Information has been reported previously concerning the presentation by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, President of the Cuban Revolutionary Council (CRC), of his resignation on the night of April 9-10, 1963. At that time the CRC refused to accept his resignation.

It was also reported that Miro would again tender his resignation on April 18, 1963.

[On the evening of April 17, 1963, MM T-1] who has furnished some reliable information in the past, and who is employed by the CRC, advised that Miro had been holding discussions that day of an informal nature with other members of the CRC, and that Miro remained determined to submit his resignation and at the same time to make public a lengthy statement, one copy of which had already been turned over to Mr. Robert Hurwitz of the State Department. [MM T-1] said this statement described in detail Miro's negotiations and agreements with the United States State Department, and with high government officials, and that, in effect, his statement charges that the United States Government has changed its policy to one of peaceful coexistence with communist Cuba, and expresses the belief that Cuban exiles will be abandoned by the United States in their fight against Fidel Castro.

Information has been reported previously concerning the presentation by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, President of the Cuban Revolutionary Council (CRC), of his resignation on the night of April 9-10, 1963. At that time the CRC refused to accept his resignation.

It was also reported that Miro would again tender his resignation on April 18, 1963.

On the evening of April 17, 1963, MM T-1, who has furnished some reliable information in the past, and who is employed by the CRC, advised that Miro had been holding discussions that day of an informal nature with other members of the CRC, and that Miro remained determined to submit his resignation and at the same time to make public a lengthy statement, one copy of which had already been turned over to Mr. Robert Hurwitch of the State Department. MM T-1 said that this statement described in detail Miro's negotiations and agreements with the United States State Department, and with high government officials, and that, in effect, his statement charges that the United States Government has changed its policy to one of peaceful coexistence with communist Cuba, and expresses the belief that Cuban exiles will be abandoned by the United States in their fight against Fidel Castro.

MM T-1 referred to an article entitled "Total Kennedy-Exile Split Seen", bearing a Washington dateline, which appeared in the "Miami Herald" on April 17, 1963, alleging that the United States Government is prepared to cut off its annual subsidy of more than two million dollars to...
