1. The following information was obtained from ^{05 08} Pedro ROEJ Ortega ⁰⁸ Former ⁰⁸ Commercial Representative of the Cuban Government accredited in Mexico. Graduate of the School of Espionage and Counter-Espionage in Havana in ⁰⁸ 1961.

a. Source met Manuel Eugenio VEGA Pérez, aka "Barcos," in the month of August or September 1961. In those days, VEGA Pérez was an instructor at the Officers Academy of the Castro regime and was also teaching an intensive course on espionage and counter-espionage to the future agents of the Castro regime in Latin America.

b. VEGA Pérez is white, was born circa 1919 in the City of Havana, is about 5'10" tall, about 190 lbs., has dark brown hair, is single, and, according to source, is a homosexual. He is a close friend of Manuel PINERO Lozada, aka "Barba Roja."

c. According to source, Foreign Service and Prensa Latina personnel graduated from the School or Academy of Espionage. VEGA Pérez arrived in Mexico as Cultural Attaché of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico. However, at that time there were too many Cultural Attachés so VEGA Pérez was appointed as Cuban Press Attaché in Mexico. One of VEGA Pérez' functions was to act as contact or liaison between the foreign representatives of another country who arrived in Mexico and the Castro regime.

d. In 1962, VEGA Pérez engaged in the purchase of photographic equipment and films to be distributed together with the Communist propaganda throughout Latin America. Between 1961 and 1962, VEGA Pérez was the Second Chief of the Center of all subversive, espionage and counter-espionage activities in Mexico.

b. MORTENAYOR told source that he would receive orders in Mexico from CUERCA Montoto, who was the sole person authorized by the Castro regime to give the instructions. CUERCA was doing very active espionage and counter-espionage work in Mexico, and was the man in charge of taking care of every important personage who passed through Mexico.
