Subject: Call From Attorney Representing Alma Faye Fritz, Wife of the Late Captain Will Fritz

I received a call today from Wayne Brown, (214) 747-0802, an attorney representing Alma Faye Fritz, widow of Dallas Police Captain Will Fritz. Brown called at Ms. Fritz's request as a follow-up to the recent letter that I sent to her regarding any records her late husband may have left after his death. Brown explained that Ms. Fritz is in very poor health. He added that she has been harassed by assassination researchers and the media for many years. According to Brown, Ms. Fritz knows nothing about the assassination because she was not married to her husband at the time of the assassination and he never talked about the case. She really wants nothing to do with the assassination. However, Ms. Fritz did search her husband's belongings after she received our letter. I do not think it will be significant, but she did find some documents and photographs. At my request, Brown is going to FedEd to us what Fritz found. The package should arrive on Wednesday. Brown said that the material that Ms. Fritz located includes only about 30 pages of documents and 8 to 10 photographs. He mentioned that the photographs are probably ones that have been published many times. They include the Ruby shooting of Oswald, the Tippit shooting scene, the three rifle cartridges and some of Oswald's belongings (ring and belt buckle). Brown emphasized that Ms. Fritz wants no publicity about this matter (nor does Brown). They simply want to cooperate with us and then see the matter go away. We sent a letter to Fritz's daughter, Billye Fritz Honeycutt, as well. She had already indicated to Sydney on the telephone, when he was confirming her number, that she had no assassination records in her possession. Attorney Brown reiterated that response from Ms. Honeycutt on the telephone today. It is unlikely that the package from Ms. Fritz will contain anything of significance. For the purpose of our records, the important thing will be that we contacted family members to see if Captain Fritz had left any records and received only the records that Ms. Fritz provided.
