THIS CASE ORIGINATED AT: Indianapolis, Indiana — FILE NO: 61-35

REPORT MADE AT: Indianapolis, Indiana — DATE WHEN MADE: 3/3/43 — PERIOD FOR WHICH MADE: — REPORT MADE BY: EVANS L. CHAPPLE

TITLE: [illegible] EDWARDS; [illegible] ALLEN, Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Co., Shipbuilding Division, Evansville, Indiana.

CHARACTER OF CASE: FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

EDWARDS employed as chief photographer for Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Co., Evansville, Ind. In spring of 1942 he suggested that certain projection equipment was needed by the company and that he knew where some could be obtained. Bids were submitted by various companies among which was a bid by ROY A. ALLEN, New Albany, Ind. for the sum of $410. EDWARDS authorized to purchase equipment best suited for needs of said company, and he selected equipment offered by ALLEN although his bid was not the lowest. Purchase from ALLEN was made through purchase order #3869 dated 6/22/42 certified and approved by U. S. Navy Inspector 8/31/42. ALLEN received $410 from Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Co. 8/26/42 for said equipment and said company was later reimbursed by the U. S. government. Said company is building ships for the U. S. Navy under a cost plus fixed fee contract. EDWARDS, however, was original purchaser of instant equipment for his use on 6/25/40 paying $400 for same. EDWARDS and ALLEN former business associates at New Albany, Ind.

This investigation is based upon information received from Lieutenant J. A. [illegible] in charge of the Naval Section, Division of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company, Shipbuilding Division, Evansville, Indiana, to the effect that EDWARDS had sponsored a purchase of projection equipment from subject ALLEN resulting, in his opinion, in a fraud against the United States government.

AT EVANSVILLE, INDIANA

Lieutenant J. L. PRUSE advised that FRANK ALLYN EDWARDS had been employed by the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company at Evansville for about one and one-half years as chief photographer and in such capacity has the privilege of suggesting the purchase of necessary equipment which would best meet the needs of said company. It was in the spring of 1942 that EDWARDS suggested to the said company that they needed some projection equipment in order to best carry out work there at the shipyards and that he knew where he could buy the necessary equipment. As a result of this suggestion a request for bids was made from various companies selling projection equipment and among the bids was one received from ROY A. ALLEN, New Albany, Indiana. Other bids were received from the Walden, Inc., Evansville, Indiana; The Ampro Corporation, Chicago, Illinois; The Victor Animatograph Corporation, Davenport, Iowa; and The DeVry Corporation, Chicago, Illinois; and Smith and Butterfield, Evansville, Indiana.

Lieutenant PRUSE then went on to say that EDWARDS was given the authority to inspect the equipment offered by the bidders and to decide in his own opinion which equipment would best meet the needs of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company; that EDWARDS did go over the bids and inspect the equipment and suggested that the projection outfit submitted by ROY A. ALLEN at New Albany, Indiana, would be the equipment which would best meet the needs of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company; that the outfit would cost more than $500 new and that the bid of $410 as offered by ALLEN was very reasonable and he recommended the purchase of the equipment offered for sale by ALLEN.

The purchase order of the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company, Shipbuilding Division #3369 executed June 29, 1942, authorized the purchase of the equipment from ROY A. ALLEN and on June 30, 1942, J. M. PERRY, cost inspector for the United States Navy, certified and authorized the purchase of this equipment. The equipment was then obtained from ROY ALLEN, and he received a check for same in the amount of $410 on August 26, 1942.

Lieutenant PRUSE further stated that the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company was later reimbursed by the United States government for the purchase of said equipment inasmuch as this equipment was to be used in the carrying out of the work which this company was doing for the United States Navy at the shipyards. Lieutenant PRUSE also stated that the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company is working under a cost plus fixed fee contract with the United States government in the building of ships for the United States Navy.

An examination of the bids submitted by the various companies according to Lieutenant PRUSE, disclosed that the bid of ROY ALLEN was not the lowest one. However, he went on to explain that he does not always purchase equipment submitted by the lowest bidder if it appears that the higher-priced equipment will best meet their needs.

NW#:55839 DocId:33004761

Because of having some question as to the integrity of EDWARDS Lieutenant PRUSE advised that he made some investigation into this matter and found that the equipment which was sold to the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company for the United States government was the same equipment sold to FRANK EDWARDS on May 25, 1940, by the Holmes Company, 1815 Orchard Street, Chicago, Illinois, for the wholesale price of $277, retail price being $410. Lt. PRUSE stated that he received this information directly from Mr. HOLMES.

The equipment obtained by EDWARDS from the Holmes Company for the sum of $277 is as follows:

1 16 mm. Holmes Sound Movie Projector
1 High-Fidelity Amplifier
1 100-ft. Speaker Cord

The equipment purchased from ROY A. ALLEN for the sum of $410 is as follows:

1 16 mm. Holmes Sound Moving Picture Projector
1 High-Fidelity Amplifier
1 100-ft. Speaker Cord
1 Jensen Heavy-duty Dynamic Speaker
1 Case for Amplifier and Speaker
1 Electric Phonograph Turntable with Pick-up Arm
1 Craig Splicing Outfit.

According to Lt. PRUSE, the last four items were valued as follows:

1 Jensen Heavy-duty Dynamic Speaker	$55
1 Case for Amplifier and Speaker	6
1 Electric Phonograph Turntable with Pickup Arm	30
1 Craig Splicing Outfit	15

Lt. PRUSE then went on to say that he has obtained information to the effect that EDWARDS and ALLEN were formerly business associates in New Albany, Indiana, and that they possibly were together at the time EDWARDS originally purchased instant equipment.

Lt. PRUSE further disclosed from EDWARDS' application for employment with said shipyards that EDWARDS did name as the supervisor or person best acquainted with his work, ROY ALLEN, New Albany, Indiana. Records maintained by Lt. PRUSE disclose that ROY A. ALLEN resides at 217 East Spring Street, New Albany, Indiana. Lt. PRUSE advised that upon becoming acquainted with the irregularities in the purchase of said projection equipment from ROY ALLEN through the recommendation of FRANK EDWARDS he by letter written sometime in January, 1943, revoked the approval of the purchase order #3369 dated June 28, 1942.

He stated that although [redacted] had been paid by the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company and the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company had been reimbursed by the United States government for the purchase of said equipment, Lieutenant PEUSE, planned to deduct the sum of $410.00 from the amount of money which would be next due the Missouri Valley Bridge & Iron Company.

The records of Lieutenant PEUSE disclosed the following description of [redacted] EDWARDS:

Age	33 (Born Mattoon, Illinois, 8/4/[redacted])

Under date of April 21, 1943 United States Attorney E. HOWARD CAUGHRAN of the Southern District of Indiana, Indianapolis, advised this office by letter that, in accordance with a letter received by him under date of April 5, 1943 from Honorable WENDELL BERGE, Assistant Attorney-General, he was making request of this office to interview the two subjects in this case regarding the charges contained in the reference report.

At Evansville, Indiana.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent EVANS L. CHAPPLE on May 10, 1943. Confidential Informant T-1 advised that subject EDWARDS at the present time was a member of the Publicity Staff for the War Bond Drive in the State of Indiana, working out of Indianapolis. Informant believed that EDWARDS could be contacted either at the Warren Hotel, Indianapolis, or through HOWARD TOOLEY, Special Events Director, War Bond Drive, Illinois Building, Indianapolis.

At New Albany, Indiana.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent GEORGE R. FLETCHER on May 14, 1943. THOMAS G. JACKSON, United States Commissioner for the Southern District of Indiana at New Albany, Indiana, advised that he personally knew both subjects, stating that they formerly were in radio promotion and carnival publicity activities in the New Albany area. EDWARDS' local address was 1515 East Main Street, New Albany and the address of ALLEN's father was 2017 East Spring Street, New Albany. After making a check Informant advised that subject ALLEN was presently residing at 434 North Oakland Drive, Beverly Hills, California and that EDWARDS was presently engaged in the operation of an advertising concession at Broadripple Amusement Park, Indianapolis, and was reported to be residing at 4349 Carrollton Avenue, Indianapolis.

At Indianapolis, Indiana.

HOWARD TOOLEY, Special Events Director, Indiana War Bond Drive, 916 Illinois Building, Indianapolis, advised that subject EDWARDS had been engaged in publicity matters for the drive for a period of several weeks prior to May 1, 1943 but had quit the work as a result of a disagreement between subject EDWARDS and other members of the staff. He advised that he did not know EDWARDS' present whereabouts, but recalled a comment to the effect that EDWARDS was in some way connected with Broadripple Amusement Park.

EVERETT DeBOIS, Manager of Broadripple Amusement Park, Indianapolis, advised that he knew EDWARDS through the latter's contacting him during the months of April and May 1943 regarding the opening of Broadripple Park. EDWARDS, according to Informant, had grandiose schemes for the making of a fortune through operation of park concessions which had been closed for several years and still are.

EDWARDS unsuccessfully attempted to get the owner of the park, OSCAR BAIR of the Terre Haute Brewing Company, Terre Haute, Indiana, to invest money in revamping the concessions. After giving up this project EDWARDS attempted to get a job as announcer or publicity agent for radio station WIBC, Indianapolis, which Informant understood was also without success. Informant advised that he had not seen EDWARDS since June 1, 1943, but that he had been residing at 4349 Carrollton Avenue during his negotiations at Broadripple Park.

Indpls.

Mrs. MARY E. HARLEY, 4343 Carrollton Avenue, Indianapolis, advised that subject EDWARDS had been renting a room at her home for eight to nine weeks prior to June 20, 1943, having left on the latter date and gave his forwarding address as 434 North Cadmoret, Beverly Hills, California. He stated that he was going to California to contact a friend and obtain a position in the motion picture industry in which industry he claimed to have had previous employment several years ago.

Mrs. HARLEY knew of no other activities of the subject other than his efforts to open Broadripple Park and also to obtain a job at radio station WIBC.

It is noted that the address left by subject EDWARDS is apparently the same as that obtained as the present address for subject ALLEN.

B. F. KEITH, Managing Director, Radio Station WIBC, 350 North Meridian Street, Indianapolis, informed that subject EDWARDS had on several occasions prior to June 10 or 15, 1943 attempted to obtain a position with station WIBC as publicity director and radio announcer and entertainer without success. KEITH stated that he had last seen EDWARDS during the first part of June 1943 and at that time EDWARDS told him he was engaged in opening the Broadripple Amusement Park.

Informant had no idea as to his present whereabouts and advised that if he discovered where EDWARDS was presently residing he would advise the Indianapolis Field Division immediately.

Confidential Informant T-2 advised that subject EDWARDS had moved from 4349 Carrollton Avenue on or before June 26, 1943 and had left no forwarding address.

EDWARDS had made a trip to Los Angeles in the early part of 1942 and had borrowed $200.00 from ALLEN and upon returning from Los Angeles, when he, EDWARDS, was unable to repay the $200.00, he had given subject ALLEN his one half interest in the projector and equipment. Continuing, ALLEN related that after returning from Los Angeles subject EDWARDS secured employment with the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company and shortly thereafter advised him that the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company desired to purchase a projector for use in teaching the employees of their company. In this connection, subject ALLEN states that subject EDWARDS picked up the projector and took it to the place of business of Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company, where it was used for about a month. He relates that when subject ALLEN asked what he would take for the projector and equipment, he advised that he wanted $410.00; that shortly thereafter he received a check from the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company, in the amount of $410.00, which was in payment for the projector and accessories. This check was deposited, according to ALLEN, in his account at the bank located in Clearfield, Utah. He denies that any of the $[illegible].00 was given to subject EDWARDS.

Subject ALLEN advised that as nearly as he can recall, the original purchase price of the projector and equipment was $350.00; that the selling price of $[illegible].00 was believed to be reasonable by him because he was advised that Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company were unable to obtain equipment elsewhere. Subject ALLEN concluded by advising that he and subject EDWARDS had been in business together in New Albany, Indiana from about 1938 until the early part of 1942, when their business relationship was discontinued prior to subject EDWARDS' trip to Los Angeles.

The following is a report of a joint investigation of the writer and Special Agent WILLIAM H. CRASE.

On October 26, 1943, subject EDWARDS was interviewed and advised that in regard to the instant equipment, he and ALLEN had bought the equipment new from the Indies Company as a partnership purchase, using this equipment as part of an advertising scheme in public parks in Jeffersonville and New Albany, Indiana. EDWARDS advised that ALLEN had account $160.00 in the deal and that he had paid for the remainder.

He said, however, that at one time or another he had borrowed considerable money from ALLEN and that some time in 1942, he did not know exactly when, being short of cash he had given his share in the equipment to ALLEN and ALLEN had accepted that as part payment of the debt.

EDWARDS advised that at the time the equipment was being bought by the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company, he had recommended a Holmes projector because it was his honest belief that it was the best type of projector available for the type of work desired. He added that a real attempt was made to purchase a new Holmes projector. However, it was learned that new equipment was not available from the Holmes Company, and consequently EDWARDS said that he wrote to ALLEN asking whether the equipment was for sale. He received a letter from ALLEN saying that if EDWARDS really needed it, he would sell it to him.

EDWARDS emphatically denied that there had been any collusion between him and ALLEN and stated that ALLEN was not particularly anxious to sell the equipment but did so merely as a favor to EDWARDS.

On December 3, 1943, this case was again discussed with United States Attorney E. EDWARD CAUGHRAN, who advised that he would decline prosecution inasmuch as there was too little difference between the prices charged the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Company for the equipment and the amount of money invested in the equipment originally and also that there was no evidence of collusion between EDWARD and ALLEN.
