Subject: CBS and IRS

I just completed a conversation with an attorney at the IRS who could not identify any way that CBS would be able to obtain a tax advantage for donating their assassination-related outtakes to NARA. The question now is whether the Review Board would like to discuss with CBS the possible purchase of the outtakes for approximately $30,000, which would be for the cost of duplicating the CBS copies. Tom Samoluk, who has examined some of the outtakes, believes that it is possibly well worth the cost. CBS is not willing to release its copyright interests.
