Subject: furlough

As we announced last time, we will not be subject to the government shutdown if it should happen. We still have some remaining funds from last year that will enable us to continue operation for a while longer. Val and I have checked with GSA and the building management and have been assured that the building will operate as usual (GSA is confirming the security guard status and will get back to us on this but we are pretty sure that the guards will be here). This also means that we will get paid on time through the usual means. However, you may find that the agencies you deal with will be affected--Call before you try to go to other agencies/libraries or take the NARA shuttle for the next few days. If anything changes with any of this info, I'll let you know.
