I hope that the Board's workwill be able to continue beyond October, as there is much remaining todo. Whether it continues or not, it is very important that the Boardrelease the section of the Mexico City report dealing with whether Oswaldwas an agent or asset of the CIA. This is a question that has been hanging fire since January 1964,when it was first brought to the attention of the Warren Commission. Most of the American people believe there was a conspiracy in theassassination. Of those, the largest group believe the CIA was involved. To continue to suppress an investigation into whether Oswald had CIA tieswould be criminal. There has been far too much concern about CIA employeeidentities, and about "sources and methods," as though these were aholier trust than telling the truth to the American people about thedeath of their President. This information is exactly the kind of thing which the Boardwas created to release. You can't ask the American people to wait for itany longer. It is time to release it. Now. Martin Shackelford
