Subject: My Christmas Gift to the Office

was to just wash a bazillion dishes that have sat in the kitchen sink and drain rack dirty for a week. I also threw out all the old smelly food in the fridge. There is an abundance of tupperware type containers (some clean, some dirty) on the counter. Please see if any of these are yours and either take them home or wash them and put them away. I will empty EVERYTHING out of the fridge later today in anticipation of the office being empty for the holidays. Please take whatever you want to save prior to 3:00 today. My New Year's resolution: Not to do this again since I don't even use the kitchen! Merry Christmas!
