WILLIAM AYERS, a students for a democratic society (SDS) leader, spoke at American University, Washington, D.C., on September twenty four last. Ayers was preceded by a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) who stated that nonviolence was the means to overcome ills in the United States and who derided SDS for its approach to the problem. Ayers stated that the United States "imperialist" army cannot win against the "people's army" and that "imperialism" will be destroyed and that all people should participate in its destruction. He said that SDS will eventually be engaged in armed conflict against the United States. His speech ended abruptly due to heckling and ridicule from the audience, including the SCLC speaker.

SDS at the University of Hawaii has demanded that the Reserve Officers Training Corps be abolished, that all research projects for the government be ended, and that military recruiters be barred from the campus.

On September twenty five last, approximately five hundred students at Northern Illinois University, De Kalb, Illinois, demonstrated to support striking university maintenance employees. The demonstrators caused two hundred dollars damage in a school dining room.
