Reference Chicago teletype to the Bureau dated 6/12/87, and Pittsburgh teletype to Bureau dated 6/15/87.

Enclosed for the Bureau is one copy each of four FD-302's dated 11/22/76, in conjunction with Philadelphia file 9-4183; copies of aforementioned FD-302's are also enclosed for the New York Division for informational purposes.

Referenced Chicago teletype set forth information regarding a situation pertaining to Penn State Head Football Coach JOE PATERNO, having been in receipt of several threatening type letters over the years, which originated in Pittsburgh. A review of Pittsburgh Division indices indicates that investigation has been conducted in this matter. The following file numbers pertain to such investigation: Bureau file 9-62262, Pittsburgh file 9A-2900, and Philadelphia file 9-4183. Pittsburgh Division file 9A-2900 is entitled "UNSUB; UNIDENTIFIED MEMBER OF FAMILY, STAFF OR SQUAD OF COACH JOE PATERNO, PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY, ET AL-VICTIMS; EXTORTION OO: PITTSBURGH." Investigation in this matter was initiated in 1976 after a number of threatening type letters were received by Penn State Head Football Coach JOE PATERNO, a number of members of his staff and then current Penn State [redacted] Another anonymous threatening letter postmarked Pittsburgh, PA, 152, dated 11/4/80, was received by a television commentator for Penn State football. This letter contained a threat to Coach JOE PATERNO or one of his family members within the next three months. Aforementioned 11/4/80, letter was regarded as apparently being related to aforementioned threats being received by the family, staff and squad of Coach JOE PATERNO dating back to October, 1976.

During the aforementioned investigation involving Coach PATERNO, numerous individuals were considered as suspects; however, a comparison of fingerprints with those developed on the threatening letters were made with negative results. In the threatening letters in the PATERNO case, the writer made reference to the fact that his son had attended Penn State University at a time approximately 1976 and had received a "raw" deal from Coach PATERNO. Ther writer made reference to the fact that his son had quit Penn State after ^{two} years and "went to the dogs" and that his wife (writer's) had died, all of which was attributed to PATERNO and the mistreatment of his son. All letters directed to recipients have been postmarked "Pittsburgh, PA, 152."

During the investigative period, investigative emphasis was directed toward former Penn State football players who played for PATERNO in the past and had dropped out of the program because of hard feelings. PG file 9A-2900 was closed on 11/18/81, after investigation provided no positive results.

Although Pittsburgh notes obvious dissimilarities in the subject matter of the letters and the targets involved, an "eyeball" review of the handwriting involved in the correspondence in enclosed FD-302's (especially the envelopes) does show some similarity to the handwriting utilized in captioned matter.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

FBI, LABORATORY, DOCUMENT SECTION

The Laboratory is requested to compare the handwriting in submitted specimens with the handwriting in the previously submitted letter involved in captioned matter for possible determination as to whether they were prepared by the same writer. Specimens submitted by Pittsburgh are copies of the original correspondence; originals should be maintained by the Philadelphia Division if needed. The Laboratory is requested to provide results of such examinations to recipient offices. As noted above, previous Document Section analysis of enclosed material was undertaken in connection with Bureau file number 9-2262.

[REDACTED] JOHN T. WHITE;
~~Character:~~ ROBERT W. PHILLIPS; JOHN R. CHUCKRAN - VICTIMS

Character: EXTORTION

Synopsis:

On 11/3/76, JOSEPH V. PATERNO, Head Football Coach, Pennsylvania State University (PSU), University Park, Pa., advised he received anonymous handwritten letter postmarked 10/30/76, Pittsburgh, Pa., threatening him, his family, his staff and his squad if he did not leave PSU by 1/1/77. Letter signed, "A Very Bitter Father." AUSA, MDPA, Lewisburg, Pa., stated letter in violation of USC, Title 18, Section 876, and he would authorize prosecution if subject is identified and sufficient evidence is secured. PATERNO provided name of [REDACTED] as suspect. [REDACTED] received letter 11/12/76 bearing 11/10/76 Pittsburgh, Pa., postmark. Letter stated it would be a shame if [REDACTED] mother were to meet with a tragic accident because of PATERNO. Also stated writer was out to get PATERNO and would go to all extremes to do it. Again, signed, "A Very Bitter Father." PATERNO of opinion gamblers may be attempting to affect his team for point-spreading purposes. On 11/17/76, FBI Laboratory advised that writing on envelopes and above two letters prepared by same person. Signature of [REDACTED] obtained by subpoena and submitted to Laboratory for comparison was insufficient to determine if identical. On 11/17/76, PATERNO [REDACTED] [REDACTED] received printed additional letters. Also receiving handwritten letters were assistant coaches JOHN T. WHITE, ROBERT W. PHILLIPS and JOHN R. CHUCKRAN. Investigation at [REDACTED] determined he is medically retired and is a "man's man," who is not violent and who would not do such a thing anonymously. On 11/24/76 at

JOSEPH V. PATERNO, Head Football Coach, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa., was contacted in his office where he furnished the following information:

On or about November 2, 1976, he had received a letter in the mail which bore the postmark "Pittsburgh, Pa. 152, 10/30/76", which contained the following information:

"Coach PATERNO:

"No doubt you will read this and say to yourself I am some 'nut' and throw it away. I debated for a long time about writing you and how I feel and what I plan on doing about it.

"I feel you are responsible for me loosing my son. He went to Penn. State because of you in the first place. He feels he got a bum deal and I agree with him. He lost interest in everything and went from bad to worse. That is the reason I say you are responsible for me loosing a son.

"I want you to feel the same way I do, broken hearted because you lost someone close to you. If you do not leave Penn State by Jan. 1st then some member of your staff-squad or family will be the one to go. JOSEPH V. PATERNO, Head Football Coach, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa. was contacted in his office where he furnished the following information:

He advised that [redacted] received a letter on 11/12/76 which bore the postmark "Pittsburgh, Pa. November 10, 1976" and was signed "A Bitter Father". In this letter to [redacted] it was stated "Mr. Paterno knows how I feel and what I plan on doing about it. He is responsible for me losing my son and I plan on putting him in the same position I am - brokenhearted - because you lost someone close to you." The letter continued "Since you [redacted] are in a position to make Paterno look good, that is my reason for writing you. I know how close you and [redacted] are. It would be a shame if she was to meet with a tragic accident because of Mr. Paterno." The letter also contained the following comment: "I am out to get Joe Paterno and I will go to all extremes to do it. This could happen next week, next month, but one thing is sure, it will happen." It was signed "A Bitter Father."

PATERNO advised it now appears to him that the purpose of the letters is to disrupt his football team in its remaining two games (Miami - November 13, 1976, and Pittsburgh - November 26). PATERNO said his staff reminded him of previous threatening letter received by [redacted] prior to Pitt game in 1972. That letter was mailed [redacted], Pa. which is close to [redacted].

I have nothing against you or any other member of your squad, but I do against your coach. Mr. Paterno knows how I feel and what I plan on doing about it. He is responsible for me loosing my son and I plan on putting him in the same position I am in "brokenhearted" because you lost someone close to you. Mr. Paterno knows if he does not leave Penn State some member of his family, coaching staff or squad will be the one who will suffer. He was telephonically contacted by [redacted] Pennsylvania State University (PSU) [redacted] during late evening of November 24, 1976. She informed him that she has an unlisted telephone, [redacted]. She is very upset and has notified local police of this call. She has no idea how the caller obtained her unlisted number.

PATERNO said that he has noticed [redacted] acting differently during the past couple of weeks and when he confronted her about this she informed him that she had received a telephone call approximately two weeks ago at her home in State College, Pa., in which unidentified caller asked her if she was not concerned over the safety of [redacted]. It was concluded that the questioned handwriting on Q8, Q10 and Q12 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q4. Date of transcription [redacted] telephone [redacted] advised that he is the father of [redacted] for Penn State University (PSU), Main Campus, State College, Pa., who is presently in [redacted].

[redacted] said approximately [redacted] years ago, when [redacted] at Penn State, he [redacted] started receiving anonymous telephone calls during the football season and in particular, just before the Pitt-Penn State annual rivalry game was played. [redacted] said the anonymous calls sounded somewhat like a teenager and possibly a female disguised or an attempt to disguise voice, mostly dealing with the scholastic standing of Pitt being so much better than the scholastic standing of Penn State. [redacted] said the anonymous caller had one peculiarity in quite frequently mentioning, "My daddy says" and he, [redacted] opined the anonymous caller could be someone who attended [redacted] and was disgruntled because [redacted] chose to go with JOE PATERNO at Penn State rather than the University of Pittsburgh.

[redacted] said he has never received any threatening calls as such from the anonymous caller but furnished four postcards of Pittsburgh, Pa., views and seven letters which according to [redacted] is the same verbage used on the telephone when the anonymous caller calls.

[redacted] said the last telephone call was on November 23, 1976, and he, [redacted] attempted to delay the conversation as long as possible in order to allow his wife to go next door, to a neighbor's telephone and notify the telephone company security office in an effort to trace the call. [redacted] said his wife contacted a telephone company supervisor who forwarded an official request form for a telephone line trap which he, [redacted], executed the following day, November 24, 1976, and which telephone line trap was installed for a period of seven days but apparently with negative results.

ENCLOSURE

[] said that when he talked to the anonymous caller, he requested that the anonymous caller call back again like the anonymous caller did the previous year following the Pitt-Penn State football game and the anonymous caller agreed to do so, however, did not comply, possibly suspecting a telephone trap.

b6

[] pointed out that [] had [] while attending one of the Penn State football games and that [] was injured early in the season and has not been able to resume [] position during the past several games.

[] said he would cooperate with the FBI in any way possible in an attempt to identify the anonymous caller and particularly if the anonymous caller is connected in any way with the person responsible for the threatening calls to Coach JOE PATERNO, [] or other members of the Penn State Staff, Squad members or members of the families of the above.

[] said he read the article in the Pittsburgh "Post Gazette" about PATERNO's threatening calls and realized that his anonymous caller may be in some remote way connected to the same situation, which is why he in turn contacted the Pittsburgh Office of the FBI.

[] said he had no idea who the anonymous caller or the person responsible for the threats to the Penn State football team personnel might possibly be.

I realize what I did was wrong and I am very sorry for it. I had to talk with someone about it, last week I talked with our priest and he helped me.

Let me try to explain what brought this on in the first place if I can. Quite a few years ago [redacted] my son had a scholarship to some State.
His mother & me built an whole life around him. Things did not work out like we had planned. He spent 2 years there and then left behind. He felt he was never given a chance.

No other school would take him since he had 3 yrs in. He just went to the dog - Working things. I always wanted him to for this. We moved into the area three years ago.
Thinking things would improve but they just got worse. Two years ^{ago} my wife passed away - I still think it was because of my son.
Now my wife is gone as well as my son. I say he is gone because he no longer lives with me, he is living in another state now.
I was wrong in thinking that I could take my revenge out on Penn State, & Mr. Putnam by hurting others.

I now realize and admit he was wrong and I was wrong all those years to feel the way I do.

I assure you Nothing will happen to you or anyone else. I hope your son continues his success which I am sure he will at Penn State.

Again let me ask your forgiveness if that is possible, it was a terrible thing I did and I am truly sorry for it.

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writing on Q13 through Q16, Q37, and Q38 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q12. It was also concluded that the aforementioned person or persons did not prepare the questioned writing on Q17 through Q36.

The questioned writing on Q17 through Q36 was searched through the appropriate sections of the Anonymous Letter File without making an identification. Appropriate copies will be added to this file for future reference.

Numerous purple woolen fibers were found on Q13. Other woolen fibers of different colors and various colored cotton fibers and synthetic fibers also were found on Q13. Many of these fibers are suitable for significant microscopic comparisons with known fiber sources.

Two limb hairs possessing Caucasian characteristics were found on Q13 as well. These hairs are of no value for significant comparison purposes.

No indented writing was noted on Q13 through Q38. The watermark "EATON'S 1893 LETTER PAPER" was noted in Q14 and Q37. That watermark is listed to the Eaton Paper Company, Division of Textron, 75 South Church Street, Pittsfield, Massachusetts. Information was noted on the Q17 through Q20 post cards indicating they were made by Dexter Press, West Nyack, New York. The Q21, Q25, Q28, Q33, and Q35 envelopes are the type of envelope which can be purchased at United States Post Offices. No watermarks or other identifying characteristics were noted in the other questioned items which would indicate their immediate source or sources.

Q13, Q37, Q38 and the ALSO SUBMITTED cardboard fruitcake box will be returned to Philadelphia, and Q14 through Q36 and the other ALSO SUBMITTED items will be returned to Pittsburgh along with the results of the latent fingerprint examination of those items. Photographs of Q13 through Q38 are retained.

Remarks:

From such a comparison as could be made, some differences were noted in comparing the signatures on K1 with the questioned writing on Q1 through Q4. However, if further comparisons are desired, writing samples (either dictated or undictated) of any suspect, consisting of the words appearing on Q1 through Q4 or words comparable in letters and letter combinations thereto, may be of value. A sufficient number of samples should be obtained until it is believed that variations in the writing habits of the person furnishing the samples can be accounted for.

① Specimens Q₁, though Q₄ were searched through the ALF without making a identification. Copies have been added to this file for future comparison.

② It was determined that the questioned handwriting on specimens Q₁, though Q₄ was prepared by the same writer or writers.

Due to the lack of sufficient comparable handwriting from K₁, no definite determination could be reached as to whether the handwriting on Q₁, though Q₄ was not prepared by the author of K₁, either [REDACTED] and PHILLIPS handled the letter before turning it over to CHUCKRAN.

Enclosed for the Bureau are the original envelope and letter. Three xerox copies of envelope and letter are enclosed herewith for Pittsburgh.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

him that she had received a similar letter. She said she intended to contact the FBI concerning the possibility of placing a "trap" on her telephone. [redacted] [redacted] has been informed that when she is away at work her telephone has been ringing for long intervals. She suspects the person who is writing the letters is probably trying to get through to her telephonically. PHILLIPS said that [redacted] is not upset about receiving the letters. He has been informed by [redacted] that the best way to have the letters stopped is for Penn State to defeat Pittsburgh in its coming football game as it appears to her that the purpose of the writer of the letters is to affect the outcome of that game.

PHILLIPS furnished the above letter and envelope. He said he did not know of anyone other than he and [redacted] who handled the letter. He immediately placed the letter in a plastic envelope. [redacted] had no suspects.

Envelope and letter enclosed herewith for Bureau.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

The Latent Fingerprint Section is requested to examine enclosed specimens to determine if there are any latents of value. It is requested that any latents obtained be compared with latents previously obtained from other specimens. It is further requested that enclosed letter and envelope be compared with specimens previously submitted to determine if they were printed by the same individual.

Result of examination:

Because the limited hand printing on previously submitted Q13 is not comparable with portions of the questioned hand printing appearing on Q39 and Q40, a definite conclusion was not reached whether the writer of Q13 prepared Q39 and Q40.
Characteristics were noted, however, in the comparable portions of the hand printing on Q13, Q39, and Q40 which indicate those items probably were prepared by the same person.

Q39 contains no watermark, indented writing, or other identifying characteristic which would indicate its source. It was noted, however, that the stamp on Q39 was torn from a booklet of stamps. Indented hand printing was noted on Q40; however, the message is not entirely clear. The indented words noted appear to be similar in wording to the hand printed words appearing on Q40. No watermark was noted in Q40. The Q40 paper was cut from a larger sheet of paper and appears to have been torn from a pad or tablet.

Q39 and Q40, which have been photographed, will be returned to your office with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

Result of examination:

It was determined that the questioned writing on Q41 through Q48 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q39 and Q40.

Indented writing was noted on Q42. That indented writing resulted from the writing which appears on Q44 and Q46. Q42 contains no watermark.

Q41 and Q43 through Q48 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source. It was noted, however, that perforations along the upper edges of Q42 and Q44 indicate those items were torn from a pad or tablet. The stamps on Q41, Q45, and Q47 were torn from sheets of stamps and the stamp on Q43 was torn from a booklet of stamps. No information is available in the Laboratory regarding the cancellation stamp on Q47.

Q41 through Q48, which have been photographed, will be returned to the respective contributors with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

On the basis of the information furnished, no fingerprint record was located in our files for [REDACTED]

Two of the previously reported latent fingerprints (tips and sides of fingers) were compared, insofar as possible, with the fingerprints of [REDACTED] in [REDACTED] Pennsylvania, and [REDACTED] in Pennsylvania, but no identification was effected. Fully recorded tips and sides of the fingers of these individuals are necessary for a conclusive comparison of the latent fingerprints. The remaining previously reported unidentified latent fingerprints are not identical with the fingerprints of the aforementioned individuals. There are no palm prints in our files for these two individuals.

ROBERT PHILLIPS, Assistant Football Coach, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa., furnished the following information:

On November 10, 1977, [redacted] Pennsylvania State University [redacted] furnished him a letter postmarked November 8, 1977, Pittsburgh, Pa., which was directed to him c/o Pennsylvania State University Football Office, University Park, Pa. It bore the return address as [redacted] which is [redacted] It contained the following information:

[redacted] will not live to see the new year come in. She was informed about this. You no doubt think this is some crack pot - no doubt you are right. But it's still going to happen."

Above letter was unsigned. PHILLIPS said [redacted] has been in contact with [redacted], who advised him that she had received a similar letter. She said she intended to contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation concerning the possibility of placing a "trap" on her telephone. [redacted]

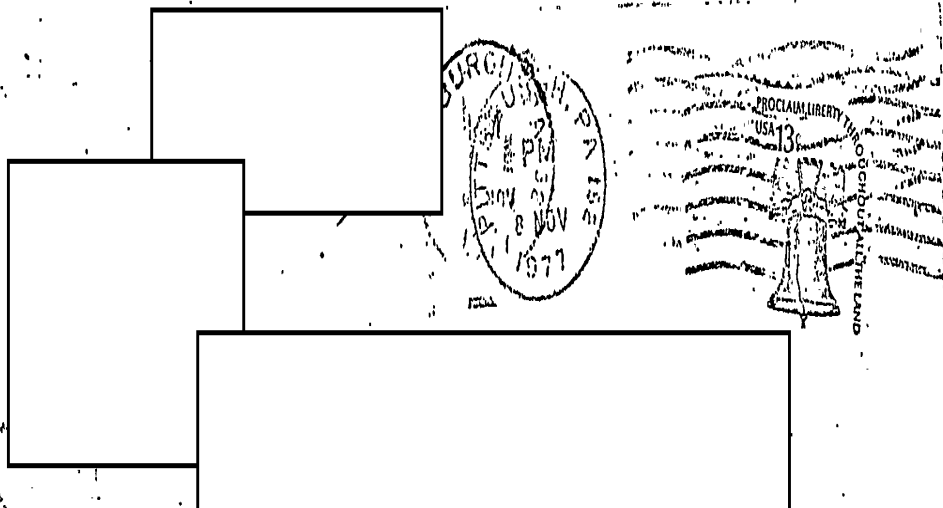

b6

[redacted] She suspects the person who is writing the letters is probably trying to get through to her telephonically. PHILLIPS said that [redacted] is not upset about receiving the letters. He has been informed by [redacted] that the best way to have the letters stopped is for Penn State to defeat Pittsburgh in its coming football game as it appears to her that the purpose of the writer of the letters is to affect the outcome of that game.

PHILLIPS furnished the above letter and envelope. He said he did not know of anyone other than he and [redacted] who handled the letter. He immediately placed the letter in a plastic envelope. [redacted] had no suspects.

Xerox copies of letter and envelope attached.

Result of examination:

Because the limited hand printing on previously submitted Q13 is not comparable with portions of the questioned hand printing appearing on Q39 and Q40, a definite conclusion was not reached whether the writer of Q13 prepared Q39 and Q40.
Characteristics were noted, however, in the comparable portions of the hand printing on Q13, Q39, and Q40 which indicate those items probably were prepared by the same person.

Q39 contains no watermark, indented writing, or other identifying characteristic which would indicate its source. It was noted, however, that the stamp on Q39 was torn from a booklet of stamps. Indented hand printing was noted on Q40; however, the message is not entirely clear. The indented words noted appear to be similar in wording to the hand printed words appearing on Q40. No watermark was noted in Q40. The Q40 paper was cut from a larger sheet of paper and appears to have been torn from a pad or tablet.

Q39 and Q40, which have been photographed, will be returned to your office with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

Result of examination:

The writings on Q49 through Q56 were searched in the appropriate sections of the Anonymous Letter File without effecting an identification with any other case or known person.

It was concluded the writings on Q49 through Q56 and Q39 through Q48 were prepared by the same person or persons. Specimens Q49 through Q56 contain no watermarks, indented writing or other significant characteristic which would be of further assistance in their identification.
The stamps on Q49, Q51, Q53 and Q55 were removed from sheets of stamps.

Q50 and Q54 appear to have been originally the same sheet of paper torn from a pad or tablet. Q52 is a sheet apparently removed from the same type of tablet, and Q56, which has been torn on one end and cut on the other, also may have been removed from the same tablet type.

You will be separately advised of the results of the requested latent fingerprint examination and the disposition of the submitted evidence. Photographs have been retained.

JOHN CHUCKRAN, Administrative Assistant to Coach JOSEPH PATERNO, Pennsylvania State University (PSU), University Park, Pa., furnished the following information:

On December 13, 1977, Coach JOSEPH PATERNO, PSU, advised him of receipt of a letter postmarked December 10, 1977, Pittsburgh, Pa. The letter and its envelope have been made an exhibit to this file. Xerox copy is attached hereto. CHUCKRAN advised he did not know who handled the letter other than PATERNO. He placed it in cellophane envelope upon receipt of it from PATERNO.

CHUCKRAN advised he learned from [redacted] Assistant Football Coach, PSU, that [redacted] PSU [redacted] on December 13, 1977, also received a letter which was addressed to him care of the Penn State Football Office. It bore the return address of [redacted] and was postmarked Pittsburgh, Pa. 152 and was dated December 10, 1977. The letter and envelope have been made an exhibit to the file. Xerox copy of the envelope and the letter is attached hereto. CHUCKRAN noted this letter also contained two newspaper articles describing interviews with [redacted] after the Pitt-Penn State football game. These are also xeroxed and attached hereto. CHUCKRAN did not know who handled the letter other than [redacted] and Assistant Coaches [redacted] and BOB PHILLIPS.

CHUCKRAN advised the above letters are very upsetting to Coach PATERNO [redacted] Coach PATERNO is considering contact with representatives of the Bell Telephone Company for the placement of a "trap" on his home telephone in an effort to bring about the identification of the person responsible for directing these letters to Penn State personnel [redacted]

CHUCKRAN advised they have no suspects in this matter.

Hi Big Shot.

Glad To hear you think this is from some CRANK. Since you have the FBI IN ON THIS you have nothing to worry about do you. So you think I am a Gambler - The only Gambler is PATERNO - he is gambling with YOUR LIFE [REDACTED]. I have nothing against you [REDACTED] but I think this is the best way to get at PATERNO. I could do away with PATERNO with no trouble but I want to make him suffer I want it to be on his conscious that he was responsible for a tragic accident to you [REDACTED] - let him live with that for a while. Nothing made me happier when [REDACTED] had that accident. We hear all this talk what a big man PATERNO is - we will see how big he is in your case. You are the one that is making him look good The reason I am picking on [REDACTED] is because I know how close you are to [REDACTED] and I know it will have an effect on your game play you think by beating PITT will put an end to this - No way - PITT means nothing to me but I know what it means to PATERNO to beat PITT. You know as well as I do - I can do away with you [REDACTED] or PATERNO any time
I want. The FBI cant be with you

Result of examination:

It was determined that the questioned writing on Q41 through Q48 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q39 and Q40.

Indented writing was noted on Q42. That indented writing resulted from the writing which appears on Q44 and Q46. Q42 contains no watermark.

Q41 and Q43 through Q48 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source. It was noted, however, that perforations along the upper edges of Q42 and Q44 indicate those items were torn from a pad or tablet. The stamps on Q41, Q45, and Q47 were torn from sheets of stamps and the stamp on Q43 was torn from a booklet of stamps. No information is available in the Laboratory regarding the cancellation stamp on Q47.

Q41 through Q48, which have been photographed, will be returned to the respective contributors with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

He was requested to compare any prints located for these individuals against unidentified prints found on specimens previously submitted.

On 7/14/78, [redacted] above, advised prints were located for [redacted]. They were compared against the unidentified latents with negative results. There were no prints on file for [redacted].

[redacted] advised a review of their file disclosed there are 28 unidentified latent prints which have been found on specimens examined to date. These include one (1) Tip, four (4) Palm and one (1) impression.

Philadelphia Division believes the manual search of criminal and civil cards on file with departments in the vicinity of [redacted] Pa., is a worthwhile task. The feeling here is that letters of type directed to the victims in this case will again appear during the on-coming football season. The benefits to be gained in breaking this case thru a manual search of fingerprint cards appear to favor such an endeavor because of the national publicity it would receive.

PURPOSE: To request Bureau approval for Fingerprint Specialist [Redacted] Identification Division, Latent Fingerprint Section (LFPS), to travel to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of comparing selected unidentified latent fingerprints in captioned case with fingerprints maintained in Allegheny County, Department of Public Protection, Bureau of Criminal Identification (BCI).

DETAILS: Captioned case concerns threatening letters received by PSU Football Coach Joe Paterno, [Redacted] during 1976 and 1977 football seasons. Over 180 latent prints have been developed on evidence submitted and forty-one latent prints identified as elimination fingerprints. No identifications effected to fingerprints of named suspects. Postmark on extortion letter and information contained therein indicates unknown subject may live in or near Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Philadelphia Division (Philadelphia airtel to Bureau 7/19/78) believes more letters will appear during oncoming football season and recommends a manual search of Allegheny County Bureau of Criminal Identification fingerprint files in effort to identify unknown subject. A search of this nature is feasible inasmuch as a number of the remaining unidentified latent prints that were developed on nine different specimens are fingerprints of one individual. The fingerprints are whorl-type patterns and based on their size and position on the specimens appear to be impressions of the right and left thumb. The minimum primary classification would be 5/17. RECOMMENDATION: That approval be granted for Fingerprint Specialist [redacted] to travel to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to conduct appropriate searches of the BCI fingerprint files in an effort to identify the unknown subject in this case.

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writings on Q57 through Q60 were prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writings on various items received previously in this matter. These questioned writings have not been identified with the writing of a known person or persons.

Q57 through Q60 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source. It was noted, however, that the stamps on Q57 and Q59 were torn from a sheet or sheets of stamps. In addition, a binder material was noted along the upper edges of the sheets of paper used for Q58 and Q60 indicating those items were torn from a pad or tablet.

Remarks:

The following supplements information furnished to your office by Laboratory Transmittal Form dated November 7, 1978.

An authorship identification analysis was conducted on Q57 through Q60, as well as on Q1 through Q56 for comparison purposes. The examination (of the language usage style, content, vocabulary, and syntax) indicated the following:

- (a) Q1 through Q13, and Q37 (the 1976 group) display many similarities and would seem to be authored by the same individual.
- (b) Q14 through Q16, and Q38 fit weakly into the 1976 group, displaying a few similarities to the rest of the group. Considering that the difference in the style and content could be due to the subject matter involved (Q15, Q16, and Q38 are the letters of apology), this grouping of documents may also have been authored by the same individual who did the rest of the 1976 group.

- (C) Q17 through Q36 are dissimilar to the documents named in (A) and (B) above. It is concluded that one person authored this group and that this author was not involved in writing the documents named in (A) and (B).
- (D) Q39 through Q56 (the 1977 group) display similarities as a group and would seem to be authored by the same individual. In comparing this group to the 1976 group, however, minor differences were found along with some similarities. Q40, Q52, and Q56 a little more closely resemble the 1976 group, but the tie is not strong. Perhaps the eleven-month time lapse between these groups accounts for the differences in style. It is possible that this 1977 group was authored by the same individual involved in authoring the 1976 group.
- (E) Q57 through Q60 (the 1978 group) display similarities and were probably authored by the same individual. This grouping of documents bears a strong resemblance to those in the 1976 group (along with some differences). Q58 bears similarities to Q4; Q60 even more closely resembles Q4. They are much less similar to the 1977 group. The ten-month time lapse between the 1977 and 1978 groups may account for the difference in style, indicating the possibility that the same author was involved.

If the same person did not author the documents named in (A), (B), (D), & (E) above, then the additional author(s) had access to the original letter(s) so that the same vocabulary items, content items, handwriting and hand printing styles could be used. There is insufficient evidence for determining the author's age, sex, educational level, ethnic or geographic background.

No Laboratory report is attached.

Additional Deductions

An authorship identification analysis was conducted on Q57 through Q60, as well as on Q1 through Q56 for comparison purposes. The examination (of the language usage style, content, vocabulary, and syntax) indicated the following:

- (A) ~~QXXXXX~~ Q1 through Q13, and Q37 (the 1976 group) display many similarities and would seem to be authored by the same individual.
- (B) Q14 through Q16, and Q38 fit weakly into the 1976 group, displaying a few similarities to the rest of the group. Considering that the difference in the style and content could be due to the subject matter involved (Q15, Q16, and Q38 are the letters of apology), this grouping of documents may also have been authored by the same individual who did the rest of the 1976 group.
- (C) Q17 through Q36 are dissimilar to the documents named in (A) and (B) above. It is concluded that one person authored this group and that this author was not involved in writing the documents named in (A) and (B).
- (D) Q39 through Q56 (the 1977 group) display similarities as a group and would seem to be authored by the same individual. In comparing this group to the 1976 group, however, minor differences were found along with some similarities. Q40, Q52, and Q56 a little more closely resemble the 1976 group, but the tie is not strong. Perhaps the eleven-month time lapse between these groups accounts for the differences in style. It is possible that this 1977 group was authored by the same individual involved in authoring the 1976 group.
- (E) Q57 through Q60 (the 1978 group) display similarities and were probably authored by the same individual. This grouping of documents bears a strong resemblance to those in the 1976 group (along with some differences). Q58 bears similarities to Q4; Q60 even more closely resembles Q4. They are much less similar to the 1977 group. The ten-month time lapse between the 1977 and 1978 groups may account for the difference in style, indicating the possibility that the same author was involved.

If the same person did not author the documents named in (A), (B), (D), & (E) above, then the additional author(s) had access to the original letter(s) so that the same vocabulary items, content items, handwriting and handprinting^{style} could be used.

Q62 Accompanying sheet of paper bearing hand printing beginning "Mr HARDER, I WATched. . ."

JLB:cjj* (7)

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writings on Q61 and Q62 were prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writings on various items received previously in this matter. These questioned writings have not been identified with the writing of a known person or persons.

No stamp was found on Q61. The Q62 sheet of paper was cut from a larger sheet of what appears to be a notebook type paper. Q61 and Q62 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source.

Because the K2 and K3 writings are limited and are not sufficiently comparable in letters and letter combinations with the questioned writings on Q61, Q62, and previously submitted Q1 through Q60, a definite conclusion could not be reached whether the writer of K2 or the writer of K3 did or did not prepare any of the questioned writings on Q1 through Q62.

It was not possible to determine definitely the printing appearing above and below the date "DEC 9 PM" on the postmark appearing on the Q61 envelope; however, the printing above the date could possibly be "JAN 10 AM" and the printing below the date could possibly be "NOV 30 5 PM."

Q61, Q62, K2, and K3, which have been photographed, will be returned to Philadelphia with the result of the latent fingerprint examination. As requested, photographs of K2 and K3 are being furnished herewith to Philadelphia.

Remarks:

For purposes of investigative aid, an authorship identification analysis was conducted on Q61 through Q62. The results of this examination (of language usage style, spelling, punctuation, content, vocabulary, and Syntax) indicate that Q61 and Q62 bear strong similarities to the [REDACTED] previously submitted in the above-captioned case. Q61 and Q62 have greatest similarity to the 1976 and 1978 groups, indicating the strong possibility of common authorship. There is insufficient information for further determining the identification of the author(s).

The authorship identification analysis is conducted for lead value only. No report is being submitted.

Disposition of evidence will be indicated in the Latent Fingerprint Section's report.

Remarks:

For possible investigative information, from such a comparison as could be made, characteristics were noted in portions of the questioned writing on Q5 through Q7, Q9, Q11, Q13, Q17 through Q36, and Q39 through Q64 which indicate that BOB PHILLIPS, writer of K4, probably did not prepare the aforementioned questioned items.

Q63 Envelope postmarked "PITTSBURGH, PA. 152 22 DEC 1978 PM" bearing hand printed address [redacted]

Q64 Accompanying hand printed letter beginning [redacted] [redacted] AS They SAY . . ."

K4 Post card and four memos bearing purported printing of BOB PHILLIPS

Result of examination:

Q63 and Q64 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their immediate source. It was noted, however, that the stamp on Q63 was torn from a sheet of stamps and that the Q64 sheet of paper was cut from a larger sheet of what would appear to be a notebook type paper.

It was concluded that the questioned writing on Q63 and Q64 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writings on various items received previously in this matter. These questioned writings have not been identified with the writing of a known person or persons.

As requested, the writing of BOB PHILLIPS, designated K4, was compared with the questioned writing on Q63 and Q64, as well as with the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q62. A definite conclusion was not reached, however, whether PHILLIPS, K4, did or did not prepare any of the questioned writing on Q1 through Q64 because the K4 writing is not sufficiently comparable with much of the questioned writing on Q1 through Q64.

Q63, Q64 and K4 have been photographed and will be returned to the Pittsburgh office with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

- Q65 Envelope postmarked "Pittsburgh, PA 152 PM 28

- Q66 Accompanying sheet of paper bearing hand printed message beginning: "Harder, I've been. . ."

Result of examination:

It was determined that the hand printing on Q65 and Q66 was prepared by the same writer or writers that prepared the hand printing on various items previously submitted in this case.

If additional known handwriting of suspects in this case is obtained, it should include numerous repetitions of the exact wording of all of the questioned handwriting and hand printing on Q1 through Q66. The questioned handwriting and hand printing should be obtained on paper and envelopes similar in size and format to the questioned items.

Q65 and Q66, which have been photographed, will be returned separately along with the results of the latent fingerprint examination.

Philadelphia report to Bureau, 5/26/78

For information of the Bureau, this case was opened in 1976, closed and then reopened in 11/78.

Review of this matter by the case Agent has determined that all outstanding leads in auxiliary offices have been covered and reported and all logical investigation has been conducted without effecting the identity of the Unsub.

It should be noted that extensive investigation has been conducted in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Divisions and sophisticated investigative techniques, including numerous telephone covers and analysis of communications by a Bureau approved psycholinguistics expert, have been employed in an effort to establish accurate personality profiles of the Unsub; however, to date these efforts have failed to identify the Unsub.

In view of the above, this matter is being closed and no further investigation is being conducted by the Philadelphia Division.

AUSA [] Middle District of Pennsylvania (MDPA), Lewisburg, Pa., has been apprised of the facts in this matter and concurs on the decision to conduct no further investigation.

 Bureau dated 11/8/80, captioned "UNSUB; COACH JOE PATERNO - VICTIM; EXTORTION (A), 9-NEW; (OO:PHILADELPHIA)."

On 11/8/80, Ray Scott, Television Commentator for Penn State University Football, furnished the Pittsburgh FBI with an anonymous letter, postmarked Pittsburgh, PA, 152, dated 11/4/80, which contained a threat to kill Coach Joe Paterno or one of his family members within the next three months.
 The letter was addressed to Scott at T.C.S. Television, 890 Constitution Boulevard, New Kensington, PA, and apparently is related to previous threats received by Paterno's family, his staff and squad going back to 10/76. The SAC, Pittsburgh, has made captioned matter a special due to the notoriety which could result from the media's knowledge of the above-mentioned threat to someone as noteworthy as Paterno.

For the information of the Visual Investigative Analysis Unit, Pittsburgh is into the fourth volume since the case was opened in 1976, and there have been change overs in case agents in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and examiners in the Laboratory, Document Section, and Latent Fingerprint Section who have been assigned to captioned matter. Additionally, Pittsburgh requested to become office of origin in referenced 11/18/80, airtel and due to this and time limitation of the threat, Visual Investigative Unit assistance would be of upmost aide in pulling the matter together and giving it proper direction in anticipation of identifying and prosecuting the unknown subject.

Request of the Bureau

The Laboratory Division, Document Section, is requested to examine the handwriting in the 11/4/80, threat letter to Paterno which was enclosed with referenced Pittsburgh airtel dated 11/13/80, and to compare it with previous letters submitted in connection with captioned matter. Additionally, a comparison is requested to be made against the anonymous letter file.

The Visual Investigative Analysis Unit is requested to make available an analyst to Pittsburgh to assist on captioned matter.

President Ford said that William & Mary, Pitt, & Stanford are noted for the highest academic standards in the nation!

(He said this on the campus of William & Mary, where the last Ford-Carter debates were held.)

Penn State not only has low academic standards, but they have nickay mouse courses, that dumb Football players can major in!

Phys Ed, Business admin, bartending, Food Service, & Ballet & Forestry! ect.

[You won't find courses like that at Pitt
No way!]

Comparing Pitt to Penn State academically - is like comparing Yale to Robert Morris.

~~Dear ...~~

My Daddy says, In 1967 Penn State won 10 in a row, They were ranked no. 11 in the Nation!

In 1968 they won 10 more in a row, and were ranked no. 6th in the nation

Then in 1969 they won 10 more in a row, which totals 30 games in a Row — yet the highest they were ever ranked was #3 in the Nation. Can you imagine that, it took Penn State 30 games in a row to be ranked #3.

In 1972 Penn State won 11 in a row, yet they were only ranked ... just 9th in the nation.

Why is this? Because the Associated Press, and the UPI, and every body in the nation knows, that Penn State plays a Pussy Football schedule!!!

Pitt wins just 9 in a row and they're number #1 in the nation!

Yes it sure pays to play a big time football schedule, like Pitt!

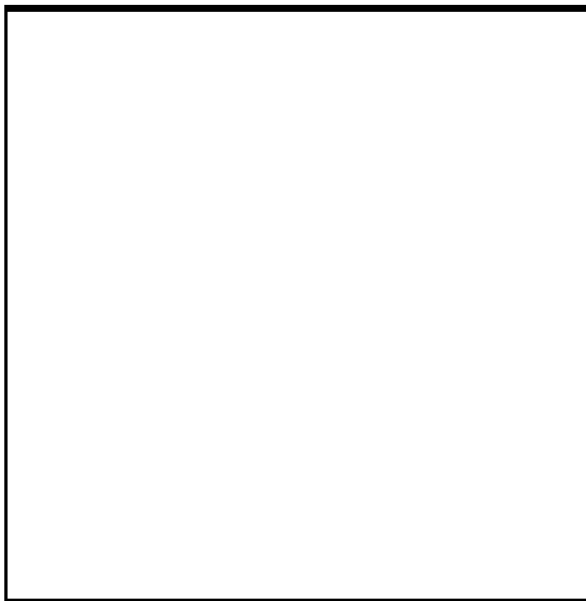

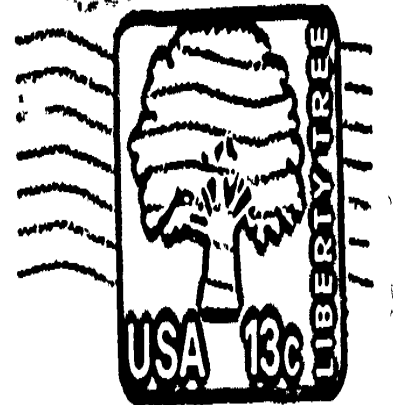

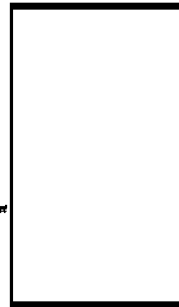

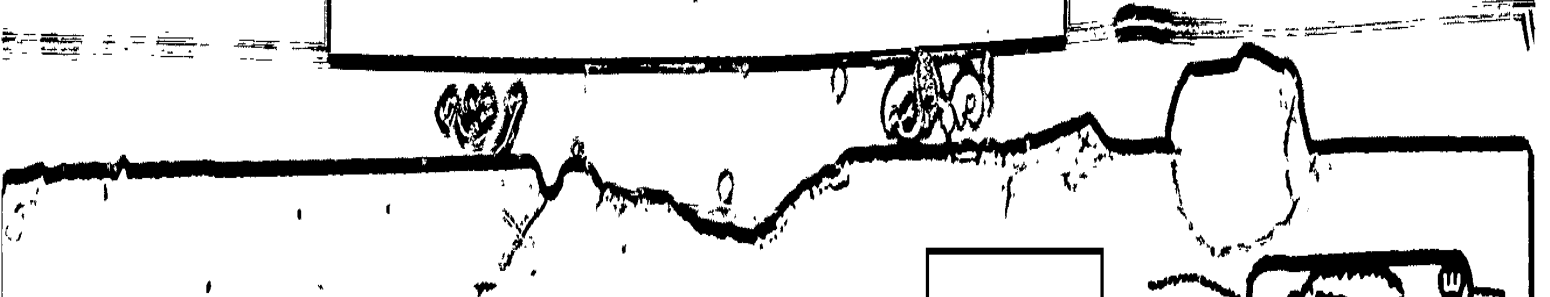

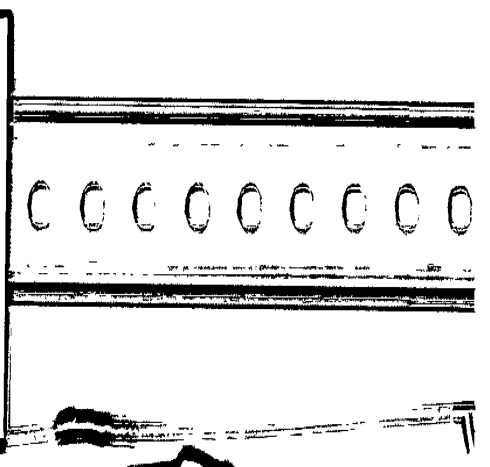

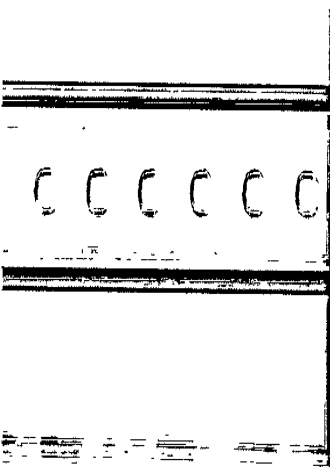

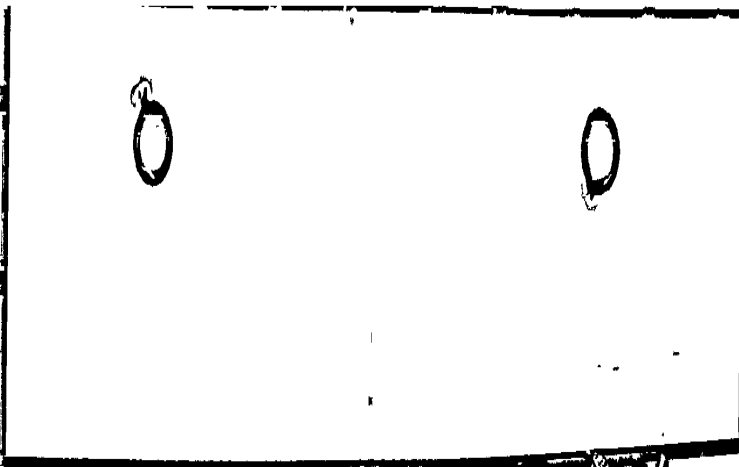

In the 4 years that [redacted] was at Penn State - Pitt has played Notre Dame 4 times, Southern Cal. twice, UCLA twice, Georgia twice, Oklahoma 3 times, Boston College twice, Florida twice & ect. I guess when [redacted] was a Sr. in high school, and looked at the 4 years on Pitt's football schedule, he got scared - and went to Penn State.

Oh, by the way [redacted] - who has Penn State played in the past 4 years ??? ? ? ? ?

I bet if [redacted] knew in high school, that in his 2 year at Penn State That Penn State would pick up Ohio State he'd probably would have gone to Clarion State College! He thought he was going to play Navy for 4 years.

My Daddy Says: Penn State has low Academic Standards!!!

Which of Pitt's opponents insist that a candidate must pass an achievement test along with adequate college boards before the athlete is accepted?

"If the athletic director had an answer to this question it would be: 'None of Pitt's scheduled opponents insist on achievement tests from prospective football candidates.'

"Carrying the difference in standards at Pitt with standards of its opponents I asked:

"Why can a football player at Penn State carry a 'minor' load of six credits during the football season whereas the athlete at Pitt gets no relief during the season?

"The Pitt athlete must maintain his full schedule throughout the tri-semester, as I understand it. The State athlete can pick up the balance of his load during another quarter at Penn State. Penn State uses a four quarter system in its policy.

"I submit this is another difference in standards as observed by Pitt than by other schools on the Pitt schedule."

"Does the football team undergo mid-semester tests at Pitt?

"The answer is Yes! Do Pitt opponents do so? The answer is No!

"For instance, Pitt players got their tests during the weeks of the Syracuse and Notre Dame games. Penn State players took their quarter tests in December.

"I do not know of a Pitt opponent whose players are subjected to examinations during the football season.

"If this is so, it is another difference from the standard set at Pitt."

"There are just a few of the differences that exist between Pitt and its opponents."

"Differences I contend should exist at Pitt. If Pitt is expected to participate in big time college football. And, big time college football is peculiar in that it carries a great monetary value to the selected participants, since a four-year scholarship is worth between $12,000 and $16,000."

"The objective of this essay is to place the facts (as much as I can learn about the facts) before the fans who really care about Pitt football. And, believe me, I do care . . . I criticize the Athletic Director, I criticize the Athletic Committee, I criticize the faculty . . . and I have criticized the coaches, too . . . so I don't believe I've slanted any of the topics in anybody's favor except possibly the public."

(Ed: Remember, the coach was a broadcaster by Joe Tucker in Dec. 1935. Since then, Dave Hart has been fired. Pitt will name a successor soon. Tucker adds on to his football:

"Things will be the same for the new coach unless the athletic policy is changed. Four of Pitt's opponents now red shirt—UCLA, Notre Dame, Miami, Syracuse. Serious academics use prep schools for their athletes. Of Penn State's fine, powerful team, 11 of the 22 regulars were in Penn Ed School and seven in business administration—two courses Pitt does not have."

"William and Mary is the only school on Pitt's schedule with programs of curriculum comparable to Penguin passes, if they didn't land right on the stick of a Philadelphia, bounced off the leg or chest of a Blue-and-White player right into the path of a fast-flying Flyer.

The Penn' wanted power play failed to function but came to five chances, and that was when Ken's McCreary scored his first goal of the night (fourth in two games) with his five seconds of play remaining in the game. Pittsburgh spent more time defense than attack when it had a manpower advantage.

The Flyers scored three times in the first period, twice in the second, and then won. They lost in the last session as they scored four times. Forbes Kennedy, Andre Lacroix and Eric Selby scored the

My Daddy Says

When Penn State goes undefeated, they never get any national recognition because they (the system) knows they play a Passy Schedule!!!

b6
b7C

On the same land,

When goes looking for a job with a 3.7 Average

All Employers (the system) will know that Penn State has Low Academic Standards, and that's why he made a 3.7!

My daddy says,
An "A" at Penn State is = to a "C" at Pitt.

When you make a 3.7 average at Pitt it means something!

When Pitt wins football games it means something!

Pitt

When Penn State goes undefeated they're lucky to get in the top 10

Example

1972-73 season Penn State

To Summarize in a Nutshell

When Penn State goes undefeated it don't mean Nothing

When a boy at Penn State makes a 3.7 average, it don't mean Nothing

Dear [redacted]

b6
b7c

you know what my daddy says - he says - Penn State plays a Pussy football schedule every year since he can remember. That's probably why they never were #1, huh.

Well - Penn State looking forward into playing Notre Dame in the Liberty Bowl. But what's the big deal?

Pitt has played Notre Dame every year since 1903 - (that's 73 years)

You know I bet [redacted] glad he's hurt - Yeah - because he's afraid to play big football teams like Notre Dame! That's one of the reasons he didn't go to Pitt - he was afraid to play Pitt's 4-year schedule - Notre Dame 4 times - Southern Cal twice,
Georgia twice, UCLA twice, Oklahoma
3 times & ect & I mean ect!

you see he wanted to play Pussys - at Penn State!

Wally

II

But you know, - when you look at it from afar, he made the right decision - because

If you got so excited watching him play little baby pussy football teams - and got a heart attack over it.

Well, if [] went to Pitt & played the Notre Dame & S. Cal & Oklahoma, you might of had 10 heart attacks, and died!!!

And if [] got hurt for the rest of the season - playing little baby (unranked) Kentucky, - Well he might of got killed playing Pitt opponents!

Then there would have been 2 dead []

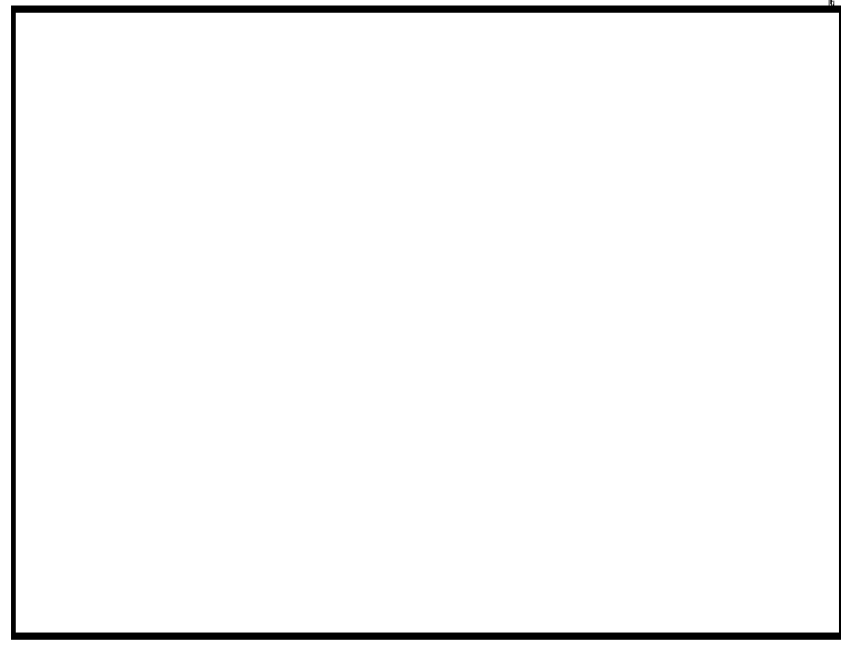

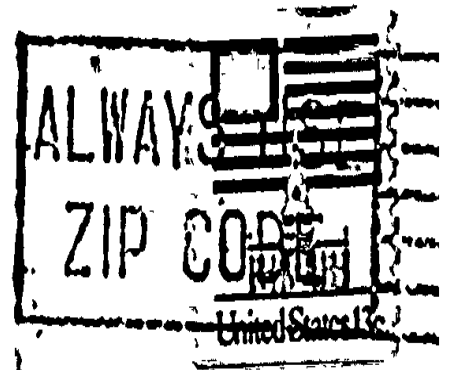

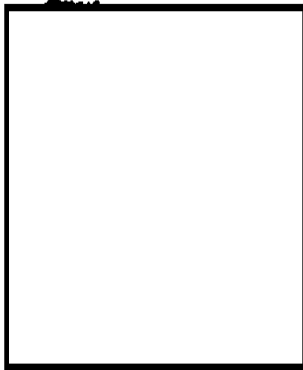

So for both of your sakes, - I'm glad [] went to Penn State.

P.S.
A friend of mine ^{had} flunked out of Pitt 3 years ago - He's now at Penn State carrying a 3.1 average! That's because Penn State has low academic standards!

I have nothing against you or any other member of your Squad, but I do against your coach. Mr. Paterno knows how I feel and what I plan on doing about it. He is responsible for me losing my son and I plan on putting him in the same position I am in "brokenhearted" because you lost someone close to you. Mr. Paterno knows if he does not leave Penn State some member of his family, coaching staff or Squad will be the one who will suffer. Mr Scott,

No doubt you will read this and think there is nothing to it and think I am just another "crack pot" I assure you Mr Scott I was never more serious about anything in my whole life.

I had a son who was a very good athlete and went to Penn State. His whole life was football. My whole life was wrapped around my son, my only son. He got a bad deal once he was at Penn State and I blame it all on Joe Paterno. I know all you hear is what a wonderful man Joe Paterno is and how he thinks only of the boys and winning does not mean that much. You know and I know this is far from the truth.

Since my son has dropped out of school he has gone to the dogs and I blame all this on Paterno. I don't know if you can understand how a father must feel to see this happen to his son.

I have thought long and hard for the past few years and I have come to the following conclusion. I am going to shoot either Joe Paterno or some member of his family within the next three months. I know how close he is with his family, I know how he might know how I feel.

I watch you and his brother George on TV. It just kills me when you interview him and he talks about how much the lay men to him. This may be true but not in all cases.

I feel my life is over and I have nothing to lose, I may save some other father from going through the same thing I am.

Mr Harder,

I watched The State-Maryland game on T.V. Maryland if they wanted could of named their own score they never used [redacted] and very few of the regulars played very much.

I am counting the days I will meet up with you - Not too many more to go now.

That interview with Ray Scott was real touching - you failed to mention how you ran out on the boys from Oregon. The sleeping giant as you call it is not at Penn State but me. If it's the last thing I ever do, it is to go even with you, I hope to make an example out of you for all the kids you disappointed.

When the opportunity and when you least expect it I will be there. Too bad for your family, I am sure they will miss you.

I am sure you are going to think this is just some crack for writing this and there is nothing to it. Good then you have nothing to worry about till we meet again.

Mr. Leterio,

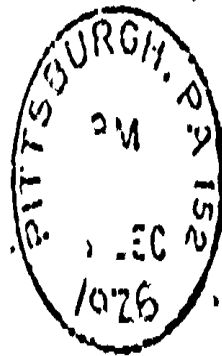

I realize I made a mistake in what I did. After some soul searching I talked to my priest. I now have to admit the one who made a mistake was my son and possibly me. I guess it is only natural to think your son is always right.

If you will please accept my apology, sorry this ever happened. I have an opportunity to move

Q66 Accompanying sheet of paper bearing hand printed message beginning: "Harder, I've been. . ."

Result of examination:

It was determined that the hand printing on Q65 and Q66 was prepared by the same writer or writers that prepared the hand printing on various items previously submitted in this case.

If additional known handwriting of suspects
in this case is obtained, it should include numerous repetitions of the exact wording of all of the questioned handwriting and hand printing on Q1
through Q66. The questioned handwriting and hand printing should be obtained on paper and envelopes similar in size and format to the questioned items.

Q65 and Q66, which have been photographed,
will be returned separately along with the results of the latent fingerprint examination.

WJB:ksj (4)

As requested, the writing of BOB PHILLIPS, designated K4, was compared with the questioned writing on Q63 and Q64, as well as with the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q62. A definite conclusion was not reached, however, whether PHILLIPS, K4, did or did not prepare any of the questioned writing on Q1 through Q64 because the K4 writing is not sufficiently comparable with much of the questioned writing on Q1 through Q64.

Q63, Q64 and K4 have been photographed and will be returned to the Pittsburgh office with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writings on Q61 and Q62 were prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writings on various items received previously in this matter. These questioned writings have not been identified with the writing of a known person or persons.

No stamp was found on Q61. The Q62 sheet of paper was cut from a larger sheet of what appears to be a notebook type paper. Q61 and Q62 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source.

Because the K2 and K3 writings are limited and are not sufficiently comparable in letters and letter combinations with the questioned writings on Q61, Q62, and previously submitted Q1 through Q60, a definite conclusion could not be reached whether the writer of K2 or the writer of K3 did or did not prepare any of the questioned writings on Q1 through Q62.

It was not possible to determine definitely the printing appearing above and below the date "DEC 9 PM" on the postmark appearing on the Q61 envelope; however, the printing above the date could possibly be "JAN 10 AM" and the printing below the date could possibly be "NOV 30 5 PM."

Remarks:

For purposes of investigative aid, an authorship identification analysis was conducted on Q61 through Q62. The results of this examination (of language usage style, spelling, punctuation, content, vocabulary, and syntax) indicate that Q61 and Q62 bear strong similarities to the documents previously submitted in the above-captioned case. Q61 and Q62 have greatest similarity to the 1976 and 1978 groups, indicating the strong possibility of common authorship. There is insufficient information for further determining the identification of the author(s).

Remarks:

The following supplements information furnished to your office by Laboratory Transmittal Form dated November 7, 1978.

An authorship identification analysis was conducted on Q57 through Q60, as well as on Q1 through Q56 for comparison purposes. The examination (of the language usage style, content, vocabulary, and syntax) indicated the following:

(a) Q1 through Q13, and Q37 (the 1976 group) display many similarities and would seem to be authored by the same individual.

(B) Q14 through Q16, and Q38 fit weakly into the 1976 group, displaying a few similarities to the rest of the group. Considering that the difference in the style and content could be due to the subject matter involved (Q15, Q16, and Q38 are the letters of apology), this grouping of documents may also have been authored by the same individual who did the rest of the 1976 group.

- (C) Q17 through Q38 are dissimilar to the documents named in (A) and (B) above. It is concluded that one person authored this group and that this author was not involved in writing the documents named in (A) and (B).
- (D) Q39 through Q56 (the 1977 group) display similarities as a group and would seem to be authored by the same individual. In comparing this group to the 1976 group, however, minor differences were found along with some similarities. Q40, Q52, and Q56 a little more closely resemble the 1976 group, but the tie is not strong. Perhaps the eleven-month time lapse between these groups accounts for the differences in style. It is possible that this 1977 group was authored by the same individual involved in authoring the 1976 group.
- (E) Q57 through Q60 (the 1978 group) display similarities and were probably authored by the same individual. This grouping of documents bears a strong resemblance to those in the 1976 group (along with some differences). Q58 bears similarities to Q4; Q60 even more closely resembles Q4. They are much less similar to the 1977 group. The ten-month time lapse between the 1977 and 1978 groups may account for the difference in style, indicating the possibility that the same author was involved.

If the same person did not author the documents named in (A), (B), (D), & (E) above, then the additional author(s) had access to the original letter(s) so that the same vocabulary items, content items, handwriting and hand printing styles could be used. There is insufficient evidence for determining the author's age, sex, educational level, ethnic or geographic background.

No Laboratory report is attached.

Q57 Envelope postmarked "PITTSBURGH, PA 152 PM 24 OCT 1978"
bearing the hand printed address "Mr. JOE PATERNO Penn

Q58 One-page hand printed letter beginning "PATERNO, I KNOW

Q59 Envelope postmarked "PITTSBURGH, PA 152 PM 24 OCT 1978" bearing the hand printed address [redacted] Penn

Q60 One-page hand printed letter beginning [redacted] At This

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writings on Q57 through Q60 were prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writings on various items received previously in this matter. These questioned writings have not been identified with the writing of a known person or persons.

Q57 through Q60 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source. It was noted, however, that the stamps on Q57 and Q59 were torn from a sheet or sheets of stamps. In addition, a binder material was noted along the upper edges of the sheets of paper used for Q58 and Q60 indicating those items were torn from a pad or tablet.

Q57 through Q80, which have been photographed, will be returned to Philadelphia with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

Result of examination:

Because the limited hand printing on previously submitted Q13 is not comparable with portions of the questioned hand printing appearing on Q39 and Q40, a definite conclusion was not reached whether the writer of Q13 prepared Q39 and Q40.
Characteristics were noted, however, in the comparable portions of the hand printing on Q13, Q39, and Q40 which indicate those items probably were prepared by the same person.

Q39 contains no watermark, indented writing, or other identifying characteristic which would indicate its source. It was noted, however, that the stamp on Q39 was torn from a booklet of stamps. Indented hand printing was noted on Q40; however, the message is not entirely clear. The indented words noted appear to be similar in wording to the hand printed words appearing on Q40. No watermark was noted in Q40. The Q40 paper was cut from a larger sheet of paper and appears to have been torn from a pad or tablet.

Q39 and Q40, which have been photographed, will be returned to your office with the result of the latent fingerprint examination.

Q38 Accompanying sheet of paper bearing handwritten letter beginning "Mr. Paterno, I realize..."

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned writing on Q13 through Q16, Q37, and Q38 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q12. It was also concluded that the aforementioned person or persons did not prepare the questioned writing on Q17 through Q36.

The questioned writing on Q17 through Q36 was searched through the appropriate sections of the Anonymous Letter File without making an identification. Appropriate copies will be added to this file for future reference.

Numerous purple woolen fibers were found on Q13. Other woolen fibers of different colors and various colored cotton fibers and synthetic fibers also were found on Q13. Many of these fibers are suitable for significant microscopic comparisons with known fiber sources.

Two limb hairs possessing Caucasian characteristics were found on Q13 as well. These hairs are of no value for significant comparison purposes.

No indented writing was noted on Q13 through Q38. The watermark "EATON'S 1893 LETTER PAPER" was noted in Q14 and Q37. That watermark is listed to the Eaton Paper Company, Division of Textron, 75 South Church Street, Pittsfield, Massachusetts. Information was noted on the Q17 through Q20 post cards indicating they were made by Dexter Press, West Nyack, New York. The Q21, Q25, Q28, Q33, and Q35 envelopes are the type of envelope which can be purchased at United States Post Offices. No watermarks or other identifying characteristics were noted in the other questioned items which would indicate their immediate source or sources.

Result of examination:

It was concluded that the questioned handwriting on Q8, Q10 and Q12 was prepared by the person or persons who prepared the questioned writing on previously submitted Q1 through Q4. Because script handwriting is not comparable with hand printing, no conclusion was reached whether the aforementioned person or persons prepared the hand printing on Q5 through Q7, Q9 and Q11.

b6
b7C

The hand printing on Q5 through Q7, Q9 and Q11 was searched through the appropriate sections of the Anonymous Letter File without making an identification. Appropriate copies will be added to this file for future reference.

Q5 through Q12 contain no watermarks, indented writings, or other identifying characteristics which would indicate their source. It was noted, however, that the stamps on Q5, Q7, Q9 and Q11 were torn from a sheet or sheets of stamps and that the Q6, Q8, Q10 and Q12 sheets of paper were torn from a pad or tablet.

No conclusion was reached whether the questioned writing on Q5 through Q12 was prepared by either [REDACTED] whose signatures appear on K1, because the writings of those individuals appearing on K1 are not sufficiently comparable with the questioned writing.

From such a comparison as could be made, some differences were noted in comparing the signatures on K1 with the questioned writing on Q1 through Q4. However, if further comparisons are desired, writing samples (either dictated or undictated) of any suspect, consisting of the words appearing on Q1 through Q4 or words comparable in letters and letter combinations thereto, may be of value. A sufficient number of samples should be obtained until it is believed that variations in the writing habits of the person furnishing the samples can be accounted for.

From such a comparison as could be made, some differences were noted in comparing the signatures on K1 with the questioned writing on Q1 through Q4. However, if further comparisons are desired, with samples (either dictated or undictated) of any suspect, consisting of the words appearing on Q1 through Q4 or words comparable in letters and letter combinations thereto, may be of value. A sufficient number of samples should be obtained until it is believed that variations in the writing habits of the person furnishing the samples can be accounted for.

C:Yeah, isn't a cure for cancer and heart disease important for the town of State College? Uh, Mr. PATERNO has to prove he's a legend. I feel he let his team down this past year. I want him to play Nebraska and Minersville, then he'll be a true legend and uh, can stay at, uh Penn State one (1) more year if he wants it. I want him to push my seven (7) franchises I'm picking up. Him and [redacted] and [redacted] is uh, coming together too. Uh, do you think that's important? Uh, uh, twenty-five years nutritional knowledge, I was in the right place at the right time. Over the years scientists and doctors have done wonderful work but the American people haven't learned about these things. How about that Mr. PATERNO? Are you willing to study the Bible too, sir, or are you gonna' stick with those Catholic liars?

Well, I got involved with other things and now I'm back. So it won't happen again. So I can help [redacted] and the whole team and State College itself. Does PATERNO want this? That's how he's gonna' be a billionaire if he cooperates and is uh, cancer cure heart disease and high blood pressure cure uh, has come together and I happen to be from [redacted] so are we in a partnership Mr. PATERNO? Uh, the people around you won't let me through. So how'm I gonna' get through? Uh, I could have people come to see you. Do you want to start doing that? Or is [redacted] gonna' take your place?
