TP 97-C advised on 6/3/63 that subject must have returned to Tampa, inasmuch as he was at the Columbia Restaurant at 6:00 P.M. on 6/3/63.

Investigation at Tampa International Airport on 6/4/63 through Delta Airlines Manager DICK KNOWLES, R. E. FELLOWFIELD and H. H. SELBY established there were approximately six passengers aboard TWA Flight 550 on 5/28/63, but that five of the passengers were walk-ups which is a common practice at Tampa International Airport and has been for the past six months, inasmuch as there are so many flights between Tampa and Miami and numerous carriers traveling most every hour. They advised passengers common practice in view of the above is to walk up, purchase a ticket, and immediately go aboard the carrier that is leaving immediately after their arrival at the airport.
