				1961, including, without limitation any such communication monitored by intelligence facilities on Cyprus and/or Crete. US Air Force aircraft under the command of US air attaches Benjamin Matlick and/or Don Gaylor (any other US government aircraft at or in the vicinity of Ndola, Northern Rhodesia (now, Zambia), or any facility located elsewhere capable of monitoring or intercepting radio communications in any portion of the Congo or Northern Rhodesia and including, without limitation, all records relating to a pilot identified as "LR" or "The Lone Ranger". The night of September 17/18, 1961 near Ndola, Zambia (the "Crash"), is widely recognized to be one of the foremost statesmen of his time and the most effective leader the United Nations has ever had. The circumstances surrounding his death have been an enduring mystery. Scholars and students of international affairs generally, and in particular of the Cold War, colonialism, and African independence, and the formulation and conduct of United States policy with respect thereto, have long sought answers to the background and reasons for the Crash. A complete understanding of the role of the government of the United States and its operations and activities in what is known as the "Congo Crisis of 1960-1963" has been frustrated by the ongoing uncertainty relating to Mr. Hammarskjöld's death. The information housed in US government archives sought by this request could be indispensable in filling a large hole in the historic narrative of that period and in contributing to public understanding of our government's operations and activities in the Congo Crisis and, more specifically, in contributing to an understanding of the role American policy played in the Congo turmoil and in the tragic and still unexplained death of Mr. Hammarskjöld. - The abiding importance of this issue and its public interest is underscored by the fact that the Crash has been the subject of no fewer than four formal inquiries, two by the government of Northern Rhodesia in 1961, one by the United Nations in 1962, and one by a private commission of eminent jurists in 2013. In addition, the event has been the focus of numerous books and extensive news coverage, which continues to this day. Moreover, the UN General Assembly has recently passed two resolutions (Res. 69/246 of December 29, 2014 and Res. 70/11 of November 15, 2015) that, among other things, commissioned a new inquiry by an Independent Panel of Technical Experts into new information that has

				surfaced with respect to the Crash. Pursuant to the General Assembly resolutions, the United Nations, through Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon, is currently pursuing the Panel's work. Those General Assembly resolutions call upon all UN member states, including the United States, to provide the United Nations with all records and information they have relating to the death of Mr. Hammarskjold. - We intend to disseminate widely the results of this request, and of similar requests to other agencies, so as to promote public understanding and to create as broad a public benefit as possible. HQ-2016-01432-F	09/09/2016	Sigley, Tami	-	My grandfather, Harry James Prince (August 17, 1910) worked for the Atomic Energy Commission during the Manhattan Project. He was stationed in Los Alamos, NM. When he died in 1974, my grandmother said that government officials came to the house and

They obtained letters and photographs of his time during the Manhattan Project (and likely the Nevada nuclear test site) including family pictures (e.g. a photograph with my mother sitting on Oppenheimer's lap). We would like these photographs returned. Further, because his job was classified, we know little about his job responsibilities or titles held with the Atomic Energy Commission.
