14-F-1494	Tagg, James	Private Individual	PAL	9/22/2014	9/26/2014	The attached picture labelled Afghanistan Stability CoIN Dynamics was featured on the front of the New York Times in print on April 27, 2010, on page A1 of the New York edition. The slide and slide show is widely available on the web with the copyright PA Knowledge and marked Draft 3. Can you tell me. Is the Image and presentation the property of the US government? (It is reported as being prepared for the Joint Chief's of staff.) Can you confirm the US government bought the report? Did the government release the report into the public domain? Can you please release the document under the FOIA into the public domain? (Since it was already on the front of the New York times I think this would not present any security issues and would in fact be in the public interest.) The reason for this request is that I would like to comment on the image in a forthcoming book about the complexity of human communication and understanding. 15-F-0316	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/20/2014	Documents containing information relating to all activities for the certification of the Atlas V space launch vehicle to conduct missions as part of Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle (EELV) Program. Specifically, I am seeking the Atlas V Tailored Critical Design Review, the Design Certification Review, reviews of the first stage propulsion system, and any other reviews conducted by OSD for the purpose of certifying the vehicle and any subsystems for space launch.
15-F-0317	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/20/2014	A copy of the following documents be provided to me: (1) Any waivers to EELV requirements that exempted Lockheed Martin and, subsequently, the United Launch Alliance (ULA) from developing an Atlas V Heavy launch vehicle configuration. EELV and National Space Transportation Policy requirements mandate two independent vehicle families that can each execute 100 percent of the National Security Space Launch mission requirements. However, the Atlas family of launch vehicles never met this requirement; (2) information relating to any U.S. Government funds provided to Lockheed Martin, ULA, or any of their subcontractors for development activities related to the Atlas V Heavy launch vehicle configuration.
15-F-0318	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/20/2014	A copy of the following documents be provided to me: Documents containing information relating to all delta certification activities or any launch readiness requirements and reviews relating to the RL-10C rocket engine upgrade on the Atlas V and Delta IV launch vehicles

15-F-0319	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/21/2014	Documents relating to all Atlas V, Delta IV, and Delta IV Heavy launch vehicle anomalies during or prior to missions conducted by the United Launch Alliance or its predecessors Boeing and Lockheed Martin, as part of the DOD Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle (EELV) Program, NASA Launch Services Program (LSP), or any other purpose. Specifically: (1) A failed 2007 Atlas V mission that placed two National Reconnaissance Office (NRO) satellites into the incorrect orbit. I am seeking any materials determining the liability of the launch services provider, the United Launch Alliance (ULA), and any requirements to reimburse the Government for this launch failure and satellite shoot-down; (2) The failed first launch of the Delta IV Heavy space launch vehicle. I am seeking the findings of the anomaly investigation, any requirements mandated to the launch services provider prior to returning to flight, and any corrective actions and monitoring required of the launch services provider following this failure; (3) Any other system or subsystem anomalies that occurred during testing and/or flight of the Atlas V, Delta IV, and Delta IV Heavy launch vehicles
15-F-0320	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/21/2014	Documents: The findings of the Accident Investigation Board (AIB) that reviewed the RL10 upper stage engine anomaly that occurred during a Delta IV rocket launch in October 2012. Specifically, I am seeking information relating to the root cause of the anomaly, the conclusions of the AIB, any corrective measures taken following the anomaly, and any waivers granted to the United Launch Alliance (ULA) that enabled vehicle return to flight prior to the conclusion of the AIB
15-F-0321	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/20/2014	A copy of the following documents: Reviews of any single points of failure or common systems between the Delta IV and Atlas V families of vehicles (e.g. common upper stage engine), including and without limitation to the text of any exemptions that enabled the United Launch Alliance (ULA) to increase commonalities between these systems, since Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle (EELV) Program requirements and the National Space Transportation Policy require two separate, independent launch vehicle systems to achieve assured access to space
15-F-0322	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/20/2014	A copy of the following documents: All materials reviewing any quality assurance issues associated with the RD-180 rocket engine or the RS-68 rocket engine upon receipt of such engines and any corrective actions taken. It is my understanding that defects have been detected in these engines prior to launch. These engines are used in the Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle (EELV) Program
15-F-0323	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/17/2014	A copy of the following documents: Any analyses of pricing data provided to the DOD for the RD-180 rocket engine used on the Atlas V launch vehicle, which is part of the DOD Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle (EELV) Program. Specifically, I am seeking information as to the total cost per rocket engine and any determinations regarding the fairness and reasonableness of this data
15-F-0324	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. 15-F-0329	Cardaci, Christopher	Space Exploration Technologies Corp. (SpaceX)	PAL	11/13/2014	11/21/2014	A copy of documents containing information relating to any common systems between the Delta II and the Delta III launch vehicles, with the Delta IV launch vehicle, including propulsion, structures, software, avionics, manufacturing processes, quality assurance: (1) In 1995, Delta II failed launching Koreasat-1, resulting in the satellite being placed in a lower than intended orbit; (2) On January 17, 1997, a Delta II booster exploded 13 seconds after launch for a military GPS satellite due to a ruptured solid rocket motor casing.; (3) On August 26, 1998, during the inaugural launch of the Delta III launch vehicle, a software failure resulted in a guidance failure during first-stage flight. The failure and subsequent vehicle motion depleted the hydraulic fluid used for steering, resulting in vehicle destruction. The satellite was lost; (3) On May 4, 1999, during the second launch of Delta III, the vehicle's second stage engine experienced a pressure anomaly and rupture, and shut down while its second burn was underway. The satellite was deployed into a useless orbit; (4) On August 23, 2000, Delta III deployed its mass simulator satellite into a low orbit, resulting in a partial failure. Subsequently, Boeing terminated the Delta III program

The Mahmudiyah killings of March 12, 2006, involved former PFC Steven Green and four other soldiers from the Army's 502nd Parachute Infantry, 101st Airborne Division. They were responsible for the rape of a young Iraqi girl and for murdering her and her family. Camp Slayer, Iraq, and Fort Campbell, Kentucky CID investigations in June 2006 led to the July 2006 FBI arrest of Green and Army charges against the other soldiers. Courts-martial from November 2006 to August 2007 resulted in guilty pleas or convictions, and prison terms for the four soldiers. Green was convicted of rape and multiple murders in the District Court of the Western District of Kentucky in 2009 and died in prison, an apparent suicide, in 2014. 15-F-0742	Marquand, V	-	PAL	2/13/2015	9/23/2015	According to the attached, DoD Inspector General issued Report No. DODIG-2013-078, and DACM Memo 7 FY14 11Mar2014, it is very common for DoD employees to be delinquent in achieving the DAWIA certification. It is also understood this requirement must be specified in the employee's position description (PD). Based on the attached, in FY8 there were 18,000 employees that did not meet the DAWIA certification requirements within 24 months. In FY14Q3, there were 7,663 employees. Please produce electronic records for those employees in FY14 (including supervisors) that did not achieve certification required for their positions including their job series (i.e. 1102), employee job title, the required DAWIA certification, the number of days they surpassed the grace period and the number of courses needed to complete the certification. Please provide the dates they were supposed to achieve it and when they actually achieved it. (Date Range for Record Search: From 10/01/2013 To 09/30/2014)

15-F-0978	Garcia, Lisette	FOIA Resource Center	PAL	3/27/2015	4/24/2015	This request seeks all communications and record of communication respecting the fulfillment or nonfulfillment of DOD FOIA 12-F-0405, filed by Grant Smith for Institute for Research: Middle Eastern Policy. Mr. Smith, who styles himself by turns as a journalist, researcher or investigative reporter, has garnered significant (if, perhaps, unwarranted) media attention for outlandish claims that his May 8, 2012 FOIA request was only fulfilled last month in order to foil Israel's diplomatic position in the region. His FOIA a 1987 study: "Critical Technology Issues in Israel." Now released, the study appears to contain a lot of obsolete science with little relevance to current geopolitics. Nevertheless, the delay in its release has been characterized by Mr. Smith as proof of the Obama administration's desire to undermine the recently re-elected Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. Mr. Smith also claims that he wrested the report from DOD by court order, which is nowhere to be found. Therefore, to put to rest all the speculation surrounding this document and the timing of its release, FOIA Resource Center seeks immediate release regarding the handling of Mr. Smith's FOIA. 15-F-1377	Johnson, Christan	-	PAL	6/25/2015	6/29/2015	After contacting the Washington Headquarters Services I was informed I must submit a FOIA request to obtain answers to two questions of concern. I am currently conducting research for my doctoral dissertation on: What effects did the 2013 furlough have on the morale and productivity of Pentagon Force Protection Agency (PFPA) personnel. During the time of the government shutdown and furlough, PFPA personnel (officers and special agents) continued to protect and defend the safety of our military. Were there any PFPA personnel exempt from the furlough and government shutdown? Once the President of the United States signed the "Pay Our Military Act" all civilian Department of Defense personnel not exempt from the furlough were to be reimbursed for wages lost. Was PFPA personnel furloughed reimbursed? The bill clearly categorizes PFPA Police Officers as excepted. Thank you for your assistance.

15-F-1623	Michel, Casey	The New Republic	PAL	8/17/2015	10/15/2015	In January 2015, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Central Asia Daniel Rosenblum said that the US is giving Uzbekistan 308 Mine-Resistant Ambush Protected (MRAP) vehicles, along with an additional 20 support vehicles. The vehicles are being delivered from the US and other American military bases abroad under the Excess Defense Articles (EDA) program. According to Rosenblum, EDA deliveries arise only after an "involved process of review that goes on - first, to determine whether the need is there, whether the appropriate equipment exists, and also we look at the variety of things like regional balance, whether this will affect the regional balance in some way, before deciding to provide it." I would like to obtain: - Any material(s) relating to the EDA review viz. the aforementioned delivery/deliveries to Uzbekistan.; - Any material(s) relating to EDA reviews for other Central Asian nations (Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan, Turkmenistan, and Kazakhstan). Please acknowledge receipt of this FOIA request. Many thanks in advance. Best, Casey (Date Range for Record Search: From 08/16/2012 To 08/17/2015)

15-F-1660	Silove, Nina	Stanford University	PAL	8/25/2015	-	I hereby request copies of all records containing information about: Briefings or memoranda about meetings organized by the National Security Council staff at which the subjects of Asia, China, Japan, or the Asia-Pacific were discussed on the following dates: September 16, 2003; January 6, 2004; and February 18, 2004 These briefings or memoranda may refer to the "statement of conclusions" associated with meetings on the above dates. The briefings or memoranda may have been prepared by or for the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense with responsibility for East Asia or the Assistant Secretary of Defense with responsibility for East Asia or by or for other officials within the Department of Defense. As the FOIA requires, please release all reasonably segregable nonexempt portions of documents. These meetings were intended to produce a public document about Asia strategy. The only reason that the document was never made public was because of considerations relating to the 2004 Presidential election, which are now no longer relevant reasons for keeping these documents secret. Several of the officials who informed me about these meetings support the declassification of documents associated with the meetings for the purposes of advancing academic scholarship about U.S. foreign policy during this period of time. This includes Dr. Michael Green, who led the meetings. The product of these meetings was used as a basis for several public speeches made by administration officials after 2004, which demonstrates that the documents do not contain information that ought to remain secret. (Date Range for Record Search: From 08/30/2003 To 04/01/2004)
