Subject: Telephone Call from Bruce Adamson

Bruce Adamson called for you today at approximately 12:15 p.m. The call was routed to me. Mr. Adamson expressed displeasure at my recent response to his letter regarding various materials which he had previously sent to the Board. (As you may recall, he had asked us to return to him or destroy copyrighted materials which had provided to the Board. In response I cited the JFK Act stating that all our files must become part of the JFK Collection and that no records are to be destroyed.) Today, Mr. Adamson said that we wanted his materials back and that the Board shouldn't be "ripping researchers off." I said that the Board was functioning within the parameters of the law. He responded that "David Marwell had asked for my chapter on George Bush and said that he would return it." He went on to say that he was going to complain to the "Office of Special Counsel." I told him he should do whatever he has to do. His response was, "Well, fuck you, buddy" and he hung up on me.
