87 preprocessed pages are enclosed. To expedite requests, preprocessed packages are released the same way they were originally processed. Documents or information originating with other Government agencies that were originally referred to that agency were not referred as part of this release. This material is being provided to you at no charge.

In accordance with standard FBI practice and pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and Privacy Act exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. § 552/552a (b)(7)(E)/(j)(2)], this response neither confirms nor denies the existence of your subject's name on any watch lists.

For your information, Congress excluded three discrete categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIA. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(c) (2006 & Supp. IV (2010)). This response is limited to those records that are subject to the requirements of the FOIA. This is a standard notification that is given to all our requesters and should not be taken as an indication that excluded records do, or do not, exist. Enclosed for your information is a copy of the Explanation of Exemptions.

For questions regarding our determinations, visit the www.fbi.gov/foia website under "Contact Us." The FOIPA Request Number listed above has been assigned to your request. Please use this number in all correspondence concerning your request. Your patience is appreciated.

Your appeal must be postmarked or electronically transmitted within ninety (90) days from the date of this letter in order to be considered timely. If you submit your appeal by mail, both the letter and the envelope should be clearly marked "Freedom of Information Act Appeal." [redacted] Price Waterhouse and Company, Washington, D.C.,

[redacted] The appointee is the Managing Partner of the Office of Government Services and he reports directly to the Senior Partner in New York.
[redacted] and the appointee have day to day dealings on administrative matters. The appointee is well liked and admired at Price Waterhouse. He is all business and very dedicated. His integrity is high and he is well respected in the community. Although the appointee is approaching mandatory retirement in June, he has not slowed down or shirked his duties. [redacted] was not aware of anything derogatory concerning the appointee's associates and he would not question his loyalty. His reputation as a Tax Partner at Price Waterhouse and a Lawyer is impeccable and he would receive the highest praise from all. [redacted] was definite in his recommendation of the appointee for a position of trust and responsibility with the U.S. Government.

[redacted] at Price Waterhouse
Associates International, Washington, D.C., advised SA [redacted] [redacted] on January 19, 1981, that he met the appointee at a partners meeting in 1967 or 1968. In 1976, [redacted]

[redacted] specifically at the appointee's
request. [redacted]

[redacted] characterized the appointee as an absolutely delightful guy. His confidence in the appointee extends from his business association into his personal knowledge of the appointee. Although they are not in the same social group, [redacted] knows the appointee's wife and daughter's and characterized them as fine people. He would have absolutely no reason to question his loyalty and added that the appointee's reputation in the City and the Firm was outstanding. The appointee has a clear understanding of policy and does not get bogged down in trivia. It was [redacted] understanding that the appointee started the Office of Government Services in approximately 1973 and has remained the first and only partner in charge of this Office. In the beginning, the staff complement of the Office of Government Services was only the appointee, a Secretary, and Manager. It is now grown to over one hundred people. [redacted] offered an absolute and unqualified recommendation of the appointee for a position of trust and confidence with the U.S. Government.

b6

[redacted]
[redacted] Price Waterhouse and Company Washington, D.C., advised SA [redacted] on January 19, 1981 that he has known the appointee since 1965 and has worked with him since [redacted]. They are good friends as well as professional acquaintances and [redacted] was not aware of anything derogatory regarding the appointee's associates. He would not question the appointee's loyalty to anyone or anything. The appointee is very active in the community and has been a contributing member in such Organizations as the Chamber of Commerce, and the National Cathedral School Board. He knows a lot of people in the community and people have a warm respect for him. He is a competent and conscientious individual. His concern extends from people doing a good job to the world around him. His integrity is without question and he is a honest and forthright individual. He is conservative in dress and manner. The appointee is truly the leader of the office and he leads by persuasion. He is strong where he has to be strong but is not a domineering individual. [redacted] was certain in his recommendation of the appointee for a position of trust and confidence with the U.S. Government and added that he did not think the administration could do better.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD—SENATE

engrossed for a third reading, was read the third time, and passed.

The preamble was agreed to.

The joint resolution, with its preamble, was passed, as follows:

S.J. Res. 22

Whereas a free press exists to serve the American people whose daily decisions rest on their having information;

Whereas a fundamental principle of our Nation is that given information, the people can make the decisions that determine their present and their future;

Whereas if these decisions are to be wise, they must be reached after weighing the facts and considering the alternatives and consequences;

Whereas the freedom we cherish in this land is rooted in information;

Whereas this freedom of information deserves to be emphasized and celebrated annually;

Whereas many Americans, because they have never known any other way of life, take the freedom of information provided under the First Amendment of the Constitution for granted;

Whereas many Americans do not recognize fully how this provision of the Bill of Rights affects their daily lives; and

Whereas March 16 is the birthday of James Madison, who was the Founding Father who recognized and supported the need to guarantee individual rights through the first ten amendments to the Constitution: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President is authorized and requested to designate March 16, 1981, as "Freedom of Information Day", and to call upon Federal, State, and local government agencies, and the people of the United States to observe such day with appropriate programs, ceremonies, and activities.

Amend the title so as to read "Joint resolution authorizing the President to proclaim March 16, 1981, as 'Freedom of Information Day'".
