between the FBI and the CIA, and the Ku Klux Klan reaction to the assassination. HSCA Records The testimony of James Angleton to the HSCA is now available in part at the National Archives. The testimony contains 19 redactions, consisting primarily of names and locations. In addition to the 35 HSCA documents mentioned above, 102 HSCA documents are available in full by consent release. NSA Records The Board voted to release 13 NSA documents in part. These records include NSA's correspondence with the HSCA, as well as with the Reenter the United States. The redacted portion consists of a social security number. Designation of Assassination Records As part of the mandate of the Review Board to identify assassination records, the Board designated additional Secret Service records as "assassination records." These records include the USSS-FBI Agreement (drafts dated 11/27/64 and 12/3/64.) The Review Board also designated the film known as the out-of-camera original Zapruder film as an "assassination record" at its April 24, 1997 open meeting. Ford
