END OF MESSAGE
See 201-234750 on Tamara S. KUNGURCOVA.

On his second trip to the USSR in January 1959, Philip Robert NIELSON, REDSKIN agent, was given an INTURIST interpreter/guide named Tamara Stepanovna KUNGURCOVA. A romance developed between them and NIELSON became determined to marry her, which he finally did in the spring of 1962. His family did everything in their power to discourage this romance and John Hanes of the State Department received letter from NIELSON's father re affair. Not seeking help but advice on what to do.

NIELSON later received letter from his father in fall 1960 giving in details the contents of a conversation father had had with John Hanes of State. Hanes stated that:

a. All American-Soviet marriages had turned out to be unsuccessful.

b. The Soviets never let one of their nationals out of the country under such circumstances unless the person had been recruited as a spy.

c. The Soviets will probably not given NIELSON a visa (he tried unsuccessfully all summer and fall 1960 and in 1961 to get Sov visa).
With regard to the marriage of a Soviet to a foreigner, Nora KORENZHIKO (who married a British diplomat in the 1940s) has this to say: "Most of the women who have married foreigners must have agreed at one time or another to carry out some sort of spy work for the Soviets.
Otherwise, they would not have been given permission to marry foreigners, and even the marriage certificate has to be issued by the secret police." She herself was recruited by State Security through coercion and only allowed to leave the country by agreeing to work for State Security.
This she never did. Once out of the country, she broke completely with the Soviets and it is presumed she has furnished information on that organization to the British Services. (She Spied for Stalin by Nora Murray).

Petr DENTABIN, State Security officer who defected in 1954, has this to say about the Soviet women who have contact with or who marry foreigners:
Soviet women associating with foreign men will be recruited by State Security when the association is first begun, or after it has developed, or when plans for marriage have been made. "Even if only 5% of these women are 100% loyal State Security workers, and the others work less loyally, it is still considered a worthwhile operation. No woman known to be anti-Soviet would ever be given a visa to leave the country, even if she were married to an ambassador. The Soviets instruct all persons in this category to make remarks against the Soviet Union when abroad, but these remarks are not to be too strong, nor are they made for publication by press or radio."

In the early 1960s, when any young American was thinking of marrying an INTERIST guide, his father contacts a knowledgeable official of the State Department who made the following remarks:
1. All American-Soviet marriages had turned out to be unsuccessful.
2. The Soviets never let one of their nationals out of the country under such circumstances (marriage to a foreigner) unless the person had been recruited.
It is believed that the Counterintelligence Directorate (Kontrrazvedyvatelnaya upravleniya-KRU), of the KGB initiates operations against foreigners inside the USSR. When the operation leads outside the USSR into foreign countries, i.e., when the probable recruitments have been achieved, and the persons in question leave the USSR, the operation is then turned over to the Foreign Intelligence Directorate (Vneshniye upravleniya-INV) who continues the operation until such time as it is terminated.
John SANDOR - Met and proposed to Viktoria KOCHUROVA in 1956, but had to leave USSR before they could get married. Returned in 1957 and married her Nov. Arrived together in US in March 1958.
