EXTORTION - THREAT LETTERS
OO: Los Angeles

Re FD-71 dated 8/15/87.

On Saturday, 8/15/87, a representative of U.S. Post Office, Van Nuys Clearing Station, advised that an envelope addressed to ELIZABETH TAYLOR at METRO GOLDWYN MAYER (MGM) STUDIOS with a return address of Salt Lake City, Utah, was observed to have written on the outside, "I'd like to kill [REDACTED]". The postal supervisor advised that they suspected that the letter was a letter bomb. They contacted the postal inspector's office who advised them to contact the FBI. They put the letter in a desk drawer and were holding it for the FBI. On 8/17/87, writer telephonically advised Postal Supervisor COOK at the station that there was no extortion violation based on the statement outside the envelope. He was also advised that if they suspected that the envelope contained a letter bomb that the FBI was not going to come out and pick it up. It was recommended that they re-contact the postal inspector's office and also the LOS ANGELES POLICE DEPARTMENT Bomb Squad. Writer further advised that the letter should be, if cleared, delivered to the addressee with instructions that if the letter contains threats against any person that the FBI should be contacted.

Based on the fact that there is no violation established, it is recommended the matter be closed on this matter.

Dear Elizabeth Taylor,

Many teenagers have asked me to write you this letter.

How could you be such a spoiled egotistical, spoiled brat?
You must really live the life of the real world (like the life of Judy). We think you're a selfish brat, you must have played William Davis just so you could get some publicity because of his big name. (and)

In all your pictures you are part of a sophisticated, committed much better if you acted less say the same for you. Well

I must end my friendly letter now.

" Land Lord

My dear Miss Taylor,

Many teenagers like yourself have asked me to write you this letter. In our opinion you are a typical little bum!

For your age you are certainly living and acting like the girl that hangs around bars & lets men get what they want out of her.

Like the Dukes know ~~the~~ girls, and we think for a girl your age you sure are a little whore!!

For a girl whose been engaged (I don't know how many times) I hope Billy-boy doesn't have to bad a time, the first night, trying to break something that all ready was broke so many times (Lord above us only knows & those who did it). We know Billy-Boy isn't that type of boy (although he may have done it to you, laying I mean, many times)

448
11-3-47
Better not come to New York because if you do us "The Dukes" will be ready & waiting to lay & feel you. There are very many of us. So you better watch your step or we'll cripple you for good.
I by some chance you don't know what whose means come to me and I'll show you (I'll demonstrate) and you won't forget for the rest of your life. You were probably ~~lay~~ fucked so many times to you it's like taking a good clean shit and you got plenty of it to get rid of because when you are acting you like you have to go bad! You probably wear falsies because they look to get to be real, maybe you ^{will} let me try them out to find out. Huh!
If you wish to answer this letter & let me know what you think about us you can answer in modern screen. If you don't we'll come to Hollywood & layed you if it's the last thing we do. THE AMBOY DUKES.

Specimens:

- Q3 Envelope bearing handprinted address "704 N. Elm Drive Beverly Hills California" postmarked "New York, N. Y. Apr 26 12:30 AM 1949."
- Q4 Accompanying handprinted letter dated April 25, 1949, beginning "My Dear Miss Taylor, I have been one of your admiring fans...."

- Q8 Accompanying handwritten letter dated October 17, 1949, beginning "My dear Miss TAYLOR, Many teenagers like yourself have asked me to write...."

Results of examination:

Specimens Q3 through Q8 were compared with specimens Q1 and Q2, submitted by your office under date of October 27, 1949, and it was concluded that the handprinting on Q1 and Q2 was not prepared by the writers of the handprinting on specimens Q6 through Q8. A definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether specimens Q1 and Q2 were prepared by the individual who prepared the handprinting appearing on specimens Q3 through Q5 because this material is not comparable.

It was further concluded that specimen Q6 was not written by the writer of specimens Q7 and Q8. The handwriting appearing on specimen Q6 is not sufficiently comparable with the handwriting appearing on specimens Q7 and Q8 to warrant a definite opinion. A definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether any of the handwriting was prepared by the individual who prepared any of the handwriting because of the lack of comparable material.

Specimen Q3 is a white smooth finish envelope measuring approximately $6 \frac{2}{3}$ by $3 \frac{2}{3}$ ". Specimen Q4 is a piece of white laid finish paper of the type that can be sealed to form its own envelope. This sheet measures approximately 6 by 8". Specimens Q3 and Q4 contain no watermarks. Specimen Q5 is similar to specimen Q3 in dimensions and finish. Specimen Q6 is a piece of a sheet of linen finish paper measuring approximately $5 \frac{1}{2}$ by 7" and containing the watermark "Imperial Valley." Paper bearing this watermark is sold by the S. B. Kress Company Store. Specimen Q7, a white linen finish envelope, measures approximately $3 \frac{2}{3}$ by 6" and contains the watermark "Kress". Paper bearing this watermark is sold exclusively by the Kress Company. Specimen Q8, measuring approximately 10 by $5 \frac{1}{3}$ ", contains no watermark. This is a piece of white bond finish paper.

Specimens Q3 through Q8 were chemically treated for the development of latent fingerprints and a report on this examination will be submitted separately.

The evidence submitted, Q3 through Q8, is retained in the files of the laboratory for possible use in connection with any subsequent examinations which may be requested.

[redacted] who operates [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted], New York City, ship supplies, was interviewed at his office. [redacted] stated that he was a major in the United States Army during World War II, and since his discharge has been operating [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] stated that his business requires several trips abroad yearly; that his late father also was required to travel abroad and that he spent a lot of time in England. Years ago [redacted] father met the late TOM E. DENNIS, a wealthy farm owner in England. [redacted] exhibited to the reporting agent an English newspaper "The Standard" dated October 26, 1940, which devoted a half page to the announcement of the death of TOM E. DENNIS. The article is headed, "Prominent County Figure Passes." The sub-heading reads "World Travelled in Business Career." A photostatic copy of the newspaper is forwarded herewith to Los Angeles. [redacted] stated that [redacted] is the [redacted] of TOM E. DENNIS, and that JOHANNIS father and TOM E. DENNIS became business associates, which association lasted many years until the death of MR. DENNIS.

[redacted] met [redacted] during the war when [redacted] was in England. He talked to [redacted] about five minutes, and then had to proceed on official business. [redacted] was not aware that [redacted] was coming to the United States until [redacted] telephoned him upon his arrival in New York City on October 30, 1945.

b6
b7C

[redacted] was very surprised at [redacted] presence and inasmuch as both [redacted] and his late father had been guests of the [redacted] family whenever they were in England, [redacted] felt obligated to arrange for a place for [redacted] to stay. [redacted] telephoned the Metropolitan Club of which [redacted] is a member, and told them to admit [redacted] as his guest. When [redacted] mother heard of [redacted] arrival in the United States, she insisted that he be invited to spend a week-end in their country home in Roslyn, Long Island. [redacted] accepted [redacted] invitation and indicated to [redacted] that he was very displeased that [redacted] did not drop all his business, and devote his time exclusively to entertaining [redacted]. [redacted] was surprised at [redacted] attitude but explained that he was not prepared for [redacted] arrival in New York, and that pressing business affairs kept him from entertaining [redacted] as he would have liked to. [redacted] explained that he assumed this attitude toward [redacted] because of the close association between their respective late fathers.

b7C

[redacted] stated that he very soon formed the thought that [redacted] was an eccentric, and that he was looking for a loan of money to recoup family fortunes. [redacted] stated evidently with the death of [redacted] the personal fortune has dwindled.

b6
b7C

Although [redacted] seemed to be desirous of obtaining a loan of money, he told [redacted] his only reason for his trip to the United States was for pleasure; that he had a farm near Oxford, south of London, England, and that his personal affairs were in good shape.

b6
b7C

When [redacted] arrived at the Roslyn home of the [redacted] family on a Friday evening, he continued to act very queerly, and when he learned that [redacted] had to go into New York City the next day for a business appointment he asked [redacted] if the latter trusted him with [redacted] wife. [redacted] was shocked at this statement but brushed it off as an attempt on [redacted] part to be funny.

b7C

When [redacted] returned from New York City on Saturday evening, [redacted] remarks continued in the same vein. [redacted] finally told [redacted] that it would be better for [redacted] to arrange for an immediate departure from the home. [redacted] consented. He told [redacted] that he had a trunk at the Metropolitan Club which he would leave at the Club until he could make other arrangements. This was agreeable to [redacted].

b6
b7C

NY 9-1573

It may be noted that [] picked up his trunk at a subsequent time, date unknown because no records are maintained on such matters. [] had not heard from [] since that time.

Handwriting of [] appearing in a post card and a letter to [] were obtained by reporting agent and forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory by letter dated December 1, 1949. Laboratory report dated January 3, 1950 advised that [] handwriting is not identical with the handwriting appearing on certain of the questioned specimens. It was not possible to determine whether this individual prepared the hand printing because no hand printing specimens written by [] were available for comparison purposes.

Amboy Street is located in the Brownsville Section of Brooklyn, New York. It is covered by the 73rd precinct, 2 Liberty Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. Detectives [] of the 73rd Squad Detectives were interviewed in the squad room concerning the "Amboy Dukes". None of the detectives ever heard of such a gang. Detective [] telephoned Detective [] presently in charge of Detectives on the Kings County District Attorney's staff, and who before his present assignment was a Detective for thirty years in the Brownsville Section. Detective [] advised that he never heard of any "Amboy Dukes" gang.

Detective [] pointed out that a recent moving picture, "City Across The River" was taken from the book "Amboy Dukes" wherein this gang is mentioned in the picture. He further said that the book "Amboy Dukes" was recently reissued as a Pocket Book edition.

Detective [] stated that there are several gangs in the Brownsville Area that are arrested periodically by the police for carrying guns and for assault, but that these gangs fight among themselves, and do not go in for crime involving persons outside each gang.

The police records were negative in regard to []

At the St. Regis Hotel, 55th Street and Fifth Avenue, New York City, [] Assistant Manager, advised that whenever ELIZABETH TAYLOR stayed at the St. Regis Hotel, the front of the Hotel is always peppered with her young fans. They are generally noisy and good natured, and spend many hours outside the Hotel waiting for a possible autograph. The Hotel personnel recognize the faces of certain fans who return to the front of the Hotel whenever a celebrity appears but no names were ever mentioned, and accordingly, the name of [] would mean nothing to the Hotel personnel.

The following St. Regis doormen were interviewed with negative results: [redacted]

At [redacted] Bronx, New York, discreet neighborhood inquiry disclosed that [redacted] resides at this address in apartment 52-S for the past five years. He is employed as a postal carrier, and has a daughter [redacted] approximate age 15, and a son [redacted] approximate age 12.

[redacted] was contacted and arrangements made to interview his daughter [redacted]. This interview was subsequently conducted in the presence of [redacted] father [redacted]. [redacted] stated that she is 14 years of age, and attends Taft High School. She stated that she was a member of the ELIZABETH TAYLOR fan club started by her friend [redacted], Bronx, New York.

This club was started when [redacted] wrote to ELIZABETH TAYLOR for permission to start a club, and a reply was received from MISS TAYLOR giving her consent. Thereafter [redacted] put an announcement in a screen magazine; [redacted] thinks it might have been Modern Screen; that the fan club was started and correspondents were solicited. [redacted] stated that the club now has about 25 members, and that they always go to see an ELIZABETH TAYLOR picture.

[redacted] was questioned about where she obtained the address of 704 North Elm Drive, Beverly Hills, California, when she wrote to MISS TAYLOR requesting a photograph. [redacted] stated that she obtained this address from [redacted]. It may be noted that [redacted] was not aware that she omitted the name of ELIZABETH TAYLOR from the envelope when she mailed her request to MISS TAYLOR for a photograph. [redacted] never heard of the "Amboy Dukes."

[redacted], Bronx, New York, was interviewed by SA STEPHEN E. CLARK and reporting agent in the presence of her mother. [redacted] advised that she is 16 years of age, and attends Taft High School in the Bronx. She stated that she started the ELIZABETH TAYLOR fan club in May, 1949. She recalled that victim TAYLOR was in New York in February, 1949 and [redacted] contacted her for her California address. [redacted] received the address where MISS TAYLOR could be reached as 703 North Elm Drive, Beverly Hills, California, which address also appears in screen magazines. [redacted] stated that subsequently [redacted] said she wanted to write to ELIZABETH TAYLOR for a photograph, and [redacted] gave [redacted] the address 703 North Elm Drive, where MISS TAYLOR could be contacted. [redacted] denied emphatically that she gave MISS TAYLOR'S address as 704 North Elm Drive. [redacted] on reinterview did not know why she placed the address 704 North Elm Drive on the envelope, but believed that this was the number she obtained from [redacted] tender age and obvious bewilderment precluded any further discussion of this point.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR was in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel from March 6, 1940 through March 26, 1940. During this time she received no similar communications as those upon which instant investigation was predicated.

[redacted] of MGM Studios, Los Angeles, California, who accompanied MISS TAYLOR to New York City, advised that he takes all MISS TAYLOR'S telephone calls and screens all her letters, and stated that nothing had occurred since her arrival in New York City to indicate that subject was active again. b6 b7C

DETAILS:

On November 13, 1949 Mrs. SARAH TAYLOR, mother of victim, telephonically advised that a colored boy attempted to deliver telephone directories to her home during the middle of the afternoon of that date, which was Sunday, which appeared rather suspicious to her.

T-2, of known reliability, was contacted regarding this matter and advised that the man who attempted to deliver the telephone directory was [redacted] residence address [redacted] Los Angeles, telephone RE 9874, who was instructed to deliver new directories on Friday, November 11, 1949 in Beverly Hills, but that he was unable to complete deliveries on that date and was compelled to make deliveries on the following Saturday and Sunday. The TAYLOR family was advised regarding this matter. b6 b7C

On November 20, 1949 Mrs. TAYLOR advised that a man had been arrested that evening by officers of the Beverly Hills, California, Police Department while loitering in the vicinity of the TAYLOR residence under suspicious circumstances, and that following his arrest it was ascertained that he had a letter in his possession addressed to her daughter.

Captain [redacted] of the Beverly Hills Police Department advised that an Englishman by the name of [redacted] was arrested by officers of his Department as a result of a complaint received from [redacted] a neighbor of the TAYLORS, to the effect that a strange man was loitering in the alley back of the [redacted] residence. Captain [redacted] stated that a letter written by [redacted] and addressed to ELIZABETH TAYLOR was found in [redacted] possession following his arrest, but that the letter was not objectionable in any way. Victim's mother had previously advised that according to her information [redacted] was arrested as a result of an inquiry which he made in the neighborhood regarding victim and that when he was arrested, a sketch showing the location of the TAYLOR residence was found in his possession; however, Captain [redacted] advised that his investigation failed to disclose that [redacted] made any inquiries regarding victim and that no sketch or drawing was found in his possession. b6 b7C

[redacted] was interviewed at the Beverly Hills City Jail in the presence of Sergeant [redacted] of the Beverly Hills Police Department, and advised that he is a native of England, where he is engaged in farming; that he left England to visit the United States on a pleasure trip, expecting to return to England during the latter part of January, 1950. He stated that he arrived in New York City on October 19, 1949 aboard the S. S. QUEEN ELIZABETH, and registered at the Bristol Hotel, where he lived about a week. b6 b7C while sight-seeing in New York City; that from New York City he went to Washington, D. C. to visit a friend by the name of [redacted] a Government employee who has a clerical job of some sort at the "House of Representatives" and who resides on Worthington Avenue (phonetic). [redacted] could not recall the house number on Worthington Avenue and advised that he was not certain regarding the exact nature of [redacted] employment. After visiting in Washington for a week or ten days [redacted] returned to New York City for two days before proceeding directly to California. He traveled via the Santa Fe Railroad, arriving in Los Angeles on November 13, 1949. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that he registered at the Hermitage Hotel, 448 S. San Vicente Avenue, Los Angeles, and on the day of his arrest was merely walking around Beverly Hills intending to see the home of ELIZABETH TAYLOR, whom he had seen at the Mocambo Night Club the night before and whose address he had obtained from a movie director. [redacted] admitted that he wanted to meet Miss TAYLOR, but insisted that he did not intend to violate any law or harm her in any way. b6 b7C

The letter found in [redacted] possession at the time of his arrest was secured from the Beverly Hills Police Department and forwarded to the Laboratory for comparison with the anonymous letters which victim received from New York City and Brooklyn. [redacted] letter is quoted as follows:

"Dear Miss Taylor

"20-11-49

"I am Englishman over here on a short vacation. I write to ask a favour of you which I didn't take the opportunity of asking personally last night at the Mocambo where I would very much to have danced with you.

"Of the parties I came to see over here one is away & the other is too busy to spend time with me. So my experience of Hollywood is hardly what it could be, to date.

"I am, however, sufficiently impressed with California to wish that I had a wife & home here - & for that a job, as you know, is needed.

"Acting is in my blood & I sing as well as, if not better than, the ginger at the Mocambo. Hence my writing you to ask you the great favour of meeting me because I can see that you appreciate singing.

"It is some time since I saw a picture of yours. I am afraid. So this request can hardly be regarded as coming from a fan although I admit I was struck by your beauty last night.

"I am merely what I believe is considered a pretty (English) Bachelor with limited (Washington friend) dollars at his disposal here seeking pleasure & some profit in the way of useful contacts for a return visit.

"Can you, or rather will you, help me achieve my object? It would be nice to meet you "on the set", perhaps failing that, for supper somewhere. I don't think you would be too disappointed if you agreed, in return for which I would hope to repay you in any way you may think fit.

"Your Sincerely

/s/ [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] Manager of the Hermitage Hotel, 446 1/2 S. San Vicente Avenue, advised that [redacted] registered on November 13, 1949, stating that he only recently arrived in this country from England for the purpose of making a short sight-seeing trip. [redacted] stated that although [redacted] gave his home address as 1 Carrington House, Hertford Street, London W1, he appeared to be completely lost in Los Angeles, and that informant had to furnish [redacted] with instructions and diagrams so that he could go to the places he wanted to see. [redacted] recalled that [redacted] on one occasion went to the Mocambo Night Club, where he saw ELIZABETH TAYLOR and thought she was very beautiful.

b7C

Continuing, [redacted] informed that while [redacted] was being held by the Beverly Hills Police, officers from the Beverly Hills Police checked [redacted] room and found a leather case containing $300 in cash and some traveler's checks which [redacted] had left unprotected. [redacted] further advised that [redacted] checked out of the hotel on November 25, 1949, stating that he was going to San Francisco before returning to New York City; that he was not staying in this country as long as he had expected to stay, but had planned on leaving for England about January 15, 1950. Several days later [redacted] received a letter from [redacted] postmarked at San Francisco advising that [redacted] was leaving immediately for New York City and requesting [redacted] to mail his laundry to him in care of the Metropolitan Club, 5th Avenue and 60th Street, which [redacted] did. [redacted] volunteered the statement that in his opinion [redacted] was an innocent victim of circumstances and meant no harm to ELIZABETH TAYLOR.

Captain [] of the Beverly Hills Police Department, informed that following [] arrest his room at the Hermitage Hotel was searched, and that $800 in cash and some traveler's checks was found there. He also stated that [] passport and visa were found in his room and upon examination appeared to be regular in every respect. Captain [] further stated that on [] 1949 [] pleaded guilty in the Beverly Hills Justice Court to charges of loitering, and was released after receiving a ten day sentence, which was suspended. The following description of [] was obtained by interrogation and observation:

On December 2, 1949 T-1, a reliable informant, confidentially advised that ELIZABETH TAYLOR met BILL PAULEY, a wealthy playboy, in Florida during February, 1949, and shortly thereafter accepted his proposal of marriage. Informant stated that PAULEY continuously talked to Miss TAYLOR about a Yogi who is located in New York City and whom PAULEY frequently consulted because of the Yogi's supernatural powers, and that as a consequence Miss TAYLOR became afraid of PAULEY and recently broke her engagement to him. Informant stated that PAULEY'S mother is presently confined in a mental institution and that on occasions informant has seriously questioned the sanity of BILL PAULEY. Informant admitted knowing nothing concerning the context of the letters involved in this investigation, but expressed the opinion that BILL PAULEY may have had some connection with the letters in question.

On November 20, 1949 [] Beverly Hills, telephonically advised that she had been reading the newspaper accounts of instant matter and that she thought it best to advise the Bureau that her daughter, [] was acquainted with a young man named [] who insisted that [] introduce him to ELIZABETH TAYLOR despite the fact that [] is not acquainted with Miss TAYLOR. [redacted] stated that one evening about two months ago [redacted] appeared at the [redacted] home in a very excited state, unannounced, and kept referring to Miss TAYLOR as "E. T." [redacted] did not appear to be satisfied with [redacted] assurance that she did not know ELIZABETH TAYLOR, and on this occasion [redacted] actions appeared peculiar and mysterious. She stated that [redacted] has written to [redacted] on several occasions referring to ELIZABETH TAYLOR. [redacted] was able to locate one of [redacted] letters, which is quoted as follows:

"October 12, 1949

This letter was forwarded to the Laboratory for comparison with the letters previously submitted.

F. B. I. Laboratory report dated November 4, 1949 advised that the letter addressed to victim and postmarked at Brooklyn, New York, October 1, 1949, was not searched through the Anonymous Letter File since this type

Prof. G. W. ...
Pittsburgh, Pa.

LA 9-1227

of material is not normally found in the Anonymous Letter File, and that such a search would not be productive at this time. The report advised that the letter was written on paper similar to the type of paper normally found in school notebooks.

On November 10, 1949 the Laboratory advised that one latent palmprint was developed on the envelope of this letter and that five latent fingerprints and one latent palmprint were found on the letter itself.

With reference to the three letters addressed to 704 N. Elm Drive, Beverly Hills, which were postmarked at New York on April 26, 12:30 A.M. 1949, April 26, 1:00 A.M. 1949, and October 18, 1:30 A.M. 1949, the Laboratory advised on November 21, 1949 that the letter from Brooklyn described above was not prepared by the writer of the letters postmarked at New York City April 26, 1:00 A.M. 1949 and October 18, 1:30 A.M. 1949. A definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether the Brooklyn letter was prepared by the individual who wrote the letter postmarked at New York City April 26, 12:30 A.M. 1949 because the writing is not comparable.

It was further reported that the letter postmarked at New York City April 26, 1:00 A.M. 1949 was not written by the individual who wrote the letter postmarked at New York City on October 18, 1949. The handwriting appearing on the envelope postmarked New York City April 26, 1:00 A.M. 1949 is not sufficiently comparable with the handwriting appearing on the letter of October 18, 1949, according to the Laboratory. Water marks and descriptive information regarding the paper upon which these three letters were written were also furnished by the Laboratory.

On November 23, 1949 the Laboratory advised that the writer of the [] letter did not prepare the Brooklyn letter or the New York City letters which are postmarked April 26, 1:00 A.M. and October 18, 1949. Furthermore, the [] letter could not be compared with the New York City letter postmarked April 26, 12:30 A.M., 1949, as the letter is handprinted. The Laboratory further concluded that the writer of the [] letter did not prepare any of the previously submitted handwritten letters.

Actress Gets Foul Threats

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19 (AP). Three obscene letters threatening violence have been received by the family of actress Elizabeth Taylor, her studio said today.

The letters were turned over to the FBI.

Two of the letters, one from Brooklyn, were so vile Miss Taylor's family would not permit the girl to see them.

Elizabeth Taylor

A studio spokesman said the letters were received over a period of several weeks. Miss Taylor at first was inclined to discredit the letters as the work of some crank, he said, but decided to tell authorities after the third one arrived.

The letters apparently were written by three separate individuals, he said.

department several weeks ago, it was not processed until October 24, 1949.

The letter was submitted to Assistant United States Attorney [redacted], Los Angeles, who advised that in view of the threats and obscenity contained in this letter, prosecution will be undertaken when the identity of the writer is established.

b7C

The letter in question was submitted to the Laboratory which later advised that this letter was written on paper similar to the type of paper found in school note books. The letter was also treated for the development of latent fingerprints, but a report has not as yet been received concerning this examination. A search through the Anonymous Letter File was not made at this time owing to the nature of the letter. The Laboratory further advised that photographic copies of this letter and its envelope were forwarded to the New York office for its information.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]:

b6
b7C

On November 2, 1949 ELIZABETH TAYLOR and her mother, Mrs. SARAH TAYLOR, were interviewed at Paramount Studio in the presence of ELIZABETH TAYLOR's agent, JULES GOLDSTONE. Miss TAYLOR is under contract to MGM and is on a loan out to Paramount at the present time. She is seventeen years of age and, according to GOLDSTONE, is supervised and chaperoned closely by her mother at all times.

Mrs. TAYLOR advised that they have never lived in Brooklyn or New York City, but have visited New York City on a number of occasions, and they have made it their habit to stop at the St. Regis Hotel while there. ELIZABETH has never worked in New York and they have never had any personal servants while in that city. According to Mrs. TAYLOR, they have never had any trouble with their servants in Los Angeles and neither she nor ELIZABETH could suggest any suspect amongst employees or acquaintances.

When asked concerning similar types of threatening letters, Mrs. TAYLOR advised that she did not recall that ELIZABETH had ever received any threatening or obscene letters, but she had, of course, received a number of the usual letter requesting loans, gifts, etc.

Mrs. TAYLOR explained that her husband, FRANCIS TAYLOR, who operates an art gallery at the Beverly Hills Hotel, usually handled any fan mail that was sent to their residence at 703 North Elm, Beverly Hills.

When questioned further concerning their New York trips, Mrs. TAYLOR recalled that a year or so ago they had been bothered considerably by a fan by the name of [redacted]. She explained that whenever

b6
b7C

LA 9-1227

ELIZABETH is at the St. Regis Hotel, there is a group of odd characters who would gather around the hotel, seeking autographs. She said most of these individuals appeared to be of the undesirable type inasmuch as they were swarthy, badly clothed, and very impolite. She stated that [redacted] who evidently was an ardent fan of ELIZABETH's, had called the hotel on innumerable occasions, leaving his name and later ELIZABETH had received a letter from him in which he requested permission to start a fan club in New York for her. Mrs. TAYLOR stated that the letter was answered, and she seemed to recall that [redacted] was from Brooklyn, but could not be sure of this. She said she had no reason to believe that he would be the type to write an obscene or threatening letter for he seemed to be an ardent fan. She described [redacted] as being about nineteen or twenty years of age, tall, and gangly, with a pimply adolescent face.

b7C

On November 3, 1949 FRANCIS TAYLOR, ELIZABETH's father, was interviewed at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and advised he had recently received a fan letter for ELIZABETH which was so obscene that he had not brought it either to ELIZABETH's or Mrs. TAYLOR's attention. This letter, which he furnished to Special Agent BRYNE, was postmarked New York, New York, Bronx Central Station, October 18, 1949. On the reverse side of the envelope was written "The Amboy Dukes to LIZZIE". The letter itself is dated October 17, 1949, and begins "My dear Miss TAYLOR: many teenagers like yourself have asked me to write you this letter..." The letter ends "...if it is the last thing we do. The Amboy Dukes".

Mr. TAYLOR advised that his former secretary who has handled most of the replies to the fan mail, was no longer with him, and he doubted if he could locate her, but he stated he was quite sure that the letter from [redacted] and reply would not have been filed. He was requested to search through any files that he might have of questionable letters or unanswered letters to ELIZABETH, and the following items of interest were found:

b6
b7C

One letter postmarked April 26, 1949, 1:00 a.m., the Bronx Central Station, New York, New York. The envelope was directed to 704 North Elm Drive and had no return address. This letter, which is dated April 25, 1949, begins, "Dear ELIZABETH TAYLOR: Many teenagers have asked me to write you this letter..." and ends, "...if you don't know what it means look it up in the dictionary. The Dukes".

Another letter which is postmarked April 26, 1949, at 12:30 a.m., Bronx Central Station, New York, New York, was addressed to 704 North Elm Drive and return address of [redacted] N.Y., N.Y. This letter, which was dated April 25, 1949, begins, "My dear Miss TAYLOR: I have been one of your admiring fans," and ends, "...Thank you. Yours truly, [redacted]".

b6
b7C

LA 9-1227

b6
b7c

The last two letters mentioned both were sent to an address, not to an individual and both had the address wrong - [REDACTED] instead of [REDACTED]. One of these envelopes was marked in the left-hand corner "RUSH" and the other was marked in the left-hand corner "HURRY".

As indicated above, they were postmarked at the same station on the same date within a half hour a part, and the last letter appearing to be an admiring, complimentary letter, and the former is an obscene and threatening letter.

The three letters obtained by Agent HIRSH have been submitted to the Laboratory with the request that the writing be compared with the writing which appears in the letter previously submitted to the Laboratory in this case to determine whether any of the letters were written by the same individual. It was also requested that the letters be processed for latent fingerprints and that the New York office be furnished with copies of all Laboratory reports.

ENCLOSURES TO THE BUREAU AND UNITED STATES ATTORNEY

"Our London business is good, but Vienna and Berlin are quite quiet. Mr. D. Lloyd has gone to Switzerland and I hope for good news. He will be there for a week, at 1496 Zermot St., and then goes to Turin and Rome, and will join Col. Parry, and arrive at Athens, Greece, Nov. 27th, or Dec. 2nd. Letters there should be addressed: King James Blvd. 3580. We expect Chas. E. Fuller, Tuesday. Dr. L. McQuaid and Robt. Unger, Esq. left on the 'Y.X. Express tonight."
