and the "Daily Worker" was made available outside of Conference meetings.

SAs of the FBI observed described as CP leaders, in Washington, during the Assembly and together in each other's company, as well as in attendance at meetings of the Assembly, although it was noted they did not have delegate credentials. Activities of local persons with Communist background, as well as certain other CP members set forth.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

This report deals entirely with the "Delegate Assembly for Civil Rights" (DACR), also known as the Civil Rights Mobilization Leadership Conference on Civil Rights (LCCR), March on Washington, National Assembly for Civil Rights, National Conference on Civil Rights, and National Delegate Assembly for Civil Rights.

[REDACTED] b7c

I. ASSEMBLY ORIGIN

The "Daily Worker" (DW) issue of October 31, 1955, on page one, columns one to five, in an article, "Civil Rights Mobilization Set For Washington, REUTHER Says," reflected that WALTER REUTHER, President of the United Auto Workers (UAW) Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), issued a call to action letter to all UAW locals regarding a "giant people's mobilization" timed to convene in Washington early next year (1956). It was stated that this mobilization had been planned by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and cooperating organizations, including the UAW, as a part of an overall civil rights program. It stated that this program was more comprehensive than any in the current protest growing out of the EMMETT TILL Case. This article describes EMMETT TILL as a "Negro" who was "murdered" in Mississippi.

[REDACTED] b2 b7c

[REDACTED] the leadership of the NAACP had directed the Chicago NAACP Branch to spearhead the recruitment of delegates from local organizations to attend a national conference on civil rights scheduled for early 1956, which conference would be spearheaded by the NAACP national organization. &(u)

II. ASSEMBLY SPONSORING ORGANIZATION

&(u) [REDACTED] that reservations were being made at the Willard Hotel for March 4 - 6, 1956, for instant Assembly, in the name of the LCCR. b2 b7c

(u) [REDACTED] made available a pamphlet, "Congress Must Act — On Civil Rights," which lists the sponsoring organization as the "Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, 20 West 40th Street, New York, New York."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

A. OFFICERS

The pamphlet, "Congress Must Act — On Civil Rights," previously referred to, lists ROY WILKINS as Chairman of the LCCR and ARNOLD ARONSON as Secretary of the LCCR.

b2
b7D

The "Washington Post and Times Herald," a Washington daily newspaper, issue of February 6, 1956, reflects that the Assembly was to be called by ROY WILKINS, who was Executive Secretary of the NAACP.

(u) [REDACTED] made available information which reflected that ARNOLD ARONSON represented the National Community Relations Advisory Council.

B. PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS

The DW*, issue of February 3, 1956, in an article, "Mass Lobby to Hit Capital March 4 for Civil Rights," states that among the 51 groups affiliated with the LCCR were the major civil rights and religious organizations, and the American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO).

The "Washington Post and Times Herald," issue of February 6, 1956, in an article, "Assembly Called On Civil Rights," announced that the LCCR was composed of church, labor, fraternal, civic, and minority group organizations.

The pamphlet, "Congress Must Act — On Civil Rights," lists the following organizations as participating organizations:

III. ASSEMBLY AIMS

The DW*, issue of October 31, 1955, previously referred to, reflects that one of the Conference aims was to be the expression to Congress of the overwhelming desire of the American people for the enactment of civil rights legislation.

The pamphlet, "Congress Must Act -- On Civil Rights," published by the LCCR, and dated December, 1955, sets forth the aims as "The Civil Rights Worksheet for 1956," and lists the following eight points:

"1. Set up an effective Federal FEPC to prevent discrimination in employment.

CONFIDENTIAL

"2. Make Federal funds for education, housing, and welfare available only to those programs and projects that comply with Constitutional bars against segregation and other forms of discrimination.

"3. Make lynching and other assaults by public officials or private citizens, acting either in concert or individually, on persons or property because of race, color, religion or national origin, a Federal crime.

"4. Wipe out interference with the right to register or vote in primary or general Federal elections, and abolish the poll tax.

"5. Create a Civil Rights Division within the Department of Justice, headed by an Assistant Attorney General, with authority to protect civil rights in all sections of the country.

"6. Establish a permanent Federal Commission on Civil Rights to make continuous appraisals and to recommend action with respect to civil rights problems.

"7. Eliminate remaining segregation and other forms of discrimination in interstate travel.

"8. Establish majority rule in the Senate and House of Representatives.

This pamphlet also carries a section, "Getting Action by Congress," which informs the readers as to how they should get Congressmen to act on the eight points and the action they should take to get these eight points enacted.

b7D

The DW*, issue of February 3, 1956, previously referred to, states regarding the Conference, March 4 - 6, 1956, in Washington,

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"We intend to buttonhole Congressmen and demand passage of measures, especially bills to protect the individual and the right to vote. These two problems have been highlighted by the Mississippi situation." The article went on to state that it was also intended to ask more power for the Justice Department in dealing with civil rights matters, and that the civil rights section of the Justice Department be given broad powers and additional personnel, as a full-fledged Division of the Department of Justice.

✓ The DW*, issue of February 8, 1956, in an article, "8-Point Program Drawn Up for Mass Civil Rights Lobby in Capital," states that Congress would be urged by more than 2,000 delegates from Negro, labor, church, fraternal, and people's organizations on March 4 - 6, 1956, to enact an eight point legislative program on civil rights. According to ROY WILKINS, who called the mobilization, the 51 sponsoring organizations would ask for an eight point program which was set out in the article, and which eight points, with slight variations, were the same eight points as set forth in the pamphlet, "Congress Must Act — On Civil Rights."

The "Evening Star," a Washington daily newspaper, issue of March 5, 1956, in an article, "1500 Delegates Back Civil Rights Campaign," reflected that 1500 delegates from 38 states converged on Members of Congress to petition for prompt civil rights legislation, in line with demands of the NAACP, which was described by ROY WILKINS as an eight point program emphasizing the protection of the individual.

IV. ASSEMBLY DEVELOPMENT

A copy of a leaflet, "Democracy on Trial," Volume I, Number 5, issue of November 11, 1955, published by the "Ohio Committee for Smith Act Defendants," page 2, reflected that the leadership of the UAW-CIO announced participation with the NAACP in a giant civil rights march on Washington in January, 1956. This leaflet stated that the lynching of EMMETT TILL spurred the demands for all civil rights action to be placed before the Congress. This leaflet was made available to the [REDACTED] b7L

The DW*, issue of February 3, 1956, previously referred to, reflects that representatives from Congressional Districts throughout the country, estimated at 2500 people, would gather in Washington for a civil rights mobilization March 4 - 6, 1956. It was announced by ROY WILKINS, Chairman of the LCCR, that registration would be held on March 4, that the opening mass meeting would be held at the Interdepartmental Auditorium, and all other sessions were to be held at the Willard Hotel. WILKINS reportedly stated that the mobilization was spurred by the upsurge of protest against EMMETT LOUIS TILL's and other murders in Mississippi and the rise of "White Citizens' Council" racism in Southern areas. The emphasis was to be placed on getting the widest "grass roots" representation from across the nation and, wherever possible, the Conference would seek to hold meetings on a Congressional District basis, from which representatives to the Conference would be chosen. The delegates were to be from the 51 member organizations, except those who could be certified by Conference agencies.

The "Washington Post and Times Herald," issue of February 6, 1956, in the article, "Assembly Called on Civil Rights," reflects that the LCCR, according to ROY WILKINS, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, was to hold a "National Assembly" at the Willard Hotel March 4 - 6, and would meet in connection with what WILKINS foresaw as a "showdown fight" for enactment of civil rights legislation by Congress.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[REDACTED] that the NAACP, through ROY WILKINS, its Executive Secretary, had announced that the National Delegate Assembly for Civil Rights, March 4 - 6, 1956, in Washington, D. C., was sponsored by the NAACP nationally. [REDACTED] advised that the NAACP had allotted two delegates and two alternates from each Congressional District and after the delegates were elected, that their credentials were to be sent to the National Office of the NAACP for certification, and that each person attending as a delegate must have a form signed by the President or Secretary of the respective branch certifying him as a delegate. (XU)

The Michigan edition of "The Worker*", issue of February 12, 1956, in an article, "Rights Lobby," stated that the NAACP had announced a civil rights lobby for Washington, D. C., to be held March 4 - 6, 1956, that it was backed by 30 national organizations, including the UAW, and that 2500 delegates were expected.

The "Afro-American," a semi-weekly newspaper, issue of March 6, 1956, in an article, "Here to Condemn Political Murderers," reflects that the Youth and College Division or Youth Delegates, after having their day on March 3, would join the main Conference of the NAACP. It was stated that organizations represented by the Youth and College Division or Youth Delegates were the Students for Democratic Action, National Youth Work Committee, Educational Alliance, Young Republicans of America, Young Democrats of America, The Young Men's Hebrew Association, and the St. Augustine Chapel of New York.

B. MEETINGS AND OCCURANCES

1. ON MARCH 3, 1956

(u) a). AT THE WILLARD HOTEL

[REDACTED] the all-day session of the young people was held in the Congressional Room of the Willard Hotel, and that, although the session had been planned for 275, there were not more than 200 at the most in attendance, and there did not appear to be over 150 in attendance at any one time.

b2
b7D

(u) b). DANCE AT THE WILLARD HOTEL

[REDACTED] a dance was to be held in the South Ballroom by the Youth and College Division of the NAACP, and that attendance was expected to be in excess of 300 persons.

2. ON MARCH 4, 1956

a). REGISTRATION

A press conference on February 16, 1956, previously reported by G-2, reflected that the Conference Headquarters was to be at the Willard Hotel, and that registration of delegates would be held on March 4, 1956, at the Willard Hotel and the 12th Street YMCA Gymnasium.

c). AT THE INTERDEPARTMENTAL AUDITORIUM

(u) [REDACTED] b2 b7D
[REDACTED] the meeting was called to order at approximately 8:05 p.m. by CLARENCE MITCHELL, following which ROY WILKINS made a 30 minute restrained and modest speech, in which he stated that the main points to be pursued were civil rights and voting laws. Following WILKINS' address, members of the Board of Inquiry, as listed in the Agenda, interviewed the witnesses, as listed in the Agenda, concerning their alleged denials of civil rights. The Reverend LEON SULLIVAN made a plea for everyone to send checks to the Montgomery Improvement Association, in order to finance the current struggle of the Negro in Montgomery, Alabama.

CONFIDENTIAL

(u) The caucus plans of various delegations were announced, and [redacted] observation that the Interdepartmental Auditorium was filled to standing room capacity, and the meeting was quiet and orderly. [redacted] stated that AUTHERINE LUCY was introduced and received a standing ovation.

AUTHERINE LUCY, according to the "Evening Star," issue of March 5, 1956, is a "Negre" coed who was expelled from the University of Alabama after court test and riots over her admission as a student. According to this same issue of the "Evening Star," Dr. CHESTER C. TRAVELSTEAD, one of the witnesses before the Board of Inquiry, was a person who stated that he was dismissed as the Dean of the School of Education at the University of South Carolina because he advocated compliance with the South Carolina anti-segregation rulings.

✓ The "Washington Post and Times Herald," issue of March 5, 1956, on pages 1 and 17, in an article, "Civil Rights Leader Asks for Action," stated that 2000 delegates to this Assembly heard ROY WILKINS, Chairman of the Assembly, make a keynote speech on the evening of March 4, 1956, at which time he echoed the theme that had prevailed at the briefing session at the Metropolitan Baptist Church earlier in the day, where tips had been given on how to keep Congressmen from sidestepping civil rights questions.

[redacted] (u) AUTHERINE LUCY made an appearance, but did not speak. [redacted] (C)

3. ON MARCH 5, 1956

(u) a). VISITS TO CONGRESS

[redacted] each delegation would visit Congressmen representing the district from which the delegation originated, with the purpose in mind of discussing civil rights matters. (u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

§ [REDACTED] the morning of March 5, 1956, was spent by the various state delegations in visiting their Congressmen and Senators. (u)

b2

b7c

§ [REDACTED]

The "Daily Worker*", issue of March 6, 1956, on page one, in an article, "2000 Delegates Press Congress on Rights Stand," reflects that Congressmen on March 5, 1956, from 35 states represented in the Civil Rights Assembly meeting, received the eight point legislative program from the Assembly delegates.

b). AFTERNOON AT THE WILLARD HOTEL

[REDACTED] on March 5, 1956, that the afternoon meeting at the Willard Hotel, which was attended by approximately 1000 persons, consisted mainly of reports of delegates from the various states and their attempts up to that time to see their various Congressmen regarding the civil rights program. The reports were incomplete and some of the states did not make a report. The New Jersey delegation, [REDACTED] presented a move to get ten Congressmen to call on the Attorney General and this delegation reported that Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE of New Jersey had agreed to be one of the ten Congressmen, after which the New York delegation stated that, in all probability, Senator HERBERT H. LEHMAN of New York would be one of the other nine. The purpose of this delegation specifically was to take up the Conference program on civil rights. §(u)

c). EVENING AT THE WILLARD HOTEL

The "Evening Star," issue of March 6, 1956, in an article captioned "Civil Rights Group Hears Bitter SCOTT-BUTLER Clash," reflects that delegates from 38 states enjoyed the speeches at the evening meeting of March 5, 1956, at the Willard Hotel by the representatives of the Democratic and Republican parties.

The "Washington Post and Times Herald," in the issue of March 6, 1956, in an article, "Civil Rights Assembly Erupts into Bitter Partisan Debate," reflected that the evening meeting at the Hotel Willard on March 5, 1956, was composed of speeches by PAUL M. BUTLER, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Representative HUGH SCOTT, Republican of Pennsylvania, who exchanged claims and charges before an audience of more than 2000 persons.

[REDACTED] b2 b7C

(u) d). EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

[REDACTED] it had been announced at the afternoon meeting of March 5, 1956, that an Executive Committee meeting of the Conference would take place in the Cabinet Room of the Willard Hotel following the evening meeting.

4. ON MARCH 6, 1956

(u) a). VISITS TO CONGRESSMEN

[REDACTED] that during the Conference delegates were requested to and did contact their Congressmen regarding civil rights legislation which was beneficial to the "Negro."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

b). CLOSING MEETING AT THE INTERDEPARTMENTAL AUDITORIUM

[REDACTED] on March 6, 1956, that the afternoon or closing meeting, attended by some 500 to 600 persons at the Interdepartmental Auditorium on March 6, 1956, consisted of various state delegations reporting on their visits to Congressmen and that approximately 29 or 30 delegations reported on their visits. [REDACTED] that of the Senators contacted, approximately 17 were favorable to the Assembly aims, 7 were partially favorable, and approximately 11 Senators were not in favor of the Assembly aims. Of the Congressmen contacted, approximately 69 were favorable toward the delegation aims, approximately 20 were partially in favor, and approximately 48 were reported as not in favor of the Assembly aims. [REDACTED] that the New Jersey delegation, in addition, reflected that the majority of its Congressmen would be willing to appear before the Attorney General to request that Negroes be protected under the existing laws. SLM

Pennsylvania reported that two of its Congressmen would be willing to petition the Attorney General to get his views on civil rights investigation in the South.

✓ (2) [REDACTED] stated that ROY WILKINS' closing remarks were that if civil rights were "not an election issue before, they are now."

5. GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

[REDACTED] the Grand Ballroom of the Willard Hotel was limited to a 1500 capacity on both of the March 5, 1956, meetings. He stated that the capacity was checked by special guards hired to prevent overcrowding. [REDACTED] stated that it was his personal observation that not even 1500 persons were present at either of the two meetings.

b7c
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The "Evening Star," issue of March 5, 1956, in an article, "1500 Delegates Back Civil Rights Campaign," reflected that the Conference was composed of 1500 delegates from 38 states.

The "Afro-American," in its issue of March 10, 1956, in an article, "At Civil Rights Meeting: We Are Not Afraid -- Delegates," reflects that approximately 1500 delegates representing approximately 30 organizations attended the Assembly and that the largest delegations were from Michigan, Illinois, and New York.

The DW*, issue of March 6, 1956, in an article, "2000 Delegates Press Congress on Rights Stand," reflected that although there were full complements in all delegations, there was very little optimism expressed for the success of civil rights legislation during this session.

V The "Washington Post and Times Herald," issue of March 7, 1956, in an article, "Civil Rights Unit Closes Meeting," reflects that delegates to the National Civil Rights Assembly meeting wound up two days of visits with their Congressmen and that registration had been announced at 2000 persons, representing about 50 organizations. Regarding visits to Congressmen, ROY WILKINS, Chairman of the Assembly, stated, "We've had very few refusals" compared with 1950 when "we were last here" and he stated that even though some rejections or rebuffs were received, "your presence" and calling attention to the issues has served a purpose.

[REDACTED] the reports reflected that most Congressmen and Senators took a favorable attitude toward civil rights legislation sponsored by the Assembly, but it was the consensus of delegates to the Conference that no civil rights legislation would be passed during this session of Congress.

b7c

[REDACTED] the sessions were devoted to various speeches by individuals whom the NAACP assisted and pushed for enactment of the eight point program, with special emphasis being given to the anti-lynching and civil rights commission, and the denial of right to vote laws before Congress.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

VI. SUBVERSIVE RAMIFICATIONS

A. STEPS TAKEN BY ASSEMBLY LEADERSHIP TO PREVENT INFILTRATION AND TO CONTROL THE ASSEMBLY

 two delegates to the Conference were to be elected by each NAACP branch from each Congressional District, and that the names of the delegates were to be submitted to the National Headquarters for approval and issuance of credentials.  stated that from past experience only authorized and credential carrying delegates would be admitted as voting delegates; however, it did not preclude the admittance of observers to the Conference.

to Another Government Agency

The DW*, issue of March 5, 1956, in an article, "Civil Rights Lobby Hears Call for Vote Protection," states regarding WILKINS' speech on March 4, 1956, that both WILKINS' speech and the projected conference program were mild in tone and limited to Congressional lobbying for substantially the same legislative program advanced in 1952. It went on to state, "There was an unusually strong anti-Communist slant in the WILKINS speech. At one point WILKINS equated the racists with the Communists, saying 'We are concerned about both racist attempts to stifle our words and Communist attempts to exploit our recital and our proposals for Congressional action . . . " "The exercise of constitutional rights," WILKINS said, "is our best answer to the Communists and Fascists who, be it noted, have one thing in common, a liking for filibuster and other substitutes for a reasonable debate and democratic decisions by majority vote."

The "Afro-American," issue of March 6, 1956, previously referred to, states that members of the Assembly were carefully screened to prevent possible Communist infiltration at the meetings.

[REDACTED] upon arrival at the Willard Hotel at 1:42 p.m., until he entered the Hotel at 2:03 p.m. stood on the street in front of the Hotel in conversation with [REDACTED] and several young persons. They discussed the COURTS Case, as well as other purported civil rights violations. [REDACTED] furnished to [REDACTED] a pamphlet, "Behind the Lynching of EMMETT LOUIS TILL," [REDACTED] also mentioned the word, "credentials," during the conversation, after which [REDACTED] shook his head negatively and used the word, "authority."

It is noted that it has been previously set forth that a meeting of the DACR was taking place at the Willard Hotel on the afternoon of March 5, 1956.

Subsequent to 5:22 p.m. on March 5, 1956, [REDACTED] were observed on the street near the Hotel, conversing for a few minutes with [REDACTED] of Washington, D. C. b7c

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed [REDACTED] to visit at [REDACTED] Randolph Street N.W. for slightly over one hour during the late afternoon and early evening of March 5, 1956.

The Washington, D. C., City Directory lists [REDACTED] Randolph Street N.W. to [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] ANTHONY J. MORTON*, President of the Denver Branch of the NAACP, was going to Washington for a civil rights rally.

The "Afro-American," issue of March 10, 1956, lists ANTHONY J. MORTON* as a delegate from the State of Colorado.

[REDACTED] IRVING JONES* of Vancouver, Washington, was going to the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights as a delegate from his union and his church.

[REDACTED] reflects that IRVING JONES* was here as State Chairman or Co-Chairman from the State of Oregon.

D. INDICATIONS OF SUCCESS OF INFILTRATION

[REDACTED] the Assembly was carefully controlled and credentials of those in attendance were checked upon registering. [REDACTED] noted no unusual activity on the part of any participating delegates and noted nothing of a Communist Party nature during the Assembly.

(u) [REDACTED] had seen no evidence of Communist infiltration, and believed this due to the fact that the NAACP had screened all of the Communists out.

(u) [REDACTED] had noted no Communist influence at the Assembly.

(u) [REDACTED] the careful manner in which most organizations issued credentials to delegates, as well as the keynote address by ROY WILKINS warning against CP attempts to influence the Conference, precluded any marked degree of CP control of the Assembly.

"The Worker*," issue of March 11, 1956, page 5, in an article entitled, "Army of Freedom Marchers Invade Capital, 2000 Demand Federal Civil Rights Laws," states as follows regarding ROY WILKINS' position of adhering to the eight point legislative program: "With discipline, if not enthusiasm, the lobbying teams repeated their 1952 performance and brought back reports that were informative and sometimes amusing but hardly comforting to the embattled Southern Negroes who were victims of illegal acts under existing laws." It was stated that in answer to a demand for delegations to the Attorney General WILKINS answered that the Conference was limited to legislative lobbying.

Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

The "Daily Worker" issue of October 8, 1951, Page 1, in an article entitled, "150 Notables Form Emergency Civil Rights Committee" reflected that the formation of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee had been announced on October 7, 1951. It was shown that the purposes of the organization would be to help mobilize the public opinion in support of the traditional American constitutional guarantees of civil liberties and to render aid to victims of abridgement of these liberties in politics, education, and the professions. The founders, according to the article, included more than 50 members of the clergy and many educators and professionals.

Writing in "Political Affairs" issue of August, 1954, ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, convicted CP functionary, referred to the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee as one of the "forces carrying on the defense of the Bill of Rights today." Concerning "Political Affairs," FLYNN

In a printed leaflet furnished by Professor FRANK M. SNOWDEN, Howard University, Washington, D. C., in October, 1952, the NCDNL stated that its aims included pressing for amnesty for HENRY WINSTON and associates, stopping prosecution for political teachings and advocacy under the Smith Act; repealing other "repressive" legislative acts, especially the severe restrictions of immigration from the West Indies in McCarran-Walter Act, the anti-labor Taft-Hartley Act, and the "Thought Control" and "Concentration Camp" McCarran Act.

(u) [REDACTED] b2 b7C
"The Worker" issue of April 3, 1955, reflects that the NCDNL continues in existence and is located at 1660 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, New York.

The National Guardian:

The 1949 report of the California Committee on Un-American Activities cited the National Guardian as a publication launched in New York in 1948 aiming at national circulation which they found to be from its inception notoriously Stalinist in its staff, writers, management, and content.

Progressive Party:

The National Committee, CP, USA, in issuing its final text of the "Resolution Growing out of the Presidential Elections" in "Political Affairs" issue of July, 1953, states in substance that in 1948 the Communist Party helped stimulate the formation of the Progressive Party and correctly supported the Progressive Party through the 1952 elections. It then states:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"However, the mistake our party made was to confuse ~~this~~ task with the historic task of forming a new mass party of the people. As a consequence, there existed the wrong estimate that the formation of the Progressive Party represented something more than the simple emergence of an important fighting force for peace; that it represented the emergence of a great mass people's party."

As a result of this reasoning, the resolution concludes that the Progressive Party and the Communist Party and other progressive forces must unite in a broad, mass-front coalition.

Organizations and publications mentioned in this report are characterized as follows:

American Labor Party (ALP)

[REDACTED] that [REDACTED] (b2) (b7D) from the time of its inception in 1936, there existed within the ALP a struggle for power among three groups. These were the CP, the Socialist Party, and the Social Democrats. By the early 1940's, the CP emerged as the controlling force within the ALP in the major industrial areas in New York State. Generally these were the areas around Albany, Buffalo, Jamestown, Rochester, Schenectady, Syracuse, Troy, the Hudson River Valley, Columbia, Dutchess, Nassau, and Westchester Counties, and New York City, with the exception of Brooklyn. In 1942 the CP was able to capture the ALP in Brooklyn. [REDACTED] (b2) (b7D)

The ALP never developed into an organization of any real consequence in the non-industrial areas of New York State. [REDACTED] (b2) (b7D)

Baltimore Urban League

The Baltimore Urban League is an affiliate of the National Urban League, which was established in 1924 "to improve the conditions under which Negro citizens of Baltimore work." (Baltimore Sun Newspaper, February 12, 1950)

Election of ANTHONY J. MORTON
as President of the Denver Branch NAACP, December 13, 1955, and His Expulsion March 30, 1956

WARREN LAWRENCE FORTSON, in United States District Court, Denver, Colorado, on April 14, 1955, testified that he was a member of the CP from the Fall of 1949 to April 14, 1955, on behalf of the government.

[REDACTED]

b7C

ANTHONY J. MORTON

FORTSON on April 18, 1955, testified that ANTHONY
J. MORTON attended a two day CP State Committee meeting at Denver, Colorado, during July, 1951, at which time HAROLD ZEPELIN introduced MORTON as a veteran member of the CP from the National Headquarters in New York City; that he was in Colorado to put new life blood into the Civil Rights Congress (CRC), and that he was the Civil Rights Chairman for Denver. FORTSON on April 20, 1955, identified MORTON as having been present at a CP State Committee meeting held at Aurora, Colorado, during March, 1952.

HAROLD ZEPELIN on August 9, 1954, was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Denver, Colorado, for conspiracy to violate the Smith Act. ZEPELIN was found guilty as charged by a jury in United States District Court, Denver, on May 25, 1955, and on June 23, 1955, was sentenced by United States District Judge JEAN J. BREITENSTEIN to three years and fined $2,000.

The Kansas City "Call", Denver edition, issue of December 23, 1955, contained an article "Rift in Local NAACP Branch; Election Will Be Contested." In part the article reads as follows:

"There was a rift in the local branch NAACP last week during the annual election of officers.

"As an outgrowth of the meeting, petitions have been filed with the New York Office alleging irregularities in the conduct of the election.

"Unofficial sources claim that the core of the difficulty was 'Communist influence in the election' and 'eligibility of voters.'

"Officers elected in the controversial meeting were:

A. Morton, President;
 A. S. Fisher, First Vice; NAACP
 Mrs. Ola Thornton, Second Vice; NAACP
 Mildred Stevenson, Secretary; NAACP
 Assistant Secretary Mary Mc Guire;
 Oliver Diggs, Treasurer. NAACP

"Attorney Irving Andrews, A.S. Fisher, who declined, and A. Morton, were nominated as Presidents. Morton won the election 18 to 10."

[REDACTED] advised that ANTHONY J. MORTON was expelled from the NAACP at a meeting held on the evening of March 20, 1956. Informant stated that IRVING P. ANDREWS

Through a suitable pretext telephone call made on January 6, 1956, by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to an executive of the NAACP, 20 West 40th Street, New York City, the following information was obtained:

- 64 -

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The NLCCR is comprised of about 50 National Civic Organizations which form a loose federation. According to the source, the member organizations are of national scope and the NLCCR was referred to as "ad hoc" organization, which meets only for a particular purpose. u

According to the source, the NLCCR is not part of the NAACP and the connection between the two organizations is that the NAACP is one of the national groups which comprises the NLCCR. In addition, ROY WILKINS, Executive Secretary, NAACP is the chairman of the NLCCR. The NLCCR maintains no staff or officers of its own, but is permitted to use facilities of the NAACP and work out of the NAACP office at 20 West 40th Street, New York City. u NY

The only active body of the NLCCR is the Executive Committee, which only meets when necessary. The source, regarding current activities, advised that the NLCCR is contemplating a civil rights mobilization in Washington, D. C., for March, 1956, however, the exact date was unknown. u

During a suitable pretext telephone call made on January 9, 1956, by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to an executive of the National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights (NLCCR), 20 West 40th Street, New City, the following information was received: u

According to the source, the NLCCR was organized as a result of a Washington mobilization in 1949. The mobilization was regarded as highly successful and resulted in about 50 civic organizations, including churches and unions to join together under the name of National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights. The purpose of the organization, according to the source, is to further civil rights on a federal or national scale by influencing national conventions of the national political parties and other national groups. The source stated that the NLCCR is a non-partisan organization. An executive committee of the NLCCR, which is comprised of representatives from about 20 of the member organizations meets on a regular basis. u

SYNOPSIS:

National Headquarters for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) continues to be located at 20 W. 40th Street, NYC. "NY Times" article of 1/8/57, states NAACP income for 1956 exceeded one million dollars and membership surpassed 350,000 members, both figures are records. Total of 40,000 new members were enrolled in 1956. Strong points of NAACP membership are Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Baltimore, New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Chicago. The article reflects that the officers and directors of the NAACP were re-elected. NAACP 47th Annual Convention held June 26 to July 1, 1956, in San Francisco, California. Convention reaffirmed and extended 1950 resolution against Communism. Resolution bars NAACP membership to individuals with Communist affiliations.

Growth and Membership

"The New York Times," issue of January 8, 1957, page 19, columns 3, 4 and 5, carried an article entitled "N.A.A.C.P. Income Rises to Million." This article reflects that the NAACP reported at its annual meeting on January 7, 1957, that its income in the year 1956 was more than one million dollars and that the membership surpassed 350,000, both of these are records. NAACP

✓ ROY WILKINS, Executive Secretary, stated that it could not be determined whether increased financial support had come about despite bitter opposition to the Association or because of it. Last year, for the first time the Association was attacked directly as an organized body in state legal and legislative actions. Thus it was crippled or made inoperative in Louisiana, Alabama, Texas, Georgia and Virginia. u

The article continues that nevertheless, the NAACP had received at its headquarters the sum of $682,906 from all sources in the year 1956. This sum was the highest total in the history of the NAACP and was $48,000 larger than the figure in 1955. Of the total, $364,000 was income from membership fees from branches, an increase of $57,000. The branches themselves kept a total of $250,000. u

~~NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE~~
In addition, the article reflects other fiscal items, such as life membership payments, brought in $98,838, which was $14,000 more than the year 1955. The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, which is incorporated separately, received $300,000. u

A total of 40,000 new members were enrolled by the Association in the year 1956. The strong points of membership for the NAACP were in Detroit (18,204), Los Angeles, Cleveland, New York (11,871) and Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and Chicago. u

THURGOOD MARSHALL, Special Counsel, NAACP announced that in 1957 efforts would be directed toward integration in the Southern states. In the South, he explained, the process would be one of steady progress. u

The article also contains the following statement: u

"Prejudiced state officials are requiring us to establish precedents in the federal courts which will affirmatively block them from continuing to use so-called legal means in an effort to accomplish unlawful purposes. Before long we will have precedents enough to protect ourselves against all such methods. We will then be free to operate with the full benefit of the law of the land. We will not be prodded to move more rapidly than wisdom requires us to do." u

The "Political Affairs" issue of September, 1956, carries an article entitled "The NAACP Convention." The article points out that the NAACP is the most vital and authoritative center of Negro militant protest, organized mass struggle, and democratic unity of Negro and white Americans in the struggle for equal constitutional rights. U

Board Chairman CHANNING T. TOBIAS, in his greetings to the convention, noted that the membership had increased as well as the income to the organization. Most significant was 480 of the Association's branches (and more than fifty per cent of its membership remain on) the front line of battle in the South. U

Under a subtitle of "Increased Militancy," the article states that the convention adopted what appears to be a more militant posture in the fight for Negro rights than at any time in the recent past. U

The convention speeches were echoed in the first substantive resolution of the convention, the preamble of which equated the popular concept of moderation with stagnation and declared: U

"Action is what we seek.....action to demolish the whole jim crow structure. Action to assure forever the equality of rights and human dignity proclaimed in all the great ethical political documents of humanity. Action to end forever inequality of rights among mankind of whatever race, of whatever faith."

According to the article, this was a prime evidence of the militant character of the NAACP convention which was unanimous and resounding in its rejection of the doctrines of gradualism and moderation. U

At the convention, the Montgomery boycott issue became a prime factor. The question confronting the convention was not what attitude to take toward the Montgomery or the Tallahassee bus boycotts. These were already in being, largely successful, and enjoying wide public support. The question, as placed in the keynote speech of THURGOOD MARSHALL, was to make the most careful evaluation of this technique (non-violent resistance to segregation) to determine to what extent it can be used in addition to other means of protest.

The article states that the reasons why such a "careful examination" is required, were as follows:

1. The boycott, a practically unanimous movement, provided a graphic demonstration of the all-class, all-denominational, all-party unity of the Negro people in action.
2. The unity had effectively undermined the contention of the White Citizens Council forces that the demand for inter-gration was fostered among Southern Negroes by "outside agitators" bent on destroying the "peaceful relations between the races" in the interest of some alleged sinister "Communitistic" objectives.
3. The movement had attracted to itself the enthusiastic morale and material support of the entire Negro people.
4. The insistence on non-violence and the phenomenal discipline of the boycotters had disarmed the minority of active white supremacists who could not succeed in manufacturing the provocation with which to arouse masses of whites and to blackmail the municipal, county and state police forces to drown the movement in the Negro protestants.

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

5. The mass action of the Negroes had won the active support of a small minority of white people and had served to neutralize or stimulate the grudging and passive sympathy of a probable majority, despite deep-rooted prejudices.

All these factors seemed to provide an important part, though not all, of the answer to the prime question facing the Negro freedom movement.

The article, under the title "The Ideas of Dr. King," states that this problem received a remarkable contribution from Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, President of the Montgomery Improvement Association. Dr. KING visited the convention for the purpose of telling the Montgomery story and in so doing he gave voice to the philosophy of struggle which had been taking shape among the leadership of the Montgomery Improvement Association in the course of the boycott. Some of the main elements are as follows:

*copy
1.12*

1. It places major emphasis on the "new Negro." One can never understand the bus protest without understanding that there is a new Negro in the South who has a new sense of dignity and destiny.
2. Its a philosophy of active mass struggle.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

CONFIDENTIAL

3. It envisions and calls for a movement of all classes in Negro life sharing equally the burdens, tasks and rewards of the struggle for freedom. It urges the muting of internal class antagonisms and struggles among the oppressed Negro people.
4. It recognizes the need for white allies in a general sense, but does not emphasize the need for forging a special alliance between the Negro people and the white workers in order to achieve the particular as well as the common aims of both in a joint struggle against an identical foe, monopolized big business and the plantation oligarchs.
5. It places prime reliance on the Negro people themselves in the battle for equality.
6. It places the American Negro liberation movement within the framework of contemporary colonial revolutionary upsurge and draws inspiration and precept from the example of India and GANDHI.
7. It draws heavily upon the bourgeois-pacifist interpretation of the redemptive power of idealistic "love as the regulating ideal."

Under the title, "On Non-Violent Resistance," the article states that it was against the background of this philosophy, then, that Reverend KING placed before the NAACP convention the challenge of adopting the method of non-violent resistance as a mass technique in the struggle for Negro rights. The question of what action should be taken was put in a resolution which indicated that even though the NAACP has examined to some extent the effectiveness of the passive non-violent resistance on a local level, the NAACP is not ready to take a position on this as a national project.

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-7629

The convention action in postponing decision on non-violent passive resistance registered the fact that, on this issue, the groupings which make up the more resistant and politically conservative trend, had the upper hand in the convention. It is unlikely, however, according to the article, that the Association will be able to maintain this posture of indecision for very long. The prospects of affirmative action on the resolution will depend, among other factors, on the steady increase in the Association of the influence of the more militant forces merging in the Southern struggle and of the trade-union spokesmen of the working class.

The article also treats "Labor and the NAACP" as a title and the viewpoint of labor was most strikingly presented at the convention in an address by A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, Vice President of AFL-CIO and President of the Sleeping Car Porters. In the following terms, he pointed to the most urgent unfinished business on labor's agenda:

Philip Randolph
"Obviously, the development of a strong and aggressive movement in the South, embracing black and white workers; is the key to the transition of control of Southern economy, state and local politics and governments from the weak and palsied hands of a rural, semi-feudalistic sharecropper and tenant farming economy, the breeding ground of Ku Kluxism, White Citizens Councils, racism, lynch-law

NY 100-7629

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"and illiterate emotional white masses to an urban industrialism and labor unionism where the paramount social struggle will shift from racialism to economic, social and political reformism in the interests of higher wages and improved living standards and better government for all citizens, black and white."

According to the article, RANDOLPH's speech was well received by the delegates of the convention and it states:

"It must remain a concern of the Left and Party forces in the labor movement that we tend to 'lag behind' the possibilities in the fight for Negro rights in the recent AFL-CIO merger. The fact is that in many areas our forces did not see the realistic opportunity and did not press for the election of one Negro to an AFL-CIO presidency, not to speak of two. There was a tendency to underestimate the readiness of the white membership of local unions to struggle for Negro rights and therefore to see the placing of the demands of the Negro people in connection with the merger as a divisive rather than a uniting factor. This represented a Right opportunist weakness which persists in our Negro work and must be eliminated at the same time that we continue and intensify the struggle against the major 'left' sectarian errors which have characterized Party practice generally in the past several years."

See Loc
It is noted that here the article refers to the Negro vice presidents of the AFL-CIO, RANDOLPH and WILLARD TOWNSEND, President of the United Transport Service Employees, who are also vice presidents of the NAACP.

The article, under the caption "Labor and Industry Committees," states that the participation of these trade unionists in the convention underscores the growing importance of the labor and industry committees of the local branches of the NAACP. These committees provided the most direct liaison between the community branches and the labor movement. In a number of areas, they have spearheaded important membership growth of the branches and strengthened the militant, mass character of their activities. U

In some instances, leaders of the labor-industry committees, by their good work in building the Association and winning for it the active support of the trade unions, have been entrusted with decisive positions of leadership in the NAACP branches as a whole. By building these committees is the practical way of carrying into life the leading role and special initiative of the Negro workers in the Negro liberation movement. U

Under "Civil Liberties," the article treats the anti-Communist resolution passed at the convention as the strongest adopted since the original one was introduced at the 1950 Boston convention. U

"Undoubtedly, in the view of the top national leadership of the Association, the resolution was also seen as a means of 'clearing their skirts' of NAACP in face of the mud-slinging campaign of the white citizens councils..... U

"We contend that the hard blows of experience will eventually convince the NAACP that such measures are futile, that civil liberties are indivisible, that their own attack upon the Communists weakens rather than strengthens the NAACP in its battle with the Dixiecrats." U

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-7629

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The article concludes by stating that the 47th Annual Convention of the NAACP represented an important landmark in the historic struggles of the Negro people for freedom. Its deliberations and resolutions provide the basis for furthering the militant unity of the Negro people, their alliance with the working class and the speedy end of the hated Jim Crow system. u

EMMA LAZARUS FEDERATION OF JEWISH WOMEN'S CLUBS

"The Jewish Fraternalist" dated October, 1947, self-identified as the official publication of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order (JPFO) of the International Workers Order (IWO), on page 6, contained an article which reflected that the Emma Lazarus Division (ELD) of the JPFO was to hold its first national convention in New York City on November 15 and 16, 1947, after having been first established at a National Women's Conference called three years previously by the JPFO.

The "Morning Freiheit" on January 25, 1951, contained a report on the National Convention of the ELD of the JPFO which took place in New York City on January 20 and 21, 1951. At this convention it was noted the ELD changed its name to Emma Lazarus Federation of Jewish Women's Clubs (ELF) and adopted a new constitution.

The address of the national office of the ELF is 160 Fifth Avenue, Room 911, New York City.

Both the IWO and the JPFO have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", an east coast Communist newspaper, in its issue of December 9, 1946, page 7, column 1, in an editorial, referred to the "Morning Freiheit" as a Jewish-language Communist paper.

TEACHERS UNION OF NEW YORK CITY

b7D

The 1942 report of the Sub-committee Relative to the Public Education System of the City of New York, New York, New York States Legislature, (Rapp-Coudert Committee) page 178, states as follows concerning the TU:

"The history of the Communist movement in the New York City school system is primarily the history of the so-called Teachers Union of the City of New York, formerly Local 5 of the American Federation of Teachers, a national trade union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and of its subsidiary, the College Teachers Union, formerly Local 537 of the American Federation of Teachers, which was founded by Local 5 in 1938. In the following pages we trace machinations of the Communists in Locals 5 and 537, showing how they began in Local 5 in a small way in the 1920's, grew, precipitated internal strife within the organization and finally brought affairs to such a pass that the founders and leaders of the union could tolerate the situation no longer and withdrew in 1935, leaving the Communists in complete control.

"Thereafter, the union was used solely as a vehicle for Party line propaganda, and revolutionary agitation, until, as a result of the labors of "persons in the teaching profession following the revelation of this Committee, the members of the AFT revoked the charters of Local 5 and 537 in 1941 by referendum, on the ground that these locals were under the control of the Communist Party and had consistently engaged in practices inimical to democracy."

The "Daily Worker" issue of February 16, 1953, page 2, column 5, noted that the New York TU "acting in accordance with a joint membership and special delegates meeting of February 8 (1953)" had announced it would henceforth be an independent organization of teachers and had ended its affiliation with the United Public Workers.

The "Directory of National and International Labor Unions in the United States, 1955" pages 3 and 4, reflects that the United Public Workers of America was one of 11 unions expelled from the CIO on charges of Communist domination. According to this pamphlet, the United Public Workers of America was expelled on March 1, 1950, and disbanded in February, 1953.

BELLA V. DODD, former Legislative Director of the TU from 1936 to 1944, and who left this position to become Legislative Director of the New York State Communist Party, makes the following characterization of the TU in her book "School of Darkness," page 160:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"...this union, now a sturdy arm of the Communist Party,..."

BELLA DODD, in her book on page 161, also noted that following her leaving the TU she retained her membership as an honorary member of the TU, and at the direction of the Communist Party she remained on the top Communist Committee of the TU. Miss DODD was expelled from the Communist Party in June, 1949.

BELLA DODD, in her book "School of Darkness" also noted that the TU has been known as Local 5 (American Federation of Teachers) of the American Federation of Labor and Local 555 (State, County, and Municipal Workers of America) (United Public Workers of America) of the CIO.

YOUNG SOCIALIST LEAGUE (YSL)

The national headquarters of the YSL is located at 114 West 14th Street, New York City.

The March 1, 1954, issue of the "Young Socialist Challenge," published as page 3 of "Labor Action," contained an article concerning the creation of the YSL, which pointed out that at a unity convention occurring February 12-14, 1954, at Labor Action Hall, New York City, a merger occurred between the Young People's Socialist League (YPSL) and the Socialist Youth League (SYL). The new organization was named the YSL.

On April 9, 1956, another confidential informant, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows: U

The YSL has frequently worked in close sympathetic cooperation with the ISL towards similar objectives, although each major issue given mutual consideration is decided upon by these organizations individually. The YSL serves as an apprenticeship for the ISL, but ISL selection of members from YSL ranks is made on an individual and personal basis.

according to the article, to offset a severe loss in membership and funds.

The March 2, 1957 issue of the Tri-State Defender contained a news article reflecting that JACKIE ROBINSON, former baseball star, was to speak in Memphis that evening on behalf of the NAACP annual membership drive.

The March 4, 1957 issue of the Press-Scimitar, a daily newspaper of general circulation in Memphis, reported on the above appearance of JACKIE ROBINSON at a Memphis NAACP meeting. The article reflected that there were 3000 people at the meeting at the Mason Temple in Memphis. The article indicated that Dr. J.E. WALKER, President of the Tri-State Bank of Memphis and Chairman of the Board of the Universal Life Insurance Company, Memphis, both allegedly owned and operated by Negroes, explained to those in attendance the lifetime NAACP memberships would cost $500. The article indicated that Dr. WALKER was one of four Memphis life members.

The article indicated that Lt. GEORGE W. LEE, "Republican Old Guard Leader" called on the Negroes of Memphis to use the ballot box to win their rights.

The article quoted JACKIE ROBINSON as urging the members to "do everything short of violence to obtain our rights as citizens." ROBINSON also noted there are 180,000 Negroes in Memphis and the goal of 5000 members in the NAACP was not very good.

After ROBINSON's speech, according to the above news article, Reverend ROY W. NORSWORTHY, Pastor of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Memphis, took over and organized a system whereby all filed past tables to contribute and that $4000 was raised.

The Memphis World, a semiweekly newspaper published in Memphis by and for the Negro people, in the March 6, 1957 issue, reported that in addition to the above, the following appeared on this program: Reverend HENRY C. BUNTON, Reverend S.A. OWEN, Bishop J. O. PATTERSON, and Attorney H.C. LOCKARD, Memphis NAACP President.

(e) The Memphis Commercial Appeal, a daily newspaper of general circulation published in Memphis, in the November 15, 1956 issue reported that Federal Judge WILLIAM E. MILLER had taken under advisement the Nashville School Board's proposal for gradual desegregation of city schools in Nashville. The article noted that the case was brought by the NAACP. The article reflected that Z. ALEXANDER LOOBY of Nashville is an attorney for the NAACP.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal in the December 23, 1956 issue reported that the Shelby County, Tennessee Delegation to the January 1957 State Legislature would propose legislation to require the NAACP to "bare its treasury sources and membership rolls in the state." The article indicated that the bill was expected to receive strong support throughout the state and would require the NAACP in order to do business in Tennessee to file a list of members, disclose sources of all revenue and appoint an agent for the service of process in each grand division of the state. The article indicated that although the proposed bill would be directed at the NAACP, that that organization would probably not be mentioned at the legislation.

The Commercial Appeal in the December 27, 1956 issue, in regard to the above matter, stated that Reverend J.F. GRIMMETT, President of the Tennessee Branch of the NAACP, "hoped enough good judgment and reason will prevail in the Legislature so that a fight won't be needed." The article stated that the NAACP, according to GRIMMETT, would meet in January to decide on a policy in this matter.

The January 23, 1957 issue of the Nashville Tennessean, a daily paper of general circulation published in Nashville, stated "the state president of NAACP termed grade-at-a-time desegregation 'procrastination' yesterday but said the organization has not decided if it will take further action in Nashville's school desegregation lawsuit." The article further stated that Reverend J.F.

GRIMMETT, Baptist Pastor of 1306 10th Avenue, N, Nashville, denied saying that the above decision "may be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court." The article also quoted Z. ALEXANDER LOOBY as stating he did not know whether or not the decision would be appealed.

The Commercial Appeal in the February 14, 1957 issue indicated that the Tennessee Legislature in Nashville was preparing to take action on two segregation bills, one of which it stated was aimed at the NAACP and would outlaw barratry, which it defined as stirring up litigation. The article indicated that any corporation convicted of the offense of barratry would be subject to a $10,000 fine and lawyers so convicted could be disbarred. It indicated that the other "anti-NAACP bill" was the one designed to force the organization to disclose its members and sources of revenue.

The Nashville Banner in the March 12, 1957 issue reported that Governor FRANK CLEMENT had signed the above anti-NAACP Bill.

C. OTHER BRANCHES IN SMALL TOWNS

The Jackson, Tennessee Sun, in the issues of October 19 and October 21, 1956, reported on the 10th Annual State Conference of the NAACP which began in Jackson on October 19, 1956. The articles noted that Reverend U. Z. McKINNON is President of the NAACP Chapter in Jackson. The article stated that delegates were in attendance from Alcoa, Memphis, Chattanooga, Clarksville, Jackson, Murfreesboro, Nashville and Knoxville, Tennessee. Rev. GRIMMETT, the State President, was quoted as urging the members to convince the pastors of their churches and then they could convince the members of the churches.

The Commercial Appeal in the October 20, 1956 issue, in discussing the above State Conference, reported that talks were made by JUANITA CUMMINGS, Reverend F. D. COLEMAN, J. S. MERRY, all of Jackson, Tennessee, and H. T. LOCKARD, Attorney and President of the Memphis Chapter.

The Memphis World, in the October 24, 1956 issue, quoted Reverend GRIMMETT at the above meeting as having stated it was the first conference to be held recently in West Tennessee, which he described as "the heart of prejudice, the most troubled area in the state."

The Clarksdale, Mississippi Press Register, a daily paper published in Clarksdale, in the January 21, 1957 issue, reported on a meeting of the Coahoma County Branch of the NAACP held on January 20, 1957 at the Haven Methodist Church in Clarksdale. The article reported that the meeting was attended by about 275 people, and that seventy-four members paid dues for the coming year, and that an offering of $200 was made to the NAACP. It further reported that persons who feel economic pressure because of their membership could contribute financially without having their names placed on the Association's rolls. The article quote AARON HENRY, the re-elected President of the County Branch, as stating the NAACP was the only solvent organization which he knew of that wanted to go out of business, which it would do according to HENRY, "when the Negroes get their freedom."

II. OFFICERS

The Memphis World, in the December 1, 1956 issue, reported that the officers of the Memphis Branch of the NAACP were re-elected, they being as follows:

H. T. LOCKARD, Attorney, President; Reverend D. S. CUNNINGHAM, Vice President; Reverend ALEXANDER GLADNEY, Second Vice President; Miss ELSIE VAUGHN, Secretary; J. C. STAFFORD, Treasurer; and the Reverend F. T. STEWARD, Chaplain.

The article also indicated that EDGAR DAVIS, a member of the board, was present at the time of the election held at the Mt. Olive Cathedral in Memphis on Sunday, November 25, 1956.

"The Washington Post and Times Herald," a Washington daily newspaper issue of December 7, 1956, carried an article "Montgomery's Patience Praised by Boycott Chief". This article contains background information regarding Reverend KING. It reflects that he had arrived at Howard University for a one day participation in Religious Emphasis Week. He was reported to have stated; that it was a compliment to the "white community" that there has been practically no violence during the bus boycott; that the new Negro lacks the fear he once had; that "the tension in the South is the birth pains of a new social order" and is a necessary phase; that a new order of justice, freedom and first-class citizenship for the Negro is inevitable; that the "shock period" would be over in ten years and segregation would crumble fast and that a side effect is that "Negroes are killing and cutting fewer Negroes now."

This article reflected that this speech was sponsored by the District Branch of the NAACP.

Regarding the National Progressive Party, it is noted that the National Committee, CP, USA, in issuing its final text of the "Resolution Growing Out of the Presidential Elections" in "Political Affairs," issue of July, 1953, states in substance that in 1948 the CP helped stimulate the formation of the Progressive Party and correctly supported the Progressive Party through the 1952 elections. It then states:

"However, the mistake our Party made was to confuse this task with the historic task of forming a new mass party of the people. As a consequence, there existed the wrong estimate that the formation of the Progressive Party represented something more than the simple emergence of an important fighting force for peace; that it represented the emergence of a great mass people's Party."

As a result of this reasoning, the resolution concludes that the "Progressive Party, the CP and other progressive forces" must unite in a broad, mass-front coalition.

Concerning "Political Affairs," mentioned above, ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, a convicted CP functionary, testifying in the case "US vs Elizabeth Gurley Flynn et al.," on October 20, 1952, stated that "Political Affairs" has been the theoretical organ of the CP since the publication's beginning in 1945.

OHIO BILL OF RIGHTS CONFERENCE (OBRC)

The December, 1950, issue of "Your Rights," a publication of OBRC, indicates in the masthead that the OBRC is an affiliate of the Civil Rights Congress (CRC).

The CRC has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The pretext inquiry regarding NATHANIEL C. LEE as current President of the Youngstown, Ohio, NAACP Chapter was a telephone call to the Cleveland Chapter of the NAACP by SA [REDACTED] b7C
The pretext was [REDACTED] b7E

In setting forth the members and officers of the NAACP in this report, they were characterized as to their CP affiliation only when there was evidence of CP membership or substantial information indicating CP membership.

It is noted that many of the officers and members of this organization are civic leaders, professional men, ministers, politicians, labor leaders and people generally active in Negro affairs. The Cleveland files indicate that the CP has from time to time attempted to influence these people, to secure their support and in several instances supported these individuals in political campaigns. Some co-operated to a limited extent on issues such as cost of living conferences, peace mobilizations, political campaigns, etc., apparently because they were popular issues or because they thought it was to their personal advantage to do so. Several of these individuals, although co-operative at one time, were subsequently reported to be opposed to the CP or communism.

For example the files indicate that some of these persons have been on CP mailing lists, the names of some have appeared on CP petitions for public office; some participated to a limited extent in Progressive Party affairs; in 1944, two prominent Negroes participated in panel discussions on Negro History at the Ohio School for Social Science which has been cited by the Attorney General; several were active in the National Lawyers Guild in past years; one, CHARLES H. LOEB, a Republican candidate for United States Congressman in 1956, solicited and accepted CP support in his political campaign; some participated to a limited extent in the National Negro Congress; several attended public gatherings, such as the ones where ANITA LOUISE STRONG and PAUL ROBESON spoke; and a few were listed as subscribers to the "Daily Worker" in the early 1940's.

None of the persons in the above categories were ever identified as members of the CP, except for  b7c

 In no instance was the CP or CP front activity of these individuals such as to warrant concluding that their membership in the NAACP constituted evidence of CP infiltration of that organization.

Careful consideration has been given to the sources concealed and T-symbols were utilized in this report only in those instances where the identity of the sources must be concealed.

A general meeting of the Seattle Branch was scheduled to be held at the Eastside YMCA on the evening of April 22, 1957, at which time there was to be a panel discussion of a newly-enacted Washington State civil rights bill.

"Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer", 4/22/57, page 16, column 4.

A rally on the evening of May 16, 1957, at the Eastside YWCA was scheduled under the sponsorship of the Seattle Branch. This rally was to be a prayer session in support of the nation-wide Prayer Pilgrimage convening at Washington, D. C., on May 17, 1957. A petition urging President EISENHOWER to support civil rights legislation and asking Washington State congressional delegates to vote for such legislation was to be circulated at this meeting.

"Kennewick, Wash.--Chapters of the Natl. Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in the Northwest have joined with the youth in this tri-city area in the fight against the racial discrimination policies of the Kennewick Social Club.

"The matter became a hot public issue when club officials sought to impose its racial restrictions on the Hi-Teen Club's weekly public dances. Negro high school students were turned away and leaders of the Teenage Council promptly launched a petition campaign asking that racial discrimination be stopped.

"JAMES McIVER, Seattle attorney and chairman of the NAACP's Northwest Legal Redress Committee, has sent letters to interested parties saying that every Negro youth discriminated against has a 'cause of action' against the Social Club. He urged the club officials to work with the Tri-City NAACP and the Human relations Council to end all cause for complaint."

HO 100-9032

The Houston Post, daily newspaper, Houston, Texas, carried article on May 9, 1957, which read in part as follows regarding NAACP:

"A state district court judge Wednesday placed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People under a permanent injunction which in effect strictly defined the terms under which the organization can operate in Texas.

"The permanent injunction issued by District Judge OTIS T. DUNAGAN barred the NAACP from:

- "1. Practicing law in Texas.
2. Encouraging, instigating or financing lawsuits in which it does not have a direct interest.
3. Soliciting or having others solicit lawsuits.
4. Engaging in political or lobbying activities in violation of state laws.

"JUDGE DUNAGAN also ordered the NAACP, chartered in New York to pay a franchise tax which the state alleged it owed because it was a foreign corporation. And he directed it to keep open its books for inspection by the attorney general's office or state auditor.

"He directed the NAACP to pay all accrued franchise taxes plus interest and penalties within 30 days after the amount due the state is determined, or forfeit its right to do business in Texas.

"Texas levies a franchise tax on all corporations doing business in the state according to their size and their gross yearly income.

"Assistant Atty Gen DAVIS GRANT said the NAACP had not filed any reports with the state since it was chartered and there was no way of estimating the tax until the NAACP filed its reports.

"In preliminary arguments the state had estimated the figure at a minimum of $900."

[REDACTED] stated that since the conclusion of the hearing in state court several weeks ago regarding the right of the NAACP to operate in Texas, and the resulting permanent injunction which put certain limitations on the organization, the NAACP has proceeded very slowly toward reactivation. [REDACTED] said apparently the membership of NAACP is waiting to see what is the public reaction to the limiting injunction.

[REDACTED] has gained the impression that NAACP will take steps to regain confidence of the old membership through local preachers and churches wherever possible. [REDACTED] mentioned that even in bygone years the active membership of NAACP would have only constituted about 3% of the total membership. [REDACTED] felt this 3% would endeavor to formulate a program wherein membership in the organization would appear attractive to the old inactive members. [REDACTED] expressed the opinion that active solicitation of new members would not take place in the near future.

[REDACTED] indicated that as result of the great amount of publicity given the hearings pertaining to the status of NAACP in Texas, it was not likely that NAACP leaders would be inclined to permit incidents to occur whereby the NAACP may be associated in the minds of the public as well as the membership with such organizations as the Communist Party in Texas.

		CHARACTER OF CASE  INTERNAL SECURITY - C

SYNOPSIS:

A permanent injunction was issued against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) by a State District Court, Tyler, Texas, on 5/8/57. This injunction did not outlaw the NAACP, but enjoined this organization from the practice of law, engaging in political activities, lobbying, soliciting law suits and hiring litigants to maintain and prosecute law suits. The NAACP was ordered to pay all accrued franchise taxes, plus interest and penalties within 30 days after the amount due the state is determined.

The "Dallas Star Post," a Negro newspaper published in Dallas, Texas, in the issue of May 9, 1957, reflected that on September 20, 1956, JOHN BEN SHEPPERD, Texas Attorney General, filed a suit against the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in the 7th Judicial District Court at Tyler, Texas, to prohibit the NAACP from further engaging in its legal business affairs in Texas. Acting upon these claims this newspaper stated, the former Attorney General, JOHN BEN SHEPPERD, claimed that the NAACP had violated the laws of this state, whereupon Judge OTIS DUNAGAN issued a temporary restraining order against the NAACP, and later enlarged the restraining order into a temporary injunction. The effect of this was to tie up the affairs of the NAACP in the state, and close all of its branch offices for an indefinite period. The ultimate purpose of the suit was to drive the NAACP out of the state for good, this paper indicated.

The paper continued that in the original suit, the state asked among other things, that the court issue a declaratory judgment in which it would properly interpret the laws of Texas with respect to the NAACP and its rights to continue to carry on its business in the state. It was the request by the state that gave rise to the permanent injunction issued by the court.

The paper continued that in its injunction, the court directed the NAACP to refrain from the following:

1. Engaging in the practice of law
2. That it may not for its own benefit or with the intent to distress or harass the defendant, willfully institute or encourage the bringing of law suits in violation of the laws of the state
3. That the NAACP may not solicit law suits for filing and it may not solicit persons to file law suits in Texas
4. That it may not hire or pay anyone to file a law suit in Texas
5. That it may not engage in political activities in the state contrary to the laws of the state, and
6. It may not engage in lobbying activities contrary to the laws of the state.

This newspaper stated that no corporation, either the NAACP or any other corporation may lawfully engage in the practice of law in Texas. It further stated that no corporation may lawfully do any of these things listed above and from which the NAACP is restrained from doing; therefore, the newspaper continued, all the NAACP has been enjoined from doing are things which it may not do lawfully anyway. So, the NAACP has lost no right as a corporation that it had before the suit was filed. These things were unlawful before the suit was filed, and they are unlawful now. The NAACP contends that it has never engaged in these activities in the past, and that it will not engage in them in the future, this paper stated. The paper concluded, therefore, that the NAACP had lost nothing in this suit.

DL 100-5257

Attorneys W. J. DURHAM and C. B. BUNKLEY, JR., who represented the NAACP in this suit, were quoted by the paper as having said that they could see no justifiable reason for an appeal from the ruling of the Tyler court because nothing had been lost by the decree. The NAACP is back in business, these attorneys were quoted as saying, and it is permitted to do all that it has ever done in the past. If the NAACP has engaged in any of the prohibited activities, it was wrong in doing so, this paper stated, but the long history of the NAACP supports the contention that the NAACP always operated within the framework of the law. If this be so, the newspaper reflected, "and it appears that it is so, then the NAACP has lost nothing as a result of the suit." The court held as a matter of law that the NAACP is a non-profit making organization and that as such, it is not permitted by law to have a permit to do business in the state. This is a direct rejection of the state's contention that the NAACP is a profit-making organization and was, therefore, subject to strict corporate control by the state, this newspaper said.

The "Dallas Morning News," Dallas, Texas, dated May 9, 1957, reflected that District Judge DUNAGAN on May 8, 1957, had issued a permanent injunction order against the NAACP in Texas, and all of its affiliated organizations. The order does not mean that the NAACP is completely outlawed, this article stated; however, it points out that the defendant organizations have no lawful rights under the laws of Texas, and are permanently enjoined from:

1. Engaging in the practice of law or financing a suit in which they have no direct interest.
2. Engaging in political activities or in lobbying activities contrary to the state laws.
3. Soliciting law suits, either directly or indirectly.
4. Hiring or paying any litigants to present, maintain or prosecute a law suit.

Judge DUNAGAN held that the Texas State Conference of Branches and the Southwest Regional Conference of the NAACP and the 111 individual branches named in the suit are integral parts of the parent organization, and subject to its direction and control.

The order also held that the NAACP which has done business in Texas since 1915, according to this newspaper, is a non-profit making organization, and as such, is not required to obtain a state permit but "under the law is required to file franchise tax reports or returns and to pay franchise taxes for the privilege of operating as a corporation." The NAACP was ordered to pay all accrued franchise taxes plus interest and penalties within 30 days after the amount due the state is determined. Failure to comply will mean the forfeiture of the right to do business in Texas. There is the further stipulation that all NAACP branches permit an examination of their books, records and accounts upon written request from the Attorney General's office. The court decreed that the NAACP's Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., one of the defendants, is now completely divorced from the parent organization, but subject to the same restrictions. The NAACP, according to this newspaper, promptly filed notice of appeal when this court order was handed down. All activities of the NAACP were halted last fall by a temporary injunction and the trial just ended was, according to the newspaper, to determine whether the injunction was to be made permanent. The court made it clear that the NAACP could continue to function in Texas as long as it complies with the laws of Texas and the terms of this injunction.

June 25th Session

An article appearing on page 6, column one, of the June 25, 1957, 5 Star Final of the "Detroit News," a daily newspaper of general circulation in Detroit, captioned "NAACP Hits Congress as Laggard" states that ROY WILKINS, NAACP Executive Secretary, claimed that Congress is the chief laggard in the fight for civil rights, at the opening of the formal sessions of the NAACP Convention in the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit on 6/25/57. WILKINS is also reported in the article as stating that the CP has "failed again and again" to win support of the Negroes. The article continues quoting WILKINS "The Negro American has no sympathy for Communism whatsoever. No more than 2,000 Negroes ever were claimed by the Communists themselves. When you have some 16,000,000 Negroes in America, badgered and harrassed as they are, it is a miracle that more have not turned to Communism." WILKINS is also quoted in the above article as stating that of the NAACP's 350,000 members, "There may be some fellow travelers and sympathizers, but no known Communists in the organization."

This article stated that the June 25, 1957, sessions were devoted largely to routine organizational matters.

June 26th Session

An article appears on page 34, column one of the June 27, 1957, Red Line Edition of the "Detroit Times," a daily newspaper of general circulation in Detroit, captioned "Reuther Lashes Civil Rights Lag in Congress." The article states that a mass meeting of approximately 2,500 persons on June 26, 1957, at the NAACP Convention, heard WALTER REUTHER, President of the UAW, and JOSEPH L. RAUH, JR., National Chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action. In his speech, Mr. REUTHER is reported to have criticized Senator EASTLAND of Mississippi for consistently blocking civil rights legislation. REUTHER is quoted as stating "EASTLAND doesn't know anything about Communists. We (the UAW, ADA, and NAACP) do more in one week to combat Communism than these people do in a lifetime."

The above article mentions that JOSEPH L. RAUH, JR. of Americans for Democratic Action who preceded Mr. REUTHER on the stand outlined a 4-point program to supplement the NAACP's legal fight for survival in the south and called on the President, the Vice-President, the Justice Department, and all national organizations believing in civil rights, for support.

June 27th Session

The Metro-Final Edition of the "Detroit Free Press," a daily newspaper of general circulation in Detroit, on June 28, 1957, page 3, column 8, carried an article entitled "NAACP Criticizes Banks for Home-Loan Squeeze." The article states that 2 major questions - housing and the Senate filibuster - occupied the 4th session of the NAACP Convention on Thursday, June 27, 1957. The question of housing was stimulated by a report from MADISON JONES, Special Assistant for Housing for the NAACP. The question of the filibuster arose upon receipt of a telegram from Senator CHARLES POTTER of Michigan, advising the convention that he was urging the Senate to change Rule 22 before the Civil Rights Bill is taken up on the floor. ROY WILKINS, Executive Secretary of the NAACP, is reported in this article to have stated that the change in the Senate rules to prevent filibuster is one of the Convention's major aims.

June 28th Session

The Metro-Final Edition of the "Detroit Free Press" on June 29, 1957, page 3, column 3, in an article entitled "NAACP Honors Boycott Leader" states that 3,000 people filled the Ford Auditorium at 7:45 p.m. on Friday night, June 28, 1957, to see the NAACP honor Reverend Doctor MARTIN LUTHER KING of Montgomery, Alabama, with the coveted Spingarn Medal. The article states that this medal was presented to Reverend KING by the Right Reverend RICHARD S. EMRICH, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. This medal was presented to Reverend KING for his leadership in the desegregation fight in Montgomery, Alabama.

The above article also reported that Representative CHARLES C. DIGGS, JR. spoke at this meeting and paid tribute to Vice-President NIXON for fostering friendship for America during his recent trip through Africa and for his fight to bring the Civil Rights Bill to the floor of the Senate.

June 29, 1957 Session

The June 30, 1957, edition of the "Detroit Free Press", section A, page 2, columns one and two, carried an article captioned "NAACP to Fight Civil Rights Foes," which stated that the adoption of a strong program for political action, particularly with regard to civil rights legislation, highlighted the final business session of the NAACP Convention on Saturday, June 29. The article continued that the major portion of the final session was devoted to passage of resolutions. The political action resolution was stated to have received unanimous approval.

The above article continues, "A dramatic moment occurred when Dr. H. CLAUDE HUDSON, reading the convention's resolution against Communism, collapsed and had to be led from the auditorium in the Veterans Memorial Building." The resolution Dr. HUDSON was reading hit at the CP's new line of infiltration into non-Communist organizations.

June 30th Session

The July 1, 1957, Metro-Final Edition of the "Detroit Free Press," page 3, column 7, carried an article captioned "Laws Alone Not Enough, NAACP Told." This article reports that 3 men, THURGOOD MARSHALL, JACKIE ROBINSON, and ROY WILKINS, addressed the nearly 15,000 persons attending the final session of the NAACP Convention on Sunday, June 30, at the Olympia in Detroit.

THURGOOD MARSHALL, in his address, touched on the school desegregation problem and on restrictive covenants in housing. ROY WILKINS was reported as asking for "White House" assistance in the present "desegregation crisis."

JACKIE ROBINSON, described as the first Negro to penetrate the color bar in major league baseball, pleaded for greater financial support to the NAACP.
