MILITARY CONTINGENCY PLANNING

Plans Approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff

1. CINCLANT OPLAN 308-62 - Provides for the air quarantine of Cuba. This plan can be fully implemented in 72 hours. A range of actions is contemplated ranging from diversion to attack and destruction of specified aircraft.

2. CINCLANT OPLAN 312-63 - This plan provides for the rapid application of air power against Cuba. A series of optional attack plans are included for added flexibility of response. These options provide for:

- a. The attack of a single SAM site ("FIRE HOSE").
- b. The attack of all SAM sites ("FULL HOUSE").
- c. The attack of a specified target system (e. g., communications system) ("SHOE BLACK").
- d. The attack of all Cuban/Soviet air defenses and anti-shipping missile capabilities ("ROYAL FLUSH").
- e. Execution of OPLAN 312 (which includes a through d above, plus those targets developed as a result of post strike reconnaissance) ("RED BLUFF").

Planned reaction time varies from 12 to 72 hours, depending on the option selected. Before offensive action is taken by the United States under this plan, it is essential that evacuation of non-combatants from Guantanamo and reinforcement of the base be initiated.

3. CINCLANT OPLAN 316-63 - Provides for simultaneous coordinated amphibious airborne assault of Cuba, designed to eliminate the Castro/ Communist regime. Planned reaction time from no-warning status is 18 days. This plan includes provisions for a surface blockade/quarantine.

- b. "PEG LEG" - Low level reconnaissance.
- c. "GREY WOLF" - Armed reconnaissance to search for missing PEG LEG aircraft.
- d. "BLUE MOON" - Reconnaissance to support surface blockade/quarantine.

Plans or Studies under Review and Development.

1. CINCLANT OPLAN 380-62. Provides for the initiation of unconventional warfare to foster and support guerrilla operations in Cuba in connection with OPLANS 312 and 316.
2. Courses of Action Related to Cuba (Case I - Spontaneous Revolt).
3. Courses of Action Related to Cuba (Case II - Contrived Incident).
