III. TRAVEL

The Swiss Central Police Bureau (SCPB) furnished the following information:

The Zurich Police advised as follows:

ALEX arrived at Zurich-Kloten Airport (flight BEA number 930 from London) on December 21, 1963, and checked in at the "Dolder Grand Hotel," where he had a reservation for two single rooms for two days.

DIETGARD FUEGER arrived in Zurich at 3:19 p.m. on the same day by rail from Munich and checked in at the same hotel.

On December 21 and 22, 1963, ALEX and FUEGER did not leave the hotel at any time and had no visitors. With regard to telephone calls, it was established that ALEX rang the local TWA office on December 22, 1963, to find out whether there are any direct flights from Athens to Munich. A further telephone call was made the following day when ALEX contacted the Hertz Company of Zurich, Lagerstrasse 33, to inform this firm that he would come and collect the car which he had reserved.

ALEX and FUEGER left the "Dolder Grand Hotel" the same morning after having paid their hotel bills separately in Swiss francs. ALEX then collected from the Hertz Company the rented "Peugeot" motor car, registration number ZH 156671. Together with FUEGER, he left Zurich in the direction of Chur/Canton Graubunden.

Further information has been received, from the Cantonal Police of Chur, that ALEX and FUEGER checked in at the "Schlosshotel" in Pontresina on December 23, 1963. They passed their time with skiing and have been described at the hotel as quiet guests who did not mix with other people. On January 1, 1964, ALEX made a telephone call to Athens, number 67.62.34, and to Evergreen Park, U. S. A., number 312/GA 38675. FUEGER is said to have approached the hotel receptionist to make inquiries about hotel accommodations in Rome, however, without mentioning any forthcoming travelling

Mr. DAVIS continued that since there are approximately 5,000 passengers in and out of New York City each day, it would be almost impossible to determine if a form was filed for the subject without knowing a specific date and mode of departure.

On January 16, 1964, Mr. JULIE ZAMOSKY, United States Customs Agent, New York City, advised the subject is on the list of individuals who are thoroughly searched upon re-entry into the United States from a trip abroad. Agent ZAMOSKY stated that ALEX will be on this list until 1966.

On February 1, 1964, Swiss Central Police Bureau advised that ALEX and FUEGER left Pontresina, Switzerland, on January 26, 1964, and returned by car to Zurich where they checked in at the "Dolder Grand Hotel".

During the afternoon of January 26, 1964, ALEX made a telephone call to Evergreen Park, U. S. A., #312 GA 3-8675, and another call to Kloten Airport to make inquiries regarding flight possibilities between London and Detroit, U. S. A. He emphasized that he would only consider a direct flight.

On January 27, 1964, ALEX booked two seats on Swissair Flight #SR110, Zurich - London, with departure at 1:45 P.M. The same date, ALEX paid the hotel bill in Swiss francs and accompanied by FUEGER left the hotel by taxi soon after noon.

On arrival at the airport, ALEX changed the amount of 68.50 DM into Swiss francs. No contacts to third persons were noticed during their next stay in Zurich.

Zurich police informed ALEX, who is known to be a gangster boss in the United States and a member of the Chicago crime syndicate, has to be considered as an undesirable person. Therefore, the competent Swiss authorities dealing with foreigners are now entering into the case of ALEX with regard to an interdiction of entry into Switzerland as further entries of ALEX into Switzerland are anticipated.

The Central Bureau, Criminal Division, Italian National Police, Rome, Italy, furnished the following information on January 24, 1964:

GUS ALEX, a United States citizen in possession of U. S. passport D074551, and his paramour, DIETGARD FUEGER, a German citizen born Seewalchen, December 3, 1938, in possession of German passport 4019969 issued by the German Consulate in Chicago, Illinois, on October 16, 1961, arrived in Milan, Italy, on January 6, 1964. They registered at the Hotel Principe e Savoia and remained there until January 7, 1964, when they left Milan for an unknown destination. Their method of travel is not known.

During the time ALEX and FUEGER were in Milan they were not observed contacting other individuals, nor did they come to police attention.

ALEX and FUEGER were determined to have arrived London on January 27, 1964, from Zurich, Switzerland, and stayed at the London Hilton Hotel until the morning of January 29, 1964. They departed London for Paris, France, at 12:00 Noon, January 29, 1964, on Air France Flight 813.

GUS ALEX and DIETGARD FUEGER arrived at the airport at Zurich/Kloten, Switzerland, on January 15, 1964, presumably from Italy. The plane was diverted to Zurich because of bad weather conditions at Geneva.

ALEX and FUEGER reached Geneva at 11:10 P.M. the same day, and checked in at the Hotel President, where they occupied rooms 135 and 136. The reservation had been made through the Hotel Hilton in Rome. Their luggage, which had been sent to the railroad station at Geneva from Pontresina, was picked up by employees of the Hotel President on January 16, 1964.

It appeared that ALEX stayed in Geneva with the intention of skiing at Chamonix and neighboring resorts, but decided to return to Pontresina because of lack of snow.

While in Geneva, ALEX made telephone inquiries, not further described, of Swissair and Alitalia Airlines. He also called the Hotel Hilton in Rome, requesting that his hat, which he had left there, should be forwarded to Pontresina.

ALEX and FUEGER left Geneva for Zurich by air on January 17, 1964, at 12:15 P.M. ALEX paid both the plane tickets fares and the bill at the Hotel President in Swiss francs. When they arrived in Zurich, ALEX and FUEGER checked in at the Dolder Grand Hotel. During the afternoon they made an appointment and saw an ear specialist. They also visited the Hertz Car Rental Agency at Lagerstr. 31 in Zurich. Later in the day they looked at watches and jewelry in four different jewelry stores in the Bahnhofstrasse in Zurich.

"P.S. Information has just been received that Alex made a reservation at the 'Dolder Grand Hotel', Zurich, for 2 days, for Friday, 17, 1964. Enquiries are being continued."

On February 8, 1964, the Swiss Central Police Bureau at Bern advised that according to a final report received from the Cantonal Police of Chur no contacts to other guests were noticed during the stay of ALEX and FUEGER at the "Schlosshotel" at Pontresina, and ALEX did not call at any local bank. ALEX mentioned to the hotel receptionist that they, ALEX and FUEGER, had set out for Rome on January 6, 1964, where they had stayed at the Hilton Hotel. They had flown from Milan to Rome and had later made a side trip to Istanbul.

Telephone calls were made by ALEX to an unspecified airline company in Milan and the Hilton Hotel in Rome in connection with his hat which he left there by mistake. They left the "Schlosshotel" on January 26, 1964.

The following investigation was conducted at Detroit, Michigan, in connection with the proposed flight by ALEX from Europe to Detroit, nonstop:

Mr. EDWARD HUGHES, United States Customs Agent in Charge, Detroit, Michigan, was contacted on January 30, 1964. He stated that all checks made to establish arrival of the subject or his girl friend in Detroit met with negative results.

Mr. HUGHES on February 14, 1964, stated that a thorough check had been made of all incoming passenger manifests for the period January 27, to February 5, 1964, and that no record of arrival in Detroit by the subject or by subject's girl friend had been located.
